¹ So these three men ceased to answer Job, because he was righteous in his own eyes. ² Then was kindled the wrath of Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite, of the family of Ram: against Job was his wrath kindled, because he justified himself rather than God. ³ Also against his three friends was his wrath kindled, because they had found no answer, and yet had condemned Job. ⁴ Now Elihu had waited to speak unto Job, because they were elder than he. ⁵ And when Elihu saw that there was no answer in the mouth of these three men, his wrath was kindled. ⁶ And Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite answered and said, I am young, and ye are very old; wherefore I held back, and durst not shew you mine opinion. ⁷ I said, Days should speak, and multitude of years should teach wisdom. ⁸ But there is a spirit in man, and the breath of the Almighty giveth them understanding. ⁹ It is not the great that are wise, nor the aged that understand judgment. ¹⁰ Therefore I said, Hearken to me; I also will shew mine opinion. ¹¹ Behold, I waited for your words, I listened for your reasons, whilst ye searched out what to say. ¹² Yea, I attended unto you, and, behold, there was none that convinced Job, or that answered his words, among you. ¹³ Beware lest ye say, We have found wisdom; God may vanquish him, not man: ¹⁴ For he hath not directed his words against me; neither will I answer him with your speeches. ¹⁵ They are amazed, they answer no more: they have not a word to say. ¹⁶ And shall I wait, because they speak not, because they stand still, and answer no more? ¹⁷ I also will answer my part, I also will shew mine opinion. ¹⁸ For I am full of words; the spirit within me constraineth me. ¹⁹ Behold, my belly is as wine which hath no vent; like new bottles it is ready to burst. ²⁰ I will speak, that I may be refreshed; I will open my lips and answer. ²¹ Let me not, I pray you, respect any man's person; neither will I give flattering titles unto any man. ²² For I know not to give flattering titles; else would my Maker soon take me away.

¹ Howbeit, Job, I pray thee, hear my speech, and hearken to all my words. ² Behold now, I have opened my mouth, my tongue hath spoken in my mouth. ³ My words shall utter the uprightness of my heart: and that which my lips know they shall speak sincerely. ⁴ The spirit of God hath made me, and the breath of the Almighty giveth me life. ⁵ If thou canst, answer thou me; set thy words in order before me, stand forth. ⁶ Behold, I am toward God even as thou art: I also am formed out of the clay. ⁷ Behold, my terror shall not make thee afraid, neither shall my pressure be heavy upon thee. ⁸ Surely thou hast spoken in mine hearing, and I have heard the voice of thy words, saying, ⁹ I am clean, without transgression; I am innocent, neither is there iniquity in me: ¹⁰ Behold, he findeth occasions against me, he counteth me for his enemy; ¹¹ He putteth my feet in the stocks, he marketh all my paths. ¹² Behold, I will answer thee, in this thou art not just; for God is greater than man. ¹³ Why dost thou strive against him? for he giveth not account of any of his matters. ¹⁴ For God speaketh once, yea twice, though man regardeth it not. ¹⁵ In a dream, in a vision of the night, when deep sleep falleth upon men, in slumberings upon the bed; ¹⁶ Then he openeth the ears of men, and sealeth their instruction, ¹⁷ That he may withdraw man from his purpose, and hide pride from man; ¹⁸ He keepeth back his soul from the pit, and his life from perishing by the sword. ¹⁹ He is chastened also with pain upon his bed, and with continual strife in his bones: ²⁰ So that his life abhorreth bread, and his soul dainty meat. ²¹ His flesh is consumed away, that it cannot be seen; and his bones that were not seen stick out.

²² Yea, his soul draweth near unto the pit, and his life to the destroyers. ²³ If there be with him an angel, an interpreter, one among a thousand, to shew unto man what is right for him; ²⁴ Then he is gracious unto him, and saith, Deliver him from going down to the pit, I have found a ransom. ²⁵ His flesh shall be fresher than a child's; he returneth to the days of his youth: ²⁶ He prayeth unto God, and he is favourable unto him; so that he seeth his face with joy: and he restoreth unto man his righteousness. ²⁷ He singeth before men, and saith, I have sinned, and perverted that which was right, and it profited me not: ²⁸ He hath redeemed my soul from going into the pit, and my life shall behold the light. ²⁹ Lo, all these things doth God work, twice, yea thrice, with a man, ³⁰ To bring back his soul from the pit, that he may be enlightened with the light of the living. ³¹ Mark well, O Job, hearken unto me: hold thy peace, and I will speak. ³² If thou hast any thing to say, answer me: speak, for I desire to justify thee. ³³ If not, hearken thou unto me: hold thy peace, and I will teach thee wisdom.

¹ Moreover Elihu answered and said, ² Hear my words, ye wise men; and give ear unto me, ye that have knowledge. ³ For the ear trieth words, as the palate tasteth meat. ⁴ Let us choose for us that which is right: let us know among ourselves what is good. ⁵ For Job hath said, I am righteous, and God hath taken away my right: ⁶ Notwithstanding my right I am accounted a liar; my wound is incurable, though I am without transgression. ⁷ What man is like Job, who drinketh up scorning like water? ⁸ Which goeth in company with the workers of iniquity, and walketh with wicked men. ⁹ For he hath said, it profiteth a man nothing that he should delight himself with God. ¹⁰ Therefore hearken unto me, ye men of understanding: far be it from God, that he should do wickedness; and from the Almighty, that he should commit iniquity. ¹¹ For the work of a man shall he render unto him, and cause every man to find according to his ways. ¹² Yea, of a surety, God will not do wickedly, neither will the Almighty pervert judgment. ¹³ Who gave him a charge over the earth? or who hath disposed the whole world? ¹⁴ If he set his heart upon man, if he gather unto himself his spirit and his breath; ¹⁵ All flesh shall perish together, and man shall turn again unto dust. ¹⁶ If now thou hast understanding, hear this: hearken to the voice of my words. ¹⁷ Shall even one that hateth right govern? and wilt thou condemn him that is just and mighty? ¹⁸ Is it fit to say to a king, Thou art vile? or to nobles, Ye are wicked? ¹⁹ How much less to him that respecteth not the persons of princes, nor regardeth the rich more than the poor? for they all are the work of his hands. ²⁰ In a moment they die, even at midnight; the people are shaken and pass away, and the mighty are taken away without hand. ²¹ For his eyes are upon the ways of a man, and he seeth all his goings. ²² There is no darkness, nor shadow of death, where the workers of iniquity may hide themselves. ²³ For he needeth not further to consider a man, that he should go before God in judgment. ²⁴ He breaketh in pieces mighty men in ways past finding out, and setteth others in their stead. ²⁵ Therefore he taketh knowledge of their works; and he overturneth them in the night, so that they are destroyed. ²⁶ He striketh them as wicked men in the open sight of others; ²⁷ Because they turned aside from following him, and would not have regard to any of his ways: ²⁸ So that they caused the cry of the poor to come unto him, and he heard the cry of the afflicted. ²⁹ When he giveth quietness, who then can condemn? and when he hideth his face, who then can behold him? whether it be done unto a nation, or unto a man, alike: ³⁰ That the godless man reign not, that there be none to ensnare the people. ³¹ For hath any said unto God, I have borne chastisement, I will not offend any more: ³² That which I see not teach thou me: if I have done iniquity, I will do it no more? ³³ Shall his recompence be as thou wilt, that thou refusest it? for thou must choose, and not I: therefore speak what thou knowest. ³⁴ Men of understanding will say unto me, yea, every wise man that heareth me: ³⁵ Job speaketh without knowledge, and his words are without wisdom. ³⁶ Would that Job were tried unto the end, because of his answering like wicked men. ³⁷ For he addeth rebellion unto his sin, he clappeth his hands among us, and multiplieth his words against God.

¹ Moreover Elihu answered and said, ² Thinkest thou this to be thy right, or sayest thou, My righteousness is more than God's, ³ That thou sayest, What advantage will it be unto thee? and, What profit shall I have, more than if I had sinned? ⁴ I will answer thee, and thy companions with thee. ⁵ Look unto the heavens, and see; and behold the skies, which are higher than thou. ⁶ If thou hast sinned, what doest thou against him? and if thy transgressions be multiplied, what doest thou unto him. ⁷ If thou be righteous, what givest thou him? or what receiveth he of thine hand? ⁸ Thy wickedness may hurt a man as thou art; and thy righteousness may profit a son of man. ⁹ By reason of the multitude of oppressions they cry out; they cry for help by reason of the arm of the mighty. ¹⁰ But none saith, Where is God my Maker, who giveth songs in the night; ¹¹ Who teacheth us more than the beasts of the earth, and maketh us wiser than the fowls of heaven? ¹² There they cry, but none giveth answer, because of the pride of evil men. ¹³ Surely God will not hear vanity, neither will the Almighty regard it. ¹⁴ How much less when thou sayest thou beholdest him not, the cause is before him, and thou waitest for him! ¹⁵ But now, because he hath not visited in his anger, neither doth he greatly regard arrogance; ¹⁶ Therefore doth Job open his mouth in vanity; he multiplieth words without knowledge.

¹ Elihu also proceeded, and said, ² Suffer me a little, and I will shew thee: for I have yet somewhat to say on God's behalf. ³ I will fetch my knowledge from afar, and will ascribe righteousness to my Maker. ⁴ For truly my words are not false: one that is perfect in knowledge is with thee. ⁵ Behold, God is mighty, and despiseth not any: he is mighty in strength of understanding. ⁶ He preserveth not the life of the wicked: but giveth to the afflicted their right. ⁷ He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous: but with kings upon the throne he

setteth them for ever, and they are exalted. ⁸ And if they be bound in fetters, and be taken in the cords of affliction; ⁹ Then he sheweth them their work, and their transgressions, that they have behaved themselves proudly. ¹⁰ He openeth also their ear to instruction, and commandeth that they return from iniquity. ¹¹ If they hearken and serve him, they shall spend their days in prosperity, and their years in pleasures. ¹² But if they hearken not, they shall perish by the sword, and they shall die without knowledge. ¹³ But they that are godless in heart lay up anger: they cry not for help when he bindeth them. ¹⁴ They die in youth, and their life perisheth among the unclean. ¹⁵ He delivereth the afflicted by his affliction, and openeth their ear in oppression. ¹⁶ Yea, he would have led thee away out of distress into a broad place, where there is no straitness; and that which is set on thy table should be full of fatness. ¹⁷ But thou art full of the judgment of the wicked: judgment and justice take hold on thee. ¹⁸ Because there is wrath, beware lest thou be led away by thy sufficiency; neither let the greatness of the ransom turn thee aside. ¹⁹ Will thy riches suffice, that thou be not in distress, or all the forces of thy strength? ²⁰ Desire not the night, when peoples are cut off in their place. ²¹ Take heed, regard not iniquity: for this hast thou chosen rather than affliction. ²² Behold, God doeth loftily in his power: who is a teacher like unto him? ²³ Who hath enjoined him his way? or who can say, Thou hast wrought unrighteousness? ²⁴ Remember that thou magnify his work, whereof men have sung. ²⁵ All men have looked thereon; man beholdeth it afar off. ²⁶ Behold, God is great, and we know him not; the number of his years is unsearchable. ²⁷ For he draweth up the drops of water, which distil in rain from his vapour: ²⁸ Which the skies pour down and drop upon man abundantly. ²⁹ Yea, can any understand the spreadings of the clouds, the thunderings of his pavilion? ³⁰ Behold, he spreadeth his light around him; and he covereth the bottom of the sea. ³¹ For by these he judgeth the peoples; he giveth meat in abundance. ³² He covereth his hands with the lightning; and giveth it a charge that it strike the mark. ³³ The noise thereof telleth concerning him, the cattle also concerning the storm that cometh up.

¹At this also my heart trembleth, and is moved out of its place. ²Hearken ye unto the noise of his voice, and the sound that goeth out of his mouth. ³He sendeth it forth under the whole heaven, and his lightning unto the ends of the earth. ⁴After it a voice roareth; he thundereth with the voice of his majesty: and he stayeth them not when his voice is heard. ⁵God thundereth marvelously with his voice; great things doeth he, which we cannot comprehend. ⁶For he saith to the snow, Fall thou on the earth; likewise to the shower of rain, and to the showers of his mighty rain. ⁷He sealeth up the hand of every man; that all men whom he hath made may know it. ⁸Then the beasts go into coverts, and remain in their dens. ⁹Out of the chamber of the south cometh the storm: and cold out of the north. ¹⁰By the breath of God ice is given: and the breadth of the waters is straitened. ¹¹Yea, he ladeth the thick cloud with moisture; he spreadeth abroad the cloud of his lightning: ¹²And it is turned round about by his guidance, that they may do whatsoever he commandeth them upon the face of the habitable world. ¹³Whether it be for correction, or for his land, or for mercy, that he cause it to come. ¹⁴Hearken unto this, O Job: stand still, and consider the wondrous works of God. ¹⁵Dost thou know how God layeth his charge upon them, and causeth the lightning of his cloud to shine? ¹⁶Dost thou know the balancings of the clouds, the wondrous works of him which is perfect in knowledge? ¹⁷How thy garments are warm, when the earth is still by reason of the south wind? ¹⁸Canst thou with him spread out the sky, which is strong as a molten mirror? ¹⁹Teach us what we shall say unto him; for we cannot order our speech by reason of darkness. ²⁰Shall it be told him that I would speak? or should a man wish that he were swallowed up? ²¹And now men see not the light which is bright in the skies: but the wind passeth, and cleanseth them. ²²Out of the north cometh golden splendour: God hath upon him terrible majesty. ²³*Touching* the Almighty, we can not find him out; he is excellent in power: and in judgment and plenteous justice he will not afflict. ²⁴Men do therefore fear him: he regardeth not any that are wise of heart.

¹Then the LORD answered Job out of the whirlwind, and said, ²Who is this that darkeneth counsel by words without knowledge? ³Gird up now thy loins like a man; for I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me. ⁴Where wast thou when I laid the foundations of the earth? declare, if thou hast understanding. ⁵Who determined the measures thereof, if thou knowest? or who stretched the line upon it? ⁶Whereupon were the foundations thereof fastened? or who laid the corner stone thereof; ⁷When the morning stars sang together, and all the sons of God shouted for joy? ⁸Or who shut up the sea with doors, when it brake forth, as if it had issued out of the womb; ⁹When I made the cloud the garment thereof, and thick darkness a swaddlingband for it, ¹⁰And prescribed for it my decree, and set bars and doors, ¹¹And said, Hitherto shalt thou come, but no further; and here shall thy proud waves be stayed? ¹²Hast thou commanded the morning since thy days began, and caused the dayspring to know its place; ¹³That it might take hold of the ends of the earth, and the wicked be shaken out of it? ¹⁴It is changed as clay under the seal; and all things stand forth as a garment: ¹⁵And from the wicked their light is withholden, and the high arm is broken. ¹⁶Hast thou entered into the springs of the sea? or hast thou walked in the recesses of the deep? ¹⁷Have the gates of death been revealed unto thee? or hast thou seen the gates of the shadow of death? ¹⁸Hast thou comprehended the breadth of the earth? declare, if thou knowest it all. ¹⁹Where is the way to the dwelling of light, and as for darkness, where is the place thereof; ²⁰That thou shouldest take it to the bound thereof, and that thou shouldest discern the paths to the house thereof? ²¹*Doubtless*, thou knowest, for thou wast then born, and the number of thy days is great! ²²Hast thou entered the treasuries of the snow, or hast thou seen the treasuries of the hail, ²³Which I have reserved against the time of trouble, against the day of battle and war? ²⁴By what way is the light parted, or the east wind scattered upon the earth? ²⁵Who hath cleft a channel for the waterflood, or a way for the lightning of the thunder; ²⁶To cause it to rain on a land where no man is; on the wilderness, wherein there is no man; ²⁷To satisfy the waste and desolate ground; and to cause the tender grass to spring forth? ²⁸Hath the rain a father? or who hath begotten the drops of dew? ²⁹Out of whose womb came the ice? and the hoary frost of heaven, who hath gendered it? ³⁰The waters are hidden as with stone, and the face of the deep is frozen. ³¹Canst thou bind the cluster of the Pleiades, or loose the bands of Orion? ³²Canst thou lead forth the Mazzaroth in their season? or canst thou guide the Bear with her train? ³³Knowest thou the ordinances of the heavens? canst thou establish the dominion thereof in the earth? ³⁴Canst thou lift up thy voice to the clouds, that abundance of waters may cover thee? ³⁵Canst thou send forth lightnings, that they may go, and say unto thee, Here we are? ³⁶Who hath put wisdom in the inward parts? or who hath given understanding to the mind? ³⁷Who can number the clouds by wisdom? or who can pour out the bottles of heaven, ³⁸When the dust runneth into a mass, and the clods cleave fast together? ³⁹Wilt thou hunt the prey for the lioness? or satisfy the appetite of the young lions, ⁴⁰When they couch in their dens, and abide in the covert to lie in wait? ⁴¹Who provideth for the raven his food, when his young ones cry unto God, and wander for lack of meat?

¹Knowest thou the time when the wild goats of the rock bring forth? or canst thou mark when the hinds do calve? ²Canst thou number the months that they fulfill? or knowest thou the time when they bring forth? ³They bow themselves, they bring forth their young, they cast out their sorrows. ⁴Their young ones are in good liking, they grow up in the open field; they go forth, and return not again, ⁵Who hath sent out the wild ass free? or who hath loosed the bands of the wild ass? ⁶Whose house I have made the wilderness, and the salt land his dwelling place. ⁷He scorneth the tumult of the city, neither heareth he the shoutings of the driver. ⁸The range of the mountains is his pasture, and he

searcheth after every green thing. ⁹Will the wild-ox be content to serve thee? or will he abide by thy crib? ¹⁰Canst thou bind the wild-ox with his band in the furrow? or will he harrow the valleys after thee? ¹¹Wilt thou trust him, because his strength is great? or wilt thou leave to him thy labour? ¹²Wilt thou confide in him, that he will bring home thy seed, and gather the corn of thy threshingfloor? ¹³The wing of the ostrich rejoiceth, but are her pinions and feathers kindly? ¹⁴For she leaveth her eggs on the earth, and warmeth them in the dust, ¹⁵And forgetteth that the foot may crush them, or that the wild beast may trample them. ¹⁶She is hardened against her young ones, as if they were not hers: though her labour be in vain, she is without fear; ¹⁷Because God hath deprived her of wisdom, neither hath he imparted to her understanding. ¹⁸What time she lifteth up herself on high, she scorneth the horse and his rider. ¹⁹Hast thou given the horse his might? hast thou clothed his neck with the quivering mane? ²⁰Hast thou made him to leap as a locust? the glory of his snorting is terrible. ²¹He paweth in the valley, and rejoiceth in his strength: he goeth out to meet the armed men. ²²He mocketh at fear, and is not dismayed; neither turneth he back from the sword. ²³The quiver rattleth against him, the flashing spear and the javelin. ²⁴He swalloweth the ground with fierceness and rage; neither believeth he that it is the voice of the trumpet. ²⁵As oft as the trumpet soundeth he saith, Aha! and he smelleth the battle afar off, the thunder of the captains, and the shouting. ²⁶Doth the hawk soar by thy wisdom, and stretch her wings toward the south? ²⁷Doth the eagle mount up at thy command, and make her nest on high? ²⁸She dwelleth on the rock, and hath her lodging there, upon the crag of the rock, and the strong hold. ²⁹From thence she spieth out the prey; her eyes behold it afar off. ³⁰Her young ones also suck up blood: and where the slain are, there is she.

¹Moreover the LORD answered Job, and said, ²Shall he that cavilleth contend with the Almighty? he that argueth with God, let him answer it. ³Then Job answered

the LORD, and said, ⁴Behold, I am of small account; what shall I answer thee? I lay mine hand upon my mouth. ⁵Once have I spoken, and I will not answer; yea twice, but I will proceed no further. ⁶Then the LORD answered Job out of the whirlwind, and said, ⁷Gird up thy loins now like a man: I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me. ⁸Wilt thou even disannul my judgment? wilt thou condemn me, that thou mayest be justified? ⁹Or hast thou an arm like God? and canst thou thunder with a voice like him? ¹⁰Deck thyself now with excellency and dignity; and array thyself with honour and majesty. ¹¹Pour forth the overflowings of thine anger: and look upon every one that is proud, and abase him. ¹²Look on every one that is proud, and bring him low; and tread down the wicked where they stand. ¹³Hide them in the dust together; bind their faces in the hidden place. ¹⁴Then wilt I also confess of thee that thine own right hand can save thee. ¹⁵Behold now behemoth, which I made with thee; he eateth grass as all ox. ¹⁶Lo now, his strength is in his loins, and his force is in the muscles of his belly. ¹⁷He moveth his tail like a cedar: the sinews of his thighs are knit together. ¹⁸His bones are as tubes of brass; his limbs are like bars of iron. ¹⁹He is the chief of the ways of God: he only that made him can make his sword to approach unto him. ²⁰Surely the mountains bring him forth food; where all the beasts of the field do play. ²¹He lieth under the lotus trees, in the covert of the reed, and the fen. ²²The lotus trees cover him with their shadow; the willows of the brook compass him about. ²³Behold, if a river overflow, he trembleth not: he is confident, though Jordan swell even to his mouth. ²⁴Shall any take him when he is on the watch, or pierce through his nose with a snare?

¹Canst thou draw out leviathan with a fish hook? or press down his tongue with a cord? ²Canst thou put a rope into his nose? or pierce his jaw through with a hook? ³Will he make many supplications unto thee? or will he speak soft words unto thee? ⁴Will he make a covenant with thee, that thou shouldest take him for a servant for ever? ⁵Wilt thou play with him as with a bird? or wilt thou bind him for thy maidens? ⁶Shall the bands of fishermen make traffic of him? shall they part him among the merchants? ⁷Canst thou fill his skin with barbed irons, or his head with fish spears? ⁸Lay thine hand upon him; remember the battle, and do so no more. ⁹Behold, the hope of him is in vain: shall not one be cast down even at the sight of him? ¹⁰None is so fierce that he dare stir him up: who then is he that can stand before me? ¹¹Who hath first given unto me, that I should repay him? whatsoever is under the whole heaven is mine. ¹²I will not keep silence concerning his limbs, nor his mighty strength, nor his comely proportion. ¹³Who can strip off his outer garment? who shall come within his double bridle? ¹⁴Who can open the doors of his face? round about his teeth is terror. ¹⁵His strong scales are his pride, shut up together as with a close seal. ¹⁶One is so near to another, that no air can come between them. ¹⁷They are joined one to another; they stick together, that they cannot be sundered. ¹⁸His neesings flash forth light, and his eyes are like the eyelids of the morning. ¹⁹Out of his mouth go burning torches, and sparks of fire leap forth. ²⁰Out of his nostrils a smoke goeth, as of a seething pot and burning rushes. ²¹His breath kindleth coals, and a flame goeth forth from his mouth. ²²In his neck abideth strength, and terror danceth before him. ²³The flakes of his flesh are joined together: they are firm upon him; they cannot be moved. ²⁴His heart is as firm as a stone; yea, firm as the nether millstone. ²⁵When he raiseth himself up, the mighty are afraid: by reason of consternation they are beside themselves. ²⁶If one lay at him with the sword, it cannot avail; nor the spear, the dart, nor the pointed shaft. ²⁷He counteth iron as straw, and brass as rotten wood. ²⁸The arrow cannot make him flee: slingstones are turned with him into stubble. ²⁹Clubs are counted as stubble: he laugheth at the rushing of the javelin. ³⁰His underparts are like sharp potsherds: he spreadeth as it were a threshing wain upon the mire. ³¹He maketh the deep to boil like a pot: he maketh the sea like ointment. ³²He maketh a path to shine after him; one would think the deep to be hoary. ³³Upon earth there is not his like, that is made without fear.

³He beholdeth every thing that is high: he is king over all the sons of pride.

¹Then Job answered the LORD, and said,
²I know that thou canst do all things, and that no purpose of thine can be restrained.
³Who is this that hideth counsel without knowledge? therefore have I uttered that which I understood not, things too wonderful for me, which I knew not. ⁴Hear, I beseech thee, and I will speak; I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me. ⁵I had heard of thee by the hearing of the ear; but now mine eye seeth thee,
⁶Wherefore I abhor myself, and repent in dust and ashes. ⁷And it was so, that after the LORD had spoken these words unto Job, the LORD said to Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends: for ye have not spoken of me the thing that is right, as my servant Job hath. ⁸Now therefore, take unto you seven bullocks and seven rams, and go to my servant Job, and offer up for yourselves a burnt offering; and my servant Job shall pray for you; for him will I accept, that I deal not with you after your folly; for ye have not spoken of me the thing that is right, as my servant Job hath. ⁹So Eliphaz the Temanite and Bildad the Shuhite and Zophar the Naamathite went, and did according as the LORD commanded them: and the LORD accepted Job. ¹⁰And the LORD turned the captivity of Job, when he prayed for his friends: and the LORD gave Job twice as much as he had before. ¹¹Then came there unto him all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had been of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his house: and they bemoaned him, and comforted him concerning all the evil that the LORD had brought upon him: every man also gave him a piece of money, and every one a ring of gold. ¹²So the LORD blessed the latter end of Job more than his beginning: and he had fourteen thousand sheep, and six thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she-asses. ¹³He had also seven sons and three daughters. ¹⁴And he called the name of the first, Jemimah; and the name of the second,

Keziah; and the name of the third, Kerenhappuch. ¹⁵And in all the land were no women found so fair as the daughters of Job: and their father gave them inheritance among their brethren. ¹⁶And after this Job lived an hundred and forty years, and saw his sons, and his sons' sons, even four generations. ¹⁷So Job died, being old and full of days.

THE PSALMS. BOOK I.

- ¹Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the wicked, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful.
- ²But his delight is in the law of the LORD; and in his law doth he meditate day and night.
- ³And he shall be like a tree planted by the streams of water, that bringeth forth its fruit in its season, whose leaf also doth not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper.
- ⁴The wicked are not so; but are like the chaff which the wind driveth away.
- ⁵Therefore the wicked shall not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous.
- ⁶For the LORD knoweth the way of the righteous: but the way of the wicked shall perish.

- ¹Why do the nations rage, and the peoples imagine a vain thing?
- ²The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the LORD, and against his anointed, saying,
- ³Let us break their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us.
- ⁴He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the Lord shall have them in derision.
- ⁵Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath, and vex them in his sore displeasure:
- ⁶Yet I have set my king upon my holy hill of Zion.
- ⁷I will tell of the decree: the LORD said unto me, Thou art my son; this day have I begotten thee.
- ⁸Ask of me, and I will give thee the nations for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession.
- ⁹Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel.

- ¹⁰Now therefore be wise, O ye kings: be instructed, ye judges of the earth.
- ¹¹Serve the LORD with fear, and rejoice with trembling.
- ¹²Kiss the son, lest he be angry, and ye perish in the way, for his wrath will soon be kindled. Blessed are all they that put their trust in him.

A Psalm of David, when he fled from Absalom his son.

- ¹LORD, how are mine adversaries increased! many are they that rise up against me.
- ²Many there be which say of my soul, There is no help for him in God.
- Selah
- ³But thou, O LORD, art a shield about me; my glory, and the lifter up of mine head.
- ⁴I cry unto the LORD with my voice, and he answereth me out of his holy hill.
- Selah
- ⁵I laid me down and slept; I awakened; for the LORD sustaineth me.
- ⁶I will not be afraid of ten thousands of the people, that have set themselves against me round about.
- ⁷Arise, O LORD; save me, O my God: for thou hast smitten all mine enemies upon the cheek bone; thou hast broken the teeth of the wicked.
- ⁸Salvation belongeth unto the LORD: thy blessing be upon thy people.

For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. A Psalm of David.

- ¹Answer me when I call, O God of my righteousness; thou hast set me at large when I was in distress: have mercy upon me, and hear my prayer.
- ²O ye sons of men, how long shall my glory be turned into dishonour? how long will ye love vanity, and seek after falsehood?
- Selah
- ³But know that the LORD hath set apart him that is godly for himself: the LORD will hear when I call unto him.
- ⁴Stand in awe, and sin not: commune with your own heart upon your bed, and be still.

Selah

- ⁵ Offer the sacrifices of righteousness, and put your trust in the LORD.
- ⁶ Many there be that say, Who will shew us any good? LORD, lift thou up the light of thy countenance upon us.
- ⁷ Thou hast put gladness in my heart, more than they have when their corn and their wine are increased.
- ⁸ In peace will I both lay me down and sleep: for thou, LORD, alone makest me dwell in safety.

For the Chief Musician; with the Nehiloth. A Psalm of David.

- ¹ Give ear to my words, O LORD, consider my meditation.
- ² Hearken unto the voice of my cry, my King, and my God: for unto thee do I pray.
- ³ O LORD, in the morning shalt thou hear my voice; in the morning will I order my prayer unto thee, and will keep watch.
- ⁴ For thou art not a God that hath pleasure in wickedness: evil shall not sojourn with thee.
- ⁵ The arrogant shall not stand in thy sight: thou hatest all workers of iniquity.
- ⁶ Thou shalt destroy them that speak lies: the LORD abhorreth the blood-thirsty and deceitful man.
- ⁷ But as for me, in the multitude of thy lovingkindness will I come into thy house: in thy fear will I worship toward thy holy temple.
- ⁸ Lead me, O LORD, in thy righteousness because of mine enemies; make thy way plain before my face.
- ⁹ For there is no faithfulness in their mouth; their inward part is very wickedness: their throat is an open sepulchre; they flatter with their tongue.
- ¹⁰ Hold them guilty, O God; let them fall by their own counsels: thrust them out in the multitude of their transgressions; for they have rebelled against thee.
- ¹¹ But let all those that put their trust in thee rejoice, let them ever shout for joy, because thou defendest them: let them also that love thy name be joyful in thee.

- ¹² For thou wilt bless the righteous; O LORD, thou wilt compass him with favour as with a shield.

For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments, set to the Sheminith. A Psalm of David.

- ¹ O LORD, rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chasten me in thy hot displeasure.
- ² Have mercy upon me, O LORD; for I am withered away: O LORD, heal me; for my bones are vexed.
- ³ My soul also is sore vexed: and thou, O LORD, how long?
- ⁴ Return, O LORD, deliver my soul: save me for thy lovingkindness' sake.
- ⁵ For in death there is no remembrance of thee: in Sheol who shall give thee thanks?
- ⁶ I am weary with my groaning; every night make I my bed to swim; I water my couch with my tears.
- ⁷ Mine eye wasteth away because of grief; it waxeth old because of all mine adversaries.
- ⁸ Depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity; for the LORD hath heard the voice of my weeping.
- ⁹ The LORD hath heard my supplication; the LORD will receive my prayer.
- ¹⁰ All mine enemies shall be ashamed and sore vexed: they shall turn back, they shall be ashamed suddenly.

Shiggaion of David, which he sang unto the LORD; concerning the words of Cush a Benjamite.

- ¹ O LORD my God, in thee do I put my trust: save me from all them that pursue me, and deliver me:
- ² Lest he tear my soul like a lion, rending it in pieces, while there is none to deliver.
- ³ O LORD my God, if I have done this; if there be iniquity in my hands;
- ⁴ If I have rewarded evil unto him that was at peace with me; (yea, I have delivered him that without cause was mine adversary:)
- ⁵ Let the enemy pursue my soul, and overtake it; yea, let him tread my life down to the earth, and lay my glory in the dust.

Selah

⁶ Arise, O LORD, in thine anger, lift up thyself against the rage of mine adversaries: and awake for me; thou hast commanded judgment.

⁷ And let the congregation of the peoples compass thee about: and over them return thou on high.

⁸ The LORD ministereth judgment to the peoples: judge me, O LORD, according to my righteousness, and to mine integrity that is in me.

⁹ Oh let the wickedness of the wicked come to an end, but establish thou the righteous: for the righteous God trieth the hearts and reins.

¹⁰ My shield is with God, which saveth the upright in heart.

¹¹ God is a righteous judge, yea, a God that hath indignation every day.

¹² If a man turn not, he will whet his sword;
he hath bent his bow, and made it ready.

¹³ He hath also prepared for him the instruments of death; he maketh his arrows fiery shafts.

¹⁴ Behold, he travaileth with iniquity; yea, he hath conceived mischief, and brought forth falsehood.

¹⁵ He hath made a pit, and digged it, and is fallen into the ditch which he made.

¹⁶ His mischief shall return upon his own head, and his violence shall come down upon his own pate.

¹⁷ I will give thanks unto the LORD according to his righteousness: and will sing praise to the name of the LORD Most High.

8

For the Chief Musician; set to the Gittith. A Psalm of David.

name in all the earth! who hast set thy glory upon the heavens.

² Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou established strength, because of thine adversaries, that thou mightest still the enemy and the avenger.

³ When I consider thy heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the stars, which thou hast ordained;

⁴ What is man, that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man, that thou visitest him?

⁵ For thou hast made him but little lower than God, and crownest him with glory and honour.

⁶ Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands; thou hast put all things under his feet:

⁷ All sheep and oxen, yea, and the beasts of the field;

⁸ The fowl of the air, and the fish of the sea, whatsoever passeth through the paths of the seas.

⁹ O LORD, our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth!

For the Chief Musician; set to Muthlabben.
A Psalm of David.

¹ I will give thanks unto the LORD with my whole heart; I will shew forth all thy marvelous works.

² I will be glad and exult in thee: I will sing praise to thy name, O thou Most High.

³ When mine enemies turn back, they stumble and perish at thy presence.

⁴ For thou hast maintained my right and my cause; thou satest in the throne judging righteously.

⁵ Thou hast rebuked the nations, thou hast destroyed the wicked, thou hast blotted out their name for ever and ever.

⁶ The enemy are come to an end, they are desolate for ever; and the cities which thou hast overthrown, their very memorial is perished.

⁷ But the LORD sitteth as king for ever: he hath prepared his throne for judgment.

⁸ And he shall judge the world in righteousness, he shall minister judgment to the peoples in uprightness.

⁹ The LORD also will be a high tower for the oppressed, a high tower in times of trouble;

¹⁰ And they that know thy name will put their trust in thee; for thou, LORD, hast not forsaken them that seek thee.

- ¹¹ Sing praises to the LORD, which dwelleth in Zion: declare among the people his doings.
- ¹² For he that maketh inquisition for blood remembereth them: he forgetteth not the cry of the poor.
- ¹³ Have mercy upon me, O LORD; behold my affliction which I suffer of them that hate me, thou that liftest me up from the gates of death;
- ¹⁴ That I may shew forth all thy praise: in the gates of the daughter of Zion, I will rejoice in thy salvation.
- ¹⁵ The nations are sunk down in the pit that they made: in the net which they hid is their own foot taken.
- ¹⁶ The LORD hath made himself known, he hath executed judgment: the wicked is snared in the work of his own hands.
- Higaion. Selah
- ¹⁷ The wicked shall return to Sheol, even all the nations that forget God.
- ¹⁸ For the needy shall not always be forgotten, nor the expectation of the poor perish for ever.
- ¹⁹ Arise, O LORD; let not man prevail: let the nations be judged in thy sight.
- ²⁰ Put them in fear, O LORD: let the nations know themselves to be but men.

- ¹ Why standest thou afar off, O LORD? why hidest thou thyself in times of trouble?
- ² In the pride of the wicked the poor is hotly pursued; let them be taken in the devices that they have imagined.
- ³ For the wicked boasteth of his heart's desire, and the covetous renounceth, yea, contemneth the LORD.
- ⁴ The wicked, in the pride of his countenance, saith, He will not require it. All his thoughts are, There is no God.
- ⁵ His ways are firm at all times; thy judgments are far above out of his sight: as for all his adversaries, he puffeth at them.
- ⁶ He saith in his heart, I shall not be moved: to all generations I shall not be in adversity.

- ⁷ His mouth is full of cursing and deceit and oppression: under his tongue is mischief and iniquity.
- ⁸ He sitteth in the lurking places of the villages: in the covert places doth he murder the innocent: his eyes are privily set against the helpless.
- ⁹ He lurketh in the covert as a lion in his den: he lieth in wait to catch the poor: he doth catch the poor, when he draweth him in his net.
- ¹⁰ He croucheth, he boweth down, and the helpless fall by his strong ones.
- ¹¹ He saith in his heart, God hath forgotten: he hideth his face; he will never see it.
- ¹² Arise, O LORD; O God, lift up thine hand: forget not the poor.
- ¹³ Wherefore doth the wicked contemn God, and say in his heart, Thou wilt not require it?
- ¹⁴ Thou hast seen it; for thou beholdest mischief and spite, to take it into thy hand: the helpless committeth herself unto thee; thou hast been the helper of the fatherless.
- ¹⁵ Break thou the arm of the wicked; and as for the evil man, seek out his wickedness till thou find none.
- ¹⁶ The LORD is King for ever and ever: the nations are perished out of his land.
- ¹⁷ LORD, thou hast heard the desire of the meek: thou wilt prepare their heart, thou wilt cause thine ear to hear:
- ¹⁸ To judge the fatherless and the oppressed, that man which is of the earth may be terrible no more.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

- ¹ In the LORD put I my trust: how say ye to my soul, Flee as a bird to your mountain?
- ² For, lo, the wicked bend the bow, they make ready their arrow upon the string, that they may shoot in darkness at the upright in heart.
- ³ If the foundations be destroyed, what can the righteous do?
- ⁴ The LORD is in his holy temple, the LORD, his throne is in heaven; his eyes behold, his eyelids try, the children of men.

- ⁵ The LORD trieth the righteous: but the wicked and him that loveth violence his soul hateth.
- ⁶ Upon the wicked he shall rain snares; fire and brimstone and burning wind shall be the portion of their cup.
- ⁷ For the LORD is righteous; he loveth righteousness: the upright shall behold his face.

For the Chief Musician; set to the Sheminith. A Psalm of David.

- ¹ Help, LORD; for the godly man ceaseth; for the faithful fail from among the children of men.
- ² They speak vanity every one with his neighbour: with flattering lip, and with a double heart, do they speak.
- ³ The LORD shall cut off all flattering lips, the tongue that speaketh great things:
- ⁴ Who have said, with our tongue will we prevail; our lips are our own: who is lord over us?
- ⁵ For the spoiling of the poor, for the sighing of the needy, now will I arise, saith the LORD; I will set him in safety at whom they puff.
- ⁶ The words of the LORD are pure words; as silver tried in a furnace on the earth, purified seven times.
- ⁷ Thou shalt keep them, O LORD, thou shalt preserve them from this generation for ever.
- ⁸ The wicked walk on every side, when vileness is exalted among the sons of men.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

- ¹ How long, O LORD, wilt thou forget me for ever? how long wilt thou hide thy face from me?
- ² How long shall I take counsel in my soul, having sorrow in my heart all the day? how long shall mine enemy be exalted over me?
- ³ Consider and answer me, O LORD my God: lighten mine eyes, lest I sleep the sleep of death;
- ⁴ Lest mine enemy say, I have prevailed against him; lest mine adversaries rejoice when I am moved.

- ⁵ But I have trusted in thy mercy; my heart shall rejoice in thy salvation:

⁶ I will sing unto the LORD, because he hath dealt bountifully with me.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

- ¹ The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God. They are corrupt, they have done abominable works; there is none that doeth good.
- ² The LORD looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any that did understand, that did seek after God.
- ³ They are all gone aside; they are together become filthy; there is none that doeth good, no, not one.
- ⁴ Have all the workers of iniquity no knowledge? who eat up my people as they eat bread, and call not upon the LORD.
- ⁵ There were they in great fear: for God is in the generation of the righteous.
- ⁶ Ye put to shame the counsel of the poor, because the LORD is his refuge.
- ⁷ Oh that the salvation of Israel were come out of Zion! when the LORD bringeth back the captivity of his people, then shall Jacob rejoice, and Israel shall be glad.

15

A Psalm of David.

- ¹ LORD, who shall sojourn in thy tabernacle? who shall dwell in thy holy hill?
- ² He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness, and speaketh truth in his heart.
- ³ He that slandereth not with his tongue, nor doeth evil to his friend, nor taketh up a reproach against his neighbour.
- ⁴ In whose eyes a reprobate is despised; but he honoureth them that fear the LORD. He that sweareth to his own hurt, and changeth not.
- ⁵ He that putteth not out his money to usury, nor taketh reward against the innocent. He that doeth these things shall never be moved.

Michtam of David.

- ¹ Preserve me, O God: for in thee do I put my trust.
- ² I have said unto the LORD, Thou art my Lord: I have no good beyond thee.
- ³ As for the saints that are in the earth, they are the excellent in whom is all my delight.
- ⁴ Their sorrows shall be multiplied that exchange the LORD for another god: their drink offerings of blood will I not offer, nor take their names upon my lips.
- ⁵ The LORD is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup: thou maintainest my lot.
- ⁶ The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage.
- ⁷ I will bless the LORD, who hath given me counsel: yea, my reins instruct me in the night seasons.
- ⁸ I have set the LORD always before me: because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved.
- ⁹ Therefore my heart is glad, and my glory rejoiceth: my flesh also shall dwell in safety.
- ¹⁰ For thou wilt not leave my soul to Sheol; neither wilt thou suffer thine holy one to see corruption.
- ¹¹ Thou wilt shew me the path of life: in thy presence is fulness of joy; in thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore.

A Prayer of David.

- ¹ Hear the right, O LORD, attend unto my cry; give ear unto my prayer, that goeth not out of feigned lips.
- ² Let my sentence come forth from thy presence; let thine eyes look upon equity.
- ³ Thou hast proved mine heart; thou hast visited me in the night; thou hast tried me, and findest nothing; I am purposed that my mouth shall not transgress.
- ⁴ As for the works of men, by the word of thy lips I have kept me from the ways of the violent.
- ⁵ My steps have held fast to thy paths, my feet have not slipped.

- ⁶ I have called upon thee, for thou wilt answer me, O God: incline thine ear unto me, and hear my speech.
- ⁷ Shew thy marvelous lovingkindness, O thou that savest them which put their trust in thee from those that rise up against them, by thy right hand.
- ⁸ Keep me as the apple of the eye, hide me under the shadow of thy wings,
- ⁹ From the wicked that spoil me, my deadly enemies, that compass me about.
- ¹⁰ They are enclosed in their own fat: with their mouth they speak proudly.
- ¹¹ They have now compassed us in our steps: they set their eyes to cast us down to the earth.
- ¹² He is like a lion that is greedy of his prey, and as it were a young lion lurking in secret places.
- ¹³ Arise, O LORD, confront him, cast him down: deliver my soul from the wicked by thy sword;
- ¹⁴ From men, by thy hand, O LORD, from men of the world, whose portion is in this life, and whose belly thou fillest with thy treasure: they are satisfied with children, and leave the rest of their substance to their babes.
- ¹⁵ As for me, I shall behold thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy likeness.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David the servant of the LORD, who spake unto the LORD the words of this song in the day that the LORD delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul: and he said,

- ¹ I love thee, O LORD, my strength.
- ² The LORD is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strong rock, in him will I trust; my shield, and the horn of my salvation, my high tower.
- ³ I will call upon the LORD, who is worthy to be praised: so shall I be saved from mine enemies.
- ⁴ The cords of death compassed me, and the floods of ungodliness made me afraid.
- ⁵ The cords of Sheol were round about me: the snares of death came on me.

- ⁶ In my distress I called upon the LORD, and cried unto my God: he heard my voice out of his temple, and my cry before him came into his ears.
- ⁷ Then the earth shook and trembled, the foundations also of the mountains moved and were shaken, because he was wroth.
- ⁸ There went up a smoke out of his nostrils, and fire out of his mouth devoured: coals were kindled by it.
- ⁹ He bowed the heavens also, and came down, and thick darkness was under his feet.
- ¹⁰ And he rode upon a cherub, and did fly, yea, he flew swiftly upon the wings of the wind.
- ¹¹ He made darkness his hiding place, his pavilion round about him; darkness of waters, thick clouds of the skies.
- ¹² At the brightness before him his thick clouds passed, hailstones and coals of fire.
- ¹³ The LORD also thundered in the heavens, and the Most High uttered his voice; hailstones and coals of fire.
- ¹⁴ And he sent out his arrows, and scattered them; yea, lightnings manifold, and discomfited them.
- ¹⁵ Then the channels of waters appeared, and the foundations of the world were laid bare, at thy rebuke, O LORD, at the blast of the breath of thy nostrils.
- ¹⁶ He sent from on high, he took me; he drew me out of many waters.
- ¹⁷ He delivered me from my strong enemy, and from them that hated me, for they were too mighty for me.
- ¹⁸ They came upon me in the day of my calamity: but the LORD was my stay.
- ¹⁹ He brought me forth also into a large place; he delivered me, because he delighted in me.
- ²⁰ The LORD rewarded me according to my righteousness; according to the cleanness of my hands hath he recompensed me.
- ²¹ For I have kept the ways of the LORD, and have not wickedly departed from my God.
- ²² For all his judgments were before me, and I put not away his statutes from me.
- ²³ I was also perfect with him, and I kept myself from mine iniquity.
- ²⁴ Therefore hath the LORD recompensed me according to my righteousness, according to the cleanness of my hands in his eyesight.
- ²⁵ With the merciful thou wilt shew thyself merciful; with the perfect man thou wilt shew thyself perfect;
- ²⁶ With the pure thou wilt shew thyself pure; and with the perverse thou wilt shew thyself froward.
- ²⁷ For thou wilt save the afflicted people; but the haughty eyes thou wilt bring down.
- ²⁸ For thou wilt light my lamp: the LORD my God will lighten my darkness.
- ²⁹ For by thee I run upon a troop; and by my God do I leap over a wall.
- ³⁰ As for God, his way is perfect: the word of the LORD is tried; he is a shield unto all them that trust in him.
- ³¹ For who is God, save the LORD? and who is a rock, beside our God?
- ³² The God that girdeth me with strength, and maketh my way perfect.
- ³³ He maketh my feet like hinds' feet: and setteth me upon my high places,
- ³⁴ He teacheth my hands to war; so that mine arms do bend a bow of brass.
- ³⁵ Thou hast also given me the shield of thy salvation: and thy right hand hath holden me up, and thy gentleness hath made me great.
- ³⁶ Thou hast enlarged my steps under me, and my feet have not slipped.
- ³⁷ I will pursue mine enemies, and overtake them: neither will I turn again till they are consumed.
- ³⁸ I will smite them through that they shall not be able to rise: they shall fall under my feet.
- ³⁹ For thou hast girded me with strength unto the battle: thou hast subdued under me those that rose up against me.
- ⁴⁰ Thou hast also made mine enemies turn their backs unto me, that I might cut off them that hate me.
- ⁴¹ They cried, but there was none to save: even unto the LORD, but he answered them not.

- ⁴² Then did I beat them small as the dust before the wind: I did cast them out as the mire of the streets.
- ⁴³ Thou hast delivered me from the strivings of the people; thou hast made me the head of the nations: a people whom I have not known shall serve me.
- ⁴⁴ As soon as they hear of me they shall obey me: the strangers shall submit themselves unto me.
- ⁴⁵ The strangers shall fade away, and shall come trembling out of their close places.
- ⁴⁶ The LORD liveth; and blessed be my rock; and exalted be the God of my salvation:
- ⁴⁷ Even the God that executeth vengeance for me, and subdueth peoples under me.
- ⁴⁸ He rescueth me from mine enemies: yea, thou liftest me up above them that rise up against me: thou deliverest me from the violent man.
- ⁴⁹ Therefore I will give thanks unto thee, O LORD, among the nations, and will sing praises unto thy name.
- ⁵⁰ Great deliverance giveth he to his king; and sheweth lovingkindness to his anointed, to David and to his seed, for evermore.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

- ¹ The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handy-work.
- ² Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge.
- ³ There is no speech nor language; their voice cannot be heard.
- ⁴ Their line is gone out through all the earth, and their words to the end of the world. In them hath he set a tabernacle for the sun,
- ⁵ Which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber, and rejoiceth as a strong man to run his course.
- ⁶ His going forth is from the end of the heaven, and his circuit unto the ends of it: and there is nothing hid from the heat thereof.
- ⁷ The law of the LORD is perfect, restoring the soul: the testimony of the LORD is sure, making wise the simple.

- ⁸ The precepts of the LORD are right, rejoicing the heart: the commandment of the LORD is pure, enlightening the eyes.
- ⁹ The fear of the LORD is clean, enduring for ever: the judgments of the LORD are true, and righteous altogether.
- ¹⁰ More to be desired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold: sweeter also than honey and the honeycomb.
- ¹¹ Moreover by them is thy servant warned: in keeping of them there is great reward.
- ¹² Who can discern his errors? clear thou me from hidden faults.
- ¹³ Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins; let them not have dominion over me: then shall I be perfect, and I shall be clear from great transgression.
- ¹⁴ Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in thy sight, O LORD, my rock, and my redeemer.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

- ¹ The LORD answer thee in the day of trouble; the name of the God of Jacob set thee up on high;
- ² Send thee help from the sanctuary, and strengthen thee out of Zion;
- ³ Remember all thy offerings, and accept thy burnt sacrifice;
- Selah
- ⁴ Grant thee thy heart's desire, and fulfill all thy counsel.
- ⁵ We will triumph in thy salvation, and in the name of our God we will set up our banners: the LORD fulfill all thy petitions.
- ⁶ Now know I that the LORD saveth his anointed; he wilt answer him from his holy heaven with the saving strength of his right hand.
- ⁷ Some trust in chariots, and some in horses: but we will make mention of the name of the LORD our God.
- ⁸ They are bowed down and fallen: but we are risen, and stand upright.
- ⁹ Save, LORD: let the King answer us when we call.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

¹The king shall joy in thy strength, O LORD; and in thy salvation how greatly shall he rejoice!

²Thou hast given him his heart's desire, and hast not withholden the request of his lips.

Selah

³For thou preventest him with the blessings of goodness: thou settest a crown of fine gold on his head.

⁴He asked life of thee, thou gavest it him; even length of days for ever and ever.

⁵His glory is great in thy salvation: honour and majesty dost thou lay upon him.

⁶For thou makest him most blessed for ever: thou makest him glad with joy in thy presence.

⁷For the king trusteth in the LORD, and through the lovingkindness of the Most High he shall not be moved.

⁸Thine hand shall find out all thine enemies: thy right hand shall find out those that hate thee.

⁹Thou shalt make them as a fiery furnace in the time of thine anger. The LORD shall swallow them up in his wrath, and the fire shall devour them.

¹⁰Their fruit shalt thou destroy from the earth, and their seed from among the children of men.

¹¹For they intended evil against thee: they imagined a device, which they are not able to perform.

¹²For thou shalt make them turn their back, thou shalt make ready with thy bowstrings against the face of them.

¹³Be thou exalted, O LORD, in thy strength: so will we sing and praise thy power.

For the Chief Musician; set to Aijeleth hash-Shahar. A Psalm of David.

¹My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? why art thou so far from helping me, and from the words of my roaring?

²O my God, I cry in the day-time, but thou answerest not; and in the night season, and am not silent.

³But thou art holy, O thou that inhabitest the praises of Israel.

⁴Our fathers trusted in thee: they trusted, and thou didst deliver them.

⁵They cried unto thee, and were delivered: they trusted in thee, and were not ashamed.

⁶But I am a worm, and no man; a reproach of men, and despised of the people.

⁷All they that see me laugh me to scorn: they shoot out the lip, they shake the head, saying,

⁸Commit thyself unto the LORD; let him deliver him: let him deliver him, seeing he delighteth in him.

⁹But thou art he that took me out the womb: thou didst make me trust when I was upon my mother's breasts.

¹⁰I was cast upon thee from the womb: thou art my God from my mother's belly.

¹¹Be not far from me; for trouble is near; for there is none to help.

¹²Many bulls have compassed me: strong bulls of Bashan have beset me round.

¹³They gape upon me with their mouth, as a ravening and a roaring lion.

¹⁴I am poured out like water, and all my bones are out of joint: my heart is like wax; it is melted in the midst of my bowels.

¹⁵My Strength is dried up like a potsherd; and my tongue cleaveth to my jaws; and thou hast brought me into the dust of death.

¹⁶For dogs have compassed me: the assembly of evil-doers have enclosed me; they pierced my hands and my feet.

¹⁷I may tell all my bones; they look and stare upon me:

¹⁸They part my garments among them, and upon my vesture do they cast lots.

¹⁹But be not thou far off, O LORD: O thou my succour, haste thee to help me.

²⁰Deliver my soul from the sword; my darling from the power of the dog;

²¹Save me from the lion's mouth; yea, from the horns of the wild-oxen thou hast answered me.

²²I will declare thy name unto my brethren: in the midst of the congregation will I praise thee.

- ²³ Ye that fear the LORD, praise him; all ye the seed of Jacob, glorify him; and stand in awe of him, all ye the seed of Israel.
- ²⁴ For he hath not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the afflicted; neither hath he hid his face from him; but when he cried unto him, he heard.
- ²⁵ Of thee cometh my praise in the great congregation: I will pay my vows before them that fear him.
- ²⁶ The meek shall eat and be satisfied: they shall praise the LORD that seek after him: let your heart live for ever.
- ²⁷ All the ends of the earth shall remember and turn unto the LORD: and all the kindreds of the nations shall worship before thee.
- ²⁸ For the kingdom is the LORD'S; and he is the ruler over the nations.
- ²⁹ All the fat ones of the earth shall eat and worship: all they that go down to the dust shall bow before him, even he that cannot keep his soul alive.
- ³⁰ A seed shall serve him; it shall be told of the Lord unto the next generation.
- ³¹ They shall come and shall declare his righteousness unto a people that shall be born, that he hath done it.

A Psalm of David.

- ¹ The LORD is my shepherd; I shall not want.
- ² He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters.
- ³ He restoreth my soul: he guideth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.
- ⁴ Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for thou art with me: thy rod and thy staff, they comfort me.
- ⁵ Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou hast anointed my head with oil; my cup runneth over.
- ⁶ Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the LORD for ever.

A Psalm of David.

- ¹ The earth is the LORD'S, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein.
- ² For he hath founded it upon the seas, and established it upon the floods.
- ³ Who shall ascend into the hill of the LORD? and who shall stand in his holy place?
- ⁴ He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, and hath not sworn deceitfully.
- ⁵ He shall receive a blessing from the LORD, and righteousness from the God of his salvation.
- ⁶ This is the generation of them that seek after him, that seek thy face, O God of Jacob.

Selah

- ⁷ Lift up your heads, O ye gates; and be ye lift up, ye everlasting doors: and the King of glory shall come in.
- ⁸ Who is the King of glory? The LORD strong and mighty, the LORD mighty in battle.
- ⁹ Lift up your heads, O ye gates; yea, lift them up, ye everlasting doors: and the King of glory shall come in.
- ¹⁰ Who is this King of glory? The LORD of hosts, he is the King of glory.

25

A Psalm of David.

- ¹ Unto thee, O LORD, do I lift up my soul.
- ² O my God, in thee have I trusted, let me not be ashamed; let not mine enemies triumph over me.
- ³ Yea, none that wait on thee shall be ashamed: they shall be ashamed that deal treacherously without cause.
- ⁴ Shew me thy ways, O LORD; teach me thy paths.
- ⁵ Guide me in thy truth, and teach me; for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day.
- ⁶ Remember, O LORD, thy tender mercies and thy lovingkindnesses; for they have been ever of old.
- ⁷ Remember not the sins of my youth, nor my transgressions: according to thy lovingkindness remember thou me, for thy goodness' sake, O LORD.

- ⁸ Good and upright is the LORD: therefore will he instruct sinners in the way.
- ⁹ The meek will he guide in judgment: and the meek will he teach his way.
- ¹⁰ All the paths of the LORD are lovingkindness and truth unto such as keep his covenant and his testimonies.
- ¹¹ For thy name's sake, O LORD, pardon mine iniquity, for it is great.
- ¹² What man is he that feareth the LORD? him shall he instruct in the way that he shall choose.
- ¹³ His soul shall dwell at ease; and his seed shall inherit the land.
- ¹⁴ The secret of the LORD is with them that fear him; and he will shew them his covenant.
- ¹⁵ Mine eyes are ever toward the LORD; for he shall pluck my feet out of the net.
- ¹⁶ Turn thee unto me, and have mercy upon me; for I am desolate and afflicted.
- ¹⁷ The troubles of my heart are enlarged: O bring thou me out of my distresses.
- ¹⁸ Consider mine affliction and my travail; and forgive all my sins.
- ¹⁹ Consider mine enemies, for they are many; and they hate me with cruel hatred.
- ²⁰ O keep my soul, and deliver me: let me not be ashamed, for I put my trust in thee.
- ²¹ Let integrity and uprightness preserve me, for I wait on thee.
- ²² Redeem Israel, O God, out of all his troubles.

A Psalm of David.

- ¹ Judge me, O LORD, for I have walked in mine integrity: I have trusted also in the LORD without wavering.
- ² Examine me, O LORD, and prove me; try my reins and my heart.
- ³ For thy lovingkindness is before mine eyes; and I have walked in thy truth.
- ⁴ I have not sat with vain persons; neither will I go in with dissemblers.
- ⁵ I hate the congregation of evil-doers, and will not sit with the wicked.
- ⁶ I will wash mine hands in innocency; so will I compass thine altar, O LORD:
- ⁷ That I may make the voice of thanksgiving to be heard, and tell of all thy wondrous works.

- ⁸ LORD, I love the habitation of thy house, and the place where thy glory dwelleth.
- ⁹ Gather not my soul with sinners, nor my life with men of blood:
- ¹⁰ In whose hands is mischief, and their right hand is full of bribes.
- ¹¹ But as for me, I will walk in mine integrity: redeem me, and be merciful unto me.
- ¹² My foot standeth in an even place: in the congregations will I bless the LORD.

A Psalm of David.

- ¹ The LORD is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the LORD is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?
- ² When evil-doers came upon me to eat up my flesh, even mine adversaries and my foes, they stumbled and fell.
- ³ Though an host should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear: though war should rise against me, even then will I be confident.
- ⁴ One thing have I asked of the LORD, that will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the LORD all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the LORD, and to inquire in his temple.
- ⁵ For in the day of trouble he shall keep me secretly in his pavilion: in the covert of his tabernacle shall he hide me; he shall lift me up upon a rock.
- ⁶ And now shall mine head be lifted up above mine enemies round about me; and I will offer in his tabernacle sacrifices of joy; I will sing, yea, I will sing praises unto the LORD.
- ⁷ Hear, O LORD, when I cry with my voice: have mercy also upon me, and answer me.
- ⁸ When thou saidst, Seek ye my face; my heart said unto thee, Thy face, LORD, will I seek.
- ⁹ Hide not thy face from me; put not thy servant away in anger: thou hast been my help; cast me not off, neither forsake me, O God of my salvation.
- ¹⁰ For my father and my mother have forsaken me, but the LORD will take me up.

- ¹¹ Teach me thy way, O LORD; and lead me in a plain path, because of mine enemies.
- ¹² Deliver me not over unto the will of mine adversaries: for false witnesses are risen up against me, and such as breathe out cruelty.
- ¹³ I had fainted, unless I had believed to see the goodness of the LORD in the land of the living.
- ¹⁴ Wait on the LORD: be strong, and let thine heart take courage; yea, wait thou on the LORD.

A Psalm of David.

- ¹ Unto thee, O LORD, will I call; my rock, be not thou deaf unto me: lest, if thou be silent unto me, I become like them that go down into the pit.
- ² Hear the voice of my supplications, when I cry unto thee, when I lift up my hands toward thy holy oracle.
- ³ Draw me not away with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquity; which speak peace with their neighbours, but mischief is in their hearts.
- ⁴ Give them according to their work, and according to the wickedness of their doings: give them after the operation of their hands; render to them their desert.
- ⁵ Because they regard not the works of the LORD, nor the operation of his hands, he shall break them down and not build them up.
- ⁶ Blessed be the LORD, because he hath heard the voice of my supplications.
- ⁷ The LORD is my strength and my shield; my heart hath trusted in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart greatly rejoiceth; and with my song will praise him.
- ⁸ The LORD is their strength, and he is a strong hold of salvation to his anointed.
- ⁹ Save thy people, and bless thine inheritance: feed them also, and bear them up for ever.

A Psalm of David.

- ¹ Give unto the LORD, O ye sons of the mighty, give unto the LORD glory and strength.

- ² Give unto the LORD the glory due unto his name; worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness.
- ³ The voice of the LORD is upon the waters: the God of glory thundereth, even the LORD upon many waters.
- ⁴ The voice of the LORD is powerful; the voice of the LORD is full of majesty.
- ⁵ The voice of the LORD breaketh the cedars; yea, the LORD breaketh in pieces the cedars of Lebanon.
- ⁶ He maketh them also to skip like a calf; Lebanon and Sirion like a young wild-ox.
- ⁷ The voice of the LORD cleaveth the flames of fire.
- ⁸ The voice of the LORD shaketh the wilderness; the LORD shaketh the wilderness of Kadesh.
- ⁹ The voice of the LORD maketh the hinds to calve, and strippeth the forests bare: and in his temple every thing saith, Glory.
- ¹⁰ The LORD sat as king at the Flood; yea, the LORD sitteth as king for ever.
- ¹¹ The LORD will give strength unto his people; the LORD will bless his people with peace.

A Psalm; a Song at the Dedication of the House; a Psalm of David.

- ¹ I will extol thee, O LORD; for thou hast raised me up, and hast not made my foes to rejoice over me.
- ² O LORD my God, I cried unto thee, and thou hast healed me.
- ³ O LORD, thou hast brought up my soul from Sheol: thou hast kept me alive, that I should not go down to the pit.
- ⁴ Sing praise unto the LORD, O ye saints of his, and give thanks to his holy name.
- ⁵ For his anger is but for a moment; in his favour is life: weeping may tarry for the night, but joy cometh in the morning.
- ⁶ As for me, I said in my prosperity, I shall never be moved.
- ⁷ Thou, LORD, of thy favour hadst made my mountain to stand strong; thou didst hide thy face; I was troubled.
- ⁸ I cried to thee, O LORD; and unto the LORD I made supplication:

- ⁹ What profit is there in my blood, when I go down to the pit? Shall the dust praise thee? shall it declare thy truth?
- ¹⁰ Hear, O LORD, and have mercy upon me: LORD, be thou my helper.
- ¹¹ Thou hast turned for me my mourning into dancing; thou hast loosed my sackcloth, and girded me with gladness:
- ¹² To the end that my glory may sing praise to thee, and not be silent. O LORD my God, I will give thanks unto thee for ever.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

- ¹ In thee, O LORD, do I put my trust; let me never be ashamed: deliver me in thy righteousness.
- ² Bow down thine ear unto me; deliver me speedily: be thou to me a strong rock, an house of defence to save me.
- ³ For thou art my rock and my fortress; therefore for thy name's sake lead me and guide me.
- ⁴ Pluck me out of the net that they have laid privily for me; for thou art my strong hold.
- ⁵ Into thine hand I commend my spirit: thou hast redeemed me, O LORD, thou God of truth.
- ⁶ I hate them that regard lying vanities: but I trust in the LORD.
- ⁷ I will be glad and rejoice in thy mercy: for thou hast seen my affliction; thou hast known my soul in adversities:
- ⁸ And thou hast not shut me up into the hand of the enemy; thou hast set my feet in a large place.
- ⁹ Have mercy upon me, O LORD, for I am in distress: mine eye wasteth away with grief, yea, my soul and my body.
- ¹⁰ For my life is spent with sorrow, and my years with sighing; my strength faileth because of mine iniquity, and my bones are wasted away.
- ¹¹ Because of all mine adversaries I am become a reproach, yea, unto my neighbours exceedingly, and a fear to mine acquaintance: they that did see me without fled from me.

- ¹² I am forgotten as a dead man out of mind: I am like a broken vessel.
- ¹³ For I have heard the defaming of many, terror on every side: while they took counsel together against me, they devised to take away my life.
- ¹⁴ But I trusted in thee, O LORD: I said, Thou art my God.
- ¹⁵ My times are in thy hand: deliver me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that persecute me.
- ¹⁶ Make thy face to shine upon thy servant: save me in thy lovingkindness.
- ¹⁷ Let me not be ashamed, O LORD; for I have called upon thee: let the wicked be ashamed, let them be silent in Sheol.

- ¹⁸ Let the lying lips be dumb; which speak against the righteous insolently, with pride and contempt.
- ¹⁹ Oh how great is thy goodness, which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee, which thou hast wrought for them that put their trust in thee, before the sons of men!
- ²⁰ In the covert of thy presence shalt thou hide them from the plottings of man: thou shalt keep them secretly in a pavilion from the strife of tongues.
- ²¹ Blessed be the LORD: for he hath shewed me his marvelous lovingkindness in a strong city.
- ²² As for me, I said in my haste, I am cut off from before thine eyes: nevertheless thou heardest the voice of my supplications when I cried unto thee.
- ²³ O love the LORD, all ye his saints: the LORD preserveth the faithful, and plentifully rewardeth the proud doer.
- ²⁴ Be strong, and let your heart take courage, all ye that hope in the LORD.

A Psalm of David. Maschil.

- ¹ Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered.
- ² Blessed is the man unto whom the LORD imputeth not iniquity, and in whose spirit there is no guile.
- ³ When I kept silence, my bones waxed old through my roaring all the day long.

⁴ For day and night thy hand was heavy upon me: my moisture was changed as with the drought of summer.

Selah

⁵ I acknowledged my sin unto thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid: I said, I will confess my transgressions unto the LORD; and thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin.

Selah

⁶ For this let every one that is godly pray unto thee in a time when thou mayest be found: surely when the great waters overflow they shall not reach unto him.

⁷ Thou art my hiding place; thou wilt preserve me from trouble; thou wilt compass me about with songs of deliverance.

Selah

⁸ I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go: I will counsel thee with mine eye upon thee.

⁹ Be ye not as the horse, or as the mule, which have no understanding: whose trappings must be bit and bridle to hold them in, else they will not come near unto thee.

¹⁰ Many sorrows shall be to the wicked: but he that trusteth in the LORD, mercy shall compass him about.

¹¹ Be glad in the LORD, and rejoice, ye righteous: and shout for joy, all ye that are upright in heart.

² Give thanks unto the LORD with harp: sing praises unto him with the psaltery of ten strings.

³ Sing unto him a new song; play skilfully with a loud noise.

⁴ For the word of the LORD is right; and all his work is done in faithfulness.

⁵ He loveth righteousness and judgment: the earth is full of the lovingkindness of the LORD.

⁶ By the word of the LORD were the heavens made; and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth.

⁷ He gathereth the waters of the sea together as an heap: he layeth up the deeps in storehouses.

⁸ Let all the earth fear the LORD: let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him.

⁹ For he spake, and it was done; he commanded, and it stood fast.

¹⁰ The LORD bringeth the counsel of the nations to nought: he maketh the thoughts of the peoples to be of none effect.

¹¹ The counsel of the LORD standeth fast for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations.

¹² Blessed is the nation whose God is the LORD; the people whom he hath chosen for his own inheritance.

¹³ The LORD looketh from heaven; he beholdeth all the sons of men;

¹⁴ From the place of his habitation he looketh forth upon all the inhabitants of the earth;

¹⁵ He that fashioneth the hearts of them all, that considereth all their works.

¹⁶ There is no king saved by the multitude of an host: a mighty man is not delivered by great strength.

¹⁷ An horse is a vain thing for safety: neither shall he deliver any by his great power.

¹⁸ Behold, the eye of the LORD is upon them that fear him, upon them that hope in his mercy;

¹⁹ To deliver their soul from death, and to keep them alive in famine.

²⁰ Our soul hath waited for the LORD: he is our help and our shield.

²¹ For our heart shall rejoice in him, because we have trusted in his holy name.

²² Let thy mercy, O LORD, be upon us, according as we have hoped in thee.

A Psalm of David; when he changed his behaviour before Abimelech, who drove him away, and he departed.

¹ I will bless the LORD at all times: his praise shall continually be in my mouth.

² My soul shall make her boast in the LORD: the meek shall hear thereof, and be glad.

³ O magnify the LORD with me, and let us exalt his name together.

- ⁴ I sought the LORD, and he answered me, and delivered me from all my fears.
- ⁵ They looked unto him, and were lightened: and their faces shall never be confounded.
- ⁶ This poor man cried, and the LORD heard him, and saved him out of all his troubles.
- ⁷ The angel of the LORD encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them.
- ⁸ O taste and see that the LORD is good: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.
- ⁹ O fear the LORD, ye his saints: for there is no want to them that fear him.
- ¹⁰ The young lions do lack, and suffer hunger: but they that seek the LORD shall not want any good thing.
- ¹¹ Come, ye children, hearken unto me: I will teach you the fear of the LORD.
- ¹² What man is he that desireth life, and loveth many days, that he may see good?
- ¹³ Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from speaking guile.
- ¹⁴ Depart from evil, and do good; seek peace, and pursue it.
- ¹⁵ The eyes of the LORD are toward the righteous, and his ears are open unto their cry.
- ¹⁶ The face of the LORD is against them that do evil, to cut off the remembrance of them from the earth.
- ¹⁷ The righteous cried, and the LORD heard, and delivered them out of all their troubles.
- ¹⁸ The LORD is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart, and saveth such as be of a contrite spirit.
- ¹⁹ Many are the afflictions of the righteous: but the LORD delivereth him out of them all.
- ²⁰ He keepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken.
- ²¹ Evil shall slay the wicked: and they that hate the righteous shall be condemned.
- ²² The LORD redeemeth the soul of his servants: and none of them that trust in him shall be condemned.
- ¹ Strive thou, O LORD, with them that strive with me: fight thou against them that fight against me.
- ² Take hold of shield and buckler, and stand up for mine help.
- ³ Draw out also the spear, and stop the way against them that pursue me: say unto my soul, I am thy salvation.
- ⁴ Let them be ashamed and brought to dishonour that seek after my soul: let them be turned back and confounded that devise my hurt.
- ⁵ Let them be as chaff before the wind, and the angel of the LORD driving them on.
- ⁶ Let their way be dark and slippery, and the angel of the LORD pursuing them.
- ⁷ For without cause have they hid for me their net in a pit, without cause have they digged a pit for my soul.
- ⁸ Let destruction come upon him at unawares; and let his net that he hath hid catch himself: with destruction let him fall therein.
- ⁹ And my soul shall be joyful in the LORD: it shall rejoice in his salvation.
- ¹⁰ All my bones shall say, LORD, who is like unto thee, which deliverest the poor from him that is too strong for him, yea, the poor and the needy from him that spoileth him?
- ¹¹ Unrighteous witnesses rise up; they ask me of things that I know not.
- ¹² They reward me evil for good, to the bereaving of my soul.
- ¹³ But as for me, when they were sick, my clothing was sackcloth: I afflicted my soul with fasting; and my prayer returned into mine own bosom.
- ¹⁴ I behaved myself as though it had been my friend or my brother: I bowed down mourning, as one that bewaileth his mother.
- ¹⁵ But when I halted they rejoiced, and gathered themselves together: the abjects gathered themselves together against me, and I knew it not; they did tear me, and ceased not:
- ¹⁶ Like the profane mockers in feasts, they gnashed upon me with their teeth.
- ¹⁷ Lord, how long wilt thou look on? rescue my soul from their destructions, my darling from the lions.

- ¹⁸ I will give thee thanks in the great congregation: I will praise thee among much people.
- ¹⁹ Let not them that are mine enemies wrongfully rejoice over me: neither let them wink with the eye that hate me without a cause.
- ²⁰ For they speak not peace: but they devise deceitful words against them that are quiet in the land.
- ²¹ Yea, they opened their mouth wide against me; they said, Aha, aha, our eye hath seen it.
- ²² Thou hast seen it, O LORD; keep not silence: O Lord, be not far from me.
- ²³ Stir up thyself, and awake to my judgment, even unto my cause, my God and my Lord.
- ²⁴ Judge me, O LORD my God, according to thy righteousness; and let them not rejoice over me.
- ²⁵ Let them not say in their heart, Aha, so would we have it: let them not say, We have swallowed him up.
- ²⁶ Let them be ashamed and confounded together that rejoice at mine hurt: let them be clothed with shame and dishonour that magnify themselves against me.
- ²⁷ Let them shout for joy, and be glad, that favour my righteous cause: yea, let them say continually, The LORD be magnified, which hath pleasure in the prosperity of his servant.
- ²⁸ And my tongue shall talk of thy righteousness, and of thy praise all the day long.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David the servant of the LORD.

- ¹ The transgression of the wicked saith within my heart, There is no fear of God before his eyes.
- ² For he flattereth himself in his own eyes, that his iniquity shall not be found out and be hated.
- ³ The words of his mouth are iniquity and deceit: he hath left off to be wise and to do good.
- ⁴ He deviseth iniquity upon his bed; he setteth himself in a way that is not good; he abhorreth not evil.

- ⁵ Thy lovingkindness, O LORD, is in the heavens; thy faithfulness reacheth unto the skies.
- ⁶ Thy righteousness is like the mountains of God; thy judgments are a great deep: O LORD, thou preservest man and beast.
- ⁷ How precious is thy lovingkindness, O God! and the children of men take refuge under the shadow of thy wings.
- ⁸ They shall be abundantly satisfied with the fatness of thy house; and thou shalt make them drink of the river of thy pleasures.
- ⁹ For with thee is the fountain of life: in thy light shall we see light.
- ¹⁰ O continue thy lovingkindness unto them that know thee; and thy righteousness unto the upright in heart.
- ¹¹ Let not the foot of pride come against me, and let not the hand of the wicked drive me away.
- ¹² There are the workers of iniquity fallen: they are thrust down, and shall not be able to rise.

A Psalm of David.

- ¹ Fret not thyself because of evil-doers, neither be thou envious against them that work unrighteousness.
- ² For they shall soon be cut down like the grass, and wither as the green herb.
- ³ Trust in the LORD, and do good; dwell in the land, and follow after faithfulness.
- ⁴ Delight thyself also in the LORD; and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart.
- ⁵ Commit thy way unto the LORD; trust also in him, and he shall bring it to pass.
- ⁶ Add he shall make thy righteousness to go forth as the light, and thy judgment as the noonday.
- ⁷ Rest in the LORD, and wait patiently for him: fret not thyself because of him who prospereth in his way, because of the man who bringeth wicked devices to pass.
- ⁸ Cease from anger, and forsake wrath: fret not thyself, it tendeth only to evil-doing.

- ⁹ For evil-doers shall be cut off: but those that wait upon the LORD, they shall inherit the land.
- ¹⁰ For yet a little while, and the wicked shall not be: yea, thou shalt diligently consider his place, and he shall not be.
- ¹¹ But the meek shall inherit the land; and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace.
- ¹² The wicked plotteth against the just, and gnasheth upon him with his teeth.
- ¹³ The Lord shall laugh at him: for he seeth that his day is coming.
- ¹⁴ The wicked have drawn out the sword, and have bent their bow; to cast down the poor and needy, to slay such as be upright in the way:
- ¹⁵ Their sword shall enter into their own heart, and their bows shall be broken.
- ¹⁶ Better is a little that the righteous hath than the abundance of many wicked.
- ¹⁷ For the arms of the wicked shall be broken: but the LORD upholdeth the righteous.
- ¹⁸ The LORD knoweth the days of the perfect: and their inheritance shall be for ever.
- ¹⁹ They shall not be ashamed in the time of evil: and in the days of famine they shall be satisfied.
- ²⁰ But the wicked shall perish, and the enemies of the LORD shall be as the excellency of the pastures: they shall consume; in smoke shall they consume away.
- ²¹ The wicked borroweth, and payeth not again: but the righteous dealeth graciously, and giveth.
- ²² For such as be blessed of him shall inherit the land; and they that be cursed of him shall be cut off.
- ²³ A man's goings are established of the LORD; and he delighteth in his way.
- ²⁴ Though he fall, he shall not be utterly cast down: for the LORD upholdeth him with his hand.
- ²⁵ I have been young, and now am old; yet have I not seen the righteous forsaken, nor his seed begging their bread.
- ²⁶ All the day long he dealeth graciously, and lendeth; and his seed is blessed.
- ²⁷ Depart from evil, and do good; dwell for evermore.
- ²⁸ For the LORD loveth judgment, and forsaketh not his saints; they are preserved for ever: but the seed of the wicked shall be cut off.
- ²⁹ The righteous shall inherit the land, and dwell therein for ever.
- ³⁰ The mouth of the righteous talketh of wisdom, and his tongue speaketh judgment.
- ³¹ The law of his God is in his heart; none of his steps shall slide.
- ³² The wicked watcheth the righteous, and seeketh to slay him.
- ³³ The LORD will not leave him in his hand, nor condemn him when he is judged.
- ³⁴ Wait on the LORD, and keep his way, and he shall exalt thee to inherit the land: when the wicked are cut off, thou shalt see it.
- ³⁵ I have seen the wicked in great power, and spreading himself like a green tree in its native soil.
- ³⁶ But one passed by, and, lo, he was not: yea, I sought him, but he could not be found.
- ³⁷ Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the latter end of that man is peace.
- ³⁸ As for transgressors, they shall be destroyed together: the latter end of the wicked shall be cut off.
- ³⁹ But the salvation of the righteous is of the LORD: he is their strong hold in the time of trouble.
- ⁴⁰ And the LORD helpeth them, and rescueth them: he rescueth them from the wicked, and saveth them, because they have taken refuge in him.

A Psalm of David, to bring to remembrance.

- ¹ O LORD, rebuke me not in thy wrath: neither chasten me in thy hot displeasure.
- ² For thine arrows stick fast in me, and thy hand presseth me sore.
- ³ There is no soundness in my flesh because of thine indignation; neither is there any health in my bones because of my sin.

- ⁴For mine iniquities are gone over mine head: as an heavy burden they are too heavy for me.
- ⁵My wounds stink and are corrupt, because of my foolishness.
- ⁶I am pained and bowed down greatly; I go mourning all the day long.
- ⁷For my loins are filled with burning; and there is no soundness in my flesh.
- ⁸I am faint and sore bruised: I have roared by reason of the disquietness of my heart.
- ⁹Lord, all my desire is before thee; and my groaning is not hid from thee.
- ¹⁰My heart throbberth, my strength faileth me: as for the light of mine eyes, it also is gone from me.
- ¹¹My lovers and my friends stand aloof from my plague; and my kinsmen stand afar off.
- ¹²They also that seek after my life lay snares for me; and they that seek my hurt speak mischievous things, and imagine deceits all the day long.
- ¹³But I, as a deaf man, hear not; and I am as a dumb man that openeth not his mouth.
- ¹⁴Yea, I am as a man that heareth not, and in whose mouth are no reproofs.
- ¹⁵For in thee, O LORD, do I hope: thou wilt answer, O Lord my God.
- ¹⁶For I said, Lest they rejoice over me: when my foot slippeth, they magnify themselves against me.
- ¹⁷For I am ready to halt, and my sorrow is continually before me.
- ¹⁸For I will declare mine iniquity; I will be sorry for my sin.
- ¹⁹But mine enemies are lively, and are strong: and they that hate me wrongfully are multiplied.
- ²⁰They also that render evil for good are adversaries unto me, because I follow the thing that is good.
- ²¹Forsake me not, O LORD: O my God, be not far from me.
- ²²Make haste to help me, O Lord my salvation.

For the Chief Musician, for Jeduthun. A Psalm of David.

- ¹I said, I will take heed to my ways, that I sin not with my tongue: I will keep my mouth with a bridle, while the wicked is before me.

- ²I was dumb with silence, I held my peace, even from good; and my sorrow was stirred.

- ³My heart was hot within me; while I was musing the fire kindled: then spake I with my tongue:

- ⁴LORD, make me to know mine end, and the measure of my days, what it is; let me know how frail I am.

- ⁵Behold, thou hast made my days as handbreadths; and mine age is as nothing before thee: surely every man at his best estate is altogether vanity.

Selah

- ⁶Surely every man walketh in a vain shew: surely they are disquieted in vain: he heapeth up riches, and knoweth not who shall gather them.

- ⁷And now, Lord, what wait I for? my hope is in thee.

- ⁸Deliver me from all my transgressions: make me not the reproach of the foolish.

- ⁹I was dumb, I opened not my mouth; because thou didst it.

- ¹⁰Remove thy stroke away from me: I am consumed by the blow of thine hand.

- ¹¹When thou with rebukes dost correct man for iniquity, thou makest his beauty to consume away like a moth: surely every man is vanity.

Selah

- ¹²Hear my prayer, O LORD, and give ear unto my cry; hold not thy peace at my tears: for I am a stranger with thee, a sojourner, as all my fathers were.

- ¹³O spare me, that I may recover strength, before I go hence, and be no more.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

- ¹I waited patiently for the LORD; and he inclined unto me, and heard my cry.

- ²He brought me up also out of an horrible pit, out of the miry clay; and he set my feet upon a rock, and established my goings.

- ³And he hath put a new song in my mouth, even praise unto our God: many shall see it, and fear, and shall trust in the LORD.

⁴Blessed is the man that maketh the LORD his trust, and respecteth not the proud, nor such as turn aside to lies.

⁵Many, O LORD my God, are the wonderful works which thou hast done, and thy thoughts which are to us-ward: they cannot be set in order unto thee; if I would declare and speak of them, they are more than can be numbered.

⁶Sacrifice and offering thou hast no delight in; mine ears hast thou opened: burnt offering and sin offering hast thou not required.

⁷Then said I, Lo, I am come; in the roll of the book it is written of me:

⁸I delight to do thy will, O my God; yea, thy law is within my heart.

⁹I have published righteousness in the great congregation; lo, I will not refrain my lips, O LORD, thou knowest.

¹⁰I have not hid thy righteousness within my heart; I have declared thy faithfulness and thy salvation: I have not concealed thy lovingkindness and thy truth from the great congregation.

¹¹Withhold not thou thy tender mercies from me, O LORD: let thy lovingkindness and thy truth continually preserve me.

¹²For innumerable evils have compassed me about, mine iniquities have overtaken me, so that I am not able to look up; they are more than the hairs of mine head, and my heart hath failed me.

¹³Be pleased, O LORD, to deliver me: make haste to help me, O LORD.

¹⁴Let them be ashamed and confounded together that seek after my soul to destroy it: let them be turned backward and brought to dishonour that delight in my hurt.

¹⁵Let them be desolate by reason of their shame that say unto me, Aha, Aha.

¹⁶Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee: let such as love thy salvation say continually, The LORD be magnified.

¹⁷But I am poor and needy; yet the Lord thinketh upon me: thou art my help and my deliverer; make no tarrying, O my God.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

¹Blessed is he that considereth the poor: the LORD will deliver him in the day of evil.

²The LORD will preserve him, and keep him alive, and he shall be blessed upon the earth; and deliver not thou him unto the will of his enemies.

³The LORD will support him upon the couch of languishing: thou makest all his bed in his sickness.

⁴I said, O LORD, have mercy upon me: heal my soul; for I have sinned against thee.

⁵Mine enemies speak evil against me, saying, When shall he die, and his name perish?

⁶And if he come to see me, he speaketh vanity; his heart gathereth iniquity to itself: when he goeth abroad, he telleth it.

⁷All that hate me whisper together against me: against me do they devise my hurt.

⁸An evil disease, say they, cleaveth fast unto him: and now that he lieth he shall rise up no more.

⁹Yea, mine own familiar friend, in whom I trusted, which did eat of my bread, hath lifted up his heel against me.

¹⁰But thou, O LORD, have mercy upon me, and raise me up, that I may requite them.

¹¹By this I know that thou delightest in me, because mine enemy doth not triumph over me.

¹²And as for me, thou upholdest me in mine integrity, and settest me before thy face for ever.

¹³Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, from everlasting and to everlasting. Amen, and Amen.

BOOK II.

For the Chief Musician; Maschil of the sons of Korah.

- ¹ As the hart panteth after the water brooks, so panteth my soul after thee, O
God.
- ² My soul thirsteth for God, for the living God: when shall I come and appear before God?
- ³ My tears have been my meat day and night, while they continually say unto me, Where is thy God?
- ⁴ These things I remember, and pour out my soul within me, how I went with the throng, and led them to the house of God, with the voice of joy and praise, a multitude keeping holyday.
- ⁵ Why art thou cast down, O my soul?
and why art thou disquieted within me? hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him for the health of his countenance.
- ⁶ O my God, my soul is cast down within me: therefore do I remember thee from the land of Jordan, and the Hermons, from the hill Mizar.
- ⁷ Deep calleth unto deep at the noise of thy waterspouts: all thy waves and thy billows are gone over me.
- ⁸ Yet the LORD will command his lovingkindness in the day-time, and in the night his song shall be with me, even a prayer unto the God of my life.
- ⁹ I will say unto God my rock, Why hast thou forgotten me? why go I mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?
- ¹⁰ As with a sword in my bones, mine adversaries reproach me; while they continually say unto me, Where is thy God?
- ¹¹ Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and
why art thou disquieted within me?
hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God.

- ¹ Judge me, O God, and plead my cause against an ungodly nation: O deliver me from the deceitful and unjust man.
- ² For thou art the God of my strength; why hast thou cast me off? why go I mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?

- ³ O send out thy light and thy truth; let them lead me: let them bring me unto thy holy hill, and to thy tabernacles.
- ⁴ Then will I go unto the altar of God, unto God my exceeding joy: and upon the harp will I praise thee, O God, my God.
- ⁵ Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and
why art thou disquieted within me?
hope thou in God: for I shall yet
praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God.

For the Chief Musician; a Psalm of the sons of Korah. Maschil.

- ¹ We have heard with our ears, O God, our fathers have told us, what work thou didst in their days, in the days of old.
- ² Thou didst drive out the nations with thy hand, and plantedst them in; thou didst afflict the peoples, and didst spread them abroad.
- ³ For they gat not the land in possession by their own sword, neither did their own arm save them: but thy right hand, and thine arm, and the light of thy countenance, because thou hadst a favour unto them.
- ⁴ Thou art my King, O God: command deliverance for Jacob.
- ⁵ Through thee will we push down our adversaries: through thy name will we tread them under that rise up against us.
- ⁶ For I will not trust in my bow, neither shall my sword save me.
- ⁷ But thou hast saved us from our adversaries, and hast put them to shame that hate us.
- ⁸ In God have we made our boast all the day long, and we will give thanks unto thy name for ever.

Selah

- ⁹ But now thou hast cast us off, and brought us to dishonour; and goest not forth with our hosts.
- ¹⁰ Thou makest us to turn back from the adversary: and they which hate us spoil for themselves.

- ¹¹ Thou hast given us like sheep appointed for meat; and hast scattered us among the nations.
- ¹² Thou sellest thy people for nought, and hast not increased thy wealth by their price.
- ¹³ Thou makest us a reproach to our neighbours, a scorn and a derision to them that are round about us.
- ¹⁴ Thou makest us a byword among the nations, a shaking of the head among the peoples.
- ¹⁵ All the day long is my dishonour before me, and the shame of my face hath covered me,
- ¹⁶ For the voice of him that reproacheth and blasphemeth; by reason of the enemy and the avenger.
- ¹⁷ All this is come upon us; yet have we not forgotten thee, neither have we dealt falsely in thy covenant.
- ¹⁸ Our heart is not turned back, neither have our steps declined from thy way;
- ¹⁹ That thou hast sore broken us in the place of jackals, and covered us with the shadow of death.
- ²⁰ If we have forgotten the name of our God, or spread forth our hands to a strange god;
- ²¹ Shall not God search this out? for he knoweth the secrets of the heart.
- ²² Yea, for thy sake are we killed all the day long; we are counted as sheep for the slaughter.
- ²³ Awake, why sleepest thou, O Lord? arise, cast us not off for ever.
- ²⁴ Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and forgettest our affliction and our oppression?
- ²⁵ For our soul is bowed down to the dust: our belly cleaveth unto the earth.
- ²⁶ Rise up for our help, and redeem us for thy lovingkindness' sake.
- ² Thou art fairer than the children of men; grace is poured into thy lips: therefore God hath blessed thee for ever.
- ³ Gird thy sword upon thy thigh, O mighty one, thy glory and thy majesty.
- ⁴ And in thy majesty ride on prosperously, because of truth and meekness and righteousness: and thy right hand shall teach thee terrible things.
- ⁵ Thine arrows are sharp; the peoples fall under thee; they are in the heart of the king's enemies.
- ⁶ Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: a sceptre of equity is the sceptre of thy kingdom.
- ⁷ Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated wickedness: therefore God, thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.
- ⁸ All thy garments smell of myrrh, and aloes, and cassia; out of ivory palaces stringed instruments have made thee glad.
- ⁹ Kings' daughters are among thy honourable women: at thy right hand doth stand the queen in gold of Ophir.
- ¹⁰ Hearken, O daughter, and consider, and incline thine ear; forget also thine own people, and thy father's house;
- ¹¹ So shall the king desire thy beauty: for he is thy Lord; and worship thou him.
- ¹² And the daughter of Tyre shall be there with a gift; even the rich among the people shall entreat thy favour.
- ¹³ The king's daughter within the palace is all glorious: her clothing is inwrought with gold.
- ¹⁴ She shall be led unto the king in brodered work: the virgins her companions that follow her shall be brought unto thee.
- ¹⁵ With gladness and rejoicing shall they be led: they shall enter into the king's palace.
- ¹⁶ Instead of thy fathers shall be thy children, whom thou shalt make princes in all the earth.
- ¹⁷ I will make thy name to be remembered in all generations: therefore shall the peoples give thee thanks for ever and ever.

For the Chief Musician; set to Shoshannim; a Psalms of the sons of Korah. Maschil. A Song of loves.

- ¹ My heart overfloweth with a goodly matter: I speak the things which I have made touching the king: my tongue is the pen of a ready writer.

For the Chief Musician: a Psalm of the sons of Korah; set to Alamothe. A Song.

- ¹ God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.
² Therefore will we not fear, though the earth do change, and though the mountains be moved in the heart of the seas;
³ Though the waters thereof roar and be troubled, though the mountains shake with the swelling thereof.
Selah
⁴ There is a river, the streams whereof make glad the city of God, the holy place of the tabernacles of the Most High.
⁵ God is in the midst of her; she shall not be moved: God shall help her, and that right early.
⁶ The nations raged, the kingdoms were moved: he uttered his voice, the earth melted.
⁷ The LORD of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge.

Selah

- ⁸ Come, behold the works of the LORD, what desolations he hath made in the earth.
⁹ He maketh wars to cease unto the end of the earth; he breaketh the bow, and cutteth the spear in sunder; he burneth the chariots in the fire.
¹⁰ Be still, and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the nations, I will be exalted in the earth.
¹¹ The LORD of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge.

47

For the Chief Musician; a Psalm of the sons of Korah.

- ¹ O clap your hands, all ye peoples; shout unto God with the voice of triumph.
² For the LORD Most High is terrible; he is a great King over all the earth.
³ He shall subdue the peoples under us, and the nations under our feet.
⁴ He shall choose our inheritance for us, the excellency of Jacob whom he loved.

Selah

- ⁵ God is gone up with a shout, the LORD with the sound of a trumpet.
⁶ Sing praises to God, sing praises: sing praises unto our King, sing praises.

- ⁷ For God is the King of all the earth: sing ye praises with understanding.
⁸ God reigneth over the nations: God sitteth upon his holy throne.
⁹ The princes of the peoples are gathered together to be the people of the God of Abraham: for the shields of the earth belong unto God; he is greatly exalted.

A Song; a Psalm of the sons of Korah.

- ¹ Great is the LORD, and highly to be praised, in the city of our God, in his holy mountain.
² Beautiful in elevation, the joy of the whole earth, is mount Zion, on the sides of the north, the city of the great King.
³ God hath made himself known in her palaces for a refuge.
⁴ For, lo, the kings assembled themselves, they passed by together.
⁵ They saw it, then were they amazed; they were dismayed, they hasted away.
⁶ Trembling took hold of them there; pain, as of a woman in travail.
⁷ With the east wind thou breakest the ships of Tarshish.
⁸ As we have heard, so have we seen in the city of the LORD of hosts, in the city of our God: God will establish it for ever.

Selah

- ⁹ We have thought on thy lovingkindness, O God, in the midst of thy temple.
¹⁰ As is thy name, O God, so is thy praise unto the ends of the earth: thy right hand is full of righteousness.
¹¹ Let mount Zion be glad, let the daughters of Judah rejoice, because of thy judgments.
¹² Walk about Zion, and go round about her: tell the towers thereof.
¹³ Mark ye well her bulwarks, consider her palaces; that ye may tell it to the generation following.
¹⁴ For this God is our God for ever and ever: he will be our guide even unto death.

For the Chief Musician; a Psalm of the sons of Korah.

- ¹ Hear this, all ye peoples; give ear, all ye inhabitants of the world:
² Both low and high, rich and poor together.

- ³ My mouth shall speak wisdom; and the meditation of my heart shall be of understanding.
- ⁴ I will incline mine ear to a parable: I will open my dark saying upon the harp.
- ⁵ Wherefore should I fear in the days of evil, when iniquity at my heels compasseth me about?
- ⁶ They that trust in their wealth, and boast themselves in the multitude of their riches;
- ⁷ None of them can by any means redeem his brother, nor give to God a ransom for him:
- ⁸ (For the redemption of their soul is costly, and must be let alone for ever:)
- ⁹ That he should still live alway, that he should not see corruption.
- ¹⁰ For he seeth that wise men die, the fool and the brutish together perish, and leave their wealth to others.
- ¹¹ Their inward thought is, that their houses shall continue for ever, and their dwelling places to all generations; they call their lands after their own names.
- ¹² But man abideth not in honour: he is like the beasts that perish.
- ¹³ This their way is their folly: yet after them men approve their sayings.
- Selah
- ¹⁴ They are appointed as a flock for Sheol; death shall be their shepherd: and the upright shall have dominion over them in the morning; and their beauty shall be for Sheol to consume, that there be no habitation for it.
- ¹⁵ But God will redeem my soul from the power of Sheol: for he shall receive me.
- Selah
- ¹⁶ Be not thou afraid when one is made rich, when the glory of his house is increased:
- ¹⁷ For when he dieth he shall carry nothing away; his glory shall not descend after him.
- ¹⁸ Though while he lived he blessed his soul, and men praise thee, when thou doest well to thyself,
- ¹⁹ He shall go to the generation of his fathers; they shall never see the light.

- ²⁰ Man that is in honour, and understandeth not, is like the beasts that perish.

A Psalm of Asaph.

- ¹ God, even God, the LORD, hath spoken, and called the earth from the rising of the sun unto the going down thereof.
- ² Out of Zion, the perfection of beauty, God hath shined forth.
- ³ Our God shall come, and shall not keep silence: a fire shall devour before him, and it shall be very tempestuous round about him.
- ⁴ He shall call to the heavens above, and to the earth, that he may judge his people:
- ⁵ Gather my saints together unto me; those that have made a covenant with me by sacrifice.
- ⁶ And the heavens shall declare his righteousness; for God is judge himself.
- Selah
- ⁷ Hear, O my people, and I will speak; O Israel, and I will testify unto thee: I am God, even thy God.
- ⁸ I will not reprove thee for thy sacrifices; and thy burnt offerings are continually before me.
- ⁹ I will take no bullock out of thy house, nor he-goats out of thy folds.
- ¹⁰ For every beast of the forest is mine, and the cattle upon a thousand hills.
- ¹¹ I know all the fowls of the mountains; and the wild beasts of the field are mine.
- ¹² If I were hungry, I would not tell thee: for the world is mine, and the fulness thereof.
- ¹³ Will I eat the flesh of bulls, or drink the blood of goats?
- ¹⁴ Offer unto God the sacrifice of thanksgiving; and pay thy vows unto the Most High:
- ¹⁵ And call upon me in the day of trouble; I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify me.
- ¹⁶ But unto the wicked God saith, What hast thou to do to declare my statutes; and that thou hast taken my covenant in thy mouth?
- ¹⁷ Seeing thou hatest instruction, and castest my words behind thee.

- ¹⁸ When thou sawest a thief, thou consentedst with him, and hast been partaker with adulterers.
- ¹⁹ Thou givest thy mouth to evil, and thy tongue frameth deceit.
- ²⁰ Thou sittest and speakest against thy brother; thou slanderest thine own mother's son.
- ²¹ These things hast thou done, and I kept silence; thou thoughtest that I was altogether such an one as thyself: but I will reprove thee, and set them in order before thine eyes.
- ²² Now consider this, ye that forget God, lest I tear you in pieces, and there be none to deliver:
- ²³ Whoso offereth the sacrifice of thanksgiving glorifieth me; and to him that ordereth his conversation aright will I shew the salvation of God.

For the Chief Musician. A psalm of David: when Nathan the prophet came unto him, after he had gone in to Bath-sheba.

- ¹ Have mercy upon me, O God, according to thy lovingkindness; according to the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions.
- ² Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin.
- ³ For I acknowledge my transgressions: and my sin is ever before me.
- ⁴ Against thee, thee only, have I sinned, and done that which is evil in thy sight: that thou mayest be justified when thou speakest, and be clear when thou judgest.
- ⁵ Behold, I was shapen in iniquity; and in sin did my mother conceive me.
- ⁶ Behold, thou desirest truth in the inward parts: and in the hidden part thou shalt make me to know wisdom.
- ⁷ Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean: wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.
- ⁸ Make me to hear joy and gladness; that the bones which thou hast broken may rejoice.
- ⁹ Hide thy face from my sins, and blot out all mine iniquities.
- ¹⁰ Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me.

- ¹¹ Cast me not away from thy presence; and take not thy holy spirit from me.
- ¹² Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation: and uphold me with a free spirit.
- ¹³ Then will I teach transgressors thy ways; and sinners shall be converted unto thee.
- ¹⁴ Deliver me from bloodguiltiness, O God, thou God of my salvation; and my tongue shall sing aloud of thy righteousness.
- ¹⁵ O Lord, open thou my lips; and my mouth shall shew forth thy praise.
- ¹⁶ For thou delightest not in sacrifice; else would I give it: thou hast no pleasure in burnt offering.
- ¹⁷ The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.
- ¹⁸ Do good in thy good pleasure unto Zion: build thou the walls of Jerusalem.
- ¹⁹ Then shalt thou delight in the sacrifices of righteousness, in burnt offering and whole burnt offering: then shall they offer bullocks upon thine altar.

52

For the Chief Musician. Maschil of David: when Doeg the Edomite came and told Saul, and said unto him, David is come to the house of Ahimelech.

- ¹ Why boastest thou thyself in mischief, O mighty man? the mercy of God endureth continually.
- ² Thy tongue deviseth very wickedness; like a sharp razor, working deceitfully.
- ³ Thou lovest evil more than good; and lying rather than to speak righteousness. Selah
- ⁴ Thou lovest all devouring words, O thou deceitful tongue.
- ⁵ God shall likewise destroy thee for ever, he shall take thee up, and pluck thee out of thy tent, and root thee out of the land of the living. Selah
- ⁶ The righteous also shall see it, and fear, and shall laugh at him, saying,
- ⁷ Lo, this is the man that made not God his strength; but trusted in the abundance of his riches, and strengthened himself in his wickedness.

- ⁸But as for me, I am like a green olive tree in the house of God: I trust in the mercy of God for ever and ever.
- ⁹I will give thee thanks for ever, because thou hast done it: and I will wait on thy name, for it is good, in the presence of thy saints.

For the Chief Musician; set to Mahalath, Maschil of David.

- ¹The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God. Corrupt are they, and have done abominable iniquity; there is none that doeth good.
- ²God looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any that did understand, that did seek after God.
- ³Every one of them is gone back; they are together become filthy; there is none that doeth good, no, not one.
- ⁴Have the workers of iniquity no knowledge? who eat up my people as they eat bread, and call not upon God.
- ⁵There were they in great fear, where no fear was: for God hath scattered the bones of him that encampeth against thee; thou hast put them to shame, because God hath rejected them.
- ⁶Oh that the salvation of Israel were come out of Zion! When God bringeth back the captivity of his people, then shall Jacob rejoice, and Israel shall be glad.

For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. Maschil of David: when the Ziphites came and said to Saul, Doth not David hide himself with us?

- ¹Save me, O God, by thy name, and judge me in thy might.
- ²Hear my prayer, O God; give ear to the words of my mouth.
- ³For strangers are risen up against me, and violent men have sought after my soul: they have not set God before them.

Selah

- ⁴Behold, God is mine helper: the Lord is of them that uphold my soul.

- ⁵He shall requite the evil unto mine enemies: destroy thou them in thy truth.
- ⁶With a freewill offering will I sacrifice unto thee: I will give thanks unto thy name, O LORD, for it is good.
- ⁷For he hath delivered me out of all trouble; and mine eye hath seen my desire upon mine enemies.

For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. Maschil of David.

- ¹Give ear to my prayer, O God; and hide not thyself from my supplication.
- ²Attend unto me, and answer me: I am restless in my complaint, and moan;
- ³Because of the voice of the enemy, because of the oppression of the wicked; for they cast iniquity upon me, and in anger they persecute me.
- ⁴My heart is sore pained within me: and the terrors of death are fallen upon me.
- ⁵Fearfulness and trembling are come upon me, and horror hath overwhelmed me.
- ⁶And I said, Oh that I had wings like a dove! then would I fly away, and be at rest.
- ⁷Lo, then would I wander far off, I would lodge in the wilderness.

Selah

- ⁸I would haste me to a shelter from the stormy wind and tempest.
- ⁹Destroy, O Lord, and divide their tongue: for I have seen violence and strife in the city.
- ¹⁰Day and night they go about upon the walls thereof: iniquity also and mischief are in the midst of it.
- ¹¹Wickedness is in the midst thereof: oppression and guile depart not from her streets.
- ¹²For it was not an enemy that reproached me; then I could have borne it: neither was it he that hated me that did magnify himself against me; then I would have hid myself from him:
- ¹³But it was thou, a man mine equal, my companion, and my familiar friend.
- ¹⁴We took sweet counsel together, we walked in the house of God with the throng.
- ¹⁵Let death come suddenly upon them, let them go down alive into the pit: for wickedness is in their dwelling, in the midst of them.

¹⁶ As for me, I will call upon God; and the LORD shall save me.

¹⁷ Evening, and morning, and at noonday, will I complain, and moan: and he shall hear my voice.

¹⁸ He hath redeemed my soul in peace from the battle that was against me: for they were many that strove with me.

¹⁹ God shall hear, and answer them, even he that abideth of old,

Selah

the men who have no changes, and who fear not God.

²⁰ He hath put forth his hands against such as were at peace with him: he hath profaned his covenant.

²¹ His mouth was smooth as butter, but his heart was war: his words were softer than oil, yet were they drawn swords.

²² Cast thy burden upon the LORD, and he shall sustain thee: he shall never suffer the righteous to be moved.

²³ But thou, O God, shalt bring them down into the pit of destruction: blood-thirsty and deceitful men shall not live out half their days; but I will trust in thee.

For the Chief Musician; set to Jonath elem rehokim. A Psalm of David: Michtam: when the Philistines took him in Gath.

¹ Be merciful unto me, O God; for man would swallow me up: all the day long he fighting oppresseth me.

² Mine enemies would swallow me up all the day long: for they be many that fight proudly against me.

³ What time I am afraid, I will put my trust in thee.

⁴ In God I will praise his word: in God have I put my trust, I will not be afraid; what can flesh do unto me?

⁵ All the day long they wrest my words: all their thoughts are against me for evil.

⁶ They gather themselves together, they hide themselves, they mark my steps, even as they have waited for my soul.

⁷ Shall they escape by iniquity? in anger cast down the peoples, O God.

⁸ Thou tellest my wanderings: put thou my tears into thy bottle; are they not in thy book?

⁹ Then shall mine enemies turn back in the day that I call: this I know, that God is for me.

¹⁰ In God will I praise his word: in the LORD will I praise his word.

¹¹ In God have I put my trust, I will not be afraid; what can man do unto me?

¹² Thy vows are upon me, O God: I will render thank offerings unto thee.

For the Chief Musician; set to Al-tashheth. A Psalm of David: Michtam: when he fled from Saul, in the cave.

¹ Be merciful unto me, O God, be merciful unto me; for my soul taketh refuge in thee: yea, in the shadow of thy wings will I take refuge, until these calamities be overpast.

² I will cry unto God Most High; unto God that performeth all things for me.

³ He shall send from heaven, and save me, when he that would swallow me up reproacheth;

Selah

God shall send forth his mercy and his truth.

⁴ My soul is among lions; I lie among them that are set on fire, even the sons of men, whose teeth are spears and arrows, and their tongue a sharp sword.

⁵ Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens; let thy glory be above all the earth.

⁶ They have prepared a net for my steps; thy soul is bowed down: they have digged a pit before me; they are fallen into the midst thereof themselves.

Selah

⁷ My heart is fixed, O God, my heart is fixed: I will sing, yea, I will sing praises.

⁸ Awake up, my glory; awake, psaltery and harp: I myself will awake right early.

- ⁹ I will give thanks unto thee, O Lord, among the peoples: I will sing praises unto thee among the nations.
- ¹⁰ For thy mercy is great unto the heavens, and thy truth unto the skies.
- ¹¹ Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens; let thy glory be above all the earth.

For the Chief Musician; set to Al-tashheth. A Psalm of David: Michtam.

- ¹ Do ye indeed in silence speak righteousness? do ye judge uprightly, O ye sons of men?
- ² Yea, in heart ye work wickedness; ye weigh out the violence of your hands in the earth.
- ³ The wicked are estranged from the womb: they go astray as soon as they be born, speaking lies.
- ⁴ Their poison is like the poison of a serpent: they are like the deaf adder that stoppeth her ear;
- ⁵ Which hearkeneth not to the voice of charmers, charming never so wisely.
- ⁶ Break their teeth, O God, in their mouth: break out the great teeth of the young lions, O LORD.
- ⁷ Let them melt away as water that runneth apace: when he aimeth his arrows, let them be as though they were cut off.
- ⁸ Let them be as a snail which melteth and passeth away: like the untimely birth of a woman, that hath not seen the sun.
- ⁹ Before your pots can feel the thorns, he shall take them away with a whirlwind, the green and the burning alike.
- ¹⁰ The righteous shall rejoice when he seeth the vengeance: he shall wash his feet in the blood of the wicked.
- ¹¹ So that men shall say, Verily there is a reward for the righteous: verily there is a God that judgeth in the earth.

For the Chief Musician; set to Al-tashheth. A Psalm of David: Michtam: when Saul sent, and they watched the house to kill him.

- ¹ Deliver me from mine enemies, O my God: set me on high from them that rise up against me.
- ² Deliver me from the workers of iniquity, and save me from the bloodthirsty men.
- ³ For, lo, they lie in wait for my soul; the mighty gather themselves together against me: not for my transgression, nor for my sin, O LORD.
- ⁴ They run and prepare themselves without my fault: awake thou to help me, and behold.
- ⁵ Even thou, O LORD God of hosts, the God of Israel, arise to visit all the heathen: be not merciful to any wicked transgressors.

Selah

- ⁶ They return at evening, they make a noise like a dog, and go round about the city.
- ⁷ Behold, they belch out with their mouth; swords are in their lips: for who, say they, doth hear?
- ⁸ But thou, O LORD, shalt laugh at them; thou shalt have all the heathen in derision.
- ⁹ O my strength, I will wait upon thee: for God is my high tower.
- ¹⁰ The God of my mercy shall prevent me: God shall let me see my desire upon mine enemies.
- ¹¹ Slay them not, lest my people forget: scatter them by thy power, and bring them down, O Lord our shield.
- ¹² For the sin of their mouth, and the words of their lips, let them even be taken in their pride, and for cursing and lying which they speak.
- ¹³ Consume them in wrath, consume them, that they be no more: and let them know that God ruleth in Jacob, unto the ends of the earth.

Selah

- ¹⁴ And at evening let them return, let them make a noise like a dog, and go round about the city.
- ¹⁵ They shall wander up and down for meat and tarry all night if they be not satisfied.
- ¹⁶ But I will sing of thy strength; yea, I will sing aloud of thy mercy in the morning: for thou hast been my high tower, and a refuge in the day of my distress.

- ¹⁷ Unto thee, O my strength, will I sing praises: for God is my high tower, the God of my mercy.

60

For the Chief Musician; set to Shushan Eduth: Michtam of David, to teach: when he strove with Aram-naharaim and with Aram-zobah, and Joab returned, and smote of Edom in the Valley of Salt twelve thousand.

- ¹ O God, thou hast cast us off, thou hast broken us down; thou hast been angry; O restore us again.
² Thou hast made the land to tremble; thou hast rent it: heal the breaches thereof; for it shaketh.
³ Thou hast shewed thy people hard things: thou hast made us to drink the wine of staggering.
⁴ Thou hast given a banner to them that fear thee, that it may be displayed because of the truth.

Selah

- ⁵ That thy beloved may be delivered, save with thy right hand, and answer us.
⁶ God hath spoken in his holiness; I will exult: I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.
⁷ Gilead is mine, and Manasseh is mine; Ephraim also is the defence of mine head; Judah is my sceptre.
⁸ Moab is my washpot; upon Edom will I cast my shoe: Philistia, shout thou because of me.
⁹ Who will bring me into the strong city? who hath led me unto Edom?
¹⁰ Hast not thou, O God, cast us off? and thou goest not forth, O God, with our hosts.
¹¹ Give us help against the adversary: for vain is the help of man.
¹² Through God we shall do valiantly: for he it is that shall tread down our adversaries.

61

For the Chief Musician; on a stringed instrument. A Psalm of David.

- ¹ Hear my cry, O God; attend unto my prayer.

² From the end of the earth will I call unto thee, when my heart is overwhelmed: lead me to the rock that is higher than I.

³ For thou hast been a refuge for me, a strong tower from the enemy.

⁴ I will dwell in thy tabernacle for ever: I will take refuge in the covert of thy wings.

Selah

⁵ For thou, O God, hast heard my vows: thou hast given me the heritage of those that fear thy name.

⁶ Thou wilt prolong the king's life: his years shall be as many generations.

⁸ So will I sing praise unto thy name for ever, that I may daily perform my vows.

For the Chief Musician; after the manner of Jeduthun. A Psalm of David.

¹ My soul waiteth only upon God: from him cometh my salvation.

² He only is my rock and my salvation: he is my high tower; I shall not be greatly moved.

³ How long will ye set upon a man, that ye may slay him, all of you, like a bowing wall, like a tottering fence?

⁴ They only consult to thrust him down from his excellency; they delight in lies: they bless with their mouth, but they curse inwardly.

Selah

⁵ My soul, wait thou only upon God; for my expectation is from him.

⁶ He only is my rock and my salvation: he is my high tower; I shall not be moved.

⁷ With God is my salvation and my glory: the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God.

⁸ Trust in him at all times, ye people; pour out your heart before him: God is a refuge for us.

Selah

⁹ Surely men of low degree are vanity, and men of high degree are a lie: in the balances they will go up; they are together lighter than vanity.

- ¹⁰ Trust not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery: if riches increase, set not your heart thereon.
- ¹¹ God hath spoken once, twice have I heard this; that power belongeth unto God:
- ¹² Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for thou renderest to every man according to his work.

A Psalm of David, when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

- ¹ O God, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee, in a dry and weary land, where no water is.
- ² So have I looked upon thee in the sanctuary, to see thy power and thy glory.
- ³ For thy lovingkindness is better than life; my lips shall praise thee.
- ⁴ So will I bless thee while I live: I will lift up my hands in thy name.
- ⁵ My soul shall be satisfied as with marrow and fatness; and my mouth shall praise thee with joyful lips;
- ⁶ When I remember thee upon my bed, and meditate on thee in the night watches.
- ⁷ For thou hast been my help, and in the shadow of thy wings will I rejoice.
- ⁸ My soul followeth hard after thee: thy right hand upholdeth me.
- ⁹ But those that seek my soul, to destroy it, shall go into the lower parts of the earth.
- ¹⁰ They shall be given over to the power of the sword: they shall be a portion for foxes.
- ¹¹ But the king shall rejoice in God: every one that sweareth by him shall glory; for the mouth of them that speak lies shall be stopped.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

- ¹ Hear my voice, O God, in my complaint: preserve my life from fear of the enemy.
- ² Hide me from the secret counsel of evil-doers; from the tumult of the workers of iniquity:

- ³ Who have whet their tongue like a sword, and have aimed their arrows, even bitter words:
- ⁴ That they may shoot in secret places at the perfect: suddenly do they shoot at him, and fear not.
- ⁵ They encourage themselves in an evil purpose; they commune of laying snares privily; they say, Who shall see them?
- ⁶ They search out iniquities; We have accomplished, say they, a diligent search: and the inward thought of every one, and the heart, is deep.
- ⁷ But God shall shoot at them; with an arrow suddenly shall they be wounded.
- ⁸ So they shall be made to stumble, their own tongue being against them: all that see them shall wag the head.
- ⁹ And all men shall fear; and they shall declare the work of God, and shall wisely consider of his doing.
- ¹⁰ The righteous shall be glad in the LORD, and shall trust in him; and all the upright in heart shall glory.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm. A Song of David.

- ¹ Praise waiteth for thee, O God, in Zion: and unto thee shall the vow be performed.
- ² O thou that hearest prayer, unto thee shall all flesh come.
- ³ Iniquities prevail against me: as for our transgressions, thou shalt purge them away.
- ⁴ Blessed is the man whom thou choosest, and causest to approach unto thee, that he may dwell in thy courts: we shall be satisfied with the goodness of thy house, the holy place of thy temple.
- ⁵ By terrible things thou wilt answer us in righteousness, O God of our salvation; thou that art the confidence of all the ends of the earth, and of them that are afar off upon the sea:
- ⁶ Which by his strength setteth fast the mountains; being girded about with might:
- ⁷ Which stilleth the roaring of the seas, the roaring of their waves, and the tumult of the peoples.

- ⁸They also that dwell in the uttermost parts are afraid at thy tokens: thou makest the outgoings of the morning and evening to rejoice.
- ⁹Thou visitest the earth, and waterest it, thou greatly enrichest it; the river of God is full of water: thou providest them corn, when thou hast so prepared the earth.
- ¹⁰Thou waterest her furrows abundantly; thou settlest the ridges thereof: thou makest it soft with showers; thou blessest the springing thereof.
- ¹¹Thou crownest the year with thy goodness; and thy paths drop fatness.
- ¹²They drop upon the pastures of the wilderness: and the hills are girded with joy.
- ¹³The pastures are clothed with flocks; the valleys also are covered over with corn; they shout for joy, they also sing.

66

For the Chief Musician. A Song, a Psalm.

- ¹Make a joyful noise unto God, all the earth:
- ²Sing forth the glory of his name: make his praise glorious.
- ³Say unto God, How terrible are thy works! through the greatness of thy power shall thine enemies submit themselves unto thee.
- ⁴All the earth shall worship thee, and shall sing unto thee; they shall sing to thy name.
- Selah
- ⁵Come, and see the works of God; he is terrible in his doing toward the children of men.
- ⁶He turned the sea into dry land: they went through the river on foot: there did we rejoice in him.
- ⁷He ruleth by his might for ever; his eyes observe the nations: let not the rebellious exalt themselves.
- Selah
- ⁸O bless our God, ye peoples, and make the voice of his praise to be heard.
- ⁹Which holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved.
- ¹⁰For thou, O God, hast proved us: thou hast tried us, as silver is tried.
- ¹¹Thou broughtest us into the net; thou layedst a sore burden upon our loins.

- ¹²Thou hast caused men to ride over our heads; we went through fire and through water; but thou broughtest us out into a wealthy place.
- ¹³I will come into thy house with burnt offerings, I will pay thee my vows,
- ¹⁴Which my lips have uttered, and my mouth hath spoken, when I was in distress.
- ¹⁵I will offer unto thee burnt offerings of fatlings, with the incense of rams; I will offer bullocks with goats.
- Selah
- ¹⁶Come, and hear, all ye that fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my soul.
- ¹⁷I cried unto him with my mouth, and he was extolled with my tongue.
- ¹⁸If I regard iniquity in my heart, the Lord will not hear:
- ¹⁹But verily God hath heard; he hath attended to the voice of my prayer.
- ²⁰Blessed be God, which hath not turned away my prayer, nor his mercy from me.

For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. A Psalm, a Song.

- ¹God be merciful unto us, and bless us, and cause his face to shine upon us;
- Selah
- ²That thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations.
- ³Let the peoples praise thee, O God; let all the peoples praise thee.
- ⁴O let the nations be glad and sing for joy: for thou shalt judge the peoples with equity, and govern the nations upon earth.
- Selah
- ⁵Let the peoples praise thee, O God; let all the peoples praise thee.
- ⁶The earth hath yielded her increase: God, even our own God, shall bless us.
- ⁷God shall bless us; and all the ends of the earth shall fear him.

68

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David, a Song.

- ¹Let God arise, let his enemies be scattered; let them also that hate him flee before him.

² As smoke is driven away, so drive them away: as wax melteth before the fire, so let the wicked perish at the presence of God.

³ But let the righteous be glad; let them exult before God: yea, let them rejoice with gladness.

⁴ Sing unto God, sing praises to his name: cast up a highway for him that rideth through the deserts; his name is JAH; and exult ye before him.

⁵ A father of the fatherless, and a judge of the widows, is God in his holy habitation.

⁶ God setteth the solitary in families: he bringeth out the prisoners into prosperity: but the rebellious dwell in a parched land.

⁷ O God, when thou wentest forth before thy people, when thou didst march through the wilderness;

Selah

⁸ The earth trembled, the heavens also dropped at the presence of God: even yon Sinai trembled at the presence of God, the God of Israel.

⁹ Thou, O God, didst send a plentiful rain, thou didst confirm thine inheritance, when it was weary.

¹⁰ Thy congregation dwelt therein: thou, O God, didst prepare of thy goodness for the poor.

¹¹ The Lord giveth the word: the women that publish the tidings are a great host.

¹² Kings of armies flee, they flee: and she that tarrieth at home divideth the spoil.

¹³ Will ye lie among the sheepfolds, as the wings of a dove covered with silver, and her pinions with yellow gold?

¹⁴ When the Almighty scattered kings therein, it was as when it snoweth in Zalmon.

¹⁵ A mountain of God is the mountain of Bashan; an high mountain is the mountain of Bashan.

¹⁶ Why look ye askance, ye high mountains, at the mountain which God hath desired for his abode? yea, the LORD will dwell in it for ever.

¹⁷ The chariots of God are twenty thousand, even thousands upon thousands:

the Lord is among them, as in Sinai, in the sanctuary.

¹⁸ Thou hast ascended on high, thou hast led thy captivity captive; thou hast received gifts among men, yea, among the rebellious also, that the LORD God might dwell with them.

¹⁹ Blessed be the Lord, who daily beareth our burden, even the God who is our salvation.

Selah

²⁰ God is unto us a God of deliverances; and unto JEHOVAH the Lord belong the issues from death.

²¹ But God shall smite through the head of his enemies, the hairy scalp of such an one as goeth on still in his guiltiness.

²² The Lord said, I will bring again from Bashan, I will bring them again from the depths of the sea:

²³ That thou mayest dip thy foot in blood, that the tongue of thy dogs may have its portion from thine enemies.

²⁴ They have seen thy goings, O God, even the goings of my God, my King, into the sanctuary.

²⁵ The singers went before, the minstrels followed after, in the midst of the damsels playing with timbrels.

²⁶ Bless ye God in the congregations, even the Lord, ye that are of the fountain of Israel.

²⁷ There is little Benjamin their ruler, the princes of Judah and their council, the princes of Zebulun, the princes of Naphtali.

²⁸ Thy God hath commanded thy strength: strengthen, O God, that which thou hast wrought for us.

²⁹ Because of thy temple at Jerusalem kings shall bring presents unto thee.

³⁰ Rebuke the wild beast of the reeds, the multitude of the bulls, with the calves of the peoples, trampling under foot the pieces of silver; he hath scattered the peoples that delight in war.

³¹ Princes shall come out of Egypt; Ethiopia shall haste to stretch out her hands unto God.

³² Sing unto God, ye kingdoms of the earth; O sing praises unto the Lord;

Selah

- ³³ To him that rideth upon the heavens of heavens, which are of old; lo, he uttereth his voice, and that a mighty voice.
- ³⁴ Ascribe ye strength unto God: his excellency is over Israel, and his strength is in the skies.
- ³⁵ O God, thou art terrible out of thy holy places: the God of Israel, he giveth strength and power unto his people. Blessed be God.

For the Chief Musician; set to Shoshannim. A Psalm of David.

- ¹ Save me, O God; for the waters are come in unto my soul.
- ² I sink in deep mire, where there is no standing; I am come into deep waters, where the floods overflow me.
- ³ I am weary with my crying; my throat is dried: mine eyes fail while I wait for my God.
- ⁴ They that hate me without a cause are more than the hairs of mine head: they that would cut me off, being mine enemies wrongfully, are mighty: then I restored that which I took not away.
- ⁵ O God, thou knowest my foolishness; and my sins are not hid from thee.
- ⁶ Let not them that wait on thee be ashamed through me, O Lord GOD of hosts: let not those that seek thee be brought to dishonour through me, O God of Israel.
- ⁷ Because for thy sake I have borne reproach; shame hath covered my face.
- ⁸ I am become a stranger unto my brethren, and an alien unto my mother's children.
- ⁹ For the zeal of thine house hath eaten me up; and the reproaches of them that reproach thee are fallen upon me.
- ¹⁰ When I wept, and chastened my soul with fasting, that was to my reproach.
- ¹¹ When I made sackcloth my clothing, I became a proverb unto them.
- ¹² They that sit in the gate talk of me; and I am the song of the drunkards.
- ¹³ But as for me, my prayer is unto thee, O LORD, in an acceptable time: O God, in the multitude of thy mercy, answer me in the truth of thy salvation.
- ¹⁴ Deliver me out of the mire, and let me not sink: let me be delivered from them that hate me, and out of the deep waters.
- ¹⁵ Let not the waterflood overwhelm me, neither let the deep swallow me up; and let not the pit shut her mouth upon me.
- ¹⁶ Answer me, O LORD; for thy lovingkindness is good: according to the multitude of thy tender mercies turn thou unto me.
- ¹⁷ And hide not thy face from thy servant; for I am in distress; answer me speedily.
- ¹⁸ Draw nigh unto my soul, and redeem it: ransom me because of mine enemies.
- ¹⁹ Thou knowest my reproach, and my shame, and my dishonour: mine adversaries are all before thee.
- ²⁰ Reproach hath broken my heart; and I am full of heaviness: and I looked for some to take pity, but there was none; and for comforters, but I found none.
- ²¹ They gave me also gall for my meat; and in my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink.
- ²² Let their table before them become a snare; and when they are in peace, let it become a trap.
- ²³ Let their eyes be darkened, that they see not; and make their loins continually to shake.
- ²⁴ Pour out thine indignation upon them, and let the fierceness of thine anger overtake them.
- ²⁵ Let their habitation be desolate; let none dwell in their tents.
- ²⁶ For they persecute him whom thou hast smitten; and they tell of the sorrow of those whom thou hast wounded,
- ²⁷ Add iniquity unto their iniquity: and let them not come into thy righteousness.
- ²⁸ Let them be blotted out of the book of life, and not be written with the righteous.
- ²⁹ But I am poor and sorrowful: let thy salvation, O God, set me up on high.

- ³⁰ I will praise the name of God with a song, and will magnify him with thanksgiving.
- ³¹ And it shall please the LORD better than an ox, or a bullock that hath horns and hoofs.
- ³² The meek have seen it, and are glad: ye that seek after God, let your heart live.
- ³³ For the LORD heareth the needy, and despiseth not his prisoners.
- ³⁴ Let heaven and earth praise him, the seas, and every thing that moveth therein.
- ³⁵ For God will save Zion, and build the cities of Judah; and they shall abide there, and have it in possession.
- ³⁶ The seed also of his servants shall inherit it; and they that love his name shall dwell therein.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David; to bring to remembrance.

- ¹ Make haste, O God, to deliver me; make haste to help me, O LORD.
- ² Let them be ashamed and confounded that seek after my soul: let them be turned backward and brought to dishonour that delight in my hurt.
- ³ Let them be turned back by reason of their shame that say, Aha, Aha.
- ⁴ Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee; and let such as love thy salvation say continually, Let God be magnified.
- ⁵ But I am poor and needy; make haste unto me, O God: thou art my help and my deliverer; O LORD, make no tarrying.

- ¹ In thee, O LORD, do I put my trust: let me never be ashamed.
- ² Deliver me in thy righteousness, and rescue me: bow down thine ear unto me, and save me.
- ³ Be thou to me a rock of habitation, whereunto I may continually resort: thou hast given commandment to save me; for thou art my rock and my fortress.
- ⁴ Rescue me, O my God, out of the hand of the wicked, out of the hand of the unrighteous and cruel man.

⁵ For thou art my hope, O Lord GOD: thou art my trust from my youth.

⁶ By thee have I been holden up from the womb: thou art he that took me out of my mother's bowels: my praise shall be continually of thee.

⁷ I am as a wonder unto many; but thou art my strong refuge.

⁸ My mouth shall be filled with thy praise, and with thy honour all the day.

⁹ Cast me not off in the time of old age; forsake me not when my strength faileth.

¹⁰ For mine enemies speak concerning me; and they that watch for my soul take counsel together, ¹¹ Saying, God hath forsaken him: pursue and take him; for there is none to deliver.

¹² O God, be not far from me: O my God, make haste to help me.

¹³ Let them be ashamed and consumed that are adversaries to my soul; let them be covered with reproach and dishonour that seek my hurt.

¹⁴ But I will hope continually, and will praise thee yet more and more.

¹⁵ My mouth shall tell of thy righteousness, and of thy salvation all the day; for I know not the numbers thereof.

¹⁶ I will come with the mighty acts of the Lord GOD: I will make mention of thy righteousness, even of thine only.

¹⁷ O God, thou hast taught me from my youth; and hitherto have I declared thy wondrous works.

¹⁸ Yea, even when I am old and grayheaded, O God, forsake me not; until I have declared thy strength unto the next generation, thy might to every one that is to come.

¹⁹ Thy righteousness also, O God, is very high; thou who hast done great things, O God, who is like unto thee?

²⁰ Thou, which hast shewed us many and sore troubles, shalt quicken us again, and shalt bring us up again from the depths of the earth.

²¹ Increase thou my greatness, and turn again and comfort me.

²² I will also praise thee with the psaltery, even thy truth, O my God: unto thee will I sing praises with the harp, O thou Holy One of Israel.

- ²³ My lips shall greatly rejoice when I sing praises unto thee; and my soul, which thou hast redeemed.
²⁴ My tongue also shall talk of thy righteousness all the day long; for they are ashamed, for they are confounded, that seek my hurt.

A Psalm of Solomon.

- ¹ Give the king thy judgments, O God, and thy righteousness unto the king's son.
² He shall judge thy people with righteousness, and thy poor with judgment.
³ The mountains shall bring peace to the people, and the hills, in righteousness.
⁴ He shall judge the poor of the people, he shall save the children of the needy, and shall break in pieces the oppressor.
⁵ They shall fear thee while the sun endureth, and so long as the moon, throughout all generations.
⁶ He shall come down like rain upon the mown grass: as showers that water the earth.
⁷ In his days shall the righteous flourish; and abundance of peace, till the moon be no more.
⁸ He shall have dominion also from sea to sea, and from the River unto the ends of the earth.
⁹ They that dwell in the wilderness shall bow before him; and his enemies shall lick the dust.
¹⁰ The kings of Tarshish and of the isles shall bring presents: the kings of Sheba and Seba shall offer gifts.
¹¹ Yea, all kings shall fall down before him: all nations shall serve him.
¹² For he shall deliver the needy when he crieth; and the poor, that hath no helper.
¹³ He shall have pity on the poor and needy, and the souls of the needy he shall save.
¹⁴ He shall redeem their soul from oppression and violence; and precious shall their blood be in his sight:
¹⁵ And they shall live; and to him shall be given of the gold of Sheba: and men shall pray for him continually; they shall bless him all the day long.

- ¹⁶ There shall be abundance of corn in the earth upon the top of the mountains; the fruit thereof shall shake like Lebanon: and they of the city shall flourish like grass of the earth.
¹⁷ His name shall endure for ever; his name shall be continued as long as the sun: and men shall be blessed in him; all nations shall call him happy.
¹⁸ Blessed be the LORD God, the God of Israel, who only doeth wondrous things:
¹⁹ And blessed be his glorious name for ever; and let the whole earth be filled with his glory. Amen, and Amen.
²⁰ The prayers of David the son of Jesse are ended.

BOOK III.

73

A Psalm of Asaph.

- ¹ Surely God is good to Israel, even to such as are pure in heart.
² But as for me, my feet were almost gone; my steps had well nigh slipped.
³ For I was envious at the arrogant, when I saw the prosperity of the wicked.
⁴ For there are no bands in their death: but their strength is firm.
⁵ They are not in trouble as other men; neither are they plagued like other men.
⁶ Therefore pride is as a chain about their neck; violence covereth them as a garment.
⁷ Their eyes stand out with fatness: they have more than heart could wish.
⁸ They scoff, and in wickedness utter oppression: they speak loftily.
⁹ They have set their mouth in the heavens, and their tongue walketh through the earth.
¹⁰ Therefore his people return hither: and waters of a full cup are wrung out by them.
¹¹ And they say, How doth God know? and is there knowledge in the Most High?
¹² Behold, these are the wicked; and, being alway at ease, they increase in riches.
¹³ Surely in vain have I cleansed my heart, and washed my hands in innocency;

¹⁴ For all the day long have I been plagued, and chastened every morning.
¹⁵ If I had said, I will speak thus; behold, I had dealt treacherously with the generation of thy children.
¹⁶ When I thought how I might know this, it was too painful for me;
¹⁷ Until I went into the sanctuary of God, and considered their latter end.
¹⁸ Surely thou testest them in slippery places: thou castest them down to destruction.
¹⁹ How are they become a desolation in a moment! they are utterly consumed with terrors.
²⁰ As a dream when one awaketh; so, O Lord, when thou awakest, thou shalt despise their image.
²¹ For my heart was grieved, and I was pricked in my reins:
²² So brutish was I, and ignorant; I was as a beast before thee.
²³ Nevertheless I am continually with thee:
thou hast holden my right hand.
²⁴ Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and afterward receive me to glory.
²⁵ Whom have I in heaven but thee? and there is none upon earth that I desire beside thee.
²⁶ My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart and my portion for ever.
²⁷ For, lo, they that are far from thee shall perish: thou hast destroyed all them that go a whoring from thee.
²⁸ But it is good for me to draw near unto God: I have made the Lord GOD my refuge, that I may tell of all thy works.

74

Maschil of Asaph.

¹ O God, why hast thou cast us off for ever? why doth thine anger smoke against the sheep of thy pasture?
² Remember thy congregation, which thou hast purchased of old, which thou hast redeemed to be the tribe of thine inheritance; and mount Zion, wherein thou hast dwelt.
³ Lift up thy feet unto the perpetual ruins, all the evil that the enemy hath done in the sanctuary.

⁴ Thine adversaries have roared in the midst of thine assembly; they have set up their ensigns for signs.
⁵ They seemed as men that lifted up axes upon a thicket of trees.
⁶ And now all the carved work thereof together they break down with hatchet and hammers.
⁷ They have set thy sanctuary on fire; they have profaned the dwelling place of thy name even to the ground.
⁸ They said in their heart, Let us make havoc of them altogether: they have burned up all the synagogues of God in the land.
⁹ We see not our signs: there is no more any prophet; neither is there among us any that knoweth how long.
¹⁰ How long, O God, shall the adversary reproach? shall the enemy blaspheme thy name for ever?
¹¹ Why drawest thou back thy hand, even thy right hand? pluck it out of thy bosom and consume them.
¹² Yet God is my King of old, working salvation in the midst of the earth.
¹³ Thou didst divide the sea by thy strength:
thou brakest the heads of the dragons in the waters.
¹⁴ Thou brakest the heads of leviathan in pieces, thou gavest him to be meat to the people inhabiting the wilderness.
¹⁵ Thou didst cleave fountain and flood:
thou driedst up mighty rivers.
¹⁶ The day is thine, the night also is thine:
thou hast prepared the light and the sun.
¹⁷ Thou hast set all the borders of the earth:
thou hast made summer and winter.
¹⁸ Remember this, that the enemy hath reproached, O LORD, and that foolish people have blasphemed thy name.
¹⁹ O deliver not the soul of thy turtle-dove unto the wild beast: forget not the life of thy poor for ever.
²⁰ Have respect unto the covenant: for the dark places of the earth are full of the habitations of violence.
²¹ O let not the oppressed return ashamed:
let the poor and needy praise thy name.

- ²² Arise, O God, plead thine own cause: remember how the foolish man reproacheth thee all the day.
- ²³ Forget not the voice of thine adversaries: the tumult of those that rise up against thee ascendeth continually.

For the Chief Musician; set to Al-tashheth. A Psalm of Asaph, a Song.

- ¹ We give thanks unto thee, O God; we give thanks, for thy name is near: men tell of thy wondrous works.
- ² When I shall find the set time, I will judge uprightly.
- ³ The earth and all the inhabitants thereof are dissolved: I have set up the pillars of it.
- Selah
- ⁴ I said unto the arrogant, Deal not arrogantly: and to the wicked, Lift not up the horn:
- ⁵ Lift not up your horn on high; speak not with a stiff neck.
- ⁶ For neither from the east, nor from the west, nor yet from the south, cometh lifting up.
- ⁷ But God is the judge: he putteth down one, and lifteth up another.
- ⁸ For in the hand of the LORD there is a cup, and the wine foameth; it is full of mixture, and he poureth out of the same: surely the dregs thereof, all the wicked of the earth shall wring them out, and drink them.
- ⁹ But I will declare for ever, I will sing praises to the God of Jacob.
- ¹⁰ All the horns of the wicked also will I cut off; but the horns of the righteous shall be lifted up.

For the Chief Musician; on stringed instruments. A Psalm of Asaph, a Song.

- ¹ In Judah is God known: his name is great in Israel.
- ² In Salem also is his tabernacle, and his dwelling place in Zion.
- ³ There he brake the arrows of the bow; the shield, and the sword, and the battle.
- Selah
- ⁴ Glorious art thou and excellent, from the mountains of prey.

- ⁵ The stouthearted are spoiled, they have slept their sleep; and none of the men of might have found their hands.

⁶ At thy rebuke, O God of Jacob, both chariot and horse are cast into a dead sleep.

⁷ Thou, even thou, art to be feared: and who may stand in thy sight when once thou art angry?

- ⁸ Thou didst cause sentence to be heard from heaven; the earth feared, and was still,
- ⁹ When God arose to judgment, to save all the meek of the earth.

Selah

¹⁰ Surely the wrath of man shall praise thee: the residue of wrath shalt thou gird upon thee.

¹¹ Vow, and pay unto the LORD your God: let all that be round about him bring presents unto him that ought to be feared.

¹² He shall cut off the spirit of princes: he is terrible to the kings of the earth.

For the Chief Musician; after the manner of Jeduthun. A Psalm of Asaph.

- ¹ I will cry unto God with my voice; even unto God with my voice, and he wilt give ear unto me.
- ² In the day of my trouble I sought the Lord: my hand was stretched out in the night, and slacked not; my soul refused to be comforted.
- ³ I remember God, and am disquieted: I complain, and my spirit is overwhelmed.

Selah

⁴ Thou holdest mine eyes watching: I am so troubled that I cannot speak.

⁵ I have considered the days of old, the years of ancient times.

⁶ I call to remembrance my song in the night: I commune with mine own heart; and my spirit made diligent search.

⁷ Will the Lord cast off for ever? and will he be favourable no more?

⁸ Is his mercy clean gone for ever? doth his promise fail for evermore?

⁹ Hath God forgotten to be gracious? hath he in anger shut up his tender mercies?

Selah

- ¹⁰ And I said, This is my infirmity; but I will remember the years of the right hand of the Most High.
- ¹¹ I will make mention of the deeds of the LORD; for I will remember thy wonders of old.
- ¹² I will meditate also upon all thy work, and muse on thy doings.
- ¹³ Thy way, O God, is in the sanctuary: who is a great god like unto God?
- ¹⁴ Thou art the God that doest wonders: thou hast made known thy strength among the peoples.
- ¹⁵ Thou hast with thine arm redeemed thy people, the sons of Jacob and Joseph.
- Selah
- ¹⁶ The waters saw thee, O God; the waters saw thee, they were afraid: the depths also trembled.
- ¹⁷ The clouds poured out water; the skies sent out a sound: thine arrows also went abroad.
- ¹⁸ The voice of thy thunder was in the whirlwind; the lightnings lightened the world: the earth trembled and shook.
- ¹⁹ Thy way was in the sea, and thy paths in the great waters, and thy footsteps were not known.
- ²⁰ Thou leddest thy people like a flock, by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

Maschil of Asaph.

- ¹ Give ear, O my people, to my law; incline your ears to the words of my mouth.
- ² I will open my mouth in a parable; I will utter dark sayings of old:
- ³ Which we have heard and known, and our fathers have told us.
- ⁴ We will not hide them from their children, telling to the generation to come the praises of the LORD, and his strength, and his wondrous works that he hath done.
- ⁵ For he established a testimony in Jacob, and appointed a law in Israel, which he commanded our fathers, that they should make them known to their children:
- ⁶ That the generation to come might know them, even the children which should be born; who should arise and tell them to their children:

- ⁷ That they might set their hope in God, and not forget the works of God, but keep his commandments:
- ⁸ And might not be as their fathers, a stubborn and rebellious generation; a generation that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit was not stedfast with God.
- ⁹ The children of Ephraim, being armed and carrying bows, turned back in the day of battle.
- ¹⁰ They kept not the covenant of God, and refused to walk in his law;
- ¹¹ And they forgot his doings, and his wondrous works that he had shewed them.
- ¹² Marvelous things did he in the sight of their fathers, in the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan.
- ¹³ He clave the sea, and caused them to pass through; and he made the waters to stand as an heap.
- ¹⁴ In the day-time also he led them with a cloud, and all the night with a light of fire.
- ¹⁵ He clave rocks in the wilderness, and gave them drink abundantly as out of the depths.
- ¹⁶ He brought streams also out of the rock, and caused waters to run down like rivers.
- ¹⁷ Yet went they on still to sin against him, to rebel against the Most High in the desert.
- ¹⁸ And they tempted God in their heart by asking meat for their lust.
- ¹⁹ Yea, they spake against God; they said, Can God prepare a table in the wilderness?
- ²⁰ Behold, he smote the rock, that waters gushed out, and streams overflowed; can he give bread also? will he provide flesh for his people?
- ²¹ Therefore the LORD heard, and was wroth: and a fire was kindled against Jacob, and anger also went up against Israel;
- ²² Because they believed not in God, and trusted not in his salvation.
- ²³ Yet he commanded the skies above, and opened the doors of heaven;
- ²⁴ And he rained down manna upon them to eat, and gave them of the corn of heaven.

- ²⁵ Man did eat the bread of the mighty: he sent them meat to the full.
- ²⁶ He caused the east wind to blow in the heaven: and by his power he guided the south wind.
- ²⁷ He rained flesh also upon them as the dust, and winged fowl as the sand of the seas:
- ²⁸ And he let it fall in the midst of their camp, round about their habitations.
- ²⁹ So they did eat, and were well filled; and he gave them that they lusted after.
- ³⁰ They were not estranged from their lust, their meat was yet in their mouths,
- ³¹ When the anger of God went up against them, and slew of the fattest of them, and smote down the young men of Israel.
- ³² For all this they sinned still, and believed not in his wondrous works.
- ³³ Therefore their days did he consume in vanity, and their years in terror.
- ³⁴ When he slew them, then they inquired after him: and they returned and sought God early.
- ³⁵ And they remembered that God was their rock, and the Most High God their redeemer.
- ³⁶ But they flattered him with their mouth, and lied unto him with their tongue.
- ³⁷ For their heart was not right with him, neither were they faithful in his covenant.
- ³⁸ But he, being full of compassion, forgave their iniquity, and destroyed them not: yea, many a time turned he his anger away, and did not stir up all his wrath.
- ³⁹ And he remembered that they were but flesh; a wind that passeth away, and cometh not again.
- ⁴⁰ How oft did they rebel against him in the wilderness, and grieve him in the desert!
- ⁴¹ And they turned again and tempted God, and provoked the Holy One of Israel.
- ⁴² They remembered not his hand, nor the day when he redeemed them from the adversary.
- ⁴³ How he set his signs in Egypt, and his wonders in the field of Zoan;
- ⁴⁴ And turned their rivers into blood, and their streams, that they could not drink.
- ⁴⁵ He sent among them swarms of flies, which devoured them; and frogs, which destroyed them.
- ⁴⁶ He gave also their increase unto the caterpillar, and their labour unto the locust.
- ⁴⁷ He destroyed their vines with hail, and their sycamore trees with frost.
- ⁴⁸ He gave over their cattle also to the hail, and their flocks to hot thunderbolts.
- ⁴⁹ He cast upon them the fierceness of his anger, wrath, and indignation, and trouble, a band of angels of evil.
- ⁵⁰ He made a path for his anger; he spared not their soul from death, but gave their life over to the pestilence;
- ⁵¹ And smote all the firstborn in Egypt, the chief of their strength in the tents of Ham:
- ⁵² But he led forth his own people like sheep, and guided them in the wilderness like a flock.
- ⁵³ And he led them safely, so that they feared not: but the sea overwhelmed their enemies.
- ⁵⁴ And he brought them to the border of his sanctuary, to this mountain, which his right hand had purchased.
- ⁵⁵ He drove out the nations also before them, and allotted them for an inheritance by line, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents.
- ⁵⁶ Yet they tempted and rebelled against the Most High God, and kept not his testimonies;
- ⁵⁷ But turned back, and dealt treacherously like their fathers: they were turned aside like a deceitful bow.
- ⁵⁸ For they provoked him to anger with their high places, and moved him to jealousy with their graven images.
- ⁵⁹ When God heard this, he was wroth, and greatly abhorred Israel:
- ⁶⁰ So that he forsook the tabernacle of Shiloh, the tent which he placed among men;
- ⁶¹ And delivered his strength into captivity, and his glory into the adversary's hand.

- ⁶² He gave his people over also unto the sword; and was wroth with his inheritance.
- ⁶³ Fire devoured their young men; and their maidens had no marriage-song.
- ⁶⁴ Their priests fell by the sword; and their widows made no lamentation.
- ⁶⁵ Then the Lord awaked as one out of sleep, like a mighty man that shouteth by reason of wine.
- ⁶⁶ And he smote his adversaries backward: he put them to a perpetual reproach.
- ⁶⁷ Moreover he refused the tent of Joseph, and chose not the tribe of Ephraim;
- ⁶⁸ But chose the tribe of Judah, the mount Zion which he loved.
- ⁶⁹ And he built his sanctuary like the heights, like the earth which he hath established for ever.
- ⁷⁰ He chose David also his servant, and took him from the sheepfolds:
- ⁷¹ From following the ewes that give suck he brought him, to feed Jacob his people, and Israel his inheritance.
- ⁷² So he fed them according to the integrity of his heart; and guided them by the skilfulness of his hands.

A Psalm of Asaph.

- ¹ O God, the heathen are come into thine inheritance; thy holy temple have they defiled; they have laid Jerusalem on heaps.
- ² The dead bodies of thy servants have they given to be meat unto the fowls of the heaven, the flesh of thy saints unto the beasts of the earth.
- ³ Their blood have they shed like water round about Jerusalem; and there was none to bury them.
- ⁴ We are become a reproach to our neighbours, a scorn and derision to them that are round about us.
- ⁵ How long, O LORD, wilt thou be angry for ever? shall thy jealousy burn like fire?
- ⁶ Pour out thy wrath upon the heathen that know thee not, and upon the kingdoms that call not upon thy name.
- ⁷ For they have devoured Jacob, and laid waste his habitation.
- ⁸ Remember not against us the iniquities of our forefathers: let thy tender mercies speedily prevent us: for we are brought very low.

- ⁹ Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of thy name: and deliver us, and purge away our sins, for thy name's sake.
- ¹⁰ Wherefore should the heathen say, Where is their God? let the revenging of the blood of thy servants which is shed be known among the heathen in our sight.
- ¹¹ Let the sighing of the prisoner come before thee; according to the greatness of thy power preserve thou those that are appointed to death;
- ¹² And render unto our neighbours sevenfold into their bosom their reproach, wherewith they have reproached thee, O Lord.
- ¹³ So we thy people and sheep of thy pasture will give thee thanks for ever: we will shew forth thy praise to all generations.

For the Chief Musician; set to Shoshannim Eduth. A Psalm of Asaph.

- ¹ Give ear, O Shepherd of Israel, thou that leadeest Joseph like a flock; thou that sittest upon the cherubim, shine forth.
- ² Before Ephraim and Benjamin and Manasseh, stir up thy might, and come to save us.
- ³ Turn us again, O God; and cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.
- ⁴ O LORD God of hosts, how long wilt thou be angry against the prayer of thy people?
- ⁵ Thou hast fed them with the bread of tears, and given them tears to drink in large measure.
- ⁶ Thou makest us a strife unto our neighbours: and our enemies laugh among themselves.
- ⁷ Turn us again, O God of hosts; and cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.
- ⁸ Thou broughtest a vine out of Egypt: thou didst drive out the nations, and plantedst it.
- ⁹ Thou preparedst room before it, and it took deep root, and filled the land.

- ¹⁰ The mountains were covered with the shadow of it, and the boughs thereof were like cedars of God.
- ¹¹ She sent out her branches unto the sea, and her shoots unto the River.
- ¹² Why hast thou broken down her fences, so that all they which pass by the way do pluck her?
- ¹³ The boar out of the wood doth ravage it, and the wild beasts of the field feed on it.
- ¹⁴ Turn again, we beseech thee, O God of hosts: look down from heaven, and behold, and visit this vine,
- ¹⁵ And the stock which thy right hand hath planted, and the branch that thou madest strong for thyself.
- ¹⁶ It is burned with fire, it is cut down: they perish at the rebuke of thy countenance.
- ¹⁷ Let thy hand be upon the man of thy right hand, upon the son of man whom thou madest strong for thyself.
- ¹⁸ So shall we not go back from thee: quicken thou us, and we will call upon thy name,
- ¹⁹ Turn us again, O LORD God of hosts; cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved;

81

For the Chief Musician; set to the Gittith. A Psalm of Asaph.

- ¹ Sing aloud unto God our strength: make a joyful noise unto the God of Jacob.
- ² Take up the psalm, and bring hither the timbrel, the pleasant harp with the psaltery.
- ³ Blow up the trumpet in the new moon, at the full moon, on our solemn feast day.
- ⁴ For it is a statute for Israel, an ordinance of the God of Jacob.
- ⁵ He appointed it in Joseph for testimony, when he went out over the land of Egypt: where I heard a language that I knew not.
- ⁶ I removed his shoulder from the burden: his hands were freed from the basket.
- ⁷ Thou calledst in trouble, and I answered thee in the secret place of thunder; I proved thee at the waters of Meribah.

Selah

- ⁸ Hear, O my people, and I will testify unto thee: O Israel, if thou wouldest hearken unto me!
- ⁹ There shall no strange god be in thee; neither shalt thou worship any strange god.
- ¹⁰ I am the LORD thy God, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt: open thy mouth wide, and I will fill it.
- ¹¹ But my people hearkened not to my voice; and Israel would none of me.
- ¹² So I let them go after the stubbornness of their heart, that they might walk in their own counsels.
- ¹³ Oh that my people would hearken unto me, that Israel would walk in my ways!
- ¹⁴ I should soon subdue their enemies, and turn my hand against their adversaries.
- ¹⁵ The haters of the LORD should submit themselves unto him: but their time should endure for ever.
- ¹⁶ He should feed them also with the finest of the wheat: and with honey out of the rock should I satisfy thee.

82

A Psalm of Asaph.

- ¹ God standeth in the congregation of God; he judgeth among the gods.
- ² How long will ye judge unjustly, and respect the persons of the wicked?
Selah
- ³ Judge the poor and fatherless: do justice to the afflicted and destitute.
- ⁴ Rescue the poor and needy: deliver them out of the hand of the wicked.
- ⁵ They know not, neither do they understand; they walk to and fro in darkness: all the foundations of the earth are moved.
- ⁶ I said, Ye are gods, and all of you sons of the Most High.
- ⁷ Nevertheless ye shall die like men, and fall like one of the princes.
- ⁸ Arise, O God, judge the earth: for thou shalt inherit all the nations.

83

A Song, a Psalm of Asaph.

- ¹ O God, keep not thou silence: hold not thy peace, and be not still, O God.

- ²For, lo, thine enemies make a tumult: and they that hate thee have lifted up the head.
- ³They take crafty counsel against thy people, and consult together against thy hidden ones.
- ⁴They have said, Come, and let us cut them off from being a nation; that the name of Israel may be no more in remembrance.
- ⁵For they have consulted together with one consent; against thee do they make a covenant:
- ⁶The tents of Edom and the Ishmaelites; Moab, and the Hagarenes;
- ⁷Gebal, and Ammon, and Amalek; Philistia with the inhabitants of Tyre:
- ⁸Assyria also is joined with them; they have holpen the children of Lot.
- Selah
- ⁹Do thou unto them as unto Midian; as to Sisera, as to Jabin, at the river Kishon:
- ¹⁰Which perished at En-dor; they became as dung for the earth.
- ¹¹Make their nobles like Oreb and Zeeb; yea, all their princes like Zebah and Zalmunna:
- ¹²Who said, Let us take to ourselves in possession the habitations of God.
- ¹³O my God, make them like the whirling dust; as stubble before the wind.
- ¹⁴As the fire that burneth the forest, and as the flame that setteth the mountains on fire;
- ¹⁵So pursue them with thy tempest, and terrify them with thy storm.
- ¹⁶Fill their faces with confusion; that they may seek thy name, O LORD.
- ¹⁷Let them be ashamed and dismayed for ever; yea, let them be confounded and perish:
- ¹⁸That they may know that thou alone, whose name is JEHOVAH, art the Most High over all the earth.

For the Chief Musician; set to the Gittith. A Psalm of the sons of Korah.

- ¹How amiable are thy tabernacles, O LORD of hosts!
- ²My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the LORD; my heart and my flesh cry out unto the living God.

- ³Yea, the sparrow hath found her an house, and the swallow a nest for herself, where she may lay her young, even thine altars, O LORD of hosts, my King, and my God.
- ⁴Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be still praising thee.
- Selah
- ⁵Blessed is the man whose strength is in thee; in whose heart are the high-ways to Zion.
- ⁶Passing through the valley of Weeping they make it a place of springs; yea, the early rain covereth it with blessings.
- ⁷They go from strength to strength, every one of them appeareth before God in Zion.
- ⁸O LORD God of hosts, hear my prayer: give ear, O God of Jacob.

Selah

- ⁹Behold, O God our shield, and look upon the face of thine anointed.
- ¹⁰For a day in thy courts is better than a thousand. I had rather be a door-keeper in the house of my God, than to dwell in the tents of wickedness.
- ¹¹For the LORD God is a sun and a shield: the LORD will give grace and glory: no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly.
- ¹²O LORD of hosts, blessed is the man that trusteth in thee.

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of the sons of Korah.

- ¹LORD, Thou hast been favourable unto thy land: thou hast brought back the captivity of Jacob.
- ²Thou hast forgiven the iniquity of thy people, thou hast covered all their sin.
- Selah
- ³Thou hast taken away all thy wrath: thou hast turned thyself from the fierceness of thine anger.
- ⁴Turn us, O God of our salvation, and cause thine indignation toward us to cease.
- ⁵Wilt thou be angry with us for ever? wilt thou draw out thine anger to all generations?
- ⁶Wilt thou not quicken us again: that thy people may rejoice in thee?

- ⁷ Shew us thy mercy, O LORD, and grant us thy salvation.
- ⁸ I will hear what God the LORD will speak: for he will speak peace unto his people, and to his saints: but let them not turn again to folly.
- ⁹ Surely his salvation is nigh them that fear him; that glory may dwell in our land.
- ¹⁰ Mercy and truth are met together; righteousness and peace have kissed each other.
- ¹¹ Truth springeth out of the earth; and righteousness hath looked clown from heaven.
- ¹² Yea, the LORD shall give that which is good; and our land shall yield her increase.
- ¹³ Righteousness shall go before him; and shall make his footsteps a way to walk in.

A Prayer Of David.

- ¹ Bow down thine ear, O LORD, and answer me; for I am poor and needy.
- ² Preserve my soul; for I am godly: O thou my God, save thy servant that trusteth in thee.
- ³ Be merciful unto me, O Lord; for unto thee do I cry all the day long.
- ⁴ Rejoice the soul of thy servant; for unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul.
- ⁵ For thou, Lord, art good, and ready to forgive, and plenteous in mercy unto all them that call upon thee.
- ⁶ Give ear, O LORD, unto my prayer; and hearken unto the voice of my supplications.
- ⁷ In the day of my trouble I will call upon thee; for thou wilt answer me.
- ⁸ There is none like unto thee among the gods, O Lord; neither are there any works like unto thy works.
- ⁹ All nations whom thou hast made shall come and worship before thee, O Lord; and they shall glorify thy name.
- ¹⁰ For thou art great, and doest wondrous things: thou art God alone.
- ¹¹ Teach me thy way, O LORD; I will walk in thy truth: unite my heart to fear thy name.

- ¹² I will praise thee, O Lord my God, with my whole heart; and I will glorify thy name for evermore.
- ¹³ For great is thy mercy toward me; and thou hast delivered my soul from the lowest pit.
- ¹⁴ O God, the proud are risen up against me, and the congregation of violent men have sought after my soul, and have not set thee before them.
- ¹⁵ But thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy and truth.
- ¹⁶ O turn unto me, and have mercy upon me; give thy strength unto thy servant, and save the son of thine handmaid.
- ¹⁷ Shew me a token for good; that they which hate me may see it, and be ashamed, because thou, LORD, hast holpen me, and comforted me,

A Psalm of the sons of Korah; a Song.

- ¹ His foundation is in the holy mountains.
- ² The LORD loveth the gates of Zion more than all the dwellings of Jacob.
- ³ Glorious things are spoken of thee, O city of God.

Selah

- ⁴ I will make mention of Rahab and Babylon as among them that know me: behold Philistia, and Tyre, with Ethiopia; this one was born there.
- ⁵ Yea, of Zion it shall be said, This one and that one was born in her; and the Most High himself shall establish her.
- ⁶ The LORD shall count, when he writeth up the peoples, this one was born there.

Selah

- ⁷ They that sing as well as they that dance shall say, All my fountains are in thee.

88

A Song, a Psalm of the sons of Korah; for the Chief Musician; set to Mahalath Leannoth. Maschil of Heman the Ezrahite.

- ¹ O LORD, the God of my salvation, I have cried day and night before thee:
- ² Let my prayer enter into thy presence; incline thine ear unto my cry:
- ³ For my soul is full of troubles, and my life draweth nigh unto Sheol.

⁴I am counted with them that go down into the pit; I am as a man that hath no help:

⁵Cast off among the dead, like the slain that lie in the grave, whom thou rememberest no more; and they are cut off from thy hand.

⁶Thou hast laid me in the lowest pit, in dark places, in the deeps.

⁷Thy wrath lieth hard upon me, and thou hast afflicted me with all thy waves.

Selah

⁸Thou hast put mine acquaintance far from me; thou hast made me an abomination unto them: I am shut up, and I cannot come forth.

⁹Mine eye wasteth away by reason of affliction: I have called daily upon thee, O LORD, I have spread forth my hands unto thee.

¹⁰Wilt thou shew wonders to the dead? shall they that are deceased arise and praise thee?

Selah

¹¹Shall thy lovingkindness be declared in the grave? or thy faithfulness in Destruction?

¹²Shall thy wonders be known in the dark? and thy righteousness in the land of forgetfulness?

¹³But unto thee, O LORD, have I cried, and in the morning shall my prayer come before thee.

¹⁴LORD, why castest thou off my soul? why hidest thou thy face from me?

¹⁵I am afflicted and ready to die from my youth up: while I suffer thy terrors I am distracted.

¹⁶Thy fierce wrath is gone over me; thy terrors have cut me off.

¹⁷They came round about me like water all the day long; they compassed me about together.

¹⁸Lover and friend hast thou put far from me, and mine acquaintance into darkness.

Maschil of Ethan the Ezrahite.

¹I will sing of the mercies of the LORD for ever: with my mouth will I make known thy faithfulness to all generations.

²For I have said, Mercy shall be built up for ever; thy faithfulness shalt thou establish in the very heavens.

³I have made a covenant with my chosen, I have sworn unto David my servant;

⁴Thy seed will I establish for ever, and build up thy throne to all generations.

Selah

⁵And the heavens shall praise thy wonders, O LORD; thy faithfulness also in the assembly of the holy ones.

⁶For who in the skies can be compared unto the LORD? who among the sons of the mighty is like unto the LORD, ⁷A God very terrible in the council of the holy ones, and to be feared above all them that are round about him?

⁸O LORD God of hosts, who is a mighty one, like unto thee, O JAH? and thy faithfulness is round about thee.

⁹Thou rulest the pride of the sea: when the waves thereof arise, thou stillest them.

¹⁰Thou hast broken Rahab in pieces, as one that is slain; thou hast scattered thine enemies with the arm of thy strength.

¹¹The heavens are thine, the earth also is thine: the world and the fulness thereof, thou hast founded them.

¹²The north and the south, thou hast created them: Tabor and Hermon rejoice in thy name.

¹³Thou hast a mighty arm: strong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand.

¹⁴Righteousness and judgment are the foundation of thy throne: mercy and truth go before thy face.

¹⁵Blessed is the people that know the joyful sound: they walk, O LORD, in the light of thy countenance.

¹⁶In thy name do they rejoice all the day; and in thy righteousness are they exalted.

¹⁷For thou art the glory of their strength; and in thy favour our horn shall be exalted.

¹⁸For our shield belongeth unto the LORD; and our king to the Holy One of Israel.

¹⁹Then thou spakest in vision to thy saints, and saidst, I have laid help upon one that is mighty; I have exalted one chosen out of the people.

²⁰ I have found David my servant; with my holy oil have I anointed him:
²¹ With whom my hand shall be established; mine arm also shall strengthen him.
²² The enemy shall not exact upon him; nor the son of wickedness afflict him.
²³ And I will beat down his adversaries before him, and smite them that hate him.
²⁴ But my faithfulness and my mercy shall be with him; and in my name shall his horn be exalted.
²⁵ I will set his hand also on the sea, and his right hand on the rivers.
²⁶ He shall cry unto me, Thou art my father, my God, and the rock of my salvation.
²⁷ I also will make him my firstborn, the highest of the kings of the earth.
²⁸ My mercy will I keep for him for evermore, and my covenant shall stand fast with him.
²⁹ His seed also will I make to endure for ever, and his throne as the days of heaven.
³⁰ If his children forsake my law, and walk not in my judgments;
³¹ If they break my statutes, and keep not my commandments;
³² Then will I visit their transgression with the rod, and their iniquity with stripes.
³³ But my mercy will I not utterly take from him, nor suffer my faithfulness to fail.
³⁴ My covenant will I not break, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.
³⁵ Once have I sworn by my holiness; I will not lie unto David;
³⁶ His seed shall endure for ever, and his throne as the sun before me.
³⁷ It shall be established for ever as the moon, and as the faithful witness in the sky.

Selah

³⁸ But thou hast cast off and rejected, thou hast been wroth with thine anointed.
³⁹ Thou hast abhorred the covenant of thy servant: thou hast profaned his crown even to the ground.
⁴⁰ Thou hast broken down all his hedges; thou hast brought his strong holds to rain.

⁴¹ All that pass by the way spoil him: he is become a reproach to his neighbours.
⁴² Thou hast exalted the right hand of his adversaries; thou hast made all his enemies to rejoice.
⁴³ Yea, thou turnest back the edge his sword, and hast not made him to stand in the battle.
⁴⁴ Thou hast made his brightness to cease, and cast his throne down to the ground.
⁴⁵ The days of his youth hast thou shortened: thou hast covered him with shame.

Selah

⁴⁶ How long, O LORD, wilt thou hid thyself for ever? how long shall thy wrath burn like fire?
⁴⁷ O remember how short my time is: for what vanity hast thou created all the children of men!
⁴⁸ What man is he that shall live and not see death, that shall deliver his soul from the power of Sheol?

Selah

⁴⁹ Lord, where are thy former mercies, which thou swarest unto David in thy faithfulness?
⁵⁰ Remember, Lord, the reproach of thy servants; how I do bear in my bosom the reproach of all the mighty peoples:
⁵¹ Wherewith thine enemies have reproached, O LORD, wherewith they have reproached the footsteps of thine anointed.
⁵² Blessed be the LORD for evermore. Amen, and Amen.

BOOK IV.

90

A Prayer of Moses the man of God.

¹ Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations.
² Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting, thou art God.
³ Thou turnest man to destruction; and sayest, Return, ye children of men.
⁴ For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night.

- ⁵Thou carriest them away as with a flood; they are as a sleep: in the morning they are like grass which groweth up.
- ⁶In the morning it flourisheth, and groweth up; in the evening it is cut down, and withereth.
- ⁷For we are consumed in thine anger, and in thy wrath are we troubled.
- ⁸Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, our secret sins in the light of thy countenance.
- ⁹For all our days are passed away in thy wrath: we bring our years to an end as a tale that is told.
- ¹⁰The days of our years are threescore years and ten, or even by reason of strength fourscore years; yet is their pride but labour and sorrow; for it is soon gone, and we fly away.
- ¹¹Who knoweth the power of thine anger, and thy wrath according to the fear that is due unto thee?
- ¹²So teach us to number our days, that we may get us an heart of wisdom.
- ¹³Return, O LORD; how long? and let it repent thee concerning thy servants.
- ¹⁴O satisfy us in the morning with thy mercy; that we may rejoice and be glad all our days.
- ¹⁵Make us glad according to the days wherein thou hast afflicted us, and the years wherein we have seen evil.
- ¹⁶Let thy work appear unto thy servants, and thy glory upon their children.
- ¹⁷And let the beauty of the LORD our God be upon us: and establish thou the work of our hands upon us; yea, the work of our hands establish thou it.

91

- ¹He that dwelleth in the secret place of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.
- ²I will say of the LORD, He is my refuge and my fortress; my God, in whom I trust.
- ³For he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence.
- ⁴He shall cover thee with his pinions, and under his wings shalt thou take refuge: his truth is a shield and a buckler.

- ⁵Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night, nor for the arrow that flieth by day;
- ⁶For the pestilence that walketh in darkness, nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday.
- ⁷A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee.
- ⁸Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold, and see the reward of the wicked.
- ⁹For thou, O LORD, art my refuge! thou hast made the Most High thy habitation;
- ¹⁰There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy tent.
- ¹¹For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.
- ¹²They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.
- ¹³Thou shalt tread upon the lion and adder: the young lion and the serpent shalt thou trample under feet.
- ¹⁴Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him on high, because he hath known my name.
- ¹⁵He shall call upon me, and I will answer him; I will be with him in trouble: I will deliver him, and honour him.
- ¹⁶With long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.

A Psalm, a Song for the sabbath day.

- ¹It is a good thing to give thanks unto the LORD, and to sing praises unto thy name, O Most High:
- ²To shew forth thy lovingkindness in the morning, and thy faithfulness every night,
- ³With an instrument of ten strings, and with the psaltery; with a solemn sound upon the harp.
- ⁴For thou, LORD, hast made me glad through thy work: I will triumph in the works of thy hands.
- ⁵How great are thy works, O LORD! thy thoughts are very deep.
- ⁶A brutish man knoweth not; neither doth a fool understand this:
- ⁷When the wicked spring as the grass, and when all the workers of iniquity do flourish; it is that they shall be destroyed for ever:

⁸But thou, O LORD, art on high for evermore.

⁹For, lo, thine enemies, O LORD, for, lo, thine enemies shall perish; all the workers of iniquity shall be scattered.

¹⁰But my horn hast thou exalted like the horn of the wild-ox: I am anointed with fresh oil.

¹¹Mine eye also hath seen my desire on mine enemies, mine ears have heard my desire of the evil-doers that rise up against me.

¹²The righteous shall flourish like the palm tree: he shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon.

¹³They that are planted in the house of the LORD shall flourish in the courts of our God.

¹⁴They shall still bring forth fruit in old age; they shall be full of sap and green:

¹⁵To shew that the LORD is upright; he is my rock, and there is no unrighteousness in him.

¹The LORD reigneth; he is apparelled with majesty; the LORD is apparelled, he hath girded himself with strength: the world also is stablished, that it cannot be moved.

²Thy throne is established of old: thou art from everlasting.

³The floods have lifted up, O LORD, the floods have lifted up their voice; the floods lift up their waves.

⁴Above the voices of many waters, the mighty breakers of the sea, the LORD on high is mighty.

⁵Thy testimonies are very sure: holiness becometh thine house, O LORD, for evermore.

¹O LORD, thou God to whom vengeance belongeth, thou God to whom vengeance belongeth, shine forth.

²Lift up thyself, thou judge of the earth: render to the proud their desert.

³LORD, how long shall the wicked, how long shall the wicked triumph?

⁴They prate, they speak arrogantly: all the workers of iniquity boast themselves.

⁵They break in pieces thy people, O LORD, and afflict thine heritage.

⁶They slay the widow and the stranger, and murder the fatherless.

⁷And they say, The LORD shall not see, neither shall the God of Jacob consider.

⁸Consider, ye brutish among the people: and ye fools, when will ye be wise?

⁹He that planted the ear, shall he not hear? he that formed the eye, shall he not see?

¹⁰He that chastiseth the nations, shall not he correct, even he that teacheth man knowledge?

¹¹The LORD knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanity.

¹²Blessed is the man whom thou chastenest, O LORD, and teachest out of thy law;

¹³That thou mayest give him rest from the days of adversity, until the pit be digged for the wicked.

¹⁴For the LORD will not cast off his people, neither will he forsake his inheritance.

¹⁵For judgment shall return unto righteousness: and all the upright in heart shall follow it.

¹⁶Who will rise up for me against the evil-doers? who will stand up for me against the workers of iniquity?

¹⁷Unless the LORD had been my help, my soul had soon dwelt in silence.

¹⁸When I said, My foot slippeth; thy mercy, O LORD, held me up.

¹⁹In the multitude of my thoughts within me thy comforts delight my soul.

²⁰Shall the throne of wickedness have fellowship with thee, which frameth mischief by statute?

²¹They gather themselves together against the soul of the righteous, and condemn the innocent blood.

²²But the LORD hath been my high tower; and my God the rock of my refuge.

²³And he hath brought upon them their own iniquity, and shall cut them off in their own evil; the LORD our God shall cut them off.

- ¹O COME, let us sing unto the LORD: let us make a joyful noise to the rock of our salvation.
- ²Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving, let us make a joyful noise unto him with psalms.
- ³For the LORD is a great God, and a great King above all gods.
- ⁴In his hand are the deep places of the earth; the heights of the mountains are his also.
- ⁵The sea is his, and he made it; and his hands formed the dry land.
- ⁶O come, let us worship and bow down; let us kneel before the LORD our Maker:
- ⁷For he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand. Today, Oh that ye would hear his voice!
- ⁸Harden not your heart, as at Meribah, as in the day of Massah in the wilderness:
- ⁹When your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my work.
- ¹⁰Forty years long was I grieved with that generation, and said, It is a people that do err in their heart, and they have not known my ways:
- ¹¹Wherefore I swear in my wrath, that they should not enter into my rest.

- ¹O SING unto the LORD a new song: sing unto the LORD, all the earth.
- ²Sing unto the LORD, bless his name; shew forth his salvation from day to day.
- ³Declare his glory among the nations, his marvelous works among all the peoples.
- ⁴For great is the LORD, and highly to be praised: he is to be feared above all gods.
- ⁵For all the gods of the peoples are idols: but the LORD made the heavens.
- ⁶Honour and majesty are before him: strength and beauty are in his sanctuary.
- ⁷Give unto the LORD, ye kindreds of the peoples, give unto the LORD glory and strength.
- ⁸Give unto the LORD the glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come into his courts.

- ⁹O worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness: tremble before him, all the earth.
- ¹⁰Say among the nations, The LORD reigneth: the world also is stablished that it cannot be moved: he shall judge the peoples with equity.
- ¹¹Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice; let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof;
- ¹²Let the field exult, and all that is therein; then shall all the trees of the wood sing for joy;
- ¹³Before the LORD, for he cometh; for he cometh to judge the earth: he shall judge the world with righteousness, and the peoples with his truth.

- ¹The LORD reigneth; let the earth rejoice; let the multitude of isles be glad.
- ²Clouds and darkness are round about him: righteousness and judgment are the foundation of his throne.
- ³A fire goeth before him, and burneth up his adversaries round about.
- ⁴His lightnings lightened the world: the earth saw, and trembled.
- ⁵The hills melted like wax at the presence of the LORD, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth;
- ⁶The heavens declare his righteousness, and all the peoples have seen his glory.
- ⁷Ashamed be all they that serve graven images, that boast themselves of idols: worship him, all ye gods.
- ⁸Zion heard and was glad, and the daughters of Judah rejoiced; because of thy judgments, O LORD.
- ⁹For thou, LORD, art most high above all the earth: thou art exalted far above all gods.
- ¹⁰O ye that love the LORD, hate evil: he preserveth the souls of his saints; he delivereth them out of the hand of the wicked.
- ¹¹Light is sown for the righteous, and gladness for the upright in heart.
- ¹²Be glad in the LORD, ye righteous; and give thanks to his holy name.

A Psalm.

- ¹ Sing unto the LORD a new song; for he hath done marvelous things: his right hand, and his holy arm, hath wrought salvation for him.
- ² The LORD hath made known his salvation: his righteousness hath he openly shewed in the sight of the nations.
- ³ He hath remembered his mercy and his faithfulness toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.
- ⁴ Make a joyful noise unto the LORD, all the earth: break forth and sing for joy, yea, sing praises.
- ⁵ Sing praises unto the LORD with the harp; with the harp and the voice of melody:
- ⁶ With trumpets and sound of cornet make a joyful noise before the King, the LORD.
- ⁷ Let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein;
- ⁸ Let the floods clap their hands; let the hills sing for joy together;
- ⁹ Before the LORD, for he cometh to judge the earth: he shall judge the world with righteousness, and the peoples with equity.

- ¹ The LORD reigneth; let the peoples tremble: he sitteth upon the cherubim; let the earth be moved.
- ² The LORD is great in Zion; and he is high above all the peoples.
- ³ Let them praise thy great and terrible name: holy is he.
- ⁴ The king's strength also loveth judgment; thou dost establish equity, thou executest judgment and righteousness in Jacob.
- ⁵ Exalt ye the LORD our God, and worship at his footstool: holy is he.
- ⁶ Moses and Aaron among his priests, and Samuel among them that call on his name; they called upon the LORD, and he answered them.
- ⁷ He spake unto them in the pillar of cloud: they kept his testimonies, and the statute that he gave them.

- ⁸ Thou answeredst them, O LORD our God: thou wast a God that forgavest them, though thou tookest vengeance of their doings.

- ⁹ Exalt ye the LORD our God, and worship at his holy hill; for the LORD our God is holy.

A Psalm of thanksgiving.

- ¹ Make a joyful noise unto the LORD, all ye lands.
- ² Serve the LORD with gladness: come before his presence with singing.
- ³ Know ye that the LORD he is God: it is he that hath made us, and we are his; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.
- ⁴ Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: give thanks unto him, and bless his name.
- ⁵ For the LORD is good; his mercy endureth for ever; and his faithfulness unto all generations.

A Psalm of David.

- ¹ I will sing of mercy and judgment: unto thee, O LORD, will I sing praises.
- ² I will behave myself wisely in a perfect way: Oh when wilt thou come unto me? I will walk within my house with a perfect heart.
- ³ I will set no base thing before mine eyes: I hate the work of them that turn aside; it shall not cleave unto me.
- ⁴ A froward heart shall depart from me: I will know no evil thing.
- ⁵ Whoso privily slandereth his neighbour, him will I destroy: him that hath an high look and a proud heart will I not suffer.
- ⁶ Mine eyes shall be upon the faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me: he that walketh in a perfect way, he shall minister unto me.
- ⁷ He that worketh deceit shall not dwell within my house: he that speaketh falsehood shall not be established before mine eyes.
- ⁸ Morning by morning will I destroy all the wicked of the land; to cut off all the workers of iniquity from the city of the LORD.

A Prayer of the afflicted, when he is overwhelmed, and poureth out his complaint before the LORD.

- ¹ Hear my prayer, O LORD, and let my cry come unto thee.
- ² Hide not thy face from me in the day of my distress: incline thine ear unto me; in the day when I call answer me speedily.
- ³ For my days consume away like smoke, and my bones are burned as a firebrand.
- ⁴ My heart is smitten like grass, and withered; for I forget to eat my bread.
- ⁵ By reason of the voice of my groaning my bones cleave to my flesh.
- ⁶ I am like a pelican of the wilderness; I am become as an owl of the waste places.
- ⁷ I watch, and am become like a sparrow that is alone upon the housetop.
- ⁸ Mine enemies reproach me all the day; they that are mad against me do curse by me.
- ⁹ For I have eaten ashes like bread, and mingled my drink with weeping.
- ¹⁰ Because of thine indignation and thy wrath: for thou hast taken me up, and cast me away.
- ¹¹ My days are like a shadow that declineth; and I am withered like grass.
- ¹² But thou, O LORD, shalt abide for ever; and thy memorial unto all generations.
- ¹³ Thou shalt arise, and have mercy upon Zion: for it is time to have pity upon her, yea, the set time is come.
- ¹⁴ For thy servants take pleasure in her stones, and have pity upon her dust.
- ¹⁵ So the nations shall fear the name of the LORD, and all the kings of the earth thy glory:
- ¹⁶ For the LORD hath built up Zion, he hath appeared in his glory;
- ¹⁷ He hath regarded the prayer of the desolate, and hath not despised their prayer.
- ¹⁸ This shall be written for the generation to come: and a people which shall be created shall praise the LORD.
- ¹⁹ For he hath looked down from the height of his sanctuary; from heaven did the LORD behold the earth;

- ²⁰ To hear the sighing of the prisoner; to loose those that are appointed to death;
- ²¹ That men may declare the name of the LORD in Zion, and his praise in Jerusalem;
- ²² When the peoples are gathered together, and the kingdoms, to serve the LORD.
- ²³ He weakened my strength in the way; he shortened my days.
- ²⁴ I said, O my God, take me not away in the midst of my days: thy years are throughout all generations.
- ²⁵ Of old hast thou laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the work of thy hands.
- ²⁶ They shall perish, but thou shalt endure: yea, all of them shall wax old like a garment; as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed:
- ²⁷ But thou art the same, and thy years shall have no end.
- ²⁸ The children of thy servants shall continue, and their seed shall be established before thee.

A Psalm of David.

- ¹ Bless the LORD, O my soul; and all that is within me, *ble*ss his holy name.
- ² Bless the LORD, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits:
- ³ Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases;
- ⁴ Who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with lovingkindness and tender mercies:
- ⁵ Who satisfieth thy mouth with good things; so that thy youth is renewed like the eagle.
- ⁶ The LORD executeth righteous acts, and judgments for all that are oppressed.
- ⁷ He made known his ways unto Moses, his doings unto the children of Israel.
- ⁸ The LORD is full of compassion and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy.
- ⁹ He will not always chide; neither will he keep his anger for ever.

- ¹⁰ He hath not dealt with us after our sins,
nor rewarded us after our iniquities.
- ¹¹ For as the heaven is high above the earth,
so great is his mercy toward them that fear him.
- ¹² As far as the east is from the west, so far hath he removed our transgressions from us.
- ¹³ Like as a father pitieth his children, so the LORD pitieth them that fear him.
- ¹⁴ For he knoweth our frame; he remembereth that we are dust.
- ¹⁵ As for man, his days are as grass; as a flower of the field, so he flourisheth.
- ¹⁶ For the wind passeth over it, and it is gone;
and the place thereof shall know it no more.
- ¹⁷ But the mercy of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear him, and his righteousness unto children's children;
- ¹⁸ To such as keep his covenant, and to those that remember his precepts to do
them.
- ¹⁹ The LORD hath established his throne in the heavens; and his kingdom ruleth over all.
- ²⁰ Bless the LORD, ye angels of his: ye mighty in strength, that fulfill his word, hearkening unto the voice of his word.
- ²¹ Bless the LORD, all ye his hosts; ye ministers of his, that do his pleasure.
- ²² Bless the LORD, all ye his works, in all places of his dominion: bless the LORD, O my soul.

104

- ¹ Bless the LORD O my soul, O LORD my God, thou art very great; thou art clothed with honour and majesty.
- ² Who coverest thyself with light as with a garment; who stretchest out the heavens like a curtain:
- ³ Who layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters; who maketh the clouds his chariot; who walketh upon the wings of the wind:
- ⁴ Who maketh winds his messengers; his ministers a flaming fire:
- ⁵ Who laid the foundations of the earth, that it should not be moved for ever.

- ⁶ Thou coveredst it with the deep as with a vesture; the waters stood above the mountains.
- ⁷ At thy rebuke they fled; at the voice of thy thunder they hasted away;
- ⁸ They went up by the mountains, they went down by the valleys, unto the place which thou hadst founded for them.
- ⁹ Thou hast set a bound that they may not pass over; that they turn not again to cover the earth.
- ¹⁰ He sendeth forth springs into the valleys;
they run among the mountains:
- ¹¹ They give drink to every beast of the field;
the wild asses quench their thirst.
- ¹² By them the fowl of the heaven have their habitation, they sing among the branches.
- ¹³ He watereth the mountains from his chambers: the earth is satisfied with the fruit of thy works.
- ¹⁴ He causeth the grass to grow for the cattle, and herb for the service of man; that he may bring forth food out of the earth:
- ¹⁵ And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, and oil to make his face to shine, and bread that strengtheneth man's heart.
- ¹⁶ The trees of the LORD are satisfied; the cedars of Lebanon, which he hath planted;
- ¹⁷ Where the birds make their nests: as for the stork, the fir trees are her house.
- ¹⁸ The high mountains are for the wild goats;
the rocks are a refuge for the conies.
- ¹⁹ He appointed the moon for seasons: the sun knoweth his going down.
- ²⁰ Thou makest darkness, and it is night;
Wherein all the beasts of the forest do creep forth.
- ²¹ The young lions roar after their prey, and seek their meat from God.
- ²² The sun ariseth, they get them away, and lay them down in their dens.
- ²³ Man goeth forth unto his work and to his labour until the evening.
- ²⁴ O LORD, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all:
the earth is full of thy riches.
- ²⁵ Yonder is the sea, great and wide, wherein are things creeping innumerable,
both small and great beasts.

- ²⁶ There go the ships; there is leviathan, whom thou hast formed to take his pastime therein.
- ²⁷ These wait all upon thee, that thou mayest give them their meat in due season.
- ²⁸ That thou givest unto them they gather; thou openest thine hand, they are satisfied with good.
- ²⁹ Thou hidest thy face, they are troubled; thou takest away their breath they die, and return to their dust.
- ³⁰ Thou sendest forth thy spirit, they are created; and thou renewest the face of the ground.
- ³¹ Let the glory of the LORD endure for ever; let the LORD rejoice in his works:
- ³² Who looketh on the earth, and it trembleth; he toucheth the mountains, and they smoke.
- ³³ I will sing unto the LORD as long as I live: I will sing praise to my God while I have any being.
- ³⁴ Let my meditation be sweet unto him: I will rejoice in the LORD.
- ³⁵ Let sinners be consumed out of the earth, and let the wicked be no more. Bless the LORD, O my soul. Praise ye the LORD.

- ¹ Give thanks unto the LORD, call upon his name; make known his doings among the peoples.
- ² Sing unto him, sing praises unto him; talk ye of all his marvelous works.
- ³ Glory ye in his holy name: let the heart of them rejoice that seek the LORD.
- ⁴ Seek ye the LORD and his strength; seek his face evermore.
- ⁵ Remember his marvelous works that he hath done; his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth;
- ⁶ O ye seed of Abraham his servant, ye children of Jacob, his chosen ones.
- ⁷ He is the LORD our God: his judgments are in all the earth.
- ⁸ He hath remembered his covenant for ever, the word which he commanded to a thousand generations;
- ⁹ The covenant which he made with Abraham, and his oath unto Isaac;
- ¹⁰ And confirmed the same unto Jacob for a statute, to Israel for an everlasting covenant:

- ¹¹ Saying, Unto thee will I give the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance:
- ¹² When they were but a few men in number; yea, very few, and sojourners in it;
- ¹³ And they went about from nation to nation, from one kingdom to another people.
- ¹⁴ He suffered no man to do them wrong; yea, he reprov'd kings for their sakes;
- ¹⁵ Saying, Touch not mine anointed ones, and do my prophets no harm.
- ¹⁶ And he called for a famine upon the land; he brake the whole staff of bread.
- ¹⁷ He sent a man before them; Joseph was sold for a servant:
- ¹⁸ His feet they hurt with fetters; he was laid in chains of iron:
- ¹⁹ Until the time that his word came to pass; the word of the LORD tried him.
- ²⁰ The king sent and loosed him; even the ruler of peoples, and let him go free.
- ²¹ He made him lord of his house, and ruler of all his substance:
- ²² To bind his princes at his pleasure, and teach his senators wisdom.
- ²³ Israel also came into Egypt; and Jacob sojourned in the land of Ham.
- ²⁴ And he increased his people greatly, and made them stronger than their adversaries.
- ²⁵ He turned their heart to hate his people, to deal subtilly with his servants.
- ²⁶ He sent Moses his servant, and Aaron whom he had chosen.
- ²⁷ They set among them his signs, and wonders in the land of Ham.
- ²⁸ He sent darkness, and made it dark; and they rebelled not against his words.
- ²⁹ He turned their waters into blood, and slew their fish.
- ³⁰ Their land swarmed with frogs, in the chambers of their kings.
- ³¹ He spake, and there came swarms of flies, and lice in all their borders.
- ³² He gave them hail for rain, and flaming fire in their land.
- ³³ He smote their vines also and their fig trees; and brake the trees of their borders.
- ³⁴ He spake, and the locust came, and the cankerworm, and that without number,

- ³⁵ And did eat up every herb in their land, and did eat up the fruit of their ground.
- ³⁶ He smote also all the firstborn in their land, the chief of all their strength.
- ³⁷ And he brought them forth with silver and gold: and there was not one feeble person among his tribes.
- ³⁸ Egypt was glad when they departed; for the fear of them had fallen upon
them.
- ³⁹ He spread a cloud for a covering; and fire to give light in the night.
- ⁴⁰ They asked, and he brought quails, and satisfied them with the bread of heaven.
- ⁴¹ He opened the rock, and waters gushed out; they ran in the dry places like a river.
- ⁴² For he remembered his holy word, and Abraham his servant.
- ⁴³ And he brought forth his people with joy, and his chosen with singing.
- ⁴⁴ And he gave them the lands of the nations;
and they took the labour of the peoples in possession:
- ⁴⁵ That they might keep his statutes, and observe his laws. Praise ye the LORD.

106

- ¹ Praise ye the LORD. O give thanks unto the LORD; for he is good: for his mercy
endureth for ever.
- ² Who can utter the mighty acts of the LORD, or shew forth all his praise?
- ³ Blessed are they that keep judgment, and he that doeth righteousness at all times.
- ⁴ Remember me, O LORD, with the favour that thou bearest unto thy people;
O visit me with thy salvation:
- ⁵ That I may see the prosperity of thy chosen, that I may rejoice in the gladness of thy nation, that I may glory with thine inheritance.
- ⁶ We have sinned with our fathers, we have committed iniquity, we have done wickedly.
- ⁷ Our fathers understood not thy wonders in Egypt; they remembered not the multitude of thy mercies; but were rebellious at the sea, even at the Red Sea.

- ⁸ Nevertheless he saved them for his name's sake, that he might make his mighty power to be known.
- ⁹ He rebuked the Red Sea also, and it was dried up: so he led them through the depths, as through a wilderness.
- ¹⁰ And he saved them from the hand of him that hated them, and redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.
- ¹¹ And the waters covered their adversaries:
there was not one of them left.
- ¹² Then believed they his words; they sang his praise.
- ¹³ They soon forgat his works; they waited not for his counsel:
- ¹⁴ But lusted exceedingly in the wilderness,
and tempted God in the desert.
- ¹⁵ And he gave them their request; but sent leanness into their soul.
- ¹⁶ They envied Moses also in the camp, and Aaron the saint of the LORD.
- ¹⁷ The earth opened and swallowed up Dathan, and covered the company of Abiram.
- ¹⁸ And a fire was kindled in their company;
the flame burned up the wicked.
- ¹⁹ They made a calf in Horeb, and worshipped a molten image.
- ²⁰ Thus they changed their glory for the likeness of an ox that eateth grass.
- ²¹ They forgat God their saviour, which had done great things in Egypt;
- ²² Wondrous works in the land of Ham, and terrible things by the Red Sea.
- ²³ Therefore he said that he would destroy them, had not Moses his chosen stood before him in the breach, to turn away his wrath, lest he should destroy them.
- ²⁴ Yea, they despised the pleasant land, they believed not his word;
- ²⁵ But murmured in their tents, and hearkened not unto the voice of the LORD.
- ²⁶ Therefore he lifted up his hand unto them, that he would overthrow them in the wilderness:
- ²⁷ And that he would overthrow their seed
among the nations, and scatter them in the lands.
- ²⁸ They joined themselves also unto Baalpeor, and ate the sacrifices of the dead.

²⁹ Thus they provoked him to anger with their doings; and the plague brake in upon them.
³⁰ Then stood up Phinehas, and executed judgment: and so the plague was stayed.
³¹ And that was counted unto him for righteousness, unto all generations for evermore.
³² They angered him also at the waters of Meribah, so that it went ill with Moses for their sakes:
³³ Because they were rebellious against his spirit, and he spake unadvisedly with his lips.
³⁴ They did not destroy the peoples, as the LORD commanded them;
³⁵ But mingled themselves with the nations, and learned their works:
³⁶ And they served their idols; which became a snare unto them:
³⁷ Yea, they sacrificed their sons and their daughters unto demons, ³⁸ And shed innocent blood, even the blood of their sons and of their daughters, whom they sacrificed unto the idols of Canaan; and the land was polluted with blood.
³⁹ Thus were they defiled with their works, and went a whoring in their doings.
⁴⁰ Therefore was the wrath of the LORD kindled against his people, and he abhorred his inheritance.
⁴¹ And he gave them into the hand of the nations; and they that hated them ruled over them.
⁴² Their enemies also oppressed them, and they were brought into subjection under their hand.
⁴³ Many times did he deliver them; but they were rebellious in their counsel, and were brought low in their iniquity.
⁴⁴ Nevertheless he regarded their distress, when he heard their cry:
⁴⁵ And he remembered for them his covenant, and repented according to the multitude of his mercies.
⁴⁶ He made them also to be pitied of all those that carried them captives.
⁴⁷ Save us, O LORD our God, and gather us from among the nations, to give thanks unto thy holy name, and to triumph in thy praise.

⁴⁸ Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, from everlasting even to everlasting. And let all the people say, Amen. Praise ye the LORD.

BOOK V.

¹ O GIVE thanks unto the LORD; for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.
² Let the redeemed of the LORD say so, whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the adversary;
³ And gathered them out of the lands, from the east and from the west, from the north and from the south.
⁴ They wandered in the wilderness in a desert way; they found no city of habitation.
⁵ Hungry and thirsty, their soul fainted in them.
⁶ Then they cried unto the LORD in their trouble, and he delivered them out of their distresses.
⁷ He led them also by a straight way, that they might go to a city of habitation.
⁸ Oh that men would praise the LORD for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!
⁹ For he satisfieth the longing soul, and the hungry soul he filleth with good.
¹⁰ Such as sat in darkness and in the shadow of death, being bound in affliction and iron;
¹¹ Because they rebelled against the words of God, and contemned the counsel of the Most High:
¹² Therefore he brought down their heart with labour; they fell down, and there was none to help.
¹³ Then they cried unto the LORD in their trouble, and he saved them out of their distresses.
¹⁴ He brought them out of darkness and the shadow of death, and brake their bands in sunder.
¹⁵ Oh that men would praise the LORD for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!
¹⁶ For he hath broken the gates of brass, and cut the bars of iron in sunder.
¹⁷ Fools because of their transgression, and because of their iniquities, are afflicted.

- ¹⁸ Their soul abhorreth all manner of meat; and they draw near unto the gates of death.
- ¹⁹ Then they cry unto the LORD in their trouble, and he saveth them out of their distresses.
- ²⁰ He sendeth his word, and healeth them, and delivereth them from their destructions.
- ²¹ Oh that men would praise the LORD for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!
- ²² And let them offer the sacrifices of thanksgiving, and declare his works with singing.
- ²³ They that go down to the sea in ships, that do business in great waters;
- ²⁴ These see the works of the LORD, and his wonders in the deep.
- ²⁵ For he commandeth, and raiseth the stormy wind, which lifteth up the waves thereof.
- ²⁶ They mount up to the heaven, they go down again to the depths: their soul melteth away because of trouble.
- ²⁷ They reel to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man, and are at their wits' end.
- ²⁸ Then they cry unto the LORD in their trouble, and he bringeth them out of their distresses.
- ²⁹ He maketh the storm a calm, so that the waves thereof are still.
- ³⁰ Then are they glad because they be quiet: so he bringeth them unto the haven where they would be.
- ³¹ Oh that men would praise the LORD for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!
- ³² Let them exalt him also in the assembly of the people, and praise him in the seat of the elders.
- ³³ He turneth rivers into a wilderness, and watersprings into a thirsty ground;
- ³⁴ A fruitful land into a salt desert, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein.
- ³⁵ He turneth a wilderness into a pool of water, and a dry land into watersprings.
- ³⁶ And there he maketh the hungry to dwell, that they may prepare a city of habitation;
- ³⁷ And sow fields, and plant vineyards, and get them fruits of increase.

- ³⁸ He blesseth them also, so that they are multiplied greatly; and he suffereth not their cattle to decrease.
- ³⁹ Again, they are minished and bowed down through oppression, trouble, and sorrow.
- ⁴⁰ He poureth contempt upon princes, and causeth them to wander in the waste, where there is no way.
- ⁴¹ Yet setteth he the needy on high from affliction, and maketh him families like a flock.
- ⁴² The upright shall see it, and be glad; and all iniquity shall stop her mouth.
- ⁴³ Whoso is wise shall give heed to these things, and they shall consider the mercies of the LORD.

A Song, a Psalm Of David.

- ¹ My heart is fixed, O God; I will sing, yea, I will sing praises, even with my glory.
- ² Awake, psaltery and harp: I myself will awake right early.
- ³ I will give thanks unto thee, O LORD, among the peoples: and I will sing praises unto thee among the nations.
- ⁴ For thy mercy is great above the heavens, and thy truth reacheth unto the skies.
- ⁵ Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: and thy glory above all the earth.
- ⁶ That thy beloved may be delivered, save with thy right hand, and answer us.
- ⁷ God hath spoken in his holiness; I will exult: I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.
- ⁸ Gilead is mine; Manasseh is mine; Ephraim also is the defence of mine head; Judah is my sceptre.
- ⁹ Moab is my washpot; upon Edom will I cast my shoe: over Philistia will I shout.
- ¹⁰ Who will bring me into the fenced city? who hath led me unto Edom?
- ¹¹ Hast not thou cast us off, O God? and thou goest not forth, O God, with our hosts.
- ¹² Give us help against the adversary: for vain is the help of man.
- ¹³ Through God we shall do valiantly: for he it is that shall tread down our adversaries.

109

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

- ¹ Hold not thy peace, O God of my praise;
² For the mouth of the wicked and the mouth of deceit have they opened against me: they have spoken unto me with a lying tongue.
³ They compassed me about also with words of hatred, and fought against me without a cause.
⁴ For my love they are my adversaries: but I give myself unto prayer.
⁵ And they have rewarded me evil for good, and hatred for my love.
⁶ Set thou a wicked man over him: and let an adversary stand at his right hand.
⁷ When he is judged, let him come forth guilty; and let his prayer be turned into sin.
⁸ Let his days be few; and let another take his office.
⁹ Let his children be fatherless, and his wife a widow.
¹⁰ Let his children be vagabonds, and beg; and let them seek their bread out of their desolate places.
¹¹ Let the extortioner catch all that he hath; and let strangers make spoil of his labour.
¹² Let there be none to extend mercy unto him; neither let there be any to have pity on his fatherless children.
¹³ Let his posterity be cut off; in the generation following let their name be blotted out.
¹⁴ Let the iniquity of his fathers be remembered with the LORD; and let not the sin of his mother be blotted out.
¹⁵ Let them be before the LORD continually, that he may cut off the memory of them from the earth.
¹⁶ Because that he remembered not to shew mercy, but persecuted the poor and needy man, and the broken in heart, to slay them.
¹⁷ Yea, he loved cursing, and it came unto him; and he delighted not in blessing, and it was far from him.
¹⁸ He clothed himself also with cursing as with his garment, and it came into his inward parts like water, and like oil into his bones. Let it be unto him as the raiment

- ¹⁹ wherewith he covereth himself, and for the girdle wherewith he is girded continually.
²⁰ This is the reward of mine adversaries from the LORD, and of them that speak evil against my soul.
²¹ But deal thou with me, O GOD the Lord, for thy name's sake: because thy mercy is good, deliver thou me, ²² For I am poor and needy, and my heart is wounded within me.
²³ I am gone like the shadow when it declineth: I am tossed up and down as the locust.
²⁴ My knees are weak through fasting; and my flesh faileth of fatness.
²⁵ I am become also a reproach unto them: when they see me, they shake their head.
²⁶ Help me, O LORD my God; O save me according to thy mercy:
²⁷ That they may know that this is thy hand; that thou, LORD, hast done it.
²⁸ Let them curse, but bless thou: when they arise, they shall be ashamed, but thy servant shall rejoice.
²⁹ Let mine adversaries be clothed with dishonour, and let them cover themselves with their own shame as with a mantle.
³⁰ I will give great thanks unto the LORD with my mouth; yea, I will praise him among the multitude.
³¹ For he shall stand at the right hand of the needy, to save him from them that judge his soul.

A Psalm of David.

- ¹ The LORD saith unto my lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool.
² The LORD shall send forth the rod of thy strength out of Zion: rule thou in the midst of thine enemies.
³ Thy people offer themselves willingly in the day of thy power: in the beauties of holiness, from the womb of the morning, thou hast the dew of thy youth.
⁴ The LORD hath sworn, and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek.

- ⁵ The Lord at thy right hand shall strike through kings in the day of his wrath.
- ⁶ He shall judge among the nations, he shall fill the places with dead bodies; he shall strike through the head in many countries.
- ⁷ He shall drink of the brook in the way: therefore shall he lift up the head.

- ¹ Praise ye the LORD. I will give thanks unto the LORD with my whole heart, in the council of the upright, and in the congregation.
- ² The works of the LORD are great, sought out of all them that have pleasure therein.
- ³ His work is honour and majesty: and his righteousness endureth for ever.
- ⁴ He hath made his wonderful works to be remembered: the LORD is gracious and full of compassion.
- ⁵ He hath given meat unto them that fear him: he will ever be mindful of his covenant.
- ⁶ He hath shewed his people the power of his works, in giving them the heritage of the nations.
- ⁷ The works of his hands are truth and judgment; all his precepts are sure.
- ⁸ They are established for ever and ever, they are done in truth and uprightness.
- ⁹ He hath sent redemption unto his people; he hath commanded his covenant for ever: holy and reverend is his name.
- ¹⁰ The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom; a good understanding have all they that do thereafter: his praise endureth for ever.

- ¹ Praise ye the LORD. Blessed is the man that feareth the LORD, that delighteth greatly in his commandments.
- ² His seed shall be mighty upon earth: the generation of the upright shall be blessed.
- ³ Wealth and riches are in his house: and his righteousness endureth for ever.

- ⁴ Unto the upright there ariseth light in the darkness: he is gracious, and full of compassion, and righteous.
- ⁵ Well is it with the man that dealeth graciously and lendeth; he shall maintain his cause in judgment.
- ⁶ For he shall never be moved; the righteous shall be had in everlasting remembrance.
- ⁷ He shall not be afraid of evil tidings: his heart is fixed, trusting in the LORD.
- ⁸ His heart is established, he shall not be afraid, until he see his desire upon his adversaries.
- ⁹ He hath dispersed, he hath given to the needy; his righteousness endureth for ever: his horn shall be exalted with honour.
- ¹⁰ The wicked shall see it, and be grieved; he shall gnash with his teeth, and melt away: the desire of the wicked shall perish.

- ¹ Praise ye the LORD. Praise, O ye servants of the LORD, praise the name of the LORD.
- ² Blessed be the name of the LORD from this time forth and for evermore.
- ³ From the rising of the sun unto the going down of the same the LORD'S name is to be praised.
- ⁴ The LORD is high above all nations, and his glory above the heavens.
- ⁵ Who is like unto the LORD our God, that hath his seat on high,
- ⁶ That humbleth himself to behold the things that are in heaven and in the earth?
- ⁷ He raiseth up the poor out of the dust, and lifteth up the needy from the dunghill;
- ⁸ That he may set him with princes, even with the princes of his people.
- ⁹ He maketh the barren woman to keep house, and to be a joyful mother of children. Praise ye the LORD.

- ¹ When Israel went forth out of Egypt, the house of Jacob from a people of strange language;
- ² Judah became his sanctuary, Israel his dominion.
- ³ The sea saw it, and fled; Jordan was driven back.

⁴The mountains skipped like rams, the little hills like young sheep.
⁵What aileth thee, O thou sea, that thou fleest? thou Jordan, that thou turnest back?
⁶Ye mountains, that ye skip like rams; ye little hills, like young sheep?
⁷Tremble, thou earth, at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Jacob;
⁸Which turned the rock into a pool of water, the flint into a fountain of waters.

¹Not unto us, O LORD, not unto us, but unto thy name give glory, for thy mercy, and for thy truth's sake.
²Wherefore should the nations say, Where is now their God?
³But our God is in the heavens: he hath done whatsoever he pleased.
⁴Their idols are silver and gold, the work of men's hands.
⁵They have mouths, but they speak not; eyes have they, but they see not;
⁶They have ears, but they hear not; noses have they, but they smell not;
⁷They have hands, but they handle not; feet have they, but they walk not; neither speak they through their throat.
⁸They that make them shall be like unto them; yea, every one that trusteth in them.
⁹O Israel, trust thou in the LORD: he is their help and their shield.
¹⁰O house of Aaron, trust ye in the LORD: he is their help and their shield.
¹¹Ye that fear the LORD, trust in the LORD: he is their help and their shield.
¹²The LORD hath been mindful of us; he will bless us: he will bless the house of Israel; he will bless the house of Aaron.
¹³He will bless them that fear the LORD, both small and great.
¹⁴The LORD increase you more and more, you and your children.
¹⁵Blessed are ye of the LORD, which made heaven and earth.
¹⁶The heavens are the heavens of the LORD; but the earth hath he given to the children of men.
¹⁷The dead praise not the LORD, neither any that go down into silence;

¹⁸But we will bless the LORD from this time forth and for evermore. Praise ye the LORD.

¹I LOVE the LORD, because he hath heard my voice and my supplications.
²Because he hath inclined his ear unto me, therefore will I call upon him as long as I live.
³The cords of death compassed me, and the pains of Sheol gat hold upon me: I found trouble and sorrow.
⁴Then called I upon the name of the LORD; O LORD, I beseech thee, deliver my soul.
⁵Gracious is the LORD, and righteous; yea, our God is merciful.
⁶The LORD preserveth the simple: I was brought low, and he saved me.
⁷Return unto thy rest, O my soul; for the LORD hath dealt bountifully with thee.
⁸For thou hast delivered my soul from death, mine eyes from tears, and my feet from falling.
⁹I will walk before the LORD in the land of the living.
¹⁰I believe, for I will speak: I was greatly afflicted:
¹¹I said in my haste, All men are a lie.
¹²What shall I render unto the LORD for all his benefits toward me?
¹³I will take the cup of salvation, and call upon the name of the LORD.
¹⁴I will pay my vows unto the LORD, yea, in the presence of all his people.
¹⁵Precious in the sight of the LORD is the death of his saints.
¹⁶O LORD, truly I am thy servant: I am thy servant, the son of thine handmaid; thou hast loosed my bonds.
¹⁷I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thanksgiving, and will call upon the name of the LORD.
¹⁸I will pay my vows unto the LORD, yea, in the presence of all his people.
¹⁹In the courts of the LORD'S house, in the midst of thee, O Jerusalem. Praise ye the LORD.

¹O PRAISE the LORD, all ye nations; laud him, all ye peoples.

²For his mercy is great toward us; and the truth of the LORD endureth for ever. Praise ye the LORD.

118

¹O GIVE thanks unto the LORD; for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

²Let Israel now say, that his mercy endureth for ever.

³Let the house of Aaron now say, that his mercy endureth for ever.

⁴Let them now that fear the LORD say, that his mercy endureth for ever.

⁵Out of my distress I called upon the LORD: the LORD answered me and set me in a large place.

⁶The LORD is on my side; I will not fear: what can man do unto me?

⁷The LORD is on my side among them that help me: therefore shall I see my desire upon them that hate me.

⁸It is better to trust in the LORD than to put confidence in man.

⁹It is better to trust in the LORD, than to put confidence in princes.

¹⁰All nations compassed me about: in the name of the LORD I will cut them off.

¹¹They compassed me about; yea, they compassed me about: in the name of the LORD I will cut them off.

¹²They compassed me about like bees; they are quenched as the fire of thorns: in the name of the LORD I will cut them off.

¹³Thou didst thrust sore at me that I might fall: but the LORD helped me.

¹⁴The LORD is my strength and song; and he is become my salvation.

¹⁵The voice of rejoicing and salvation is in the tents of the righteous: the right hand of the LORD doeth valiantly.

¹⁶The right hand of the LORD is exalted: the right hand of the LORD doeth valiantly.

¹⁷I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the LORD.

¹⁸The LORD hath chastened me sore: but he hath not given me over unto death.

¹⁹Open to me the gates of righteousness: I will enter into them, I will give thanks unto the LORD.

²⁰This is the gate of the LORD; the righteous shall enter into it.

²¹I will give thanks unto thee, for thou hast answered me, and art become my salvation.

²²The stone which the builders rejected is become the head of the corner.

²³This is the LORD'S doing; it is marvelous in our eyes.

²⁴This is the day which the LORD hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it.

²⁵Save now, we beseech thee, O LORD: O LORD, we beseech thee, send now prosperity.

²⁶Blessed be he that cometh in the name of the LORD: we have blessed you out of the house of the LORD.

²⁷The LORD is God, and he hath given us light: bind the sacrifice with cords, even unto the horns of the altar.

²⁸Thou art my God, and I will give thanks unto thee: thou art my God, I will exalt thee.

²⁹O give thanks unto the LORD; for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

ALEPH.

¹Blessed are they that are perfect in the way, who walk in the law of the LORD.

²Blessed are they that keep his testimonies, that seek him with the whole heart.

³Yea, they do no unrighteousness; they walk in his ways.

⁴Thou hast commanded us thy precepts, that we should observe them diligently.

⁵Oh that my ways were established to observe thy statutes!

⁶Then shall I not be ashamed, when I have respect unto all thy commandments.

⁷I will give thanks unto thee with uprightness of heart, when I learn thy righteous judgments.

⁸I will observe thy statutes: O forsake me not utterly.

BETH.

⁹Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way? by taking heed thereto according to thy word.

¹⁰With my whole heart have I sought thee: O let me not wander from thy commandments.

- ¹¹ Thy word have I laid up in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee.
¹² Blessed art thou, O LORD: teach me thy statutes.
¹³ With my lips have I declared all the judgments of thy mouth.
¹⁴ I have rejoiced in the way of thy testimonies, as much as in all riches.
¹⁵ I will meditate in thy precepts, and have respect unto thy ways.
¹⁶ I will delight myself in thy statutes: I will not forget thy word.

GIMEL.

- ¹⁷ Deal bountifully with thy servant, that I may live; so will I observe thy word.
¹⁸ Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law.
¹⁹ I am a sojourner in the earth: hide not thy commandments from me.
²⁰ My soul breaketh for the longing that it hath unto thy judgments at all times.
²¹ Thou hast rebuked the proud that are cursed, which do wander from thy commandments.
²² Take away from me reproach and contempt; for I have kept thy testimonies.
²³ Princes also sat and talked against me: but thy servant did meditate in thy statutes.
²⁴ Thy testimonies also are my delight and my counsellors.

DALETH.

- ²⁵ My soul cleaveth unto the dust: quicken thou me according to thy word.
²⁶ I declared my ways, and thou answeredst me: teach me thy statutes.
²⁷ Make me to understand the way of thy precepts: so shall I meditate of thy wondrous works.
²⁸ My soul melteth for heaviness: strengthen thou me according unto thy word.
²⁹ Remove from me the way of falsehood: and grant me thy law graciously.
³⁰ I have chosen the way of faithfulness: thy judgments have I set before me.
³¹ I cleave unto thy testimonies: O LORD, put me not to shame.
³² I will run the way of thy commandments, when thou shalt enlarge my heart.

HE.

- ³³ Teach me, O LORD, the way of thy statutes; and I shall keep it unto the end.
³⁴ Give me understanding, and I shall keep thy law; yea, I shall observe it with my whole heart.
³⁵ Make me to go in the path of thy commandments; for therein do I delight.
³⁶ Incline my heart unto thy testimonies, and not to covetousness.
³⁷ Turn away mine eyes from beholding vanity, and quicken me in thy ways.
³⁸ Confirm thy word unto thy servant, which belongeth unto the fear of thee.
³⁹ Turn away my reproach whereof I am afraid; for thy judgments are good.
⁴⁰ Behold, I have longed after thy precepts: quicken me in thy righteousness.

VAU.

- ⁴¹ Let thy mercies also come unto me, O LORD, even thy salvation, according to thy word.
⁴² So shall I have an answer for him that reproacheth me; for I trust in thy word.
⁴³ And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth; for I have hoped in thy judgments.
⁴⁴ So shall I observe thy law continually for ever and ever.
⁴⁵ And I will walk at liberty; for I have sought thy precepts.
⁴⁶ I will also speak of thy testimonies before kings, and will not be ashamed.
⁴⁷ And I will delight myself in thy commandments, which I have loved.
⁴⁸ I will lift up my hands also unto thy commandments, which I have loved; and I will meditate in thy statutes.

ZAIN.

- ⁴⁹ Remember the word unto thy servant, because thou hast made me to hope.
⁵⁰ This is my comfort in my affliction: for thy word hath quickened me.
⁵¹ The proud have had me greatly in derision: yet have I not swerved from thy law.
⁵² I have remembered thy judgments of old, O LORD, and have comforted myself.
⁵³ Hot indignation hath taken hold upon me, because of the wicked that forsake thy law.

⁵⁴ Thy statutes have been my songs in the house of my pilgrimage.

⁵⁵ I have remembered thy name, O LORD, in the night, and have observed thy law.

⁵⁶ This I have had, because I kept thy precepts.

CHETH.

⁵⁷ The LORD is my portion: I have said that I would observe thy words.

⁵⁸ I entreated thy favour with my whole heart: be merciful unto me according to thy word.

⁵⁹ I thought on my ways, and turned my feet unto thy testimonies.

⁶⁰ I made haste, and delayed not, to observe thy commandments.

⁶¹ The cords of the wicked have wrapped me round; but I have not forgotten thy law.

⁶² At midnight I will rise to give thanks unto thee because of thy righteous judgments.

⁶³ I am a companion of all them that fear thee, and of them that observe thy precepts.

⁶⁴ The earth, O LORD, is full of thy mercy: teach me thy statutes.

TETH.

⁶⁵ Thou hast dealt well with thy servant, O LORD, according unto thy word.

⁶⁶ Teach me good judgment and knowledge; for I have believed in thy commandments.

⁶⁷ Before I was afflicted I went astray; but now I observe thy word.

⁶⁸ Thou art good, and doest good; teach me thy statutes.

⁶⁹ The proud have forged a lie against me: with my whole heart will I keep thy precepts.

⁷⁰ Their heart is as fat as grease; but I delight in thy law.

⁷¹ It is good for me that I have been afflicted; that I might learn thy statutes.

⁷² The law of thy mouth is better unto me than thousands of gold and silver.

JOD.

⁷³ Thy hands have made me and fashioned me: give me understanding, that I may learn thy commandments.

⁷⁴ They that fear thee shall see me and be glad; because I have hoped in thy word.

⁷⁵ I know, O LORD, that thy judgments are righteous, and that in faithfulness thou hast afflicted me.

⁷⁶ Let, I pray thee, thy lovingkindness be for my comfort, according to thy word unto thy servant.

⁷⁷ Let thy tender mercies come unto me, that I may live: for thy law is my delight.

⁷⁸ Let the proud be ashamed; for they have overthrown me wrongfully: but I will meditate in thy precepts.

⁷⁹ Let those that fear thee turn unto me, and they shall know thy testimonies.

⁸⁰ Let my heart be perfect in thy statutes; that I be not ashamed.

CAPH.

⁸¹ My soul fainteth for thy salvation: but I hope in thy word.

⁸² Mine eyes fail for thy word, while I say, When wilt thou comfort me?

⁸³ For I am become like a bottle in the smoke; yet do I not forget thy statutes.

⁸⁴ How many are the days of thy servant? when wilt thou execute judgment on them that persecute me?

⁸⁵ The proud have digged pits for me, who are not after thy law.

⁸⁶ All thy commandments are faithful: they persecute me wrongfully; help thou me.

⁸⁷ They had almost consumed me upon earth; but I forsook not thy precepts.

⁸⁸ Quicken me after thy lovingkindness; so shall I observe the testimony of thy mouth.

LAMED.

⁸⁹ For ever, O LORD, thy word is settled in heaven.

⁹⁰ Thy faithfulness is unto all generations: thou hast established the earth, and it abideth.

⁹¹ They abide this day according to thine ordinances; for all things are thy servants.

⁹² Unless thy law had been my delight, I should then have perished in mine affliction.

- ⁹³ I will never forget thy precepts; for with them thou hast quickened me.
⁹⁴ I am thine, save me; for I have sought thy precepts.
⁹⁵ The wicked have waited for me to destroy me; but I will consider thy testimonies.
⁹⁶ I have seen an end of all perfection; but thy commandment is exceeding broad.

MEM.

- ⁹⁷ Oh how love I thy law! it is my meditation all the day.
⁹⁸ Thy commandments make me wiser than mine enemies; for they are ever with me.
⁹⁹ I have more understanding than all my teachers; for thy testimonies are my meditation.
¹⁰⁰ I understand more than the aged, because I have kept thy precepts.
¹⁰¹ I have refrained my feet from every evil way, that I might observe thy word.
¹⁰² I have not turned aside from thy judgments; for thou hast taught me.
¹⁰³ How sweet are thy words unto my taste! yea, sweeter than honey to my mouth!
¹⁰⁴ Through thy precepts I get understanding; therefore I hate every false way.

NUN.

- ¹⁰⁵ Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and light unto my path,
¹⁰⁶ I have sworn, and have confirmed it, that I will observe thy righteous judgments.
¹⁰⁷ I am afflicted very much: quicken me, O LORD, according unto thy word.
¹⁰⁸ Accept, I beseech thee, the freewill offerings of my mouth, O LORD, and teach me thy judgments.
¹⁰⁹ My soul is continually in my hand; yet do I not forget thy law.
¹¹⁰ The wicked have laid a snare for me; yet went I not astray from thy precepts.
¹¹¹ Thy testimonies have I taken as an heritage for ever; for they are the rejoicing of my heart.
¹¹² I have inclined mine heart to perform thy statutes, for ever, even unto the end.

SAMACH.

- ¹¹³ I hate them that are of a double mind; but thy law do I love.
¹¹⁴ Thou art my hiding place and my shield: I hope in thy word.
¹¹⁵ Depart from me, ye evil-doers; that I may keep the commandments of my God.
¹¹⁶ Uphold me according unto thy word, that I may live; and let me not be ashamed of my hope.
¹¹⁷ Hold thou me up, and I shall be safe, and shall have respect unto thy statutes continually.
¹¹⁸ Thou hast set at nought all them that err from thy statutes; for their deceit is falsehood.
¹¹⁹ Thou puttest away all the wicked of the earth like dross: therefore I love thy testimonies.
¹²⁰ My flesh trembleth for fear of thee; and I am afraid of thy judgments.

AIN.

- ¹²¹ I have done judgment and justice: leave me not to mine oppressors.
¹²² Be surety for thy servant for good: let not the proud oppress me.
¹²³ Mine eyes fail for thy salvation, and for thy righteous word.
¹²⁴ Deal with thy servant according unto thy mercy, and teach me thy statutes.
¹²⁵ I am thy servant, give me understanding; that I may know thy testimonies.
¹²⁶ It is time for the LORD to work; for they have made void thy law.
¹²⁷ Therefore I love thy commandments above gold, yea, above fine gold.
¹²⁸ Therefore I esteem all thy precepts concerning all things to be right; and I hate every false way.

PE.

- ¹²⁹ Thy testimonies are wonderful: therefore doth my soul keep them.
¹³⁰ The opening of thy words giveth light; it giveth understanding unto the simple.
¹³¹ I opened wide my mouth, and panted; for I longed for thy commandments.
¹³² Turn thee unto me, and have mercy upon me, as thou usest to do unto those that love thy name.

- ¹³³ Order my footsteps in thy word; and let not any iniquity have dominion over me.
- ¹³⁴ Redeem me from the oppression of man: so will I observe thy precepts.
- ¹³⁵ Make thy face to shine upon thy servant; and teach me thy statutes.
- ¹³⁶ Mine eyes run down with rivers of water, because they observe not thy law.

TZADE.

- ¹³⁷ Righteous art thou, O LORD, and upright are thy judgments.
- ¹³⁸ Thou hast commanded thy testimonies in righteousness and very faithfulness.
- ¹³⁹ My zeal hath consumed me, because mine adversaries have forgotten thy words.
- ¹⁴⁰ Thy word is very pure; therefore thy servant loveth it.
- ¹⁴¹ I am small and despised: yet do not I forget thy precepts.
- ¹⁴² Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, and thy law is truth.
- ¹⁴³ Trouble and anguish have taken hold on me: yet thy commandments are my delight.
- ¹⁴⁴ Thy testimonies are righteous for ever: give me understanding, and I shall live.

KOPH.

- ¹⁴⁵ I have called with my whole heart; answer me, O LORD: I will keep thy statutes.
- ¹⁴⁶ I have called unto thee; save me, and I shall observe thy testimonies.
- ¹⁴⁷ I prevented the dawning of the morning, and cried: I hoped in thy words.
- ¹⁴⁸ Mine eyes prevented the night watches, that I might meditate in thy word.
- ¹⁴⁹ Hear my voice according unto thy lovingkindness: quicken me, O LORD, according to thy judgments.
- ¹⁵⁰ They draw nigh that follow after wickedness; they are far from thy law.
- ¹⁵¹ Thou art nigh, O LORD; and all thy commandments are truth.
- ¹⁵² Of old have I known from thy testimonies, that thou hast founded them for ever.

RESH.

- ¹⁵³ Consider mine affliction, and deliver me; for I do not forget thy law.
- ¹⁵⁴ Plead thou my cause, and redeem me: quicken me according to thy word.
- ¹⁵⁵ Salvation is far from the wicked; for they seek not thy statutes.
- ¹⁵⁶ Great are thy tender mercies, O LORD: quicken me according to thy judgments.
- ¹⁵⁷ Many are my persecutors and mine adversaries; yet have I not swerved from thy testimonies.
- ¹⁵⁸ I beheld the treacherous dealers, and was grieved; because they observed not thy word.
- ¹⁵⁹ Consider how I love thy precepts: quicken me, O LORD, according to thy lovingkindness.
- ¹⁶⁰ The sum of thy word is truth; and every one of thy righteous judgments endureth for ever.

SHIN.

- ¹⁶¹ Princes have persecuted me without a cause; but my heart standeth in awe of thy words.
- ¹⁶² I rejoice at thy word, as one that findeth great spoil.
- ¹⁶³ I hate and abhor falsehood; but thy law do I love.
- ¹⁶⁴ Seven times a day do I praise thee, because of thy righteous judgments.
- ¹⁶⁵ Great peace have they which love thy law; and they have none occasion of stumbling.
- ¹⁶⁶ I have hoped for thy salvation, O LORD, and have done thy commandments.
- ¹⁶⁷ My soul hath observed thy testimonies; and I love them exceedingly.
- ¹⁶⁸ I have observed thy precepts and thy testimonies; for all my ways are before thee.

TAU.

- ¹⁶⁹ Let my cry come near before thee, O LORD: give me understanding according to thy word.
- ¹⁷⁰ Let my supplication come before thee: deliver me according to thy word.
- ¹⁷¹ Let my lips utter praise; for thou teachest me thy statutes.
- ¹⁷² Let my tongue sing of thy word; for all thy commandments are righteousness.

- ¹⁷³Let thine hand be ready to help me; for I have chosen thy precepts.
¹⁷⁴I have longed for thy salvation, O LORD; and thy law is my delight.
¹⁷⁵Let my soul live, and it shall praise thee; and let thy judgments help me.
¹⁷⁶I have gone astray like a lost sheep; seek thy servant; for I do not forget thy commandments.

A Song of Ascents.

- ¹In my distress I cried unto the LORD, and he answered me.
²Deliver my soul, O LORD, from lying lips, and from a deceitful tongue.
³What shall be given unto thee, and what shall be done more unto thee, thou deceitful tongue?
⁴Sharp arrows of the mighty, with coals of juniper.
⁵Woe is me, that I sojourn in Meshech, that I dwell among the tents of Kedar!
⁶My soul hath long had her dwelling with him that hateth peace.
⁷I am for peace: but when I speak, they are for war.

121

A Song of Ascents.

- ¹I will lift up mine eyes unto the mountains: from whence shall my help come?
²My help cometh from the LORD, which made heaven and earth.
³He will not suffer thy foot to be moved: he that keepeth thee will not slumber.
⁴Behold, he that keepeth Israel shall neither slumber nor sleep.
⁵The LORD is thy keeper: the LORD is thy shade upon thy right hand.
⁶The sun shall not smite thee by day, nor the moon by night.
⁷The LORD shall keep thee from all evil; he shall keep thy soul.
⁸The LORD shall keep thy going out and thy coming in, from this time forth and for evermore.

A Song of Ascents; of David.

- ¹I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go unto the house of the LORD.
²Our feet are standing within thy gates, O Jerusalem;

- ³Jerusalem, that art builded as a city that is compact together:
⁴Whither the tribes go up, even the tribes of the LORD for a testimony unto Israel, to give thanks into the name of the LORD.
⁵For there are set thrones for judgment, the thrones of the house of David.
⁶Pray for the peace of Jerusalem: they shall prosper that love thee.
⁷Peace be within thy walls, and prosperity within thy palaces.
⁸For my brethren and companions' sakes, I will now say, Peace be within thee.
⁹For the sake of the house of the LORD our God I will seek thy good.

123

A Song of Ascents.

- ¹Unto thee do I lift up mine eyes, O thou that sittest in the heavens.
²Behold, as the eyes of servants look unto the hand of their master, as the eyes of a maiden unto the hand of her mistress; so our eyes look unto the LORD our God, until he have mercy upon us.
³Have mercy upon us, O LORD, have mercy upon us: for we are exceedingly filled with contempt.
⁴Our soul is exceedingly filled with the scorning of those that are at ease, and with the contempt of the proud.

124

A Song of Ascents; of David.

- ¹If it had not been the LORD who was on our side, let Israel now say;
²If it had not been the LORD who was on our side, when men rose up against us:
³Then they had swallowed us up alive, when their wrath was kindled against us:
⁴Then the waters had overwhelmed us, the stream had gone over our soul:
⁵Then the proud waters had gone over our soul.
⁶Blessed be the LORD, who hath not given us as a prey to their teeth.
⁷Our soul is escaped as a bird out of the snare of the fowlers: the snare is broken, and we are escaped.

⁸Our help is in the name of the LORD, who made heaven and earth.

125

A Song of Ascents.

¹They that trust in the LORD are as mount Zion, which cannot be moved, but abideth for ever.

²As the mountains are round about Jerusalem, so the LORD is round about his people, from this time forth and for evermore.

³For the sceptre of wickedness shall not rest upon the lot of the righteous; that the righteous put not forth their hands unto iniquity.

⁴Do good, O LORD, unto those that be good, and to them that are upright in their hearts.

⁵But as for such as turn aside unto their crooked ways, the LORD shall lead them forth with the workers of iniquity. Peace be upon Israel.

A Song of Ascents.

¹When the LORD turned again the captivity of Zion, we were like unto them that dream.

²Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue with singing; then said they among the nations, The LORD hath done great things for them.

³The LORD hath done great things for us; whereof we are glad.

⁴Turn again our captivity, O LORD, as the streams in the South.

⁵They that sow in tears shall reap in joy.

⁶Though he goeth on his way weeping, bearing forth the seed; he shall come again with joy, bringing his sheaves with him.

127

A Song of Ascents; of Solomon.

¹Except the LORD build the house, they labour in vain that build it: except the LORD keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain.

²It is vain for you that ye rise up early, and so late take rest, and eat the bread of toil: for so he giveth unto his beloved sleep.

³Lo, children are an heritage of the LORD: and the fruit of the womb is his reward.

⁴As arrows in the hand of a mighty man, so are the children of youth.

⁵Happy is the man that hath his quiver full of them: they shall not be ashamed, when they speak with their enemies in the gate.

128

A Song of Ascents.

¹Blessed is every one that feareth the LORD, that walketh in his ways.

²For thou shalt eat the labour of thine hands: happy shalt thou be, and it shall be well with thee.

³Thy wife shall be as a fruitful vine, in the innermost parts of thine house: thy children like olive plants, round about thy table.

⁴Behold, that thus shall the man be blessed that feareth the LORD.

⁵The LORD shall bless thee out of Zion: and thou shalt see the good of Jerusalem all the days of thy life.

⁶Yea, thou shalt see thy children's children. Peace be upon Israel.

A Song of Ascents.

¹Many a time have they afflicted me from my youth up, let Israel now say;

²Many a time have they afflicted me from my youth up: yet they have not prevailed against me.

³The plowers plowed upon my back; they made long their furrows.

⁴The LORD is righteous: he hath cut asunder the cords of the wicked.

⁵Let them be ashamed and turned backward, all they that hate Zion.

⁶Let them be as the grass upon the housetops, which withereth afore it groweth up:

⁷Wherewith the reaper filleth not his hand, nor he that bindeth sheaves his bosom.

⁸Neither do they which go by say, The blessing of the LORD be upon you; we bless you in the name of the LORD.

130

A Song of Ascents.

- ¹Out of the depths have I cried unto thee, O LORD.
²Lord, hear my voice: let thine ears be attentive to the voice of my supplications.
³If thou, LORD, shouldest mark iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand?
⁴But there is forgiveness with thee, that thou mayest be feared.
⁵I wait for the LORD, my soul doth wait, and in his word do I hope.
⁶My soul looketh for the Lord, more than watchmen look for the morning; yea, more than watchmen for the morning.
⁷O Israel, hope in the LORD; for with the LORD there is mercy, and with him is plenteous redemption.
⁸And he shall redeem Israel from all his iniquities.

131

A Song of Ascents; of David.

- ¹LORD, my heart is not haughty, nor mine eyes lofty; neither do I exercise myself in great matters, or in things too wonderful for me.
²Surely I have stilled and quieted my soul; like a weaned child with his mother, my soul is with me like a weaned child.
³O Israel, hope in the LORD from this time forth and for evermore.

132

A Song of Ascents.

- ¹LORD, remember for David all his affliction;
²How he sware unto the LORD, and vowed unto the Mighty One of Jacob:
³Surely I will not come into the tabernacle of my house, nor go up into my bed;
⁴I will not give sleep to mine eyes, or slumber to mine eyelids;
⁵Until I find out a place for the LORD, a tabernacle for the Mighty One of Jacob.
⁶Lo, we heard of it in Ephrathah: we found it in the field of the wood.
⁷We will go into his tabernacles; we will worship at his footstool.
⁸Arise, O LORD, into thy resting place; thou, and the ark of thy strength.

- ⁹Let thy priests be clothed with righteousness; and let thy saints shout for joy.
¹⁰For thy servant David's sake turn not away the face of thine anointed.
¹¹The LORD hath sworn unto David in truth; he will not turn from it: of the fruit of thy body will I set upon thy throne.
¹²If thy children will keep my covenant and my testimony that I shall teach them, their children also shall sit upon thy throne for evermore.
¹³For the LORD hath chosen Zion; he hath desired it for his habitation.
¹⁴This is my resting place for ever: here will I dwell; for I have desired it.
¹⁵I will abundantly bless her provision: I will satisfy her poor with bread.
¹⁶Her priests also will I clothe with salvation: and her saints shall shout aloud for joy.

- ¹⁷There will I make the horn of David to bud: I have ordained a lamp for mine anointed.
¹⁸His enemies will I clothe with shame: but upon himself shall his crown flourish.

133

A Song of Ascents; of David.

- ¹Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!
²It is like the precious oil upon the head, that ran down upon the beard, even Aaron's beard; that came down upon the skirt of his garments;
³Like the dew of Hermon, that cometh down upon the mountains of Zion: for there the LORD commanded the blessing, even life for evermore.

134

A Song of Ascents.

- ¹Behold, bless ye the LORD, all ye servants of the LORD, which by night stand in the house of the LORD.
²Lift up your hands to the sanctuary, and bless ye the LORD.
³The LORD bless thee out of Zion; even he that made heaven and earth.

- ¹ Praise ye the LORD. Praise ye the name of the LORD; praise him, O ye servants of the LORD:
- ² Ye that stand in the house of the LORD, in the courts of the house of our God.
- ³ Praise ye the LORD; for the LORD is good: sing praises unto his name; for it is pleasant.
- ⁴ For the LORD hath chosen Jacob unto himself, and Israel for his peculiar treasure.
- ⁵ For I know that the LORD is great, and that our Lord is above all gods.
- ⁶ Whatsoever the LORD pleased, that hath he done, in heaven and in earth, in the seas and in all deeps.
- ⁷ He causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth; he maketh lightnings for the rain; he bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.
- ⁸ Who smote the firstborn of Egypt, both of man and beast.
- ⁹ He sent signs and wonders into the midst of thee, O Egypt, upon Pharaoh, and upon all his servants.
- ¹⁰ Who smote many nations, and slew mighty kings;
- ¹¹ Sihon king of the Amorites, and Og king of Bashan, and all the kingdoms of Canaan:
- ¹² And gave their land for an heritage, an heritage unto Israel his people.
- ¹³ Thy name, O LORD, endureth for ever; thy memorial, O LORD, throughout all generations.
- ¹⁴ For the LORD shall judge his people, and repent himself concerning his servants.
- ¹⁵ The idols of the nations are silver and gold, the work of men's hands.
- ¹⁶ They have mouths, but they speak not; eyes have they, but they see not;
- ¹⁷ They have ears, but they hear not; neither is there any breath in their mouths.
- ¹⁸ They that make them shall be like unto them; yea, every one that trusteth in them.
- ¹⁹ O house of Israel, bless ye the LORD: O house of Aaron, bless ye the LORD:
- ²⁰ O house of Levi, bless ye the LORD: ye that fear the LORD, bless ye the LORD.

- ²¹ Blessed be the LORD out of Zion, who dwelleth at Jerusalem. Praise ye the LORD.

- ¹ O GIVE thanks unto the LORD; for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.
- ² O give thanks unto the God of gods: for his mercy endureth for ever.
- ³ O give thanks unto the Lord of lords: for his mercy endureth for ever.
- ⁴ To him who alone doeth great wonders: for his mercy endureth for ever.
- ⁵ To him that by understanding made the heavens: for his mercy endureth for ever.
- ⁶ To him that spread forth the earth above the waters: for his mercy endureth for ever.
- ⁷ To him that made great lights: for his mercy endureth for ever:
- ⁸ The sun to rule by day: for his mercy endureth for ever:
- ⁹ The moon and stars to rule by night: for his mercy endureth for ever.
- ¹⁰ To him that smote Egypt in their first-born: for his mercy endureth for ever:
- ¹¹ And brought out Israel from among them: for his mercy endureth for ever:
- ¹² With a strong hand, and with a stretched out arm: for his mercy endureth for ever.
- ¹³ To him which divided the Red Sea in sunder: for his mercy endureth for ever:
- ¹⁴ And made Israel to pass through the midst of it: for his mercy endureth for ever:
- ¹⁵ But overthrew Pharaoh and his host in the Red Sea: for his mercy endureth for ever.
- ¹⁶ To him which led his people through the wilderness: for his mercy endureth for ever.
- ¹⁷ To him which smote great kings: for his mercy endureth for ever:
- ¹⁸ And slew famous kings: for his mercy endureth for ever:
- ¹⁹ Sihon king of the Amorites: for his mercy endureth for ever:
- ²⁰ And Og king of Bashan: for his mercy endureth for ever:
- ²¹ And gave their land for an heritage: for his mercy endureth for ever:

- ²² Even an heritage unto Israel his servant:
for his mercy endureth for ever.
- ²³ Who remembered us in our low estate: for his mercy endureth for ever:
- ²⁴ And hath delivered us from our adversaries: for his mercy endureth for ever.
- ²⁵ He giveth food to all flesh: for his mercy
endureth for ever.
- ²⁶ O give thanks unto the God of heaven: for his mercy endureth for ever.

- ¹ By the rivers of Babylon, there we sat down, yea, we wept, when we remembered Zion.
- ² Upon the willows in the midst thereof we hanged up our harps.
- ³ For there they that led us captive required of us songs, and they that wasted us required of us mirth, saying, Sing us
one of the songs of Zion.
- ⁴ How shall we sing the LORD'S song in a strange land?
- ⁵ If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning.
- ⁶ Let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth, if I remember thee not; if I prefer not Jerusalem above my chief joy.
- ⁷ Remember, O LORD, against the children of Edom the day of Jerusalem; who said, Rase it, rase it, even to the foundation thereof.
- ⁸ O daughter of Babylon, that art to be destroyed; happy shall he be, that rewardeth thee as thou hast served us.
- ⁹ Happy shall he be, that taketh and dasheth thy little ones against the rock.

138

A Psalm of David.

- ¹ I will give thee thanks with my whole heart: before the gods will I sing praises unto thee.
- ² I will worship toward thy holy temple, and give thanks unto thy name for thy lovingkindness and for thy truth:
for thou hast magnified thy word
above all thy name.
- ³ In the day that I called thou answeredst me, thou didst encourage me with strength in my soul.

- ⁴ All the kings of the earth shall give thee
thanks, O LORD, for they have heard the words of thy mouth.
- ⁵ Yea, they shall sing of the ways of the LORD; for great is the glory of the LORD.
- ⁶ For though the LORD be high, yet hath he respect unto the lowly: but the haughty he knoweth from afar.
- ⁷ Though I walk in the midst of trouble, thou wilt revive me; thou shalt stretch forth thine hand against the wrath of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall save me.
- ⁸ The LORD will perfect that which con-cerneth me: thy mercy, O LORD, endureth for ever; forsake not the works of thine own hands.

139

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

- ¹ LORD, thou hast searched me, and known me.
- ² Thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising, thou understandest my thought afar off.
- ³ Thou searchest out my path and my lying down, and art acquainted with all my ways.
- ⁴ For there is not a word in my tongue,
but, lo, O LORD, thou knowest it altogether.
- ⁵ Thou hast beset me behind and before, and laid thine hand upon me.
- ⁶ Such knowledge is too wonderful for me; it is high, I cannot attain unto it.
- ⁷ Whither shall I flee from thy spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?
- ⁸ If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there:
if I make my bed in Sheol, behold, thou art there.
- ⁹ If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea;
- ¹⁰ Even there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me.
- ¹¹ If I say, Surely the darkness shall overwhelm me, and the light about me shall be night;
- ¹² Even the darkness hideth not from thee,
but the night shineth as the day:
the darkness and the light are both alike to thee.

- ¹³ For thou hast possessed my reins: thou hast covered me in my mother's womb.
- ¹⁴ I will give thanks unto thee; for I am fearfully and wonderfully made: wonderful are thy works; and that my soul knoweth right well.
- ¹⁵ My frame was not hidden from thee, when I was made in secret, and curiously wrought in the lowest parts of the earth.
- ¹⁶ Thine eyes did see mine unperfect substance, and in thy book were all my members written, which day by day were fashioned, when as yet there was none of them.
- ¹⁷ How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God! how great is the sum of them!
- ¹⁸ If I should count them, they are more in number than the sand: when I awake, I am still with thee.
- ¹⁹ Surely thou wilt slay the wicked, O God: depart from me therefore, ye blood-thirsty men.
- ²⁰ For they speak against thee wickedly, and thine enemies take thy name in vain.
- ²¹ Do not I hate them, O LORD, that hate thee? and am not I grieved with those that rise up against thee?
- ²² I hate them with perfect hatred: I count them mine enemies.
- ²³ Search me, O God, and know my heart: try me and know my thoughts:
- ²⁴ And see if there be any way of wickedness in me, and lead me in the way everlasting.

140

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

- ¹ Deliver me, O LORD, from the evil man; preserve me from the violent man:
- ² Which imagine mischiefs in their heart; continually do they gather themselves together for war.
- ³ They have sharpened their tongue like a serpent; adders' poison is under their lips.
- Selah
- ⁴ Keep me, O LORD, from the hands of the wicked; preserve me from the violent man: Who have purposed to thrust aside my steps.

- ⁵ The proud have hid a snare for me, and cords; they have spread a net by the way side; they have set gins for me.
- Selah
- ⁶ I said unto the LORD, Thou art my God: give ear unto the voice of my supplications, O LORD.
- ⁷ O GOD the Lord, the strength of my salvation, thou hast covered my head in the day of battle.
- ⁸ Grant not, O LORD, the desires of the wicked; further not his evil device; lest they exalt themselves.
- Selah
- ⁹ As for the head of those that compass me about, let the mischief of their own lips cover them.
- ¹⁰ Let burning coals fall upon them: let them be cast into the fire; into deep pits, that they rise not up again.
- ¹¹ An evil speaker shall not be established in the earth: evil shall hunt the violent man to overthrow him.
- ¹² I know that the LORD will maintain the cause of the afflicted, and the right of the needy.
- ¹³ Surely the righteous shall give thanks unto thy name: the upright shall dwell in thy presence.

A Psalm of David.

- ¹ LORD, I have called upon thee; make haste unto me: give ear unto my voice, when I call unto thee.
- ² Let my prayer be set forth as incense before thee; the lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice.
- ³ Set a watch, O LORD, before my mouth; keep the door of my lips.
- ⁴ Incline not my heart to any evil thing, to be occupied in deeds of wickedness with men that work iniquity: and let me not eat of their dainties.
- ⁵ Let the righteous smite me, it shall be a kindness; and let him reprove me, it shall be as oil upon the head; let not my head refuse it: for even in their wickedness shall my prayer continue.
- ⁶ Their judges are thrown down by the sides of the rock; and they shall hear my words; for they are sweet.

- ⁷ As when one ploweth and cleaveth the earth, our bones are scattered at the grave's mouth.
- ⁸ For mine eyes are unto thee, O GOD the Lord: in thee do I put my trust; leave not my soul destitute.
- ⁹ Keep me from the snare which they have laid for me, and from the gins of the workers of iniquity.
- ¹⁰ Let the wicked fall into their own nets, whilst that I withal escape.

Maschil of David, when he was in the cave; a Prayer.

- ¹ I cry with my voice unto the LORD; with my voice unto the LORD do I make supplication.
- ² I pour out my complaint before him; I shew before him my trouble.
- ³ When my spirit was overwhelmed within me, thou knewest my path. In the way wherein I walk have they hidden a snare for me.
- ⁴ Look on my right hand, and see; for there is no man that knoweth me: refuge hath failed me; no man careth for my soul.
- ⁵ I cried unto thee, O LORD; I said, Thou art my refuge, my portion in the land of the living.
- ⁶ Attend unto my cry; for I am brought very low: deliver me from my persecutors; for they are stronger than I.
- ⁷ Bring my soul out of prison, that I may give thanks unto thy name: the righteous shall compass me about; for thou shalt deal bountifully with me.

143

A Psalm of David.

- ¹ Hear my prayer, O LORD; give ear to my supplications: in thy faithfulness answer me, and in thy righteousness.
- ² And enter not into judgment with thy servant; for in thy sight shall no man living be justified.
- ³ For the enemy hath persecuted my soul; he hath smitten my life down to the ground: he hath made me to dwell in dark places, as those that have been long dead.

- ⁴ Therefore is my spirit overwhelmed within me; my heart within me is desolate.
- ⁵ I remember the days of old; I meditate on all thy doings: I muse on the work of thy hands.
- ⁶ I spread forth my hands unto thee: my soul thirsteth after thee, as a weary land.

Selah

- ⁷ Make haste to answer me, O LORD; my spirit faileth: hide not thy face from me; lest I become like them that go down into the pit.
- ⁸ Cause me to hear thy lovingkindness in the morning; for in thee do I trust: cause me to know the way wherein I should walk; for I lift up my soul unto thee.
- ⁹ Deliver me, O LORD, from mine enemies: I flee unto thee to hide me.
- ¹⁰ Teach me to do thy will; for thou art my God: thy spirit is good; lead me in the land of uprightness.
- ¹¹ Quicken me, O LORD, for thy name's sake: in thy righteousness bring my soul out of trouble.
- ¹² And in thy lovingkindness cut off mine enemies, and destroy all them that afflict my soul; for I am thy servant.

A Psalm off David.

- ¹ Blessed be the LORD my rock, which teacheth my hands to war, and my fingers to fight:
- ² My lovingkindness, and my fortress, my high tower, and my deliverer; my shield, and he in whom I trust; who subdueth my people under me.
- ³ LORD, what is man, that thou takest knowledge of him? or the son of man, that thou makest account of him?
- ⁴ Man is like to vanity: his days are as a shadow that passeth away.
- ⁵ Bow thy heavens, O LORD, and come down: touch the mountains, and they shall smoke.
- ⁶ Cast forth lightning, and scatter them; send out thine arrows, and discomfit them.

- ⁷ Stretch forth thine hand from above; rescue me, and deliver me out of great waters, out of the hand of strangers;
- ⁸ Whose mouth speaketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood.
- ⁹ I will sing a new song unto thee, O God: upon a psaltery of ten strings will I sing praises unto thee.
- ¹⁰ It is he that giveth salvation unto kings: who rescueth David his servant from the hurtful sword.
- ¹¹ Rescue me, and deliver me out of the hand of strangers, whose mouth speaketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood.
- ¹² When our sons shall be as plants grown up in their youth; and our daughters as corner stones hewn after the fashion of a palace;
- ¹³ When our garners are full, affording all manner of store; and our sheep bring forth thousands and ten thousands in our fields;
- ¹⁴ When our oxen are well laden; when there is no breaking in, and no going forth, and no outcry in our streets;
- ¹⁵ Happy is the people, that is in such a case: yea, happy is the people, whose God is the LORD.

145

A Psalm of praise; of David.

- ¹ I will extol thee, my God, O King; and I will bless thy name for ever and ever.
- ² Every day will I bless thee; and I will praise thy name for ever and ever.
- ³ Great is the LORD, and highly to be praised; and his greatness is unsearchable.
- ⁴ One generation shall laud thy works to another, and shall declare thy mighty acts.
- ⁵ Of the glorious majesty of thine honour, and of thy wondrous works, will I meditate.
- ⁶ And men shall speak of the might of thy terrible acts; and I will declare thy greatness.
- ⁷ They shall utter the memory of thy great goodness, and shall sing of thy righteousness.
- ⁸ The LORD is gracious, and full of compassion; slow to anger, and of great mercy.

- ⁹ The LORD is good to all; and his tender mercies are over all his works.
- ¹⁰ All thy works shall give thanks unto thee, O LORD; and thy saints shall bless thee.
- ¹¹ They shall speak of the glory of thy kingdom, and talk of thy power;
- ¹² To make known to the sons of men his mighty acts, and the glory of the majesty of his kingdom.
- ¹³ Thy kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all generations.
- ¹⁴ The LORD upholdeth all that fall, and raiseth up all those that be bowed down.
- ¹⁵ The eyes of all wait upon thee; and thou givest them their meat in due season.
- ¹⁶ Thou openest thine hand, and satisfiest the desire of every living thing.
- ¹⁷ The LORD is righteous in all his ways, and gracious in all his works.
- ¹⁸ The LORD is nigh unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth.
- ¹⁹ He will fulfill the desire of them that fear him; he also will hear their cry, and will save them.
- ²⁰ The LORD preserveth all them that love him; but all the wicked will he destroy.
- ²¹ My mouth shall speak the praise of the LORD; and let all flesh bless his holy name for ever and ever.

- ¹ Praise ye the LORD. Praise the LORD, O my soul.
- ² While I live will I praise the LORD: I will sing praises unto my God while I have any being.
- ³ Put not your trust in princes, nor in the son of man, in whom there is no help.
- ⁴ His breath goeth forth, he returneth to his earth; in that very day his thoughts perish.
- ⁵ Happy is he that hath the God of Jacob for his help, whose hope is in the LORD his God:
- ⁶ Which made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is; which keepeth truth for ever:

- ⁷ Which executeth judgment for the oppressed; which giveth food to the hungry: the LORD looseth the prisoners;
- ⁸ The LORD openeth the eyes of the blind; the LORD raiseth up them that are bowed down; the LORD loveth the righteous;
- ⁹ The LORD preserveth the strangers; he uphordeth the fatherless and widow; but the way of the wicked he turneth upside down.
- ¹⁰ The LORD shall reign for ever, thy God, O Zion, unto all generations. Praise ye the LORD.

- ¹ Praise ye the LORD; for it is good to sing praises unto our God; for it is pleasant, and praise is comely.
- ² The LORD doth build up Jerusalem; he gathereth together the outcasts of Israel.
- ³ He healeth the broken in heart, and bindeth up their wounds.
- ⁴ He telleth the number of the stars; he giveth them all their names.
- ⁵ Great is our Lord, and mighty in power; his understanding is infinite.
- ⁶ The LORD upholdeth the meek: he bringeth the wicked down to the ground.
- ⁷ Sing unto the LORD with thanksgiving; sing praises upon the harp unto our God:
- ⁸ Who covereth the heaven with clouds, who prepareth rain for the earth, who maketh grass to grow upon the mountains.
- ⁹ He giveth to the beast his food, and to the young ravens which cry.
- ¹⁰ He delighteth not in the strength of the horse: he taketh no pleasure in the legs of a man.
- ¹¹ The LORD taketh pleasure in them that fear him, in those that hope in his mercy.
- ¹² Praise the LORD, O Jerusalem; praise thy God, O Zion.
- ¹³ For he hath strengthened the bars of thy gates; he hath blessed thy children within thee.
- ¹⁴ He maketh peace in thy borders; he filleth thee with the finest of the wheat.

- ¹⁵ He sendeth out his commandment upon earth; his word runneth very swiftly.
- ¹⁶ He giveth snow like wool; he scattereth the hoar frost like ashes.
- ¹⁷ He casteth forth his ice like morsels: who can stand before his cold?
- ¹⁸ He sendeth out his word, and melteth them: he causeth his wind to blow, and the waters flow.
- ¹⁹ He sheweth his word unto Jacob, his statutes and his judgments unto Israel.
- ²⁰ He hath not dealt so with any nation: and as for his judgments, they have not known them. Praise ye the LORD.

- ¹ Praise ye the LORD. Praise ye the LORD from the heavens: praise him in the heights.
- ² Praise ye him, all his angels: praise ye him, all his host.
- ³ Praise ye him, sun and moon; praise him, all ye stars of light.
- ⁴ Praise him, ye heavens of heavens, and ye waters that be above the heavens.
- ⁵ Let them praise the name of the LORD: for he commanded, and they were created.
- ⁶ He hath also established them for ever and ever: he hath made a decree which shall not pass away.
- ⁷ Praise the LORD from the earth, ye dragons, and all deeps:
- ⁸ Fire and hail, snow and vapour; stormy wind, fulfilling his word:
- ⁹ Mountains and all hills; fruitful trees and all cedars:
- ¹⁰ Beasts and all cattle; creeping things and flying fowl:
- ¹¹ Kings of the earth and all peoples; princes and all judges of the earth:
- ¹² Both young men and maidens; old men and children:
- ¹³ Let them praise the name of the LORD; for his name alone is exalted: his glory is above the earth and heaven.
- ¹⁴ And he hath lifted up the horn of his people, the praise of all his saints; even of the children of Israel, a people near unto him. Praise ye the LORD.

- ¹ Praise ye the LORD. Sing unto the LORD a new song, and his praise in the assembly of the saints.
- ² Let Israel rejoice in him that made him:
let the children of Zion be joyful in their King.
- ³ Let them praise his name in the dance: let them sing praises unto him with the timbrel and harp.
- ⁴ For the LORD taketh pleasure in his people: he will beautify the meek with salvation.
- ⁵ Let the saints exult in glory: let them sing for joy upon their beds.
- ⁶ Let the high praises of God be in their mouth, and a two-edged sword in their hand;
- ⁷ To execute vengeance upon the nations,
and punishments upon the peoples;
- ⁸ To bind their king's with chains, and their nobles with fetters of iron;
- ⁹ To execute upon them the judgment written: this honour have all his saints.
Praise ye the LORD.

- ¹ Praise ye the LORD. Praise God in his sanctuary: praise him in the firmament of his power.
- ² Praise him for his mighty acts: praise him according to his excellent greatness.
- ³ Praise him with the sound of the trumpet:
praise him with the psaltery and harp.
- ⁴ Praise him with the timbrel and dance:
praise him with stringed instruments and the pipe.
- ⁵ Praise him upon the loud cymbals: praise him upon the high sounding cymbals.
- ⁶ Let every thing that hath breath praise the LORD. Praise ye the LORD.

THE PROVERBS.

¹ The proverbs of Solomon the son of David, king of Israel: ² To know wisdom and instruction; to discern the words of understanding; ³ To receive instruction in wise dealing, in righteousness and judgment and equity; ⁴ To give subtilty to the simple, to the young man knowledge and discretion: ⁵ That the wise man may hear, and increase in learning; and that the man of understanding may attain unto sound counsels: ⁶ To understand a proverb, and a figure; the words of the wise, and their dark sayings. ⁷ The fear of the LORD is the beginning of knowledge: but the foolish despise wisdom and instruction. ⁸ My son, hear the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother: ⁹ For they shall be a chaplet of grace unto thy head, and chains about thy neck. ¹⁰ My son, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not. ¹¹ If they say, Come with us, let us lay wait for blood, let us lurk privily for the innocent without cause; ¹² Let us swallow them up alive as Sheol, and whole, as those that go down into the pit; ¹³ We shall find all precious substance, we shall fill our houses with spoil; ¹⁴ Thou shalt cast thy lot among us; we will all have one purse: ¹⁵ My son, walk not thou in the way with them; refrain thy foot from their path: ¹⁶ For their feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed blood. ¹⁷ For in vain is the net spread, in the eyes of any bird: ¹⁸ And these lay wait for their own blood, they lurk privily for their own lives. ¹⁹ So are the ways of every one that is greedy of gain; it taketh away the life of the owners thereof. ²⁰ Wisdom crieth aloud in the street; she uttereth her voice in the broad places; ²¹ She crieth in the chief place of concourse; at the entering in of the gates, in the city, she uttereth her words: ²² How long, ye simple ones, will ye love simplicity? and scorners delight them in scorning, and fools hate knowledge? ²³ Turn you at my reproof: behold, I will pour out my spirit unto you, I will make known my words unto you. ²⁴ Because I have called, and ye refused; I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded; ²⁵ But ye have set at nought all my counsel, and would

none of my reproof: ²⁶ I also will laugh in the day of your calamity; I will mock when your fear cometh; ²⁷ When your fear cometh as a storm, and your calamity cometh on as a whirlwind; when distress and anguish come upon you. ²⁸ Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer; they shall seek me diligently, but they shall not find me: ²⁹ For that they hated knowledge, and did not choose the fear of the LORD: ³⁰ They would none of my counsel; they despised all my reproof: ³¹ Therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own devices. ³² For the backsliding of the simple shall slay them, and the prosperity of fools shall destroy them. ³³ But whoso hearkeneth unto me shall dwell securely, and shall be quiet without fear of evil.

¹ My son, if thou wilt receive my words, and lay up my commandments with thee; ² So that thou incline thine ear unto wisdom, and apply thine heart to understanding; ³ Yea, if thou cry after discernment, and lift up thy voice for understanding; ⁴ If thou seek her as silver, and search for her as for hid treasures; ⁵ Then shalt thou understand the fear of the LORD, and find the knowledge of God. ⁶ For the LORD giveth wisdom; out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding: ⁷ He layeth up sound wisdom for the upright, he is a shield to them that walk in integrity; ⁸ That he may guard the paths of judgment, and preserve the way of his saints. ⁹ Then shalt thou understand righteousness and judgment, and equity, yea, every good path. ¹⁰ For wisdom shall enter into thine heart, and knowledge shall be pleasant unto thy soul; ¹¹ Discretion shall watch over thee, understanding shall keep thee: ¹² To deliver thee from the way of evil, from the men that speak froward things; ¹³ Who forsake the paths of uprightness, to walk in the ways of darkness; ¹⁴ Who rejoice to do evil, and delight in the frowardness of evil; ¹⁵ Who are crooked in their ways, and perverse in their paths: ¹⁶ To deliver thee from the strange woman, even from the stranger which flattereth with her words; ¹⁷ Which forsaketh the friend of her youth, and forgetteth the covenant of her God:

¹ My son, forget not my law; but let thine heart keep my commandments: ² For length of days, and years of life, and peace, shall they add to thee. ³ Let not mercy and truth forsake thee: bind them about thy neck; write them upon the table of thine heart: ⁴ So shalt thou find favour and good understanding in the sight of God and man. ⁵ Trust in the LORD with all thine heart, and lean not upon thine own understanding: ⁶ In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths. ⁷ Be not wise in thine own eyes; fear the LORD, and depart from evil: ⁸ It shall be health to thy navel, and marrow to thy bones. ⁹ Honour the LORD with thy substance, and with the firstfruits of all thine increase: ¹⁰ So shall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy vats shall overflow with new wine. ¹¹ My son, despise not the chastening of the LORD; neither be weary of his reproof: ¹² For whom the LORD loveth he reproveth; even as a father the son in whom he delighteth. ¹³ Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding. ¹⁴ For the merchandise of it is better than the merchandise of silver, and the gain thereof than fine gold. ¹⁵ She is more precious than rubies: and none of the things thou canst desire are to be compared unto her. ¹⁶ Length of days is in her right hand; in her left hand are riches and honour. ¹⁷ Her ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace. ¹⁸ She is a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her: and happy is every one that retaineth her. ¹⁹ The LORD by wisdom founded the earth; by understanding he established the heavens. ²⁰ By his knowledge the depths were broken up, and the skies drop down the dew. ²¹ My son, let not them depart from thine eyes;

keep sound wisdom and discretion; ²² So shall they be life unto thy soul, and grace to thy neck. ²³ Then shalt thou walk in thy way securely, and thy foot shall not stumble. ²⁴ When thou liest down, thou shalt not be afraid: yea, thou shalt lie down, and thy sleep shall be sweet. ²⁵ Be not afraid of sudden fear, neither of the desolation of the wicked, when it cometh: ²⁶ For the LORD shall be thy confidence, and shall keep thy foot from being taken. ²⁷ Withhold not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thine hand to do it. ²⁸ Say not unto thy neighbour, Go, and come again, and tomorrow I will give; when thou hast it by thee. ²⁹ Devise not evil against thy neighbour, seeing he dwelleth securely by thee. ³⁰ Strive not with a man without cause, if he have done thee no harm. ³¹ Envy thou not the man of violence, and choose none of his ways. ³² For the perverse is an abomination to the LORD: but his secret is with the upright. ³³ The curse of the LORD is in the house of the wicked; but he blesseth the habitation of the righteous. ³⁴ Surely he scorneth the scorners, but he giveth grace unto the lowly. ³⁵ The wise shall inherit glory; but shame shall be the promotion of fools.

¹ Hear, my sons, the instruction of a father, and attend to know understanding: ² For I give you good doctrine; forsake ye not my law. ³ For I was a son unto my father, tender and only beloved in the sight of my mother. ⁴ And he taught me, and said unto me, Let thine heart retain my words; keep my commandments, and live: ⁵ Get wisdom, get understanding; forget it not, neither decline from the words of my mouth: ⁶ Forsake her not, and she shall preserve thee; love her, and she shall keep thee. ⁷ Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom: yea, with all thou hast gotten get understanding. ⁸ Exalt her, and she shall promote thee: she shall bring thee to honour, when thou dost embrace her. ⁹ She shall give to thine head a chaplet of grace: a crown of beauty shall she deliver to thee. ¹⁰ Hear, O my son, and receive my sayings; and the years of thy life shall be many. ¹¹ I have taught thee in the way of wisdom; I have led thee in paths of uprightness. ¹²When thou goest, thy steps shall not be straitened; and if thou runnest, thou shalt not stumble. ¹³Take fast hold of instruction; let her not go: keep her; for she is thy life. ¹⁴Enter not into the path of the wicked, and walk not in the way of evil men. ¹⁵Avoid it, pass not by it; turn from it, and pass on. ¹⁶For they sleep not, except they have done mischief; and their sleep is taken away, unless they cause some to fall. ¹⁷For they eat the bread of wickedness, and drink the wine of violence. ¹⁸But the path of the righteous is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day. ¹⁹The way of the wicked is as darkness: they know not at what they stumble. ²⁰My son, attend to my words; incline thine ear unto my sayings. ²¹Let them not depart from thine eyes; keep them in the midst of thine heart. ²²For they are life unto those that find them, and health to all their flesh. ²³Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life. ²⁴Put away from thee a froward mouth, and perverse lips put far from thee. ²⁵Let thine eyes look right on, and let thine eyelids look straight before thee. ²⁶Make level the path of thy feet, and let all thy ways be established. ²⁷Turn not to the right hand nor to the left: remove thy foot from evil.

¹My son, attend unto my wisdom; incline thine ear to my understanding; ²That thou mayest preserve discretion, and that thy lips may keep knowledge. ³For the lips of a strange woman drop honey, and her mouth is smoother than oil: ⁴But her latter end is bitter as wormwood, sharp as a two-edged sword. ⁵Her feet go down to death; her steps take hold on Sheol; ⁶So that she findeth not the level path of life: her ways are unstable and she knoweth it not. ⁷Now therefore, my sons, hearken unto me, and depart not from the words of my mouth. ⁸Remove thy way far from her, and come not nigh the door of her house: ⁹Lest thou give thine honour unto others, and thy years unto the cruel: ¹⁰Lest strangers be filled with thy strength; and thy labours be in the house of an alien; ¹¹And thou mourn at thy latter end, when thy flesh and thy body are consumed, ¹²And say, How have

I hated instruction, and my heart despised reproof; ¹³Neither have I obeyed the voice of my teachers, nor inclined mine ear to them that instructed me! ¹⁴I was well nigh in all evil in the midst of the congregation and assembly. ¹⁵Drink waters out of thine own cistern, and running waters out of thine own well. ¹⁶Should thy springs be dispersed abroad, and rivers of water in the streets? ¹⁷Let them be for thyself alone, and not for strangers with thee. ¹⁸Let thy fountain be blessed; and rejoice in the wife of thy youth. ¹⁹As a loving hind and a pleasant doe, let her breasts satisfy thee at all times; and be thou ravished always with her love. ²⁰For why shouldst thou, my son, be ravished with a strange woman, and embrace the bosom of a stranger? ²¹For the ways of man are before the eyes of the LORD, and he maketh level all his paths. ²²His own iniquities shall take the wicked, and he shall be holden with the cords of his sin. ²³He shall die for lack of instruction; and in the greatness of his folly he shall go astray.

¹My son, if thou art become surety for thy neighbour, if thou hast stricken thy hands for a stranger, ²Thou art snared with the words of thy mouth, thou art taken with the words of thy mouth. ³Do this now, my son, and deliver thyself, seeing thou art come into the hand of thy neighbour; go, humble thyself, and importune thy neighbour. ⁴Give not sleep to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eyelids. ⁵Deliver thyself as a roe from the hand of the hunter, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler. ⁶Go to the ant, thou sluggard; consider her ways, and be wise: ⁷Which having no chief, overseer, or ruler, ⁸Provideth her meat in the summer, and gathereth her food in the harvest. ⁹How long wilt thou sleep, O sluggard? when wilt thou arise out of thy sleep? ¹⁰Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleep: ¹¹So shall thy poverty come as a robber, and thy want as an armed man. ¹²A worthless person, a man of iniquity; he walketh with a froward mouth; ¹³He winketh with his eyes, he speaketh with his feet, he maketh signs with his fingers; ¹⁴Frowardness is in his heart, he deviseth evil continually; he soweth discord. ¹⁵Therefore shall his calamity come suddenly; on a sudden shall he be broken and that without remedy. ¹⁶There be six things which the LORD hateth; yea, seven which are an abomination unto him: ¹⁷Haughty eyes, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood; ¹⁸An heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, feet that be swift in running to mischief; ¹⁹A false witness that uttereth lies, and he that soweth discord among brethren. ²⁰My son, keep the commandment of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother: ²¹Bind them continually upon thine heart, tie them about thy neck. ²²When thou walkest, it shall lead thee; when thou sleepest, it shall watch over thee; and when thou awakest, it shall talk with thee. ²³For the commandment is a lamp; and the law is light; and reproofs of instruction are the way of life: ²⁴To keep thee from the evil woman, from the flattery of the stranger's tongue. ²⁵Lust not after her beauty in thine heart; neither let her take thee with her eyelids. ²⁶For on account of a whorish woman a man is brought to a piece of bread: and the adulteress hunteth for the precious life. ²⁷Can a man take fire in his bosom, and his clothes not be burned? ²⁸Or can one walk upon hot coals, and his feet not be scorched? ²⁹So he that goeth in to his neighbour's wife; whosoever toucheth her shall not be unpunished. ³⁰Men do not despise a thief, if he steal to satisfy his soul when he is hungry: ³¹But if he be found, he shall restore sevenfold; he shall give all the substance of his house. ³²He that committeth adultery with a woman is void of understanding: he doeth it that would destroy his own soul. ³³Wounds and dishonour shall he get; and his reproach shall not be wiped away. ³⁴For jealousy is the rage of a man; and he will not spare in the day of vengeance. ³⁵He will not regard any ransom; neither will he rest content, though thou givest many gifts.

¹My son, keep my words, and lay up my commandments with thee. ²Keep my commandments and live; and my law as the apple of thine eye. ³Bind them upon thy fingers; write them upon the table of thine heart. ⁴Say unto wisdom, Thou art my sister; and call understanding thy kinswoman: ⁵That they may keep thee from the strange woman, from the stranger which flattereth with her words. ⁶For at the window of my house I looked forth through my lattice; ⁷And I beheld among the simple ones, I discerned among the youths, a young man void of understanding, ⁸Passing through the street near her corner, and he went the way to her house; ⁹In the twilight, in the evening of the day, in the blackness of night and the darkness. ¹⁰And, behold, there met him a woman with the attire of an harlot, and wily of heart. ¹¹She is clamorous, and wilful; her feet abide not in her house: ¹²Now she is in the streets, now in the broad places, and lieth in wait at every corner. ¹³So she caught him, and kissed him, and with an impudent face she said unto him: ¹⁴Sacrifices of peace offerings are with me; this day have I paid my vows. ¹⁵Therefore came I forth to meet thee, diligently to seek thy face, and I have found thee. ¹⁶I have spread my couch with carpets of tapestry, with striped cloths of the yarn of Egypt. ¹⁷I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon. ¹⁸Come, let us take our fill of love until the morning; let us solace ourselves with loves. ¹⁹For the goodman is not at home, he is gone a long journey: ²⁰He hath taken a bag of money with him; he will come home at the full moon. ²¹With her much fair speech she causeth him to yield, with the flattering of her lips she forceth him away. ²²He goeth after her straightway, as an ox goeth to the slaughter, or as fetters to the correction of the fool; ²³Till an arrow strike through his liver; as a bird hasteth to the snare, and knoweth not that it is for his life. ²⁴Now therefore, my sons, hearken unto me, and attend to the words of my mouth. ²⁵Let not thine heart decline to her ways, go not astray in her paths. ²⁶For she hath cast down many wounded: yea, all her slain are a mighty host. ²⁷Her house is the way to Sheol, going down to the chambers of death.

¹Doth not wisdom cry, and understanding put forth her voice? ²In the top of the high places by the way, where the paths meet, she standeth; ³Beside the gates, at the entry of the city, at the coming in at the doors, she crieth aloud: ⁴Unto you, O men, I call; and my voice is to the sons of men. ⁵O ye simple, understand subtilty; and, ye fools, be ye of an understanding heart. ⁶Hear, for I will speak excellent things; and the opening of my lips shall be right things. ⁷For my mouth shall utter truth; and wickedness is an abomination to my lips. ⁸All the words of my mouth are in righteousness; there is nothing crooked or perverse in them. ⁹They are all plain to him that understandeth, and right to them that find knowledge. ¹⁰Receive my instruction, and not silver; and knowledge rather than choice gold. ¹¹For wisdom is better than rubies; and all the things that may be desired are not to be compared unto her. ¹²I wisdom have made subtilty my dwelling, and find out knowledge and discretion. ¹³The fear of the LORD is to hate evil: pride, and arrogancy, and the evil way, and the froward mouth, do I hate. ¹⁴Counsel is mine, and sound knowledge: I am understanding; I have might. ¹⁵By me kings reign, and princes decree justice. ¹⁶By me princes rule, and nobles, even all the judges of the earth. ¹⁷I love them that love me; and those that seek me diligently shall find me. ¹⁸Riches and honour are with me; yea, durable riches and righteousness. ¹⁹My fruit is better than gold, yea, than fine gold; and my revenue than choice silver. ²⁰I walk in the way of righteousness, in the midst of the paths of judgment: ²¹That I may cause those that love me to inherit substance, and that I may fill their treasures. ²²The LORD possessed me in the beginning of his way, before his works of old. ²³I was set up from everlasting, from the beginning, or ever the earth was. ²⁴When there were no depths, I was brought forth; when there were no fountains abounding with water. ²⁵Before the mountains were settled, before the hills was I brought forth: ²⁶While as yet he had not made the earth, nor the fields, nor the beginning of the dust of the world. ²⁷When he established the heavens, I was there: when he set a circle upon the face of the deep: ²⁸When he made firm the sides above: when the fountains of the deep became strong: ²⁹When he gave to the sea its bound, that the waters should not transgress his commandment: when he marked out the foundations of the earth: ³⁰Then I was by him, as a master workman: and I was daily his delight, rejoicing always before him; ³¹Rejoicing in his habitable earth; and my delight was with the sons of men. ³²Now therefore, my sons, hearken unto me: for blessed are they that keep my ways. ³³Hear instruction, and be wise, and refuse it not. ³⁴Blessed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, waiting at the posts of my doors. ³⁵For whoso findeth me findeth life, and shall obtain favour of the LORD. ³⁶But he that sinneth against me wrongeth his own soul: all they that hate me love death.

¹Wisdom hath builded her house, she hath hewn out her seven pillars: ²She hath killed her beasts; she hath mingled her wine; she hath also furnished her table. ³She hath sent forth her maidens, she crieth upon the highest places of the city, ⁴Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither: as for him that is void of understanding, she saith to him, ⁵Come, eat ye of my bread, and drink of the wine which I have mingled. ⁶Leave off, ye simple ones, and live; and walk in the way of understanding. ⁷He that correcteth a scorner getteth to himself shame: and he that reproveth a wicked man getteth himself a blot. ⁸Reprove not a scorner, lest he hate thee: reprove a wise man, and he will love thee. ⁹Give instruction to a wise man, and he will be yet wiser: teach a righteous man, and he will increase in learning. ¹⁰The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom: and the knowledge of the Holy One is understanding. ¹¹For by me thy days shall be multiplied, and the years of thy life shall be increased. ¹²If thou art wise, thou art wise for thyself: and if thou scornest, thou alone shalt bear it. ¹³The foolish woman is clamorous; she is simple, and knoweth nothing. ¹⁴And she sitteth at the door of her house, on a seat in the high places of the city, ¹⁵To call to them that pass by, who go right on their ways, ¹⁶Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither: and as for him that is void of understanding, she saith to him, ¹⁷Stolen waters are sweet, and bread eaten in secret is pleasant. ¹⁸But he knoweth not that the dead are there; that her guests are in the depths of Sheol.

¹The proverbs of Solomon. A wise son maketh a glad father: but a foolish son is the heaviness of his mother. ²Treasures of wickedness profit nothing; but righteousness delivereth from death. ³The LORD will not suffer the soul of the righteous to famish: but he thrusteth away the desire of the wicked. ⁴He becometh poor that dealeth with a slack hand: but the hand of the diligent maketh rich. ⁵He that gathereth in summer is a wise son: but he that sleepeth in harvest is a son that causeth shame. ⁶Blessings are upon the head of the righteous: but violence covereth the mouth of the wicked. ⁷The memory of the just is blessed: but the name of the wicked shall rot. ⁸The wise in heart will receive commandments: but a prating fool shall fall. ⁹He that walketh uprightly walketh surely; but he that perverteth his ways shall be known. ¹⁰He that winketh with the eye causeth sorrow: but a prating fool shall fall. ¹¹The mouth of the righteous is a fountain of life: but violence covereth the mouth of the wicked. ¹²Hatred stirreth up strifes: but love covereth all transgressions. ¹³In the lips of him that hath discernment wisdom is found: but a rod is for the back of him that is void of understanding. ¹⁴Wise men lay up knowledge: but the mouth of the foolish is a present destruction. ¹⁵The rich man's wealth is his strong city: the destruction of the poor is their poverty. ¹⁶The labour of the righteous tendeth to life; the increase of the wicked to sin. ¹⁷He is in the way of life that heedeth correction: but he that forsaketh reproof erreth. ¹⁸He that hideth hatred is of lying lips; and he that uttereth a slander is a fool. ¹⁹In the multitude of words there wanteth not transgression: but he that refraineth his lips doeth wisely. ²⁰The tongue of the righteous is as choice silver: the heart of the wicked is little worth. ²¹The lips of the righteous feed many: but the foolish die for lack of understanding. ²²The blessing of the LORD, it maketh rich, and he addeth no sorrow therewith. ²³It is as sport to a fool to do wickedness: and so is wisdom to a man of understanding. ²⁴The fear of the wicked, it shall come upon him:

and the desire of the righteous shall be granted. ²⁵When the whirlwind passeth, the wicked is no more: but the righteous is an everlasting foundation. ²⁶As vinegar to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, so is the sluggard to them that send him. ²⁷The fear of the LORD prolongeth days: but the years of the wicked shall be shortened. ²⁸The hope of the righteous shall be gladness: but the expectation of the wicked shall perish. ²⁹The way of the LORD is a strong hold to the upright; but it is a destruction to the workers of iniquity. ³⁰The righteous shall never be removed: but the wicked shall not dwell in the land. ³¹The mouth of the righteous bringeth forth wisdom: but the froward tongue shall be cut off. ³²The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked speaketh frowardness.

¹A FALSE balance is an abomination to the LORD: but a just weight is his delight. ²When pride cometh, then cometh shame: but with the lowly is wisdom. ³The integrity of the upright shall guide them: but the perverseness of the treacherous shall destroy them. ⁴Riches profit not in the day of wrath: but righteousness delivereth from death. ⁵The righteousness of the perfect shall direct his way: but the wicked shall fall by his own wickedness. ⁶The righteousness of the upright shall deliver them: but they that deal treacherously shall be taken in their own mischief. ⁷When a wicked man dieth his expectation shall perish: and the hope of iniquity perisheth. ⁸The righteous is delivered out of trouble, and the wicked cometh in his stead. ⁹With his mouth the godless man destroyeth his neighbour: but through knowledge shall the righteous be delivered. ¹⁰When it goeth well with the righteous, the city rejoiceth: and when the wicked perish, there is shouting. ¹¹By the blessing of the upright the city is exalted: but it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked. ¹²He that despiseth his neighbour is void of wisdom: but a man of understanding holdeth his peace. ¹³He that goeth about as a talebearer revealeth secrets: but he that is of a faithful spirit concealeth the matter. ¹⁴Where no wise guidance is, the people falleth: but in the multitude of counsellors there is safety.

¹⁵He that is surety for a stranger shall smart for it: but he that hateth suretyship is sure.
¹⁶A gracious woman retaineth honour: and violent men retain riches.
¹⁷The merciful man doeth good to his own soul: but he that is cruel troubleth his own flesh.
¹⁸The wicked earneth deceitful wages: but he that soweth righteousness hath a sure reward.
¹⁹He that is stedfast in righteousness shall attain unto life: and he that pursueth evil doeth it to his own death.
²⁰They that are perverse in heart are an abomination to the LORD: but such as are perfect in their way are his delight.
²¹Though hand join in hand, the evil man shall not be unpunished: but the seed of the righteous shall be delivered.
²²As a jewel of gold in a swine's snout, so is a fair woman which is without discretion.
²³The desire of the righteous is only good: but the expectation of the wicked is wrath.
²⁴There is that scattereth, and increaseth yet more; and there is that withholdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth only to want.
²⁵The liberal soul shall be made fat: and he that watereth shall be watered also himself.
²⁶He that withholdeth corn, the people shall curse him: but blessing shall be upon the head of him that selleth it.
²⁷He that diligently seeketh good seeketh favour: but he that searcheth after mischief, it shall come unto him.
²⁸He that trusteth in his riches shall fall: but the righteous shall flourish as the green leaf.
²⁹He that troubleth his own house shall inherit the wind: and the foolish shall be servant to the wise of heart.
³⁰The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life; and he that is wise winneth souls.
³¹Behold, the righteous shall be recompensed in the earth: how much more the wicked and the sinner!

¹Whoso loveth correction loveth knowledge: but he that hateth reproof is brutish.
²A good man shall obtain favour of the LORD: but a man of wicked devices will he condemn.
³A man shall not be established by wickedness: but the root of the righteous shall never be moved.
⁴A virtuous woman is a crown to her husband: but she that maketh ashamed is as rottenness in his bones.
⁵The thoughts of the righteous are just: but the counsels of the wicked are deceit.

⁶The words of the wicked are of lying in wait for blood: but the mouth of the upright shall deliver them.
⁷The wicked are overthrown, and are not: but the house of the righteous shall stand.
⁸A man shall be commended according to his wisdom: but he that is of a perverse heart shall be despised.
⁹Better is he that is lightly esteemed, and hath a servant, than he that honoureth himself, and lacketh bread.
¹⁰A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast: but the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel.
¹¹He that tilleth his land shall have plenty of bread: but he that followeth after vain persons is void of understanding.
¹²The wicked desireth the net of evil men: but the root of the righteous yieldeth fruit.
¹³In the transgression of the lips is a snare to the evil man: but the righteous shall come out of trouble.
¹⁴A man shall be satisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth: and the doings of a man's hands shall be rendered unto him.
¹⁵The way of the foolish is right in his own eyes: but he that is wise hearkeneth unto counsel.
¹⁶A fool's vexation is presently known: but a prudent man concealeth shame.
¹⁷He that uttereth truth sheweth forth righteousness, but a false witness deceit.
¹⁸There is that speaketh rashly like the piercings of a sword: but the tongue of the wise is health.
¹⁹The lip of truth shall be established for ever: but a lying tongue is but for a moment.
²⁰Deceit is in the heart of them that devise evil: but to the counsellors of peace is joy.
²¹There shall no mischief happen to the righteous: but the wicked shall be filled with evil.
²²Lying lips are an abomination to the LORD: but they that deal truly are his delight.
²³A prudent man concealeth knowledge: but the heart of fools proclaimeth foolishness.
²⁴The hand of the diligent shall bear rule: but the slothful shall be put under taskwork.
²⁵Heaviness in the heart of a man maketh it stoop; but a good word maketh it glad.
²⁶The righteous is a guide to his neighbour: but the way of the wicked causeth them to err.
²⁷The slothful man roasteth not that which he took in hunting; but the precious substance of men is to the diligent.
²⁸In the way of righteousness is life; and in the pathway thereof there is no death.

¹A WISE son heareth his father's instruction: but a scorner heareth not rebuke. ²A man shall eat good by the fruit of his mouth: but the soul of the treacherous shall eat violence. ³He that guardeth his mouth keepeth his life: but he that openeth wide his lips shall have destruction. ⁴The soul of the sluggard desireth, and hath nothing: but the soul of the diligent shall be made fat. ⁵A righteous man hateth lying: but a wicked man is loathsome, and cometh to shame. ⁶Righteousness guardeth him that is upright in the way: but wickedness overthroweth the sinner. ⁷There is that maketh himself rich, yet hath nothing: there is that maketh himself poor, yet hath great wealth. ⁸The ransom of a man's life is his riches: but the poor heareth no threatening. ⁹The light of the righteous rejoiceth: but the lamp of the wicked shall be put out. ¹⁰By pride cometh only contention: but with the well advised is wisdom. ¹¹Wealth gotten by vanity shall be diminished: but he that gathereth by labour shall have increase. ¹²Hope deferred maketh the heart sick: but when the desire cometh, it is a tree of life. ¹³Whoso despiseth the word bringeth destruction on himself: but he that feareth the commandment shall be rewarded. ¹⁴The law of the wise is a fountain of life, to depart from the snares of death. ¹⁵Good understanding giveth favour: but the way of the treacherous is rugged. ¹⁶Every prudent man worketh with knowledge: but a fool spreadeth out folly. ¹⁷A wicked messenger falleth into evil: but a faithful ambassador is health. ¹⁸Poverty and shame shall be to him that refuseth correction: but he that regardeth reproof shall be honoured. ¹⁹The desire accomplished is sweet to the soul: but it is an abomination to fools to depart from evil. ²⁰Walk with wise men, and thou shalt be wise: but the companion of fools shall smart for it. ²¹Evil pursueth sinners: but the righteous shall be recompensed with good. ²²A good man leaveth an inheritance to his children's children; and the wealth of the sinner is laid up for the righteous. ²³Much food is in the tillage of the poor: but there is that is destroyed by reason of injustice. ²⁴He that spareth his rod hateth his son: but he that loveth him chasteneth him betimes. ²⁵The righteous eateth to the satisfying of his soul: but the belly of the wicked shall want.

¹Every wise woman buildeth her house: but the foolish plucketh it down with her own hands. ²He that walketh in his uprightness feareth the LORD: but he that is perverse in his ways despiseth him. ³In the mouth of the foolish is a rod of pride: but the lips of the wise shall preserve them. ⁴Where no oxen are, the crib is clean: but much increase is by the strength of the ox. ⁵A faithful witness will not lie: but a false witness uttereth lies. ⁶A scorner seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not: but knowledge is easy unto him that hath understanding. ⁷Go into the presence of a foolish man, and thou shalt not perceive in him the lips of knowledge. ⁸The wisdom of the prudent is to understand his way: but the folly of fools is deceit. ⁹The foolish make a mock at guilt: but among the upright there is good will. ¹⁰The heart knoweth its own bitterness; and a stranger doth not intermeddle with its joy. ¹¹The house of the wicked shall be overthrown: but the tent of the upright shall flourish. ¹²There is a way which seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death. ¹³Even in laughter the heart is sorrowful; and the end of mirth is heaviness. ¹⁴The backslider in heart shall be filled with his own ways: and a good man shall be satisfied from himself. ¹⁵The simple believeth every word: but the prudent man looketh well to his going. ¹⁶A wise man feareth, and departeth from evil: but the fool beareth himself insolently, and is confident. ¹⁷He that is soon angry will deal foolishly: and a man of wicked devices is hated. ¹⁸The simple inherit folly: but the prudent are crowned with knowledge. ¹⁹The evil bow before the good; and the wicked at the gates of the righteous. ²⁰The poor is hated even of his own neighbour: but the rich hath many friends. ²¹He that despiseth his neighbour sinneth: but he that hath pity on the poor, happy is he. ²²Do they not err that devise evil? but mercy and truth shall be to them that devise good. ²³In all labour there is profit: but the talk of the lips tendeth only to penury. ²⁴The crown of the wise is their riches: but the folly of fools is only folly. ²⁵A true witness

delivereth souls; but he that uttereth lies causeth deceit. ²⁶In the fear of the LORD is strong confidence: and his children shall have a place of refuge. ²⁷The fear of the LORD is a fountain of life, to depart from the snares of death. ²⁸In the multitude of people is the king's glory: but in the want of people is the destruction of the prince. ²⁹He that is slow to anger is of great understanding: but he that is hasty of spirit exalteth folly. ³⁰A sound heart is the life of the flesh: but envy is the rottenness of the bones. ³¹He that oppresseth the poor reproacheth his Maker: but he that hath mercy on the needy honoureth him. ³²The wicked is thrust down in his evil-doing; but the righteous hath hope in his death. ³³Wisdom resteth in the heart of him that hath understanding: but that which is in the inward part of fools is made known. ³⁴Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people. ³⁵The king's favour is toward a servant that dealeth wisely: but his wrath shall be against him that causeth shame.

¹³A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance: but by sorrow of heart the spirit is broken. ¹⁴The heart of him that hath understanding seeketh knowledge: but the mouth of fools feedeth on folly. ¹⁵All the days of the afflicted are evil: but he that is of a cheerful heart hath a continual feast. ¹⁶Better is little with the fear of the LORD, than great treasure and trouble therewith. ¹⁷Better is a dinner of herbs where love is, than a stalled ox and hatred therewith. ¹⁸A wrathful man stirreth up contention: but he that is slow to anger appeaseth strife. ¹⁹The way of the sluggard is as an hedge of thorns: but the path of the upright is made an highway. ²⁰A wise son maketh a glad father: but a foolish man despiseth his mother. ²¹Folly is joy to him that is void of wisdom: but a man of understanding maketh straight his going. ²²Where there is no counsel, purposes are disappointed: but in the multitude of counsellors they are established. ²³A man hath joy in the answer of his mouth: and a word in due season, how good is it! ²⁴To the wise the way of life goeth upward, that he may depart from Sheol beneath. ²⁵The LORD will root up the house of the proud: but he will establish the border of the widow. ²⁶Evil devices are an abomination to the LORD: but pleasant words are pure. ²⁷He that is greedy of gain troubleth his own house: but he that hateth gifts shall live. ²⁸The heart of the righteous studieth to answer: but the mouth of the wicked poureth out evil things. ²⁹The LORD is far from the wicked: but he heareth the prayer of the righteous. ³⁰The light of the eyes rejoiceth the heart: and good tidings make the bones fat. ³¹The ear that hearkeneth to the reproof of life shall abide among the wise. ³²He that refuseth correction despiseth his own soul: but he that hearkeneth to reproof getteth understanding. ³³The fear of the LORD is the instruction of wisdom; and before honour goeth humility.

¹The preparations of the heart belong to man: but the answer of the tongue is from the LORD. ²All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes: but the LORD weigheth the spirits. ³Commit thy works unto the LORD, and thy thoughts shall be established. ⁴The LORD hath made every thing for its own end: yea, even the wicked for the day of evil. ⁵Every one that is proud in heart is an abomination to the LORD: though hand join in hand, he shall not be unpunished. ⁶By mercy and truth iniquity is purged: and by the fear of the LORD men depart from evil. ⁷When a man's ways please the LORD, he maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him. ⁸Better is a little with righteousness than great revenues with injustice. ⁹A man's heart deviseth his way: but the LORD directeth his steps. ¹⁰A divine sentence is in the lips of the king: his mouth shall not transgress in judgment. ¹¹A just balance and scales are the LORD'S: all the weights of the bag are his work. ¹²It is an abomination to kings to commit wickedness: for the throne is established by righteousness. ¹³Righteous lips are the delight or kings; and they love him that speaketh right. ¹⁴The wrath of a king is as messengers of death: but a wise man will pacify it. ¹⁵In the light of the king's countenance is life; and his favour is as a cloud of the latter rain. ¹⁶How much better is it to get wisdom than gold! yea, to get understanding is rather to be chosen than silver. ¹⁷The highway of the upright is to depart from evil: he that keepeth his way preserveth his soul. ¹⁸Pride goeth before destruction, and an haughty spirit before a fall. ¹⁹Better it is to be of a lowly spirit with the poor, than to divide the spoil with the proud. ²⁰He that giveth heed unto the word shall find good: and whoso trusteth in the LORD, happy is he. ²¹The wise in heart shall be called prudent: and the sweetness of the lips increaseth learning. ²²Understanding is a wellspring of life unto him that hath it: but the correction of fools is their folly. ²³The heart of the wise instructeth his mouth, and addeth learning to his lips. ²⁴Pleasant words are as an honeycomb, sweet to the soul, and health to the bones. ²⁵There is a way which seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death. ²⁶The appetite of the labouring man laboureth for him; for his mouth craveth it of him. ²⁷A worthless man deviseth mischief: and in his lips there is as a scorching fire. ²⁸A froward man scattereth abroad strife: and a whisperer separateth chief friends. ²⁹A man of violence enticeth his neighbour, and leadeth him in a way that is not good. ³⁰He that shutteth his eyes, it is to devise froward things: he that compresseth his lips bringeth evil to pass. ³¹The hoary head is a crown of glory, it shall be found in the way of righteousness. ³²He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty; and he that ruleth his spirit than he that taketh a city. ³³The lot is cast into the lap; but the whole disposing thereof is of the LORD.

¹Better is a dry morsel and quietness therewith, than an house full of feasting with strife. ²A servant that dealeth wisely shall have rule over a son that causeth shame, and shall have part in the inheritance among the brethren. ³The fining pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold: but the LORD trieth the hearts. ⁴An evil-doer giveth heed to wicked lips; and a liar giveth ear to a mischievous tongue. ⁵Whoso mocketh the poor reproacheth his Maker: and he that is glad at calamity shall not be unpunished. ⁶Children's children are the crown of old men; and the glory of children are their fathers. ⁷Excellent speech becometh not a fool: much less do lying lips a prince. ⁸A gift is as a precious stone in the eyes of him that hath it: whithersoever it turneth, it prospereth. ⁹He that covereth a transgression seeketh love: but he that harpeth on a matter separateth chief friends. ¹⁰A rebuke entereth deeper into one that hath understanding than an hundred stripes into a fool. ¹¹An evil man seeketh only rebellion; therefore a cruel messenger shall be sent against him. ¹²Let a bear robbed of her whelps meet a man, rather than a fool in his folly. ¹³Whoso rewardeth evil for good, evil shall not depart from his house. ¹⁴The beginning of strife is as when one letteth out water: therefore leave off contention, before there be quarrelling. ¹⁵He that justifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the righteous, both of them alike are an abomination to the LORD. ¹⁶Wherefore is there a price in the hand of a fool to buy wisdom, seeing he hath no understanding? ¹⁷A friend loveth at all times, and a brother is born for adversity. ¹⁸A man void of understanding striketh hands, and becometh surety in the presence of his neighbour. ¹⁹ He loveth transgression that loveth strife: he that raiseth high his gate seeketh destruction. ²⁰ He that hath a froward heart findeth no good: and he that hath a perverse tongue falleth into mischief. ²¹ He that begetteth a fool doeth it to his sorrow: and the father of a fool hath no joy. ²² A merry heart is a good medicine: but a broken spirit drieth up the bones. ²³ A wicked man taketh a gift out of the bosom, to pervert the ways of judgment. ²⁴ Wisdom is before the face of him that hath understanding: but the eyes of a fool are in the ends of the earth. ²⁵ A foolish son is a grief to his father, and bitterness to her that bare him. ²⁶ Also to punish the righteous is not good, nor to smite the noble for their uprightness. ²⁷ He that spareth his words hath knowledge: and he that is of a cool spirit is a man of understanding. ²⁸ Even a fool, when he holdeth his peace, is counted wise: when he shutteth his lips, he is esteemed as prudent.

¹ He that separateth himself seeketh his own desire, and rageth against all sound wisdom. ² A fool hath no delight in understanding, but only that his heart may reveal itself. ³ When the wicked cometh, there cometh also contempt, and with ignominy cometh reproach. ⁴ The words of a man's mouth are as deep waters; the wellspring of wisdom is as a flowing brook. ⁵ To accept the person of the wicked is not good, nor to turn aside the righteous in judgment. ⁶ A fool's lips enter into contention, and his mouth calleth for stripes. ⁷ A fool's mouth is his destruction, and his lips are the snare of his soul. ⁸ The words of a whisperer are as dainty, morsels, and they go down into the innermost parts of the belly. ⁹ He also that is slack in his work is brother to him that is a destroyer. ¹⁰ The name of the LORD is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe. ¹¹ The rich man's wealth is his strong city, and as an high wall in his own imagination. ¹² Before destruction the heart of man is haughty, and before honour goeth humility. ¹³ He that giveth answer before he heareth, it is folly and shame unto him. ¹⁴ The spirit of a man will sustain his infirmity; but a broken spirit who can bear? ¹⁵ The heart of the prudent getteth knowledge; and the ear of the wise seeketh knowledge. ¹⁶ A man's gift maketh room for him, and bringeth him before great men. ¹⁷ He that pleadeth his cause first seemeth just; but his neighbour cometh and searcheth him out. ¹⁸ The lot causeth contentions to cease, and parteth between the mighty. ¹⁹ A brother offended is harder to be won than a strong city: and such contentions are like the bars of a castle. ²⁰ A man's belly shall be filled with the fruit of his mouth; with the increase of his lips shall he be satisfied. ²¹ Death and life are in the power of the tongue; and they that love it shall eat the fruit thereof. ²² Whoso findeth a wife findeth a good thing, and obtaineth favour of the LORD. ²³ The poor useth entreaties: but the rich answereth roughly. ²⁴ He that maketh many friends doeth it to his own destruction: but there is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother.

are an inheritance from fathers; but a prudent wife is from the LORD. ¹⁵ Slothfulness casteth into a deep sleep; and the idle soul shall suffer hunger. ¹⁶ He that keepeth the commandment keepeth his soul: but he that is careless of his ways shall die. ¹⁷ He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the LORD, and his good deed will he pay him again. ¹⁸ Chasten thy son, seeing there is hope; and set not thy heart on his destruction. ¹⁹ A man of great wrath shall bear the penalty: for if thou deliver him, thou must do it yet again. ²⁰ Hear counsel, and receive instruction, that thou mayest be wise in thy latter end. ²¹ There are many devices in a man's heart; but the counsel of the LORD, that shall stand. ²² The desire of a man is the measure of his kindness: and a poor man is better than a liar. ²³ The fear of the LORD tendeth to life: and he that hath it shall abide satisfied; he shall not be visited with evil. ²⁴ The sluggard burieth his hand in the dish, and will not so much as bring it to his mouth again. ²⁵ smite a scorner, and the simple will learn prudence: and reprove one that hath understanding, and he will understand knowledge. ²⁶ He that spoileth his father, and chaseth away his mother, is a son that causeth shame and bringeth reproach. ²⁷ Cease, my son, to hear instruction only to err from the words of knowledge. ²⁸ A worthless witness mocketh at judgment: and the mouth of the wicked swalloweth iniquity. ²⁹ Judgments are prepared for scorners, and stripes for the back of fools.

¹ Wine is a mocker, strong drink a brawler; and whosoever erreth thereby is not wise. ² The terror of a king is as the roaring of a lion: he that provoketh him to anger sinneth against his own life. ³ It is an honour for a man to keep aloof from strife: but every fool will be quarrelling. ⁴ The slothful will not plow by reason of the winter; therefore he shall beg in harvest, and have nothing. ⁵ Counsel in the heart of man is like deep water; but a man of understanding will draw it out. ⁶ Most men wilt proclaim every one his own kindness: but a faithful man who can find? ⁷ A just man that walketh in his integrity, blessed are his children after him. ⁸ A king that sitteth on the throne of judgment scattereth away all evil with his eyes. ⁹ Who can say, I have made my heart clean, I am pure from my sin? ¹⁰ Divers weights, and divers measures, both of them alike are an abomination to the LORD. ¹¹ Even a child maketh himself known by his doings, whether his work be pure, and whether it be right. ¹² The hearing ear, and the seeing eye, the LORD hath made even both of them. ¹³ Love not sleep, lest thou come to poverty; open thine eyes, and thou shalt be satisfied with bread. ¹⁴ It is naught, it is naught, saith the buyer: but when he is gone his way, then he boasteth. ¹⁵ There is gold, and abundance of rubies: but the lips of knowledge are a precious jewel. ¹⁶ Take his garment that is surety for a stranger; and hold him in pledge that is surety for strangers. ¹⁷ Bread of falsehood is sweet to a man; but afterwards his mouth shall be filled with gravel. ¹⁸ Every purpose is established by counsel: and by wise guidance make thou war, ¹⁹ He that goeth about as a talebearer revealeth secrets: therefore meddle not with him that openeth wide his lips. ²⁰ Whoso curseth his father or his mother, his lamp shall be put out in the blackest darkness. ²¹ An inheritance may be gotten hastily at the beginning; but the end thereof shall not be blessed. ²² Say not thou, I will recompense evil: wait on the LORD, and he shall save thee. ²³ Divers weights are an abomination to the LORD; and a false balance is not good. ²⁴ A man's goings are of the LORD; how then can man understand his way? ²⁵ It is a snare to a man rashly to say, It is holy, and after vows to make inquiry. ²⁶ A wise king winnoweth the wicked, and bringeth the threshing wheel over them. ²⁷ The spirit of man is the lamp of the LORD, searching all the innermost parts of the belly. ²⁸ Mercy and truth preserve the king: and his throne is upholden by mercy. ²⁹ The glory of young men is their strength: and the beauty of old men is the hoary head. ³⁰ Stripes that wound cleanse away evil: and strokes reach the innermost parts of the belly.

weigheth the hearts. ³To do justice and judgment is more acceptable to the LORD than sacrifice. ⁴An high look, and a proud heart, even the lamp of the wicked, is sin. ⁵The thoughts of the diligent tend only to plenteousness: but every one that is hasty hasteth only to want. ⁶The getting of treasures by a lying tongue is a vapour driven to and fro; they that seek them seek death. ⁷The violence of the wicked shall sweep them away; because they refuse to do judgment. ⁸The way of him that is laden with guilt is exceeding crooked: but as for the pure, his work is right. ⁹It is better to dwell in the corner of the housetop, than with a contentious woman in a wide house. ¹⁰The soul of the wicked desireth evil: his neighbour findeth no favour in his eyes. ¹¹When the scorner is punished, the simple is made wise: and when the wise is instructed, he receiveth knowledge. ¹²The righteous man considereth the house of the wicked; how the wicked are overthrown to their ruin. ¹³Whoso stoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor, he also shall cry, but shall not be heard. ¹⁴A gift in secret pacifieth anger, and a present in the bosom strong wrath. ¹⁵It is joy to the righteous to do judgment; but it is a destruction to the workers of iniquity. ¹⁶The man that wandereth out of the way of understanding shall rest in the congregation of the dead. ¹⁷He that loveth pleasure shall be a poor man: he that loveth wine and oil shall not be rich. ¹⁸The wicked is a ransom for the righteous; and the treacherous cometh in the stead of the upright. ¹⁹It is better to dwell in a desert land, than with a contentious and fretful woman. ²⁰There is precious treasure and oil in the dwelling of the wise; but a foolish man swalloweth it up. ²¹He that followeth after righteousness and mercy findeth life, righteousness, and honour. ²²A wise man scaleth the city of the mighty, and bringeth down the strength of the confidence thereof. ²³Whoso keepeth his mouth and his tongue keepeth his soul from troubles. ²⁴The proud and haughty man, scorner is his name, he worketh in the arrogance of pride. ²⁵The desire of the slothful killeth him; for his hands refuse to labour. ²⁶There is that coveteth greedily all the day long: but the righteous giveth and withholdeth not. ²⁷The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination: how much more, when he bringeth it with a wicked mind! ²⁸A false witness shall perish: but the man that heareth shall speak unchallenged. ²⁹A wicked man hardeneth his face: but as for the upright, he ordereth his ways. ³⁰There is no wisdom nor understanding nor counsel against the LORD. ³¹The horse is prepared against the day of battle: but victory is of the LORD,

¹A GOOD name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favour rather than silver and gold. ²The rich and the poor meet together: the LORD is the maker of them all. ³A prudent man seeth the evil, and hideth himself: but the simple pass on, and suffer for it. ⁴The reward of humility and the fear of the LORD is riches, and honour, and life. ⁵Thorns and snares are in the way of the froward: he that keepeth his soul shall be far from them. ⁶Train up a child in the way he should go, and even when he is old he will not depart from it. ⁷The rich ruleth over the poor, and the borrower is servant to the lender. ⁸He that soweth iniquity shall reap calamity: and the rod of his wrath shall fail. ⁹He that hath a bountiful eye shall be blessed; for he giveth of his bread to the poor. ¹⁰Cast out the scorner, and contention shall go out; yea, strife and ignominy shall cease. ¹¹He that loveth pureness of heart, for the grace of his lips the king shall be his friend. ¹²The eyes of the LORD preserve him that hath knowledge, but he overthroweth the words of the treacherous man. ¹³The sluggard saith, There is a lion without: I shall be murdered in the streets. ¹⁴The mouth of strange women is a deep pit: he that is abhorred of the LORD shall fall therein. ¹⁵Foolishness is bound up in the heart of a child; but the rod of correction shall drive it far from him. ¹⁶He that oppresseth the poor to increase his gain, and he that giveth to the rich, cometh only to want. ¹⁷Incline thine ear, and hear the words of the wise, and apply thine heart unto my knowledge. ¹⁸For it is a pleasant thing if thou keep them within thee, if they be established together upon thy lips. ¹⁹That thy trust may be in the LORD, I have made them known to thee this day, even to thee. ²⁰Have

not I written unto thee excellent things of counsels and knowledge; ²¹ To make thee know the certainty of the words of truth, that thou mayest carry back words of truth to them that send thee? ²² Rob not the poor, because he is poor, neither oppress the afflicted in the gate: ²³ For the LORD will plead their cause, and despoil of life those that despoil them. ²⁴ Make no friendship with a man that is given to anger; and with a wrathful man thou shalt not go: ²⁵ Lest thou learn his ways, and get a snare to thy soul. ²⁶ Be thou not one of them that strike hands, or of them that are sureties for debts: ²⁷ If thou hast not wherewith to pay, why should he take away thy bed from under thee? ²⁸ Remove not the ancient landmark, which thy fathers have set. ²⁹ Seest thou a man diligent in his business? he shall stand before kings; he shall not stand before mean men.

¹⁷ Let not thine heart envy sinners: but be thou in the fear of the LORD all the day long: ¹⁸ For surely there is a reward; and thy hope shall not be cut off. ¹⁹ Hear thou, my son, and be wise, and guide thine heart in the way. ²⁰ Be not among winebibbers; among gluttonous eaters of flesh: ²¹ For the drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty: and drowsiness shall clothe a man with rags. ²² Harken unto thy father that begat thee, and despise not thy mother when she is old. ²³ Buy the truth, and sell it not; yea, wisdom, and instruction, and understanding. ²⁴ The father of the righteous shall greatly rejoice: and he that begetteth a wise child shall have joy of him. ²⁵ Let thy father and thy mother be glad, and let her that bare thee rejoice. ²⁶ My son, give me thine heart, and let thine eyes delight in my ways. ²⁷ For a whore is a deep ditch; and a strange woman is a narrow pit. ²⁸ Yea, she lieth in wait as a robber, and increaseth the treacherous among men. ²⁹ Who hath woe? who hath sorrow? who hath contentions? who hath complaining? who hath wounds without cause? who hath redness of eyes? ³⁰ They that tarry long at the wine; they that go to seek out mixed wine. ³¹ Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth its colour in the cup, when it goeth down smoothly. ³² At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder. ³³ Thine eyes shall behold strange things, and thine heart shall utter froward things. ³⁴ Yea, thou shalt be as he that lieth down in the midst of the sea, or as he that lieth upon the top of a mast. ³⁵ They have stricken me, shalt thou say, and I was not hurt; they have beaten me, and I felt it not: when shall I awake? I will seek it yet again.

is safety. ⁷ Wisdom is too high for a fool: he openeth not his mouth in the gate. ⁸ He that deviseth to do evil, men shall call him a mischievous person. ⁹ The thought of the foolish is sin: and the scorner is an abomination to men. ¹⁰ If thou faint in the day of adversity, thy strength is small. ¹¹ Deliver them that are carried away unto death, and those that are ready to be slain see that thou hold back. ¹² If thou sayest, Behold, we knew not this: doth not he that weigheth the hearts consider it? and he that keepeth thy soul, doth not he know it? and shall not he render to every man according to his work? ¹³ My son, eat thou honey, for it is good; and the honeycomb, which is sweet to thy taste: ¹⁴ So shalt thou know wisdom to be unto thy soul: if thou hast found it, then shall there be a reward, and thy hope shall not be cut off. ¹⁵ Lay not wait, O wicked man, against the habitation of the righteous; spoil not his resting place: ¹⁶ For a righteous man falleth seven times, and riseth up again: but the wicked are overthrown by calamity. ¹⁷ Rejoice not when thine enemy falleth, and let not thine heart be glad when he is overthrown: ¹⁸ Lest the LORD see it, and it displease him, and he turn away his wrath from him. ¹⁹ Fret not thyself because of evil-doers; neither be thou envious at the wicked: ²⁰ For there will be no reward to the evil man; the lamp of the wicked shall be put out. ²¹ My son, fear thou the LORD and the king: and meddle not with them that are given to change: ²² For their calamity shall rise suddenly; and who knoweth the destruction of them both? ²³ These also are sayings of the wise. To have respect of persons in judgment is not good. ²⁴ He that saith unto the wicked, Thou art righteous; peoples shall curse him, nations shall abhor him: ²⁵ But to them that rebuke him shall be delight, and a good blessing shall come upon them. ²⁶ He kisseth the lips that giveth a right answer. ²⁷ Prepare thy work without, and make it ready for thee in the field; and afterwards build thine house. ²⁸ Be not a witness against thy neighbour without cause; and deceive not with thy lips. ²⁹ Say not, I will do so to him as he hath done to me; I will render to the man according to his work. ³⁰ I went by the field of the slothful, and by the vineyard of the man void of understanding; ³¹ And, lo, it was all grown over with thorns, the face thereof was covered with nettles, and the stone wall thereof was broken down. ³² Then I beheld, and considered well: I saw, and received instruction. ³³ Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleep: ³⁴ So shall thy poverty come as a robber; and thy want as an armed man.

¹ These also are proverbs of Solomon, which the men of Hezekiah king of Judah copied out. ² It is the glory of God to conceal a thing; but the glory of kings is to search out a matter. ³ The heaven for height, and the earth for depth, and the heart of kings is unsearchable. ⁴ Take away the dross from the silver, and there cometh forth a vessel for the finer: ⁵ Take away the wicked from before the king, and his throne shall be established in righteousness. ⁶ Put not thyself forward in the presence of the king, and stand not in the place of great men: ⁷ For better is it that it be said unto thee, Come up hither; than that thou shouldest be put lower in the presence of the prince, whom thine eyes have seen. ⁸ Go not forth hastily to strive, lest thou know not what to do in the end thereof, when thy neighbour hath put thee to shame. ⁹ Debate thy cause with thy neighbour himself, and disclose not the secret of another: ¹⁰ Lest he that heareth it revile thee, and thine infamy turn not away. ¹¹ A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in baskets of silver. ¹² As an earring of gold, and an ornament of fine gold, so is a wise reprove upon an obedient ear. ¹³ As the cold of snow in the time of harvest, so is a faithful messenger to them that send him; for he refresheth the soul of his masters. ¹⁴ As clouds and wind without rain, so is he that boasteth himself of his gifts falsely. ¹⁵ By long forbearing is a ruler persuaded, and a soft tongue breaketh the bone. ¹⁶ Hast thou found honey? eat so much as is sufficient for thee; lest thou be filled therewith, and vomit it. ¹⁷ Let thy foot be seldom in thy neighbour's house; lest he be weary of thee, and hate thee. ¹⁸ A man that beareth false witness against his neighbour is a maul, and a sword, and a sharp arrow. ¹⁹ Confidence in an unfaithful man in time of trouble is like a broken tooth, and a foot out of joint. ²⁰As one that taketh off a garment in cold weather, and as vinegar upon nitre, so is he that singeth songs to an heavy heart. ²¹If thine enemy be hungry, give him bread to eat; and if he be thirsty, give him water to drink: ²²For thou shalt heap coals of fire upon his head, and the LORD shall reward thee. ²³The north wind bringeth forth rain: so doth a backbiting tongue an angry countenance. ²⁴It is better to dwell in the comer of the housetop, than with a contentious woman in a wide house. ²⁵As cold waters to a thirsty soul, so is good news from a far country. ²⁶As a troubled fountain, and a corrupted spring, so is a righteous man that giveth way before the wicked. ²⁷It is not good to eat much honey: so for men to search out their own glory is not glory. ²⁸He whose spirit is without restraint is like a city that is broken down and hath no wall.

¹As snow in summer, and as rain in harvest, so honour is not seemly for a fool. ²As the sparrow in her wandering, as the swallow in her flying, so the curse that is causeless lighteth not. ³A whip for the horse, a bridle for the ass, and a rod for the back of fools. ⁴Answer not a fool according to his folly, lest thou also be like unto him. ⁵Answer a fool according to his folly, lest he be wise in his own conceit. ⁶He that sendeth a message by the hand of a fool cutteth off his own feet, and drinketh in damage. ⁷The legs of the lame hang loose: so is a parable in the mouth of fools. ⁸As a bag of gems in a heap of stones, so is he that giveth honour to a fool. ⁹As a thorn that goeth up into the hand of a drunkard, so is a parable in the month of fools. ¹⁰As an archer that woundeth all, so is he that hireth the fool and he that hireth them that pass by. ¹¹As a dog that returneth to his vomit, so is a fool that repeateth his folly. ¹²Seest thou a man wise in his own conceit? there is more hope of a fool than of him. ¹³The sluggard saith, There is a lion in the way; a lion is in the streets. ¹⁴As the door turneth upon its hinges, so doth the sluggard upon his bed. ¹⁵The sluggard burieth his hand in the dish; it wearieth him to bring it again to his mouth. ¹⁶The sluggard is wiser in his own conceit than seven men that can render a reason. ¹⁷He that passeth by, and vexeth himself with strife belonging not to him, is like one that taketh a dog by the ears. ¹⁸As a madman who casteth firebrands, arrows, and death; ¹⁹So is the man that deceiveth his neighbour, and saith, Am not I in sport? ²⁰For lack of wood the fire goeth out: and where there is no whisperer, contention ceaseth. ²¹As coals are to hot embers, and wood to fire; so is a contentious man to inflame strife. ²²The words of a whisperer are as dainty morsels, and they go down into the innermost parts of the belly. ²³Fervent lips and a wicked heart are like an earthen vessel overlaid with silver dross. ²⁴He that hateth dissembleth with his lips, but he layeth up deceit within him: ²⁵When he speaketh fair, believe him not; for there are seven abominations in his heart: ²⁶Though his hatred cover itself with guile, his wickedness shall be openly shewed before the congregation. ²⁷Whoso diggeth a pit shall fall therein: and he that rolleth a stone, it shall return upon him. ²⁸A lying tongue hateth those whom it hath wounded; and a flattering mouth worketh ruin.

¹Boast not thyself of tomorrow; for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth. ²Let another man praise thee, and not thine own mouth; a stranger, and not thine own lips. ³A stone is heavy, and the sand weighty; but a fool's vexation is heavier than them both. ⁴Wrath is cruel, and anger is outrageous; but who is able to stand before jealousy? ⁵Better is open rebuke than love that is hidden. ⁶Faithful are the wounds of a friend: but the kisses of an enemy are profuse. ⁷The full soul loatheth an honeycomb: but to the hungry soul every bitter thing is sweet. ⁸As a bird that wandereth from her nest, so is a man that wandereth from his place. ⁹Ointment and perfume rejoice the heart: so doth the sweetness of a man's friend that cometh of hearty counsel. ¹⁰Thine own friend, and thy father's friend, forsake not; and go not to thy brother's house in the day of thy calamity: better is a neighbour that is near than a brother far off. ¹¹My son, be wise, and make my heart glad, that I may answer

him that reproacheth me. ¹² A prudent man seeth the evil, and hideth himself: but the simple pass on, and suffer for it. ¹³ Take his garment that is surety for a stranger; and hold him in pledge that is surety for a strange woman. ¹⁴ He that blesseth his friend with a loud voice, rising early in the morning, it shall be counted a curse to him. ¹⁵ A continual dropping in a very rainy day and a contentious woman are alike: ¹⁶ He that would restrain her restraineth the wind, and his right hand encountereth oil. ¹⁷ Iron sharpeneth iron; so a man sharpeneth the countenance of his friend. ¹⁸ Whoso keepeth the fig tree shall eat the fruit thereof; and he that waiteth on his master shall be honoured. ¹⁹ As in water face answereth to face, so the heart of man to man. ²⁰ Sheol and Abaddon are never satisfied; and the eyes of man are never satisfied. ²¹ The fining pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold, and a man is tried by his praise. ²² Though thou shouldest bray a fool in a mortar with a pestle among bruised corn, yet will not his foolishness depart from him. ²³ Be thou diligent to know the state of thy flocks, and look well to thy herds: ²⁴ For riches are not for ever; and doth the crown endure unto all generations? ²⁵ The hay is carried, and the tender grass sheweth itself, and the herbs of the mountains are gathered in. ²⁶ The lambs are for thy clothing, and the goats are the price of the field: ²⁷ And there will be goats' milk enough for thy food, for the food of thy household; and maintenance for thy maidens.

¹ The wicked flee when no man pursueth: but the righteous are bold as a lion. ² For the transgression of a land many are the princes thereof: but by men of understanding and knowledge the state thereof shall be prolonged. ³ A needy man that oppresseth the poor is like a sweeping rain which leaveth no food. ⁴ They that forsake the law praise the wicked: but such as keep the law contend with them. ⁵ Evil men understand not judgment: but they that seek the LORD understand all things. ⁶ Better is the poor that walketh in his integrity, than he that is perverse in his ways, though he be rich. ⁷ Whoso keepeth

the law is a wise son: but he that is a companion of gluttonous men shameth his father. ⁸ He that augmenteth his substance by usury and increase, gathereth it for him that hath pity on the poor. ⁹ He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law, even his prayer is an abomination. ¹⁰ Whoso causeth the upright to go astray in an evil way, he shall fall himself into his own pit: but the perfect shall inherit good. ¹¹ The rich man is wise in his own conceit; but the poor that hath understanding searcheth him out. ¹² When the righteous triumph, there is great glory: but when the wicked rise, men hide themselves. ¹³ He that covereth his transgressions shall not prosper: but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall obtain mercy. ¹⁴ Happy is the man that feareth alway: but he that hardeneth his heart shall fall into mischief. ¹⁵ As a roaring lion, and a ranging bear; so is a wicked ruler over a poor people. ¹⁶ The prince that lacketh understanding is also a great oppressor: but he that hateth covetousness shall prolong his days. ¹⁷ A man that is laden with the blood of any person shall flee unto the pit; let no man stay him. ¹⁸ Whoso walketh uprightly shall be delivered: but he that is perverse in his ways shall fall at once. ¹⁹ He that tilleth his land shall have plenty of bread: but he that followeth after vain persons shall have poverty enough. ²⁰ A faithful man shall abound with blessings: but he that maketh haste to be rich shall not be unpunished. ²¹ To have respect of persons is not good: neither that a man should transgress for a piece of bread. ²² He that hath an evil eye hasteth after riches, and knoweth not that want shall come upon him. ²³ He that rebuketh a man shall afterward find more favour than he that flattereth with the tongue. ²⁴ Whoso robbeth his father or his mother, and saith, It is no transgression; the same is the companion of a destroyer. ²⁵ He that is of a greedy spirit stirreth up strife: but he that putteth his trust in the LORD shall be made fat. ²⁶ He that trusteth in his own heart is a fool: but whoso walketh wisely, he shall be delivered. ²⁷ He that giveth unto the poor shall not lack: but he that hideth his eyes shall have many a curse. ²⁸ When the wicked rise, men hide themselves: but when they perish, the righteous increase.

¹He that being often reproved hardeneth his neck shall suddenly be broken, and that without remedy. ²When the righteous are increased, the people rejoice: but when a wicked man beareth rule, the people sigh. ³Whoso loveth wisdom rejoiceth his father: but he that keepeth company with harlots wasteth his substance. ⁴The king by judgment establisheth the land: but he that exacteth gifts overthroweth it. ⁵A man that flattereth his neighbour spreadeth a net for his steps. ⁶In the transgression of an evil man there is a snare: but the righteous doth sing and rejoice. ⁷The righteous taketh knowledge of the cause of the poor: the wicked hath not understanding to know it. ⁸Scornful men set a city in a flame: but wise men turn away wrath. ⁹If a wise man hath a controversy with a foolish man, whether he be angry or laugh, there will be no rest. ¹⁰The bloodthirsty hate him that is perfect: and as for the upright, they seek his life. ¹¹A fool uttereth all his anger: but a wise man keepeth it back and stilleth it. ¹²If a ruler hearkeneth to falsehood, all his servants are wicked. ¹³The poor man and the oppressor meet together: the LORD lighteneth the eyes of them both. ¹⁴The king that faithfully judgeth the poor, his throne shall be established for ever. ¹⁵The rod and reproof give wisdom: but a child left to himself causeth shame to his mother. ¹⁶When the wicked are increased, transgression increaseth: but the righteous shall look upon their fall. ¹⁷Correct thy son, and he shall give thee rest; yea, he shall give delight unto thy soul. ¹⁸Where there is no vision, the people cast off restraint: but he that keepeth the law, happy is he. ¹⁹A servant will not be corrected by words: for though he understand he will not give heed. ²⁰Seest thou a man that is hasty in his words? there is more hope of a fool than of him. ²¹He that delicately bringeth up his servant from a child shall have him become a son at the last. ²²An angry man stirreth up strife, and a wrathful man aboundeth in transgression. ²³A man's pride shall bring him low: but he that is of a lowly spirit shall obtain honour. ²⁴Whoso is partner with a thief hateth his own soul: he heareth the adjuration and uttereth nothing. ²⁵The fear of man bringeth a snare: but whoso putteth his trust in the LORD shall be safe. ²⁶Many seek the ruler's favour: but a man's judgment cometh from the LORD. ²⁷An unjust man is an abomination to the righteous: and he that is upright in the way is an abomination to the wicked.

¹The words of Agur the son of Jakeh; the oracle. The man saith unto Ithiel, unto Ithiel and Ucal: ²Surely I am more brutish than any man, and have not the understanding of a man: ³And I have not learned wisdom, neither have I the knowledge of the Holy One. ⁴Who hath ascended up into heaven, and descended? who hath gathered the wind in his fists? who hath bound the waters in his garment? who hath established all the ends of the earth? what is his name, and what is his son's name, if thou knowest? ⁵Every word of God is tried: he is a shield unto them that trust in him. ⁶Add thou not unto his words, lest he reprove thee, and thou be found a liar. ⁷Two things have I asked of thee; deny me them not before I die: ⁸Remove far from me vanity and lies: give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with the food that is needful for me: ⁹Lest I be full, and deny thee, and say, Who is the LORD? or lest I be poor, and steal, and use profanely the name of my God. ¹⁰Slander not a servant unto his master, lest he curse thee, and thou be held guilty. ¹¹There is a generation that curseth their father, and doth not bless their mother. ¹²There is a generation that are pure in their own eyes; and yet are not washed from their filthiness. ¹³There is a generation, Oh how lofty are their eyes! and their eyelids are lifted up. ¹⁴There is a generation whose teeth are as swords, and their jaw teeth as knives, to devour the poor from off the earth, and the needy from among men. ¹⁵The horseleach hath two daughters, Crying, Give, give. There are three things that are never satisfied, yea, four that say not, Enough: ¹⁶The grave; and the barren womb; the earth that is not satisfied with water; and the fire that saith not, Enough. ¹⁷The eye that mocketh at his father, and despiseth to obey his mother, the ravens of the valley shall pick it out, and the young eagles shall eat it. ¹⁸ There be three things which are too wonderful for me, yea, four which I know not: ¹⁹ The way of an eagle in the air; the way of a serpent upon a rock; the way of a ship in the midst of the sea; and the way of a man with a maid. ²⁰ So is the way of an adulterous woman; she eateth, and wipeth her mouth, and saith, I have done no wickedness. ²¹ For three things the earth doth tremble, and for four, which it cannot bear: ²² For a servant when he is king; and a fool when he is filled with meat; ²³ For an odious woman when she is married; and an handmaid that is heir to her mistress. ²⁴ There be four things which are little upon the earth, but they are exceeding wise: ²⁵ The ants are a people not strong, yet they provide their meat in the summer; ²⁶ The conies are but a feeble folk, yet make they their houses in the rocks; ²⁷ The locusts have no king, yet go they forth all of them by bands; ²⁸ The lizard taketh hold with her hands, yet is she in kings' palaces, ²⁹ There be three things which are stately in their march, yea, four which are stately in going: ³⁰ The lion, which is mightiest among beasts, and turneth not away for any; ³¹ The greyhound; the he-goat also; and the king, against whom there is no rising up. ³² If thou hast done foolishly in lifting up thyself, or if thou hast thought evil, lay thine hand upon thy mouth. ³³ For the churning of milk bringeth forth butter, and the wringing of the nose bringeth forth blood: so the forcing of wrath bringeth forth strife.

¹ The words of king Lemuel; the oracle which his mother taught him. ² What, my son? and what, O son of my womb, and what, O son of my vows? ³ Give not thy strength unto women, nor thy ways to that which destroyeth kings. ⁴ It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine; nor for princes to say, Where is strong drink? ⁵ Lest they drink, and forget the law, and pervert the judgment of any that is afflicted. ⁶ Give strong drink unto him that is ready to perish, and wine unto the bitter in soul: ⁷ Let him drink, and forget his poverty, and remember his misery no more. ⁸ Open thy mouth for the dumb, in the cause of all such as are left desolate. ⁹ Open thy mouth, judge righteously, and minister judgment to the poor and needy. ¹⁰ A virtuous woman who can find? for her price is far above rubies. ¹¹ The heart of her husband trusteth in her, and he shall have no lack of gain. ¹² She doeth him good and not evil all the days of her life. ¹³ She seeketh wool and flax, and worketh willingly with her hands. ¹⁴ She is like the merchant-ships; she bringeth her food from afar. ¹⁵ She riseth also while it is yet night, and giveth meat to her household, and their task to her maidens. ¹⁶ She considereth a field, and buyeth it: with the fruit of her hands she planteth a vineyard. ¹⁷ She girdeth her loins with strength, and maketh strong her arms. ¹⁸ She perceiveth that her merchandise is profitable: her lamp goeth not out by night. ¹⁹ She layeth her hands to the distaff, and her hands hold the spindle. ²⁰ She spreadeth out her hand to the poor; yea, she reacheth forth her hands to the needy. ²¹ She is not afraid of the snow for her household; for all her household are clothed with scarlet. ²² She maketh for herself carpets of tapestry; her clothing is fine linen and purple. ²³ Her husband is known in the gates, when he sitteth among the elders of the land. ²⁴ She maketh linen garments and selleth them; and delivereth girdles unto the merchant. ²⁵ Strength and dignity are her clothing; and she laugheth at the time to come. ²⁶ She openeth her mouth with wisdom; and the law of kindness is on her tongue. ²⁷ She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness. ²⁸ Her children rise up, and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her, saying: ²⁹ Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all. ³⁰ Favour is deceitful, and beauty is vain: but a woman that feareth the LORD, she shall be praised. ³¹ Give her of the fruit of her hands; and let her works praise her in the gates.

ECCLESIASTES; OR, THE PREACHER.

¹The words of the Preacher, the son of David, king in Jerusalem. ²Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher; vanity of vanities, all is vanity. ³What profit hath man of all his labour wherein he laboureth under the sun? ⁴One generation goeth, and another generation cometh; and the earth abideth for ever. ⁵The sun also ariseth, and the sun goeth down, and hasteth to his place where he ariseth. ⁶The wind goeth toward the south, and turneth about unto the north; it turneth about continually in its course, and the wind returneth again to its circuits. ⁷All the rivers run into the sea, yet the sea is not full; unto the place whither the rivers go, thither they go again. ⁸All things are full of weariness; man cannot utter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the ear filled with hearing. ⁹That which hath been is that which shall be; and that which hath been done is that which shall be done: and there is no new thing under the sun. ¹⁰Is there a thing whereof men say, See, this is new? it hath been already, in the ages which were before us. ¹¹There is no remembrance of the former generations; neither shall there be any remembrance of the latter generations that are to come, among those that shall come after. ¹²I the Preacher was king over Israel in Jerusalem. ¹³And I applied my heart to seek and to search out by wisdom concerning all that is done under heaven: it is a sore travail that God hath given to the sons of men to be exercised therewith. ¹⁴I have seen all the works that are done under the sun; and, behold, all is vanity and a striving after wind. ¹⁵That which is crooked cannot be made straight: and that which is wanting cannot be numbered. ¹⁶I communed with mine own heart, saying, Lo, I have gotten me great wisdom above all that were before me in Jerusalem: yea, my heart hath had great experience of wisdom and knowledge. ¹⁷And I applied my heart to know wisdom, and to know madness and folly: I perceived that this also was a striving after wind. ¹⁸For in much wisdom is much grief: and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow.

¹I SAID in mine heart, Go to now, I will prove thee with mirth; therefore enjoy pleasure: and, behold, this also was vanity. ²I said of laughter, It is mad: and of mirth, What doeth it? ³I searched in mine heart how to cheer my flesh with wine, mine heart yet guiding me with wisdom, and how to lay hold on folly, till I might see what it was good for the sons of men that they should do under the heaven all the days of their life. ⁴I made me great works; I builded me houses; I planted me vineyards; ⁵I made me gardens and parks, and I planted trees in them of all kinds of fruit: ⁶I made me pools of water, to water therefrom the forest where trees were reared: ⁷I bought menservants and maidens, and had servants born in my house; also I had great possessions of herds and flocks, above all that were before me in Jerusalem: ⁸I gathered me also silver and gold, and the peculiar treasure of kings and of the provinces: I gat me men singers and women singers, and the delights of the sons of men, concubines very many. ⁹So I was great, and increased more than all that were before me in Jerusalem: also my wisdom remained with me. ¹⁰And whatsoever mine eyes desired I kept not from them: I withheld not my heart from any joy, for my heart rejoiced because of all my labour; and this was my portion from all my labour. ¹¹Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labour that I had laboured to do: and, behold, all was vanity and a striving after wind, and there was no profit under the sun. ¹²And I turned myself to behold wisdom, and madness and folly; for what can the man do that cometh after the king? even that which hath been already done. ¹³Then I saw that wisdom excelleth folly, as far as light excelleth darkness. ¹⁴The wise man's eyes are in his head, and the fool walketh in darkness: and yet I perceived that one event happeneth to them all. ¹⁵Then said I in my heart, As it happeneth to the fool, so will it happen even to me; and why was I then more wise? Then I said in my heart, that this also was vanity. ¹⁶For of the wise man, even as of the fool, there is no remembrance for ever; seeing that in the days to come all will have been already forgotten. And how doth the wise man die even as the fool! ¹⁷ So I hated life; because the work that is wrought under the sun was grievous unto me: for all is vanity and a striving after wind. ¹⁸ And I hated all my labour wherein I laboured under the sun: seeing that I must leave it unto the man that shall be after me. ¹⁹ And who knoweth whether he shall be a wise man or a fool? yet shall he have rule over all my labour wherein I have laboured, and wherein I have shewed wisdom under the sun. This also is vanity. ²⁰ Therefore I turned about to cause my heart to despair concerning all the labour wherein I had laboured under the sun. ²¹ For there is a man whose labour is with wisdom, and with knowledge, and with skilfulness; yet to a man that hath not laboured therein shall he leave it for his portion. This also is vanity and a great evil. ²² For what hath a man of all his labour, and of the striving of his heart, wherein he laboureth under the sun? ²³ For all his days are but sorrows, and his travail is grief; yea, even in the night his heart taketh no rest. This also is vanity. ²⁴ There is nothing better for a man than that he should eat and drink, and make his soul enjoy good in his labour. This also I saw, that it is from the hand of God. ²⁵ For who can eat, or who can have enjoyment, more than I? ²⁶ For to the man that pleaseth him God giveth wisdom, and knowledge, and joy; but to the sinner he giveth travail, to gather and to heap up, that he may give to him that pleaseth God. This also is vanity and a striving after wind.

¹ To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven: ² a time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted; ³ a time to kill, and a time to heal; a time to break down, and a time to build up; ⁴ a time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to dance; ⁵ a time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together; a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing; ⁶ a time to seek, and a time to lose; a time to keep, and a time to cast away; ⁷ a time to rend, and a time to sew; a time to keep silence, and a time to speak; ⁸ a time to love, and a time to hate; a time for war, and a time for peace. ⁹ What profit hath he that worketh in that wherein he laboureth? ¹⁰ I have seen the travail which God hath given to the sons of men to be exercised therewith. ¹¹ He hath made every thing beautiful in its time: also he hath set the world in their heart, yet so that man cannot find out the work that God hath done from the beginning even to the end. ¹² I know that there is nothing better for them, than to rejoice, and to do good so long as they live. ¹³ And also that every man should eat and drink, and enjoy good in all his labour, is the gift of God. ¹⁴ I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it: and God hath done it, that men should fear before him. ¹⁵ That which is hath been already; and that which is to be hath already been: and God seeketh again that which is passed away. ¹⁶ And moreover I saw under the sun, in the place of judgment, that wickedness was there; and in the place of righteousness, that wickedness was there. ¹⁷ I said in mine heart, God shall judge the righteous and the wicked: for there is a time there for every purpose and for every work. ¹⁸ I said in mine heart, It is because of the sons of men, that God may prove them, and that they may see that they themselves are but as beasts. ¹⁹ For that which befalleth the sons of men befalleth beasts; even one thing befalleth them: as the one dieth, so dieth the other; yea, they have all one breath; and man hath no preeminence above the beasts: for all is vanity. ²⁰ All go unto one place; all are of the dust, and all turn to dust again. ²¹ Who knoweth the spirit of man whether it goeth upward, and the spirit of the beast whether it goeth downward to the earth? ²² Wherefore I saw that there is nothing better, than that a man should rejoice in his works; for that is his portion: for who shall bring him back to see what shall be after him?

but they had no comforter. ² Wherefore I praised the dead which are already dead more than the living which are yet alive; ³ yea, better than them both did I esteem him which hath not yet been, who hath not seen the evil work that is done under the sun. ⁴ Then I saw all labour and every skilful work, that for this a man is envied of his neighbour. This also is vanity and a striving after wind. ⁵ The fool foldeth his hands together, and eateth his own flesh. ⁶ Better is an handful with quietness, than two handfuls with labour and striving after wind. ⁷ Then I returned and saw vanity under the sun. ⁸ There is one that is alone, and he hath not a second; yea, he hath neither son nor brother; yet is there no end of all his labour, neither are his eyes satisfied with riches. For whom then, saith he, do I labour, and deprive my soul of good? This also is vanity, yea, it is a sore travail. ⁹ Two are better than one; because they have a good reward for their labour. ¹⁰ For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow: but woe to him that is alone when he falleth, and hath not another to lift him up. ¹¹ Again, if two lie together, then they have warmth: but how can one be warm alone? ¹² And if a man prevail against him that is alone, two shall withstand him; and a threefold cord is not quickly broken. ¹³ Better is a poor and wise youth than an old and foolish king, who knoweth not how to receive admonition any more. ¹⁴ For out of prison he came forth to be king; yea, even in his kingdom he was born poor. ¹⁵ I saw all the living which walk under the sun, that they were with the youth, the second, that stood up in his stead. ¹⁶ There was no end of all the people, even of all them over whom he was: yet they that come after shall not rejoice in him. Surely this also is vanity and a striving after wind.

¹ Keep thy foot when thou goest to the house of God; for to draw nigh to hear is better than to give the sacrifice of fools: for they know not that they do evil. ² Be not rash with thy month, and let not thine heart be hasty to utter any thing before God; for God is in heaven, and thou upon earth: therefore let thy words be few. ³ For

a dream cometh with a multitude of business; and a fool's voice with a multitude of words. ⁴ When thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to pay it; for he hath no pleasure in fools: pay that which thou vowest. ⁵ Better is it that thou shouldest not vow, than that thou shouldest vow and not pay. ⁶ Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesh to sin; neither say thou before the angel, that it was an error: wherefore should God be angry at thy voice, and destroy the work of thine hands? ⁷ For thus it cometh to pass through the multitude of dreams and vanities and many words: but fear thou God. ⁸ If thou seeest the oppression of the poor, and the violent taking away of judgment and justice in a province, marvel not at the matter: for one higher than the high regardeth; and there be higher than they. ⁹ Moreover the profit of the earth is for all: the king himself is served by the field. ¹⁰ He that loveth silver shall not be satisfied with silver; nor he that loveth abundance with increase: this also is vanity. ¹¹ When goods increase, they are increased that eat them: and what advantage is there to the owner thereof, saving the beholding of them with his eyes? ¹² The sleep of a labouring man is sweet, whether he eat little or much: but the fulness of the rich will not suffer him to sleep. ¹³ There is a grievous evil, which I have seen under the sun, namely, riches kept by the owner thereof to his hurt: ¹⁴ and those riches perish by evil adventure; and if he hath begotten a son, there is nothing in his hand. ¹⁵ As he came forth of his mother's womb, naked shall he go again as he came, and shall take nothing for his labour, which he may carry away in his hand. ¹⁶ And this also is a grievous evil, that in all points as he came, so shall he go: and what profit hath he that he laboreth for the wind? ¹⁷ All his days also he eateth in darkness, and he is sore vexed and hath sickness and wrath. ¹⁸ Behold, that which I have seen to be good and to be comely is for one to eat and to drink, and to enjoy good in all his labour, wherein he laboreth under the sun, all the days of his life which God hath given him: for this is his portion. ¹⁹ Every man also to whom God hath given riches and wealth, and hath given him power to eat thereof, and to take his portion, and to rejoice in his labour; this is the gift of God. ²⁰For he shall not much remember the days of his life; because God answereth him in the joy of his heart.

¹There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, and it is heavy upon men: ²a man to whom God giveth riches, wealth, and honour, so that he lacketh nothing for his soul of all that he desireth, yet God giveth him not power to eat thereof, but a stranger eateth it; this is vanity, and it is an evil disease. ³If a man beget an hundred children and live many years, so that the days of his years be many, but his soul be not filled with good, and moreover he have no burial; I say, that an untimely birth is better than he: ⁴for it cometh in vanity, and departeth in darkness, and the name thereof is covered with darkness; ⁵moreover it hath not seen the sun nor known it; this hath rest rather than the other: ⁶yea, though he live a thousand years twice told, and yet enjoy no good: do not all go to one place? ⁷All the labour of man is for his mouth, and yet the appetite is not filled. ⁸For what advantage hath the wise more than the fool? or what hath the poor man, that knoweth to walk before the living? ⁹Better is the sight of the eyes than the wandering of the desire: this also is vanity and a striving after wind. ¹⁰Whatsoever hath been, the name thereof was given long ago, and it is known that it is man: neither can he contend with him that is mightier than he. ¹¹Seeing there be many things that increase vanity, what is man the better? ¹²For who knoweth what is good for man in his life, all the days of his vain life which he spendeth as a shadow? for who can tell a man what shall be after him under the sun?

¹A GOOD name is better than precious ointment; and the day of death than the day of one's birth. ²It is better to go to the house of mourning, than to go to the house of feasting: for that is the end of all men; and the living will lay it to his heart. ³Sorrow is better than laughter: for by the sadness of the countenance the heart is made glad. ⁴The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning; but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth. ⁵It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise, than for a man to hear the song of fools. ⁶For as the crackling of thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of the fool: this also is vanity. ⁷Surely extortion maketh a wise man foolish; and a gift destroyeth the understanding. ⁸Better is the end of a thing than the beginning thereof: and the patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit. ⁹Be not hasty in thy spirit to be angry: for anger resteth in the bosom of fools. ¹⁰Say not thou, What is the cause that the former days were better than these? for thou dost not inquire wisely concerning this. ¹¹Wisdom is as good as an inheritance: yea, more excellent is it for them that see the sun. ¹²For wisdom is a defence, even as money is a defence: but the excellency of knowledge is, that wisdom preserveth the life of him that hath it. ¹³Consider the work of God: for who can make that straight, which he hath made crooked? ¹⁴In the day of prosperity be joyful, and in the day of adversity consider: God hath even made the one side by side with the other, to the end that man should not find out any thing that shall be after him. ¹⁵All this have I seen in the days of my vanity: there is a righteous man that perisheth in his righteousness, and there is a wicked man that prolongeth his life in his evil-doing. ¹⁶Be not righteous over much; neither make thyself over wise: why shouldst thou destroy thyself? ¹⁷Be not over much wicked, neither be thou foolish: why shouldst thou die before thy time? ¹⁸It is good that thou shouldst take hold of this; yea, also from that withdraw not thine hand: for he that feareth God shall come forth of them all. ¹⁹Wisdom is a strength to the wise man more than ten rulers which are in a city. ²⁰Surely there is not a righteous man upon earth, that doeth good, and sinneth not. ²¹Also take not heed unto all words that are spoken; lest thou hear thy servant curse thee: ²²for oftentimes also thine own heart knoweth that thou thyself likewise hast cursed others. ²³All this have I proved in wisdom: I said, I will be wise; but it was far from me. ²⁴That which is is far off, and exceeding deep; who can find it out? ²⁵I turned about, and my heart was set to know and to search out, and to seek wisdom and the reason of things, and to know that wickedness is folly, and that foolishness is madness: ²⁶ And I find a thing more bitter than death, even the woman whose heart is snares and nets, and her hands as bands: whoso pleaseth God shall escape from her; but the sinner shall be taken by her. ²⁷ Behold, this have I found, saith the Preacher; laying one thing to another, to find out the account: ²⁸ which my soul still seeketh, but I have not found: one man among a thousand have I found; but a woman among all those have I not found. ²⁹ Behold, this only have I found, that God made man upright; but they have sought out many inventions.

¹ Who is as the wise man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? A man's wisdom maketh his face to shine, and the hardness of his face is changed. ² I counsel thee, Keep the king's command, and that in regard of the oath of God. ³ Be not hasty to go out of his presence; persist not in an evil thing; for he doeth whatsoever pleaseth him. ⁴ Because the king's word hath power; and who may say unto him, What doest thou? ⁵ Whoso keepeth the commandment shall know no evil thing; and a wise man's heart discerneth time and judgment: ⁶ for to every purpose there is a time and judgment; because the misery of man is great upon him: ⁷ for he knoweth not that which shall be; for who can tell him how it shall be? ⁸ There is no man that hath power over the spirit to retain the spirit; neither hath he power over the day of death; and there is no discharge in that war: neither shall wickedness deliver him that is given to it. ⁹ All this have I seen, and applied my heart unto every work that is done under the sun: there is a time wherein one man hath power over another to his hurt. ¹⁰ And withal I saw the wicked buried, and they came to the grave; and they that had done right went away from the holy place, and were forgotten in the city: this also is vanity. ¹¹ Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil. ¹² Though a sinner do evil an hundred times, and prolong his days, yet surely I know that it shall be well with them that fear God, which fear before him:

¹³ but it shall not be well with the wicked, neither shall he prolong his days, which are as a shadow; because he feareth not before God. ¹⁴ There is a vanity which is done upon the earth; that there be righteous men, unto whom it happeneth according to the work of the wicked; again, there be wicked men, to whom it happeneth according to the work of the righteous: I said that this also is vanity. ¹⁵ Then I commended mirth, because a man hath no better thing under the sun, than to eat, and to drink, and to be merry: for that shall abide with him in his labour all the days of his life which God hath given him under the sun. ¹⁶ When I applied mine heart to know wisdom, and to see the business that is done upon the earth: (for also there is that neither day nor night seeth sleep with his eyes;) ¹⁷ then I beheld all the work of God, that man cannot find out the work that is done under the sun: because however much a man labour to seek it out, yet he shall not find it; yea moreover, though a wise man think to know it, yet shall he not be able to find it.

¹ For all this I laid to my heart, even to explore all this; that the righteous, and the wise, and their works, are in the hand of God: whether it be love or hatred, man knoweth it not; all is before them. ² All things come alike to all: there is one event to the righteous and to the wicked; to the good and to the clean and to the unclean; to him that sacrificeth and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner; and he that sweareth, as he that feareth an oath. ³ This is an evil in all that is done under the sun, that there is one event unto all: yea also, the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and madness is in their heart while they live, and after that they go to the dead. ⁴ For to him that is joined with all the living there is hope: for a living dog is better than a dead lion. ⁵ For the living know that they shall die: but the dead know not any thing, neither have they any more a reward; for the memory of them is forgotten. ⁶ As well their love, as their hatred and their envy, is now perished; neither have they any more a portion for ever in any thing that is done under the sun. ⁷ Go thy way, eat thy bread with joy, and drink thy wine with a merry heart; for God hath already accepted thy works. ⁸Let thy garments be always white; and let not thy head lack ointment. ⁹Live joyfully with the wife whom thou lovest all the days of the life of thy vanity, which he hath given thee under the sun, all the days of thy vanity: for that is thy portion in life, and in thy labour wherein thou labourest under the sun. ¹⁰Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave, whither thou goest. ¹¹I returned, and saw under the sun, that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favour to men of skill; but fame and chance happeneth to them all. ¹²For man also knoweth not his time: as the fishes that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare, even so, are the sons of men snared in an evil time, when it falleth suddenly upon them. ¹³I have also seen wisdom under the sun on this wise, and it seemed great unto me: ¹⁴There was a little city, and few men within it; and there came a great king against it, and besieged it, and built great bulwarks against it: ¹⁵Now there was found in it a poor wise man, and he by his wisdom delivered the city; yet no man remembered that same poor man. ¹⁶Then said I, Wisdom is better than strength: nevertheless the poor man's wisdom is despised, and his words are not heard. ¹⁷The words of the wise spoken in quiet are heard more than the cry of him that ruleth among fools. ¹⁸Wisdom is better than weapons of war: but one sinner destroyeth much good.

¹Dead flies cause the ointment of the perfumer to send forth a stinking savour: so doth a little folly outweigh wisdom and honour. ²A wise man's heart is at his right hand; but a fool's heart at his left. ³Yea also, when the fool walketh by the way, his understanding faileth him, and he saith to every one that he is a fool. ⁴If the spirit of the ruler rise up against thee, leave not thy place; for yielding allayeth great offences. ⁵There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, as it were an error

which proceedeth from the ruler: ⁶folly is set in great dignity, and the rich sit in low place. ⁷I have seen servants upon horses, and princes walking as servants upon the earth. ⁸He that diggeth a pit shall fall into it; and whoso breaketh through a fence, a serpent shall bite him. ⁹Whoso heweth out stones shall be hurt therewith; and he that cleaveth wood is endangered thereby. ¹⁰If the iron be blunt, and one do not whet the edge, then must he put to more strength: but wisdom is profitable to direct. ¹¹If the serpent bite before it be charmed, then is there no advantage in the charmer. ¹²The words of a wise man's mouth are gracious; but the lips of a fool will swallow up himself. ¹³The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishness: and the end of his talk is mischievous madness. ¹⁴A fool also multiplieth words: yet man knoweth not what shall be; and that which shall be after him, who can tell him? ¹⁵The labour of fools wearieth every one of them, for he knoweth not how to go to the city. ¹⁶Woe to thee, O land, when thy king is a child, and thy princes eat in the morning! ¹⁷Happy art thou, O land, when thy king is the son of nobles, and thy princes eat in due season, for strength, and not for drunkenness! ¹⁸By slothfulness the roof sinketh in; and through idleness of the hands the house leaketh. ¹⁹A feast is made for laughter, and wine maketh glad the life: and money answereth all things. ²⁰Curse not the king, no, not in thy thought; and curse not the rich in thy bedchamber: for a bird of the air shall carry the voice, and that which hath wings shall tell the matter.

¹Cast thy bread upon the waters: for thou shalt find it after many days. ²Give a portion to seven, yea, even unto eight; for thou knowest not what evil shall be upon the earth. ³If the clouds be full of rain, they empty themselves upon the earth: and if a tree fall toward the south, or toward the north, in the place where the tree falleth, there shall it be. ⁴He that observeth the wind shall not sow; and he that regardeth the clouds shall not reap. ⁵As thou knowest not what is the way of the wind, nor how the bones do grow in the womb of her that is with child; even so thou knowest not the work of God who doeth all. ⁶In the morning sow thy seed, and in the evening withhold not thine hand: for thou knowest not which shall prosper, whether this or that, or whether they both shall be alike good. ⁷Truly the light is sweet, and a pleasant thing it is for the eyes to behold the sun. ⁸Yea, if a man live many years, let him rejoice in them all; but let him remember the days of darkness, for they shall be many. All that cometh is vanity. ⁹Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth; and let thy heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth, and walk in the ways of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but know thou, that for all these things God will bring thee into judgment. ¹⁰Therefore remove sorrow from thy heart, and put away evil from thy flesh: for youth and the prime of life are vanity.

and sought out, and set in order many proverbs. ¹⁰The Preacher sought to find out acceptable words, and that which was written uprightly, even words of truth. ¹¹The words of the wise are as goads, and as nails well fastened are the words of the masters of assemblies, which are given from one shepherd. ¹²And furthermore, my son, be admonished: of making many books there is no end; and much study is a weariness of the flesh. ¹³*This is the end of the matter; all hath been heard: fear God, and keep his commandments; for this is the whole duty of man.* ¹⁴For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every hidden thing, whether it be good or whether it be evil.

¹Remember also thy Creator in the days of thy youth, or ever the evil days come, and the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them; ²or ever the sun, and the light, and the moon, and the stars, be darkened, and the clouds return after the rain: ³in the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men shall bow themselves, and the grinders cease because they are few, and those that look out of the windows be darkened, ⁴and the door shall be shut in the street; when the sound of the grinding is low, and one shall rise up at the voice of a bird, and all the daughters of music shall be brought low; ⁵yea, they shall be afraid of that which is high, and terrors shall be in the way; and the almond tree shall blossom, and the grasshopper shall be a burden, and the caper-berry shall fail: because man goeth to his long home, and the mourners go about the streets: ⁶or ever the silver cord be loosed, or the golden bowl be broken, or the pitcher be broken at the fountain, or the wheel broken at the cistern; ⁷and the dust return to the earth as it was, and the spirit return unto God who gave it. ⁸Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher; all is vanity. ⁹And further, because the Preacher was wise, he still taught the people knowledge; yea, he pondered,

THE SONG OF SONGS.

¹The Song of songs, which is Solomon's.
²Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth: for thy love is better than wine.
³Thine ointments have a goodly fragrance; thy name is as ointment poured forth; therefore do the virgins love thee. ⁴Draw me; we will run after thee: the king hath brought me into his chambers: we will be glad and rejoice in thee, we will make mention of thy love more than of wine: rightly do they love thee. ⁵I am black, but comely, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, as the tents of Kedar, as the curtains of Solomon. ⁶Look not upon me, because I am swarthy, because the sun hath scorched me. My mother's sons were incensed against me, they made me keeper of the vineyards; but mine own vineyard have I not kept. ⁷Tell me, O thou whom my soul loveth, where thou feedest thy flock, where thou makest it to rest at noon: for why should I be as one that is veiled beside the flocks of thy companions? ⁸If thou know not, O thou fairest among women, go thy way forth by the footsteps of the flock, and feed thy kids beside the shepherds' tents. ⁹I have compared thee, O my love, to a steed in Pharaoh's chariots. ¹⁰Thy cheeks are comely with plaits of hair, thy neck with strings of jewels. ¹¹We will make thee plaits of gold with studs of silver. ¹²While the king sat at his table, my spikenard sent forth its fragrance. ¹³My beloved is unto me as a bundle of myrrh, that lieth betwixt my breasts. ¹⁴My beloved is unto me as a cluster of henna-flowers in the vineyards of En-gedi. ¹⁵Behold, thou art fair, my love; behold, thou art fair; thine eyes are as doves. ¹⁶Behold, thou art fair, my beloved, yea, pleasant: also our couch is green. ¹⁷The beams of our house are cedars, and our rafters are firs.

¹I AM a rose of Sharon, a lily of the valleys. ²As a lily among thorns, so is my love among the daughters. ³As the apple tree among the trees of the wood, so is my beloved among the sons. I sat down under his shadow with great delight, and his fruit was sweet to my taste. ⁴He brought me to the banqueting house, and his banner over me was love. ⁵Stay ye me with raisins, comfort me with apples: for I am sick of love. ⁶His left hand is under my head, and his right hand doth embrace me. ⁷I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes, and by the hinds of the field, that ye stir not up, nor awaken love, until it please. ⁸The voice of my beloved! behold, he cometh, leaping upon the mountains, skipping upon the hills. ⁹My beloved is like a roe or a young hart: behold, he standeth behind our wall, he looketh in at the windows, he sheweth himself through the lattice. ¹⁰My beloved spake, and said unto me, Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away. ¹¹For, lo, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone; ¹²The flowers appear on the earth; the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land; ¹³The fig tree ripeneth her green figs, and the vines are in blossom, they give forth their fragrance. Arise, my love, my fair one, and come away. ¹⁴O my dove, that art in the clefts of the rock, in the covert of the steep place, let me see thy countenance, let me hear thy voice: for sweet is thy voice, and thy countenance is comely. ¹⁵Take us the foxes, the little foxes, that spoil the vineyards; for our vineyards are in blossom. ¹⁶My beloved is mine, and I am his: he feedeth his flock among the lilies. ¹⁷Until the day be cool, and the shadows flee away, turn, my beloved, and be thou like a roe or a young hart upon the mountains of Bether.

¹By night on my bed I sought him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not. ²I said, I will rise now, and go about the city, in the streets and in the broad ways, I will seek him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not. ³The watchmen that go about the city found me: to whom I said, Saw ye him whom my soul loveth? ⁴It was but a little that I passed from them, when I found him whom my soul loveth: I held him, and would not let him go, until I had brought him into my mother's house, and into the chamber of her that conceived me. ⁵ I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes, and by the hinds of the field, that ye stir not up, nor awaken love, until it please. ⁶ Who is this that cometh up out of the wilderness like pillars of smoke, perfumed with myrrh and frankincense, with all powders of the merchant? ⁷ Behold, it is the litter of Solomon; threescore mighty men are about it, of the mighty men of Israel. ⁸ They all handle the sword, and are expert in war: every man hath his sword upon his thigh, because of fear in the night. ⁹ King Solomon made himself a palanquin of the wood of Lebanon. ¹⁰ He made the pillars thereof of silver, the bottom thereof of gold, the seat of it of purple, the midst thereof being paved with love, from the daughters of Jerusalem. ¹¹ Go forth, O ye daughters of Zion, and behold king Solomon, with the crown wherewith his mother hath crowned him in the day of his espousals, and in the day of the gladness of his heart.

¹ Behold, thou art fair, my love; behold, thou art fair; thine eyes are as doves behind thy veil: thy hair is as a flock of goats, that lie along the side of mount Gilead. ² Thy teeth are like a flock of ewes that are newly shorn, which are come up from the washing; whereof every one hath twins, and none is bereaved among them. ³ Thy lips are like a thread of scarlet, and thy mouth is comely: thy temples are like a piece of a pomegranate behind thy veil. ⁴ Thy neck is like the tower of David builded for an armoury, whereon there hang a thousand bucklers, all the shields of the mighty men. ⁵ Thy two breasts are like two fawns that are twins of a roe, which feed among the lilies. ⁶ Until the day be cool, and the shadows flee away, I will get me to the mountain of myrrh, and to the hill of frankincense. ⁷ Thou art all fair, my love; and there is no spot in thee. ⁸ Come with me from Lebanon, my bride, with me from Lebanon: look from the top of Amana, from the top of Senir and Hermon, from the lions' dens, from the mountains of the leopards. ⁹ Thou hast ravished my heart, my sister, my bride; thou hast ravished my heart with one of thine eyes, with one chain of thy neck. ¹⁰ How fair is thy love, my sister, my bride! how much better is thy love than wine! and the smell of thine ointments than all manner of spices! ¹¹ Thy lips, O my bride, drop as the honeycomb: honey and milk are under thy tongue; and the smell of thy garments is like the smell of Lebanon. ¹² A garden shut up is my sister, my bride; a spring shut up, a fountain sealed. ¹³ Thy shoots are an orchard of pomegranates, with precious fruits; henna with spikenard plants, ¹⁴ Spikenard and saffron, calamus and cinnamon, with all trees of frankincense; myrrh and aloes, with all the chief spices. ¹⁵ Thou art a fountain of gardens, a well of living waters, and flowing streams from Lebanon. ¹⁶ Awake, O north wind; and come, thou south; blow upon my garden, that the spices thereof may flow out. Let my beloved come into his garden, and eat his precious fruits.

¹ I AM come into my garden, my sister, my bride: I have gathered my myrrh with my spice; I have eaten my honeycomb with my honey; I have drunk my wine with my milk. Eat, O friends; drink, yea, drink abundantly, O beloved. ² I was asleep, but my heart waked: it is the voice of my beloved that knocketh, saying, Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, my undefiled: for my head is filled with dew, my locks with the drops of the night. ³ I have put off my coat; how shall I put it on? I have washed my feet; how shall I defile them? ⁴ My beloved put in his hand by the hole of the door, and my heart was moved for him. ⁵ I rose up to open to my beloved; and my hands dropped with myrrh, and my fingers with liquid myrrh, upon the handles of the bolt. ⁶ I opened to my beloved; but my beloved had withdrawn himself, and was gone. My soul had failed me when he spake: I sought him, but I could not find him; I called him, but he gave me no answer. ⁷ The watchmen that go about the city found me, they smote me, they wounded me; the keepers of the walls took away my mantle from me. ⁸ I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem, if ye find my beloved, that ye tell him, that I am sick of love. ⁹ What is thy beloved more than another beloved, O thou fairest among women? what is thy beloved more than another beloved, that thou dost so adjure us? ¹⁰My beloved is white and ruddy, the chiefest among ten thousand. ¹¹His head is as the most fine gold, his locks are bushy, and black as a raven. ¹²His eyes are like doves beside the water brooks; washed with milk, and fitly set. ¹³His cheeks are as a bed of spices, as banks of sweet herbs: his lips are as lilies, dropping liquid myrrh. ¹⁴His hands are as rings of gold set with beryl: his body is as ivory work overlaid with sapphires. ¹⁵His legs are as pillars of marble, set upon sockets of fine gold: his aspect is like Lebanon, excellent as the cedars. ¹⁶His mouth is most sweet: yea, he is altogether lovely. This is my beloved, and this is my friend, O daughters of Jerusalem.

¹Whither is thy beloved gone, O thou fairest among women? whither hath thy beloved turned him, that we may seek him with thee? ²My beloved is gone down to his garden, to the beds of spices, to feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies. ³I am my beloved's, and my beloved is mine: he feedeth his flock among the lilies. ⁴Thou art beautiful, O my love, as Tirzah, comely as Jerusalem, terrible as an army with banners. ⁵Turn away thine eyes from me, for they have overcome me. Thy hair is as a flock of goats, that lie along the side of Gilead. ⁶Thy teeth are like a flock of ewes, which are come up from the washing; whereof every one hath twins, and none is bereaved among them. ⁷Thy temples are like a piece of a pomegranate behind thy veil. ⁸There are threescore queens, and fourscore concubines, and virgins without number. ⁹My dove, my undefiled, is but one; she is the only one of her mother; she is the choice one of her that bare her. The daughters saw her, and called her blessed; yea, the queens and the concubines, and they praised her. ¹⁰Who is she that looketh forth as the morning, fair as the moon, clear as the sun, terrible as an army with banners? ¹¹I went down into the garden of nuts, to see the green plants of the valley, to see whether the vine budded, and the pomegranates were in flower. ¹²Or ever I was aware, my soul set me among the chariots of my princely people. ¹³Return, return, O Shulammitte; return, return, that we may look upon thee. Why will ye look upon the Shulammitte, as upon the dance of Mahanaim?

¹How beautiful are thy feet in sandals, O prince's daughter! the joints of thy thighs are like jewels, the work of the hands of a cunning workman. ²Thy navel is like a round goblet, wherein no mingled wine is wanting: thy belly is like an heap of wheat set about with lilies. ³Thy two breasts are like two fawns that are twins of a roe. ⁴Thy neck is like the tower of ivory; thine eyes as the pools in Heshbon, by the gate of Bath-rabbim; thy nose is like the tower of Lebanon which looketh toward Damascus. ⁵Thine head upon thee is like Carmel, and the hair of thine head like purple; the king is held captive in the tresses thereof. ⁶How fair and how pleasant art thou, O love, for delights! ⁷This thy stature is like to a palm tree, and thy breasts to clusters of grapes. ⁸I said, I will climb up into the palm tree, I will take hold of the branches thereof: let thy breasts be as clusters of the vine, and the smell of thy breath like apples; ⁹And thy mouth like the best wine, that goeth down smoothly for my beloved, gliding through the lips of those that are asleep. ¹⁰I am my beloved's, and his desire is toward me. ¹¹Come, my beloved, let us go forth into the field; let us lodge in the villages. ¹²Let us get up early to the vineyards; let us see whether the vine hath budded, and its blossom be open, and the pomegranates be in flower: there will I give thee my love. ¹³The mandrakes give forth fragrance, and at our doors are all manner of precious fruits, new and old, which I have laid up for thee, O my beloved.

¹Oh that thou wert as my brother, that sucked the breasts of my mother! when I should find thee without, I would kiss thee; yea, and none would despise me. ²I would lead thee, and bring thee into my mother's house, who would instruct me; I would cause thee to drink of spiced wine, of the juice of my pomegranate. ³His left hand should be under my head, and his right hand should embrace me. ⁴I adjure you, O

daughters of Jerusalem, that ye stir not up, nor awaken love, until it please. ⁵ Who is this that cometh up from the wilderness, leaning upon her beloved? Under the apple tree I awakened thee: there thy mother was in travail with thee, there was she in travail that brought thee forth. ⁶ Set me as a seal upon thine heart, as a seal upon thine arm: for love is strong as death; jealousy is cruel as the grave: the flashes thereof are flashes of fire, a very flame of the LORD. ⁷ Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it: if a man would give all the substance of his house for love, he would utterly be contemned. ⁸ We have a little sister, and she hath no breasts: what shall we do for our sister in the day when she shall be spoken for? ⁹ If she be a wall, we will build upon her a turret of silver: and if she be a door, we will enclose her with boards of cedar. ¹⁰ I am a wall, and my breasts like the towers thereof: then was I in his eyes as one that found peace. ¹¹ Solomon had a vineyard at Baal-hamon; he let out the vineyard unto keepers; every one for the fruit thereof was to bring a thousand pieces of silver. ¹² My vineyard, which is mine, is before me: thou, O Solomon, shalt have the thousand, and those that keep the fruit thereof two hundred. ¹³ Thou that dwellest in the gardens, the companions hearken for thy voice: cause me to hear it. ¹⁴ Make haste, my beloved, and be thou like to a roe or to a young hart upon the mountains of spices.

THE BOOK OF THE PROPHET ISAIAH.

¹The vision of Isaiah the son of Amoz, which he saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah. ²Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth, for the LORD hath spoken: I have nourished and brought up children, and they have rebelled against me. ³The ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib: but Israel doth not know, my people doth not consider. ⁴Ah sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity, a seed of evil-doers, children that deal corruptly: they have forsaken the LORD, they have despised the Holy One of Israel, they are estranged and gone backward. ⁵Why will ye be still stricken, that ye revolt more and more? the whole head is sick, and the whole heart faint. ⁶From the sole of the foot even unto the head there is no soundness in it; but wounds, and bruises, and festering sores: they have not been closed, neither bound up, neither mollified with oil. ⁷Your country is desolate; your cities are burned with fire; your land, strangers devour it in your presence, and it is desolate, as overthrown by strangers. ⁸And the daughter of Zion is left as a booth in a vineyard, as a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, as a besieged city. ⁹Except the LORD of hosts had left unto us a very small remnant, we should have been as Sodom, we should have been like unto Gomorrah. ¹⁰Hear the word of the LORD, ye rulers of Sodom; give ear unto the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah. ¹¹To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices unto me? saith the LORD: I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts; and I delight not in the blood of bullocks, or of lambs, or of he-goats. ¹²When ye come to appear before me, who hath required this at your hand, to trample my courts? ¹³Bring no more vain oblations; incense is an abomination unto me; new moon and sabbath, the calling of assemblies, —I cannot away with iniquity and the solemn meeting. ¹⁴Your new moons and your appointed feasts my soul hateth:

they are a trouble unto me; I am weary to bear them. ¹⁵And when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: yea, when ye make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands are full of blood. ¹⁶Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil: ¹⁷learn to do well; seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow. ¹⁸Come now, and let us reason together, saith the LORD: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool. ¹⁹If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land: ²⁰but if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it. ²¹How is the faithful city become an harlot! she that was full of judgment! righteousness lodged in her, but now murderers. ²²Thy silver is become dross, thy wine mixed with water. ²³Thy princes are rebellious, and companions of thieves; every one loveth gifts, and followeth after rewards: they judge not the fatherless, neither doth the cause of the widow come unto them. ²⁴Therefore saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts, the Mighty One of Israel, Ah, I will ease me of mine adversaries, and avenge me of mine enemies: ²⁵and I will turn my hand upon thee, and throughly purge away thy dross, and will take away all thy tin: ²⁶and I will restore thy judges as at the first, and thy counsellors as at the beginning; afterward thou shalt be called The city of righteousness, the faithful city. ²⁷Zion shall be redeemed with judgment, and her converts with righteousness. ²⁸But the destruction of the transgressors and the sinners shall be together, and they that forsake the LORD shall be consumed. ²⁹For they shall be ashamed of the oaks which ye have desired, and ye shall be confounded for the gardens that ye have chosen. ³⁰For ye shall be as an oak whose leaf fadeth, and as a garden that hath no water. ³¹And the strong shall be as tow, and his work as a spark; and they shall both burn together, and none shall quell them.

saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem. ²And it shall come to pass in the latter days, that the mountain of the LORD'S house shall be established in the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills; and all nations shall flow unto it. ³And many peoples shall go and say, come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem. ⁴And he shall judge between the nations, and shall reprove many peoples: and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more. ⁵O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the LORD. ⁶For thou hast forsaken thy people the house of Jacob, because they be filled with customs from the east, and are soothsayers like the Philistines, and they strike hands with the children of strangers. ⁷Their land also is full of silver and gold, neither is there any end of their treasures; their land also is full of horses, neither is there any end of their chariots. ⁸Their land also is full of idols; they worship the work of their own hands, that which their own fingers have made. ⁹And the mean man is bowed down, and the great man is brought low; therefore forgive them not. ¹⁰Enter into the rock, and hide thee in the dust, from before the terror of the LORD, and from the glory of his majesty. ¹¹The lofty looks of man shall be brought low, and the haughtiness of men shall be bowed down, and the LORD alone shall be exalted in that day. ¹²For there shall be a day of the LORD of hosts upon all that is proud and haughty, and upon all that is lifted up; and it shall be brought low: ¹³and upon all the cedars of Lebanon, that are high and lifted up, and upon all the oaks of Bashan; ¹⁴and upon all the high mountains, and upon all the hills that are lifted up; ¹⁵and upon every lofty tower, and upon every fenced wall; ¹⁶and upon all the ships of Tarshish; and upon all pleasant imagery. ¹⁷And the loftiness of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be brought low: and the LORD alone shall be exalted in that day. ¹⁸And the idols shall utterly pass away. ¹⁹And men shall go into the caves of the rocks, and into the holes of the earth, from before the terror of the LORD, and from the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake mightily the earth. ²⁰In that day a man shall cast away his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which they made for him to worship, to the moles and to the bats; ²¹to go into the caverns of the rocks, and into the clefts of the ragged rocks, from before the terror of the LORD, and from the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake mightily the earth. ²²Cease ye from man, whose breath is in his nostrils: for wherein is he to be accounted of?

¹For, behold, the LORD, the LORD of hosts, doth take away from Jerusalem and from Judah stay and staff, the whole stay of bread, and the whole stay of water; ²the mighty man, and the man of war; the judge, and the prophet, and the diviner, and the ancient; ³the captain of fifty, and the honourable man, and the counsellor, and the cunning artificer, and the skilful enchanter. ⁴And I will give children to be their princes, and babes shall rule over them. ⁵And the people shall be oppressed, every one by another, and every one by his neighbour: the child shall behave himself proudly against the ancient, and the base against the honourable. ⁶When a man shall take hold of his brother in the house of his father, saying, Thou hast clothing, be thou our ruler, and let this ruin be under thy hand: ⁷in that day shall he lift up his voice, saying, I will not be a healer; for in my house is neither bread nor clothing; ye shall not make me ruler of the people. ⁸For Jerusalem is ruined, and Judah is fallen: because their tongue and their doings are against the LORD, to provoke the eyes of his glory. ⁹The shew of their countenance doth witness against them; and they declare their sin as Sodom, they hide it not. Woe unto their soul! for they have rewarded evil unto themselves. ¹⁰Say ye of the righteous, that it shall be well with him: for they shall eat the fruit of their doings. ¹¹Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him: for the reward of his hands shall be given him. ¹²As for my people, children are their oppressors, and women rule over them. O my people, they which lead thee cause thee to err, and destroy the way of thy paths. ¹³The LORD standeth up to plead, and standeth to judge the peoples. ¹⁴The LORD will enter into judgment with the elders of his people, and the princes thereof: It is ye that have eaten up the vineyard; the spoil of the poor is in your houses: ¹⁵what mean ye that ye crush my people, and grind the face of the poor? saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts. ¹⁶Moreover the LORD said, Because the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walk with stretched forth necks and wanton eyes, walking and mincing as they go, and making a tinkling with their feet: ¹⁷therefore the Lord will smite with a scab the crown of the head of the daughters of Zion, and the LORD will lay bare their secret parts. ¹⁸In that day the Lord will take away the bravery of their anklets, and the cauls, and the crescents; ¹⁹the pendants, and the bracelets, and the mufflers; ²⁰the headtires, and the ankle chains, and the sashes, and the perfume boxes, and the amulets; ²¹the rings, and the nose jewels; ²²the festival robes, and the mantles, and the shawls, and the satchels; ²³the hand mirrors, and the fine linen, and the turbans, and the veils. ²⁴And it shall come to pass, that instead of sweet spices there shall be rottenness; and instead of a girdle a rope; and instead of well set hair baldness; and instead of a stomacher a girding of sackcloth: branding instead of beauty. ²⁵Thy men shall fall by the sword, and thy mighty in the war. ²⁶And her gates shall lament and mourn; and she shall be desolate and sit upon the ground.

¹And seven women shall take hold of one man in that day, saying, We will eat our own bread, and wear our own apparel: only let us be called by thy name; take thou away our reproach. ²In that day shall the branch of the LORD be beautiful and glorious, and the fruit of the land shall be excellent and comely for them that are escaped of Israel. ³And it shall come to pass, that he that is left in Zion, and he that remaineth in Jerusalem, shall be called holy, even every one that is written among the living in Jerusalem: ⁴when the Lord shall have washed away the filth of the daughters of Zion, and shall have purged the blood of Jerusalem from the midst thereof, by the spirit of judgment, and by the spirit of burning. ⁵And the LORD will create over the whole habitation of mount Zion, and over her assemblies, a cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for over all the glory shall be spread a canopy. ⁶And there shall be a pavilion for a shadow in the day-time from the heat, and for a refuge and for a covert from storm and from rain.

¹Let me sing for my wellbeloved a song of my beloved touching his vineyard. My wellbeloved had a vineyard in a very fruitful hill: ²and he made a trench about it, and gathered out the stones thereof, and planted it with the choicest vine, and built a tower in the midst of it, and also hewed out a winepress therein: and he looked that it should bring forth grapes, and it brought forth wild grapes. ³And now, O inhabitants of Jerusalem and men of Judah, judge, I pray you, betwixt me and my vineyard. ⁴What could have been done more to my vineyard, that I have not done in it? wherefore, when I looked that it should bring forth grapes, brought it forth wild grapes? ⁵And now go to; I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard: I will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be eaten up; I will break down the fence thereof, and it shall be trodden down: ⁶and I will lay it waste; it shall not be pruned nor hoed; but there shall come up briars and thorns: I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain upon it. ⁷For the vineyard of the LORD of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah his pleasant plant: and he looked for judgment, but behold oppression; for righteousness, but behold a cry. ⁸Woe unto them that join house to house, that lay field to field, till there be no room, and ye be made to dwell alone in the midst of the land! ⁹In mine ears saith the LORD of hosts, Of a truth many houses shall be desolate, even great and fair, without inhabitant. ¹⁰For ten acres of vineyard shall yield one bath, and a homer of seed shall yield but an ephah. ¹¹Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink; that tarry late into the night, till wine inflame them! ¹² And the harp and the lute, the tabret and the pipe, and wine, are in their feasts: but they regard not the work of the LORD, neither have they considered the operation of his hands. ¹³ Therefore my people are gone into captivity, for lack of knowledge: and their honourable men are famished, and their multitude are parched with thirst. ¹⁴ Therefore hell hath enlarged her desire, and opened her mouth without measure: and their glory, and their multitude, and their pomp, and he that rejoiceth among them, descend into it. ¹⁵ And the mean man is bowed down, and the great man is humbled, and the eyes of the lofty are humbled: ¹⁶ but the LORD of hosts is exalted in judgment, and God the Holy One is sanctified in righteousness. ¹⁷ Then shall the lambs feed as in their pasture, and the waste places of the fat ones shall wanderers eat. ¹⁸ Woe unto them that draw iniquity with cords of vanity, and sin as it were with a cart rope: ¹⁹ that say, Let him make speed, let him hasten his work, that we may see it: and let the counsel of the Holy One of Israel draw nigh and come, that we may know it! ²⁰ Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter! ²¹ Woe unto them that are wise their own eyes, and prudent in their own sight! ²² Woe unto them that are mighty to drink wine, and men of strength to mingle strong drink: ²³ which justify the wicked for a reward, and take away the righteousness of the righteous from him! ²⁴ Therefore as the tongue of fire devoureth the stubble, and as the dry grass sinketh down in the flame, so their root shall be as rottenness, and their blossom shall go up as dust: because they have rejected the law of the LORD of hosts, and despised the word of the Holy One of Israel. ²⁵ Therefore is the anger of the LORD kindled against his people, and he hath stretched forth his hand against them, and hath smitten them, and the hills did tremble, and their carcasses were as refuse in the midst of the streets. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still. ²⁶ And he will lift up an ensign to the nations from far, and will hiss for them from the end of the earth: and, behold, they shall come with speed swiftly: ²⁷ None shall be weary nor stumble among them; none shall slumber nor sleep; neither shall the girdle of their loins be loosed, nor the latchet of their shoes be broken: ²⁸ whose arrows are sharp, and all their bows bent; their horses' hoofs shall be counted like flint, and their wheels like a whirlwind: ²⁹ their roaring shall be like a lion, they shall roar like young lions: yea, they shall roar, and lay hold of the prey, and carry it away safe, and there shall be none to deliver. ³⁰ And they shall roar against them in that day like the roaring of the sea: and if one look unto the land, behold darkness and distress, and the light is darkened in the clouds thereof.

he answered, Until cities be waste without inhabitant, and houses without man, and the land become utterly waste, ¹² and the LORD have removed men far away, and the forsaken places be many in the midst of the land. ¹³ And if there be yet a tenth in it, it shall again be eaten up: as a terebinth, and as an oak, whose stock remaineth, when they are felled; so the holy seed is the stock thereof.

¹ And it came to pass in the days of Ahaz the son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah, king of Judah, that Rezin the king of Syria, and Pekah the son of Remaliah, king of Israel, went up to Jerusalem to war against it; but could not prevail against it. ² And it was told the house of David, saying, Syria is confederate with Ephraim. And his heart was moved, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forest are moved with the wind. ³ Then said the LORD unto Isaiah, Go forth now to meet Ahaz, thou, and Shear-jashub thy son, at the end of the conduit of the upper pool, in the highway of the fuller's field; ⁴ and say unto him, Take heed, and be quiet; fear not, neither let thine heart be faint, because of these two tails of smoking firebrands, for the fierce anger of Rezin and Syria, and of the son of Remaliah. ⁵ Because Syria hath counselled evil against thee, Ephraim also, and the son of Remaliah, saying, ⁶ Let us go up against Judah, and vex it, and let us make a breach therein for us, and set up a king in the midst of it, even the son of Tabeel: ⁷ thus saith the Lord GOD, It shall not stand, neither shall it come to pass. ⁸ For the head of Syria is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin: and within threescore and five years shall Ephraim be broken in pieces, that it be not a people: ⁹ and the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliah's son. If ye will not believe, surely ye shall not be established. ¹⁰ And the LORD spake again unto Ahaz, saying, ¹¹ Ask thee a sign of the LORD thy God; ask it either in the depth, or in the height above. ¹² But Ahaz said, I will not ask, neither will I tempt the LORD. ¹³ And he said, Hear ye now, O house of David; is it a small thing for you to weary men, that ye will weary my God also? ¹⁴ Therefore the

Lord himself shall give you a sign; behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel. ¹⁵ Butter and honey shall he eat, when he knoweth to refuse the evil, and choose the good. ¹⁶ For before the child shall know to refuse the evil, and choose the good, the land whose two kings thou abhorrest shall be forsaken. ¹⁷ The LORD shall bring upon thee, and upon thy people, and upon thy father's house, days that have not come, from the day that Ephraim departed from Judah; even the king of Assyria. ¹⁸ And it shall come to pass in that day, that the LORD shall hiss for the fly that is in the uttermost part of the rivers of Egypt, and for the bee that is in the land of Assyria. ¹⁹ And they shall come, and shall rest all of them in the desolate valleys, and in the holes of the rocks, and upon all thorns, and upon all pastures. ²⁰ In that day shall the Lord shave with a razor that is hired, which is in the parts beyond the River, even with the king of Assyria, the head and the hair of the feet: and it shall also consume the beard. ²¹ And it shall come to pass in that day, that a man shall nourish a young cow, and two sheep; ²² and it shall come to pass, for the abundance of milk that they shall give he shall eat butter: for butter and honey shall every one eat that is left in the midst of the land. ²³ And it shall come to pass in that day, that every place, where there were a thousand vines at a thousand silverlings, shall even be for briers and thorns. ²⁴ With arrows and with bow shall one come thither; because all the land shall be briers and thorns. ²⁵ And all the hills that were digged with the mattock; thou shalt not come thither for fear of briers and thorns, but it shall be for the sending forth of oxen, and for the treading of sheep.

¹ And the LORD said unto me, Take thee a great tablet, and write upon it with the pen of a man, For Maher-shalal-hash-baz; ² and I will take unto me faithful witnesses to record, Uriah the priest, and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah. ³ And I went unto the prophetess; and she conceived, and bare a son. Then said the LORD unto me, Call his name Maher-shalal-hash-baz. ⁴ For before the child shall have knowledge to cry, My father, and, My mother, the riches of Damascus and the spoil of Samaria shall be carried away before the king of Assyria. ⁵ And the LORD spake unto me yet again, saying, ⁶ Forasmuch as this people hath refused the waters of Shiloah that go softly, and rejoice in Rezin and Remaliah's son; ⁷ now therefore, behold, the Lord bringeth up upon them the waters of the River, strong and many, even the king of Assyria and all his glory: and he shall come up over all his channels, and go over all his banks: ⁸ and he shall sweep onward into Judah; he shall overflow and pass through; he shall reach even to the neck; and the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, O Immanuel. ⁹ Make an uproar; O ye peoples, and ye shall be broken in pieces; and give ear, all ye of far countries: gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces: gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces. ¹⁰ Take counsel together, and it shall be brought to nought; speak the word, and it shall not stand: for God is with us. ¹¹ For the LORD spake thus to me with a strong hand, and instructed me that I should not walk in the way of this people, saying, ¹² Say ye not, A conspiracy, concerning all whereof this people shall say, A conspiracy; neither fear ye their fear, nor be in dread thereof. ¹³ The LORD of hosts, him shall ye sanctify; and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread. ¹⁴ And he shall be for a sanctuary; but for a stone of stumbling and for a rock of offence to both the houses of Israel, for a gin and for a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ¹⁵ And many shall stumble thereon, and fall, and be broken, and be snared, and be taken. ¹⁶ Bind thou up the testimony, seal the law among my disciples. ¹⁷ And I will wait for the LORD, that hideth his face from the house of Jacob, and I will look for him. ¹⁸ Behold, I and the children whom the LORD hath given me are for signs and for wonders in Israel from the LORD of hosts, which dwelleth in mount Zion. ¹⁹ And when they shall say unto you, Seek unto them that have familiar spirits and unto the wizards, that chirp and that mutter: should not a people seek unto their God? on behalf of the living should they seek unto the dead? ²⁰ To the law and to the testimony! if they speak not according to this word, surely there is no morning for them. ²¹ And they shall pass through it, hardly bestead and hungry: and it shall come to pass that, when they shall be hungry, they shall fret themselves, and curse by their king and by their God, and turn their faces upward. ²² and they shall look unto the earth, and behold, distress and darkness, the gloom of anguish; and into thick darkness they shall be driven away.

¹ But there shall be no gloom to her that was in anguish. In the former time he brought into contempt the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, but in the latter time hath he made it glorious, by the way of the sea, beyond Jordan, Galilee of the nations. ² The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwelt in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined. ³ Thou hast multiplied the nation, thou hast increased their joy: they joy before thee according to the joy in harvest, as men rejoice when they divide the spoil. ⁴ For the yoke of his burden, and the staff of his shoulder, the rod of his oppressor, thou hast broken as in the day of Midian. ⁵ For all the armour of the armed man in the tumult, and the garments rolled in blood, shall even be for burning, for fuel of fire. ⁶ For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace. ⁷ Of the increase of his government and of peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to establish it, and to uphold it with judgment and with righteousness from henceforth even for ever. The zeal of the LORD of hosts shall perform this. ⁸ The Lord sent a word into Jacob, and it hath lighted upon Israel. ⁹ And all the people shall know, even Ephraim and the inhabitant of Samaria, that say in pride and in stoutness of heart, ¹⁰ The bricks are fallen, but we will build with hewn stone: the sycomores are cut down, but we will change them into cedars. ¹¹ Therefore the LORD shall set up on high against him the adversaries of Rezin, and shall stir up his enemies; ¹² the Syrians before, and the Philistines behind, and they shall devour

Israel with open mouth. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still. ¹³ Yet the people hath not turned unto him that smote them, neither have they sought the LORD of hosts. ¹⁴ Therefore the LORD will cut off from Israel head and tail, palm-branch and rush, in one day. ¹⁵ The ancient and the honourable man, he is the head; and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the tail. ¹⁶ For they that lead this people cause them to err; and they that are led of them are destroyed. ¹⁷ Therefore the Lord shall not rejoice over their young men, neither shall he have compassion on their fatherless and widows: for every one is profane and an evildoer, and every mouth speaketh folly. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still. ¹⁸ For wickedness burneth as the fire; it devoureth the briers and thorns: yea, it kindleth in the thickets of the forest, and they roll upward in thick clouds of smoke. ¹⁹ Through the wrath of the LORD of hosts is the land burnt up: the people also are as the fuel of fire; no man spareth his brother. ²⁰ And one shall snatch on the right hand, and be hungry; and he shall eat on the left hand, and they shall not be satisfied: they shall eat every man the flesh of his own arm: ²¹ Manasseh, Ephraim; and Ephraim, Manasseh: and they together shall be against Judah. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

¹ Woe unto them that decree unrighteous decrees, and to the writers that write perverseness: ² to turn aside the needy from judgment, and to take away the right of the poor of my people, that widows may be their spoil, and that they may make the fatherless their prey! ³ And what will ye do in the day of visitation, and in the desolation which shall come from far? to whom will ye flee for help? and where will ye leave your glory? ⁴ They shall only bow down under the prisoners, and shall fall under the slain. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still. ⁵ Ho Assyrian, the rod of mine anger, the staff in whose hand is mine indignation! ⁶ I will send him against a profane nation, and against the people of my wrath will I give him a charge, to take the spoil, and to take the prey, and to tread them down like the mire of the streets. ⁷ Howbeit he meaneth not so, neither doth his heart think so; but it is in his heart to destroy, and to cut off nations not a few. ⁸ For he saith, Are not my princes all of them kings? ⁹ Is not Calno as Carchemish? is not Hamath as Arpad? is not Samaria as Damascus? ¹⁰ As my hand hath found the kingdoms of the idols, whose graven images did excel them of Jerusalem and of Samaria; ¹¹ shall I not, as I have done unto Samaria and her idols, so do to Jerusalem and her idols? ¹² Wherefore it shall come to pass, that when the Lord hath performed his whole work upon mount Zion and on Jerusalem, I will punish the fruit of the stout heart of the king of Assyria, and the glory of his high looks. ¹³ For he hath said, By the strength of my hand I have done it, and by my wisdom; for I am prudent: and I have removed the bounds of the peoples, and have robbed their treasures, and I have brought down as a valiant man them that sit on thrones: ¹⁴ and my hand hath found as a nest the riches of the peoples; and as one gathereth eggs that are forsaken, have I gathered all the earth: and there was none that moved the wing, or that opened the mouth, or chirped. ¹⁵ Shall the axe boast itself against him that heweth therewith? shall the saw magnify itself against him that shaketh it? as if a rod should shake them that lift it up, or as if a staff should lift up him that is not wood. ¹⁶ Therefore shall the Lord, the Lord of hosts, send among his fat ones leanness; and under his glory there shall be kindled a burning like the burning of fire. ¹⁷ And the light of Israel shall be for a fire, and his Holy One for a flame: and it shall burn and devour his thorns and his briers in one day. ¹⁸ And he shall consume the glory of his forest, and of his fruitful field, both soul and body: and it shall be as when a standardbearer fainteth. ¹⁹ And the remnant of the trees of his forest shall be few, that a child may write them. ²⁰ And it shall come to pass in that day, that the remnant of Israel, and they that are escaped of the house of Jacob, shall no more again stay upon him that smote them; but shall stay upon the LORD, the Holy One of Israel, in truth. ²¹ A remnant shall return, even the remnant of Jacob, unto the mighty God. ²²For though thy people Israel be as the sand of the sea, only a remnant of them shall return: a consumption is determined, overflowing with righteousness. ²³For a consummation, and that determined, shall the Lord, the LORD of hosts, make in the midst of all the earth. ²⁴Therefore thus saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts, O my people that dwellest in Zion, be not afraid of the Assyrian: though he smite thee with the rod, and lift up his staff against thee, after the manner of Egypt. ²⁵For yet a very little while, and the indignation shall be accomplished, and mine anger, in their destruction. ²⁶And the LORD of hosts shall stir up against him a scourge, as in the slaughter of Midian at the rock of Oreb: and his rod shall be over the sea, and he shall lift it up after the manner of Egypt. ²⁷And it shall come to pass in that day, that his burden shall depart from off thy shoulder, and his yoke from off thy neck, and the yoke shall be destroyed because of the anointing. ²⁸He is come to Aiath, he is passed through Migron; at Michmash he layeth up his baggage: ²⁹they are gone over the pass; they have taken up their lodging at Geba: Ramah trembleth; Gibeah of Saul is fled. ³⁰Cry aloud with thy voice, O daughter of Gallim! hearken, O Laishah! O thou poor Anathoth! ³¹Madmenah is a fugitive; the inhabitants of Gebim gather themselves to flee. ³²This very day shall he halt at Nob: he shaketh his hand at the mount of the daughter of Zion, the hill of Jerusalem. ³³Behold, the Lord, the LORD of hosts, shall lop the boughs with terror: and the high ones of stature shall be hewn down, and the lofty shall be brought low. ³⁴And he shall cut down the thickets of the forest with iron, and Lebanon shall fall by a mighty one.

¹And there shall come forth a shoot out of the stock of Jesse, and a branch out of his roots shall bear fruit: ²And the spirit of the LORD shall rest upon him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the LORD; ³And his delight shall be in the fear of the LORD: and he shall not judge after the sight of his eyes, neither

reprove after the hearing of his ears: ⁴but with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and reprove with equity for the meek of the earth: and he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked. ⁵And righteousness shall be the girdle of his loins, and faithfulness the girdle of his reins. ⁶And the wolf shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid; and the calf and the young lion and the fatling together; and a little child shall lead them. ⁷And the cow and the bear shall feed; their young ones shall lie down together: and the lion shall eat straw like the ox. ⁸And the sucking child shall play on the hole of the asp, and the weaned child shall put his hand on the basilisk's den. ⁹They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain: for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea. ¹⁰And it shall come to pass in that day, that the root of Jesse, which standeth for an ensign of the peoples, unto him shall the nations seek; and his resting place shall be glorious. ¹¹And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall set his hand again the second time to recover the remnant of his people, which shall remain, from Assyria, and from Egypt, and from Pathros, and from Cush, and from Elam, and from Shinar, and from Hamath, and from the islands of the sea. ¹²And he shall set up an ensign for the nations, and shall assemble the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah from the four corners of the earth. ¹³The envy also of Ephraim shall depart, and they that vex Judah shall be cut off: Ephraim shall not envy Judah, and Judah shall not vex Ephraim. ¹⁴And they shall fly down upon the shoulder of the Philistines on the west; together shall they spoil the children of the east: they shall put forth their hand upon Edom and Moab; and the children of Ammon shall obey them. ¹⁵And the LORD shall utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptian sea; and with his scorching wind shall he shake his hand over the River, and shall smite it into seven streams, and cause men to march over dryshod. ¹⁶And there shall be an highway for the remnant of his people, which shall remain, from Assyria; like as there was for Israel in the day that he came up out of the land of Egypt.

¹And in that day thou shalt say, I will give thanks unto thee, O LORD; for though thou wast angry with me, thine anger is turned away, and thou comfortest me. ²Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust, and will not be afraid: for the LORD JEHOVAH is my strength and song; and he is become my salvation. ³Therefore with joy shall ye draw water out of the wells of salvation. ⁴And in that day shall ye say, Give thanks unto the LORD, call upon his name, declare his doings among the peoples, make mention that his name is exalted. ⁵Sing unto the LORD; for he hath done excellent things: let this be known in all the earth. ⁶Cry aloud and shout, thou inhabitant of Zion: for great is the Holy One of Israel in the midst of thee.

13

¹The burden of which Babylon, Isaiah the son of Amoz did see. ²Set ye up an ensign upon the bare mountain, lift up the voice unto them, wave the hand, that they may go into the gates of the nobles. ³I have commanded my consecrated ones, yea, I have called my mighty men for mine anger, even my proudly exulting ones. ⁴The noise of a multitude in the mountains, like as of a great people! the noise of a tumult of the kingdoms of the nations gathered together! the LORD of hosts mustereth the host for the battle. ⁵They come from a far country, from the uttermost part of heaven, even the LORD, and the weapons of his indignation, to destroy the whole land. ⁶Howl ye; for the day of the LORD is at hand; as destruction from the Almighty shall it come. ⁷Therefore shall all hands be feeble, and every heart of man shall melt: ⁸and they shall be dismayed; pangs and sorrows shall take hold of them; they shall be in pain as a woman in travail: they shall be amazed one at another; their faces shall be faces of flame. ⁹Behold, the day of the LORD cometh, cruel, with wrath and fierce anger; to make the land a desolation, and to destroy the sinners thereof out of it. ¹⁰For the stars of heaven and the constellations thereof shall not give their light: the sun shall be darkened in his going forth, and the moon shall not cause her light to shine.

¹¹And I will punish the world for their evil, and the wicked for their iniquity; and I will cause the arrogancy of the proud to cease, and will lay low the haughtiness of the terrible. ¹²I will make a man more rare than fine gold, even a man than the pure gold of Ophir. ¹³Therefore I will make the heavens to tremble, and the earth shall be shaken out of her place, in the wrath of the LORD of hosts, and in the day of his fierce anger. ¹⁴And it shall come to pass, that as the chased roe, and as sheep that no man gathereth, they shall turn every man to his own people, and shall flee every man to his own land. ¹⁵Every one that is found shall be thrust through; and every one that is taken shall fall by the sword. ¹⁶Their infants also shall be dashed in pieces before their eyes; their houses shall be spoiled, and their wives ravished. ¹⁷Behold, I will stir up the Medes against them, which shall not regard silver, and as for gold, they shall not delight in it. ¹⁸And their bows shall dash the young men in pieces; and they shall have no pity on the fruit of the womb; their eye shall not spare children. ¹⁹And Babylon, the glory of kingdoms, the beauty of the Chaldeans' pride, shall be as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah. ²⁰It shall never be inhabited, neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation: neither shall the Arabian pitch tent there; neither shall shepherds make their flocks to lie down there. ²¹But wild beasts of the desert shall lie there; and their houses shall be full of doleful creatures; and ostriches shall dwell there, and satyrs shall dance there. ²²And wolves shall cry in their castles, and jackals in the pleasant palaces: and her time is near to come, and her days shall not be prolonged.

¹For the LORD will have compassion on Jacob, and will yet choose Israel, and set them in their own land: and the stranger shall join himself with them, and they shall cleave to the house of Jacob. ²And the peoples shall take them, and bring them to their place: and the house of Israel shall possess them in the land of the LORD for servants and for handmaids: and they shall take them captive, whose captives they were; and they shall rule over their oppressors. ³And it shall come to pass in the day that the LORD shall give thee rest from thy sorrow, and from thy trouble, and from the hard service wherein thou wast made to serve, ⁴that thou shalt take up this parable against the king of Babylon, and say, How hath the oppressor ceased! the golden city ceased! ⁵The LORD hath broken the staff of the wicked, the sceptre of the rulers; ⁶that smote the peoples in wrath with a continual stroke, that ruled the nations in anger, with a persecution that none restrained. ⁷The whole earth is at rest, and is quiet: they break forth into singing. ⁸Yea, the fir trees rejoice at thee, and the cedars of Lebanon, saying, Since thou art laid down, no feller is come up against us. ⁹Hell from beneath is moved for thee to meet thee at thy coming: it stirreth up the dead for thee, even all the chief ones of the earth; it hath raised up from their thrones all the kings of the nations. ¹⁰All they shall answer and say unto thee, Art thou also become weak as we? art thou become like unto us? ¹¹Thy pomp is brought down to hell, and the noise of thy viols: the worm is spread under thee, and worms cover thee. ¹²How art thou fallen from heaven, O day star, son of the morning! how art thou cut down to the ground, which didst lay low the nations! ¹³And thou saidst in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God; and I will sit upon the mount of congregation, in the uttermost parts of the north: ¹⁴I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; I will be like the Most High. ¹⁵Yet thou shalt be brought down to hell, to the uttermost parts of the pit. ¹⁶They that see thee shall narrowly look upon thee, they shall consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, that did shake kingdoms; ¹⁷that made the world as a wilderness, and overthrew the cities thereof; that let not loose his prisoners to their home? ¹⁸All the kings of the nations, all of them, sleep in glory, every one in his own house. ¹⁹But thou art cast forth away from thy sepulchre like an abominable branch, clothed with the slain, that are thrust through with the sword, that go down to the stones of the pit; as a carcase trodden under foot. ²⁰Thou shalt not be joined with them in burial, because thou hast destroyed thy land, thou hast slain thy people; the seed of evil-doers shall not be named for ever. ²¹Prepare ye slaughter for his children for the iniquity of their fathers; that they rise not up, and possess the earth, and fill the face of the world with cities. ²²And I will rise up against them, saith the LORD of hosts, and cut off from Babylon name and remnant, and son and son's son, saith the LORD. ²³I will also make it a possession for the porcupine, and pools of water: and I will sweep it with the besom of destruction, saith the LORD of hosts. ²⁴The LORD of hosts hath sworn, saying, Surely as I have thought, so shall it come to pass; and as I have purposed, so shall it stand: ²⁵that I will break the Assyrian in my land, and upon my mountains tread him under foot: then shall his yoke depart from off them, and his burden depart from off their shoulder. ²⁶This is the purpose that is purposed upon the whole earth: and this is the hand that is stretched out upon all the nations. ²⁷For the LORD of hosts hath purposed, and who shall disannul it? and his hand is stretched out, and who shall turn it back? ²⁸In the year that king Ahaz died was this burden. ²⁹Rejoice not, O Philistia, all of thee, because the rod that smote thee is broken: for out of the serpent's root shall come forth a basilisk, and his fruit shall be a fiery flying serpent. ³⁰And the firstborn of the poor shall feed, and the needy shall lie down in safety: and I will kill thy root with famine, and thy remnant shall be slain. ³¹Howl, O gate; cry, O city; thou art melted away, O Philistia, all of thee; for there cometh a smoke out of the north, and none standeth aloof at his appointed times. ³²What then shall one answer the messengers of the nation? That the LORD hath founded Zion, and in her shall the afflicted of his people take refuge.

¹The burden of Moab. For in a night Ar of Moab is laid waste, and brought to nought; for in a night Kir of Moab is laid waste, and brought to nought. ²He is gone up to Bayith, and to Dibon, to the high places, to weep: Moab howleth over Nebo, and over Medeba: on all their heads is baldness, every beard is cut off. ³In their streets they gird themselves with sackcloth: on their housetops, and in their broad places, every one howleth, weeping abundantly. ⁴And Heshbon crieth out, and Elealeh; their voice is heard even unto Jahaz: therefore the armed men of Moab cry aloud; his soul trembleth within him. ⁵My heart crieth out for Moab; her nobles flee unto Zoar, to Eglath-shelishiyah: for by the ascent of Luhith with weeping they go up; for in the way of Horonaim they raise up a cry of destruction. ⁶For the waters of Nimrim shall be desolate: for the grass is withered away, the tender grass faileth, there is no green thing. ⁷Therefore the abundance they have gotten, and that which they have laid up, shall they carry away to the brook of the willows. ⁸For the cry is gone round about the borders of Moab; the howling thereof unto Eglaim, and the howling thereof unto Beer-elim. ⁹For the waters of Dimon are full of blood: for I will bring yet more upon Dimon, a lion upon him that escapeth of Moab, and upon the remnant of the land.

¹Send ye the lambs for the ruler of the land from Sela which is toward the wilderness, unto the mount of the daughter of Zion. ²For it shall be that, as wandering birds, as a scattered nest, so shall the daughters of Moab be at the fords of Arnon. ³Give counsel, execute judgment; make thy shadow as the night in the midst of the noonday: hide the outcasts; bewray not the wanderer. ⁴Let mine outcasts dwell with thee; as for Moab, be thou a covert to him from the face of the spoiler: for the extortioner is brought to nought, spoiling ceaseth, the oppressors are consumed out of the land. ⁵And a throne shall be established in mercy, and one shall sit thereon in truth, in the tent of David; judging, and seeking judgment, and swift to do righteousness. ⁶We have heard of the pride of Moab, that he is very proud; even of his arrogancy, and his pride, and his wrath; his boastings are nought. ⁷Therefore shall Moab howl for Moab, every one shall howl: for the raisin-cakes of Kir-hareseth shall ye mourn, utterly stricken. ⁸For the fields of Heshbon languish, and the vine of Sibmah; the lords of the nations have broken down the choice plants thereof; they reached even unto Jazer, they wandered into the wilderness; her branches were spread abroad, they passed over the sea. ⁹Therefore I will weep with the weeping of Jazer for the vine of Sibmah: I will water thee with my tears, O Heshbon, and Elealeh: for upon thy summer fruits and upon thy harvest the battle shout is fallen. ¹⁰And gladness is taken away, and joy out of the fruitful field; and in the vineyards there shall be no singing, neither joyful noise: no treader shall tread out wine in the presses; I have made the vintage shout to cease. ¹¹Wherefore my bowels sound like an harp for Moab, and mine inward parts for Kir-heres. ¹²And it shall come to pass, when Moab presenteth himself, when he wearieth himself upon the high place, and shall come to his sanctuary to pray, that he shall not prevail. ¹³This is the word that the LORD spake concerning Moab in time past. ¹⁴But now the LORD hath spoken, saying, Within three years, as the years of an hireling, and the glory of Moab shall be brought into contempt, with all his great multitude; and the remnant shall be very small and of no account.

¹The burden of Damascus. Behold, Damascus is taken away from being a city, and it shall be a ruinous heap. ²The cities of Aroer are forsaken: they shall be for flocks, which shall lie down, and none shall make them afraid. ³The fortress also shall cease from Ephraim, and the kingdom from Damascus, and the remnant of Syria; they shall be as the glory of the children of Israel, saith the LORD of hosts. ⁴And it shall come to pass in that day, that the glory of Jacob shall be made thin, and the fatness of his flesh shall wax lean. ⁵And it shall be as when the harvestman gathereth the standing corn, and his arm reapeth the ears; yea, it shall be as when one gleaneth ears in the valley of Rephaim. ⁶Yet there shall be left therein gleanings, as the shaking of an olive tree, two or three berries in the top of the uppermost bough, four or five in the outmost branches of a fruitful tree, saith the LORD, the God of Israel. ⁷In that day shall a man look unto his Maker, and his eyes shall have respect to the Holy One of Israel. ⁸And he shall not look to the altars, the work of his hands, neither shall he have respect to that which his fingers have made, either the Asherim, or the sun-images. ⁹In that day shall his strong cities be as the forsaken places in the wood and on the mountain top, which were forsaken from before the children of Israel: and it shall be a desolation. ¹⁰For thou hast forgotten the God of thy salvation, and hast not been mindful of the rock of thy strength; therefore thou plantest pleasant plants, and settest it with strange slips: ¹¹In the day of thy planting thou hedgest it in, and in the morning thou makest thy seed to blossom: but the harvest fleeth away in the day of grief and of desperate sorrow. ¹²Ah, the uproar of many peoples, which roar like the roaring of the seas; and the rushing of nations, that rush like the rushing of mighty waters! ¹³The nations shall rush like the rushing of many waters: but he shall rebuke them, and they shall flee far off, and shall be chased as the chaff of the mountains before the wind, and like the whirling dust before the storm. ¹⁴At eventide behold terror; and before the morning they are not. This is the portion of them that spoil us, and the lot of them that rob us.

¹Ah, the land of the rustling of wings, which is beyond the rivers of Ethiopia: ²that sendeth ambassadors by the sea, even in vessels of papyrus upon the waters, saying, Go, ye swift messengers, to a nation tall and smooth, to a people terrible from their beginning onward; a nation that meteth out and treadeth down, whose land the rivers divide! ³All ye inhabitants of the world, and ye dwellers on the earth, when an ensign is lifted up on the mountains, see ye; and when the trumpet is blown, hear ye. ⁴For thus hath the LORD said unto me, I will be still, and I will behold in my dwelling place; like clear heat in sunshine, like a cloud of dew in the heat of harvest. ⁵For afore the harvest, when the blossom is over, and the flower becometh a ripening grape, he shall cut off the sprigs with pruning-hooks, and the spreading branches shall he take away and cut down. ⁶They shall be left together unto the ravenous birds of the mountains, and to the beasts of the earth: and the ravenous birds shall summer upon them, and all the beasts of the earth shall winter upon them. ⁷In that time shall a present be brought unto the LORD of hosts of a people tall and smooth, and from a people terrible from their beginning onward; a nation that meteth out and treadeth down, whose land the rivers divide, to the place of the name of the LORD of hosts, the mount Zion.

¹The burden of Egypt. Behold, the LORD rideth upon a swift cloud, and cometh unto Egypt: and the idols of Egypt shall be moved at his presence, and the heart of Egypt shall melt in the midst of it. ²And I will stir up the Egyptians against the Egyptians: and they shall fight every one against his brother, and every one against his neighbour; city against city, and kingdom against kingdom. ³And the spirit of Egypt shall be made void in the midst of it; and I will destroy the counsel thereof: and they shall seek unto the idols, and to the charmers, and to them that have familiar spirits, and to the wizards. ⁴And I will give over the Egyptians into the hand of a cruel lord; and a fierce king shall rule over them, saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts. ⁵And the waters shall fail from the sea, and the river shall be wasted and become dry. ⁶And the rivers shall stink; the streams of Egypt shall be minished and dried up: the reeds and flags shall wither away. ⁷The meadows by the Nile, by the brink of the Nile, and all that is sown by the Nile, shall become dry, be driven away, and be no more. ⁸The fishers also shall lament, and all they that cast angle into the Nile shall mourn, and they that spread nets upon the waters shall languish. ⁹Moreover they that work in combed flax, and they that weave white cloth, shall be ashamed. ¹⁰And her pillars shall be broken in pieces, all they that work for hire shall be grieved in soul. ¹¹The princes of Zoan are utterly foolish; the counsel of the wisest counsellors of Pharaoh is become brutish: how say ye unto Pharaoh, I am the son of the wise, the son of ancient kings? ¹²Where then are thy wise men? and let them tell thee now; and let them know what the LORD of hosts hath purposed concerning Egypt. ¹³The princes of Zoan are become fools, the princes of

Noph are deceived; they have caused Egypt to go astray, that are the corner stone of her tribes. ¹⁴ The LORD hath mingled a spirit of perverseness in the midst of her; and they have caused Egypt to go astray in every work thereof, as a drunken man staggereth in his vomit. ¹⁵ Neither shall there be for Egypt any work, which head or tail, palm branch or rush, may do. ¹⁶ It In that day shall Egypt be like unto women; and it shall tremble and fear because of the shaking of the hand of the LORD of hosts, which he shaketh over it. ¹⁷ And the land of Judah shall become a terror unto Egypt, every one to whom mention is made thereof shall be afraid, because of the purpose of the LORD of hosts, which he purposeth against it. ¹⁸ In that day there shall be five cities in the land of Egypt that speak the language of Canaan, and swear to the LORD of hosts; one shall be called The city of destruction. ¹⁹ In that day shall there be an altar to the LORD in the midst of the land of Egypt, and a pillar at the border thereof to the LORD. ²⁰ And it shall be for a sign and for a witness unto the LORD of hosts in the land of Egypt: for they shall cry unto the LORD because of the oppressors, and he shall send them a saviour, and a defender, and he shall deliver them. ²¹ And the LORD shall be known to Egypt, and the Egyptians shall know the LORD in that day; yea, they shall worship with sacrifice and oblation, and shall vow a vow unto the LORD, and shall perform it. ²² And the LORD shall smite Egypt, smiting and healing; and they shall return unto the LORD, and he shall be entreated of them, and shall heal them. ²³ In that day shall there be a highway out of Egypt to Assyria, and the Assyrian shall come into Egypt, and the Egyptian into Assyria; and the Egyptians shall worship with the Assyrians. ²⁴ In that day shall Israel be the third with Egypt and with Assyria, a blessing in the midst of the earth: ²⁵ for that the LORD of hosts hath blessed them, saying, Blessed be Egypt my people, and Assyria the work of my hands, and Israel mine inheritance.

¹ In the year that Tartan came unto Ashdod, when Sargon the king of Assyria sent him, and he fought against Ashdod and took it; ² at that time the LORD spake by Isaiah the son of Amoz, saying, Go, and loose sackcloth from off thy loins, and put thy shoe from off thy foot. And he did so, walking naked and barefoot. ³ And the LORD said, Like as my servant Isaiah hath walked naked and barefoot three years for a sign and a wonder upon Egypt and upon Ethiopia; ⁴ so shall the king of Assyria lead away the captives of Egypt, and the exiles of Ethiopia, young and old, naked and barefoot, and with buttocks uncovered, to the shame of Egypt. ⁵ And they shall be dismayed and ashamed, because of Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their glory. ⁶ And the inhabitant of this coastland shall say in that day, Behold, such is our expectation, whither we fled for help to be delivered from the king of Assyria: and we, how shall we escape?

floor: that which I have heard from the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, have I declared unto you. ¹¹The burden of Dumah. One calleth unto me out of Seir, Watchman, what of the night? Watchman, what of the night? ¹²The watchman said, The morning cometh, and also the night: if ye will inquire, inquire ye: turn ye, come. ¹³The burden upon Arabia. In the forest in Arabia shall ye lodge, O ye travelling companies of Dedanites. ¹⁴Unto him that was thirsty they brought water; the inhabitants of the land of Tema did meet the fugitives with their bread. ¹⁵For they fled away from the swords, from the drawn sword, and from the bent bow, and from the grievousness of war. ¹⁶For thus hath the Lord said unto me, Within a year, according to the years of an hireling, and all the glory of Kedar shall fail: ¹⁷and the residue of the number of the archers, the mighty men of the children of Kedar, shall be few: for the LORD, the God of Israel, hath spoken it.

¹The burden of the valley of vision. What aileth thee now, that thou art wholly gone up to the housetops? ²O thou that art full of shoutings, a tumultuous city, a joyous town; thy slain are not slain with the sword, neither are they dead in battle. ³All thy rulers fled away together, they were bound by the archers: all that were found of thee were bound together, they fled afar off. ⁴Therefore said I, Look away from me, I will weep bitterly; labour not to comfort me, for the spoiling of the daughter of my people. ⁵For it is a day of discomfiture, and of treading down, and of perplexity, from the Lord, the LORD of hosts, in the valley of vision; a breaking down of the walls, and a crying to the mountains. ⁶And Elam bare the quiver, with chariots of men and horsemen; and Kir uncovered the shield. ⁷And it came to pass, that thy choicest valleys were full of chariots, and the horsemen set themselves in array at the gate. ⁸And he took away the covering of Judah; and thou didst look in that day to the armour in the house of the forest. ⁹And ye saw the breaches of the city of David, that they were many: and ye gathered together the waters of the lower pool. ¹⁰and ye numbered the houses of Jerusalem, and ye brake down the houses to fortify the wall. ¹¹ye made also a reservoir between the two walls for the water of the old pool: but ye looked not unto him that had done this, neither had ye respect unto him that fashioned it long ago. ¹²And in that day did the Lord, the LORD of hosts, call to weeping, and to mourning, and to baldness, and to girding with sackcloth: ¹³and behold, joy and gladness, slaying oxen and killing sheep, eating flesh and drinking wine: let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we shall die. ¹⁴And the LORD of hosts revealed himself in mine ears, Surely this iniquity shall not be purged from you till ye die, saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts. ¹⁵Thus saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts, Go, get thee unto this treasurer, even unto Shebna, which is over the house, and say, ¹⁶What doest thou here? and whom hast thou here, that thou hast hewed thee out here a sepulchre? hewing him out a sepulchre on high, graving an habitation for himself in the rock! ¹⁷Behold, the LORD will hurl thee away violently as a strong man; yea, he will wrap thee up closely. ¹⁸He will surely turn and toss thee like a ball into a large country; there shalt thou die, and there shall be the chariots of thy glory, thou shame of thy lord's house. ¹⁹And I will thrust thee from thine office, and from thy station shall he pull thee down. ²⁰And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will call my servant Eliakim the son of Hilkiah: ²¹and I will clothe him with thy robe, and strengthen him with thy girdle, and I will commit thy government into his hand: and he shall be a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah. ²²And the key of the house of David will I lay upon his shoulder; and he shall open, and none shall shut; and he shall shut, and none shall open. ²³And I will fasten him as a nail in a sure place; and he shall be for a throne of glory to his father's house. ²⁴And they shall hang upon him all the glory of his father's house, the offspring and the issue, every small vessel, from the vessels of cups even to all the vessels of flagons. ²⁵In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, shall the nail that was fastened in a sure place give way; and it shall be hewn down, and fall, and the burden that was upon it shall be cut off; for the LORD hath spoken it.

¹The burden of Tyre. Howl, ye ships of Tarshish; for it is laid waste, so that there is no house, no entering in: from the land of Kittim it is revealed to them. ²Be still, ye inhabitants of the isle; thou whom the merchants of Zidon, that pass over the sea, have replenished. ³And on great waters the seed of Shihor, the harvest of the Nile, was her revenue; and she was the mart of nations. ⁴Be thou ashamed, O Zidon: for the sea hath spoken, the strong hold of the sea; saying, I have not travailed, nor brought forth, neither have I nourished young men, nor brought up virgins. ⁵When the report cometh to Egypt, they shall be sorely pained at the report of Tyre. ⁶Pass ye over to Tarshish; howl, ye inhabitants of the isle. ⁷Is this your joyous city, whose antiquity is of ancient days, whose feet carried her afar off to sojourn? ⁸Who hath purposed this against Tyre, the crowning city, whose merchants are princes, whose traffickers are the honourable of the earth? ⁹The LORD of hosts hath purposed it, to stain the pride of all glory, to bring into contempt all the honourable of the earth. ¹⁰Pass through thy land as the Nile, O daughter of Tarshish; there is no girdle about thee any more. ¹¹He hath stretched out his hand over the sea, he hath shaken the kingdoms: the LORD hath given commandment concerning Canaan, to destroy the strong holds thereof. ¹²And he said, Thou shalt no more rejoice, O thou oppressed virgin daughter of Zidon: arise, pass over to Kittim; even there shalt thou have no rest. ¹³Behold, the land of the Chaldeans; this people is no more; the Assyrian hath appointed it for the beasts of the wilderness: they set up their towers, they overthrew the palaces thereof; he made it a ruin. ¹⁴Howl, ye ships of Tarshish: for your strong hold is laid waste. ¹⁵And it shall come to pass in that day, that Tyre shall be forgotten seventy years, according to the days of one king: after the end of seventy years it shall be unto Tyre as in the song of the harlot. ¹⁶Take an harp, go about the city, thou harlot that hast been forgotten; make sweet melody, sing many songs, that thou mayest be remembered. ¹⁷And it shall come to pass after the end of seventy years, that the LORD will visit Tyre, and she shall return to her hire, and shall play the harlot with all the kingdoms of the world upon the face of the earth. ¹⁸And her merchandise and her hire shall be holiness to the LORD: it shall not be treasured nor laid up; for her merchandise shall be for them that dwell before the LORD, to eat sufficiently, and for durable clothing.

¹Behold, the LORD maketh the earth empty, and maketh it waste, and turneth it upside down, and scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof. ²And it shall be, as with the people, so with the priest; as with the servant, so with his master; as with the maid, so with her mistress; as with the buyer, so with the seller; as with the lender, so with the borrower; as with the taker of usury, so with the giver of usury to him. ³The earth shall be utterly emptied, and utterly spoiled; for the LORD hath spoken this word. ⁴The earth mourneth and fadeth away, the world languisheth and fadeth away, the lofty people of the earth do languish. ⁵The earth also is polluted under the inhabitants thereof; because they have transgressed the laws, changed the ordinance, broken the everlasting covenant. ⁶Therefore hath the curse devoured the earth, and they that dwell therein are found guilty: therefore the inhabitants of the earth are burned, and few men left. ⁷The new wine mourneth, the vine languisheth, all the merryhearted do sigh. ⁸The mirth of tabrets ceaseth, the noise of them that rejoice endeth, the joy of the harp ceaseth. ⁹They shall not drink wine with a song; strong drink shall be bitter to them that drink it. ¹⁰The city of confusion is broken down: every house is shut up, that no man may come in. ¹¹There is a crying in the streets because of the wine; all joy is darkened, the mirth of the land is gone. ¹²In the city is left desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction. ¹³For thus shall it be in the midst of the earth among the peoples, as the shaking of an olive tree, as the grape gleanings when the vintage is done. ¹⁴These shall lift up their voice, they shall shout; for the majesty of the LORD they cry aloud from the sea. ¹⁵Wherefore glorify ye the LORD in the east, even the name of the LORD, the God of Israel, in the isles of the sea. ¹⁶From the uttermost part of the earth have we heard songs, glory to the righteous. But I said, I pine away, I pine away, woe is me! the treacherous dealers have dealt treacherously; yea, the treacherous dealers have dealt very treacherously. ¹⁷Fear, and the pit, and the snare, are upon thee, O inhabitant of the earth. ¹⁸And it shall come to pass, that he who fleeth from the noise of the fear shall fall into the pit; and he that cometh up out of the midst of the pit shall be taken in the snare: for the windows on high are opened, and the foundations of the earth do shake. ¹⁹The earth is utterly broken, the earth is clean dissolved, the earth is moved exceedingly. ²⁰The earth shall stagger like a drunken man, and shall be moved to and fro like a hut; and the transgression thereof shall be heavy upon it, and it shall fall, and not rise again. ²¹And it shall come to pass in that day, that the LORD shall punish the host of the high ones on high, and the kings of the earth upon the earth. ²²And they shall be gathered together, as prisoners are gathered in the pit, and shall be shut up in the prison, and after many days shall they be visited. ²³Then the moon shall be confounded, and the sun ashamed; for the LORD of hosts shall reign in mount Zion, and in Jerusalem, and before his ancients gloriously.

¹O LORD, thou art my God; I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name; for thou hast done wonderful things, even counsels of old, in faithfulness and truth. ²For thou hast made of a city an heap; of a defenced city a ruin: a palace of strangers to be no city; it shall never be built. ³Therefore shall the strong people glorify thee, the city of the terrible nations shall fear thee. ⁴For thou hast been a strong hold to the poor, a strong hold to the needy in his distress, a refuge from the storm, a shadow from the heat, when the blast of the terrible ones is as a storm against the wall. ⁵As the heat in a dry place shalt thou bring down the noise of strangers; as the heat by the shadow of a cloud, the song of the terrible ones shall be brought low. ⁶And in this mountain shall the LORD of hosts make unto all peoples a feast of fat things, a feast of wines on the lees, of fat things full of marrow, of wines on the lees well refined. ⁷And he will destroy in this mountain the face of the covering that is cast over all peoples, and the veil that is spread over all nations. ⁸He hath swallowed up death for ever; and the LORD GOD will wipe away tears from off all faces; and the reproach of his people shall he take away from off all the earth: for the LORD hath spoken it. ⁹And it shall be said in that day, Lo, this is our God; we have waited for him, and he will save us: this is the LORD; we have waited for him, we will be glad and rejoice in his salvation. ¹⁰For in this mountain shall the hand of the LORD rest, and Moab shall be trodden down in his place, even as straw is trodden down in the water of the dunghill. ¹¹And he shall spread forth his hands in the midst thereof, as he that swimmeth spreadeth forth his hands to swim: and he shall lay low his pride together with the craft of his hands. ¹²And the fortress of the high fort of thy walls hath he brought down, laid low, and brought to the ground, even to the dust.

¹In that day shall this song be sung in the land of Judah: We have a strong city; salvation will he appoint for walls and bulwarks. ²Open ye the gates, that the righteous nation which keepeth truth may enter in. ³Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee. ⁴Trust ye in the LORD for ever: for in the LORD JEHOVAH is an everlasting rock. ⁵For he hath brought down them that dwell on high, the lofty city: he layeth it low, he layeth it low even to the ground; he bringeth it even to the dust. ⁶The foot shall tread it down; even the feet of the poor, and the steps of the needy. ⁷The way of the just is uprightness: thou that art up right dost direct the path of the just. ⁸Yea, in the way of thy judgments, O LORD, have we waited for thee; to thy name and to thy memorial is the desire of our soul. ⁹With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee early: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world learn righteousness. ¹⁰Let favour be shewed to the wicked, yet will he not learn righteousness; in the land of uprightness will he deal wrongfully, and will not behold the majesty of the LORD. ¹¹ LORD, thy hand is lifted up, yet they see not: but they shall see thy zeal for the people, and be ashamed; yea, fire shall devour thine adversaries. ¹² LORD, thou wilt ordain peace for us: for thou hast also wrought all our works for us. ¹³ O LORD our God, other lords beside thee have had dominion over us; but by thee only will we make mention of thy name. ¹⁴ They are dead, they shall not live; they are deceased, they shall not rise: therefore hast thou visited and destroyed them, and made all their memory to perish. ¹⁵ Thou hast increased the nation, O LORD, thou hast increased the nation; thou art glorified: thou hast enlarged all the borders of the land. ¹⁶ LORD, in trouble have they visited thee, they poured out a prayer when thy chastening was upon them. ¹⁷ Like as a woman with child, that draweth near the time of her delivery, is in pain and crieth out in her pangs; so have we been before thee, O LORD. ¹⁸ We have been with child, we have been in pain, we have as it were brought forth wind; we have not wrought any deliverance in the earth; neither have the inhabitants of the world fallen. ¹⁹ Thy dead shall live; my dead bodies shall arise. Awake and sing, ye that dwell in the dust: for thy dew is as the dew of herbs, and the earth shall cast forth the dead. ²⁰ Come, my people, enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doors about thee: hide thyself for a little moment, until the indignation be overpast. ²¹ For, behold, the LORD cometh forth out of his place to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity: the earth also shall disclose her blood, and shall no more cover her slain.

burn them together. ⁵ Or else let him take hold of my strength, that he may make peace with me; yea, let him make peace with me. ⁶ In days to come shall Jacob take root; Israel shall blossom and bud: and they shall fill the face of the world with fruit. ⁷ Hath he smitten him as he smote those that smote him? or is he slain according to the slaughter of them that were slain by him? ⁸ In measure, when thou sendest her away, thou dost contend with her; he hath removed her with his rough blast in the day of the east wind. ⁹ Therefore by this shall the iniquity of Jacob be purged, and this is all the fruit of taking away his sin; when he maketh all the stones of the altar as chalkstones that are beaten in sunder, so that the Asherim and the sun-images shall rise no more. ¹⁰ For the defenced city is solitary, an habitation deserted and forsaken, like the wilderness: there shall the calf feed, and there shall he lie down, and consume the branches thereof. ¹¹ When the boughs thereof are withered, they shall be broken off; the women shall come, and set them on fire: for it is a people of no understanding; therefore he that made them will not have compassion upon them, and he that formed them will shew them no favour. ¹² And it shall come to pass in that day, that the LORD shall beat off his fruit, from the flood of the River unto the brook of Egypt, and ye shall be gathered one by one, O ye children of Israel. ¹³ And it shall come to pass in that day, that a great trumpet shall be blown; and they shall come which were ready to perish in the land of Assyria, and they that were outcasts in the land of Egypt; and they shall worship the LORD in the holy mountain at Jerusalem.

of his glorious beauty, which is on the head of the fat valley, shall be as the firstripe fig before the summer; which when he that looketh upon it seeth, while it is yet in his hand he eateth it up. ⁵ In that day shall the LORD of hosts be for a crown of glory, and for a diadem of beauty, unto the residue of his people: ⁶ and for a spirit of judgment to him that sitteth in judgment, and for strength to them that turn back the battle at the gate. ⁷ But these also have erred through wine, and through strong drink are gone astray; the priest and the prophet have erred through strong drink, they are swallowed up of wine, they are gone astray through strong drink; they err in vision, they stumble in judgment. ⁸ For all tables are full of vomit and filthiness, so that there is no place clean. ⁹ Whom will he teach knowledge? and whom will he make to understand the message? them that are weaned from the milk, and drawn from the breasts? ¹⁰ For it is precept upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, line upon line; here a little, there a little. ¹¹ Nay, but by men of strange lips and with another tongue will he speak to this people: ¹² to whom he said, This is the rest, give ye rest to him that is weary; and this is the refreshing: yet they would not hear. ¹³ Therefore shall the word of the LORD be unto them precept upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, line upon line; here a little, there a little; that they may go, and fall backward, and be broken, and snared, and taken. ¹⁴ Wherefore hear the word of the LORD, ye scornful men, that rule this people which is in Jerusalem: ¹⁵ Because ye have said, We have made a covenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, it shall not come unto us; for we have made lies our refuge, and under falsehood have we hid ourselves: ¹⁶ therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone of sure foundation: he that believeth shall not make haste. ¹⁷ And I will make judgment the line, and righteousness the plummet: and the hail shall sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the hiding place. ¹⁸ And your covenant with death shall be disannulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stand; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, then ye shall be trodden down by it. ¹⁹ As often as it passeth through, it shall take you; for morning by morning shall it pass through, by day and by night: and it shall be nought but terror to understand the message. ²⁰ For the bed is shorter than that a man can stretch himself on it; and the covering narrower than that he can wrap himself in it. ²¹ For the LORD shall rise up as in mount Perazim, he shall be wroth as in the valley of Gibeon; that he may do his work, his strange work, and bring to pass his act, his strange act. ²² Now therefore be ye not scorers, lest your bands be made strong; for a consummation, and that determined, have I heard from the Lord, the LORD of hosts, upon the whole earth. ²³ Give ye ear, and hear my voice; hearken, and hear my speech. ²⁴ Doth the plowman plow continually to sow? doth he continually open and break the clods of his ground? ²⁵ When he hath made plain the face thereof, doth he not cast abroad the fitches, and scatter the cummin, and put in the wheat in rows and the barley in the appointed place and the spelt in the border thereof? ²⁶ For his God doth instruct him aright, and doth teach him. ²⁷ For the fitches are not threshed with a sharp threshing instrument, neither is a cart wheel turned about upon the cummin; but the fitches are beaten out with a staff, and the cummin with a rod. ²⁸ Bread corn is ground; for he will not ever be threshing it: and though the wheel of his cart and his horses scatter it, he doth not grind it. ²⁹ This also cometh forth from the LORD of hosts, which is wonderful in counsel, and excellent in wisdom.

¹ Ho Ariel, Ariel, the city where David encamped! add ye year to year; let the feasts come round: ² then will I distress Ariel, and there shall be mourning and lamentation: and she shall be unto me as Ariel. ³ And I will camp against thee round about, and will lay siege against thee with a fort, and I will raise siege works against thee. ⁴ And thou shalt be brought down, and shalt speak out of the ground, and thy speech shall be low out of the dust; and thy voice shall be as of one that hath a familiar spirit, out of the ground, and thy speech

shall whisper out of the dust. ⁵ But the multitude of they foes shall be like small dust, and the multitude of the terrible ones as chaff that passeth away: yea, it shall be at an instant suddenly. ⁶ She shall be visited of the LORD of hosts with thunder, and with earthquake, and great noise, with whirlwind and tempest, and the flame of a devouring fire. ⁷ And the multitude of all the nations that fight against Ariel, even all that fight against her and her strong hold, and that distress her, shall be as a dream, a vision of the night. ⁸ And it shall be as when a hungry man dreameth, and, behold, he eateth; but he awaketh, and his soul is empty: or as when a thirsty man dreameth, and, behold, he drinketh; but he awaketh, and, behold, he is faint, and his soul hath appetite: so shall the multitude of all the nations be, that fight against mount Zion. ⁹ Tarry ye and wonder, take your pleasure and be blind: they are drunken, but not with wine; they stagger, but not with strong drink. ¹⁰ For the LORD hath poured out upon you the spirit of deep sleep, and hath closed your eyes, the prophets; and your heads, the seers, hath he covered. ¹¹ And all vision is become unto you as the words of a book that is sealed, which men deliver to one that is learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee: and he saith, I cannot, for it is sealed: ¹² and the book is delivered to him that is not learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee: and he saith, I am not learned. ¹³ And the Lord said, Forasmuch as this people draw nigh unto me, and with their mouth and with their lips do honour me, but have removed their heart far from me, and their fear of me is a commandment of men which hath been taught them: ¹⁴ therefore, behold, I will proceed to do a marvelous work among this people, even a marvelous work and a wonder: and the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the understanding of their prudent men shall be hid. ¹⁵ Woe unto them that seek deep to hide their counsel from the LORD, and their works are in the dark, and they say, Who seeth us? and who knoweth us? ¹⁶ Ye turn things upside down! Shall the potter be counted as clay; that the thing made should say of him that made it, He made me not; or the thing framed say of him that framed it, He hath no understanding? ¹⁷ Is it not yet a very little while, and Lebanon shall be turned into a fruitful field, and the fruitful field shall be counted for a forest? ¹⁸ And in that day shall the deaf hear the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind shall see out of obscurity and out of darkness. ¹⁹ The meek also shall increase their joy in the LORD, and the poor among men shall rejoice in the Holy One of Israel. ²⁰ For the terrible one is brought to nought, and the scorner ceaseth, and all they that watch for iniquity are cut off: ²¹ that make a man an offender in a cause, and lay a snare for him that reproveth in the gate, and turn aside the just with a thing of nought. ²² Therefore thus saith the LORD, who redeemed Abraham, concerning the house of Jacob: Jacob shall not now be ashamed, neither shall his face now wax pale. ²³ But when he seeth his children, the work of mine hands, in the midst of him, they shall sanctify my name; yea, they shall sanctify the Holy One of Jacob, and shall stand in awe of the God of Israel. ²⁴ They also that err in spirit shall come to understanding, and they that murmur shall learn doctrine.

¹ Woe to the rebellious children, saith the LORD, that take counsel, but not of me; and that cover with a covering, but not of my spirit, that they may add sin to sin: ² that walk to go down into Egypt, and have not asked at my mouth; to strengthen themselves in the strength of Pharaoh, and to trust in the shadow of Egypt! ³ Therefore shall the strength of Pharaoh be your shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt your confusion. ⁴ For his princes are at Zoan, and his ambassadors are come to Hanes. ⁵ They shall all be ashamed of a people that cannot profit them, that are not an help nor profit, but a shame, and also a reproach. ⁶ The burden of the beasts of the South. Through the land of trouble and anguish, from whence come the lioness and the lion, the viper and fiery flying serpent, they carry their riches upon the shoulders of young asses, and their treasures upon the bunches of camels, to a people that shall not profit them. ⁷ For Egypt helpeth in vain, and to no purpose: therefore have I called her Rahab that sitteth still. ⁸ Now go, write it before them on a tablet, and inscribe it in a book, that it may be for the time to come for ever and ever. ⁹ For it is a rebellious people, lying children, children that will not hear the law of the LORD: ¹⁰ which say to the seers, See not; and to the prophets, Prophecy not unto us right things, speak unto us smooth things, prophecy deceits: ¹¹ get you out of the way, turn aside out of the path, cause the Holy One of Israel to cease from before us. ¹² Wherefore thus saith the Holy One of Israel, Because ye despise this word, and trust in oppression and perverseness, and stay thereon; ¹³ therefore this iniquity shall be to you as a breach ready to fall, swelling out in a high wall, whose breaking cometh suddenly at an instant. ¹⁴ And he shall break it as a potter's vessel is broken, breaking it in pieces without sparing; so that there shall not be found among the pieces thereof a sherd to take fire from the hearth, or to take water withal out of the cistern. ¹⁵ For thus said the Lord GOD, the Holy One of Israel, In returning and rest shall ye be saved; in quietness and in confidence shall be your strength: and ye would not. ¹⁶ but ye said, No, for we will flee upon horses; therefore shall ye flee: and, We will ride upon the swift; therefore shall they that pursue you be swift. ¹⁷ One thousand shall flee at the rebuke of one; at the rebuke of five shall ye flee: till ye be left as a beacon upon the top of a mountain, and as an ensign on an hill. ¹⁸ And therefore will the LORD wait, that he may be gracious unto you, and therefore will he be exalted, that he may have mercy upon you: for the LORD is a God of judgment; blessed are all they that wait for him. ¹⁹ For the people shall dwell in Zion at Jerusalem: thou shalt weep no more; he will surely be gracious unto thee at the voice of thy cry; when he shall hear, he will answer thee. ²⁰ And though the Lord give you the bread of adversity and the water of affliction, yet shall not thy teachers be hidden any more, but thine eyes shall see thy teachers: ²¹ and thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, walk ye in it; when ye turn to the right hand and when e turn to the left. ²² And ye shall defile the overlaying of thy graven images of silver, and the plating of thy molten images of gold: thou shalt cast them away as an unclean thing; thou shalt say unto it, Get thee hence. ²³ And he shall give the rain of thy seed, that thou shalt sow the ground withal; and bread of the increase of the ground, and it shall be fat and plenteous: in that day shall thy cattle feed in large pastures. ²⁴ the oxen likewise and the young asses that till the ground shall eat savoury provender, which hath been winnowed with the shovel and with the fan. ²⁵ And there shall be upon every lofty mountain, and upon every high hill, rivers and streams of waters, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall. ²⁶ Moreover the light of the moon shall be as the light of the sun, and the light of the sun shall be sevenfold, as the light of seven days, in the day that the LORD bindeth up the hurt of his people, and healeth the stroke of their wound. ²⁷ Behold, the name of the LORD cometh from far, burning with his anger, and in thick rising smoke: his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue is as a devouring fire: ²⁸ and his breath is as an overflowing stream, that reacheth even unto the neck, to sift the nations with the sieve of vanity: and a bridle that causeth to err shall be in the jaws of the peoples. ²⁹ Ye shall have a song as in the night when a holy feast is kept; and gladness of heart, as when one goeth with a pipe to come into the mountain of the LORD, to the Rock of Israel. ³⁰ And the LORD shall cause his glorious voice to be heard, and shall shew the lighting down of his arm, with the indignation of his anger, and the flame of a devouring fire, with a blast, and tempest, and hailstones. ³¹ For through the voice of the LORD shall the Assyrian be broken in pieces, which smote with a rod. ³² And every stroke of the appointed staff, which the LORD shall lay upon him, shall be with tabrets and harps: and in battles of shaking will he fight with them. ³³ For a Topheth is prepared of old; yea, for the king it is made ready; he hath made it deep and large: the pile thereof is fire and much wood; the breath of the LORD, like a stream of brimstone, doth kindle it.

¹ Woe to them that go down to Egypt

for help, and stay on horses; and trust in chariots, because they are many, and in horsemen, because they are very strong; but they look not unto the Holy One of Israel, neither seek the LORD! ² Yet he also is wise, and will bring evil, and will not call back his words: but will arise against the house of the evil-doers, and against the help of them that work iniquity. ³ Now the Egyptians are men, and not God; and their horses flesh, and not spirit: and when the LORD shall stretch out his hand, both he that helpeth shall stumble, and he that is holpen shall fall, and they all shall fail together. ⁴ For thus saith the LORD unto me, Like as when the lion growleth and the young lion over his prey, if a multitude of shepherds be called forth against him, he will not be dismayed at their voice, nor abase himself for the noise of them: so shall the LORD of hosts come down to fight upon mount Zion, and upon the hill thereof. ⁵ As birds flying, so will the LORD of hosts protect Jerusalem; he will protect and deliver it, he will pass over and preserve it. ⁶ Turn ye unto him from whom ye have deeply revolted, O children of Israel. ⁷ For in that day they shall cast away every man his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which your own hands have made unto you for a sin. ⁸ Then shall the Assyrian fall with the sword, not of man; and the sword, not of men, shall devour him: and he shall flee from the sword, and his young men shall become tributary. ⁹ And his rock shall pass away by reason of terror, and his princes shall be dismayed at the ensign, saith the LORD, whose fire is in Zion, and his furnace in Jerusalem.

bountiful. ⁶ For the vile person will speak villany, and his heart will work iniquity, to practise profaneness, and to utter error against the LORD, to make empty the soul of the hungry, and to cause the drink of the thirsty to fail. ⁷ The instruments also of the churl are evil: he deviseth wicked devices to destroy the meek with lying words, even when the needy speaketh right. ⁸ But the liberal deviseth liberal things; and in liberal things shall he continue. ⁹ Rise up, ye women that are at ease, and hear my voice; ye careless daughters, give ear unto my speech. ¹⁰ For days beyond a year shall ye be troubled, ye careless women: for the vintage shall fail, the ingathering shall not come. ¹¹ Tremble, ye women that are at ease; be troubled, ye careless ones: strip you, and make you bare, and gird sackcloth upon your loins. ¹² They shall smite upon the breasts for the pleasant fields, for the fruitful vine. ¹³ Upon the land of my people shall come up thorns and briers; yea, upon all the houses of joy in the joyous city: ¹⁴ For the palace shall be forsaken; the populous city shall be deserted; the hill and the watch-tower shall be for dens for ever, a joy of wild asses, a pasture of flocks; ¹⁵ until the spirit be poured upon us from on high, and the wilderness become a fruitful field, and the fruitful field be counted for a forest. ¹⁶ Then judgment shall dwell in the wilderness, and righteousness shall abide in the fruitful field. ¹⁷ And the work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness quietness and confidence for ever. ¹⁸ And my people shall abide in a peaceable habitation, and in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting places. ¹⁹ But it shall hail, in the downfall of the forest; and the city shall be utterly laid low. ²⁰ Blessed are ye that sow beside all waters, that send forth the feet of the ox and the ass.

¹ Woe to thee that spoilest, and thou wast not spoiled; and dealest treacherously, and they dealt not treacherously with thee! When thou hast ceased to spoil, thou shalt be spoiled; and when thou hast made an end to deal treacherously, they shall deal treacherously with thee. ² O LORD, be gracious unto us; we have waited for thee:

be thou their arm every morning, our salvation also in the time of trouble. ³At the noise of the tumult the peoples are fled; at the lifting up of thyself the nations are scattered. ⁴And your spoil shall be gathered as the caterpillar gathereth: as locusts leap shall they leap upon it. ⁵The LORD is exalted; for he dwelleth on high: he hath filled Zion with judgment and righteousness. ⁶And there shall be stability in thy times, abundance of salvation, wisdom and knowledge: the fear of the LORD is his treasure. ⁷Behold, their valiant ones cry without: the ambassadors of peace weep bitterly. ⁸The highways lie waste, the wayfaring man ceaseth: he hath broken the covenant, he hath despised the cities, he regardeth not man. ⁹The land mourneth and languisheth: Lebanon is ashamed and withereth away: Sharon is like a desert; and Bashan and Carmel shake off their leaves. ¹⁰How will I arise, saith the LORD; now will I lift up myself; now will I be exalted. ¹¹Ye shall conceive chaff, ye shall bring forth stubble: your breath is a fire that shall devour you. ¹²And the peoples shall be as the burnings of lime: as thorns cut down, that are burned in the fire. ¹³Hear, ye that are far off, what I have done; and, ye that are near, acknowledge my might. ¹⁴The sinners in Zion are afraid; trembling hath surprised the godless ones. Who among us shall dwell with the devouring fire? who among us shall dwell with everlasting burnings? ¹⁵He that walketh righteously, and speaketh uprightly; he that despiseth the gain of oppressions, that shaketh his hands from holding of bribes, that stoppeth his ears from hearing of blood, and shutteth his eyes from looking upon evil; ¹⁶He shall dwell on high: his place of defence shall be the munitions of rocks: his bread shall be given him; his waters shall be sure. ¹⁷Thine eyes shall see the king in his beauty: they shall behold a far stretching land. ¹⁸Thine heart shall muse on the terror: where is he that counted, where is he that weighed the tribute? where is he that counted the towers? ¹⁹Thou shalt not see the fierce people, a people of a deep speech that thou canst not perceive; of a strange tongue that thou canst not understand. ²⁰Look upon Zion, the city of our solemnities: thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a tent that shall not be removed, the stakes whereof shall never be plucked up, neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken. ²¹But there the LORD will be with us in majesty, a place of broad rivers and streams; wherein shall go no galley with oars, neither shall gallant ship pass thereby. ²²For the LORD is our judge, the LORD is our lawgiver, the LORD is our king; he will save us. ²³Thy tacklings are loosed; they could not strengthen the foot of their mast, they could not spread the sail: then was the prey of a great spoil divided; the lame took the prey. ²⁴And the inhabitant shall not say, I am sick: the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity.

¹Come near, ye nations, to hear; and hearken, ye peoples: let the earth hear, and the fulness thereof; the world, and all things that come forth of it. ²For the LORD hath indignation against all the nations, and fury against all their host: he hath utterly destroyed them, he hath delivered them to the slaughter. ³Their slain also shall be cast out, and the stink of their carcases shall come up, and the mountains shall be melted with their blood. ⁴And all the host of heaven shall be dissolved, and the heavens shall be rolled together as a scroll: and all their host shall fade away, as the leaf fadeth from off the vine, and as a fading leaf from the fig tree. ⁵For my sword hath drunk its fill in heaven: behold, it shall come down upon Edom, and upon the people of my curse, to judgment. ⁶The sword of the LORD is filled with blood, it is made fat with fatness, with the blood of lambs and goats, with the fat of the kidneys of rams: for the LORD hath a sacrifice in Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Edom. ⁷And the wild-oxen shall come down with them, and the bullocks with the bulls; and their land shall be drunken with blood, and their dust made fat with fatness. ⁸For it is the day of the LORD'S vengeance, the year of recompence in the controversy of Zion. ⁹And the streams thereof shall be turned into pitch, and the dust thereof into brimstone, and the land thereof shall become burning pitch. ¹⁰It shall not be quenched night nor day; the smoke thereof shall go up for ever: from generation to generation it shall lie waste; none shall pass through it for ever and ever. ¹¹ But the pelican and the porcupine shall possess it; and the owl and the raven shall dwell therein: and he shall stretch over it the line of confusion, and the plummet of emptiness. ¹² They shall call the nobles thereof to the kingdom, but none shall be there; and all her princes shall be nothing. ¹³ And thorns shall come up in her palaces, nettles and thistles in the fortresses thereof: and it shall be an habitation of jackals, a court for ostriches. ¹⁴ And the wild beasts of the desert shall meet with the wolves, and the satyr shall cry to his fellow; yea, the night-monster shall settle there, and shall find her a place of rest. ¹⁵ There shall the adders make her nest, and lay, and hatch, and gather under her shadow: yea, there shall the kites be gathered, every one with her mate. ¹⁶ Seek ye out of the book of the LORD, and read: no one of these shall be missing, none shall want her mate: for my mouth it hath commanded, and his spirit it hath gathered them. ¹⁷ And he hath cast the lot for them, and his hand hath divided it unto them by line: they shall possess it for ever, from generation to generation shall they dwell therein.

in the habitation of jackals, where they lay, shall be grass with reeds and rushes. ⁸ And an highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called The way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those: the wayfaring men, yea fools, shall not err therein. ⁹ No lion shall be there, nor shall any ravenous beast go up thereon, they shall not be found there; but the redeemed shall walk there: ¹⁰ and the ransomed of the LORD shall return, and come with singing unto Zion; and everlasting joy shall be upon their heads: they shall obtain gladness and joy, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

¹ Now it came to pass in the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah, that Sennacherib king of Assyria came up against all the fenced cities of Judah and took them. ² And the king of Assyria sent Rabshakeh from Lachish to Jerusalem unto king Hezekiah with a great army. And he stood by the conduit of the upper pool in the highway of the fuller's field. ³ Then came forth unto him Eliakim the son of Hilkiyah, which was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph the recorder. ⁴ And Rabshakeh said unto them, Say ye now to Hezekiah, Thus saith the great king, the king of Assyria, what confidence is this wherein thou trustest? ⁵ I say, thy counsel and strength for the war are but vain words: now on whom dost thou trust, that thou hast rebelled against me? ⁶ Behold, thou trustest upon the staff of this bruised reed, even upon Egypt; whereon if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it: so is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all that trust on him. ⁷ But if thou say unto me, We trust in the LORD our God: is not that he, whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and hath said to Judah and to Jerusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar? ⁸ Now therefore, I pray thee, give pledges to my master the king of Assyria, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders upon them. ⁹ How then canst thou turn away the face of one captain of the least of my master's servants, and put thy trust on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen? ¹⁰ And am I now come up without the LORD against this land to destroy it? The LORD said unto me, Go up against this land, and destroy it. ¹¹ Then said Eliakim and Shebna and Joah unto Rabshakeh, Speak, I pray thee, unto thy servants in the Syrian language; for we understand it: and speak not to us in the Jews' language, in the ears of the people that are on the wall. ¹² But Rabshakeh said, Hath my master sent me to thy master, and to thee, to speak these words? hath he not sent me to the men that sit upon the wall, to eat their own dung, and to drink their own water with you? ¹³ Then Rabshakeh stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jews' language, and said, Hear ye the words of the great king, the king of Assyria. ¹⁴ Thus saith the king, Let not Hezekiah deceive you; for he shall not be able to deliver you: ¹⁵ neither let Hezekiah make you trust in the LORD, saying, The LORD will surely deliver us; this city shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria. ¹⁶ Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus saith the king of Assyria, Make your peace with me, and come out to me; and eat ye every one of his vine, and every one of his fig tree, and drink ye every one the waters of his own cistern: ¹⁷ until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and vineyards. ¹⁸ Beware lest Hezekiah persuade you, saying, The LORD will deliver us. Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria? ¹⁹ Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? where are the gods of Sepharvaim? and have they delivered Samaria out of my hand? ²⁰ Who are they among all the gods of these countries, that have delivered their country out of my hand, that the LORD should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand? ²¹ But they held their peace, and answered him not a word: for the king's commandment was, saying, Answer him not. ²² Then came Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, that was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph the recorder, to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and told him the words of Rabshakeh.

¹ And it came to pass, when king Hezekiah heard it, that he rent his clothes, and covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the house of the LORD. ² And he sent Eliakim, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and the elders of the priests, covered with sackcloth, unto Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz. ³ And they said unto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and of contumely: for the children are come to the birth, and there is not strength to bring forth. ⁴ It may be the LORD thy God will hear the words of Rabshakeh, whom the king of Assyria his master hath sent to reproach the living God, and will rebuke the words which the LORD thy God hath heard: wherefore lift up thy prayer for the remnant that is left. ⁵ So the servants of king Hezekiah came to Isaiah. ⁶ And Isaiah said unto them, Thus shall ye say to your master, Thus saith the LORD, Be not afraid of the words that thou hast heard, wherewith the servants of the king Assyria have blasphemed me. ⁷ Behold, I will put a spirit in him, and he shall hear a rumour, and shall return unto his own land; and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land. ⁸ So Rabshakeh returned, and found the king of Assyria warring against Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish. ⁹ And he heard say concerning Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, He is come out to fight against thee. And when he heard it, he sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying, ¹⁰ Thus shall ye speak to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying, Let not thy God in whom thou trustest deceive thee, saying, Jerusalem shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria. ¹¹ Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands, by destroying them utterly: and shalt thou be delivered? ¹² Have the gods of the nations delivered them, which my fathers have destroyed, Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden which were in Telassar? ¹³ Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arpad, and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, of Hena, and Ivvah? ¹⁴ And Hezekiah received the letter from the hand of the messengers, and read it: and Hezekiah went up unto the house of the LORD, and spread it before the LORD. ¹⁵ And Hezekiah prayed unto the LORD, saying, ¹⁶ O LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, that sittest upon the cherubim, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth; thou hast made heaven and earth. ¹⁷Incline thine ear, O LORD, and hear; open thine eyes, O LORD, and see: and hear all the words of Sennacherib, which hath sent to reproach the living God. ¹⁸Of a truth, LORD, the kings of Assyria have laid waste all the countries, and their land, ¹⁹and have cast their gods into the fire: for they were no gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and stone; therefore they have destroyed them. ²⁰Now therefore, O LORD our God, save us from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that thou art the LORD, even thou only. ²¹Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent unto Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, Whereas thou hast prayed to me against Sennacherib king of Assyria, ²²this is the word which the LORD hath spoken concerning him: The virgin daughter of Zion hath despised thee and laughed thee to scorn; the daughter of Jerusalem hath shaken her head at thee. ²³Whom hast thou reproached and blasphemed? and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice and lifted up thine eyes on high? even against the Holy One of Israel. ²⁴By thy servants hast thou reproached the Lord, and hast said, With the multitude of my chariots am I come up to the height of the mountains, to the innermost parts of Lebanon; and I will cut down the tall cedars thereof, and the choice fir trees thereof: and I will enter into his farthest height, the forest of his fruitful field. ²⁵I have digged and drunk water, and with the sole of my feet will I dry up all the rivers of Egypt. ²⁶Hast thou not heard how I have done it long ago, and formed it of ancient times? now have I brought it to pass, that thou shouldest be to lay waste fenced cities into ruinous heaps. ²⁷Therefore their inhabitants were of small power, they were dismayed and confounded; they were as the grass of the field, and as the green herb, as the grass on the housetops, and as a field of corn before it be grown up. ²⁸But I know thy sitting down, and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy raging against me. ²⁹Because of thy raging against me, and for that thine arrogancy is come up into mine ears, therefore will I put my hook in thy nose, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way by which thou camest. ³⁰And this shall be the sign unto thee: ye shall eat this year that which groweth of itself, and in the second year that which springeth of the same; and in the third year sow ye, and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof. ³¹And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah shall again take root downward, and bear fruit upward. ³²For out of Jerusalem shall go forth a remnant, and out of mount Zion they that shall escape: the zeal of the LORD of hosts shall perform this. ³³Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the king of Assyria, He shall not come unto this city, nor shoot an arrow there, neither shall he come before it with shield, nor cast a mount against it. ³⁴By the way that he came, by the same shall he return, and he shall not come unto this city, saith the LORD. ³⁵For I will defend this city to save it, for mine own sake, and for my servant David's sake. ³⁶And the angel of the LORD went forth, and smote in the camp of the Assyrians a hundred and fourscore and five thousand: and when men arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses. ³⁷So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, and went and returned, and dwelt at Nineveh. ³⁸And it came to pass, as he was worshipping in the house of Nisroch his god, that Adrammelech and Sharezer his sons smote him with the sword: and they escaped into the land of Ararat. And Esar-haddon his son reigned in his stead.

¹In those days was Hezekiah sick unto death. And Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz came to him, and said unto him, Thus saith the LORD, Set thine house in order; for thou shalt die, and not live. ²Then Hezekiah turned his face to the wall, and prayed unto the LORD, ³and said, Remember now, O LORD, I beseech thee, how I have walked before thee in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight. And Hezekiah wept sore. ⁴Then came the word of the LORD to Isaiah, saying, ⁵Go, and say to Hezekiah, Thus saith the LORD, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will add unto thy days fifteen years. ⁶ And I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria: and I will defend this city. ⁷ And this shall he the sign unto thee from the LORD, that the LORD will do this thing that he hath spoken: ⁸ behold, I will cause the shadow on the steps, which is gone down on the dial of Ahaz with the sun, to return backward ten steps. So the sun returned ten steps on the dial whereon it was gone down. ⁹ The writing of Hezekiah king of Judah, when he had been sick, and was recovered of his sickness. ¹⁰ I said, In the noontide of my days I shall go into the gates of the grave: I am deprived of the residue of my years. ¹¹ I said, I shall not see the LORD, even the LORD in the land of the living: I shall behold man no more with the inhabitants of the world. ¹² Mine age is removed, and is carried away from me as a shepherd's tent: I have rolled up like a weaver my life; he will cut me off from the loom: from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me. ¹³ I quieted myself until morning; as a lion, so he breaketh all my bones: from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me. ¹⁴ Like a swallow or a crane, so did I chatter; I did mourn as a dove: mine eyes fail with looking upward; O LORD, I am oppressed, be thou my surety. ¹⁵ What shall I say? he hath both spoken unto me, and himself hath done it: I shall go softly all my years because of the bitterness of my soul. ¹⁶ O Lord, by these things men live, and wholly therein is the life of my spirit: wherefore recover thou me, and make me to live. ¹⁷ Behold, it was for my peace that I had great bitterness: but thou hast in love to my soul delivered it from the pit of corruption; for thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back. ¹⁸ For the grave cannot praise thee, death cannot celebrate thee: they that go down into the pit cannot hope for thy truth. ¹⁹ The living, the living, he shall praise thee, as I do this day: the father to the children shall make known thy truth. ²⁰ The LORD is ready to save me: therefore we will sing my songs to the stringed instruments all the days of our life in the house of the LORD. ²¹ Now Isaiah had said, Let them take a cake of figs, and lay it for a plaister upon the boil, and he shall recover. ²² Hezekiah also had said, What is the sign that I shall go up to the house of the LORD?

¹ At that time Merodach-baladan the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah: for he heard that he had been sick, and was recovered. ² And Hezekiah was glad of them, and shewed them the house of his precious things, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious oil, and all the house of his armour, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion, that Hezekiah shewed them not. ³ Then came Isaiah the prophet unto king Hezekiah, and said unto him, What said these men? and from whence came they unto thee? And Hezekiah said, They are come from a far country unto me, even from Babylon. ⁴ Then said he, What have they seen in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house have they seen: there is nothing among my treasures that I have not shewed them. ⁵ Then said Isaiah to Hezekiah, Hear the word of the LORD of hosts. ⁶ Behold, the days come, that all that is in thine house, and that which thy fathers have laid up in store until this day, shall be carried to Babylon: nothing shall be left, saith the LORD. ⁷ And of thy sons that shall issue from thee, which thou shalt beget, shall they take away; and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon. ⁸ Then said Hezekiah unto Isaiah, Good is the word of the LORD which thou hast spoken. He said moreover, For there shall be peace and truth in my days.

¹ Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, saith your God. ² Speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem, and cry unto her, that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned; that she hath received of the LORD'S hand double for all her sins. ³ The voice of one that crieth, Prepare ye in the wilderness the way of the LORD, make straight in the desert a highway for our God. ⁴ Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low: and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough places plain: ⁵ and the glory of the LORD shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the

LORD hath spoken it. ⁶The voice of one saying, Cry. And one said, What shall I cry? All flesh is grass, and all the goodness thereof is as the flower of the field: ⁷The grass withereth, the flower fadeth; because the breath of the LORD bloweth upon it: surely the people is grass. ⁸The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: but the word of our God shall stand for ever. ⁹O thou that tellest good tidings to Zion, get thee up into the high mountain: O thou that tellest good tidings to Jerusalem, lift up thy voice with strength; lift it up, be not afraid; say unto the cities of Judah, Behold, your God! ¹⁰Behold, the Lord GOD will come as a mighty one, and his arm shall rule for him: behold, his reward is with him, and his recompence before him. ¹¹He shall feed his flock like a shepherd, he shall gather the lambs in his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and shall gently lead those that give suck. ¹²Who hath measured the waters in the hollow of his hand, and meted out heaven with the span, and comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure, and weighed the mountains in scales, and the hills in a balance? ¹³Who hath directed the spirit of the LORD, or being his counselor hath taught him? ¹⁴With whom took he counsel, and who instructed him, and taught him in the path of judgment, and taught him knowledge, and shewed to him the way of understanding? ¹⁵Behold, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the small dust of the balance: behold, he taketh up the isles as a very little thing. ¹⁶And Lebanon is not sufficient to burn, nor the beasts thereof sufficient for a burnt offering. ¹⁷All the nations are as nothing before him; they are counted to him less than nothing, and vanity. ¹⁸To whom then will ye liken God? or what likeness will ye compare unto him? ¹⁹The graven image, a workman melted it, and the goldsmith spreadeth it over with gold, and casteth for it silver chains. ²⁰He that is too impoverished for such an oblation chooseth a tree that will not rot; he seeketh unto him a cunning workman to set up a graven image, that shall not be moved. ²¹Have ye not known? have ye not heard? hath it not been told you from the beginning? have ye not understood from the foundations of the earth? ²²It is he that sitteth upon the circle of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as grasshoppers; that stretcheth out the heavens as a curtain, and spreadeth them out as a tent to dwell in: ²³that bringeth princes to nothing; he maketh the judges of the earth as vanity. ²⁴Yea, they have not been planted; yea, they have not been sown; yea, their stock hath not taken root in the earth: moreover he bloweth upon them, and they wither, and the whirlwind taketh them away as stubble. ²⁵To whom then will ye liken me, that I should be equal to him? saith the Holy One. ²⁶Lift up your eyes on high, and see who hath created these, that bringeth out their host by number: he calleth them all by name; by the greatness of his might, and for that he is strong in power, not one is lacking. ²⁷Why sayest thou, O Jacob, and speakest, O Israel, My way is hid from the LORD, and my judgment is passed away from my God? ²⁸Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard? the everlasting God, the LORD, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary; there is no searching of his understanding. ²⁹He giveth power to the faint; and to him that hath no might he increaseth strength. ³⁰Even the youths shall faint and be weary, and the young men shall utterly fall: ³¹but they that wait upon the LORD shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; they shall walk, and not faint.

to his brother, Be of good courage. ⁷ So the carpenter encouraged the goldsmith, and he that smootheth with the hammer him that smiteth the anvil, saying of the soldering, It is good: and he fastened it with nails, that it should not be moved. ⁸ But thou, Israel, my servant, Jacob whom I have chosen, the seed of Abraham my friend; ⁹ thou whom I have taken hold of from the ends of the earth, and called thee from the corners thereof, and said unto thee, Thou art my servant, I have chosen thee and not cast thee away; ¹⁰ Fear thou not, for I am with thee; be not dismayed, for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness. ¹¹ Behold, all they that are incensed against thee shall be ashamed and confounded: they that strive with thee shall be as nothing, and shall perish. ¹² Thou shalt seek them, and shalt not find them, even them that contend with thee: they that war against thee shall be as nothing, and as a thing of nought. ¹³ For I the LORD thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not; I will help thee. ¹⁴ Fear not, thou worm Jacob, and ye men of Israel; I will help thee, saith the LORD, and thy redeemer is the Holy One of Israel. ¹⁵ Behold, I will make thee a new sharp threshing instrument having teeth: thou shalt thresh the mountains, and beat them small, and shalt make the hills as chaff. ¹⁶ Thou shalt fan them, and the wind shall carry them away, and the whirlwind shall scatter them: and thou shalt rejoice in the LORD, thou shalt glory in the Holy One of Israel. ¹⁷ The poor and needy seek water and there is none, and their tongue faileth for thirst; I the LORD will answer them, I the God of Israel will not forsake them. ¹⁸ I will open rivers on the bare heights, and fountains in the midst of the valleys: I will make the wilderness a pool of water, and the dry land springs of water. ¹⁹ I will plant in the wilderness the cedar, the acacia tree, and the myrtle, and the oil tree; I will set in the desert the fir tree, the pine, and the box tree together: ²⁰ that they may see, and know, and consider, and understand together, that the hand of the LORD hath done this, and the Holy One of Israel hath created it. ²¹ Produce your cause, saith the LORD; bring forth your strong reasons, saith the King of Jacob. ²² Let them bring them forth, and declare unto us what shall happen: declare ye the former things, what they be, that we may consider them, and know the latter end of them; or shew us things for to come. ²³ Declare the things that are to come hereafter, that we may know that ye are gods: yea, do good, or do evil, that we may be dismayed, and behold it together. ²⁴ Behold, ye are of nothing, and your work of nought: an abomination is he that chooseth you. ²⁵ I have raised up one from the north, and he is come; from the rising of the sun one that calleth upon my name: and he shall come upon rulers as upon mortar, and as the potter treadeth clay. ²⁶ Who hath declared it from the beginning, that we may know? and beforetime, that we may say, He is righteous? yea, there is none that declareth, yea, there is none that sheweth, yea, there is none that heareth your words. ²⁷ I first will say unto Zion, Behold, behold them; and I will give to Jerusalem one that bringeth good tidings. ²⁸ And when I look, there is no man; even among them there is no counsellor, that, when I ask of them, can answer a word. ²⁹ Behold, all of them, their works are vanity and nought: their molten images are wind and confusion.

¹ Behold my servant, whom I uphold; my chosen, in whom my soul delighteth: I have put my spirit upon him; he shall bring forth judgment to the Gentiles. ² He shall not cry, nor lift up, nor cause his voice to be heard in the street. ³ A bruised reed shall he not break, and the smoking flax shall he not quench: he shall bring forth judgment in truth. ⁴ He shall not fail nor be discouraged, till he have set judgment in the earth; and the isles shall wait for his law. ⁵ Thus saith God the LORD, he that created the heavens, and stretched them forth; he that spread abroad the earth and that which cometh out of it; he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein: ⁶ I the LORD have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, for a light of the Gentiles; ⁷ to open the blind eyes, to bring out the prisoners from the

dungeon, and them that sit in darkness out of the prison house. ⁸ I am the LORD; that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise unto graven images. ⁹ Behold, the former things are come to pass, and new things do I declare: before they spring forth I tell you of them. ¹⁰ Sing unto the LORD a new song, and his praise from the end of the earth; ye that go down to the sea, and all that is therein, the isles, and the inhabitants thereof. ¹¹ Let the wilderness and the cities thereof lift up their voice, the villages that Kedar doth inhabit; let the inhabitants of Sela sing, let them shout from the top of the mountains. ¹² Let them give glory unto the LORD, and declare his praise in the islands. ¹³ The LORD shall go forth as a mighty man; he shall stir up jealousy like a man of war: he shall cry, yea, he shall shout aloud; he shall do mightily against his enemies. ¹⁴ I have long time holden my peace; I have been still, and refrained myself: now will I cry out like a travailing woman; I will gasp and pant together. ¹⁵ I will make waste mountains and hills, and dry up all their herbs; and I will make the rivers islands, and will dry up the pools. ¹⁶ And I will bring the blind by a way that they know not; in paths that they know not will I lead them: I will make darkness light before them, and crooked places straight. These things will I do, and I will not forsake them. ¹⁷ They shall be turned back, they shall be greatly ashamed, that trust in graven images, that say unto molten images, Ye are our gods. ¹⁸ Hear, ye deaf; and look, ye blind, that ye may see. ¹⁹ Who is blind, but my servant? or deaf, as my messenger that I send? who is blind as he that is at peace with me, and blind as the LORD'S servant? ²⁰ Thou seest many things, but thou observest not; his ears are open, but he heareth not. ²¹ It pleased the LORD, for his righteousness' sake, to magnify the law, and make it honourable. ²² But this is a people robbed and spoiled; they are all of them snared in holes, and they are hid in prison houses: they are for a prey, and none delivereth; for a spoil, and none saith, Restore. ²³ Who is there among you that will give ear to this? that will hearken and hear for the time to come? ²⁴ Who gave Jacob for a spoil, and Israel to the robbers? did not the LORD? he against whom we have sinned, and in whose ways they would not walk, neither were they obedient unto his law. ²⁵ Therefore he poured upon him the fury of his anger, and the strength of battle; and it set him on fire round about, yet he knew not; and it burned him, yet he laid it not to heart.

¹ But now thus saith the LORD that created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Israel: Fear not, for I have redeemed thee; I have called thee by thy name, thou art mine. ² When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee. ³ For I am the LORD thy God, the Holy One of Israel, thy saviour; I have given Egypt as thy ransom, Ethiopia and Seba for thee. ⁴ Since thou hast been precious in my sight, and honourable, and I have loved thee; therefore will I give men for thee, and peoples for thy life. ⁵ Fear not; for I am with thee: I will bring thy seed from the east, and gather thee from the west; ⁶ I will say to the north, Give up; and to the south, Keep not back; bring my sons from far, and my daughters from the end of the earth; ⁷ every one that is called by my name, and whom I have created for my glory; I have formed him; yea, I have made him. ⁸ Bring forth the blind people that have eyes, and the deaf that have ears. ⁹ Let all the nations be gathered together, and let the peoples be assembled: who among them can declare this, and shew us former things? let them bring their witnesses, that they may be justified: or let them hear, and say, It is truth. ¹⁰ Ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he; before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me. ¹¹ I, even I, am the LORD; and beside me there is no saviour. ¹² I have declared, and I have saved, and I have shewed, and there was no strange god among you: therefore ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, and I am God. ¹³ Yea, since the day was I am he; and there is none that can deliver out of my hand: I will work, and who shall let it? ¹⁴Thus saith the LORD, your redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: For your sake I have sent to Babylon, and I will bring down all of them as fugitives, even the Chaldeans, in the ships of their rejoicing. ¹⁵I am the LORD, your Holy One, the Creator of Israel, your King. ¹⁶Thus saith the LORD, which maketh a way in the sea, and a path in the mighty waters; ¹⁷which bringeth forth the chariot and horse, the army and the power; they lie down together, they shall not rise; they are extinct, they are quenched as flax: ¹⁸Remember ye not the former things, neither consider the things of old. ¹⁹Behold, I will do a new thing; now shall it spring forth; shall ye not know it? I will even make a way in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert. ²⁰The beasts of the field shall honour me, the jackals and the ostriches: because I give waters in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert, to give drink to my people, my chosen: ²¹the people which I formed for myself, that they might set forth my praise. ²²Yet thou hast not called upon me, O Jacob; but thou hast been weary of me, O Israel. ²³Thou hast not brought me the small cattle of thy burnt offerings; neither hast thou honoured me with thy sacrifices. I have not made thee to serve with offerings, nor wearied thee with frankincense. ²⁴Thou hast bought me no sweet cane with money, neither hast thou filled me with the fat of thy sacrifices: but thou hast made me to serve with thy sins, thou hast wearied me with thine iniquities. ²⁵I, even I, am he that blotteth out thy transgressions for mine own sake; and I will not remember thy sins. ²⁶Put me in remembrance; let us plead together: set thou forth thy cause, that thou mayest be justified. ²⁷Thy first father sinned, and thine interpreters have transgressed against me. ²⁸Therefore I will profane the princes of the sanctuary, and I will make Jacob a curse, and Israel a reviling.

¹Yet now hear, O Jacob my servant; and Israel, whom I have chosen: ²Thus saith the LORD that made thee, and formed thee from the womb, who will help thee: Fear not, O Jacob my servant; and thou, Jeshurun, whom I have chosen. ³For I will pour water upon him that is thirsty, and streams upon the dry ground: I will pour my spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine offspring: ⁴and they shall spring up among the grass, as willows by the watercourses. ⁵One shall say, I am the LORD'S; and another shall call himself by the name of Jacob; and another shall subscribe with his hand unto the LORD, and surname himself by the name of Israel. ⁶Thus saith the LORD, the King of Israel, and his redeemer the LORD of hosts: I am the first, and I am the last; and beside me there is no God. ⁷And who, as I, shall call, and shall declare it, and set it in order for me, since I appointed the ancient people? and the things that are coming, and that shall come to pass, let them declare. ⁸Fear ye not, neither be afraid: have I not declared unto thee of old, and shewed it? and ye are my witnesses. Is there a God beside me? yea, there is no Rock; I know not any. ⁹They that fashion a graven image are all of them vanity; and their delectable things shall not profit: and their own witnesses see not, nor know; that they may be ashamed. ¹⁰Who hath fashioned a god, or molten a graven image that is profitable for nothing? ¹¹Behold, all his fellows shall be ashamed; and the workmen, they are of men: let them all be gathered together, let them stand up; they shall fear, they shall be ashamed together. ¹²The smith maketh an axe, and worketh in the coals, and fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with his strong arm: yea, he is hungry, and his strength faileth; he drinketh no water, and is faint. ¹³The carpenter stretcheth out a line; he marketh it out with a pencil; he shapeth it with planes, and he marketh it out with the compasses, and shapeth it after the figure of a man, according to the beauty of a man, to dwell in the house. ¹⁴He heweth him down cedars, and taketh the holm tree and the oak, and strengtheneth for himself one among the trees of the forest: he planteth a fir tree, and the rain doth nourish it. ¹⁵Then shall it be for a man to burn; and he taketh thereof, and warmeth himself; yea, he kindleth it, and baketh bread: yea, he maketh a god, and worshippeth it; he maketh it a graven image, and falleth down thereto. ¹⁶He burneth part thereof in the fire; with part thereof he eateth flesh; he roasteth roast, and is satisfied: yea, he warmeth himself, and saith, Aha, I am warm, I have seen the fire: ¹⁷ And the residue thereof he maketh a god, even his graven image: he falleth down unto it and worshippeth, and prayeth unto it, and saith, Deliver me; for thou art my god. ¹⁸ They know not, neither do they consider: for he hath shut their eyes, that they cannot see; and their hearts, that they cannot understand. ¹⁹ And none calleth to mind, neither is there knowledge nor understanding to say, I have burned part of it in the fire; yea, also I have baked bread upon the coals thereof; I have roasted flesh and eaten it: and shall I make the residue thereof an abomination? shall I fall down to the stock of a tree? ²⁰ He feedeth on ashes: a deceived heart hath turned him aside, that he cannot deliver his soul, nor say, Is there not a lie in my right hand? ²¹ Remember these things, O Jacob; and Israel, for thou art my servant: I have formed thee; thou art my servant: O Israel, thou shalt not be forgotten of me. ²² I have blotted out, as a thick cloud, thy transgressions, and, as a cloud, thy sins: return unto me; for I have redeemed thee. ²³ Sing, O ye heavens, for the LORD hath done it; shout, ye lower parts of the earth; break forth into singing, ye mountains, O forest, and every tree therein: for the LORD hath redeemed Jacob, and will glorify himself in Israel. ²⁴ Thus saith the LORD, thy redeemer, and he that formed thee from the womb: I am the LORD, that maketh all things; that stretcheth forth the heavens alone; that spreadeth abroad the earth; who is with me? ²⁵ that frustrateth the tokens of the liars, and maketh diviners mad; that turneth wise men backward, and maketh their knowledge foolish: ²⁶ that confirmeth the word of his servant, and performeth the counsel of his messengers; that saith of Jerusalem, She shall be inhabited; and of the cities of Judah, They shall be built, and I will raise up the waste places thereof: ²⁷ that saith to the deep, Be dry, and I will dry up thy rivers: ²⁸ That saith of Cyrus, He is my shepherd, and shall perform all my pleasure: even saying of Jerusalem, She shall be built; and to the temple, Thy foundation shall be laid.

in chains they shall come over: and they shall fall down unto thee, they shall make supplication unto thee, saying, Surely God is in thee; and there is none else, there is no God. ¹⁵ Verily thou art a God that hidest thyself, O God of Israel, the Saviour. ¹⁶ They shall be ashamed, yea, confounded, all of them: they shall go into confusion together that are makers of idols. ¹⁷ But Israel shall be saved by the LORD with an everlasting salvation: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded world without end. ¹⁸ For thus saith the LORD that created the heavens; he is God; that formed the earth and made it; he established it, he created it not a waste, he formed it to be inhabited: I am the LORD; and there is none else. ¹⁹ I have not spoken in secret, in a place of the land of darkness; I said not unto the seed of Jacob, Seek ye me in vain: I the LORD speak righteousness, I declare things that are right. ²⁰ Assemble yourselves and come; draw near together, ye that are escaped of the nations: they have no knowledge that carry the wood of their graven image, and pray unto a god that cannot save. ²¹ Declare ye, and bring it forth; yea, let them take counsel together: who hath shewed this from ancient time? who hath declared it of old? have not I the LORD? and there is no God else beside me; a just God and a saviour; there is none beside me. ²² Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else. ²³ By myself have I sworn, the word is gone forth from my mouth in righteousness, and shall not return, that unto me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear. ²⁴ Only in the LORD, shall one say unto me, is righteousness and strength: even to him shall men come, and all they that were incensed against him shall be ashamed. ²⁵ In the LORD shall all the seed of Israel be justified, and shall glory.

been borne by me from the belly, which have been carried from the womb: ⁴ and even to old age I am he, and even to hoar hairs will I carry you: I have made, and I will bear; yea, I will carry, and will deliver. ⁵ To whom will ye liken me, and make me equal, and compare me, that we may be like? ⁶ Such as lavish gold out of the bag, and weigh silver in the balance, they hire a goldsmith, and he maketh it a god; they fall down, yea, they worship. ⁷ They bear him upon the shoulder, they carry him, and set him in his place, and he standeth; from his place shall he not remove: yea, one shall cry unto him, yet can he not answer, nor save him out of his trouble. ⁸ Remember this, and shew yourselves men: bring it again to mind, O ye transgressors. ⁹ Remember the former things of old: for I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like me; ¹⁰ declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times things that are not yet done; saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure: ¹¹ calling a ravenous bird from the east, the man of my counsel from a far country; yea, I have spoken, I will also bring it to pass; I have purposed, I will also do it. ¹² Harken unto me, ye stouthearted, that are far from righteousness: ¹³ I bring near my righteousness, it shall not be far off, and my salvation shall not tarry; and I will place salvation in Zion for Israel my glory,

thou very heavily laid thy yoke. ⁷ And thou saidst, I shall be a lady for ever: so that thou didst not lay these things to thy heart, neither didst remember the latter end thereof. ⁸ Now therefore hear this, thou that art given to pleasures, that dwellest carelessly, that sayest in thine heart, I am, and there is none else beside me; I shall not sit as a widow, neither shall I know the loss of children: ⁹ but these two things shall come to thee in a moment in one day, the loss of children, and widowhood: in their full measure shall they come upon thee, despite of the multitude of thy sorceries, and the great abundance of thine enchantments. ¹⁰ For thou hast trusted in thy wickedness; thou hast said, None seeth me; thy wisdom and thy knowledge, it hath perverted thee: and thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and there is none else beside me. ¹¹ Therefore shall evil come upon thee; thou shalt not know the dawning thereof: and mischief shall fall upon thee; thou shalt not be able to put it away: and desolation shall come upon thee suddenly, which thou knowest not. ¹² Stand now with thine enchantments, and with the multitude of thy sorceries, wherein thou hast laboured from thy youth; if so be thou shalt be able to profit, if so be thou mayest prevail. ¹³ Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels: let now the astrologers, the stargazers, the monthly prognosticators, stand up, and save thee from the things that shall come upon thee. ¹⁴ Behold, they shall be as stubble; the fire shall burn them; they shall not deliver themselves from the power of the flame: it shall not be a coal to warm at, nor a fire to sit before. ¹⁵ Thus shall the things be unto thee wherein thou hast laboured: they that have trafficked with thee from thy youth shall wander every one to his quarter; there shall be none to save thee.

¹Hear ye this, O house of Jacob, which are called by the name of Israel, and are come forth out of the waters of Judah; which swear by the name of the LORD, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth, nor in righteousness. ²For they call themselves of the holy city, and stay themselves upon the God of Israel; the LORD of hosts is his name. ³I have declared the former things from of old; yea, they went forth out of my mouth, and I shewed them: suddenly I did them, and they came to pass. ⁴Because I knew that thou art obstinate, and thy neck is an iron sinew, and thy brow brass; ⁵therefore I have declared it to thee from of old; before it came to pass I shewed it thee: lest thou shouldst say, Mine idol hath done them, and my graven image, and my molten image, hath commanded them. ⁶Thou hast heard it; behold all this; and ye, will ye not declare it? I have shewed thee new things from this time, even hidden things, which thou hast not known. ⁷They are created now, and not from of old; and before this day thou heardest them not; lest thou shouldst say, Behold, I knew them. ⁸Yea, thou heardest not; yea, thou knewest not; yea, from of old thine ear was not opened: for I knew that thou didst deal very treacherously, and wast called a transgressor from the womb. ⁹For my name's sake will I defer mine anger, and for my praise will I refrain for thee, that I cut thee not off. ¹⁰Behold, I have refined thee, but not as silver; I have chosen thee in the furnace of affliction. ¹¹For mine own sake, for mine own sake, will I do it; for how should my name be profaned? and my glory will I not give to another. ¹²Hearken unto me, O Jacob, and Israel my called: I am he; I am the first, I also am the last. ¹³Yea, mine hand hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spread out the heavens: when I call unto them, they stand up together. ¹⁴Assemble yourselves, all ye, and hear; which among them hath declared these things? The LORD hath loved him: he shall perform his pleasure on Babylon, and his arm shall be on the Chaldeans. ¹⁵I, even I, have spoken; yea, I have called him: I have brought him, and he shall make his way prosperous. ¹⁶Come ye near unto me, hear ye this; from the beginning I have not spoken in secret; from the time that it was, there am I: and now the Lord GOD hath sent me, and his spirit. ¹⁷Thus saith the LORD, thy redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: I am the LORD thy God, which teacheth thee to profit, which leadeth thee by the way that thou shouldst go. ¹⁸Oh that thou hadst hearkened to my commandments! then had thy peace been as a river, and thy righteousness as the waves of the sea: ¹⁹thy seed also had been as the sand, and the offspring of thy bowels like the grains thereof: his name should not be cut off nor destroyed from before me. ²⁰Go ye forth of Babylon, flee ye from the Chaldeans; with a voice of singing declare ye, tell this, utter it even to the end of the earth: say ye, The LORD hath redeemed his servant Jacob. ²¹And they thirsted not when he led them through the deserts: he caused the waters to flow out of the rock for them: he clave the rock also, and the waters gushed out. ²²There is no peace, saith the LORD, unto the wicked.

¹Listen, O isles, unto me; and hearken, ye peoples, from far: the LORD hath called me from the womb; from the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name: ²and he hath made my mouth like a sharp sword, in the shadow of his hand hath he hid me; and he hath made me a polished shaft, in his quiver hath he kept me close: ³and he said unto me, Thou art my servant; Israel, in whom I will be glorified. ⁴But I said, I have laboured in vain, I have spent my strength for nought and vanity: yet surely my judgment is with the LORD, and my recompence with my God. ⁵And now saith the LORD that formed me from the womb to be his servant, to bring Jacob again to him, and that Israel be gathered unto him: (for I am honourable in the eyes of the LORD, and my God is become my strength:) ⁶yea, he saith, It is too light a thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the preserved of Israel: I will also give thee for a light to the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth. ⁷Thus saith the LORD, the redeemer of Israel, and his Holy One, to him whom man despiseth, to him whom the nation abhorreth, to a servant of rulers: Kings shall see and arise; princes, and they shall worship; because of the LORD that is faithful, even the Holy One of Israel, who hath chosen thee. ⁸Thus saith the LORD, In an acceptable time have I answered thee, and in a day of salvation have I helped thee: and I will preserve thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, to raise up the land, to make them inherit the desolate heritages; ⁹saying to them that are bound, Go forth; to them that are in darkness, Shew yourselves. They shall feed in the ways, and on all bare heights shall be their pasture. ¹⁰They shall not hunger nor thirst; neither shall the heat nor sun smite them: for he that hath mercy on them shall lead them, even by the springs of water shall he guide them. ¹¹And I will make all my mountains a way, and my highways shall be exalted. ¹²Lo, these shall come from far: and, lo, these from the north and from the west; and these from the land of Sinim. ¹³Sing, O heavens; and be joyful, O earth; and break forth into singing, O mountains: for the LORD hath comforted his people, and will have compassion upon his afflicted. ¹⁴But Zion said, Jehovah hath forsaken me, and the Lord hath forgotten me. ¹⁵Can a woman forget her sucking child, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? yea, these may forget, yet will not I forget thee. ¹⁶Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands; thy walls are continually before me. ¹⁷Thy children make haste; thy destroyers and they that made thee waste shall go forth of thee. ¹⁸Lift up thine eyes round about, and behold: all these gather themselves together, and come to thee. As I live, saith the LORD, thou shalt surely clothe thee with them all as with an ornament, and gird thyself with them, like a bride. ¹⁹For, as for thy waste and thy desolate places and thy land that hath been destroyed, surely now shalt thou be too strait for the inhabitants, and they that swallowed thee up shall be far away. ²⁰The children of thy bereavement shall yet say in thine ears, The place is too strait for me: give place to me that I may dwell. ²¹Then shalt thou say in thine heart, Who hath begotten me these, seeing I have been bereaved of my children, and am solitary, an exile, and wandering to and fro? and who hath brought up these? Behold, I was left alone; these, where were they? ²²Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will lift up mine hand to the nations, and set up my ensign to the peoples: and they shall bring thy sons in their bosom, and thy daughters shall he carried upon their shoulders. ²³And kings shall be thy nursing fathers, and their queens thy nursing mothers: they shall bow down to thee with their faces to the earth, and lick the dust of thy feet; and thou shalt know that I am the LORD, and they that wait for me shall not be ashamed. ²⁴ Shall the prey be taken from the mighty, or the lawful captives be delivered? ²⁵ But thus saith the LORD, Even the captives of the mighty shall be taken away, and the prey of the terrible shall be delivered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will save thy children. ²⁶ And I will feed them that oppress thee with their own flesh; and they shall be drunken with their own blood, as with sweet wine: and all flesh shall know that I the LORD am thy saviour, and thy redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob.

¹ Thus saith the LORD, Where is the bill of your mother's divorcement, wherewith I have put her away? or which of my creditors is it to whom I have sold you? Behold, for your iniquities were ye sold, and for your transgressions was your mother put away. ² Wherefore, when I came, was there no man? when I called, was there none to answer? Is my hand shortened at all, that it cannot redeem? or have I no power to deliver? Behold, at my rebuke I dry up the sea, I make the rivers a wilderness: their fish stinketh, because there is no water, and dieth for thirst. ³ I clothe the heavens with blackness, and I make sackcloth their covering. ⁴ The Lord GOD hath given me the tongue of them that are taught, that I should know how to sustain with words him that is weary: he wakeneth morning by morning, he wakeneth mine ear to hear as they that are taught. ⁵ The Lord GOD hath opened mine ear, and I was not rebellious, neither turned away backward. ⁶ I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair: I hid not my face from shame and spitting. ⁷ For the Lord GOD will help me; therefore have I not been confounded: therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed. ⁸ He is near that justifieth me; who will contend with me? let us stand up together: who is mine adversary? let him come near to me. ⁹ Behold, the Lord GOD will help me; who is he that shall condemn me? behold, they all shall wax old as a garment; the moth shall eat them up. ¹⁰ Who is among you that feareth the LORD, that obeyeth the voice of his servant? he that walketh in darkness, and hath no light, let him trust in the name of the LORD, and stay upon his God. ¹¹ Behold, all ye that kindle a fire, that gird yourselves about with firebrands: walk ye in the flame of your fire, and among the brands that ye have kindled. This shall ye have of mine hand; ye shall lie down in sorrow.

¹ Hearken to me, ye that follow after righteousness, ye that seek the LORD: look unto the rock whence ye were hewn, and to the hole of the pit whence ye were digged. ² Look unto Abraham your father, and unto Sarah that bare you: for when he was but one I called him, and I blessed him, and made him many. ³ For the LORD hath comforted Zion: he hath comforted all her waste places, and hath made her wilderness like Eden, and her desert like the garden of the LORD; joy and gladness shall be found therein, thanksgiving, and the voice of melody. ⁴ Attend unto me, O my people; and give ear unto me, O my nation: for a law shall go forth from me, and I will make my judgment to rest for a light of the peoples. ⁵ My righteousness is near, my salvation is gone forth, and mine arms shall judge the peoples; the isles shall wait for me, and on mine arm shall they trust. ⁶ Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look upon the earth beneath: for the heavens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall wax old like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall die in like manner: but my salvation shall be for ever, and my righteousness shall not be abolished. ⁷ Hearken unto me, ye that know righteousness, the people in whose heart is my law; fear ye not the reproach of men, neither be ye dismayed at their revilings. ⁸ For the moth shall eat them up like a garment, and the worm shall eat them like wool: but my righteousness shall be for ever, and my salvation unto all generations. ⁹ Awake, awake, put on strength, O arm of the LORD; awake, as in the days of old, the generations of ancient times. Art thou not it that cut

Rahab in pieces, that pierced the dragon?

¹⁰ Art thou not it which dried up the sea, the waters of the great deep; that made the depths of the sea a way for the redeemed to pass over? ¹¹ And the ransomed of the LORD shall return, and come with singing unto Zion; and everlasting joy shall be upon their heads: they shall obtain gladness and joy, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

¹² I, even I, am he that comforteth you: who art thou, that thou art afraid of man that shall die, and of the son of man which shall be made as grass; ¹³ and hast forgotten the LORD thy Maker, that stretched forth the heavens, and laid the foundations of the earth; and fearest continually all the day because of the fury of the oppressor, when he maketh ready to destroy? and where is the fury of the oppressor?

¹⁴ The captive exile shall speedily be loosed; and he shall not die and go down into the pit, neither shall his bread fail. ¹⁵ For I am the LORD thy God, which stirreth up the sea, that the waves thereof roar: the LORD of hosts is his name. ¹⁶ And I have put my words in thy mouth, and have covered thee in the shadow of mine hand, that I may plant the heavens, and lay the foundations of the earth, and say unto Zion, Thou art my people. ¹⁷ Awake, awake, stand up, O Jerusalem, which hast drunk at the hand of the LORD the cup of his fury; thou hast drunken the bowl of the cup of staggering, and drained it. ¹⁸ There is none to guide her among all the sons whom she hath brought forth; neither is there any that taketh her by the hand of all the sons that she hath brought up. ¹⁹ These two things are befallen thee; who shall bemoan thee? desolation and destruction, and the famine and the sword; how shall I comfort thee? ²⁰ Thy sons have fainted, they lie at the top of all the streets, as an antelope in a net; they are full of the fury of the LORD, the rebuke of thy God. ²¹ Therefore hear now this, thou afflicted, and drunken, but not with wine: ²² Thus saith thy Lord the LORD, and thy God that pleadeth the cause of his people, Behold, I have taken out of thine hand the cup of staggering, even the bowl of the cup of my fury; thou shalt no more drink it again: ²³ and I will put it into the hand of them that afflict thee; which have said to thy soul, Bow down, that we may go over: and thou hast laid thy back as the ground, and as the street, to them that go over.

³ For thus saith the LORD, Ye were sold for nought; and ye shall be redeemed without money. ⁴ For thus saith the Lord GOD, My people went down at the first into Egypt to sojourn there: and the Assyrian oppressed them without cause. ⁵ Now therefore, what do I here, saith the LORD, seeing that my people is taken away for nought? they that rule over them do howl, saith the LORD, and my name continually all the day is blasphemed. ⁶ Therefore my people shall know my name: therefore they shall know in that day that I am he that doth speak; behold, it is I. ⁷ How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace, that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth!

⁸ The voice of thy watchmen! they lift up the voice, together do they sing; for they shall see, eye to eye, when the LORD returneth to Zion. ⁹ Break forth into joy, sing together, ye waste places of Jerusalem: for the LORD hath comforted his people, he hath redeemed Jerusalem. ¹⁰ The LORD hath made bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations; and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God. ¹¹ Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch no unclean thing; go ye out of the midst of her; be ye clean, ye that bear the vessels of the LORD. ¹² For ye shall not go out in haste, neither shall ye go by flight: for the LORD will go before you; and the God of Israel will be your rearward. ¹³ Behold, my servant shall deal wisely, he shall be exalted and lifted up, and shall be very high. ¹⁴ Like as many were astonished at thee, (his visage was so marred more than any man, and his form more than the sons of men,) ¹⁵ so shall he sprinkle many nations; kings shall shut their mouths at him: for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they understand.

¹ Who hath believed our report? and to whom hath the arm of the LORD been revealed? ² For he grew up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground: he hath no form nor comeliness; and when we see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him. ³ He was despised, and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and as one from whom men hide their face he was despised, and we esteemed him not. ⁴ Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted. ⁵ But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed. ⁶ All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the LORD hath laid on him the iniquity of us all. ⁷ He was oppressed, yet he humbled himself and opened not his mouth; as a lamb that is led to the slaughter, and as a sheep that before her shearers is dumb; yea, he opened not his mouth. ⁸ By oppression and judgment he was taken away; and as for his generation, who among them considered that he was cut off out of the land of the living? for the transgression of my people was he stricken. ⁹ And they made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death; although he had done no violence, neither was any deceit in his month. ¹⁰ Yet it pleased the LORD to bruise him; he hath put him to grief: when thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin, he shall see his seed, he shall prolong his days, and the pleasure of the LORD shall prosper in his hand. ¹¹ He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many: and he shall bear their iniquities. ¹² Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong; because he poured out his soul unto death, and was numbered with the transgressors:

yet he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors.

and from terror, for it shall not come near thee. ¹⁵Behold, they may gather together, but not by me: whosoever shall gather together against thee shall fall because of thee. ¹⁶Behold, I have created the smith that bloweth the fire of coals, and bringeth forth a weapon for his work; and I have created the waster to destroy. ¹⁷No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper; and every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgment thou shalt condemn. This is the heritage of the servants of the LORD, and their righteousness which is of me, saith the LORD.

¹Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price. ²Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labour for that which satisfieth not? hearken diligently unto me, and eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness. ³Incline your ear, and come unto me; hear, and your soul shall live: and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David. ⁴Behold, I have given him for a witness to the peoples, a leader and commander to the peoples. ⁵Behold, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, and a nation that knew not thee shall run unto thee, because of the LORD thy God, and for the Holy One of Israel; for he hath glorified thee. ⁶Seek ye the LORD while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near: ⁷let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the LORD, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon. ⁸For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the LORD. ⁹For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts. ¹⁰For as the rain cometh down and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, and giveth seed to the sower and bread to the eater; ¹¹so shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it. ¹²For ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace: the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands. ¹³Instead of the thorn shall come up the fir tree, and instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle tree: and it shall be to the LORD for a name, for an everlasting sign that shall not be cut off.

¹Thus saith the LORD, Keep ye judgment, and do righteousness: for my salvation is near to come, and my righteousness to be revealed. ²Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the son of man that holdeth fast by it; that keepeth the sabbath from profaning it, and keepeth his hand from doing any evil. ³Neither let the stranger, that hath joined himself to the LORD, speak, saying, The LORD will surely separate me from his people: neither let the eunuch say, Behold, I am a dry tree. ⁴For thus saith the LORD of the eunuchs that keep my sabbaths, and choose the things that please me, and hold fast by my covenant: ⁵Unto them will I give in mine house and within my walls a memorial and a name better than of sons and of daughters; I will give them an everlasting name, that shall not be cut off. ⁶Also the strangers, that join themselves to the LORD, to minister unto him, and to love the name of the LORD, to be his servants, every one that keepeth the sabbath from profaning it, and holdeth fast by my covenant; ⁷even them will I bring to my holy mountain, and make them joyful in my house of prayer; their burnt offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted upon mine altar: for mine house shall be called an house of prayer for all peoples. ⁸The Lord GOD which gathereth the outcasts of Israel saith, Yet will I gather others to him, beside his own that are gathered. ⁹All ye beasts of the field, come to devour, yea, all ye beasts in the forest. ¹⁰His watchmen are blind, they are all without knowledge; they are all dumb dogs, they cannot bark; dreaming, lying down, loving to slumber. ¹¹Yea, the dogs are greedy, they can never have enough; and these are shepherds that cannot understand: they have all turned to their own way, each one to his gain, from every quarter. ¹² Come ye, say they, I will fetch wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink; and tomorrow shall be as this day, a day great beyond measure.

¹ The righteous perisheth and no man layeth it to heart; and merciful men are taken away, none considering that the righteous is taken away from the evil to come. ² He entereth into peace; they rest in their beds, each one that walketh in his uprightness. ³ But draw near hither, ye sons of the sorceress, the seed of the adulterer and the whore. ⁴ Against whom do ye sport yourselves? against whom make ye a wide mouth, and draw out the tongue? are ye not children of transgression, a seed of falsehood, ⁵ ye that inflame yourselves among the oaks, under every green tree; that slay the children in the valleys, under the clefts of the rocks? ⁶ Among the smooth stones of the valley is thy portion; they, they are thy lot: even to them hast thou poured a drink offering, thou hast offered an oblation. Shall I be appeased for these things? ⁷ Upon a high and lofty mountain hast thou set thy bed: thither also wentest thou up to offer sacrifice. ⁸ And behind the doors and the posts hast thou set up thy memorial: for thou hast discovered thyself to another than me, and art gone up; thou hast enlarged thy bed, and made thee a covenant with them; thou lovedst their bed where thou sawest it. ⁹ And thou wentest to the king with ointment, and didst increase thy perfumes, and didst send thine ambassadors far off, and didst debase thyself even unto hell. ¹⁰ Thou wast wearied with the length of thy way; yet saidst thou not, There is no hope: thou didst find a quickening of thy strength; therefore thou wast not faint. ¹¹ And of whom hast thou been afraid and in fear, that thou liest, and hast not remembered me, nor laid it to thy heart? have not I held my peace even of long time, and fearest me not? ¹² I will declare thy righteousness; and as for thy works, they shall not profit thee. ¹³ When thou criest, let them which thou hast gathered deliver thee; but the wind shall take them, a breath shall carry them

all away: but he that putteth his trust in me shall possess the land, and shall inherit my holy mountain. ¹⁴ And he shall say, Cast ye up, cast ye up, prepare the way, take up the stumblingblock out of the way of my people. ¹⁵ For thus saith the high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, whose name is Holy: I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones. ¹⁶ For I will not contend for ever, neither will I be always wroth: for the spirit should fail before me, and the souls which I have made. ¹⁷ For the iniquity of his covetousness was I wroth and smote him, I hid my face and was wroth: and he went on frowardly in the way of his heart. ¹⁸ I have seen his ways, and will heal him: I will lead him also, and restore comforts unto him and to his mourners. ¹⁹ I create the fruit of the lips: Peace, peace, to him that is far off and to him that is near, saith the LORD; and I will heal him. ²⁰ But the wicked are like the troubled sea; for it cannot rest, and its waters cast up mire and dirt. ²¹ There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.

¹ Cry aloud, spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and declare unto my people their transgression, and to the house of Jacob their sins. ² Yet they seek me daily, and delight to know my ways: as a nation that did righteousness and forsook not the ordinance of their God, they ask of me righteous ordinances, they delight to draw near unto God. ³ Wherefore have we fasted, say they, and thou seest not? wherefore have we afflicted our soul, and thou takest no knowledge? Behold, in the day of your fast ye find your own pleasure, and exact all your labours. ⁴ Behold, ye fast for strife and contention, and to smite with the fist of wickedness: ye fast not this day so as to make your voice to be heard on high. ⁵ Is such the fast that I have chosen? the day for a man to afflict his soul? Is it to bow down his head as a rush, and to spread sackcloth and ashes under him? wilt thou call this a fast, and an acceptable day to the LORD? ⁶ Is not this the fast that I have chosen? to loose the bonds of wickedness, to undo the bands of

the yoke, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye break every yoke? ⁷Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are cast out to thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him; and that thou hide not thyself from thine own flesh? ⁸Then shall thy light break forth as the morning, and thy healing shall spring forth speedily: and thy righteousness shall go before thee; the glory of the LORD shall be thy rearward. ⁹Then shalt thou call, and the LORD shall answer; thou shalt cry, and he shall say, Here I am. If thou take away from the midst of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and speaking wickedly; ¹⁰and if thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul; then shall thy light rise in darkness, and thine obscurity be as the noonday: ¹¹and the LORD shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in dry places, and make strong thy bones; and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not. ¹²And they that shall be of thee shall build the old waste places: thou shalt raise up the foundations of many generations; and thou shalt be called The repairer of the breach, The restorer of paths to dwell in. ¹³If thou turn away thy foot from the sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day; and call the sabbath a delight, and the holy of the LORD honourable; and shalt honour it, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking thine own words: ¹⁴then shalt thou delight thyself in the LORD; and I will make thee to ride upon the high places of the earth; and I will feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father: for the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it.

¹Behold, the LORD'S hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear: ²but your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you, that he will not hear. ³For your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquity; your lips have spoken lies, your tongue muttereth wickedness.

⁴None sueth in righteousness, and none

pleadeth in truth: they trust in vanity, and speak lies; they conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity. ⁵They hatch basilisks' eggs, and weave the spider's web: he that eateth of their eggs dieth, and that which is crushed breaketh out into a viper. ⁶Their webs shall not become garments, neither shall they cover themselves with their works: their works are works of iniquity, and the act of violence is in their hands. ⁷Their feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity; desolation and destruction are in their paths. ⁸The way of peace they know not; and there is no judgment in their goings: they have made them crooked paths; whosoever goeth therein doth not know peace. ⁹Therefore is judgment far from us, neither doth righteousness overtake us: we look for light, but behold darkness; for brightness, but we walk in obscurity. ¹⁰We grope for the wall like the blind, yea, we grope as they that have no eyes: we stumble at noonday as in the twilight; among them that are lusty we are as dead men. ¹¹We roar all like bears, and mourn sore like doves: we look for judgment, but there is none; for salvation, but it is far off from us. ¹²For our transgressions are multiplied before thee, and our sins testify against us: for our transgressions are with us, and as for our iniquities, we know them: ¹³in transgressing and denying the LORD, and turning away from following our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falsehood. ¹⁴And judgment is turned away backward, and righteousness standeth afar off: for truth is fallen in the street, and uprightness cannot enter. ¹⁵Yea, truth is lacking; and he that departeth from evil maketh himself a prey: and the LORD saw it, and it displeased him that there was no judgment. ¹⁶And he saw that there was no man, and wondered that there was no intercessor: therefore his own arm brought salvation unto him; and his righteousness, it upheld him. ¹⁷And he put on righteousness as a breastplate, and an helmet of salvation upon his head; and he put on garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeal as a cloke. ¹⁸According to their deeds, accordingly he will repay, fury to his adversaries, recompence to his enemies; to the islands he will repay recompence. ¹⁹So shall they fear the name of the LORD from the west, and his glory from the rising of the sun: for he shall come as a rushing stream, which the breath of the LORD driveth. ²⁰And a redeemer shall come to Zion, and unto them that turn from transgression in Jacob, saith the LORD. ²¹And as for me, this is my covenant with them, saith the LORD: my spirit that is upon thee, and my words which I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of thy seed's seed, saith the LORD, from henceforth and for ever.

minister unto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my favour have I had mercy on thee. ¹¹ Thy gates also shall be open continually; they shall not be shut day nor night; that men may bring unto thee the wealth of the nations; and their kings led with them. ¹² For that nation and kingdom that will not serve thee shall perish; yea, those nations shall be utterly wasted. ¹³ The glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, the fir tree, the pine, and the box tree together; to beautify the place of my sanctuary; and I will make the place of my feet glorious. ¹⁴ And the sons of them that afflicted thee shall come bending unto thee; and all they that despised thee shall bow themselves down at the soles of thy feet; and they shall call thee The city of the LORD, The Zion of the Holy One of Israel. ¹⁵ Whereas thou hast been forsaken and hated, so that no man passed through thee, I will make thee an eternal excellency, a joy of many generations. ¹⁶ Thou shalt also suck the milk of the nations, and shalt suck the breast of kings: and thou shalt know that I the LORD am thy saviour, and thy redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob. ¹⁷ For brass I will bring gold, and for iron I will bring silver, and for wood brass, and for stones iron: I will also make thy officers peace, and thine exactors righteousness. ¹⁸ Violence shall no more be heard in thy land, desolation nor destruction within thy borders; but thou shalt call thy walls Salvation, and thy gates Praise. ¹⁹ The sun shall be no more thy light by day; neither for brightness shall the moon give light unto thee: but the LORD shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory. ²⁰ Thy sun shall no more go down, neither shall thy moon withdraw itself: for the LORD shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended. ²¹ Thy people also shall be all righteous, they shall inherit the land for ever; the branch of my planting, the work of my hands, that I may be glorified. ²² The little one shall become a thousand, and the small one a strong nation: I the LORD will hasten it in its time.

¹ The spirit of the Lord GOD is upon me; because the LORD hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound; ²to proclaim the acceptable year of the LORD, and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all that mourn; ³to appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them a garland for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the LORD, that he might be glorified. ⁴And they shall build the old wastes, they shall raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the waste cities, the desolations of many generations. ⁵And strangers shall stand and feed your flocks, and aliens shall be your plowmen and your vinedressers. ⁶But ye shall be named the priests of the LORD: men shall call you the ministers of our God: ye shall eat the wealth of the nations, and in their glory shall ye boast yourselves. ⁷For your shame ye shall have double; and for confusion they shall rejoice in their portion: therefore in their land they shall possess double: everlasting joy shall be unto them. ⁸For I the LORD love judgment, I hate robbery with iniquity; and I will give them their recompence in truth, and I will make an everlasting covenant with them. ⁹And their seed shall be known among the nations, and their offspring among the peoples: all that see them shall acknowledge them, that they are the seed which the LORD hath blessed. ¹⁰I will greatly rejoice in the LORD, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decketh himself with a garland, and as a bride adorneth herself with her jewels. ¹¹For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth; so the Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations.

¹For Zion's sake will I not hold my peace, and for Jerusalem's sake I will not rest, until her righteousness go forth as brightness, and her salvation as a lamp that burneth. ²And the nations shall see thy righteousness, and all kings thy glory: and thou shalt be called by a new name, which the mouth of the LORD shall name. ³Thou shalt also be a crown of beauty in the hand of the LORD, and a royal diadem in the hand of thy God. ⁴Thou shalt no more be termed Forsaken; neither shall thy land any more be termed Desolate: but thou shalt be called Hephzi-bah, and thy land Beulah: for the LORD delighteth in thee, and thy land shall be married. ⁵For as a young man marrieth a virgin, so shall thy sons marry thee: and as the bridegroom rejoiceth over the bride, so shall thy God rejoice over thee. ⁶I have set watchmen upon thy walls, O Jerusalem; they shall never hold their peace day nor night: ye that are the LORD'S remembrancers, take ye no rest, ⁷and give him no rest, till he establish, and till he make Jerusalem a praise in the earth. ⁸The LORD hath sworn by his right hand, and by the arm of his strength, Surely I will no more give thy corn to be meat for thine enemies; and strangers shall not drink thy wine, for the which thou hast laboured: ⁹but they that have garnered it shall eat it, and praise the LORD; and they that have gathered it shall drink it in the courts of my sanctuary. ¹⁰Go through, go through the gates; prepare ye the way of the people; cast up, cast up the highway; gather out the stones; lift up an ensign for the peoples. ¹¹Behold, the LORD hath proclaimed unto the end of the earth, Say ye to the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy salvation cometh; behold, his reward is with him, and his recompence before him. ¹²And they shall call them The holy people, The redeemed of the LORD: and thou shalt be called Sought out, A city not forsaken.

¹Who is this that cometh from Edom, with dyed garments from Bozrah? this that is glorious in his apparel, marching in the greatness of his strength? I that speak in righteousness, mighty to save. ²Wherefore art thou red in thine apparel, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the winefat? ³I have trodden the winepress alone; and of the peoples there was no man with me: yea, I trod them in mine anger, and trampled them in my fury; and their lifeblood is sprinkled upon my garments, and I have stained all my raiment. ⁴For the day of vengeance was in mine heart, and the year of my redeemed is come. ⁵And I looked, and there was none to help; and I wondered that there was none to uphold: therefore mine own arm brought salvation unto me; and my fury, it upheld me. ⁶And I trod down the peoples in mine anger, and made them drunk in my fury, and I poured out their lifeblood on the earth. ⁷I will make mention of the lovingkindnesses of the LORD, and the praises of the LORD, according to all that the LORD hath bestowed on us; and the great goodness toward the house of Israel, which he hath bestowed on them according to his mercies, and according to the multitude of his lovingkindnesses. ⁸For he said, Surely, they are my people, children that will not deal falsely: so he was their saviour. ⁹In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them: in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and he bare them, and carried them all the days of old. ¹⁰But they rebelled, and grieved his holy spirit: therefore he was turned to be their enemy, and himself fought against them. ¹¹Then he remembered the days of old, Moses, and his people, saying, Where is he that brought them up out of the sea with the shepherds of his flock? where is he that put his holy spirit in the midst of them? ¹²that caused his glorious arm to go at the right hand of Moses? that divided the water before them, to make himself an everlasting name? ¹³that led them through the depths, as an horse in the wilderness, that they stumbled not? ¹⁴As the cattle that go down into the valley, the spirit of the LORD caused them to rest: so didst thou lead thy people, to make thyself a glorious name. ¹⁵Look down from heaven, and behold from the habitation of thy holiness and of thy glory: where is thy zeal and thy mighty acts? the yearning of thy bowels and thy compassions are restrained toward me. ¹⁶For thou art our father, though Abraham knoweth us not, and Israel doth not acknowledge us: thou, O LORD, art our father; our redeemer from everlasting is thy name. ¹⁷O LORD, why dost thou make us to err from thy ways, and hardenest our heart from thy fear? Return for thy servants' sake, the tribes of thine inheritance. ¹⁸Thy holy people possessed it but a little while: our adversaries have trodden down thy sanctuary. ¹⁹We are become as they over whom thou never barest rule; as they that were not called by thy name.

¹Oh that thou wouldest rend the heavens, that thou wouldest come down, that the mountains might flow down at thy presence; ²as when fire kindleth the brushwood, and the fire causeth the waters to boil: to make thy name known to thine adversaries, that the nations may tremble at thy presence. ³When thou didst terrible things which we looked not for, thou camest down, the mountains flowed down at thy presence. ⁴For from of old men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen a God beside thee, which worketh for him that waiteth for him. ⁵Thou meetest him that rejoiceth and worketh righteousness, those that remember thee in thy ways: behold, thou wast wroth, and we sinned: in them have we been of long time, and shall we be saved? ⁶For we are all become as one that is unclean, and all our righteousnesses are as a polluted garment: and we all do fade as a leaf; and our iniquities, like the wind, take us away. ⁷And there is none that calleth upon thy name, that stirreth up himself to take hold of thee: for thou hast hid thy face from us, and hast consumed us by means of our iniquities. ⁸But now, O LORD, thou art our father; we are the clay, and thou our potter; and we all are the work of thy hand. ⁹Be not wroth very sore, O LORD, neither remember iniquity for ever: behold, look, we beseech thee, we are all thy people. ¹⁰Thy holy cities are become a wilderness, Zion is become a wilderness, Jerusalem a desolation. ¹¹Our holy and our beautiful house, where our fathers praised thee, is burned with fire; and all our pleasant things are laid waste. ¹²Wilt thou refrain thyself for these things, O LORD? wilt thou hold thy peace, and afflict us very sore?

¹I AM inquired of by them that asked not for me; I am found of them that sought me not: I said, Behold me, behold me, unto a nation that was not called by my name. ²I have spread out my hands all the day unto a rebellious people, which walketh in a way that is not good, after their own thoughts; ³a people that provoketh me to my face continually, sacrificing in gardens, and burning incense upon bricks; ⁴which sit among the graves, and lodge in the secret places; which eat swine's flesh, and broth of abominable things is in their vessels; ⁵which say, Stand by thyself, come not near to me, for I am holier than thou: these are a smoke in my nose, a fire that burneth all the day. ⁶Behold, it is written before me: I will not keep silence, but will recompense, yea, I will recompense into their bosom, ⁷your own iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers together, saith the LORD, which have burned incense upon the mountains, and blasphemed me upon the hills: therefore will I first measure their work into their bosom. ⁸Thus saith the LORD, As the new wine is found in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not, for a blessing is in it: so will I do for my servants' sakes, that I may not destroy them all. ⁹And I will bring forth a seed out of Jacob, and out of Judah an inheritor of my mountains: and my chosen shall inherit it, and my servants shall dwell there. ¹⁰And Sharon shall be a fold of flocks, and the valley of Achor a place for herds to lie down in, for my people that have sought me. ¹¹But ye that forsake the LORD, that forget my holy mountain, that prepare a table for Fortune, and that fill up mingled wine unto Destiny; ¹²I will destine you to the sword, and ye shall all bow down to the slaughter: because when I called, ye did not answer; when I spake, ye did not hear; but ye did that which was evil in mine eyes, and chose that wherein I delighted not. ¹³Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, my servants shall eat, but ye shall be hungry: behold, my servants shall drink, but ye shall be thirsty: behold, my servants shall rejoice, but ye shall be ashamed: ¹⁴behold, my servants shall sing for joy of heart, but ye shall cry for sorrow of heart, and shall howl for vexation of spirit. ¹⁵And ye shall leave your name for a curse unto my chosen, and the Lord GOD shall slay thee; and he shall call his servants by another name: ¹⁶so that he who blesseth himself in the earth shall bless himself in the God of truth; and he that sweareth in the earth shall swear by the God of truth; because the former troubles are forgotten, and because they are hid from mine eyes. ¹⁷For, behold, I create new heavens and a new earth: and the former things shall not be remembered, nor come into mind. ¹⁸But be ye glad and rejoice for ever in that which I create: for, behold, I create Jerusalem a rejoicing, and her people a joy. ¹⁹And I will rejoice in Jerusalem, and joy in my people: and the voice of weeping shall be no more heard in her, nor the voice of crying. ²⁰There shall be no more thence an infant of days, nor an old man that hath not filled his days: for the child shall die an hundred years old, and the sinner being an hundred years old shall be accursed. ²¹And they shall build houses, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them. ²²They shall not build, and another inhabit; they shall not plant, and another eat: for as the days of a tree shall be the days of my people, and my chosen shall long enjoy the work of their hands. ²³They shall not labour in vain, nor bring forth for calamity; for they are the seed of the blessed of the LORD, and their offspring with them. ²⁴And it shall come to pass that, before they call, I will answer; and while they are yet speaking, I will hear. ²⁵The wolf and the lamb shall feed together, and the lion shall eat straw like the ox: and dust shall be the serpent's meat. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain, saith the LORD.

¹Thus saith the LORD; The heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool: what manner of house will ye build unto me? and what place shall be my rest? ²For all these things hath mine hand made, and so all these things came to be, saith the LORD: but to this man will I look, even to him that is poor and of a contrite spirit, and that trembleth at my word. ³He that killeth an ox is as he that slayeth a man; he that sacrificeth a lamb, as he that breaketh a dog's neck; he that offereth an oblation, as he that offereth swine's blood; he that burneth frankincense, as he that blesseth an idol: yea, they have chosen their own ways, and their soul delighteth in their abominations; ⁴I also will choose their delusions, and will bring their fears upon them; because when I called, none did answer; when I spake, they did not hear: but they did that which was evil in mine eyes, and chose that wherein I delighted not. ⁵Hear the word of the LORD, ye that tremble at his word: Your brethren that hate you, that cast you out for my name's sake, have said, Let the LORD be glorified, that we may see your joy; but they shall be ashamed. ⁶A voice of tumult from the city, a voice from the temple, a voice of the LORD that rendereth recompence to his enemies. ⁷Before she travailed, she brought forth; before her pain came, she was delivered of a man child. ⁸Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seen such things? Shall a land be born in one day? shall a nation be brought forth at once? for as soon as Zion travailed, she brought forth her children. ⁹Shall I bring to the birth, and not cause to bring forth? saith the LORD: shall I that cause to bring forth shut the womb? saith thy God. ¹⁰Rejoice ye with Jerusalem, and be glad for her, all ye that love her: rejoice for joy with her, all ye that mourn over her: ¹¹that ye may suck and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations; that ye may milk out, and be delighted with the abundance of her glory. ¹²For thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will extend peace to her like a river, and the glory of the nations like an overflowing stream, and ye shall suck thereof; ye shall be borne upon the side, and shall be dandled upon the knees. ¹³As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you; and ye shall be comforted in Jerusalem. ¹⁴And ye shall see it, and your heart shall rejoice, and your bones shall flourish like the tender grass: and the hand of the LORD shall be known toward his servants, and he will have indignation against his enemies. ¹⁵For, behold, the LORD will come with fire, and his chariots shall be like the whirlwind; to render his anger with fury, and his rebuke with flames of fire. ¹⁶For by fire will the LORD plead, and by his sword, with all flesh: and the slain of the LORD shall be many. ¹⁷They that sanctify themselves and purify themselves to go unto the gardens, behind one in the midst, eating swine's flesh, and the abomination, and the mouse; they shall come to an end together, saith the LORD. ¹⁸For I know their works and their thoughts: the time cometh, that I will gather all nations and tongues; and they shall come, and shall see my glory. ¹⁹And I will set a sign among them, and I will send such as escape of them unto the nations, to Tarshish, Pul and Lud, that draw the bow, to Tubal and Javan, to the isles afar off, that have not heard my fame, neither have seen my glory; and they shall declare my glory among the nations. ²⁰And they shall bring all your brethren out of all the nations for an offering unto the LORD, upon horses, and in chariots, and in litters, and upon mules, and upon swift beasts, to my holy mountain Jerusalem, saith the LORD, as the children of Israel bring their offering in a clean vessel into the house of the LORD. ²¹And of them also will I take for priests and for Levites, saith the LORD. ²²For as the new heavens and the new earth, which I will make, shall remain before me, saith the LORD, so shall your seed and your name remain. ²³And it shall come to pass, that from one new moon to another, and from one sabbath to another, shall all flesh come to worship before me, saith the LORD. ²⁴And they shall go forth, and look upon the carcases of the men that have transgressed against me: for their worm shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched; and they shall be an abhorring unto all flesh.

THE BOOK OF THE PROPHET JEREMIAH.

¹ The words of Jeremiah the son of Hilkiah, of the priests that were in Anathoth in the land of Benjamin: ² to whom the word of the LORD came in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign. ³ It came also in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, unto the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah the son of Josiah, king of Judah; unto the carrying away of Jerusalem captive in the fifth month. ⁴ Now the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ⁵ Before I formed thee in the belly I knew thee, and before thou camest forth out of the womb I sanctified thee; I have appointed thee a prophet unto the nations. ⁶ Then said I, Ah, Lord GOD! behold, I cannot speak: for I am a child. ⁷ But the LORD said unto me, Say not, I am a child: for to whomsoever I shall send thee thou shalt go, and whatsoever I shall command thee thou shalt speak. ⁸ Be not afraid because of them: for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the LORD. ⁹ Then the LORD put forth his hand, and touched my mouth; and the LORD said unto me, Behold, I have put my words in thy mouth: ¹⁰ see, I have this day set thee over the nations and over the kingdoms, to pluck up and to break down, and to destroy and to overthrow; to build, and to plant. ¹¹ Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Jeremiah, what seest thou? And I said, I see a rod of an almond tree. ¹² Then said the LORD unto me, Thou hast well seen: for I watch over my word to perform it. ¹³ And the word of the LORD came unto me the second time, saying, What seest thou? And I said, I see a seething caldron; and the face thereof is from the north. ¹⁴ Then the LORD said unto me, Out of the north evil shall break forth upon all the inhabitants of the land. ¹⁵ For, lo, I will call all the families of the kingdoms of the north, saith the LORD; and they shall come, and they shall set every one his throne at the entering of the gates of Jerusalem, and against all the walls thereof round about, and against all the cities of Judah. ¹⁶ And I will utter my judgments against them touching all their wickedness; in that they have forsaken me, and have burned incense unto other gods, and worshipped the works of their own hands. ¹⁷ Thou therefore gird up thy loins, and arise, and speak unto them all that I command thee: be not dismayed at them, lest I dismay thee before them. ¹⁸ For, behold, I have made thee this day a defenced city, and an iron pillar, and brasen walls, against the whole land, against the kings of Judah, against the princes thereof, against the priests thereof, and against the people of the land. ¹⁹ And they shall fight against thee; but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee, saith the LORD, to deliver thee.

Kedar, and consider diligently; and see if there hath been such a thing. ¹¹ Hath a nation changed their gods, which yet are no gods? but my people have changed their glory for that which doth not profit. ¹² Be astonished, O ye heavens, at this, and be horribly afraid, be ye very desolate, saith the LORD. ¹³ For my people have committed two evils; they have forsaken me the fountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water. ¹⁴ Is Israel a servant? is he a homeborn slave? why is he become a prey? ¹⁵ The young lions have roared upon him, and yelled: and they have made his land waste; his cities are burned up, without inhabitant. ¹⁶ The children also of Noph and Tahpanhes have broken the crown of thy head. ¹⁷ Hast thou not procured this unto thyself, in that thou hast forsaken the LORD thy God, when he led thee by the way? ¹⁸ And now what hast thou to do in the way to Egypt, to drink the waters of Shihor? or what hast thou to do in the way to Assyria, to drink the waters of the River? ¹⁹ Thine own wickedness shall correct thee, and thy backslidings shall reprove thee: know therefore and see that it is an evil thing and a bitter, that thou hast forsaken the LORD thy God, and that my fear is not in thee, saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts. ²⁰ For of old time I have broken thy yoke, and burst thy bands; and thou saidst, I will not serve; for upon every high hill and under every green tree thou didst bow thyself, playing the harlot. ²¹ Yet I had planted thee a noble vine, wholly a right seed: how then art thou turned into the degenerate plant of a strange vine unto me? ²² For though thou wash thee with lye, and take thee much soap, yet thine iniquity is marked before me, saith the Lord GOD. ²³ How canst thou say, I am not defiled, I have not gone after the Baalim? see thy way in the valley, know what thou hast done: thou art a swift dromedary traversing her ways; ²⁴ a wild ass used to the wilderness, that snuffeth up the wind in her desire; in her occasion who can turn her away? all they that seek her will not weary themselves; in her month they shall find her. ²⁵ Withhold thy foot from being unshod, and thy throat from thirst: but thou saidst, There is no hope: no; for

I have loved strangers, and after them will I go. ²⁶ As the thief is ashamed when he is found, so is the house of Israel ashamed; they, their kings, their princes, and their priests, and their prophets; ²⁷ which say to a stock, Thou art my father; and to a stone, Thou hast brought me forth: for they have turned their back unto me, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble they will say, Arise, and save us. ²⁸ But where are thy gods that thou hast made thee? let them arise, if they can save thee in the time of thy trouble: for according to the number of thy cities are thy gods, O Judah. ²⁹ Wherefore will ye plead with me? ye all have transgressed against me, saith the LORD. ³⁰ In vain have I smitten your children; they received no correction: your own sword hath devoured your prophets, like a destroying lion. ³¹ O generation, see ye the word of the LORD. Have I been a wilderness unto Israel? or a land of thick darkness? wherefore say my people, We are broken loose; we will come no more unto thee? ³² Can a maid forget her ornaments, or a bride her attire? yet my people have forgotten me days without number. ³³ How trimmest thou thy way to seek love! therefore even the wicked women hast thou taught thy ways. ³⁴ Also, in thy skirts is found the blood of the souls of the innocent poor: I have not found it at the place of breaking in, but upon all these. ³⁵ Yet thou saidst, I am innocent; surely his anger is turned away from me. Behold, I will enter into judgment with thee, because thou sayest, I have not sinned. ³⁶ Why gaddest thou about so much to change thy way? thou shalt be ashamed of Egypt also, as thou wast ashamed of Assyria. ³⁷ From him also shalt thou go forth, with thine hands upon thine head: for the LORD hath rejected thy confidences, and thou shalt not prosper in them.

¹ They say, If a man put away his wife, and she go from him, and become another man's, shall he return unto her again? shall not that land be greatly polluted? But thou hast played the harlot with many lovers; yet return again to me, saith the LORD. ² Lift up thine eyes unto the bare heights, and see; where hast thou not been lain with? By the ways hast thou sat for them, as an Arabian in the wilderness; and thou hast polluted the land with thy whoredoms and with thy wickedness. ³Therefore the showers have been withholden, and there hath been no latter rain; yet thou hadst a whore's forehead, thou refusedst to be ashamed. ⁴Wilt thou not from this time cry unto me, My father, thou art the guide of my youth? ⁵Will he retain his anger for ever? will he keep it to the end? Behold, thou hast spoken and hast done evil things, and hast had thy way. ⁶Moreover the LORD said unto me in the days of Josiah the king, Hast thou seen that which backsliding Israel hath done? she is gone up upon every high mountain and under every green tree, and there hath played the harlot. ⁷And I said after she had done all these things, She will return unto me; but she returned not: and her treacherous sister Judah saw it. ⁸And I saw, when, for this very cause that backsliding Israel had committed adultery, I had put her away and given her a bill of divorcement, yet treacherous Judah her sister feared not; but she also went and played the harlot. ⁹And it came to pass through the lightness of her whoredom, that the land was polluted, and she committed adultery with stones and with stocks. ¹⁰And yet for all this her treacherous sister Judah hath not returned unto me with her whole heart, but feignedly, saith the LORD. ¹¹And the LORD said unto me, Backsliding Israel hath shewn herself more righteous than treacherous Judah. ¹²Go, and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, Return, thou backsliding Israel, saith the LORD; I will not look in anger upon you: for I am merciful, saith the LORD, I will not keep anger for ever. ¹³Only acknowledge thine iniquity, that thou hast transgressed against the LORD thy God, and hast scattered thy ways to the strangers under every green tree, and ye have not obeyed my voice, saith the LORD. ¹⁴Return, O backsliding children, saith the LORD; for I am a husband unto you: and I will take you one of a city, and two of a family, and I will bring you to Zion: ¹⁵and I will give you shepherds according to mine heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and understanding. ¹⁶And it shall come to pass, when ye be multiplied and increased in the land, in those days, saith the LORD, they shall say no more, The ark of the covenant of the LORD; neither shall it come to mind: neither shall they remember it; neither shall they visit it; neither shall that be done any more. ¹⁷At that time they shall call Jerusalem the throne of the LORD; and all the nations shall be gathered unto it, to the name of the LORD, to Jerusalem: neither shall they walk any more after the stubbornness of their evil heart. ¹⁸In those days the house of Judah shall walk with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the north to the land that I gave for an inheritance unto your fathers. ¹⁹But I said, How shall I put thee among the children, and give thee a pleasant land, a goodly heritage of the hosts of the nations? and I said, Ye shall call me My father; and shall not turn away from following me. ²⁰Surely as a wife treacherously departeth from her husband, so have ye dealt treacherously with me, O house of Israel, saith the LORD. ²¹A voice is heard upon the bare heights, the weeping and the supplications of the children of Israel; for that they have perverted their way, they have forgotten the LORD their God. ²²Return, ye backsliding children, I will heal your backslidings, Behold, we are come unto thee; for thou art the LORD our God. ²³Truly in vain is the help that is looked for from the hills, the tumult on the mountains: truly in the LORD our God is the salvation of Israel. ²⁴But the shameful thing hath devoured the labour of our fathers from our youth; their flocks and their herds, their sons and their daughters. ²⁵Let us lie down in our shame, and let our confusion cover us: for we have sinned against the LORD our God, we and our fathers, from our youth even unto this day: and we have not obeyed the voice of the LORD our God.

¹If thou wilt return, O Israel, saith the LORD, unto me shalt thou return: and if thou wilt put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou not be removed; ²and thou shalt swear, As the LORD liveth, in truth, in judgment, and in righteousness; and the nations shall bless themselves in him, and in him shall they glory. ³For thus saith the LORD to the men of Judah and to Jerusalem, Break up your fallow ground, and sow not among thorns. ⁴Circumcise yourselves to the LORD, and take away the foreskins of your heart, ye men of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem: lest my fury go forth like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings. ⁵Declare ye in Judah, and publish in Jerusalem; and say, Blow ye the trumpet in the land: cry aloud and say? Assemble yourselves, and let us go into the fenced cities. ⁶Set up a standard toward Zion: flee for safety, stay not: for I will bring evil from the north, and a great destruction. ⁷A lion is gone up from his thicket, and a destroyer of nations; he is on his way, he is gone forth from his place; to make thy land desolate, that thy cities be laid waste, without inhabitant. ⁸For this gird you with sackcloth, lament and howl: for the fierce anger of the LORD is not turned back from us. ⁹And it shall come to pass at that day, saith the LORD, that the heart of the king shall perish, and the heart of the princes; and the priests shall be astonished, and the prophets shall wonder. ¹⁰Then said I, Ah, Lord GOD! surely thou hast greatly deceived this people and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall have peace; whereas the sword reacheth unto the soul. ¹¹At that time shall it be said to this people and to Jerusalem, A hot wind from the bare heights in the wilderness toward the daughter of my people, not to fan, nor to cleanse; ¹²a full wind from these shall come for me: now will I also utter judgments against them. ¹³Behold, he shall come up as clouds, and his chariots shall be as the whirlwind: his horses are swifter than eagles. Woe unto us! for we are spoiled. ¹⁴O Jerusalem, wash thine heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved. How long shall thine evil thoughts lodge within thee? ¹⁵For a voice declareth from Dan, and publisheth evil from the hills of Ephraim: ¹⁶make ye mention to the nations; behold, publish against Jerusalem, that watchers come from a far country, and give out their voice against the cities of Judah. ¹⁷As keepers of a field are they against her round about; because she hath been rebellious against me, saith the LORD. ¹⁸Thy way and thy doings have procured these things unto thee; this is thy wickedness; for it is bitter, for it reacheth unto thine heart. ¹⁹My bowels, my bowels! I am pained at my very heart; my heart is disquieted in me; I cannot hold my peace; because thou hast heard, O my soul, the sound of the trumpet, the alarm of war. ²⁰Destruction upon destruction is cried; for the whole land is spoiled: suddenly are my tents spoiled, and my curtains in a moment. ²¹How long shall I see the standard, and hear the sound of the trumpet? ²²For my people is foolish, they know me not; they are sottish children, and they have none understanding: they are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge. ²³I beheld the earth, and, lo, it was waste and void; and the heavens, and they had no light. ²⁴I beheld the mountains, and, lo, they trembled, and all the hills moved to and fro. ²⁵I beheld, and, lo, there was no man, and all the birds of the heavens were fled. ²⁶I beheld, and, lo, the fruitful field was a wilderness, and all the cities thereof were broken down at the presence of the LORD, and before his fierce anger. ²⁷For thus saith the LORD, The whole land shall be a desolation; yet will I not make a full end. ²⁸For this shall the earth mourn, and the heavens above be black: because I have spoken it, I have purposed it, and I have not repented, neither will I turn back from it. ²⁹The whole city fleeth for the noise of the horsemen and bowmen; they go into the thickets, and climb up upon the rocks: every city is forsaken, and not a man dwelleth therein. ³⁰And thou, when thou art spoiled, what wilt thou do? Though thou clothest thyself with scarlet, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of gold, though thou enlargest thine eyes with paint, in vain dost thou make thyself fair; thy lovers despise thee, they seek thy life. ³¹For I have heard a voice as of a woman in travail, the anguish as of her that bringeth forth her first child, the voice of the daughter of Zion, that gaspeth for breath, that spreadeth her hands, saying, Woe is me now! for my soul fainteth before the murderers.

¹Run ye to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, and see now, and know, and seek in the broad places thereof, if ye can find a man, if there be any that doeth justly, that seeketh truth; and I will pardon her. ²And though they say, As the LORD liveth; surely they swear falsely. ³O LORD, do not thine eyes look upon truth? thou hast stricken them, but they were not grieved; thou hast consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction: they have made their faces harder than a rock; they have refused to return. ⁴Then I said, Surely these are poor: they are foolish; for they know not the way of the LORD, nor the judgment of their God: ⁵I will get me unto the great men, and will speak unto them; for they know the way of the LORD, and the judgment of their God. But these with one accord have broken the yoke, and burst the bands. ⁶Wherefore a lion out of the forest shall slay them, a wolf of the evenings shall spoil them, a leopard shall watch over their cities, every one that goeth out thence shall be torn in pieces: because their transgressions are many, and their backslidings are increased. ⁷How can I pardon thee? thy children have forsaken me, and sworn by them that are no gods: when I had fed them to the full, they committed adultery, and assembled themselves in troops at the harlots' houses. ⁸They were as fed horses in the morning: every one neighed after his neighbour's wife. ⁹shall I not visit for these things? saith the LORD: and shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this? ¹⁰Go ye up upon her walls, and destroy; but make not a full end: take away her branches: for they are not the LORD'S. ¹¹For the house of Israel and the house of Judah have dealt very treacherously against me, saith the LORD. ¹²They have denied the LORD, and said, It is not he; neither shall evil come upon us; neither shall we see sword nor famine: ¹³and the prophets shall become wind, and the word is not in them: thus shall it be done unto them. ¹⁴Wherefore thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, Because ye speak this word, behold, I will make my words in thy mouth fire, and this people wood, and it shall devour them. ¹⁵Lo, I will bring a nation upon you from far, O house of Israel, saith the LORD: it is a mighty nation, it is an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neither understandest what they say. ¹⁶Their quiver is an open sepulchre, they are all mighty men. ¹⁷And they shall eat up thine harvest and thy bread, which thy sons and thy daughters should eat: they shall eat up thy flocks and thine herds: they shall eat up thy vines and thy fig trees: they shall beat down thy fenced cities, wherein thou trustest, with the sword. ¹⁸But even in those days, saith the LORD, I will not make a full end with you. ¹⁹And it shall come to pass, when ye shall say, Wherefore hath the LORD our God done all these things unto us? then shalt thou say unto them, Like as ye have forsaken me, and served strange gods in your land, so shall ye serve strangers in a land that is not yours. ²⁰Declare ye this in the house of Jacob, and publish it in Judah, saying, ²¹Hear now this, O foolish people, and without understanding; which have eyes, and see not; which have ears, and hear not: ²²Fear ye not me? saith the LORD: will ye not tremble at my presence, which have placed the sand for the bound of the sea, by a perpetual decree, that it cannot pass it? and though the waves thereof toss themselves, yet can they not prevail; though they roar, yet can they not pass over it. ²³But this people hath a revolting and a rebellious heart; they are revolted and gone. ²⁴Neither say they in their heart, Let us now fear the LORD our God, that giveth rain, both the former and the latter, in its season; that reserveth unto us the appointed weeks of the harvest. ²⁵Your iniquities have turned away these things, and your sins have withholden good from you. ²⁶For among my people are found wicked men: they watch, as fowlers lie in wait; they set a trap, they catch men. ²⁷As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit: therefore they are become great, and waxen rich. ²⁸They are waxen fat, they shine: yea, they overpass in deeds of wickedness: they plead not the cause, the cause of the fatherless, that they should prosper; and the right of the needy do they not judge. ²⁹shall I not visit for these things? saith the LORD: shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this? ³⁰ A wonderful and horrible thing is come to pass in the land; ³¹ the prophets prophesy falsely, and the priests bear rule by their means; and my people love to have it so: and what will ye do in the end thereof?

¹ Flee for safety, ye children of Benjamin, out of the midst of Jerusalem, and blow the trumpet in Tekoa, and raise up a signal on Beth-haccherem: for evil looketh forth from the north, and a great destruction. ² The comely and delicate one, the daughter of Zion, will I cut off. ³ Shepherds with their flocks shall come unto her; they shall pitch their tents against her round about; they shall feed every one in his place. ⁴ Prepare ye war against her; arise, and let us go up at noon. Woe unto us! for the day declineth, for the shadows of the evening are stretched out. ⁵ Arise, and let us go up by night, and let us destroy her palaces. ⁶ For thus hath the LORD of hosts said, Hew ye down trees, and cast up a mount against Jerusalem: this is the city to be visited; she is wholly oppression in the midst of her. ⁷ As a well casteth forth her waters, so she casteth forth her wickedness: violence and spoil is heard in her; before me continually is sickness and wounds. ⁸ Be thou instructed, O Jerusalem, lest my soul be alienated from thee; lest I make thee a desolation, a land not inhabited. ⁹ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, They shall thoroughly glean the remnant of Israel as a vine: turn again thine hand as a grapegatherer into the baskets. ¹⁰ To whom shall I speak and testify, that they may hear? behold, their ear is uncircumcised, and they cannot hearken: behold, the word of the LORD is become unto them a reproach; they have no delight in it. ¹¹ Therefore I am full of the fury of the LORD; I am weary with holding in: pour it out upon the children in the street, and upon the assembly of young men together: for even the husband with the wife shall be taken, the aged with him that is full of days. ¹² And their houses shall be turned unto others, their fields and their wives together: for I will stretch out my hand upon the inhabitants of the land, saith the LORD. ¹³ For from the least of them even unto the greatest of them every one is given to

covetousness; and from the prophet even unto the priest every one dealeth falsely. ¹⁴ They have healed also the hurt of my people lightly, saying, Peace, peace; when there is no peace. ¹⁵ Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore they shall fall among them that fall: at the time that I visit them they shall be cast down, saith the LORD. ¹⁶ Thus saith the LORD, Stand ye in the ways and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls: but they said, We will not walk therein. ¹⁷ And I set watchmen over you, saying, Harken to the sound of the trumpet; but they said, We will not hearken. ¹⁸ Therefore hear, ye nations, and know, O congregation, what is among them. ¹⁹ Hear, O earth: behold, I will bring evil upon this people, even the fruit of their thoughts, because they have not hearkened unto my words; and as for my law, they have rejected it. ²⁰ To what purpose cometh there to me frankincense from Sheba, and the sweet cane from a far country? your burnt offerings are not acceptable, nor your sacrifices pleasing unto me. ²¹ Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will lay stumblingblocks before this people: and the fathers and the sons together shall stumble against them; the neighbour and his friend shall perish. ²² Thus saith the LORD, Behold, a people cometh from the north country; and a great nation shall be stirred up from the uttermost parts of the earth. ²³ They lay hold on bow and spear; they are cruel, and have no mercy; their voice roareth like the sea, and they ride upon horses; every one set in array, as a man to the battle, against thee, O daughter of Zion. ²⁴ We have heard the fame thereof; our hands wax feeble: anguish hath taken hold of us, and pangs as of a woman in travail. ²⁵ Go not forth into the field, nor walk by the way; for there is the sword of the enemy, and terror on every side. ²⁶ O daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, and wallow thyself in ashes: make thee mourning, as for an only son, most bitter lamentation; for the spoiler shall suddenly come upon us. ²⁷ I have made thee a tower and a fortress among my people; that thou mayest know and try their way. ²⁸They are all grievous revolters, going about with slanders; they are brass and iron: they all of them deal corruptly. ²⁹The bellows blow fiercely; the lead is consumed of the fire: in vain do they go on refining; for the wicked are not plucked away. ³⁰Refuse silver shall men call them, because the LORD hath rejected them.

¹The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, ²Stand in the gate of the LORD'S house, and proclaim there this word, and say, Hear the word of the LORD, all ye of Judah, that enter in at these gates to worship the LORD. ³Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Amend your ways and your doings, and I will cause you to dwell in this place. ⁴Trust ye not in lying words, saying, The temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD, are these. ⁵For if ye thoroughly amend your ways and your doings; if ye thoroughly execute judgment between a man and his neighbour; ⁶if ye oppress not the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow, and shed not innocent blood in this place, neither walk after other gods to your own hurt: ⁷then will I cause you to dwell in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers, from of old even for evermore. ⁸Behold, ye trust in lying words, that cannot profit. ⁹Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye have not known, ¹⁰and come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, We are delivered; that ye may do all these abominations. ¹¹Is this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, I, even I, have seen it, saith the LORD. ¹²But go ye now unto my place which was in Shiloh, where I caused my name to dwell at the first, and see what I did to it for the wickedness of my people Israel. ¹³And now, because ye have done all these works, saith the LORD, and I spake unto you, rising up early and speaking, but ye heard not; and I called you, but ye answered not: ¹⁴therefore will I do unto the house, which is called by my name, wherein ye trust, and unto the place which I gave to you and to your fathers, as I have done to Shiloh. ¹⁵And I will cast you out of my sight, as I have cast out all your brethren, even the whole seed of Ephraim. ¹⁶Therefore pray not thou for this people, neither lift up cry nor prayer for them, neither make intercession to me: for I will not hear thee. ¹⁷Seest thou not what they do in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem? ¹⁸The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead the dough, to make cakes to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto other gods, that they may provoke me to anger. ¹⁹Do they provoke me to anger? saith the LORD; do they not provoke themselves, to the confusion of their own faces? ²⁰Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, mine anger and my fury shall be poured out upon this place, upon man, and upon beast, and upon the trees of the field, and upon the fruit of the ground; and it shall burn, and shall not be quenched. ²¹Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Add your burnt offerings unto your sacrifices, and eat ye flesh. ²²For I spake not unto your fathers, nor commanded them in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings or sacrifices: ²³but this thing I commanded them, saying, Hearken unto my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people: and walk ye in all the way that I command you, that it may be well with you. ²⁴But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear, but walked in their own counsels and in the stubbornness of their evil heart, and went backward and not forward. ²⁵Since the day that your fathers came forth out of the land of Egypt unto this day, I have sent unto you all my servants the prophets, daily rising up early and sending them: ²⁶yet they hearkened not unto me, nor inclined their ear, but made their neck stiff: they did worse than their fathers. ²⁷And thou shalt speak all these words unto them; but they will not hearken to thee: thou shalt also call unto them; but they will not answer thee. ²⁸And thou shalt say unto them, This is the nation that hath not hearkened to the voice of the LORD their God, nor received instruction: truth is perished, and is cut off from their mouth. ²⁹Cut off thine hair, O Jerusalem, and cast it away, and take up a lamentation on the bare heights; for the LORD hath rejected and forsaken the generation of his wrath. ³⁰ For the children of Judah have done that which is evil in my sight, saith the LORD: they have set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to defile it. ³¹ And they have built the high places of Topheth, which is in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire; which I commanded not, neither came it into my mind. ³² Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that it shall no more be called Topheth, nor The valley of the son of Hinnom, but The valley of Slaughter: for they shall bury in Topheth, till there be no place to bury. ³³ And the carcases of this people shall be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth; and none shall fray them away. ³⁴ Then will I cause to cease from the cities of Judah, and from the streets of Jerusalem, the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride: for the land shall become a waste.

¹ At that time, saith the LORD, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Judah, and the bones of his princes, and the bones of the priests, and the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, out of their graves: ² and they shall spread them before the sun, and the moon, and all the host of heaven, whom they have loved, and whom they have served, and after whom they have walked, and whom they have sought, and whom they have worshipped: they shall not be gathered, nor be buried; they shall be for dung upon the face of the earth. ³ And death shall be chosen rather than life by all the residue that remain of this evil family, which remain in all the places whither I have driven them, saith the LORD of hosts. ⁴ Moreover thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD: shall men fall, and not rise up again? shall one turn away, and not return? ⁵ Why then is this people of Jerusalem slidden back by a perpetual backsliding? they hold fast deceit, they refuse to return. ⁶ I hearkened and heard, but they spake not aright: no man repenteth him of his wickedness, saying, What have I done? every one turneth to his course, as a horse that rusheth headlong in the battle. ⁷ Yea, the stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed times; and the turtle and the swallow and the crane observe the time of their coming; but my people know not the ordinance of the LORD. ⁸ How do ye say, We are wise, and the law of the LORD is with us? But, behold, the false pen of the scribes hath wrought falsely. ⁹ The wise men are ashamed, they are dismayed and taken: lo, they have rejected the word of the LORD; and what manner of wisdom is in them? ¹⁰ Therefore will I give their wives unto others, and their fields to them that shall possess them: for every one from the least even unto the greatest is given to covetousness, from the prophet even unto the priest every one dealeth falsely. ¹¹ And they have healed the hurt of the daughter of my people lightly, saying, Peace, peace; when there is no peace. ¹² Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore shall they fall among them that fall: in the time of their visitation they shall be cast down, saith the LORD. ¹³ I will utterly consume them, saith the LORD: there shall be no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the fig tree, and the leaf shall fade; and the things that I have given them shall pass away from them. ¹⁴ Why do we sit still? assemble yourselves, and let us enter into the defenced cities, and let us be silent there: for the LORD our God hath put us to silence, and given us water of gall to drink, because we have sinned against the LORD. ¹⁵ We looked for peace, but no good came; and for a time of healing, and behold dismay! ¹⁶ The snorting of his horses is heard from Dan: at the sound of the neighing of his strong ones the whole land trembleth; for they are come, and have devoured the land and all that is in it; the city and those that dwell therein. ¹⁷ For, behold, I will send serpents, basilisks, among you, which will not be charmed; and they shall bite you, saith the LORD. ¹⁸ Oh that I could comfort myself against sorrow! my heart is faint within me. ¹⁹ Behold, the voice of the cry of the daughter of my people from a land that is very far off: Is not the LORD in Zion? is not her King in her? Why have they provoked me to anger with their graven images, and with strange vanities? ²⁰The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved. ²¹For the hurt of the daughter of my people am I hurt: I am black; astonishment hath taken hold on me. ²²Is there no balm in Gilead? is there no physician there? why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recovered?

¹Oh that my head were waters, and mine eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people! ²Oh that I had in the wilderness a lodging place of wayfaring men; that I might leave my people, and go from them! for they be all adulterers, an assembly of treacherous men. ³And they bend their tongue as it were their bow for falsehood; and they are grown strong in the land, but not for truth: for they proceed from evil to evil, and they know not me, saith the LORD. ⁴Take ye heed every one of his neighbour, and trust ye not in any brother: for every brother will utterly supplant, and every neighbour will go about with slanders. ⁵And they will deceive every one his neighbour, and will not speak the truth: they have taught their tongue to speak lies; they weary themselves to commit iniquity. ⁶Thine habitation is in the midst of deceit; through deceit they refuse to know me, saith the LORD. ⁷Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will melt them, and try them; for how else should I do, because of the daughter of my people? ⁸Their tongue is a deadly arrow; it speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in his heart he layeth wait for him. ⁹Shall I not visit them for these things? saith the LORD: shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this? ¹⁰For the mountains will I take up a weeping and wailing, and for the pastures of the wilderness a lamentation, because they are burned up, so that none passeth through; neither can men hear the voice of the cattle; both the fowl of the heavens and the beast are fled, they are gone. ¹¹And I will make Jerusalem heaps, a dwelling place of jackals; and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation, without inhabitant. ¹²Who is the wise man, that may understand this? and who is he to whom the mouth of the LORD hath spoken, that he may declare it? wherefore is the land and perished burned up like a wilderness, so that none passeth through? ¹³And the LORD saith, Because they have forsaken my law which I set before them, and have not obeyed my voice, neither walked therein; ¹⁴but have walked after the stubbornness of their own heart, and after the Baalim, which their fathers taught them: ¹⁵therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will feed them, even this people, with wormwood, and give them water of gall to drink. ¹⁶I will scatter them also among the nations, whom neither they nor their fathers have known: and I will send the sword after them, till I have consumed them. ¹⁷Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Consider ye, and call for the mourning women, that they may come; and send for the cunning women, that they may come: ¹⁸and let them make haste, and take up a wailing for us, that our eyes may run down with tears, and our eyelids gush out with waters. ¹⁹For a voice of wailing is heard out of Zion, How are we spoiled! we are greatly confounded, because we have forsaken the land, because they have cast down our dwellings. ²⁰Yet hear the word of the LORD, O ye women, and let your ear receive the word of his mouth, and teach your daughters wailing, and every one her neighbour lamentation. ²¹For death is come up into our windows, it is entered into our palaces; to cut off the children from without, and the young men from the streets. ²²Speak, Thus saith the LORD, The carcasses of men shall fall as dung upon the open field, and as the handful after the harvestman, and none shall gather them. ²³Thus saith the LORD, Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches: ²⁴but let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth, and knoweth me, that I am the LORD which exercise lovingkindness, judgment, and righteousness, in the earth: for in these things I delight, saith the LORD. ²⁵Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will punish all them which are circumcised in their uncircumcision; ²⁶Egypt, and Judah, and Edom, and the children of Ammon, and Moab, and all that have the corners of their hair polled, that dwell in the wilderness; for all the nations are uncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are uncircumcised in heart.

¹Hear ye the word which the LORD speaketh unto you, O house of Israel: ²thus saith the LORD, Learn not the way of the nations, and be not dismayed at the signs of heaven; for the nations are dismayed at them. ³For the customs of the peoples are vanity: for one cutteth a tree out of the forest, the work of the hands of the workman with the axe. ⁴They deck it with silver and with gold; they fasten it with nails and with hammers, that it move not. ⁵They are like a palm tree, of turned work, and speak not: they must needs be borne, because they cannot go. Be not afraid of them; for they cannot do evil, neither is it in them to do good. ⁶There is none like unto thee, O LORD; thou art great, and thy name is great in might. ⁷Who would not fear thee, O King of the nations? for to thee doth it appertain: forasmuch as among all the wise men of the nations, and in all their royal estate, there is none like unto thee. ⁸But they are together brutish and foolish: the instruction of idols, it is but a stock. ⁹There is silver beaten into plates which is brought from Tarshish, and gold from Uphaz, the work of the artificer and of the hands of the goldsmith; blue and purple for their clothing; they are all the work of cunning men. ¹⁰But the LORD is the true God; he is the living God, and an everlasting king: at his wrath the earth trembleth, and the nations are not able to abide his indignation. ¹¹Thus shall ye say unto them, The gods that have not made the heavens and the earth, these shall perish from the earth, and from under the heavens. ¹²He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and by his understanding hath he stretched out the heavens: ¹³when he uttereth his voice, there is a tumult of waters in the heavens, and he causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth; he maketh lightnings for the rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasuries. ¹⁴Every man is become brutish and is without knowledge; every goldsmith is put to shame by his graven image: for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them. ¹⁵They are vanity, a work of delusion: in the time of their visitation they shall perish. ¹⁶The portion of Jacob is not like these; for he is the former of all things; and Israel is the tribe of his inheritance: the LORD of hosts is his name. ¹⁷Gather up thy wares out of the land, O thou that abidest in the siege. ¹⁸For thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will sling out the inhabitants of the land at this time, and will distress them, that they may feel it. ¹⁹Woe is me for my hurt! my wound is grievous: but I said, Truly this is my grief, and I must bear it. ²⁰My tent is spoiled, and all my cords are broken: my children are gone forth of me, and they are not: there is none to stretch forth my tent any more, and to set up my curtains. ²¹For the shepherds are become brutish, and have not inquired of the LORD: therefore they have not prospered, and all their flocks are scattered. ²²The voice of a rumour, behold it cometh, and a great commotion out of the north country, to make the cities of Judah a desolation, a dwelling place of jackals. ²³O LORD, I know that the way of man is not in himself: it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps. ²⁴O LORD, correct me, but with judgment; not in thine anger, lest thou bring me to nothing. ²⁵Pour out thy fury upon the heathen that know thee not, and upon the families that call not on thy name: for they have devoured Jacob, yea, they have devoured him and consumed him, and have laid waste his habitation.

¹The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, ²Hear ye the words of this covenant, and speak unto the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem; ³and say thou unto them, Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: Cursed be the man that heareth not the words of this covenant, ⁴which I commanded your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the iron furnace, saying, Obey my voice, and do them, according to all which I command you: so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God: ⁵that I may establish the oath which I sware unto your fathers, to give them a land flowing with milk and honey, as at this day. Then answered I, and said, Amen, O LORD. ⁶And the LORD said unto me, Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, saying, Hear ye the words of this covenant, and do them. ⁷For I earnestly protested unto your fathers in the day that I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, even unto this day, rising early and protesting, saying, Obey my voice. ⁸Yet they obeyed not, nor inclined their ear, but walked every one in the stubbornness of their evil heart: therefore I brought upon them all the words of this covenant, which I commanded them to do, but they did them not. ⁹And the LORD said unto me, A conspiracy is found among the men of Judah, and among the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ¹⁰They are turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to hear my words; and they are gone after other gods to serve them: the house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken my covenant which I made with their fathers. ¹¹Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will bring evil upon them, which they shall not be able to escape; and they shall cry unto me, but I will not hearken unto them. ¹²Then shall the cities of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem go and cry unto the gods unto whom they offer incense: but they shall not save them at all in the time of their trouble. ¹³For according to the number of thy cities are thy gods, O Judah; and according to the number of the streets of Jerusalem have ye set up altars to the shameful thing, even altars to burn incense unto Baal. ¹⁴Therefore pray not thou for this people, neither lift up cry nor prayer for them: for I will not hear them in the time that they cry unto me for their trouble. ¹⁵What hath my beloved to do in mine house, seeing she hath wrought lewdness with many, and the holy flesh is passed from thee? when thou doest evil, then thou rejoicest. ¹⁶The LORD called thy name, A green olive tree, fair with goodly fruit: with the noise of a great tumult he hath kindled fire upon it, and the branches of it are broken. ¹⁷For the LORD of hosts, that planted thee, hath pronounced evil against thee, because of the evil of the house of Israel and of the house of Judah, which they have wrought for themselves in provoking me to anger by offering incense unto Baal. ¹⁸And the LORD gave me knowledge of it, and I knew it: then thou shewedst me their doings. ¹⁹But I was like a gentle lamb that is led to the slaughter; and I knew not that they had devised devices against me, saying, Let us destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, and let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name may be no more remembered. ²⁰But, O LORD of hosts, that judgest righteously, that triest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I revealed my cause. ²¹Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the men of Anathoth, that seek thy life, saying, Thou shalt not prophesy in the name of the LORD, that thou die not by our hand: ²²therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will punish them: the young men shall die by the sword; their sons and their daughters shall die by famine; ²³and there shall be no remnant unto them: for I will bring evil upon the men of Anathoth, even the year of their visitation.

dealt treacherously with thee; even they have cried aloud after thee: believe them not, though they speak fair words unto thee. ⁷I have forsaken mine house, I have cast off mine heritage; I have given the dearly beloved of my soul into the hand of her enemies. ⁸Mine heritage is become unto me as a lion in the forest: she hath uttered her voice against me; therefore I have hated her. ⁹Is mine heritage unto me as a speckled bird of prey? are the birds of prey against her round about? go ye, assemble all the beasts of the field, bring them to devour. ¹⁰Many shepherds have destroyed my vineyard, they have trodden my portion under foot, they have made my pleasant portion a desolate wilderness. ¹¹They have made it a desolation; it mourneth unto me, being desolate; the whole land is made desolate, because no man layeth it to heart. ¹²Spoilers are come upon all the bare heights in the wilderness: for the sword of the LORD devoureth from the one end of the land even to the other end of the land: no flesh hath peace. ¹³They have sown wheat, and have reaped thorns; they have put themselves to pain, and profit nothing: and ye shall be ashamed of your fruits, because of the fierce anger of the LORD. ¹⁴Thus saith the LORD against all mine evil neighbours, that touch the inheritance which I have caused my people Israel to inherit: Behold, I will pluck them up from off their land, and will pluck up the house of Judah from among them. ¹⁵And it shall come to pass, after that I have plucked them up, I will return and have compassion on them; and I will bring them again, every man to his heritage, and every man to his land. ¹⁶and it shall come to pass, if they will diligently learn the ways of my people, to swear by my name, As the LORD liveth; even as they taught my people to swear by Baal; then shall they be built up in the midst of my people. ¹⁷But if they will not hear, then will I pluck up that nation, plucking up and destroying it, saith the LORD.

¹Thus said the LORD unto me, Go, and buy thee a linen girdle, and put it upon thy loins, and put it not in water. ²So I bought a girdle according to the word of the LORD, and put it upon my loins. ³And the word of the LORD came unto me the second time, saying, ⁴Take the girdle that thou hast bought, which is upon thy loins, and arise, go to Euphrates, and hide it there in a hole of the rock. ⁵So I went, and hid it by Euphrates, as the LORD commanded me. ⁶And it came to pass after many days, that the LORD said unto me, Arise, go to Euphrates, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there. ⁷Then I went to Euphrates, and digged, and took the girdle from the place where I had hid it: and, behold, the girdle was marred, it was profitable for nothing. ⁸Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ⁹Thus saith the LORD, After this manner will I mar the pride of Judah, and the great pride of Jerusalem. ¹⁰This evil people, which refuse to hear my words, which walk in the stubbornness of their heart, and are gone after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, shall even be as this girdle, which is profitable for nothing. ¹¹For as the girdle cleaveth to the loins of a man, so have I caused to cleave unto me the whole house of Israel and the whole house of Judah, saith the LORD; that they might be unto me for a people, and for a name, and for a praise, and for a glory: but they would not hear. ¹²Therefore thou shalt speak unto them this word: Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, Every bottle shall be filled with wine: and they shall say unto thee, Do we not know that every bottle shall be filled with wine? ¹³Then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, even the kings that sit upon David's throne, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, with drunkenness. ¹⁴And I will dash them one against another, even the fathers and the sons together, saith the LORD: I will not pity, nor spare, nor have compassion, that I should not destroy them. ¹⁵Hear ye, and give ear; be not proud: for the LORD hath spoken. ¹⁶Give glory to the LORD your God, before he cause darkness, and before your feet stumble upon the dark mountains; and, while ye look for light, he turn it into the shadow of death, and make it gross darkness. ¹⁷But if ye will not hear it, my soul shall weep in secret for your pride; and mine eye shall weep sore, and run down with tears, because the LORD'S flock is taken captive. ¹⁸ Say thou unto the king and to the queen-mother, Humble yourselves, sit down: for your headdresses are come down, even the crown of your glory. ¹⁹ The cities of the South are shut up, and there is none to open them: Judah is carried away captive all of it; it is wholly carried away captive. ²⁰ Lift up your eyes, and behold them that come from the north: where is the flock that was given thee, thy beautiful flock? ²¹ What wilt thou say, when he shall set thy friends over thee as head, seeing thou thyself hast instructed them against thee? shall not sorrows take hold of thee, as of a woman in travail? ²² And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore are these things come upon me? for the greatness of thine iniquity are thy skirts discovered, and thy heels suffer violence. ²³ Can the Ethiopian change his skin, or the leopard his spots? then may ye also do good, that are accustomed to do evil. ²⁴ Therefore will I scatter them, as the stubble that passeth away, by the wind of the wilderness. ²⁵ This is thy lot, the portion measured unto thee from me, saith the LORD; because thou hast forgotten me, and trusted in falsehood. ²⁶ Therefore will I also discover thy skirts upon thy face, and thy shame shall appear. ²⁷ I have seen thine abominations, even thine adulteries, and thy neighings, the lewdness of thy whoredom, on the hills in the field. Woe unto thee, O Jerusalem! thou wilt not be made clean; how long shall it yet be?

on the bare heights, they pant for air like jackals; their eyes fail, because there is no herbage. ⁷ Though our iniquities testify against us, work thou for thy name's sake, O LORD: for our backslidings are many; we have sinned against thee. ⁸ O thou hope of Israel, the saviour thereof in the time of trouble, why shouldst thou be as a sojourner in the land, and as a wayfaring man that turneth aside to tarry for a night? ⁹ Why shouldst thou be as a man astonished, as a mighty man that cannot save? yet thou, O LORD, art in the midst of us, and we are called by thy name; leave us not. ¹⁰ Thus saith the LORD unto this people, Even so have they loved to wander; they have not refrained their feet: therefore the LORD doth not accept them; now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins. ¹¹ And the LORD said unto me, Pray not for this people for their good. ¹² When they fast, I will not hear their cry; and when they offer burnt offering and oblation, I will not accept them: but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence; ¹³ Then said I, Ah, Lord GOD! behold, the prophets say unto them, Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall ye have famine; but I will give you assured peace in this place. ¹⁴ Then the LORD said unto me, The prophets prophesy lies in my name: I sent them not, neither have I commanded them, neither spake I unto them: they prophesy unto you a lying vision, and divination, and a thing of nought, and the deceit of their own heart. ¹⁵ Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the prophets that prophesy in my name, and I sent them not, yet they say, Sword and famine shall not be in this land: By sword and famine shall those prophets be consumed. ¹⁶ And the people to whom they prophesy shall be cast out in the streets of Jerusalem because of the famine and the sword; and they shall have none to bury them, them, their wives, nor their sons, nor their daughters: for I will pour their wickedness upon them. ¹⁷ And thou shalt say this word unto them, Let mine eyes run down with tears night and day, and let them not cease; for the virgin daughter of my people is broken with a great breach, with a very grievous wound. ¹⁸ If I go forth into the field, then behold the slain with the sword! and if I enter into the city, then behold them that are sick with famine! for both the prophet and the priest go about in the land and have no knowledge. ¹⁹Hast thou utterly rejected Judah? hath thy soul loathed Zion? why hast thou smitten us, and there is no healing for us? We looked for peace, but no good came; and for a time of healing, and behold dismay! ²⁰We acknowledge, O LORD, our wickedness, and the iniquity of our fathers: for we have sinned against thee. ²¹Do not abhor us, for thy name's sake; do not disgrace the throne of thy glory: remember, break not thy covenant with us. ²²Are there any among the vanities of the heathen that can cause rain? or can the heavens give showers? art not thou he, O LORD our God? therefore we will wait upon thee; for thou hast made all these things.

¹Then said the LORD unto me, Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet my mind could not be toward this people: cast them out of my sight, and let them go forth. ²And it shall come to pass, when they say unto thee, Whither shall we go forth? then thou shalt tell them, Thus saith the LORD: Such as are for death, to death; and such as are for the sword, to the sword; and such as are for the famine, to the famine; and such as are for captivity, to captivity. ³And I will appoint over them four kinds, saith the LORD: the sword to slay, and the dogs to tear, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the earth, to devour and to destroy. ⁴And I will cause them to be tossed to and fro among all the kingdoms of the earth, because of Manasseh the son of Hezekiah king of Judah, for that which he did in Jerusalem. ⁵For who shall have pity upon thee, O Jerusalem? or who shall bemoan thee? or who shall turn aside to ask of thy welfare? ⁶Thou hast rejected me, saith the LORD, thou art gone backward: therefore have I stretched out my hand against thee, and destroyed thee; I am weary with repenting. ⁷And I have fanned them with a fan in the gates of the land; I have bereaved them of children, I have destroyed my people; they have not returned from their ways. ⁸Their widows are increased to me above the sand of the seas: I have brought upon them against the mother of the young men a spoiler at noonday: I have caused anguish and terrors to fall upon her suddenly. ⁹She that hath borne seven languisheth; she hath given up the ghost; her sun is gone down while it was yet day; she hath been ashamed and confounded: and the residue of them will I deliver to the sword before their enemies, saith the LORD. ¹⁰Woe is me, my mother, that thou hast borne me a man of strife and a man of contention to the whole earth! I have not lent on usury, neither have men lent to me on usury; yet every one of them doth curse me. ¹¹The LORD said, Verily I will strengthen thee for good; verily I will cause the enemy to make supplication unto thee in the time of evil and in the time of affliction. ¹²Can one break iron, even iron from the north, and brass? ¹³Thy substance and thy treasures will I give for a spoil without price, and that for all thy sins, even in all thy borders. ¹⁴And I will make them to pass with thine enemies into a land which thou knowest not: for a fire is kindled in mine anger, which shall burn upon you. ¹⁵O LORD, thou knowest: remember me, and visit me, and avenge me of my persecutors; take me not away in thy longsuffering: know that for thy sake I have suffered reproach. ¹⁶Thy words were found, and I did eat them; and thy words were unto me a joy and the rejoicing of mine heart: for I am called by thy name, O LORD God of hosts. ¹⁷I sat not in the assembly of them that make merry, nor rejoiced: I sat alone because of thy hand; for thou hast filled me with indignation. ¹⁸Why is my pain perpetual, and my wound incurable, which refuseth to be healed? wilt thou indeed be unto me as a deceitful brook, as waters that fail? ¹⁹Therefore thus saith the LORD, if thou return, then will I bring thee again, that thou mayest stand before me; and if thou take forth the precious from the vile, thou shalt be as my mouth: they shall return unto thee, but thou shalt not return unto them. ²⁰And I will make thee unto this people a fenced brasen wall; and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee to save thee and to deliver thee, saith the LORD. ²¹And

I will deliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem thee out of the hand of the terrible.

¹The word of the LORD came also unto me, saying, ²Thou shalt not take thee a wife, neither shalt thou have sons or daughters in this place. ³For thus saith the LORD concerning the sons and concerning the daughters that are born in this place, and concerning their mothers that bare them, and concerning their fathers that begat them in this land: ⁴They shall die of grievous deaths; they shalt not be lamented, neither shall they be buried; they shall be as dung upon the face of the ground: and they shall be consumed by the sword, and by famine; and their carcases shall be meat for the fowls of heaven, and for the beasts of the earth. ⁵For thus saith the LORD, Enter not into the house of mourning, neither go to lament, neither bemoan them: for I have taken away my peace from this people, saith the LORD, even lovingkindness and tender mercies. ⁶Both great and small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, nor cut themselves, nor make themselves bald for them: ⁷neither shall men break bread for them in mourning, to comfort them for the dead; neither shall men give them the cup of consolation to drink for their father or for their mother. ⁸And thou shalt not go into the house of feasting to sit with them, to eat and to drink. ⁹For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will cause to cease out of this place, before your eyes and in your days, the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride. ¹⁰And it shall come to pass, when thou shalt shew this people all these words, and they shall say unto thee, Wherefore hath the LORD pronounced all this great evil against us? or what is our iniquity? or what is our sin that we have committed against the LORD our God? ¹¹Then shalt thou say unto them, Because your fathers have forsaken me, saith the LORD, and have walked after other gods, and have served them, and have worshipped them, and have forsaken me, and have not kept my law;

¹²and ye have done evil more than your fathers; for, behold, ye walk every one after the stubbornness of his evil heart, so that ye hearken not unto me: ¹³therefore will I cast you forth out of this land into the land that ye have not known, neither ye nor your fathers; and there shall ye serve other gods day and night; for I will shew you no favour. ¹⁴Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that it shall no more be said, As the LORD liveth, that brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt; ¹⁵but, As the LORD liveth, that brought up the children of Israel from the land of the north, and from all the countries whither he had driven them: and I will bring them again into their land that I gave unto their fathers. ¹⁶Behold, I will send for many fishers saith the LORD, and they shall fish them; and afterward I will send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the holes of the rocks. ¹⁷For mine eyes are upon all their ways: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquity concealed from mine eyes. ¹⁸And first I will recompense their iniquity and their sin double; because they have polluted my land with the carcases of their detestable things, and have filled mine inheritance with their abominations. ¹⁹O LORD, my strength, and my strong hold, and my refuge in the day of affliction, unto thee shall the nations come from the ends of the earth, and shall say, Our fathers have inherited nought but lies, even vanity and things wherein there is no profit. ²⁰Shall a man make unto himself gods, which yet are no gods? ²¹Therefore, behold, I will cause them to know, this once will I cause them to know mine hand and my might; and they shall know that my name is Jehovah.

of sin, throughout all thy borders. ⁴ And thou, even of thyself, shalt discontinue from thine heritage that I gave thee; and I will cause thee to serve thine enemies in the land which thou knowest not: for ye have kindled a fire in mine anger which shall burn for ever. ⁵ Thus saith the LORD: Cursed is the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from the LORD. ⁶ For he shall be like the heath in the desert, and shall not see when good cometh; but shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, a salt land and not inhabited. ⁷ Blessed is the man that trusteth in the LORD, and whose hope the LORD is. ⁸ For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, and that spreadeth out his roots by the river, and shall not fear when heat cometh, but his leaf shall be green; and shall not be careful in the year of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit. ⁹ The heart is deceitful above all things, and it is desperately sick: who can know it? ¹⁰ I the LORD search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, according to the fruit of his doings. ¹¹ As the partridge that gathereth young which she hath not brought forth, so is he that getteth riches, and not by right; in the midst of his days they shall leave him, and at his end he shall be a fool. ¹² A glorious throne, set on high from the beginning, is the place of our sanctuary. ¹³ O LORD, the hope of Israel, all that forsake thee shall be ashamed; they that depart from me shall be written in the earth, because they have forsaken the LORD, the fountain of living waters. ¹⁴ Heal me, O LORD, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise. ¹⁵ Behold, they say unto me, Where is the word of the LORD? let it come now. ¹⁶ As for me, I have not hastened from being a shepherd after thee; neither have I desired the woeful day; thou knowest: that which came out of my lips was before thy face. ¹⁷ Be not a terror unto me: thou art my refuge in the day of evil. ¹⁸ Let them be ashamed that persecute me, but let not me be ashamed; let them be dismayed, but let not me be dismayed: bring upon them the day of evil, and destroy them with double destruction. ¹⁹ Thus said the LORD unto me: Go, and stand in the gate of the children of the people, whereby the kings of Judah come in, and by the which they go out, and in all the gates of Jerusalem; ²⁰ and say unto them, Hear ye the word of the LORD, ye kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, that enter in by these gates; ²¹ Thus saith the LORD: Take heed to yourselves, and bear no burden on the sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Jerusalem; ²² neither carry forth a burden out of your houses on the sabbath day, neither do ye any work: but hallow ye the sabbath day, as I commanded your fathers; ²³ But they hearkened not, neither inclined their ear, but made their neck stiff, that they might not hear, and might not receive instruction. ²⁴ And it shall come to pass, if ye diligently hearken unto me, saith the LORD, to bring in no burden through the gates of this city on the sabbath day, but to hallow the sabbath day, to do no work therein; ²⁵ then shall there enter in by the gates of this city kings and princes sitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, they, and their princes, the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem: and this city shall remain for ever. ²⁶ And they shall come from the cities of Judah, and from the places round about Jerusalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the lowland, and from the mountains, and from the South, bringing burnt offerings, and sacrifices, and oblations, and frankincense, and bringing sacrifices of thanksgiving, unto the house of the LORD. ²⁷ But if ye will not hearken unto me to hallow the sabbath day, and not to bear a burden and enter in at the gates of Jerusalem on the sabbath day; then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

¹The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, ² Arise, and go down to the potter's house, and there I will cause thee to hear my words. ³ Then I went down to the potter's house, and, behold, he wrought his work on the wheels. ⁴ And when the vessel that he made of the clay was marred in the hand of the potter, he made it again another vessel, as seemed good to the potter to make it. ⁵ Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ⁶ O house of Israel, cannot I do with you as this potter? saith the LORD. Behold, as the clay in the potter's hand, so are ye in mine hand, O house of Israel. ⁷ At what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to pluck up and to break down and to destroy it; ⁸ if that nation, concerning which I have spoken, turn from their evil, I will repent of the evil that I thought to do unto them. ⁹ And at what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to build and to plant it; ¹⁰ if it do evil in my sight, that it obey not my voice, then I will repent of the good, wherewith I said I would benefit them. ¹¹ Now therefore go to, speak to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying, Thus saith the LORD: Behold, I frame evil against you, and devise a device against you: return ye now every one from his evil way, and amend your ways and your doings. ¹² But they say, There is no hope: for we will walk after our own devices, and we will do every one after the stubbornness of his evil heart. ¹³ Therefore thus saith the LORD: Ask ye now among the nations, who hath heard such things; the virgin of Israel hath done a very horrible thing. ¹⁴ Shall the snow of Lebanon fail from the rock of the field? or shall the cold waters that flow down from afar be dried up? ¹⁵ For my people hath forgotten me, they have burned incense to vanity; and they have caused them to stumble in their ways, in the ancient paths, to walk in bypaths, in a way not cast up; ¹⁶ to make their land an astonishment, and a perpetual hissing; every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished, and shake his head. ¹⁷ I will scatter them as with an east wind before the enemy; I will look upon their back, and not their face, in the day of their calamity. ¹⁸ Then said they, Come, and let us devise devices against Jeremiah; for the law shall not perish from the priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophet. Come, and let us smite him with the tongue, and let us not give heed to any of his words. ¹⁹ Give heed to me, O LORD, and hearken to the voice of them that contend with me. ²⁰ Shall evil be recompensed for good? for they have digged a pit for my soul. Remember how I stood before thee to speak good for them, to turn away thy fury from them. ²¹ Therefore deliver up their children to the famine, and give them over to the power of the sword; and let their wives become childless, and widows; and let their men be slain of death, and their young men smitten of the sword in battle. ²² Let a cry be heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring a troop suddenly upon them: for they have digged a pit to take me, and hid snares for my feet. ²³ Yet, LORD, thou knowest all their counsel against me to slay me; forgive not their iniquity, neither blot out their sin from thy sight: but let them be overthrown before thee; deal thou with them in the time of thine anger.

¹ Thus said the LORD, Go, and buy a potter's earthen bottle, and take of the elders of the people, and of the elders of the priests; ² and go forth unto the valley of the son of Hinnom, which is by the entry of the gate Harsith, and proclaim there the words that I shall tell thee: ³ and say, Hear ye the word of the LORD, O kings of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem; thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, the which whosoever heareth, his ears shall tingle. ⁴ Because they have forsaken me, and have estranged this place, and have burned incense in it unto other gods, whom they knew not, they and their fathers and the kings of Judah; and have filled this place with the blood of innocents; ⁵ and have built the high places of Baal, to burn their sons in the fire for burnt offerings unto Baal; which I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my mind: ⁶ therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that this place shall no more be called Topheth, nor The valley of the son of Hinnom, but The valley of Slaughter. ⁷ And I will make void the counsel of Judah and Jerusalem in this place; and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hand of them that seek their life: and their carcases will I give to be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth. ⁸ And I will make this city an astonishment, and an hissing; every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished and hiss because of all the plagues thereof. ⁹ And I will cause them to eat the flesh of their sons and the flesh of their daughters, and they shall eat every one the flesh of his friend, in the siege and in the straitness, wherewith their enemies, and they that seek their life, shall straiten them. ¹⁰ Then shalt thou break the bottle in the sight of the men that go with thee, ¹¹ and shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Even so will I break this people and this city, as one breaketh a potter's vessel, that cannot be made whole again: and they shall bury in Topheth, till there be no place to bury. ¹² Thus will I do unto this place, saith the LORD, and to the inhabitants thereof, even making this city as Topheth: ¹³ and the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses of the kings of Judah, which are defiled, shall be as the place of Topheth, even all the houses upon whose roofs they have burned incense unto all the host of heaven, and have poured out drink offerings unto other gods. ¹⁴ Then came Jeremiah from Topheth, whither the LORD had sent him to prophesy; and he stood in the court of the LORD'S house, and said to all the people: ¹⁵ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring upon this city and upon all her towns all the evil that I have pronounced against it; because they have made their neck stiff, that they might not hear my words.

¹ Now Pashhur the son of Immer the priest, who was chief officer in the house of the LORD, heard Jeremiah prophesying these things. ² Then Pashhur smote Jeremiah the prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the upper gate of Benjamin, which was in the house of the LORD. ³ And it came to pass on the morrow, that Pashhur brought forth Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then said Jeremiah unto him, The LORD hath not called thy name Pashhur, but Magor-missabib. ⁴ For thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will make thee a terror to thyself, and to all thy friends: and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall behold it: and I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of

Babylon, and he shall carry them captive to Babylon, and shall slay them with the sword. ⁵ Moreover I will give all the riches of this city, and all the gains thereof, and all the precious things thereof, yea, all the treasures of the kings of Judah will I give into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoil them, and take them, and carry them to Babylon. ⁶ And thou, Pashhur, and all that dwell in thine house shall go into captivity: and thou shalt come to Babylon, and there thou shalt die, and there shalt thou be buried, thou, and all thy friends, to whom thou hast prophesied falsely. ⁷ O LORD, thou hast deceived me, and I was deceived: thou art stronger than I, and hast prevailed: I am become a laughingstock all the day, every one mocketh me. ⁸ For as often as I speak, I cry out; I cry, Violence and spoil: because the word of the LORD is made a reproach unto me, and a derision, all the day. ⁹ And if I say, I will not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his name, then there is in mine heart as it were a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I am weary with forbearing, and I cannot contain. ¹⁰ For I have heard the defaming of many, terror on every side. Denounce, and we will denounce him, say all my familiar friends, they that watch for my halting; peradventure he will be enticed, and we shall prevail against him, and we shall take our revenge on him. ¹¹ But the LORD is with me as a mighty one and a terrible: therefore my persecutors shall stumble, and they shall not prevail: they shall be greatly ashamed, because they have not dealt wisely, even with an everlasting dishonour which shall never be forgotten. ¹² But, O LORD of hosts, that triest the righteous, that seest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them; for unto thee have I revealed my cause. ¹³ Sing unto the LORD, praise ye the LORD: for he hath delivered the soul of the needy from the hand of evil-doers. ¹⁴ Cursed be the day wherein I was born: let not the day wherein my mother bare me be blessed. ¹⁵ Cursed be the man who brought tidings to my father, saying, A man child is born unto thee; making him very glad. ¹⁶ And let that man be as the cities which the LORD overthrew, and repented not: and let him hear a cry in the morning, and shouting at noontide;¹⁷ because he slew me not from the womb; and so my mother should have been my grave, and her womb always great. ¹⁸Wherefore came I forth out of the womb to see labour and sorrow, that my days should be consumed with shame?

¹The word which came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, when king Zedekiah sent unto him Pashhur the son of Malchijah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, saying, ²Inquire, I pray thee, of the LORD for us; for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon maketh war against us: peradventure the LORD will deal with us according to all his wondrous works, that he may go up from us. ³Then said Jeremiah unto them, Thus shall ye say to Zedekiah: ⁴Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, Behold, I will turn back the weapons of war that are in your hands; wherewith ye fight against the king of Babylon, and against the Chaldeans which besiege you, without the walls, and I will gather them into the midst of this city. ⁵And I myself will fight against you with an outstretched hand and with a strong arm, even in anger, and in fury, and in great wrath. ⁶And I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence. ⁷And afterward, saith the LORD, I will deliver Zedekiah king of Judah, and his servants, and the people, even such as are left in this city from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seek their life: and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword; he shall not spare them, neither have pity, nor have mercy. ⁸And unto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the LORD: Behold, I set before you the way of life and the way of death. ⁹He that abideth in this city shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth away to the Chaldeans that besiege you, he shall live, and his life shall be unto him for a prey. ¹⁰For I have set my face upon this city for evil, and not for good, saith the LORD: it shall be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire. ¹¹And touching the house of the king of Judah, hear ye the word of the LORD: ¹²O house of David, thus saith the LORD, Execute judgment in the morning, and deliver the spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor, lest my fury go forth like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings. ¹³Behold, I am against thee, O inhabitant of the valley, and of the rock of the plain, saith the LORD; ye which say, Who shall come down against us? or who shall enter into our habitations? ¹⁴And I will punish you according to the fruit of your doings, saith the LORD: and I will kindle a fire in her forest, and it shall devour all that is round about her.

¹Thus said the LORD: Go down to the house of the king of Judah, and speak there this word, ²And say, Hear the word of the LORD, O king of Judah, that sittest upon the throne of David, thou, and thy servants, and thy people that enter in by these gates. ³Thus saith the LORD: Execute ye judgment and righteousness, and deliver the spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor: and do no wrong, do no violence, to the stranger, the fatherless, nor the widow, neither shed innocent blood in this place. ⁴For if ye do this thing indeed, then shall there enter in by the gates of this house kings sitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, he, and his servants, and his people. ⁵But if ye will not hear these words, I swear by myself, saith the LORD, that this house shall become a desolation. ⁶For thus saith the LORD concerning the house of the king of Judah: Thou art Gilead unto me, and the head of Lebanon: yet surely I will make thee a wilderness, and cities which are not inhabited. ⁷And I will prepare destroyers against thee, every one with his weapons: and they shall cut down thy choice cedars, and cast them into the fire. ⁸And many nations shall pass by this city, and they shall say every man to his neighbour, Wherefore hath the LORD done thus unto this great city? ⁹Then they shall answer, Because they forsook the covenant of the LORD their God, and worshipped other gods, and served them. ¹⁰Weep ye not for the dead, neither bemoan him: but weep sore for him that goeth away; for he shall return no more, nor see his native country. ¹¹For thus saith the LORD touching Shallum the son of Josiah, king of Judah, which reigned instead of Josiah his father, which went forth out of this place: He shall not return thither any more; ¹²But in the place whither they have led him captive, there shall he die, and he shall see this land no more. ¹³Woe unto him that buildeth his house by unrighteousness, and his chambers by injustice; that useth his neighbour's service without wages, and giveth him not his hire; ¹⁴that saith, I will build me a wide house and spacious chambers, and cutteth him out windows; and it is cieled with cedar, and painted with vermilion. ¹⁵Shalt thou reign, because thou strivest to excel in cedar? did not thy father eat and drink, and do judgment and justice? then it was well with him. ¹⁶He judged the cause of the poor and needy; then it was well. Was not this to know me? saith the LORD. ¹⁷But thine eyes and thine heart are not but for thy covetousness, and for to shed innocent blood, and for oppression, and for violence, to do it. ¹⁸Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah: They shall not lament for him, saying, Ah my brother! or, Ah sister! they shall not lament for him, saying, Ah lord! or, Ah his glory! ¹⁹He shall be buried with the burial of an ass, drawn and cast forth beyond the gates of Jerusalem. ²⁰Go up to Lebanon, and cry; and lift up thy voice in Bashan: and cry from Abarim; for all thy lovers are destroyed. ²¹I spake unto thee in thy prosperity; but thou saidst, I will not hear. This hath been thy manner from thy youth, that thou obeyedst not my voice. ²²The wind shall feed all thy shepherds, and thy lovers shall go into captivity: surely then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded for all thy wickedness. ²³O inhabitant of Lebanon, that makest thy nest in the cedars, how greatly to be pitied shalt thou be when pangs come upon thee, the pain as of a woman in travail! ²⁴As I live, saith the LORD, though Coniah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah were the signet upon my right hand, yet would I pluck thee thence; ²⁵and I will give thee into the hand of them that seek thy life, and into the hand of them of whom thou art afraid, even into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of the Chaldeans. ²⁶And I will cast thee out, and thy mother that bare thee, into another country, where ye were not born; and there shall ye die. ²⁷But to the land whereunto their soul longeth to return, thither shall they not return. ²⁸Is this man Coniah a despised broken vessel? is he a vessel wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they cast out, he and his seed, and are cast into the land which they know not? ²⁹O earth, earth, earth, hear the word of the LORD. ³⁰Thus saith the LORD, Write ye this man childless, a man that shall not prosper in his days: for no man of his seed shall prosper, sitting upon the throne of David, and ruling any more in Judah.

¹Woe unto the shepherds that destroy and scatter the sheep of my pasture! saith the LORD. ²Therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, against the shepherds that feed my people: Ye have scattered my flock, and driven them away, and have not visited them; behold, I will visit upon you the evil of your doings, saith the LORD. ³And I will gather the remnant of my flock out of all the countries whither I have driven them, and will bring them again to their folds; and they shall be fruitful and multiply. ⁴And I will set up shepherds over them which shall feed them: and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall any be lacking, saith the LORD. ⁵Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and he shall reign as king and deal wisely, and shall execute judgment and justice in the land. ⁶In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely: and this is his name whereby he shall be called, The LORD is our righteousness. ⁷Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that they shall no more say, As the LORD liveth, which brought up the Children of Israel out of the land of Egypt; ⁸but, As the LORD liveth, which brought up and which led the seed of the house of Israel out of the north country, and from all the countries whither I had driven them; and they shall dwell in their own land. ⁹Concerning the prophets.

Mine heart within me is broken, all my bones shake; I am like a drunken man, and like a man whom wine hath overcome; because of the LORD, and because of his holy words. ¹⁰For the land is full of adulterers; for because of swearing the land mourneth; the pastures of the wilderness are dried up; and their course is evil, and their force is not right. ¹¹for both prophet and priest are profane; yea, in my house have I found their wickedness, saith the LORD. ¹²Wherefore their way shall be unto them as slippery places in the darkness; they shall be driven on, and fall therein: for I will bring evil upon them, even the year of their visitation, saith the LORD. ¹³And I have seen folly in the prophets of Samaria; they prophesied by Baal, and caused my people Israel to err. ¹⁴In the prophets of Jerusalem also I have seen an horrible thing; they commit adultery, and walk in lies, and they strengthen the hands of evil-doers, that none doth return from his wickedness: they are all of them become unto me as Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorrah. ¹⁵Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts concerning the prophets: Behold, I will feed them with wormwood, and make them drink the water of gall: for from the prophets of Jerusalem is profaneness gone forth into all the land. ¹⁶Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Hearken not unto the words of the prophets that prophesy unto you; they teach you vanity: they speak a vision of their own heart, and not out of the mouth of the LORD. ¹⁷They say continually unto them that despise me, The LORD hath said, Ye shall have peace; and unto every one that walketh in the stubbornness of his own heart they say, No evil shall come upon you. ¹⁸For who hath stood in the council of the LORD, that he should perceive and hear his word? who hath marked my word, and heard it? ¹⁹Behold, the tempest of the LORD, even his fury, is gone forth, yea, a whirling tempest: it shall burst upon the head of the wicked. ²⁰The anger of the LORD shall not return, until he have executed, and till he have performed the intents of his heart: in the latter days ye shall understand it perfectly. ²¹I sent not these prophets, yet they ran: I spake not unto them, yet they prophesied. ²²But if they had stood in my council, then had they caused my people to hear my words, and had turned them from their evil way, and from the evil of their doings. ²³Am I a God at hand, saith the LORD, and not a God afar off? ²⁴Can any hide himself in secret places that I shall not see him? saith the LORD. Do not I fill heaven and earth? saith the LORD. ²⁵I have heard what the prophets have said, that prophesy lies in my name, saying, I have dreamed, I have dreamed. ²⁶How long shall this be in the heart of the prophets that prophesy lies; even the prophets of the deceit of their own heart? ²⁷which think to cause my people to forget my name by their dreams which they tell every man to his neighbour, as their fathers forgat my name for Baal. ²⁸The prophet that hath a dream, let him tell a dream; and he that hath my word, let him speak my word faithfully. What is the straw to the wheat? saith the LORD. ²⁹Is not my word like as fire? saith the LORD; and like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces? ³⁰Therefore, behold, I am against the prophets, saith the LORD, that steal my words every one from his neighbour. ³¹Behold, I am against the prophets, saith the LORD, that use their tongues, and say, He saith. ³²Behold, I am against them that prophesy lying dreams, saith the LORD, and do tell them, and cause my people to err by their lies, and by their vain boasting; yet I sent them not, nor commanded them; neither shall they profit this people at all, saith the LORD. ³³And when this people, or the prophet, or a priest, shall ask thee, saying, What is the burden of the LORD? then shalt thou say unto them, What burden! I will cast you off, saith the LORD. ³⁴And as for the prophet, and the priest, and the people, that shall say, The burden of the LORD, I will even punish that man and his house. ³⁵Thus shall ye say every one to his neighbour, and every one to his brother, What hath the LORD answered? and, What hath the LORD spoken? ³⁶And the burden of the LORD shall ye mention no more: for every man's own word shall be his burden; for ye have perverted the words of the living God, of the LORD of hosts our God. ³⁷Thus shalt thou say to the prophet, What hath the LORD answered thee? and, What hath the LORD spoken? ³⁸But if ye say, The burden of the LORD; therefore thus saith the LORD: Because ye say this word, The burden of the LORD, and I have sent unto you, saying, Ye shall not say, The burden of the LORD; ³⁹therefore, behold, I will utterly forget you, and I will cast you off, and the city that I gave unto you and to your fathers, away from my presence: ⁴⁰and I will bring an everlasting reproach upon you, and a perpetual shame which shall not be forgotten.

¹The LORD shewed me, and, behold, two baskets of figs set before the temple of the LORD; after that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon had carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, and the princes of Judah, with the craftsmen and smiths, from Jerusalem, and had brought them to Babylon. ²One basket had very good figs, like the figs that are first ripe: and the other basket had very bad figs, which could not be eaten, they were so bad. ³Then said the LORD unto me, What seest thou, Jeremiah? And I said, Figs; the good figs, very good; and the bad, very bad, that cannot be eaten, they are so bad. ⁴And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ⁵Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel; Like these good figs, so will I regard the captives of Judah, whom I have sent out of this place into the land of the Chaldeans, for good. ⁶For I will set mine eyes upon them for good, and I will bring them again to this land: and I will build them, and not pull them down; and I will plant them, and not pluck them up. ⁷And I will give them an heart to know me, that I am the LORD: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God: for they shall return unto me with their whole heart. ⁸And as the bad figs, which cannot be eaten, they are so bad; surely thus saith the LORD, So will I give up Zedekiah the king of Judah, and his princes, and the residue of Jerusalem, that remain in this land, and them that dwell in the land of Egypt: ⁹I will even give them up to be tossed to and fro among all the kingdoms of the earth for evil; to be a reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curse, in all places whither I shall drive them. ¹⁰And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, among them, till they be consumed from off the land that I gave unto them and to their fathers.

¹The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah; the same was the first year of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon; ²the which Jeremiah the prophet spake unto all the people of Judah, and to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying: ³From the thirteenth year of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, even unto this day, these three and twenty years, the word of the LORD hath come unto me, and I have spoken unto you, rising up early and speaking; but ye have not hearkened. ⁴And the LORD hath sent unto you all his servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them; but ye have not hearkened, nor inclined your ear to hear; ⁵saying, Return ye now every one from his evil way, and from the evil of your doings, and dwell in the land that the LORD hath given unto you and to your fathers, from of old and even for evermore: ⁶and go not after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, and provoke me not to anger with the work of your hands; and I will do you no hurt. ⁷Yet ye have not hearkened unto me, saith the LORD; that ye might provoke me to anger with the work of your hands to your own hurt. ⁸Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts; Because ye have not heard my words, ⁹behold, I will send and take all the families of the north, saith the LORD, and I will send unto Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, my servant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations round about; and I will utterly destroy them, and make them an astonishment, and an hissing, and perpetual desolations. ¹⁰Moreover I will take from them the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the sound of the millstones, and the light of the candle. ¹¹And this whole land shall be a desolation, and an astonishment; and these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years. ¹²And it shall come to pass, when seventy years are accomplished, that I will punish the king of Babylon, and that nation, saith the LORD, for their iniquity, and the land of the Chaldeans; and I will make it desolate for ever. ¹³ And I will bring upon that land all my words which I have pronounced against it, even all that is written in this book, which Jeremiah hath prophesied against all the nations. ¹⁴ For many nations and great kings shall serve themselves of them, even of them: and I will recompense them according to their deeds, and according to the work of their hands. ¹⁵ For thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, unto me: Take the cup of the wine of this fury at my hand, and cause all the nations, to whom I send thee, to drink it. ¹⁶ And they shall drink, and reel to and fro, and be mad, because of the sword that I will send among them. ¹⁷ Then took I the cup at the LORD'S hand, and made all the nations to drink, unto whom the LORD had sent me: ¹⁸ to wit, Jerusalem, and the cities of Judah, and the kings thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them a desolation, an astonishment, an hissing, and a curse; as it is this day; ¹⁹ Pharaoh king of Egypt, and his servants, and his princes, and all his people; ²⁰ and all the mingled people, and all the kings of the land of Uz, and all the kings of the land of the Philistines, and Ashkelon, and Gaza, and Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod; ²¹ Edom, and Moab, and the children of Ammon; ²² and all the kings of Tyre, and all the kings of Zidon, and the kings of the isle which is beyond the sea; ²³ Dedan, and Tema, and Buz, and all that have the corners of their hair polled; ²⁴ and all the kings of Arabia, and all the kings of the mingled people that dwell in the wilderness; ²⁵ and all the kings of Zimri, and all the kings of Elam, and all the kings of the Medes; ²⁶ and all the kings of the north, far and near, one with another; and all the kingdoms of the world, which are upon the face of the earth: and the king of Sheshach shall drink after them. ²⁷ And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Drink ye, and be drunken, and spue, and fall, and rise no more, because of the sword which I will send among you. ²⁸ And it shall be, if they refuse to take the cup at thine hand to drink, then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Ye shall surely drink. ²⁹ For, lo, I begin to work evil at the city which is called by my name, and should ye be utterly unpunished? Ye shall not be unpunished: for I will call for a sword upon all the inhabitants of the earth, saith the LORD of hosts. ³⁰ Therefore prophesy thou against them all these words, and say unto them, The LORD shall roar from on high, and utter his voice from his holy habitation; he shall mightily roar against his fold; he shall give a shout, as they that tread the grapes, against all the inhabitants of the earth. ³¹ A noise shall come even to the end of the earth; for the LORD hath a controversy with the nations, he will plead with all flesh; as for the wicked, he will give them to the sword, saith the LORD. ³² Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, evil shall go forth from nation to nation, and a great tempest shall be raised up from the uttermost parts of the earth. ³³ And the slain of the LORD shall be at that day from one end of the earth even unto the other end of the earth: they shall not be lamented, neither gathered, nor buried; they shall be dung upon the face of the ground. ³⁴ Howl, ye shepherds, and cry; and wallow yourselves in ashes, ye principal of the flock: for the days of your slaughter are fully come, and I will break you in pieces, and ye shall fall like a pleasant vessel. ³⁵ And the shepherds shall have no way to flee, nor the principal of the flock to escape. ³⁶ A voice of the cry of the shepherds, and the howling of the principal of the flock! for the LORD layeth waste their pasture. ³⁷ And the peaceable folds are brought to silence because of the fierce anger of the LORD. ³⁸ He hath forsaken his covert, as the lion: for their land is become an astonishment because of the fierceness of the oppressing sword, and because of his fierce anger.

I purpose to do unto them because of the evil of their doings. ⁴And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD: If ye will not hearken to me, to walk in my law, which I have set before you, ⁵to hearken to the words of my servants the prophets, whom I send unto you, even rising up early and sending them, but ye have not hearkened; ⁶then will I make this house like Shiloh, and will make this city a curse to all the nations of the earth. ⁷And the priests and the prophets and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the house of the LORD. ⁸And it came to pass, when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking all that the LORD had commanded him to speak unto all the people, that the priests and the prophets and all the people laid hold on him, saying, Thou shalt surely die. ⁹Why hast thou prophesied in the name of the LORD, saying, This house shall be like Shiloh, and this city shall be desolate, without inhabitant? And all the people were gathered unto Jeremiah in the house of the LORD. ¹⁰And when the princes of Judah heard these things, they came up from the king's house unto the house of the LORD; and they sat in the entry of the new gate of the LORD'S house. ¹¹Then spake the priests and the prophets unto the princes and to all the people, saying, This man is worthy of death; for he hath prophesied against this city, as ye have heard with your ears. ¹²Then spake Jeremiah unto all the princes and to all the people, saying, The LORD sent me to prophesy against this house and against this city all the words that ye have heard. ¹³Therefore now amend your ways and your doings, and obey the voice of the LORD your God; and the LORD will repent him of the evil that he hath pronounced against you. ¹⁴But as for me, behold, I am in your hand: do with me as is good and right in your eyes. ¹⁵Only know ye for certain that, if ye put me to death, ye shall bring innocent blood upon yourselves, and upon this city, and upon the inhabitants thereof: for of a truth the LORD hath sent me unto you to speak all these words in your ears. ¹⁶Then said the princes and all the people unto the priests and to the prophets: This man is not worthy of death; for he hath spoken to us in the name of the LORD our God. ¹⁷Then rose up certain of the elders of the land, and spake to all the assembly of the people, saying, ¹⁸Micaiah the Morashtite prophesied in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah; and he spake to all the people of Judah, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Zion shall be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of a forest. ¹⁹Did Hezekiah king of Judah and all Judah put him at all to death? did he not fear the LORD, and entreat the favour of the LORD, and the LORD repented him of the evil which he had pronounced against them? Thus should we commit great evil against our own souls, ²⁰And there was also a man that prophesied in the name of the LORD, Uriah the son of Shemaiah of Kiriath-jearim; and he prophesied against this city and against this land according to all the words of Jeremiah: ²¹and when Jehoiakim the king, with all his mighty men, and all the princes, heard his words, the king sought to put him to death; but when Uriah heard it, he was afraid, and fled, and went into Egypt: ²²and Jehoiakim the king sent men into Egypt, namely, Elnathan the son of Achbor, and certain men with him, into Egypt: ²³and they fetched forth Uriah out of Egypt, and brought him unto Jehoiakim the king; who slew him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the graves of the common people. ²⁴But the hand of Ahikam the son of Shaphan was with Jeremiah, that they should not give him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

masters; ⁵ I have made the earth, the man and the beast that are upon the face of the earth, by my great power and by my outstretched arm; and I give it unto whom it seemeth right unto me. ⁶ And now have I given all these lands into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, my servant; and the beasts of the field also have I given him to serve him. ⁷ And all the nations shall serve him, and his son, and his son's son, until the time of his own land come: and then many nations and great kings shall serve themselves of him. ⁸ And it shall come to pass, that the nation and the kingdom which will not serve the same Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and that will not put their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, that nation will I punish, saith the LORD, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, until I have consumed them by his hand. ⁹ But as for you, hearken ye not to your prophets, nor to your diviners, nor to your dreams, nor to your soothsayers, nor to your sorcerers, which speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Babylon: ¹⁰ for they prophesy a lie unto you, to remove you far from your land; and that I should drive you out and ye should perish. ¹¹ But the nation that shall bring their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him, that nation will I let remain in their own land, saith the LORD; and they shall till it, and dwell therein. ¹² And I spake to Zedekiah king of Judah according to all these words, saying, Bring your necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him and his people, and live. ¹³ Why will ye die, thou and thy people, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the LORD hath spoken concerning the nation that will not serve the king of Babylon? ¹⁴ And hearken not unto the words of the prophets that speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Babylon: for they prophesy a lie unto you. ¹⁵ For I have not sent them, saith the LORD, but they prophesy falsely in my name; that I might drive you out, and that ye might perish, ye, and the prophets that prophesy unto you. ¹⁶ Also I spake to the priests and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the LORD: Hearken not to the words of your prophets that prophesy unto you, saying, Behold, the vessels of the LORD'S house shall now shortly be brought again from Babylon: for they prophesy a lie unto you. ¹⁷ Hearken not unto them; serve the king of Babylon, and live: wherefore should this city become a desolation? ¹⁸ But if they be prophets, and if the word of the LORD be with them, let them now make intercession to the LORD of hosts, that the vessels which are left in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem, go not to Babylon. ¹⁹ For thus saith the LORD of hosts concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels, that are left in this city, ²⁰ which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took not, when he carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, from Jerusalem to Babylon, and all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem; ²¹ yea, thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that are left in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem: ²² They shall be carried to Babylon, and there shall they be, until the day that I visit them, saith the LORD; then will I bring them up, and restore them to this place.

¹ And it came to pass the same year, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fourth year, in the fifth month, that Hananiah the son of Azzur the prophet, which was of Gibeon, spake unto me in the house of the LORD, in the presence of the priests and of all the people, saying, ² Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, I have broken the yoke of the king of Babylon. ³ Within two full years will I bring again into this place all the vessels of the LORD'S house, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took away from this place, and carried them to Babylon: ⁴ and I will bring again to this place Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah with all the captives of Judah, that went to Babylon, saith the LORD: for I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon. ⁵ Then the prophet Jeremiah said unto the prophet Hananiah in the presence of the priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the house of the LORD, ⁶even the prophet Jeremiah said, Amen: the LORD do so: the LORD perform thy words which thou hast prophesied, to bring again the vessels of the LORD'S house, and all them of the captivity, from Babylon unto this place. ⁷Nevertheless hear thou now this word that I speak in thine ears, and in the ears of all the people: ⁸The prophets that have been before me and before thee of old prophesied against many countries, and against great kingdoms, of war, and of evil, and of pestilence. ⁹The prophet which prophesied of peace, when the word of the prophet shall come to pass, then shall the prophet be known, that the LORD hath truly sent him. ¹⁰Then Hananiah the prophet took the bar from off the prophet Jeremiah's neck, and brake it. ¹¹And Hananiah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith the LORD: Even so will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon within two full years from off the neck of all the nations. And the prophet Jeremiah went his way. ¹²Then the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, after that Hananiah the prophet had broken the bar from off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah, saying, ¹³Go, and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD: Thou hast broken the bars of wood; but thou shalt make in their stead bars of iron. ¹⁴For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: I have put a yoke of iron upon the neck of all these nations, that they may serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; and they shall serve him: and I have given him the beasts of the field also. ¹⁵Then said the prophet Jeremiah unto Hananiah the prophet, Hear now, Hananiah; the LORD hath not sent thee; but thou makest this people to trust in a lie. ¹⁶Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will send thee away from off the face of the earth: this year thou shalt die, because thou hast spoken rebellion against the LORD. ¹⁷So Hananiah the prophet died the same year in the seventh month.

from Jerusalem to Babylon: ² (after that Jeconiah the king, and the queen-mother, and the eunuchs, and the princes of Judah and Jerusalem, and the craftsmen, and the smiths, were departed from Jerusalem;) ³ by the hand of Elasah the son of Shaphan, and Gemariah the son of Hilkiyah, (whom Zedekiah king of Judah sent unto Babylon to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon,) saying, ⁴ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, unto all the captivity, whom I have caused to be carried away captive from Jerusalem unto Babylon: ⁵ Build ye houses, and dwell in them; and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them; ⁶ Take ye wives, and beget sons and daughters; and take wives for your sons, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may bear sons and daughters; and multiply ye there, and be not diminished. ⁷ And seek the peace of the city whither I have caused you to be carried away captive, and pray unto the LORD for it: for in the peace thereof shall ye have peace. ⁸ For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Let not your prophets that be in the midst of you, and your diviners, deceive you, neither hearken ye to your dreams which ye cause to be dreamed. ⁹ For they prophesy falsely unto you in my name: I have not sent them, saith the LORD. ¹⁰ For thus saith the LORD, After seventy years be accomplished for Babylon, I will visit you, and perform my good word toward you, in causing you to return to this place. ¹¹ For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the LORD, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you hope in your latter end. ¹² And ye shall call upon me, and ye shall go and pray unto me, and I will hearken unto you. ¹³ And ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all year heart. ¹⁴ And I will be found of you, saith the LORD, and I will turn again your captivity, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places whither I have driven you, saith the LORD; and I will bring you again unto the place whence I caused you to be carried away captive. ¹⁵ For ye have said, The LORD hath raised us up prophets in Babylon. ¹⁶ for thus saith the LORD concerning the king that sitteth upon the throne of David, and concerning all the people that dwell in this city, your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captivity; ¹⁷ thus saith the LORD of hosts: Behold, I will send upon them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like vile figs, that cannot be eaten, they are so bad. ¹⁸ And I will pursue after them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence, and will deliver them to be tossed to and fro among all the kingdoms of the earth, to be an execration, and an astonishment, and an hissing, and a reproach, among all the nations whither I have driven them: ¹⁹ because they have not hearkened to my words, saith the LORD, wherewith I sent unto them my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them; but ye would not hear, saith the LORD. ²⁰ Hear ye therefore the word of the LORD, all ye of the captivity, whom I have sent away from Jerusalem to Babylon. ²¹ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning Ahab the son of Kolaiah, and concerning Zedekiah the son of Maaseiah, which prophesy a lie unto you in my name: Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon; and he shall slay them before your eyes; ²² and of them shall be taken up a curse by all the captives of Judah which are in Babylon, saying, The LORD make thee like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whom the king Babylon roasted in the fire: ²³ because they have wrought folly in Israel, and have committed adultery with their neighbours' wives, and have spoken words in my name falsely, which I commanded them not; and I am he that knoweth, and am witness, saith the LORD. ²⁴ And concerning Shemaiah the Nehelamite thou shalt speak, saying, ²⁵ Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thine own name unto all the people that are at Jerusalem, and to Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, and to all the priests, saying, ²⁶ The LORD hath made thee priest in the stead of Jehoiada the priest, that ye should be officers in the house of the LORD, for every man that is mad, and maketh himself a prophet, that thou shouldst put him in the stocks and in shackles. ²⁷ Now therefore, why hast thou not rebuked Jeremiah of Anathoth, which maketh himself a prophet to you, ²⁸ forasmuch as he hath sent unto us in Babylon, saying, The captivity is long; build ye houses, and dwell in them; and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them? ²⁹ And Zephaniah the priest read this letter in the ears of Jeremiah the prophet. ³⁰ Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying, ³¹ Send to all them of the captivity, saying, Thus saith the LORD concerning Shemaiah the Nehelamite: Because that Shemaiah hath prophesied unto you, and I sent him not, and he hath caused you to trust in a lie; ³² therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will punish Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his seed; he shall not have a man to dwell among this people, neither shall he behold the good that I will do unto my people, saith the LORD: because he hath spoken rebellion against the LORD.

¹ The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, ² Thus speaketh the LORD, the God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the words that I have spoken unto thee in a book. ³ For, lo, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will turn again the captivity of my people Israel and Judah, saith the LORD: and I will cause them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it. ⁴ And these are the words that the LORD spake concerning Israel and concerning Judah. ⁵ For thus saith the LORD: We have heard a voice of trembling, of fear, and not of peace. ⁶ Ask ye now, and see whether a man doth travail with child: wherefore do I see every man with his hands on his loins, as a woman in travail, and all faces are turned into paleness? ⁷ Alas! for that day is great, so that none is like it: it is even the time of Jacob's trouble; but he shall be saved out of it. ⁸ And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD of hosts, that I will break his yoke from off thy neck, and will burst thy bands; and strangers shall no more serve themselves of him: ⁹ but they shall serve the LORD their God, and David their king, whom I will raise up unto them. ¹⁰ Therefore fear thou not, O Jacob my servant, saith the LORD; neither be dismayed, O Israel: for, lo, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and shall be quiet and at ease, and none shall make him afraid. ¹¹For I am with thee, saith the LORD, to save thee: for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have scattered thee, but I will not make a full end of thee; but I will correct thee with judgment, and will in no wise leave thee unpunished. ¹²For thus saith the LORD, Thy hurt is incurable, and thy wound grievous. ¹³There is none to plead thy cause, that thou mayest be bound up: thou hast no healing medicines. ¹⁴All thy lovers have forgotten thee; they seek thee not: for I have wounded thee with the wound of an enemy, with the chastisement of a cruel one; for the greatness of thine iniquity, because thy sins were increased. ¹⁵Why criest thou for thy hurt? thy pain is incurable: for the greatness of thine iniquity, because thy sins were increased, I have done these things unto thee. ¹⁶Therefore all they that devour thee shall be devoured; and all thine adversaries, every one of them, shall go into captivity; and they that spoil thee shall be a spoil, and all that prey upon thee will I give for a prey. ¹⁷For I will restore health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith the LORD; because they have called thee an outcast, saying, It is Zion, whom no man seeketh after. ¹⁸Thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will turn again the captivity of Jacob's tents, and have compassion on his dwelling places; and the city shall be builded upon her own heap, and the palace shall remain after the manner thereof. ¹⁹And out of them shall proceed thanksgiving and the voice of them that make merry: and I will multiply them, and they shall not be few; I will also glorify them, and they shall not be small. ²⁰Their children also shall be as aforetime, and their congregation shall be established before me, and I will punish all that oppress them. ²¹And their prince shall be of themselves, and their ruler shall proceed from the midst of them; and I will cause him to draw near, and he shall approach unto me: for who is he that hath had boldness to approach unto me? saith the LORD. ²²And ye shall be my people, and I will be your God. ²³Behold, the tempest of the LORD, even his fury, is gone forth, a sweeping tempest: it shall burst upon the head of the wicked. ²⁴The fierce anger of the LORD shall not return, until he have executed, and till he have performed the intents of his heart: in the latter days ye shall understand it.

¹At that time, saith the LORD, will I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be my people. ²Thus saith the LORD, The people which were left of the sword found grace in the wilderness; even Israel, when I went to cause him to rest. ³The LORD appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with lovingkindness have I drawn thee. ⁴Again will I build thee, and thou shalt be built, O virgin of Israel: again shalt thou be adorned with thy tabrets, and shalt go forth in the dances of them that make merry. ⁵Again shalt thou plant vineyards upon the mountains of Samaria: the planters shall plant, and shall enjoy the fruit thereof. ⁶For there shall be a day, that the watchmen upon the hills of Ephraim shall cry, Arise ye, and let us go up to Zion unto the LORD our God. ⁷For thus saith the LORD, Sing with gladness for Jacob, and shout for the chief of the nations: publish ye, praise ye, and say, O LORD, save thy people, the remnant of Israel. ⁸Behold, I will bring them from the north country, and gather them from the uttermost parts of the earth, and with them the blind and the lame, the woman with child and her that travaileth with child together: a great company shall they return hither. ⁹They shall come with weeping, and with supplications will I lead them: I will cause them to walk by rivers of waters, in a straight way wherein they shall not stumble: for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is my firstborn. ¹⁰Hear the word of the LORD, O ye nations, and declare it in the isles afar off; and say, He that scattered Israel will gather him, and keep him, as a shepherd doth his flock. ¹¹For the LORD hath ransomed Jacob, and redeemed him from the hand of him that was stronger than he. ¹²And they shall come and sing in the height of Zion, and shall flow together unto the goodness of the LORD, to the corn, and to the wine, and to the oil, and to the young of the flock and of the herd: and their soul shall be as a watered garden; and they shall not sorrow any more at all. ¹³Then shall the virgin rejoice in the dance, and the young men and the old together: for I will turn their mourning into joy, and will comfort them, and make them rejoice from their sorrow. ¹⁴ And I will satiate the soul of the priests with fatness, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodness, saith the LORD. ¹⁵ Thus saith the LORD: A voice is heard in Ramah, lamentation, and bitter weeping, Rachel weeping for her children; she refuseth to be comforted for her children, because they are not. ¹⁶ Thus saith the LORD: Refrain thy voice from weeping, and thine eyes from tears: for thy work shall be rewarded, saith the LORD; and they shall come again from the land of the enemy. ¹⁷ And there is hope for thy latter end, saith the LORD; and thy children shall come again to their own border. ¹⁸ I have surely heard Ephraim bemoaning himself thus, Thou hast chastised me, and I was chastised, as a calf unaccustomed to the yoke: turn thou me, and I shall be turned; for thou art the LORD my God. ¹⁹ Surely after that I was turned, I repented; and after that I was instructed, I smote upon my thigh: I was ashamed, yea, even confounded, because I did bear the reproach of my youth. ²⁰ Is Ephraim my dear son? is he a pleasant child? for as often as I speak against him, I do earnestly remember him still: therefore my bowels are troubled for him; I will surely have mercy upon him, saith the LORD. ²¹ Set thee up waymarks, make thee guide-posts: set thine heart toward the highway, even the way by which thou wentest: turn again, O virgin of Israel, turn again to these thy cities. ²² How long wilt thou go hither and thither, O thou backsliding daughter? for the LORD hath created a new thing in the earth, A woman shall encompass a man. ²³ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Yet again shall they use this speech in the land of Judah and in the cities thereof, when I shall bring again their captivity: The LORD bless thee, O habitation of justice, O mountain of holiness. ²⁴ And Judah and all the cities thereof shall dwell therein together; the husbandmen, and they that go about with flocks. ²⁵ For I have satiated the weary soul, and every sorrowful soul have I replenished. ²⁶ Upon this I awaked, and beheld; and my sleep was sweet unto me. ²⁷ Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the seed of man, and with the seed of beast. ²⁸ And it shall come to pass, that like as I have watched over them to pluck up and to break down, and to overthrow and to destroy, and to afflict; so will I watch over them to build and to plant, saith the LORD. ²⁹ In those days they shall say no more, The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge. ³⁰ But every one shall die for his own iniquity: every man that eateth the sour grapes, his teeth shall be set on edge. ³¹ Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah: ³² not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt; which my covenant they brake, although I was an husband unto them, saith the LORD. ³³ But this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the LORD; I will put my law in their inward parts, and in their heart will I write it; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people: ³⁴ and they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the LORD: for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the LORD: for I will forgive their iniquity, and their sin will I remember no more. ³⁵ Thus saith the LORD, which giveth the sun for a light by day, and the ordinances of the moon and of the stars for a light by night, which stirreth up the sea, that the waves thereof roar; the LORD of hosts is his name: ³⁶ If these ordinances depart from before me, saith the LORD, then the seed of Israel also shall cease from being a nation before me for ever. ³⁷ Thus saith the LORD: If heaven above can be measured, and the foundations of the earth searched out beneath, then will I also cast off all the seed of Israel for all that they have done, saith the LORD. ³⁸ Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that the city shall be built to the LORD from the tower of Hananel unto the gate of the corner. ³⁹ And the measuring line shall yet go out straight onward unto the hill Gareb, and shall turn about unto Goah. ⁴⁰ And the whole valley of the dead bodies, and of the ashes, and all the fields unto the brook Kidron, unto the corner of the horse gate toward the east, shall be holy unto the LORD; it shall not be plucked up, nor thrown down any more for ever.

the presence of Hanamel mine uncle's son, and in the presence of the witnesses that subscribed the deed of the purchase, before all the Jews that sat in the court of the guard. ¹³ And I charged Baruch before them, saying, ¹⁴ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Take these deeds, this deed of the purchase, both that which is sealed, and this deed which is open, and put them in an earthen vessel; that they may continue many days. ¹⁵ For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Houses and fields and vineyards shall yet again be bought in this land. ¹⁶ Now after I had delivered the deed of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Neriah, I prayed unto the LORD, saying, ¹⁷ Ah Lord GOD! behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power and by thy stretched out arm; there is nothing too hard for thee: ¹⁸ which shewest mercy unto thousands, and recompenseth the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them: the great, the mighty God, the LORD of hosts is his name: ¹⁹ great in counsel, and mighty in work: whose eyes are open upon all the ways of the sons of men; to give every one according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings: ²⁰ which didst set signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, even unto this day, both in Israel and among other men; and madest thee a name, as at this day; ²¹ and didst bring forth thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signs, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with great terror; ²² and gavest them this land, which thou didst swear to their fathers to give them, a land flowing milk and honey; ²³ and they came in, and possessed it; but they obeyed not thy voice, neither walked in thy law; they have done nothing of all that thou commandedst them to do: therefore thou hast caused all this evil to come upon them: ²⁴ Behold the mounts, they are come unto the city to take it; and the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans that fight against it, because of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence: and what thou hast spoken is come to pass; and, behold, thou seest it. ²⁵ And thou hast said unto me, O Lord GOD, Buy thee the field for money, and call witnesses; whereas the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.

²⁶ Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying, ²⁷ Behold, I am the LORD, the God of all flesh: is there any thing too hard for me? ²⁸ Therefore thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the Chaldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and he shall take it: ²⁹ and the Chaldeans, that fight against this city, shall come and set this city on fire, and burn it, with the houses, upon whose roofs they have offered incense unto Baal, and poured out drink offerings unto other gods, to provoke me to anger. ³⁰ For the children of Israel and the children of Judah have only done that which was evil in my sight from their youth: for the children of Israel have only provoked me to anger with the work of their hands, saith the LORD. ³¹ For this city hath been to me a provocation of mine anger and of my fury from the day that they built it even unto this day; that I should remove it from before my face: ³² because of all the evil of the children of Israel and of the children of Judah, which they have done to provoke me to anger, they, their kings, their princes, their priests, and their prophets, and the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ³³ And they have turned unto me the back, and not the face: and though I taught them, rising up early and teaching them, yet they have not hearkened to receive instruction. ³⁴ But they set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to defile it. ³⁵ And they built the high places of Baal, which are in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to cause their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire unto Molech; which I commanded them not, neither came it into my mind, that they should do this abomination; to cause Judah to sin. ³⁶ And now therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning this city, whereof ye say, It is given into the hand of the king of Babylon by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: ³⁷ Behold, I will gather them out of all the countries, whither I have driven them in mine anger, and in my fury, and in great wrath; and I will bring them again unto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely: ³⁸ and they shall be my people, and I will be their

God: ³⁹ and I will give them one heart and one way, that they may fear me for ever; for the good of them, and of their children after them: ⁴⁰ and I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good; and I will put my fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me. ⁴¹ Yea, I will rejoice over them to do them good, and I will plant them in this land assuredly with my whole heart and with my whole soul. ⁴² For thus saith the LORD: Like as I have brought all this great evil upon this people, so will I bring upon them all the good that I have promised them. ⁴³ And fields shall be bought in this land, whereof ye say, It is desolate, without man or beast; it is given into the hand of the Chaldeans; ⁴⁴ Men shall buy fields for money, and subscribe the deeds, and seal them, and call witnesses, in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, and in the cities of the hill country, and cities of the lowland, and in the cities of the South: for I will cause their captivity to return, saith the LORD.

I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they have sinned against me, and whereby they have transgressed against me. ⁹ And this city shall be to me for a name of joy, for a praise and for a glory, before all the nations of the earth, which shall hear all the good that I do unto them, and shall fear and tremble for all the good and for all the peace that I procure unto it. ¹⁰ Thus saith the LORD: Yet again there shall be heard in this place, whereof ye say, It is waste, without man and without beast, even in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, that are desolate, without man and without inhabitant and without beast, ¹¹ the voice of joy and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the voice of them that say, Give thanks to the LORD of hosts, for the LORD is good, for his mercy endureth for ever: and of them that bring sacrifices of thanksgiving into the house of the LORD. For I will cause the captivity of the land to return as at the first, saith the LORD. ¹² Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Yet again shall there be in this place, which is waste, without man and without beast, and in all the cities thereof, an habitation of shepherds causing their flocks to lie down. ¹³ In the cities of the hill country, in the cities of the lowland, and in the cities of the South, and in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, shall the flocks again pass under the hands of him that telleth them, saith the LORD. ¹⁴ Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will perform that good word which I have spoken concerning the house of Israel and concerning the house of Judah. ¹⁵ In those days, and at that time, will I cause a Branch of righteousness to grow up unto David; and he shall execute judgment and righteousness in the land. ¹⁶ In those days shall Judah be saved, and Jerusalem shall dwell safely: and this is the name whereby she shall be called, The LORD is our righteousness. ¹⁷ For thus saith the LORD: David shall never want a man to sit upon the throne of the house of Israel; ¹⁸ neither shall the priests the Levites want a man before me to offer burnt offerings, and to burn oblations, and to do sacrifice continually. ¹⁹ And the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, saying, ²⁰ Thus saith the LORD: If ye can break my covenant of the day, and my covenant of the night, so that there should not be day and night in their season; ²¹ then may also my covenant be broken with David my servant, that he should not have a son to reign upon his throne; and with the Levites the priests, my ministers. ²² As the host of heaven cannot be numbered, neither the sand of the sea measured; so will I multiply the seed of David my servant, and the Levites that minister unto me. ²³ And the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying, ²⁴ Considerest thou not what this people have spoken, saying, The two families which the LORD did choose, he hath cast them off? thus do they despise my people, that they should be no more a nation before them. ²⁵ Thus saith the LORD: If my covenant of day and night stand not, if I have not appointed the ordinances of heaven and earth; ²⁶ then will I also cast away the seed of Jacob, and of David my servant, so that I will not take of his seed to be rulers over the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: for I will cause their captivity to return, and will have mercy on them.

¹ The word which came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and all his army, and all the kingdoms of the earth that were under his dominion, and all the peoples, fought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities thereof, saying: ² Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, Go, and speak to Zedekiah king of Judah, and tell him, Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire: ³ and thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely be taken, and delivered into his hand; and thine eyes shall behold the eyes of the king of Babylon, and he shall speak with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt go to Babylon. ⁴ Yet hear the word of the LORD, O Zedekiah king of Judah: thus saith the LORD concerning thee, Thou shalt not die by the sword; ⁵ thou shalt die in peace; and with the burnings of thy fathers, the former kings which were before thee, so shall they make a burning for thee; and they shall lament thee, saying, Ah lord! for I have spoken the word, saith the LORD. ⁶ Then Jeremiah the prophet spake all these words unto Zedekiah king of Judah in Jerusalem, ⁷ when the king of Babylon's army fought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities of Judah that were left, against Lachish and against Azekah; for these alone remained of the cities of Judah as fenced cities. ⁸ The word that came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, after that the king Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people which were at Jerusalem, to proclaim liberty unto them; ⁹ that every man should let his manservant, and every man his maidservant, being an Hebrew or an Hebrewess, go free; that none should serve himself of them, to wit, of a Jew his brother: ¹⁰ And all the princes and all the people obeyed, which had entered into the covenant, that every one should let his manservant, and every one his maidservant, go free, that none should serve themselves of them any more; they obeyed, and let them go: ¹¹ but afterwards they turned, and caused the servants and the handmaids, whom they had let go free, to return, and brought them into subjection for servants and for handmaids: ¹² Therefore the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, ¹³ Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: I made a covenant with your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage, saying, ¹⁴ At the end of seven years ye shall let go every man his brother that is an Hebrew, which hath been sold unto thee, and hath served thee six years, thou shalt let him go free from thee: but your fathers hearkened not unto me, neither inclined their ear. ¹⁵ And ye were now turned, and had done that which is right in mine eyes, in proclaiming liberty every man to his neighbour; and ye had made a covenant before me in the house which is called by my name: ¹⁶ but ye turned and profaned my name, and caused every man his servant, and every man his handmaid, whom ye had let go free at their pleasure, to return; and ye brought them into subjection, to be unto you for servants and for handmaids. ¹⁷ Therefore thus saith the LORD: Ye have not hearkened unto me, to proclaim liberty, every man to his brother, and every man to his neighbour:

behold, I proclaim unto you a liberty, saith the LORD, to the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine; and I will make you to be tossed to and fro among all the kingdoms of the earth. ¹⁸ And I will give the men that have transgressed my covenant, which have not performed the words of the covenant which they made before me, when they cut the calf in twain and passed between the parts thereof; ¹⁹ the princes of Judah, and the princes of Jerusalem, the eunuchs, and the priests, and all the people of the land, which passed between the parts of the calf; ²⁰ I will even give them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life: and their dead bodies shall be for meat unto the fowls of the heaven, and to the beasts of the earth. ²¹ And Zedekiah king of Judah and his princes will I give into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life, and into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, which are gone up from you. ²² Behold, I will command, saith the LORD, and cause them to return to this city; and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burn it with fire: and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation, without inhabitant.

nor plant vineyard, nor have any: but all your days ye shall dwell in tents; that ye may live many days in the land wherein ye sojourn. ⁸ And we have obeyed the voice of Jonadab the son of Rechab our father in all that he charged us, to drink no wine all our days, we, our wives, our sons, nor our daughters; ⁹ nor to build houses for us to dwell in: neither have we vineyard, nor field, nor seed: ¹⁰ but we have dwelt in tents, and have obeyed, and done according to all that Jonadab our father commanded us. ¹¹ But it came to pass, when Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came up into the land, that we said, Come, and let us go to Jerusalem for fear of the army of the Chaldeans, and for fear of the army of the Syrians; so we dwell at Jerusalem. ¹² Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying, ¹³ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Go, and say to the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, Will ye not receive instruction to hearken to my words? saith the LORD. ¹⁴ The words of Jonadab the son of Rechab, that he commanded his sons, not to drink wine, are performed, and unto this day they drink none, for they obey their father's commandment: but I have spoken unto you, rising up early and speaking; and ye have not hearkened unto me. ¹⁵ I have sent also unto you all my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them, saying, Return ye now every man from his evil way, and amend your doings, and go not after other gods to serve them, and ye shall dwell in the land which I have given to you and to your fathers: but ye have not inclined your ear, nor hearkened unto me. ¹⁶ Forasmuch as the sons of Jonadab the son of Rechab have performed the commandment of their father which he commanded them, but this people hath not hearkened unto me; ¹⁷ therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring upon Judah and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem all the evil that I have pronounced against them: because I have spoken unto them, but they have not heard; and I have called unto them, but they have not answered. ¹⁸ And Jeremiah said unto the house of the Rechabites, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Because ye have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according unto all that he commanded you; ¹⁹ therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Jonadab the son of Rechab shall not want a man to stand before me for ever.

¹ And it came to pass in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, that this word came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, ² Take thee a roll of a book, and write thereon all the words that I have spoken unto thee against Israel, and against Judah, and against all the nations, from the day I spake unto thee, from the days of Josiah, even unto this day. ³ It may be that the house of Judah will hear all the evil which I purpose to do unto them; that they may return every man from his evil way; that I may forgive their iniquity and their sin. ⁴ Then Jeremiah called Baruch the son of Neriah; and Baruch wrote from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the LORD, which he had spoken unto him, upon a roll of a book. ⁵ And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying, I am shut up; I cannot go into the house of the LORD: ⁶ therefore go thou, and read in the roll, which thou hast written from my mouth, the words of the LORD in the ears of the people in the LORD'S house upon the fast day: and also thou shalt read them in the ears of all Judah that come out of their cities. ⁷ It may be they will present their supplication before the LORD, and will return every one from his evil way: for great is the anger and the fury that the LORD hath pronounced against this people. ⁸ And Baruch the son of Neriah did according to all that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, reading in the book the words of the LORD in the LORD'S house. ⁹ Now it came to pass in the fifth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, in the ninth month, that all the people in Jerusalem, and all the people that came from the cities of Judah unto Jerusalem, proclaimed a fast before the LORD. ¹⁰ Then read Baruch in the book the words of Jeremiah in the house of the LORD, in the chamber of Gemariah the son of Shaphan the scribe, in the upper court, at the entry of the new gate of the LORD'S house, in the ears of all the people. ¹¹ And when Micaiah the son of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan, had heard out of the book all the words of the LORD, ¹² he went down into the king's house, into the scribe's chamber: and, lo, all the princes sat there, even Elishama the scribe, and Delaiah the son of Shemaiah, and Elnathan the son of Achbor, and Gemariah the son of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the son of Hananiah, and all the princes. ¹³ Then Micaiah declared unto them all the words that he had heard, when Baruch read the book in the ears of the people. ¹⁴ Therefore all the princes sent Jehudi the son of Nethaniah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Cushi, unto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the roll wherein thou hast read in the ears of the people, and come. So Baruch the son of Neriah took the roll in his hand, and came unto them. ¹⁵ And they said unto him, Sit down now, and read it in our ears. So Baruch read it in their ears. ¹⁶ Now it came to pass, when they had heard all the words, they turned in fear one toward another, and said unto Baruch, We will surely tell the king of all these words. ¹⁷ And they asked Baruch, saying, tell us now, How didst thou write all these words at his mouth? ¹⁸ Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these words unto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink in the book. ¹⁹ Then said the princes unto Baruch, Go, hide thee, thou and Jeremiah; and let no man know where ye be. ²⁰ And they went in to the king into the court; but they had laid up the roll in the chamber of Elishama the scribe; and they told all the words in the ears of the king. ²¹ So the king sent Jehudi to fetch the roll: and he took it out of the chamber of Elishama the scribe. And Jehudi read it in the ears of the king, and in the ears of all the princes which stood beside the king. ²² Now the king sat in the winter house in the ninth month: and there was a fire in the brasier burning before him. ²³ And it came to pass, when Jehudi had read three or four leaves, that the king cut it with the penknife, and cast it into the fire that was in the brasier, until all the roll was consumed in the fire that was in the brasier. ²⁴ And they were not afraid, nor rent their garments, neither the king, nor any of his servants that heard all these words. ²⁵ Moreover Elnathan and Delaiah and Gemariah had made intercession to the king that he would not burn the roll: but he would not hear them. ²⁶ And the king commanded Jerahmeel the king's son, and Seraiah the son of Azriel, and Shelemiah the son of Abdeel, to take Baruch the scribe and Jeremiah the prophet: but the LORD hid them. ²⁷ Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, after that the king had burned the roll, and the words which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah, saying, ²⁸ Take thee again another roll, and write in it all the former words that were in the first roll, which Jehoiakim the king of Judah hath burned. ²⁹ And concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah thou shalt say, Thus saith the LORD: Thou hast burned this roll, saying, Why hast thou written therein, saying, The king of Babylon shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall cause to cease from thence man and beast? ³⁰ Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah: He shall have none to sit upon the throne of David: and his dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the frost. ³¹ And I will punish him and his seed and his servants for their iniquity; and I will bring upon them, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and upon the men of Judah, all the evil that I have pronounced against them, but they hearkened not. ³² Then took Jeremiah another roll, and gave it to Baruch the scribe, the son of Neriah; who wrote therein from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the book which Jehoiakim king of Judah had burned in the fire: and there were added besides unto them many like words.

that besieged Jerusalem heard tidings of them, they brake up from Jerusalem. ⁶Then came the word of the LORD unto the prophet Jeremiah, saying, ⁷Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel: Thus shall ye say to the king of Judah, that sent you unto me to inquire of me; Behold, Pharaoh's army, which is come forth to help you, shall return to Egypt into their own land. ⁸And the Chaldeans shall come again, and fight against this city; and they shall take it, and burn it with fire. ⁹Thus saith the LORD: Deceive not yourselves, saying, The Chaldeans shall surely depart from us: for they shall not depart. ¹⁰For though ye had smitten the whole army of the Chaldeans that fight against you, and there remained but wounded men among them, yet should they rise up every man in his tent, and burn this city with fire. ¹¹And it came to pass that when the army of the Chaldeans was broken up from Jerusalem for fear of Pharaoh's army, ¹²then Jeremiah went forth out of Jerusalem to go into the land of Benjamin, to receive his portion there, in the midst of the people. ¹³And when he was in the gate of Benjamin, a captain of the ward was there, whose name was Irijah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Hananiah; and he laid hold on Jeremiah the prophet, saying, Thou fastest away to the Chaldeans. ¹⁴Then said Jeremiah, It is false; I fall not away to the Chaldeans; but he hearkened not to him: so Irijah laid hold on Jeremiah, and brought him to the princes. ¹⁵And the princes were wroth with Jeremiah, and smote him, and put him in prison in the house of Jonathan the scribe; for they had made that the prison. ¹⁶When Jeremiah was come into the dungeon house, and into the cells, and Jeremiah had remained there many days; ¹⁷Then Zedekiah the king sent, and fetched him: and the king asked him secretly in his house, and said, Is there any word from the LORD? And Jeremiah said, There is. He said also, Thou shalt be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon. ¹⁸Moreover Jeremiah said unto king Zedekiah, Wherein have I sinned against thee, or against thy servants, or against this people, that ye have put me in prison? ¹⁹Where now are your prophets which prophesied unto you, saying, The king of Babylon shall not come against you, nor against this land? ²⁰And now hear, I pray thee, O my lord the king: let my supplication, I pray thee, be accepted before thee; that thou cause me not to return to the house of Jonathan the scribe, lest I die there. ²¹Then Zedekiah the king commanded, and they committed Jeremiah into the court of the guard, and they gave him daily a loaf of bread out of the bakers' street, until all the bread in the city was spent. Thus Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard.

¹And Shephatiah the son of Mattan, and Gedaliah the son of Pashhur, and Jucal the son of Shelemiah, and Pashhur the son of Malchijah, heard the words that Jeremiah spake unto all the people, saying, ²Thus saith the LORD, He that abideth in this city shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth forth to the Chaldeans shall live, and his life shall be unto him for a prey, and he shall live. ³Thus saith the LORD, This city shall surely be given into the hand of the army of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it. ⁴Then the princes said unto the king, Let this man, we pray thee, be put to death; forasmuch as he weakeneth the hands of the men of war that remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such words unto them: for this man seeketh not the welfare of this people, but the hurt. ⁵And Zedekiah the king said, Behold, he is in your hand: for the king is not he that can do any thing against you. ⁶Then took they Jeremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Malchijah the king's son, that was in the court of the guard: and they let down Jeremiah with cords. And in the dungeon there was no water, but mire: and Jeremiah sank in the mire. ⁷Now when Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, an eunuch, which was in the king's house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the dungeon; the king then sitting in the gate of Benjamin; ⁸Ebed-melech went forth out of the king's house, and spake to the king, saying, ⁹My lord the king, these men have done evil in all that they have done to Jeremiah the prophet, whom they have cast into the dungeon; and he is like to die in the place where he is because of the famine: for there is no more bread in the city. ¹⁰ Then the king commanded Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Take from hence thirty men with thee, and take up Jeremiah the prophet out of the dungeon, before he die. ¹¹ So Ebed-melech took the men with him, and went into the house of the king under the treasury, and took thence old cast clouts and old rotten rags, and let them down by cords into the dungeon to Jeremiah. ¹² And Ebed-melech the Ethiopian said unto Jeremiah, Put now these old cast clouts and rotten rags under thine armholes under the cords. And Jeremiah did so. ¹³ So they drew up Jeremiah with the cords, and took him up out of the dungeon: and Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard. ¹⁴ Then Zedekiah the king sent, and took Jeremiah the prophet unto him into the third entry that is in the house of the LORD: and the king said unto Jeremiah, I will ask thee a thing; hide nothing from me. ¹⁵ Then Jeremiah said unto Zedekiah, If I declare it unto thee, wilt thou not surely put me to death? and if I give thee counsel, thou wilt not hearken unto me. ¹⁶ So Zedekiah the king swore secretly unto Jeremiah, saying, As the LORD liveth, that made us this soul, I will not put thee to death, neither will I give thee into the hand of these men that seek thy life. ¹⁷ Then said Jeremiah unto Zedekiah, Thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: If thou wilt go forth unto the king of Babylon's princes, then thy soul shall live, and this city shall not be burned with fire; and thou shalt live, and thine house: ¹⁸ But if thou wilt not go forth to the king of Babylon's princes, then shall this city be given into the hand of the Chaldeans, and they shall burn it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their hand. ¹⁹ And Zedekiah the king said unto Jeremiah, I am afraid of the Jews that are fallen away to the Chaldeans, lest they deliver me into their hand, and they mock me. ²⁰ But Jeremiah said, They shall not deliver thee. Obey, I beseech thee, the voice of the LORD, in that which I speak unto thee: so it shall be well with thee, and thy soul shall live. ²¹ But if thou refuse to go forth, this is the word that the LORD hath shewed me: ²² behold, all the women that are left in the king of Judah's house shall be brought forth to the king of Babylon's princes, and those women shall say, Thy familiar friends have set thee on, and have prevailed over thee: now that thy feet are sunk in the mire: they are turned away back. ²³ And they shall bring out all thy wives and thy children to the Chaldeans: and thou shalt not escape out of their hand, but shalt be taken by the hand of the king of Babylon: and thou shalt cause this city to be burned with fire. ²⁴ Then said Zedekiah unto Jeremiah, Let no man know of these words, and thou shalt not die. ²⁵ But if the princes hear that I have talked with thee, and they come unto thee, and say unto thee, Declare unto us now what thou hast said unto the king; hide it not from us, and we will not put thee to death: also what the king said unto thee: ²⁶ then thou shalt say unto them, I presented my supplication before the king, that he would not cause me to return to Jonathan's house, to die there. ²⁷ Then came all the princes unto Jeremiah, and asked him: and he told them according to all these words that the king had commanded. So they left off speaking with him; for the matter was not perceived. ²⁸ So Jeremiah abode in the court of the guard until the day that Jerusalem was taken. And it came to pass when Jerusalem was taken,

had taken him, they brought him up to Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath, and he gave judgment upon him. ⁶Then the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: also the king of Babylon slew all the nobles of Judah. ⁷Moreover he put out Zedekiah's eyes, and bound him in fetters, to carry him to Babylon. ⁸And the Chaldeans burned the king's house, and the houses of the people, with fire, and brake down the walls of Jerusalem. ⁹Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive into Babylon the residue of the people that remained in the city, the deserters also, that fell away to him, and the residue of the people that remained. ¹⁰But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left of the poor of the people, which had nothing, in the land of Judah, and gave them vineyards and fields at the same time. ¹¹Now Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon gave charge concerning Jeremiah to Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, saying, ¹²Take him, and look well to him, and do him no harm; but do unto him even as he shall say unto thee. ¹³So Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard sent, and Nebushazban, Rab-saris, and Nergal-sharezer, Rab-mag, and all the chief officers of the king of Babylon; ¹⁴they sent, and took Jeremiah out of the court of the guard, and committed him unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, that he should carry him home: so he dwelt among the people. ¹⁵Now the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, while he was shut up in the court of the guard, saying, ¹⁶Go, and speak to Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring my words upon this city for evil, and not for good; and they shall be accomplished before thee in that day. ¹⁷But I will deliver thee in that day, saith the LORD: and thou shalt not be given into the hand of the men of whom thou art afraid. ¹⁸For I will surely save thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall be for a prey unto thee: because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the LORD.

tain of the guard had let him go from Ramah, when he had taken him being bound in chains among all the captives of Jerusalem and Judah, which were carried away captive unto Babylon. ²And the captain of the guard took Jeremiah, and said unto him, the LORD thy God pronounced this evil upon this place: ³and the LORD hath brought it, and done according as he spake; because ye have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing is come upon you. ⁴And now, behold, I loose thee this day from the chains which are upon thine hand. If it seem good unto thee to come with me into Babylon, come, and I will look well unto thee: but if it seem ill unto thee to come with me into Babylon, forbear: behold, all the land is before thee; whither it seemeth good and convenient unto thee to go, thither go. ⁵Now while he was not yet gone back, Go back then, said he, to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon hath made governor over the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people: or go wheresoever it seemeth convenient unto thee to go. So the captain of the guard gave him victuals and a present, and let him go. ⁶Then went Jeremiah unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah, and dwelt with him among the people that were left in the land. ⁷Now when all the captains of the forces which were in the fields, even they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the son of Ahikam governor in the land, and had committed unto him men, and women, and children, and of the poorest of the land, of them that were not carried away captive to Babylon; ⁸then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, even Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and Johanan and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, and Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth, and the sons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah the son of the Maacathite, they and their men. ⁹And Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan sware unto them and to their men, saying, Fear not to serve the Chaldeans: dwell in the land, and serve the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you. ¹⁰As for me, behold, I will dwell at Mizpah, to stand before the Chaldeans, which shall come unto us: but ye, gather ye wine and summer fruits and oil, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities that ye have taken. ¹¹Likewise when all the Jews that were in Moab, and among the children of Ammon, and in Edom, and that were in all the countries, heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant of Judah, and that he had set over them Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan; ¹²then all the Jews returned out of all places whither they were driven, and came to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah, unto Mizpah, and gathered wine and summer fruits very much. ¹³Moreover Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, ¹⁴and said unto him, Dost thou know that Baalis the king of the children of Ammon hath sent Ishmael the son of Nethaniah to take thy life? But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam believed them not. ¹⁵Then Johanan the son of Kareah spake to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let me go, I pray thee, and I will slay Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it: wherefore should he take thy life, that all the Jews which are gathered unto thee should be scattered, and the remnant of Judah perish? ¹⁶But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam said unto Johanan the son of Kareah, Thou shalt not do this thing: for thou speakest falsely of Ishmael.

¹Now it came to pass in the seventh month, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, the son of Elishama, of the seed royal, and one of the chief officers of the king, and ten men with him, came unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah; and there they did eat bread together in Mizpah. ²Then arose Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and the ten men that were with him, and smote Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan with the sword, and slew him, whom the king of Babylon had made governor over the land. ³Ishmael also slew all the Jews that were with him, even with Gedaliah, at Mizpah, and the Chaldeans that were found there, even the men of war. ⁴And it came to pass the second day after he had slain Gedaliah, and no man knew it, ⁵that there came certain from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, even fourscore men, having their beards shaven and their clothes rent, and having cut themselves, with oblations and frankincense in their hand, to bring them to the house of the LORD. ⁶And Ishmael the son of Nethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meet them, weeping all along as he went: and it came to pass, as he met them, he said unto them, Come to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam. ⁷And it was so, when they came into the midst of the city, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah slew them, and cast them into the midst of the pit, he, and the men that were with him. ⁸But ten men were found among them that said unto Ishmael, Slay us not: for we have stores hidden in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oil, and of honey. So he forbore, and slew them not among their brethren. ⁹Now the pit wherein Ishmael cast all the dead bodies of the men whom he had slain, by the side of Gedaliah, (the same was that which Asa the king had made for fear of Baasha king of Israel,) Ishmael the son of Nethaniah filled it with them that were slain. ¹⁰Then Ishmael carried away captive all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, even the king's daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had committed to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam: Ishmael the son of Nethaniah carried them away captive, and departed to go over to the children of Ammon. ¹¹But when Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, heard of all the evil that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had done, ¹²then they took all the men, and went to fight with Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon. ¹³Now it came to pass that when all the people which were with Ishmael saw Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, then they were glad. ¹⁴So all the people that Ishmael had carried away captive from Mizpah cast about and returned, and went unto Johanan the son of Kareah. ¹⁵But Ishmael the son of Nethaniah escaped from Johanan with eight men, and went to the children of Ammon. ¹⁶Then took Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, all the remnant of the people whom he had recovered from Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, from Mizpah, after that he had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, even the men of war, and the women, and the children, and the eunuchs, whom he had brought again from Gibeon: ¹⁷ and they departed, and dwelt in Geruth Chimham, which is by Bethlehem, to go to enter into Egypt, ¹⁸ because of the Chaldeans: for they were afraid of them, because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon made governor over the land.

¹ Then all the captains of the forces, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and Jezaniah the son of Hoshaiiah, and all the people from the least even unto the greatest, came near, ² and said unto Jeremiah the prophet, Let, we pray thee, our supplication be accepted before thee, and pray for us unto the LORD thy God, even for all this remnant; for we are left but a few of many, as thine eyes do behold us: ³ that the LORD thy God may shew us the way wherein we should walk, and the thing that we should do. ⁴ Then Jeremiah the prophet said unto them, I have heard you; behold, I will pray unto the LORD your God according to your words; and it shall come to pass that whatsoever thing the LORD shall answer you, I will declare it unto you; I will keep nothing back from you. ⁵ Then they said to Jeremiah, The LORD be a true and faithful witness amongst us, if we do not even according to all the word wherewith the LORD thy God shall send thee to us. ⁶ Whether it be good, or whether it be evil, we will obey the voice of the LORD our God, to whom we send thee; that it may be well with us, when we obey the voice of the LORD our God. ⁷ And it came to pass after ten days, that the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah. ⁸ Then called he Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces which were with him, and all the people from the least even to the greatest, ⁹ and said unto them, Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, unto whom ye sent me to present your supplication before him: ¹⁰ If ye will still abide in this land, then will I build you, and not pull you down, and I will plant you, and not pluck you up: for I repent me of the evil that I have done unto you. ¹¹ Be not afraid of the king of Babylon, of whom ye are afraid; be not afraid of him, saith the LORD: for I am with you to save you, and to deliver you from his hand. ¹² And I will grant you mercy, that he may have mercy upon you, and cause you to return to your own land. ¹³ But if ye say, We will not dwell in this land; so that ye obey not the voice of the LORD your God; ¹⁴ saying, No; but we will go into the land of Egypt, where we shall see no war, nor hear the sound of the trumpet, nor have hunger of bread; and there will we dwell: ¹⁵ now therefore hear ye the word of the LORD, O remnant of Judah: thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, If ye wholly set your faces to enter into Egypt, and go to sojourn there; ¹⁶ then it shall come to pass, that the sword, which ye feel shall overtake you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, whereof ye are afraid, shall follow hard after you there in Egypt; and there ye shall die. ¹⁷ So shall it be with all the men that set their faces to go into Egypt to sojourn there; they shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence: and none of them shall remain or escape from the evil that I will bring upon them. ¹⁸ For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; As mine anger and my fury hath been poured forth upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so shall my fury be poured forth upon you, when ye shall enter into Egypt: and ye shall be an execration, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach; and ye shall see this place no more. ¹⁹ The LORD hath spoken concerning you, O remnant of Judah, Go ye not into Egypt: know certainly that I have testified unto you this day. ²⁰ For ye have dealt deceitfully against your own souls; for ye sent me unto the LORD your God, saying, Pray for us unto the LORD our God; and according unto all that the LORD our God shall say, so declare unto us, and we will do it: ²¹ and I have this day declared it to you; but ye have not obeyed the voice of the LORD your God in any thing for the which he hath sent me unto you. ²² Now therefore know certainly that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, in the place whither ye desire to go to sojourn there.

¹And it came to pass that when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking unto all the people all the words of the LORD their God, wherewith the LORD their God had sent him to them, even all these words, ²then spake Azariah the son of Hoshaiiah, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the proud men, saying unto Jeremiah, Thou speakest falsely: the LORD our God hath not sent thee to say, Ye shall not go into Egypt to sojourn there: ³but Baruch the son of Neriah setteth thee on against us, for to deliver us into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they may put us to death, and carry us away captives to Babylon. ⁴So Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, and all the people, obeyed not the voice of the LORD, to dwell in the land of Judah. ⁵But Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, took all the remnant of Judah, that were returned from all the nations whither they had been driven to sojourn in the land of Judah; ⁶the men, and the women, and the children, and the king's daughters, and every person that Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had left with Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the prophet, and Baruch the son of Neriah; ⁷and they came into the land of Egypt; for they obeyed not the voice of the LORD: and they came even to Tahpanhes. ⁸Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, saying, ⁹Take great stones in thine hand, and hide them in mortar in the brickwork, which is at the entry of Pharaoh's house in Tahpanhes, in the sight of the men of Judah; ¹⁰and say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will send and take Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, my servant, and will set his throne upon these stones that I have hid; and he shall spread his royal pavilion over them. ¹¹And he shall come, and shall smite the land of Egypt; such as are for death shall be given to death, and such as are for captivity to captivity, and such as are for the sword to the sword. ¹²And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt; and he shall burn them, and carry them away captives: and he shall array himself with the land of Egypt, as a shepherd putteth on his garment; and he shall go forth from thence in peace. ¹³He shall also break the pillars of Beth-shemesh, that is in the land of Egypt; and the houses of the gods of Egypt shall he burn with fire.

¹The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews which dwelt in the land of Egypt, which dwelt at Migdol, and at Tahpanhes, and at Noph, and in the country of Pathros, saying, ²Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Ye have seen all the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, and upon all the cities of Judah; and, behold, this day they are a desolation, and no man dwelleth therein; ³because of their wickedness which they have committed to provoke me to anger, in that they went to burn incense, and to serve other gods, whom they knew not, neither they, nor ye, nor your fathers. ⁴Howbeit I sent unto you all my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them, saying, Oh, do not this abominable thing that I hate. ⁵But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear to turn from their wickedness, to burn no incense unto other gods. ⁶Wherefore my fury and mine anger was poured forth, and was kindled in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; and they are wasted and desolate, as it is this day. ⁷Therefore now thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: Wherefore commit ye this great evil against your own souls, to cut off from you man and woman, infant and suckling, out of the midst of Judah, to leave you none remaining; ⁸in that ye provoke me unto anger with the works of your hands, burning incense unto other gods in the land of Egypt, whither ye be gone to sojourn; that ye may be cut off, and that ye may be a curse and a reproach among all the nations of the earth? ⁹Have ye forgotten the wickedness of your fathers, and the wickedness of the kings of Judah, and the wickedness of their wives, and your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives, which they committed in the land of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem? ¹⁰They are not humbled even unto this day, neither have they feared, nor walked in my law, nor in my statutes, that

I set before you and before your fathers.¹¹ Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will set my face against you for evil, even to cut off all Judah.¹² And I will take the remnant of Judah, that have set their faces to go into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, and they shall all be consumed; in the land of Egypt shall they fall; they shall be consumed, by the sword and by the famine; they shall die, from the least even unto the greatest, by the sword and by the famine: and they shall be an execration, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach.¹³ For I will punish them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I have punished Jerusalem, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence:¹⁴ so that none of the remnant of Judah, which are gone into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, shall escape or remain, that they should return into the land of Judah, to the which they have a desire to return to dwell there: for none shall return save such as shall escape.¹⁵ Then all the men which knew that their wives burned incense unto other gods, and all the women that stood by, a great assembly, even all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt, in Pathros, answered Jeremiah, saying,¹⁶ As for the word that thou hast spoken unto us in the name of the LORD, we will not hearken unto thee.¹⁷ But we will certainly perform every word that is gone forth out of our mouth, to burn incense unto the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her, as we have done, we and our fathers, our kings and our princes, in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem: for then had we plenty of victuals, and were well, and saw no evil.¹⁸ But since we left off to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her, we have wanted all things, and have been consumed by the sword and by the famine.¹⁹ And when we burned incense to the queen of heaven, and poured out drink offerings unto her, did we make her cakes to worship her, and pour out drink offerings unto her, without our husbands?²⁰ Then Jeremiah said unto all the people, to the men, and to the women, even to all the people which had given him that answer, saying,²¹ The incense that ye burned in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, ye and your fathers, your kings and your princes, and the people of the land, did not the LORD remember them, and came it not into his mind?²² so the LORD could no longer bear, because of the evil of your doings, and because of the abominations which ye have committed; therefore is your land become a desolation, and an astonishment, and a curse, without inhabitant, as it is this day.²³ Because ye have burned incense, and because ye have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD, nor walked in his law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies; therefore this evil is happened unto you, as it is this day.²⁴ Moreover Jeremiah said unto all the people, and to all the women, Hear the word of the LORD, all Judah that are in the land of Egypt:²⁵ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying: Ye and your wives have both spoken with your mouths, and with your hands have fulfilled it, saying, We will surely perform our vows that we have vowed, to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her: establish then your vows, and perform your vows.²⁶ Therefore hear ye the word of the LORD, all Judah that dwell in the land of Egypt: Behold, I have sworn by my great name, saith the LORD, that my name shall no more be named in the mouth of any man of Judah in all the land of Egypt, saying, As the Lord GOD liveth.²⁷ Behold, I watch over them for evil, and not for good: and all the men of Judah that are in the land of Egypt shall be consumed by the sword and by the famine, until there be an end of them.²⁸ And they that escape the sword shall return out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah, few in number; and all the remnant of Judah, that are gone into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, shall know whose word shall stand, mine, or theirs.²⁹ And this shall be the sign unto you, saith the LORD, that I will punish you in this place, that ye may know that my words shall surely stand against you for evil:³⁰ Thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will give Pharaoh Hophra king of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seek his life; as I gave Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, his enemy, and that sought his life.

¹The word that Jeremiah the prophet spake unto Baruch the son of Neriah, when he wrote these words in a book at the mouth of Jeremiah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah; saying, ²Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, unto thee, O Baruch: ³Thou didst say, Woe is me now! for the LORD hath added sorrow to my pain; I am weary with my groaning, and I find no rest. ⁴Thus shalt thou say unto him, Thus saith the LORD: Behold, that which I have built will I break down, and that which I have planted I will pluck up; and this in the whole land. ⁵And seekest thou great things for thyself? seek them not: for, behold, I will bring evil upon all flesh, saith the LORD: but thy life will I give unto thee for a prey in all places whither thou goest.

¹The word of the LORD which came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the nations. ²Of Egypt: concerning the army of Pharaoh-neco, king of Egypt, which was by the river Euphrates in Carchemish, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon smote in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah. ³Order ye the buckler and shield, and draw near to battle. ⁴Harness the horses, and get up, ye horsemen, and stand forth with your helmets; furbish the spears, put on the coats of mail. ⁵Wherefore have I seen it? they are dismayed and are turned backward; and their mighty ones are beaten down, and are fled apace, and look not back: terror is on every side, saith the LORD. ⁶Let not the swift flee away, nor the mighty man escape; in the north by the river Euphrates have they stumbled, and fallen. ⁷Who is this that riseth up like the Nile, whose waters toss themselves like the rivers? ⁸Egypt riseth up like the Nile, and his waters toss themselves like the rivers: and he saith, I will rise up, I will cover the earth; I will destroy the city and the inhabitants thereof. ⁹Go up, ye horses; and rage, ye chariots; and let the mighty men go forth: Cush and Put, that handle the shield; and the Ludim, that handle and bend the bow.

¹⁰For that day is a day of the Lord, the LORD of hosts, a day of vengeance, that he may avenge him of his adversaries: and the sword shall devour and be satiate, and shall drink its fill of their blood: for the Lord, the LORD of hosts, hath a sacrifice in the north country by the river Euphrates. ¹¹Go up into Gilead, and take balm, O virgin daughter of Egypt: in vain dost thou use many medicines; there is no healing for thee. ¹²The nations have heard of thy shame, and the earth is full of thy cry: for the mighty man hath stumbled against the mighty, they are fallen both of them together. ¹³The word that the LORD spake to Jeremiah the prophet, how that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon should come and smite the land of Egypt. ¹⁴Declare ye in Egypt, and publish in Migdol, and publish in Noph and in Tahpanhes: say ye, stand forth, and prepare thee; for the sword hath devoured round about thee. ¹⁵Why are thy strong ones swept away? they stood not, because the LORD did drive them. ¹⁶He made many to stumble, yea, they fell one upon another: and they said, Arise, and let us go again to our own people, and to the land of our nativity, from the oppressing sword. ¹⁷They cried there, Pharaoh king of Egypt is but a noise; he hath let the appointed time pass by. ¹⁸As I live, saith the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts, surely like Tabor among the mountains, and like Carmel by the sea, so shall he come. ¹⁹O thou daughter that dwellest in Egypt, furnish thyself to go into captivity: for Noph shall become a desolation, and shall be burnt up, without inhabitant. ²⁰Egypt is a very fair heifer; but destruction out of the north is come, it is come. ²¹Also her hired men in the midst of her are like calves of the stall; for they also are turned back, they are fled away together, they did not stand: for the day of their calamity is come upon them, the time of their visitation. ²²The sound thereof shall go like the serpent; for they shall march with an army, and come against her with axes, as hewers of wood. ²³They shall cut down her forest, saith the LORD, though it cannot be searched; because they are more than the locusts, and are innumerable. ²⁴The daughter of Egypt shall be put to shame; she shall be delivered into the hand of the people of the north. ²⁵The LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saith: Behold, I will punish Amon of No, and Pharaoh, and Egypt, with her gods, and her kings; even Pharaoh, and them that trust in him: ²⁶and I will deliver them into the hand of those that seek their lives, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of his servants: and afterwards it shall be inhabited, as in the days of old, saith the LORD. ²⁷But fear not thou, O Jacob my servant, neither be dismayed, O Israel: for, low, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed from the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and shall be quiet and at ease, and none shall make him afraid. ²⁸Fear not thou, O Jacob my servant, saith the LORD; for I am with thee: for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have driven thee, but I will not make a full end of thee; but I will correct thee with judgment, and will in no wise leave thee unpunished.

¹ The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the Philistines, before that Pharaoh smote Gaza. ²Thus saith the LORD: Behold, waters rise up out of the north, and shall become an overflowing stream, and shall overflow the land and all that is therein, the city and them that dwell therein: and the men shall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land shall howl. ³At the noise of the stamping of the hoofs of his strong ones, at the rushing of his chariots, at the rumbling of his wheels, the fathers look not back to their children for feebleness of hands; 'because of the day that cometh to spoil all the Philistines, to cut off from Tyre and Zidon every helper that remaineth: for the LORD will spoil the Philistines, the remnant of the isle of Caph-tor. ⁵Baldness is come upon Gaza; Ashkelon is brought to nought, the remnant of their valley: how long wilt thou cut thyself? ⁶O thou sword of the LORD, how long will it be ere thou be quiet? put up thyself into thy scabbard; rest, and be still. ⁷How canst thou be quiet, seeing the LORD hath given thee a charge? against Ashkelon, and against the sea shore, there hath he appointed it.

the God of Israel: Woe unto Nebo! for it is laid waste; Kiriathaim is put to shame, it is taken: Misgab is put to shame and broken down. ²The praise of Moab is no more; in Heshbon they have devised evil against her, Come, and let us cut her off from being a nation. Thou also, O Madmen, shalt be brought to silence; the sword shall pursue thee. ³The sound of a cry from Horonaim, spoiling and great destruction! ⁴Moab is destroyed; her little ones have caused a cry to be heard. ⁵For by the ascent of Luhith with continual weeping shall they go up; for in the going down of Horonaim they have heard the distress of the cry of destruction. ⁶Flee, save your lives, and be like the heath in the wilderness. ⁷For, because thou hast trusted in thy works and in thy treasures, thou also shalt be taken: and Chemosh shall go forth into captivity, his priests and his princes together. ⁸And the spoiler shall come upon every city, and no city shall escape; the valley also shall perish, and the plain shall be destroyed; as the LORD hath spoken. ⁹Give wings unto Moab, that she may fly and get her away; and her cities shall become a desolation, without any to dwell therein. ¹⁰Cursed be he that doeth the work of the LORD negligently, and cursed be he that keepeth back his sword from blood. ¹¹Moab hath been at ease from his youth, and he hath settled on his lees, and hath not been emptied from vessel to vessel, neither hath he gone into captivity: therefore his taste remaineth in him, and his scent is not changed. ¹²Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will send unto him them that pour off, and they shall pour him off; and they shall empty his vessels, and break their bottles in pieces. ¹³And Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of Beth-el their confidence. ¹⁴How say ye, We are mighty men, and valiant men for the war? ¹⁵Moab is laid waste, and they are gone up into her cities; and his chosen young men are gone down to the slaughter, saith the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts. ¹⁶The calamity of Moab is near to come, and his affliction hasteth fast. ¹⁷All ye that are round about him, bemoan him, and all ye that know his name; say, How is the strong staff broken, the beautiful rod! ¹⁸ O thou daughter that dwellest in Dibon, come down from thy glory, and sit in thirst; for the spoiler of Moab is come up against thee, he hath destroyed thy strong holds. ¹⁹ O inhabitant of Aroer, stand by the way, and espy: ask him that fleeth, and her that escapeth; say, What hath been done? ²⁰ Moab is put to shame; for it is broken down: howl and cry; tell ye it in Arnon, that Moab is laid waste. ²¹ And judgment is come upon the plain country; upon Holon, and upon Jahzah, and upon Mephaath; ²² and upon Dibon, and upon Nebo, and upon Beth-diblathaim; ²³ and upon Kiriathaim, and upon Beth-gamul, and upon Beth-meon; ²⁴ and upon Kerioth, and upon Bozrah, and upon all the cities of the land of Moab, far or near. ²⁵ The horn of Moab is cut off, and his arm is broken, saith the LORD. ²⁶ Make ye him drunken; for he magnified himself against the LORD: and Moab shall wallow in his vomit, and he also shall be in derision. ²⁷ For was not Israel a derision unto thee? was he found among thieves? for as often as thou speakest of him, thou waggest the head. ²⁸ O ye inhabitants of Moab, leave the cities, and dwell in the rock; and be like the dove that maketh her nest in the sides of the holes mouth. ²⁹ We have heard of the pride of Moab, that he is very proud; his loftiness, and his pride, and his arrogance, and the haughtiness of his heart. ³⁰ I know his wrath, saith the LORD, that it is nought; his boastings have wrought nothing. ³¹ Therefore will I howl for Moab; yea, I will cry out for all Moab: for the men of Kir-heres shall they mourn. ³² With more than the weeping of Jazer will I weep for thee, O vine of Sibmah: thy branches passed over the sea, they reached even to the sea of Jazer: upon thy summer fruits and upon thy vintage the spoiler is fallen. ³³ And gladness and joy is taken away, from the fruitful field and from the land of Moab; and I have caused wine to cease from the winepresses: none shall tread with shouting; the shouting shall be no shouting. ³⁴ From the cry of Heshbon even unto Elealeh, even unto Jahaz have they uttered their voice, from Zoar even unto Horonaim, to Eglath-shelishiyah: for the waters of Nimrim also shall become desolate. ³⁵ Moreover I will cause to cease in Moab, saith the LORD, him that offereth in the high place, and him that burneth incense to his gods. ³⁶ Therefore mine heart soundeth for Moab like pipes, and mine heart soundeth like pipes for the men of Kir-heres: therefore the abundance that he hath gotten is perished. ³⁷ For every head is bald, and every beard clipped: upon all the hands are cuttings, and upon the loins sackcloth. ³⁸ On all the housetops of Moab and in the streets thereof there is lamentation every where: for I have broken Moab like a vessel wherein is no pleasure, saith the LORD. ³⁹ How is it broken down! how do they howl! how hath Moab turned the back with shame! so shall Moab become a derision and a dismaying to all that are round about him. ⁴⁰ For thus saith the LORD: Behold, he shall fly as an eagle, and shall spread out his wings against Moab. ⁴¹ Kerioth is taken, and the strong holds are surprised, and the heart of the mighty men of Moab at that day shall be as the heart of a woman in her pangs. ⁴² And Moab shall be destroyed from being a people, because he hath magnified himself against the LORD. ⁴³ Fear, and the pit, and the snare, are upon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith the LORD. ⁴⁴ He that fleeth from the fear shall fall into the pit; and he that getteth up out of the pit shall be taken in the snare: for I will bring upon her, even upon Moab, the year of their visitation, saith the LORD. ⁴⁵ They that fled stand without strength under the shadow of Heshbon: for a fire is gone forth out of Heshbon, and a flame from the midst of Sihon, and hath devoured the corner of Moab, and the crown of the head of the tumultuous ones. ⁴⁶ Woe unto thee, O Moab! the people of Chemosh is undone: for thy sons are taken away captive, and thy daughters into captivity. ⁴⁷ Yet will I bring again the captivity of Moab in the latter days, saith the LORD. Thus far is the judgment of Moab.

¹ Of the children of Ammon. Thus saith the LORD: Hath Israel no sons? hath he no heir? why then doth Malcam possess Gad, and his people dwell in the cities thereof? ² Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will cause an alarm of war to be heard against Rabbah of the children of Ammon; and it shall become a desolate heap, and her daughters shall be burned with fire: then shall Israel possess them that did possess him, saith the LORD. ³Howl, O Heshbon, for Ai is spoiled; cry, ye daughters of Rabbah, gird you with sackcloth: lament, and run to and fro among the fences; for Malcam shall go into captivity, his priests and his princes together. ⁴Wherefore gloriest thou in the valleys, thy flowing valley, O backsliding daughter? that trusted in her treasures, saying, Who shall come unto me? ⁵Behold, I will bring a fear upon thee, saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts, from all that are round about thee; and ye shall be driven out every man right forth, and there shall be none to gather up him that wandereth. ⁶But afterward I will bring again the captivity of the children of Ammon, saith the LORD. ⁷Of Edom. Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Is wisdom no more in Teman? is counsel perished from the prudent? is their wisdom vanished? ⁸Flee ye, turn back, dwell deep, O inhabitants of Dedan; for I will bring the calamity of Esau upon him, the time that I shall visit him. ⁹If grapegatherers came to thee, would they not leave some gleaning grapes? if thieves by night, would they not destroy till they had enough? ¹⁰But I have made Esau bare, I have uncovered his secret places, and he shall not be able to hide himself: his seed is spoiled, and his brethren, and his neighbours, and he is not. ¹¹Leave thy fatherless children, I will preserve them alive; and let thy widows trust in me. ¹²For thus saith the LORD: Behold, they to whom it pertained not to drink of the cup shall assuredly drink; and art thou he that shall altogether go unpunished? thou shalt not go unpunished, but thou shalt surely drink. ¹³For I have sworn by myself, saith the LORD, that Bozrah shall become an astonishment, a reproach, a waste, and a curse; and all the cities thereof shall be perpetual wastes. ¹⁴I have heard tidings from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent among the nations, saying, Gather yourselves together, and come against her, and rise up to the battle. ¹⁵For, behold, I have made thee small among the nations, and despised among men. ¹⁶As for thy terribleness, the pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, that holdest the height of the hill: though thou shouldst make thy nest as high as the eagle, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the LORD; ¹⁷And Edom shall become an astonishment: every one that passeth by it shall be astonished, and shall hiss at all the plagues thereof. ¹⁸As in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah and the neighbour cities thereof, saith the LORD, no man shall dwell there, neither shall any son of man sojourn therein. ¹⁹Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the pride of Jordan against the strong habitation: but I will suddenly make him run away from her; and whoso is chosen, him will I appoint over her: for who is like me? and who will appoint me a time? and who is the shepherd that will stand before me? ²⁰Therefore hear ye the counsel of the LORD, that he hath taken against Edom; and his purposes, that he hath purposed against the inhabitants of Teman: Surely they shall drag them away, even the little ones of the flock; surely he shall make their habitation desolate with them. ²¹The earth trembleth at the noise of their fall; there is a cry, the noise whereof is heard in the Red Sea. ²²Behold, he shall come up and fly as the eagle, and spread out his wings against Bozrah: and the heart of the mighty men of Edom at that day shall be as the heart of a woman in her pangs. ²³Of Damascus. Hamath is ashamed, and Arpad; for they have heard evil tidings, they are melted away: there is sorrow on the sea; it cannot be quiet. ²⁴Damascus is waxed feeble, she turneth herself to flee, and trembling hath seized on her: anguish and sorrows have taken hold of her, as of a woman in travail. ²⁵How is the city of praise not forsaken, the city of my joy? ²⁶Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets, and all the men of war shall be brought to silence in that day, saith the LORD of hosts. ²⁷And I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus, and it shall devour the palaces of Ben-hadad. ²⁸Of Kedar, and of the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon smote: Thus saith the LORD: Arise ye, go up to Kedar, and spoil the children of the east. ²⁹Their tents and their flocks shall they take; they shall carry away for themselves their curtains, and all their vessels, and their camels: and they shall cry unto them, Terror on every side. ³⁰Flee ye, wander far off, dwell deep, O ye inhabitants of Hazor, saith the LORD; for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon hath taken counsel against you, and hath conceived a purpose against you. ³¹ Arise, get you up unto a nation that is at ease, that dwelleth without care, saith the LORD; which have neither gates nor bars, which dwell alone. ³² And their camels shall be a booty, and the multitude of their cattle a spoil: and I will scatter unto all winds them that have the corners of their hair polled; and I will bring their calamity from every side of them, saith the LORD. ³³ And Hazor shall be a dwelling place of jackals, a desolation for ever: no man shall dwell there, neither shall any son of man sojourn therein. ³⁴ The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning Elam in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, saying, ³⁵ Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Behold, I will break the bow of Elam; the chief of their might. ³⁶ And upon Elam will I bring the four winds from the four quarters of heaven, and will scatter them toward all those winds; and there shall be no nation whither the outcasts of Elam shall not come. ³⁷ And I will cause Elam to be dismayed before their enemies, and before them that seek their life: and I will bring evil upon them, even my fierce anger, saith the LORD; and I will send the sword after them, till I have consumed them: ³⁸ and I will set my throne in Elam, and will destroy from thence king and princes, saith the LORD. ³⁹ But it shall come to pass in the latter days, that I will bring again the captivity of Elam, saith the LORD.

¹ The word that the LORD spake concerning Babylon, concerning the land of the Chaldeans, by Jeremiah the prophet. ² Declare ye among the nations and publish, and set up a standard; publish, and conceal not: say, Babylon is taken, Bel is put to shame, Merodach is dismayed; her images are put to shame, her idols are dismayed. ³ For out of the north there cometh up a nation against her, which shall make her land desolate, and none shall dwell therein: they are fled, they are gone, both man and beast. ⁴ In those days, and in that time, saith the LORD, the children of Israel shall come, they and the children of Judah together; they shall go on their way weeping, and shall seek the LORD their God. ⁵ They shall inquire concerning Zion with their faces thitherward, saying, Come ye, and join yourselves to the LORD in an everlasting covenant that shall not be forgotten. ⁶ My people hath been lost sheep: their shepherds have caused them to go astray, they have turned them away on the mountains: they have gone from mountain to hill, they have forgotten their resting place. ⁷ All that found them have devoured them: and their adversaries said, We offend not, because they have sinned against the LORD, the habitation of justice, even the LORD, the hope of their fathers. ⁸ Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and go forth out of the land of the Chaldeans, and be as the he-goats before the flocks. ⁹ For, lo, I will stir up and cause to come up against Babylon an assembly of great nations from the north country: and they shall set themselves in array against her; from thence she shall be taken: their arrows shall be as of an expert mighty man; none shall return in vain. ¹⁰ And Chaldea shall be a spoil: all that spoil her shall be satisfied, saith the LORD. ¹¹ Because ye are glad, because ye rejoice, O ye that plunder mine heritage, because ye are wanton as an heifer that treadeth out the corn, and neigh as strong horses; ¹² your mother shall be sore ashamed; she that bare you shall be confounded: behold, she shall be the hindermost of the nations, a wilderness, a dry land, and a desert. ¹³ Because of the wrath of the LORD it shall not be inhabited, but it shall be wholly desolate: every one that goeth by Babylon shall be astonished, and hiss at all her plagues. ¹⁴ Set yourselves in array against Babylon round about, all ye that bend the bow; shoot at her, spare no arrows: for she hath sinned against the LORD. ¹⁵ Shout against her round about; she hath submitted herself; her bulwarks are fallen, her walls are thrown down: for it is the vengeance of the LORD; take vengeance upon her; as she hath done, do unto her. ¹⁶ Cut off the sower from Babylon, and him that handleth the sickle in the time of harvest: for fear of the oppressing sword they shall turn every one to his people, and they shall flee every one to his own land. ¹⁷ Israel is a scattered sheep; the lions have driven him away: first the king of Assyria hath devoured him; and last this Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon hath broken his bones. ¹⁸ Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold, I will punish the king of Babylon and his land, as I have punished the king of Assyria; ¹⁹ And I will bring Israel again to his pasture, and he shall feed on Carmel and Bashan, and his soul shall be satisfied upon the hills of Ephraim and in Gilead. ²⁰ In those days, and in that time, saith the LORD, the iniquity of Israel shall be sought for, and there shall be none; and the sins of Judah, and they shall not be found: for I will pardon them whom I leave as a remnant. ²¹ Go up against the land of Merathaim, even against it, and against the inhabitants of Pekod: slay and utterly destroy after them, saith the LORD, and do according to all that I have commanded thee. ²² A sound of battle is in the land, and of great destruction. ²³ How is the hammer of the whole earth cut asunder and broken! how is Babylon become a desolation among the nations! ²⁴ I have laid a snare for thee, and thou art also taken, O Babylon, and thou wast not aware: thou art found, and also caught, because thou hast striven against the LORD. ²⁵ The LORD hath opened his armoury, and hath brought forth the weapons of his indignation: for the Lord, the LORD of hosts, hath a work to do in the land of the Chaldeans. ²⁶ Come against her from the utmost border, open her storehouses: cast her up as heaps, and destroy her utterly: let nothing of her be left. ²⁷ Slay all her bullocks; let them go down to the slaughter: woe unto them! for their day is come, the time of their visitation. ²⁸ The voice of them that flee and escape out of the land of Babylon, to declare in Zion the vengeance of the LORD our God, the vengeance of his temple. ²⁹ Call together the archers against Babylon, all them that bend the bow; camp against her round about; let none thereof escape: recompense her according to her work; according to all that she hath done, do unto her: for she hath been proud against the LORD, against the Holy One of Israel. ³⁰ Therefore shall her young men fall in her streets, and all her men of war shall be brought to silence in that day, saith the LORD. ³¹ Behold, I am against thee, O thou proud one, saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts: for thy day is come, the time that I will visit thee. ³² And the proud one shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him up: and I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall devour all that are round about him. ³³ Thus saith the LORD of hosts: The children of Israel and the children of Judah are oppressed together: and all that took them captives hold them fast; they refuse to let them go. ³⁴ Their redeemer is strong; the LORD of hosts is his name: he shall thoroughly plead their cause, that he may give rest to the earth, and disquiet the inhabitants of Babylon. ³⁵ A sword is upon the Chaldeans, saith the LORD, and upon the inhabitants of Babylon, and upon her princes, and upon her wise men. ³⁶ A sword is upon the boasters, and they shall dote: a sword is upon her mighty men, and they shall be dismayed. ³⁷ A sword is upon their horse, and upon their chariots, and upon all the mingled people that are in the midst of her, and they shall become as women: a sword is upon her treasures, and they shall be robbed. ³⁸ A drought is upon her waters, and they shall be dried up: for it is a land of graven images, and they are mad upon idols. ³⁹ Therefore the wild beasts of the desert with the wolves shall dwell there, and the ostriches shall dwell therein: and it shall be no more inhabited for ever; neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation. ⁴⁰ As when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah and the neighbour cities thereof, saith the LORD; so shall no man dwell there, neither shall any son of man sojourn therein. ⁴¹ Behold, a people cometh from the north; and a great nation, and many kings shall be stirred up from the uttermost parts of the earth. ⁴² They lay hold on bow and spear; they are cruel, and have no mercy; their voice roareth like the sea, and they ride upon horses; every one set in array, as man to the battle, against thee, O daughter of Babylon. ⁴³ The king of Babylon hath heard the fame of them, and his hands wax feeble: anguish hath taken hold of him, and pangs as of a woman in travail. ⁴⁴ Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the pride of Jordan against the strong habitation: but I will suddenly make them run away from her; and whoso is chosen, him will I appoint over her: for who is like me? and who will appoint me a time? and who is the shepherd that will stand before me? ⁴⁵Therefore hear ye the counsel of the LORD, that he hath taken against Babylon; and his purposes, that he hath purposed against the land of the Chaldeans: Surely they shall drag them away, even the little ones of the flock; surely he shall make their habitation desolate with them. ⁴⁶At the noise of the taking of Babylon the earth trembleth, and the cry is heard among the nations.

¹ Thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will raise up against Babylon, and against them that dwell in Lebkamai, a destroying wind. ² And I will send unto Babylon strangers, that shall fan her; and they shall empty her land: for in the day of trouble they shall be against her round about. ³ Let not the archer bend his bow, and let him not lift himself up in his coat of mail: and spare ye not her young men; destroy ye utterly all her host. ⁴ And they shall fall down slain in the land of the Chaldeans, and thrust through in her streets. ⁵ For Israel is not forsaken, nor Judah, of his God, of the LORD of hosts; though their land is full of guilt against the Holy One of Israel. ⁶ Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and save every man his life; be not cut off in her iniquity: for it is the time of the LORD'S vengeance; he will render unto her a recompence. ⁷ Babylon hath been a golden cup in the LORD'S hand; that made all the earth drunken: the nations have drunk of her wine; therefore the nations are mad. ⁸ Babylon is suddenly fallen and destroyed: howl for her; take balm for her pain, if so be she may be healed. ⁹ We would have healed Babylon, but she is not healed: forsake her, and let us go every one into his own country: for her judgment reacheth unto heaven, and is lifted up even to the skies. ¹⁰ The LORD hath brought forth our righteousness: come, and let us declare in Zion the work of the LORD our God. ¹¹ Make sharp the arrows; hold firm the shields: the LORD hath stirred up the spirit of the kings of the Medes; because his device is against Babylon, to destroy it: for it is the vengeance of the LORD, the vengeance of his temple. ¹² Set up a standard against the walls of Babylon, make the watch strong, set the watchmen, prepare the ambushes: for the LORD hath both devised and done that which he spake concerning the inhabitants of Babylon. ¹³ O thou that dwellest upon many waters, abundant in treasures, thine end is come, the measure of thy covetousness. ¹⁴ The LORD of hosts hath sworn by himself, saying, Surely I will fill thee with men, as with the cankerworm; and they shall lift up a shout against thee. ¹⁵ He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and by his understanding hath he stretched out the heavens: ¹⁶ when he uttereth his voice, there is a tumult of waters in the heavens, and he causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth; he maketh lightnings for the rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasuries. ¹⁷ Every man is become brutish and is without knowledge; every goldsmith is put to shame by his graven image: for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them. ¹⁸ They are vanity, a work of delusion: in the time of their visitation they shall perish. ¹⁹ The portion of Jacob is not like these; for he is the former of all things; and Israel is the tribe of his inheritance: the LORD of hosts is his name. ²⁰ Thou art my battle axe and weapons of war: and with thee will I break in pieces the nations; and with thee will I destroy kingdoms; ²¹ and with thee will I break in pieces the horse and his rider; and with thee will I break in pieces the chariot and him that rideth therein; ²² and with thee will I break in pieces man and woman; and with thee will I break in pieces the old man and the youth; and with thee will I break in pieces the young man and the maid; ²³ and with thee will I break in pieces the shepherd and his flock; and with thee will I break in pieces the husbandman and his yoke of oxen; and with thee will I break in pieces governors and deputies. ²⁴ And I will render unto Babylon and to all the inhabitants of Chaldea all their evil that they have done in Zion in your sight, saith the LORD. ²⁵ Behold, I am against thee, O destroying mountain, saith the LORD, which destroyest all the earth: and I will stretch out mine hand upon thee, and roll thee down from the rocks, and will make thee a burnt mountain. ²⁶ And they shall not take of thee a stone for a corner, nor a stone for foundations; but thou shalt be desolate for ever, saith the LORD. ²⁷ Set ye up a standard in the land, blow the trumpet among the nations, prepare the nations against her, call together against her the kingdoms of Ararat, Minni, and Ashkenaz: appoint a marshal against her; cause the horses to come up as the rough cankerworm. ²⁸ Prepare against her the nations, the kings of the Medes, the governors thereof, and all the deputies thereof, and all the land of his dominion. ²⁹ And the land trembleth and is in pain: for the purposes of the LORD against Babylon do stand, to make the land of Babylon a desolation, without inhabitant. ³⁰ The mighty men of Babylon have forborne to fight, they remain in their strong holds; their might hath failed; they are become as women: her dwelling places are set on fire; her bars are broken. ³¹ One post shall run to meet another, and one messenger to meet another, to shew the king of Babylon that his city is taken on every quarter: ³² and the passages are surprised, and the reeds they have burned with fire, and the men of war are affrighted. ³³ For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: The daughter of Babylon is like a threshing-floor at the time when it is trodden; yet a little while, and the time of harvest shall come for her. ³⁴ Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon hath devoured me, he hath crushed me, he hath made me an empty vessel, he hath swallowed me up like a dragon, he hath filled his maw with my delicates; he hath cast me out. ³⁵ The violence done to me and to my flesh be upon Babylon, shall the inhabitant of Zion say; and, My blood be upon the inhabitants of Chaldea, shall Jerusalem say. ³⁶ Therefore thus saith the LORD: Behold, I will plead thy cause, and take vengeance for thee; and I will dry up her sea, and make her fountain dry. ³⁷ And Babylon shall become heaps, a dwelling place for jackals, an astonishment, and an hissing, without inhabitant. ³⁸ They shall roar together like young lions; they shall growl as lions' whelps. ³⁹ When they are heated, I will make their feast, and I will make them drunken, that they may rejoice, and sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the LORD. ⁴⁰ I will bring them down like lambs to the slaughter, like rams with he-goats. ⁴¹ How is Sheshach taken! and the praise of the whole earth surprised! how is Babylon become a desolation among the nations! ⁴² The sea is come up upon Babylon: she is covered with the multitude of the waves thereof. ⁴³ Her cities are become a desolation, a dry land, and a desert, a land wherein no man dwelleth, neither doth any son of man pass thereby. ⁴⁴ And I will do judgment upon Bel in Babylon, and I will bring forth out of his mouth that which he hath swallowed up; and the nations shall not flow together any more unto him: yea, the wall of Babylon shall fall. ⁴⁵ My people, go ye out of the midst of her, and save yourselves every man from the fierce anger of the LORD. ⁴⁶ And let not your heart faint, neither fear ye for the rumour that shall be heard in the land; for a rumour shall come one year, and after that in another year shall come a rumour, and violence in the land, ruler against ruler. ⁴⁷ Therefore, behold, the days come, that I will do judgment upon the graven images of Babylon, and her whole land shall be ashamed; and all her slain shall fall in the midst of her. ⁴⁸ Then the heaven and the earth, and all that is therein, shall sing for joy over Babylon; for the spoilers shall come unto her from the north, saith the LORD. ⁴⁹ As Babylon hath caused the slain of Israel to fall, so at Babylon shall fall the slain of all the land. ⁵⁰ Ye that have escaped the sword, go ye, stand not still; remember the LORD from afar, and let Jerusalem come into your mind. ⁵¹ We are ashamed, because we have heard reproach; confusion hath covered our faces: for strangers are come into the sanctuaries of the LORD'S house. ⁵² Wherefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will do judgment upon her graven images; and through all her land the wounded shall groan. ⁵³ Though Babylon should mount up to heaven, and though she should fortify the height of her strength, yet from me shall spoilers come unto her, saith the LORD. ⁵⁴ The sound of a cry from Babylon, and of great destruction from the land of the Chaldeans! ⁵⁵ For the LORD spoileth Babylon, and destroyeth out of her the great voice; and their waves roar like many waters, the noise of their voice is uttered: ⁵⁶for the spoiler is come upon her, even upon Babylon, and her mighty men are taken, their bows are broken in pieces: for the LORD is a God of recompences, he shall surely requite. ⁵⁷And I will make drunk her princes and her wise men, her governors and her deputies, and her mighty men; and they shall sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts. ⁵⁸Thus saith the LORD of hosts: The broad walls of Babylon shall be utterly overthrown, and her high gates shall be burned with fire; and the peoples shall labour for vanity, and the nations for the fire; and they shall be weary. ⁵⁹The word which Jeremiah the prophet commanded Seraiah the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the king of Judah to Babylon in the fourth year of his reign. Now Seraiah was chief chamberlain. ⁶⁰And Jeremiah wrote in a book all the evil that should come upon Babylon, even all these words that are written concerning Babylon. ⁶¹And Jeremiah said to Seraiah, When thou comest to Babylon, then see that thou read all these words, ⁶²and say, O LORD, thou hast spoken concerning this place, to cut it off, that none shall dwell therein, neither man nor beast, but that it shall be desolate for ever. ⁶³And it shall be, when thou hast made an end of reading this book, that thou shalt bind a stone to it, and cast it into the midst of Euphrates: ⁶⁴and thou shalt say, Thus shall Babylon sink, and shall not rise again because of the evil that I will bring upon her: and they shall be weary. Thus far are the words of Jeremiah.

¹ Zedekiah was one and twenty years old when he began to reign; and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Hamutal the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah. ² And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that Jehoiakim had done. ³ For through the anger of the LORD did it come to pass in Jerusalem and Judah, until he had cast them out from his presence: and Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon. ⁴ And it came to pass in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came, he and all his army, against Jerusalem, and encamped against it; and they built forts against it round about. ⁵ So the city was besieged unto the eleventh year of king Zedekiah. ⁶ In the fourth month, in the ninth day of the month, the famine was sore in the city, so that there was no bread for the people of the land. ⁷ Then a breach was made in the city, and all the men of war fled, and went forth out of the city by night by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden; (now the Chaldeans were against the city round about;) and they went by the way of the Arabah. ⁸ But the army of the Chaldeans pursued after the king, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho; and all his army was scattered from him. ⁹ Then they took the king, and carried him up unto the king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath; and he gave judgment upon him. ¹⁰ And the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes: he slew also all the princes of Judah in Riblah. ¹¹ And he put out the eyes of Zedekiah; and the king of Babylon bound him in fetters, and carried him to Babylon, and put him in prison till the day of his death. ¹² Now in the fifth month, in the tenth day of the month, which was the nineteenth year of king Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, came Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, which stood before the king of Babylon, into Jerusalem: ¹³ and he burned the house of the LORD, and the king's house; and all the houses of Jerusalem, even every great house, burned he with fire. ¹⁴ And all the army of the Chaldeans, that were with the captain of the guard, brake down all the walls of Jerusalem round about. ¹⁵ Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the poorest sort of the people, and the residue of the people that were left in the city, and those that fell away, that fell to the king of Babylon, and the residue of the multitude. ¹⁶ But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left of the poorest of the land to be vinedressers and husbandmen. ¹⁷ And the pillars of brass that were in the house of the LORD, and the bases and the brasen sea that were in the house of the LORD, did the Chaldeans break in pieces, and carried all the brass of them to Babylon.¹⁸ The pots also, and the shovels, and the snuffers, and the basons, and the spoons, and all the vessels of brass wherewith they ministered, took they away.¹⁹ And the cups, and the firepans, and the basons, and the pots, and the candlesticks, and the spoons, and the bowls; that which was of gold, in gold, and that which was of silver, in silver, the captain of the guard took away.²⁰ The two pillars, the one sea, and the twelve brasen bulls that were under the bases, which king Solomon had made for the house of the LORD: the brass of all these vessels was without weight.²¹ And as for the pillars, the height of the one pillar was eighteen cubits; and a line of twelve cubits did compass it; and the thickness thereof was four fingers: it was hollow.²² And a chapter of brass was upon it; and the height of the one chapter was five cubits, with network and pomegranates upon the chapter round about, all of brass; and the second pillar also had like unto these, and pomegranates.²³ And there were ninety and six pomegranates on the sides; all the pomegranates were an hundred upon the network round about.²⁴ And the captain of the guard took Seraiah the chief priest, and Zephaniah the second priest, and the three keepers of the door:²⁵ and out of the city he took an officer that was set over the men of war; and seven men of them that saw the king's face, which were found in the city; and the scribe of the captain of the host, who mustered the people of the land; and threescore men of the people of the land, that were found in the midst of the city.²⁶ And Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard took them, and brought them to the king of Babylon to Riblah.²⁷ And the king of Babylon smote them, and put them to death at Riblah in the land of Hamath. So Judah was carried away captive out of his land.²⁸ This is the people whom Nebuchadrezzar carried away captive: in the seventh year three thousand Jews and three and twenty:²⁹ in the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar he carried away captive from Jerusalem eight hundred thirty and two persons:³⁰ in the three and twentieth year of Nebuchadrezzar Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the Jews seven hundred forty and five persons: all the persons were four thousand and six hundred.³¹ And it came to pass in the seven and thirtieth year of the captivity of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, in the five and twentieth day of the month, that Evil-merodach king of Babylon, in the first year of his reign, lifted up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah, and brought him forth out of prison;³² and he spake kindly to him, and set his throne above the throne of the kings that were with him in Babylon.³³ and he changed his prison garments, and did eat bread before him continually all the days of his life.³⁴ and for his allowance, there was a continual allowance given him of the king of Babylon, every day a portion until the day of his death, all the days of his life.

THE LAMENTATIONS OF JEREMIAH.

¹How doth the city sit solitary, that was full of people! how is she become as a widow! she that was great among the nations, and princess among the provinces, how is she become tributary! ²She weepeth sore in the night, and her tears are on her cheeks; among all her lovers she hath none to comfort her: all her friends have dealt treacherously with her, they are become her enemies. ³Judah is gone into captivity because of affliction, and because of great servitude; she dwelleth among the heathen, she findeth no rest: all her persecutors overtook her within the straits. ⁴The ways of Zion do mourn, because none come to the solemn assembly; all her gates are desolate, her priests do sigh: her virgins are afflicted, and she herself is in bitterness. ⁵Her adversaries are become the head, her enemies prosper; for the LORD hath afflicted her for the multitude of her transgressions: her young children are gone into captivity before the adversary. ⁶And from the daughter of Zion all her majesty is departed: her princes are become like harts that find no pasture, and they are gone without strength before the pursuer. ⁷Jerusalem remembereth in the days of her affliction and of her miseries all her pleasant things that were from the days of old: when her people fell into the hand of the adversary, and none did help her, the adversaries saw her, they did mock at her desolations. ⁸Jerusalem hath grievously sinned; therefore she is become as an unclean thing: all that honoured her despise her, because they have seen her nakedness: yea, she sigheth, and turneth backward. ⁹Her filthiness was in her skirts; she remembered not her latter end; therefore is she come down wonderfully; she hath no comforter: behold, O LORD, my affliction; for the enemy hath magnified himself. ¹⁰The adversary hath spread out his hand upon all her pleasant things: for she hath seen that the heathen are entered into her sanctuary, concerning whom thou didst command that they should not enter into thy congregation. ¹¹All her people sigh, they seek bread; they have given their pleasant things for meat to refresh the soul: see, O LORD, and behold; for I am become vile. ¹²Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by? behold, and see if there be any sorrow like unto my sorrow, which is done unto me, wherewith the LORD hath afflicted me in the day of his fierce anger. ¹³From on high hath he sent fire into my bones, and it prevaieth against them: he hath spread a net for my feet, he hath turned me back; he hath made me desolate and faint all the day. ¹⁴The yoke of my transgressions is bound by his hand; they are knit together, they are come up upon my neck; he hath made my strength to fail: the LORD hath delivered me into their hands, against whom I am not able to stand. ¹⁵The LORD hath set at nought all my mighty men in the midst of me; he hath called a solemn assembly against me to crush my young men: the LORD hath trodden as in a winepress the virgin daughter of Judah. ¹⁶For these things I weep; mine eye, mine eye runneth down with water; because the comforter that should refresh my soul is far from me: my children are desolate, because the enemy hath prevailed. ¹⁷Zion spreadeth forth her hands; there is none to comfort her; the LORD hath commanded concerning Jacob, that they that are round about him should be his adversaries: Jerusalem is among them as an unclean thing. ¹⁸The LORD is righteous; for I have rebelled against his commandment: hear, I pray you, all ye peoples, and behold my sorrow: my virgins and my young men are gone into captivity. ¹⁹I called for my lovers, but they deceived me: my priests and mine elders gave up the ghost in the city, while they sought them meat to refresh their souls. ²⁰Behold, O LORD; for I am in distress; my bowels are troubled; mine heart is turned within me; for I have grievously rebelled: abroad the sword bereaveth, at home there is as death. ²¹They have heard that I sigh; there is none to comfort me; all mine enemies have heard of my trouble; they are glad that thou hast done it: thou wilt bring the day that thou hast proclaimed, and they shall be like unto me. ²²Let all their wickedness come before thee; and do unto them, as thou hast done unto me for all my transgressions: for my sighs are many, and my heart is faint.

¹How hath the Lord covered the daughter of Zion with a cloud in his anger! he hath cast down from heaven unto the earth the beauty of Israel, and hath not remembered his footstool in the day of his anger. ²The Lord hath swallowed up all the habitations of Jacob, and hath not pitied; he hath thrown down in his wrath the strong holds of the daughter of Judah; he hath brought them down to the ground: he hath profaned the kingdom and the princes thereof. ³He hath cut off in fierce anger all the horn of Israel; he hath drawn back his right hand from before the enemy: and he hath burned up Jacob like a flaming fire, which devoureth round about. ⁴He hath bent his bow like an enemy, he hath stood with his right hand as an adversary, and hath slain all that were pleasant to the eye: in the tent of the daughter of Zion he hath poured out his fury like fire. ⁵The Lord is become as an enemy, he hath swallowed up Israel; he hath swallowed up all her palaces, he hath destroyed his strong holds: and he hath multiplied in the daughter of Judah mourning and lamentation. ⁶And he hath violently taken away his tabernacle, as if it were of a garden; he hath destroyed his place of assembly: the LORD hath caused solemn assembly and sabbath to be forgotten in Zion, and hath despised in the indignation of his anger the king and the priest. ⁷The Lord hath cast off his altar, he hath abhorred his sanctuary, he hath given up into the hand of the enemy the walls of her palaces: they have made a noise in the house of the LORD, as in the day of a solemn assembly. ⁸The LORD hath purposed to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion; he hath stretched out the line, he hath not withdrawn his hand from destroying: but he hath made the rampart and wall to lament; they languish together. ⁹Her gates are sunk into the ground; he hath destroyed and broken her bars: her king and her princes are among the nations where the law is not; yea, her prophets find no vision from the LORD. ¹⁰The elders of the daughter of Zion sit upon the ground, they keep silence; they have cast up dust upon their heads; they have girded themselves with sackcloth: the virgins of Jerusalem hang down their heads to the ground. ¹¹Mine eyes do fail with tears, my bowels are troubled, my liver is poured upon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people; because the young children and the sucklings swoon in the streets of the city. ¹²They say to their mothers, Where is corn and wine? when they swoon as the wounded in the streets of the city, when their soul is poured out into their mothers' bosom. ¹³What shall I testify unto thee? what shall I liken to thee, O daughter of Jerusalem? what shall I equal to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter of Zion? for thy breach is great like the sea: who can heal thee? ¹⁴Thy prophets have seen visions for thee of vanity and foolishness; and they have not discovered thine iniquity, to bring again thy captivity: but have seen for thee burdens of vanity and causes of banishment. ¹⁵All that pass by clap their hands at thee; they hiss and wag their head at the daughter of Jerusalem, saying: Is this the city that men called the perfection of beauty, The joy of the whole earth? ¹⁶All thine enemies have opened their mouth wide against thee; they hiss and gnash the teeth; they say, We have swallowed her up; certainly this is the day that we looked for; we have found, we have seen it. ¹⁷The LORD hath done that which he devised; he hath fulfilled his word that he commanded in the days of old; he hath thrown down, and hath not pitied: and he hath caused the enemy to rejoice over thee, he hath exalted the horn of thine adversaries. ¹⁸Their heart cried unto the Lord: O wall of the daughter of Zion, let tears run down like a river day and night; give thyself no respite; let not the apple of thine eye cease. ¹⁹Arise, cry out in the night, at the beginning of the watches; pour out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift up thy hands toward him for the life of thy young children, that faint for hunger at the top of every street. ²⁰See, O LORD, and behold, to whom thou hast done thus! shall the women eat their fruit, the children that are dandled in the hands? shall the priest and the prophet be slain in the sanctuary of the Lord? ²¹ The youth and the old man lie on the ground in the streets; my virgins and my young men are fallen by the sword: thou hast slain them in the day of thine anger; thou hast slaughtered, and not pitied. ²² Thou hast called, as in the day of a solemn assembly, my terrors on every side, and there was none that escaped or remained in the day of the LORD'S anger: those that I have dandled and brought up hath mine enemy consumed.

²⁵ The LORD is good unto them that wait for him, to the soul that seeketh him. ²⁶ It is good that a man should hope and quietly wait for the salvation of the LORD. ²⁷ It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his youth. ²⁸ Let him sit alone and keep silence, because he hath laid it upon him. ²⁹ Let him put his mouth in the dust; if so be there may he hope. ³⁰ Let him give his cheek to him that smiteth him; let him be filled full with reproach. ³¹ For the Lord will not cast off for ever. ³² For though he cause grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies. ³³ For he doth not afflict willingly, nor grieve the children of men. ³⁴ To crush under foot all the prisoners of the earth, ³⁵ To turn aside the right of a man before the face of the Most High, ³⁶ To subvert a man in his cause, the Lord approveth not. ³⁷ Who is he that saith, and it cometh to pass, when the Lord commandeth it not? ³⁸ Out of the mouth of the Most High cometh there not evil and good? ³⁹ Wherefore doth a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his sins? ⁴⁰ Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the LORD. ⁴¹ Let us lift up our heart with our hands unto God in the heavens. ⁴² We have transgressed and have rebelled; thou hast not pardoned. ⁴³ Thou hast covered with anger and pursued us; thou hast slain, thou hast not pitied. ⁴⁴ Thou hast covered thyself with a cloud, that our prayer should not pass through. ⁴⁵ Thou hast made us as the offscouring and refuse in the midst of the peoples. ⁴⁶ All our enemies have opened their mouth wide against us. ⁴⁷ Fear and the pit are come upon us, devastation and destruction. ⁴⁸ Mine eye runneth down with rivers of water, for the destruction of the daughter of my people. ⁴⁹ Mine eye poureth down, and ceaseth not, without any intermission, ⁵⁰ Till the LORD look down, and behold from heaven. ⁵¹ Mine eye affecteth my soul, because of all the daughters of my city. ⁵² They have chased me sore like a bird, that are mine enemies without cause. ⁵³ They have cut off my life in the dungeon, and have cast a stone upon me. ⁵⁴ Waters flowed over mine head; I said, I am cut off. ⁵⁵ I called upon thy name, O LORD, out of the lowest dungeon. ⁵⁶ Thou heardest my voice; hide not thine ear at my breathing, at my cry. ⁵⁷ Thou drewest near in the day that I called upon thee: thou saidst, Fear not. ⁵⁸O Lord, thou hast pleaded the causes of my soul; thou hast redeemed my life. ⁵⁹O LORD, thou hast seen my wrong; judge thou my cause. ⁶⁰Thou hast seen all their vengeance and all their devices against me. ⁶¹Thou hast heard their reproach, O LORD, and all their devices against me; ⁶²The lips of those that rose up against me, and their imagination against me all the day. ⁶³Behold thou their sitting down, and their rising up; I am their song. ⁶⁴Thou wilt render unto them a recompence, O LORD, according to the work of their hands. ⁶⁵Thou wilt give them hardness of heart, thy curse unto them. ⁶⁶Thou wilt pursue them in anger, and destroy them from under the heavens of the LORD.

¹How is the gold become dim! how is the most pure gold changed! the stones of the sanctuary are poured out at the top of every street. ²The precious sons of Zion, comparable to fine gold, how are they esteemed as earthen pitchers, the work of the hands of the potter! ³Even the jackals draw out the breast, they give suck to their young ones: the daughter of my people is become cruel, like the ostriches in the wilderness. ⁴The tongue of the sucking child cleaveth to the roof of his mouth for thirst: the young children ask bread, and no man breaketh it unto them. ⁵They that did feed delicately are desolate in the streets: they that were brought up in scarlet embrace dung-hills. ⁶For the iniquity of the daughter of my people is greater than the sin of Sodom, that was overthrown as in a moment, and no hands were laid upon her. ⁷Her nobles were purer than snow, they were whiter than milk, they were more ruddy in body than rubies, their polishing was as of sapphire: ⁸Their visage is blacker than a coal; they are not known in the streets: their skin cleaveth to their bones; it is withered, it is become like a stick. ⁹They that be slain with the sword are better than they that be slain with hunger; for these pine away, stricken through, for want of the fruits of the field. ¹⁰The hands of the pitiful women have sodden their own children; they were their meat in the destruction of the daughter of my people. ¹¹The LORD hath accomplished his fury, he hath poured out his fierce anger; and he hath kindled a fire in Zion, which hath devoured the foundations thereof. ¹²The kings of the earth believed not, neither all the inhabitants of the world, that the adversary and the enemy should enter into the gates of Jerusalem. ¹³*It is because of the sins of her prophets, and the iniquities of her priests, that have shed the blood of the just in the midst of her.* ¹⁴They wander as blind men in the streets, that are polluted with blood, so that men cannot touch their garments. ¹⁵Depart ye, they cried unto them, Unclean! depart, depart, touch not: when they fled away and wandered, men said among the nations, They shall no more sojourn here. ¹⁶The anger of the LORD hath divided them; he will no more regard them: they respected not the persons of the priests, they favoured not the elders. ¹⁷Our eyes do yet fail in looking for our vain help; in our watching we have watched for a nation that could not save. ¹⁸They hunt our steps, that we cannot go in our streets: our end is near, our days are fulfilled; for our end is come. ¹⁹Our pursuers were swifter than the eagles of the heaven: they chased us upon the mountains, they laid wait for us in the wilderness. ²⁰The breath of our nostrils, the anointed of the LORD, was taken in their pits; of whom we said, Under his shadow we shall live among the nations. ²¹Rejoice and be glad, O daughter of Edom, that dwellest in the land of Uz: the cup shall pass through unto thee also; thou shalt be drunken, and shalt make thyself naked. ²²The punishment of thine iniquity is accomplished, O daughter of Zion; he will no more carry thee away into captivity: he will visit thine iniquity, O daughter of Edom; he will discover thy sins.

¹Remember, O what is LORD, come upon us: behold, and see our reproach. ²Our inheritance is turned unto strangers, our houses unto aliens. ³We are orphans and fatherless, our mothers are as widows. ⁴We have drunk our own water for money; our wood is sold unto us. ⁵Our pursuers are upon our necks: we are weary, and have no rest. ⁶We have given the hand to the Egyptians, and to the Assyrians, to be satisfied with bread. ⁷Our fathers have sinned, and are not; and we have borne their iniquities. ⁸Servants rule over us: there is none to deliver us out of their hand. ⁹We get our bread with the peril of our lives because of the sword of the wilderness. ¹⁰Our skin is black like an oven because of the burning heat of famine. ¹¹They ravished the women in Zion, the maidens in the cities of Judah. ¹²Princes were hanged up by their hand: the faces of elders were not honoured. ¹³The young men bare the mill, and the children stumbled under the wood. ¹⁴The elders have ceased from the gate, the young men from their music. ¹⁵The joy of our heart is ceased; our dance is turned into mourning. ¹⁶The crown is fallen from our head: woe unto us! for we have sinned. ¹⁷For this our heart is faint; for these things our eyes are dim; ¹⁸For the mountain of Zion, which is desolate; the foxes walk upon it. ¹⁹Thou, O LORD, abidest for ever; thy throne is from generation to generation. ²⁰Wherefore dost thou forget us for ever, and forsake us so long time? ²¹Turn thou us unto thee, O LORD, and we shall be turned; renew our days as of old. ²²But thou hast utterly rejected us, thou art very wroth against us.

THE BOOK OF THE PROPHET EZEKIEL.

¹ Now it came to pass in the thirtieth year, in the fourth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I was among the captives by the river Chebar, that the heavens were opened, and I saw visions of God. ² In the fifth day of the month, which was the fifth year of king Jehoiachin's captivity, ³ the word of the LORD came expressly unto Ezekiel the priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans by the river Chebar; and the hand of the LORD was there upon him. ⁴ And I looked, and, behold, a stormy wind came out of the north, a great cloud, with a fire infolding itself, and a brightness round about it, and out of the midst thereof as the colour of amber, out of the midst of the fire. ⁵ And out of the midst thereof came the likeness of four living creatures. And this was their appearance; they had the likeness of a man. ⁶ And every one had four faces, and every one of them had four wings. ⁷ And their feet were straight feet; and the sole of their feet was like the sole of a calf's foot: and they sparkled like the colour of burnished brass. ⁸ And they had the hands of a man under their wings on their four sides: and they four had their faces and their wings thus; ⁹ their wings were joined one to another; they turned not when they went; they went every one straight forward. ¹⁰ As for the likeness of their faces, they had the face of a man; and they four had the face of a lion on the right side; and they four had the face of an ox on the left side; they four had also the face of an eagle. ¹¹ And their faces and their wings were separate above; two wings of every one were joined one to another, and two covered their bodies. ¹² And they went every one straight forward: whither the spirit was to go, they went; they turned not when they went. ¹³ As for the likeness of the living creatures, their appearance was like burning coals of fire, like the appearance of torches; it went up and down among the living creatures: and the fire was bright, and out of the fire went forth lightning. ¹⁴ And the living creatures ran and returned as the appearance of a flash of lightning. ¹⁵ Now as I beheld the living creatures, behold one wheel upon the earth beside the living creatures, for each of the four faces thereof. ¹⁶ The appearance of the wheels and their work was like unto the colour of a beryl: and they four had one likeness: and their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel within a wheel. ¹⁷ When they went, they went upon their four sides: they turned not when they went. ¹⁸ As for their rings, they were high and dreadful; and they four had their rings full of eyes round about. ¹⁹ And when the living creatures went, the wheels went beside them: and when the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up. ²⁰ Whithersoever the spirit was to go, they went; thither was the spirit to go: and the wheels were lifted up beside them; for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels. ²¹ When those went, these went; and when those stood, these stood; and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up beside them: for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels. ²² And over the head of the living creature there was the likeness of a firmament, like the colour of the terrible crystal, stretched forth over their heads above. ²³ And under the firmament were their wings straight, the one toward the other: every one had two which covered on this side, and every one had two which covered on that side, their bodies. ²⁴ And when they went, I heard the noise of their wings, like the noise of great waters, like the voice of the Almighty, a noise of tumult like the noise of an host: when they stood, they let down their wings. ²⁵ And there was a voice above the firmament that was over their heads: when they stood, they let down their wings. ²⁶ And above the firmament that was over their heads was the likeness of a throne, as the appearance of a sapphire stone: and upon the likeness of the throne was a likeness as the appearance of a man upon it above. ²⁷ And I saw as the colour of amber, as the appearance of fire within it round about, from the appearance of his loins and upward; and from the appearance of his loins and downward I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and there was brightness round about him. ²⁸ As the appearance of the bow that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about. This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the LORD. And when I saw it, I fell upon my face, and I heard a voice of one that spake.

¹And he said unto me, Son of man, stand upon thy feet, and I will speak with thee. ²And the spirit entered into me when he spake unto me, and set me upon my feet; and I heard him that spake unto me. ³And he said unto me, Son of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to nations that are rebellious, which have rebelled against me: they and their fathers have transgressed against me, even unto this very day. ⁴And the children are impudent and stiffhearted; I do send thee unto them: and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD. ⁵And they, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear, (for they are a rebellious house,) yet shall know that there hath been a prophet among them. ⁶And thou, son of man, be not afraid of them, neither be afraid of their words, though briars and thorns be with thee, and thou dost dwell among scorpions: be not afraid of their words, nor be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house. ⁷And thou shalt speak my words unto them, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear: for they are most rebellious. ⁸But thou, son of man, hear what I say unto thee; be not thou rebellious like that rebellious house: open thy mouth, and eat that I give thee. ⁹And when I looked, behold, an hand was put forth unto me; and, lo, a roll of a book was therein; ¹⁰And he spread it before me; and it was written within and without: and there was written therein lamentations, and mourning, and woe.

¹And he said unto me, Son of man, eat that thou findest; eat this roll, and go, speak unto the house of Israel. ²So I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat the roll. ³And he said unto me, Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee. Then did I eat it; and it was in my mouth as honey for sweetness. ⁴And he said unto me, Son of man, go, get thee unto the house of Israel, and speak with my words unto them. ⁵For thou art not sent to a people of a strange speech and of an hard language, but to the house of Israel; ⁶not to many peoples of a strange speech and of an hard language, whose words thou canst not understand. Surely, if I sent thee to them, they would hearken unto thee. ⁷But the house of Israel will not hearken unto thee; for they will not hearken unto me: for all the house of Israel are of an hard forehead and of a stiff heart. ⁸Behold, I have made thy face hard against their faces, and thy forehead hard against their foreheads. ⁹As an adamant harder than flint have I made thy forehead: fear them not, neither be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house. ¹⁰Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, all my words that I shalt speak unto thee receive in thine heart, and hear with thine ears. ¹¹And go, get thee to them of the captivity, unto the children of thy people, and speak unto them, and tell them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear. ¹²Then the spirit lifted me up, and I heard behind me the voice of a great rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of the LORD from his place. ¹³And I heard the noise of the wings of the living creatures as they touched one another, and the noise of the wheels beside them, even the noise of a great rushing. ¹⁴So the spirit lifted me up, and took me away: and I went in bitterness, in the heat of my spirit, and the hand of the LORD was strong upon me. ¹⁵Then I came to them of the captivity at Tel-abib, that dwelt by the river Chebar, and to where they dwelt; and I sat there astonished among them seven days. ¹⁶And it came to pass at the end of seven days, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ¹⁷Son of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me. ¹⁸When I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; and thou givest him not warning, nor speakest to warn the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life; the same wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood wilt I require at thine hand. ¹⁹Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul.

²⁰ Again, when a righteous man doth turn from his righteousness, and commit iniquity, and I lay a stumblingblock before him, he shall die: because thou hast not given him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his righteous deeds which he hath done shall not be remembered; but his blood will I require at thine hand. ²¹ Nevertheless if thou warn the righteous man, that the righteous sin not, and he doth not sin, he shall surely live, because he took warning; and thou hast delivered thy soul. ²² And the hand of the LORD was there upon me; and he said unto me, Arise, go forth into the plain, and I will there talk with thee. ²³ Then I arose, and went forth into the plain: and behold, the glory of the LORD stood there, as the glory which I saw by the river Chebar: and I fell on my face. ²⁴ Then the spirit entered into me, and set me upon my feet; and he spake with me, and said unto me, Go, shut thyself within thine house. ²⁵ But thou, son of man, behold, they shall lay bands upon thee, and shall bind thee with them, and thou shalt not go out among them: ²⁶ and I will make thy tongue cleave to the roof of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be to them a reprover: for they are a rebellious house. ²⁷ But when I speak with thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD: He that heareth, let him hear; and he that forbeareth, let him forbear: for they are a rebellious house.

three hundred and ninety days: so shalt thou bear the iniquity of the house of Israel. ⁶ And again, when thou hast accomplished these, thou shalt lie on thy right side, and shalt bear the iniquity of the house of Judah: forty days, each day for a year, have I appointed it unto thee. ⁷ And thou shalt set thy face toward the siege of Jerusalem, with thine arm uncovered; and thou shalt prophesy against it. ⁸ And, behold, I lay bands upon thee, and thou shalt not turn thee from one side to another, till thou hast accomplished the days of thy siege. ⁹ Take thou also unto thee wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentils, and millet, and spelt, and put them in one vessel, and make thee bread thereof; according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon thy side, even three hundred and ninety days, shalt thou eat thereof. ¹⁰ And thy meat which thou shalt eat shall be by weight, twenty shekels a day: from time to time shalt thou eat it. ¹¹ And thou shalt drink water by measure, the sixth part of an hin: from time to time shalt thou drink. ¹² And thou shalt eat it as barley cakes, and thou shalt bake it in their sight with dung that cometh out of man. ¹³ And the LORD said, Even thus shall the children of Israel eat their bread unclean, among the nations whither I will drive them. ¹⁴ Then said I, Ah Lord GOD! behold, my soul hath not been polluted: for from my youth up even till now have I not eaten of that which dieth of itself, or is torn of beasts; neither came there abominable flesh into my mouth; ¹⁵ Then he said unto me, See, I have given thee cow's dung for man's dung, and thou shalt prepare thy bread thereon. ¹⁶ Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, behold, I will break the staff of bread in Jerusalem: and they shall eat bread by weight, and with carefulness; and they shall drink water by measure, and with astonishment: ¹⁷ that they may want bread and water, and be astonished one with another, and pine away in their iniquity.

¹ And thou, son of man, take thee a sharp sword, as a barber's razor shalt thou take it unto thee, and shalt cause it to pass upon thine head and upon thy beard: then take thee balances to weigh, and divide the hair. ² A third part shalt thou burn in the fire

in the midst of the city, when the days of the siege are fulfilled; and thou shalt take a third part, and smite with the sword round about it; and a third part thou shalt scatter to the wind, and I will draw out a sword after them. ³And thou shalt take thereof a few in number, and bind them in thy skirts. ⁴And of these again shalt thou take, and cast them into the midst of the fire, and burn them in the fire; therefrom shall a fire come forth into all the house of Israel. ⁵Thus saith the Lord GOD: This is Jerusalem: I have set her in the midst of the nations, and countries are round about her. ⁶And she hath rebelled against my judgments in doing wickedness more than the nations, and against my statutes more than the countries that are round about her: for they have rejected my judgments, and as for my statutes, they have not walked in them. ⁷Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Because ye are turbulent more than the nations that are round about you, and have not walked in my statutes, neither have kept my judgments, neither have done after the ordinances of the nations that are round about you; ⁸therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I, even I, am against thee; and I will execute judgments in the midst of thee in the sight of the nations. ⁹And I will do in thee that which I have not done, and whereunto I will not do any more the like, because of all thine abominations. ¹⁰Therefore the fathers shall eat the sons in the midst of thee, and the sons shall eat their fathers; and I will execute judgments in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I scatter unto all the winds. ¹¹Wherefore, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely, because thou hast defiled my sanctuary with all thy detestable things, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also diminish thee; neither shall mine eye spare, and I also will have no pity. ¹²A third part of thee shall die with the pestilence, and with famine shall they be consumed in the midst of thee; and a third part shall fall by the sword round about thee; and a third part I will scatter unto all the winds, and will draw out a sword after them. ¹³Thus shall mine anger be accomplished, and I will satisfy my fury upon them, and I will be comforted: and they shall know that I the LORD have spoken in my zeal, when I have accomplished

my fury upon them. ¹⁴Moreover I will make thee a desolation and a reproach, among the nations that are round about thee, in the sight of all that pass by. ¹⁵So it shall be a reproach and a taunt, an instruction and an astonishment, unto the nations that are round about thee, when I shall execute judgments in thee in anger and in fury, and in furious rebukes: I the LORD have spoken it: ¹⁶when I shall send upon them the evil arrows of famine, that are for destruction, which I will send to destroy you; and I will increase the famine upon you, and will break your staff of bread; ¹⁷and I will send upon you famine and evil beasts, and they shall bereave thee; and pestilence and blood shall pass through thee; and I will bring the sword upon thee: I the LORD have spoken it.

¹And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ²Son of man, set thy face toward the mountains of Israel, and prophesy unto them, ³and say, Ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord GOD: Thus saith the Lord GOD to the mountains and to the hills, to the watercourses and to the valleys: Behold, I, even I, will bring a sword upon you, and I will destroy your high places. ⁴Your altars shall become desolate, and your sun-images shall be broken: and I will cast down your slain men before your idols. ⁵And I will lay the carcasses of the children of Israel before their idols; and I will scatter your bones round about your altars. ⁶In all your dwelling places the cities shall be laid waste, and the high places shall be desolate; that your altars may be laid waste and made desolate, and your idols may be broken and cease, and your sun-images may be hewn down, and your works may be abolished. ⁷And the slain shall fall in the midst of you, and ye shall know that I am the LORD. ⁸Yet will I leave a remnant, in that ye shall have some that escape the sword among the nations, when ye shall be scattered through the countries. ⁹And they that escape of you shall remember me among the nations whither they shall be carried captives, how that I have been broken with their whorish heart, which hath departed from me, and with their eyes, which go a whoring after their idols: and they shall loathe themselves in their own sight for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations. ¹⁰ And they shall know that I am the LORD: I have not said in vain that I would do this evil unto them. ¹¹ Thus saith the Lord GOD: Smite with thine hand, and stamp with thy foot, and say, Alas! because of all the evil abominations of the house of Israel: for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence. ¹² He that is far off shall die of the pestilence; and he that is near shall fall by the sword; and he that remaineth and is besieged shall die by the famine: thus will I accomplish my fury upon them. ¹³ And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when their slain men shall be among their idols round about their altars, upon every high hill, in all the tops of the mountains, and under every green tree, and under every thick oak, the place where they did offer sweet savour to all their idols. ¹⁴ And I will stretch out my hand upon them, and make the land desolate and waste, from the wilderness toward Diblah, throughout all their habitations: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

¹ Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ² And thou, son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD unto the land of Israel, An end: the end is come upon the four corners of the land. ³ Now is the end upon thee, and I will send mine anger upon thee, and will judge thee according to thy ways; and I will bring upon thee all thine abominations. ⁴ And mine eye shall not spare thee, neither will I have pity: but I will bring thy ways upon thee, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee: and ye shall know that I am the LORD. ⁵ Thus saith the Lord GOD: An evil, an only evil; behold, it cometh. ⁶ An end is come, the end is come, it awaketh against thee; behold, it cometh. ⁷ Thy doom is come unto thee, O inhabitant of the land: the time is come, the day is near; a day of tumult, and not of joyful shouting, upon the mountains. ⁸ Now will I shortly pour out my fury upon thee, and accomplish mine anger against thee, and will judge thee according to thy ways; and I will bring upon thee all thine abominations. ⁹ And mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: I will bring upon thee according to thy ways, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee; and ye shall know that I the LORD do smite. ¹⁰ Behold, the day, behold, it cometh: thy doom is gone forth; the rod hath blossomed, pride hath budded. ¹¹ Violence is risen up into a rod of wickedness; none of them shall remain, nor of their multitude, nor of their wealth: neither shall there be eminency among them. ¹² The time is come, the day draweth near: let not the buyer rejoice, nor the seller mourn: for wrath is upon all the multitude thereof. ¹³ For the seller shall not return to that which is sold, although they be yet alive: for the vision is touching the whole multitude thereof, none shall return; neither shall any strengthen himself in the iniquity of his life. ¹⁴ They have blown the trumpet, and have made all ready; but none goeth to the battle: for my wrath is upon all the multitude thereof. ¹⁵ The sword is without, and the pestilence and the famine within: he that is in the field shall die with the sword; and he that is in the city, famine and pestilence shall devour him. ¹⁶ But they that escape of them shall escape, and shall be on the mountains like doves of the valleys, all of them mourning, every one in his iniquity. ¹⁷ All hands shall be feeble, and all knees shall be weak as water. ¹⁸ They shall also gird themselves with sackcloth, and horror shall cover them; and shame shall be upon all faces, and baldness upon all their heads. ¹⁹ They shall cast their silver in the streets, and their gold shall be as an unclean thing; their silver and their gold shall not be able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of the LORD; they shall not satisfy their souls, neither fill their bowels: because it hath been the stumblingblock of their iniquity. ²⁰ As for the beauty of his ornament, he set it in majesty: but they made the images of their abominations and their detestable things therein: therefore have I made it unto them as an unclean thing. ²¹ And I will give it into the hands of the strangers for a prey, and to the wicked of the earth for a spoil; and they shall profane it. ²² My face will I turn also from them, and they shall profane my secret place: and robbers shall enter into it, and profane it. ²³ Make the chain: for the land is full of bloody crimes, and the city is full of violence. ²⁴ Wherefore I will bring the worst of the heathen, and they shall possess their houses: I will also make the pride of the strong to cease; and their holy places shall be profaned. ²⁵ Destruction cometh; and they shall seek peace, and there shall be none. ²⁶ Mischief shall come upon mischief, and rumour shall be upon rumour; and they shall seek a vision of the prophet; but the law shall perish from the priest, and counsel from the ancients. ²⁷ The king shall mourn, and the prince shall be clothed with desolation, and the hands of the people of the land shall be troubled: I will do unto them after their way, and according to their deserts will I judge them; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

¹ And it came to in the sixth year, in the sixth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I sat in mine house, and the elders of Judah sat before me, that the hand of the Lord GOD fell there upon me. ² Then I beheld, and, lo, a likeness as the appearance of fire; from the appearance of his loins and downward, fire: and from his loins and upward, as the appearance of brightness, as the colour of amber. ³ And he put forth the form of an hand, and took me by a lock of mine head; and the spirit lifted me up between the earth and the heaven, and brought me in the visions of God to Jerusalem, to the door of the gate of the inner court that looketh toward the north; where was the seat of the image of jealousy, which provoketh to jealousy. ⁴ And, behold, the glory of the God of Israel was there, according to the appearance that I saw in the plain. ⁵ Then said he unto me, Son of man, lift up thine eyes now the way toward the north. So I lifted up mine eyes the way toward the north, and behold northward of the gate of the altar this image of jealousy in the entry. ⁶ And he said unto me, Son of man, seest thou what they do? even the great abominations that the house of Israel do commit here, that I should go far off from my sanctuary? but thou shalt again see yet other great abominations. ⁷ And he brought me to the door of the court; and when I looked, behold a hole in the wall. ⁸ Then said he unto me, Son of man, dig now in the wall: and when I had digged in the wall, behold a door. ⁹ And he said unto me, Go in, and see the wicked abominations that they do here. ¹⁰ So I went in and saw; and behold every form of creeping things, and abominable beasts, and all the idols of the house of Israel, pourtrayed upon the wall round about. ¹¹ And there stood before them seventy men of the elders of the house of Israel, and in the midst of them stood Jaazaniah the son of Shaphan, with every man his censer in his hand; and the odour of the cloud of incense went up. ¹² Then said he unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen what the elders of the house of Israel do in the dark, every man in his chambers of imagery? for they say, the LORD seeth us not; the LORD hath forsaken the earth. ¹³ He said also unto me, Thou shalt again see yet other great abominations which they do. ¹⁴ Then he brought me to the door of the gate of the LORD'S house which was toward the north; and behold, there sat the women weeping for Tammuz. ¹⁵ Then said he unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? thou shalt again see yet greater abominations than these. ¹⁶ And he brought me into the inner court of the LORD'S house, and behold, at the door of the temple of the LORD, between the porch and the altar, were about five and twenty men, with their backs toward the temple of the LORD, and their faces toward the east; and they worshipped the sun toward the east. ¹⁷ Then he said unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? Is it a light thing to the house of Judah that they commit the abominations which they commit here? for they have filled the land with violence, and have turned again to provoke me to anger: and, lo, they put the branch to their nose. ¹⁸ Therefore will I also deal in fury: mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: and though they cry in mine ears with a loud voice, yet will I not hear them.

weapon in his hand; and one man in the midst of them clothed in linen, with a writer's inkhorn by his side. And they went in, and stood beside the brasen altar. ³And the glory of the God of Israel was gone up from the cherub, whereupon it was, to the threshold of the house: and he called to the man clothed in linen, which had the writer's inkhorn by his side. ⁴And the LORD said unto him, Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and set a mark upon the foreheads of the men that sigh and that cry for all the abominations that be done in the midst thereof. ⁵And to the others he said in mine hearing, Go ye through the city after him, and smite: let not your eye spare, neither have ye pity: ⁶slay utterly the old man, the young man and the maiden, and little children and women: but come not near any man upon whom is the mark; and begin at my sanctuary. Then they began at the ancient men which were before the house. ⁷And he said unto them, Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slain: go ye forth. And they went forth, and smote in the city. ⁸And it came to pass, while they were smiting, and I was left, that I fell upon my face, and cried, and said, Ah Lord GOD! wilt thou destroy all the residue of Israel in thy pouring out of thy fury upon Jerusalem? ⁹Then said he unto me, The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceeding great, and the land is full of blood, and the city full of wrestling of judgment: for they say, The LORD hath forsaken the earth, and the LORD seeth not. ¹⁰And as for me also, mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity, but I will bring their way upon their head. ¹¹And behold, the man clothed in linen, which had the inkhorn by his side, reported the matter, saying, I have done as thou hast commanded me.

¹Then I looked, and behold, in the firmament that was over the head of the cherubim, there appeared above them as it were a sapphire stone, as the appearance of the likeness of a throne. ²And he spake unto the man clothed in linen, and said, Go in between the whirling wheels, even under the cherub, and fill both thine hands with coals of fire from between the cherubim, and scatter them over the city. And he went in in my sight. ³Now the cherubim stood on the right side of the house, when the man went in; and the cloud filled the inner court. ⁴And the glory of the LORD mounted up from the cherub, and stood over the threshold of the house; and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of the LORD'S glory. ⁵And the sound of the wings of the cherubim was heard even to the outer court, as the voice of God Almighty when he speaketh. ⁶And it came to pass, when he commanded the man clothed in linen, saying, Take fire from between the whirling wheels, from between the cherubim, that he went in, and stood beside a wheel. ⁷And the cherub stretched forth his hand from between the cherubim unto the fire that was between the cherubim, and took thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed in linen, who took it and went out. ⁸And there appeared in the cherubim the form of a man's hand under their wings. ⁹And I looked, and behold, four wheels beside the cherubim, one wheel beside one cherub, and another wheel beside another cherub: and the appearance of the wheels was as the colour of a beryl stone. ¹⁰And as for their appearance, they four had one likeness, as if a wheel had been within a wheel. ¹¹When they went, they went upon their four sides: they turned not as they went, but to the place whither the head looked they followed it; they turned not as they went. ¹²And their whole body, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels, were full of eyes round about, even the wheels that they four had. ¹³As for the wheels, they were called in my hearing, the whirling wheels. ¹⁴And every one had four faces: the first face was the face of the cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle. ¹⁵And the cherubim mounted up: this is the living creature that I saw by the river Chebar. ¹⁶And when the cherubim went, the wheels went beside them: and when the cherubim lifted up their wings to mount up from the earth, the wheels also turned not from beside them. ¹⁷When they stood, these stood; and when they mounted up, these mounted up with them: for the spirit of the living creature was in them. ¹⁸And the glory of the LORD went forth from over the threshold of the house, and stood over the cherubim.¹⁹ And the cherubim lifted up their wings, and mounted up from the earth in my sight when they went forth, and the wheels beside them: and they stood at the door of the east gate of the LORD'S house; and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.²⁰ This is the living creature that I saw under the God of Israel by the river Chebar; and I knew that they were cherubim.²¹ Every one had four faces apiece, and every one four wings; and the likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings.²² And as for the likeness of their faces, they were the faces which I saw by the river Chebar, their appearances and themselves; they went every one straight forward.

¹ Moreover the spirit lifted me up, and brought me unto the east gate of the LORD'S house, which looketh eastward: and behold, at the door of the gate five and twenty men; and I saw in the midst of them Jaazaniah the son of Azzur, and Pelatiah the son of Benaiah, princes of the people.² And he said unto me, Son of man, these are the men that devise iniquity, and that give wicked counsel in this city,³ which say, The time is not near to build houses: this city is the caldron, and we be the flesh.⁴ Therefore prophesy against them, prophesy, O son of man.⁵ And the spirit of the LORD fell upon me, and he said unto me, Speak, Thus saith the LORD: Thus have ye said, O house of Israel; for I know the things that come into your mind.⁶ Ye have multiplied your slain in this city, and ye have filled the streets thereof with the slain.⁷ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Your slain whom ye have laid in the midst of it, they are the flesh, and this city is the caldron: but ye shall be brought forth out of the midst of it.⁸ Ye have feared the sword; and I will bring the sword upon you, saith the Lord GOD.⁹ And I will bring you forth out of the midst thereof, and deliver you into the hands of strangers, and will execute judgments among you.¹⁰ Ye shall fall by the sword; I will judge you in the border of Israel; and ye shall know that I am the LORD.¹¹ This city shall not be your caldron, neither shall ye be the flesh in the midst thereof; I will judge you in the border of Israel;¹² and ye shall know that I am the LORD: for ye have not walked in my statutes, neither have ye executed my judgments, but have done after the ordinances of the nations that are round about you.¹³ And it came to pass, when I prophesied, that Pelatiah the son of Benaiah died. Then fell I down upon my face, and cried with a loud voice, and said, Ah Lord GOD! wilt thou make a full end of the remnant of Israel?¹⁴ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,¹⁵ Son of man, thy brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Israel, all of them, are they unto whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, Get you far from the LORD; unto us is this land given for a possession:¹⁶ Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Whereas I have removed them far off among the nations, and whereas I have scattered them among the countries, yet will I be to them a sanctuary for a little while in the countries where they are come.¹⁷ Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord GOD: I will gather you from the peoples, and assemble you out of the countries where ye have been scattered, and I will give you the land of Israel.¹⁸ And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all the detestable things thereof and all the abominations thereof from thence.¹⁹ And I will give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within you; and I will take the stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them an heart of flesh:²⁰ that they may walk in my statutes, and keep mine ordinances, and do them: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God.²¹ But as for them whose heart walketh after the heart of their detestable things and their abominations, I will bring their way upon their own heads, saith the Lord GOD.²² Then did the cherubim lift up their wings, and the wheels were beside them; and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.²³ And the glory of the LORD went up from the midst of the city, and stood upon the mountain which is on the east side of the city.²⁴ And the spirit lifted me up, and brought me in the vision by the spirit of God into Chaldea, to them of the captivity. So the vision that I had seen went up from me. ²⁵ Then I spake unto them of the captivity all the things that the LORD had shewed me.

¹ The word of the LORD also came unto me, saying, ² Son of man, thou dwellest in the midst of the rebellious house, which have eyes to see, and see not, which have ears to hear, and hear not; for they are a rebellious house. ³ Therefore, thou son of man, prepare thee stuff for removing, and remove by day in their sight; and thou shalt remove from thy place to another place in their sight: it may be they will consider, though they be a rebellious house. ⁴ And thou shalt bring forth thy stuff by day in their sight, as stuff for removing; and thou shalt go forth thyself at even in their sight, as when men go forth into exile. ⁵ Dig thou through the wall in their sight, and carry out thereby. ⁶ In their sight shalt thou bear it upon thy shoulder, and carry it forth in the dark; thou shalt cover thy face, that thou see not the ground: for I have set thee for a sign unto the house of Israel. ⁷ And I did so as I was commanded: I brought forth my stuff by day, as stuff for removing, and in the even I digged through the wall with mine hand; I brought it forth in the dark, and bare it upon my shoulder in their sight. ⁸ And in the morning came the word of the LORD unto me, saying, ⁹ Son of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said unto thee, What doest thou? ¹⁰ Say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD: This burden concerneth the prince in Jerusalem, and all the house of Israel among whom they are. ¹¹ Say, I am your sign: like as I have done, so shall it be done unto them: they shall go into exile, into captivity. ¹² And the prince that is among them shall bear upon his shoulder in the dark, and shall go forth: they shall dig through the wall to carry out thereby: he shall cover his face, because he shall not see the ground with his eyes. ¹³ My net also will I spread upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare: and I will bring him to Babylon to the land of the Chaldeans; yet shall he not see it, though he shall die there. ¹⁴ And I will scatter toward every wind all that are round about him to help him, and all his bands; and I will draw out the sword after them. ¹⁵ And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall disperse them among the nations, and scatter them through the countries. ¹⁶ But I will leave a few men of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence; that they may declare all their abominations among the nations whither they come; and they shall know that I am the LORD. ¹⁷ Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ¹⁸ Son of man, eat thy bread with quaking, and drink thy water with trembling and with carefulness; ¹⁹ and say unto the people of the land, Thus saith the Lord GOD concerning the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the land of Israel: They shall eat their bread with carefulness, and drink their water with astonishment, that her land may be desolate from all that is therein, because of the violence of all them that dwell therein. ²⁰ And the cities that are inhabited shall be laid waste, and the land shall be a desolation; and ye shall know that I am the LORD. ²¹ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ²² Son of man, what is this proverb that ye have in the land of Israel, saying, The days are prolonged, and every vision faileth? ²³ Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord GOD: I will make this proverb to cease, and they shall no more use it as a proverb in Israel; but say unto them, The days are at hand, and the effect of every vision. ²⁴ For there shall be no more any vain vision, nor flattering divination within the house of Israel. ²⁵ For I am the LORD; I will speak, and the word that I shall speak shall be performed; it shall be no more deferred: for in your days, O rebellious house, will I speak the word, and will perform it, saith the Lord GOD. ²⁶ Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ²⁷ Son of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that he seeth is for many days to come, and he prophesieth of times that are far off. ²⁸ Therefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD: There shall none of my words be deferred any more, but the word which I shall speak shall be performed, saith the Lord GOD.

me, saying, ²Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel that prophesy, and say thou unto them that prophesy out of their own heart, Hear ye the word of the LORD; ³Thus saith the Lord GOD: Woe unto the foolish prophets, that follow their own spirit, and have seen nothing! ⁴O Israel, thy prophets have been like foxes in the waste places. ⁵Ye have not gone up into the gaps, neither made up the fence for the house of Israel, to stand in the battle in the day of the LORD. ⁶They have seen vanity and lying divination, that say, The LORD saith; and the LORD hath not sent them: and they have made men to hope that the word should be confirmed. ⁷Have ye not seen a vain vision, and have ye not spoken a lying divination, whereas ye say, The LORD saith; albeit I have not spoken? ⁸Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Because ye have spoken vanity, and seen lies, therefore, behold, I am against you, saith the Lord GOD. ⁹And mine hand shall be against the prophets that see vanity, and that divine lies: they shall not be in the council of my people, neither shall they be written in the writing of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel; and ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD. ¹⁰Because, even because they have seduced my people, saying, Peace; and there is no peace; and when one buildeth up a wall, behold, they daub it with untempered mortar: ¹¹say unto them which daub it with untempered mortar, that it shall fall: there shall be an overflowing shower; and ye, O great hailstones, shall fall; and a stormy wind shall rend it. ¹²Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be said unto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye have daubed it? ¹³Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; I will even rend it with a stormy wind in my fury; and there shall be an overflowing shower in mine anger, and great hailstones in fury to consume it. ¹⁴So will I break down the wall that ye have daubed with untempered mortar, and bring it down to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be discovered: and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the midst thereof; and ye shall know that I am the LORD. ¹⁵Thus will I accomplish my fury upon the wall, and upon them that have daubed it with untempered mortar; and I will say unto you, The wall is no more, neither they that daubed it; ¹⁶to wit, the prophets of Israel which prophesy concerning Jerusalem, and which see visions of peace for her, and there is no peace, saith the Lord GOD. ¹⁷And thou, son of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophesy out of their own heart; and prophesy thou against them, ¹⁸and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Woe to the women that sew pillows upon all elbows, and make kerchiefs for the head of persons of every stature to hunt souls! will ye hunt the souls of my people, and save souls alive for yourselves? ¹⁹And ye have profaned me among my people for handfuls of barley and for pieces of bread, to slay the souls that should not die, and to save the souls alive that should not live, by your lying to my people that hearken unto lies. ²⁰Wherfore thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against your pillows, wherewith ye there hunt the souls to make them fly, and I will tear them from your arms; and I will let the souls go, even the souls that ye hunt to make them fly. ²¹Your kerchiefs also will I tear, and deliver my people out of your hand, and they shall be no more in your hand to be hunted; and ye shall know that I am the LORD. ²²Because with lies ye have grieved the heart of the righteous, whom I have not made sad; and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not return from his wicked way, and be saved alive: ²³therefore ye shall no more see vanity, nor divine divinations: and I will deliver my people out of your hand; and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

multitude of his idols; ⁵ that I may take the house of Israel in their own heart, because they are all estranged from me through their idols. ⁶ Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Return ye, and turn yourselves from your idols; and turn away your faces from all your abominations. ⁷ For every one of the house of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourn in Israel, which separateth himself from me, and taketh his idols into his heart, and putteth the stumblingblock of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet to inquire for himself of me; I the LORD will answer him by myself: ⁸ and I will set my face against that man, and will make him an astonishment, for a sign and a proverb, and I will cut him off from the midst of my people; and ye shall know that I am the LORD. ⁹ And if the prophet be deceived and speaketh a word, I the LORD have deceived that prophet, and I will stretch out my hand upon him, and will destroy him from the midst of my people Israel. ¹⁰ And they shall bear their iniquity: the iniquity of the prophet shall be even as the iniquity of him that seeketh unto him; ¹¹ that the house of Israel may go no more astray from me, neither defile themselves any more with all their transgressions; but that they may be my people, and I may be their God, saith the Lord GOD. ¹² And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ¹³ Son of man, when a land sinneth against me by committing a trespass, and I stretch out mine hand upon it, and break the staff of the bread thereof, and send famine upon it, and cut off from it man and beast; ¹⁴ though these three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, they should deliver but their own souls by their righteousness, saith the Lord GOD. ¹⁵ If I cause noisome beasts to pass through the land, and they spoil it, so that it be desolate, that no man may pass through because of the beasts; ¹⁶ though these three men were in it, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters; they only shall be delivered, but the land shall be desolate. ¹⁷ Or if I bring a sword upon that land, and say, Sword, go through the land; so that I cut off from it man and beast; ¹⁸ though these three men were in it, as I live, saith the Lord GOD; they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters, but they only shall be delivered themselves. ¹⁹ Or if I send a pestilence into that land, and pour out my fury upon it in blood, to cut off from it man and beast: ²⁰ though Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, they shall deliver neither son nor daughter; they shall but deliver their own souls by their righteousness. ²¹ For thus saith the Lord GOD: How much more when I send my four sore judgments upon Jerusalem, the sword, and the famine, and the noisome beasts, and the pestilence, to cut off from it man and beast? ²² Yet, behold, therein shall be left a remnant that shall be carried forth, both sons and daughters: behold, they shall come forth unto you, and ye shall see their way and their doings: and ye shall be comforted concerning the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, even concerning all that I have brought upon it. ²³ And they shall comfort you, when ye see their way and their doings: and ye shall know that I have not done without cause all that I have done in it, saith the Lord GOD.

¹ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ² Son of man, What is the vine tree more than any tree, the vine branch which is among the trees of the forest? ³ Shall wood be taken thereof to make any work? or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessel thereon? ⁴ Behold, it is cast into the fire for fuel: the fire hath devoured both the ends of it, and the midst of it is burned; is it profitable for any work? ⁵ Behold, when it was whole, it was meet for no work: how much less, when the fire hath devoured it, and it is burned, shall it yet be meet for any work? ⁶ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: As the vine tree among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so will I give the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ⁷ And I will set my face against them; they shall go forth from the fire, but the fire shall devour them; and ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I set my face against them. ⁸ And I will make the land desolate, because they have committed a trespass, saith the Lord GOD.

me, saying, ² Son of man, cause Jerusalem to know her abominations, ³ and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD unto Jerusalem: Thy birth and thy nativity is of the land of the Canaanite; the Amorite was thy father, and thy mother was an Hittite. ⁴ And as for thy nativity, in the day thou wast born thy navel was not cut, neither wast thou washed in water to cleanse thee; thou wast not salted at all, nor swaddled at all. ⁵ None eye pitied thee, to do any of these unto thee, to have compassion upon thee; but thou wast cast out in the open field, for that thy person was abhorred, in the day that thou wast born. ⁶ And when I passed by thee, and saw thee weltering in thy blood, I said unto thee, Though thou art in thy blood, live; yea, I said unto thee, Though thou art in thy blood, live. ⁷ I caused thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou didst increase and wax great, and thou attainedst to excellent ornament; thy breasts were fashioned, and thine hair was grown; yet thou wast naked and bare. ⁸ Now when I passed by thee, and looked upon thee, behold, thy time was the time of love; and I spread my skirt over thee, and covered thy nakedness: yea, I swore unto thee, and entered into a covenant with thee, saith the Lord GOD, and thou becamest mine. ⁹ Then washed I thee with water; yea, I thoroughly washed away thy blood from thee, and I anointed thee with oil. ¹⁰ I clothed thee also with brodered work, and shod thee with sealskin, and I girded thee about with fine linen, and covered thee with silk. ¹¹ I decked thee also with ornaments, and I put bracelets upon thy hands, and a chain on thy neck. ¹² And I put a ring upon thy nose, and earrings in thine ears, and a beautiful crown upon thine head. ¹³ Thus wast thou decked with gold and silver; and thy raiment was of fine linen, and silk, and brodered work; thou didst eat fine flour, and honey, and oil: and thou wast exceeding beautiful, and thou didst prosper unto royal estate. ¹⁴ And thy renown went forth among the nations for thy beauty; for it was perfect through my majesty which I had put upon thee, saith the Lord GOD. ¹⁵ But thou didst trust in thy beauty, and playedst the harlot because of thy renown, and pouredst out thy whoredoms on every one that passed by; his it was. ¹⁶ And thou didst take of thy garments, and madest for thee high places decked with divers colours, and playedst the harlot upon them: the like things shall not come, neither shall it be so. ¹⁷ Thou didst also take thy fair jewels of my gold and of my silver, which I had given thee, and madest for thee images of men, and didst play the harlot with them; ¹⁸ and thou tookest thy brodered garments, and coveredst them, and didst set mine oil and mine incense before them. ¹⁹ My bread also which I gave thee, fine flour, and oil, and honey, wherewith I fed thee, thou didst even set it before them for a sweet savour, and thus it was; saith the Lord GOD. ²⁰ Moreover thou hast taken thy sons and thy daughters, whom thou hast borne unto me, and these hast thou sacrificed unto them to be devoured. Were thy whoredoms a small matter, ²¹ that thou hast slain my children, and delivered them up, in causing them to pass through the fire unto them? ²² And in all thine abominations and thy whoredoms thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, and wast weltering in thy blood. ²³ And it is come to pass after all thy wickedness, (woe, woe unto thee! saith the Lord GOD,) ²⁴ that thou hast built unto thee an eminent place, and hast made thee a lofty place in every street. ²⁵ Thou hast built thy lofty place at every head of the way, and hast made thy beauty an abomination, and hast opened thy feet to every one that passed by, and multiplied thy whoredom. ²⁶ Thou hast also committed fornication with the Egyptians, thy neighbours, great of flesh; and hast multiplied thy whoredom, to provoke me to anger. ²⁷ Behold therefore, I have stretched out my hand over thee, and have diminished thine ordinary food, and delivered thee unto the will of them that hate thee, the daughters of the Philistines, which are ashamed of thy lewd way. ²⁸ Thou hast played the harlot also with the Assyrians, because thou wast unsatiable; yea, thou hast played the harlot with them, and yet thou wast not satisfied. ²⁹ Thou hast moreover multiplied thy whoredom in the land of Canaan, unto Chaldea; and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith. ³⁰ How weak is thine heart, saith the Lord GOD, seeing thou doest all these things, the work of an imperious whorish woman; ³¹ in that thou buildest thine eminent place in the head of every way, and makest thy lofty place in every street; and hast not been as an harlot, in that thou scornest hire. ³² A wife that committeth adultery! that taketh strangers instead of her husband! ³³ They give gifts to all harlots: but thou gavest thy gifts to all thy lovers, and bribest them, that they may come unto thee on every side for thy whoredoms. ³⁴ And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy whoredoms, in that none followeth thee to commit whoredom: and whereas thou givest hire, and no hire is given unto thee, therefore thou art contrary. ³⁵ Wherefore, O harlot, hear the word of the LORD: ³⁶ Thus saith the Lord GOD, Because thy filthiness was poured out, and thy nakedness discovered through thy whoredoms with thy lovers; and because of all the idols of thy abominations, and for the blood of thy children, which thou didst give unto them; ³⁷ therefore behold, I will gather all thy lovers, with whom thou hast taken pleasure, and all them that thou hast loved, with all them that thou hast hated; I will even gather them against thee on every side, and will discover thy nakedness unto them, that they may see all thy nakedness. ³⁸ And I will judge thee, as women that break wedlock and shed blood are judged; and I will bring upon thee the blood of fury and jealousy. ³⁹ I will also give thee into their hand, and they shall throw down thine eminent place, and break down thy lofty places; and they shall strip thee of thy clothes, and take thy fair jewels: and they shall leave thee naked and bare. ⁴⁰ They shall also bring up an assembly against thee, and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swords. ⁴¹ And they shall burn thine houses with fire, and execute judgments upon thee in the sight of many women; and I will cause thee to cease from playing the harlot, and thou shalt also give no hire any more. ⁴² So will I satisfy my fury upon thee, and my jealousy shall depart from thee, and I will be quiet, and will be no more angry. ⁴³ Because thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, but hast fretted me in all these things;

therefore behold, I also will bring thy way upon thine head, saith the Lord GOD: and thou shalt not commit this lewdness above all thine abominations. ⁴⁴ Behold, every one that useth proverbs shall use this proverb against thee, saying, As is the mother, so is her daughter. ⁴⁵ Thou art thy mother's daughter, that loatheth her husband and her children; and thou art the sister of thy sisters, which loathed their husbands and their children: your mother was an Hittite, and your father an Amorite. ⁴⁶ And thine elder sister is Samaria, that dwelleth at thy left hand, she and her daughters: and thy younger sister, that dwelleth at thy right hand, is Sodom and her daughters. ⁴⁷ Yet hast thou not walked in their ways, nor done after their abominations; but, as if that were a very little thing, thou wast more corrupt than they in all thy ways. ⁴⁸ As I live, saith the Lord GOD, Sodom thy sister hath not done, she nor her daughters, as thou hast done, thou and thy daughters. ⁴⁹ Behold, this was the iniquity of thy sister Sodom; pride, fulness of bread, and prosperous ease was in her and in her daughters; neither did she strengthen the hand of the poor and needy. ⁵⁰ And they were haughty, and committed abomination before me: therefore I took them away as I saw good. ⁵¹ Neither hath Samaria committed half of thy sins; but thou hast multiplied thine abominations more than they, and hast justified thy sisters by all thine abominations which thou hast done. ⁵² Thou also, bear thine own shame, in that thou hast given judgment for thy sisters; through thy sins that thou hast committed more abominable than they, they are more righteous than thou: yea, be thou also confounded, and bear thy shame, in that thou hast justified thy sisters. ⁵³ And I will turn again their captivity, the captivity of Sodom and her daughters, and the captivity of Samaria and her daughters, and the captivity of thy captives in the midst of them: ⁵⁴ that thou mayest bear thine own shame, and mayest be ashamed because of all that thou hast done, in that thou art a comfort unto them. ⁵⁵ And thy sisters, Sodom and her daughters, shall return to their former estate, and Samaria and her daughters shall return to their former estate, and thou and thy daughters shall return to your former estate. ⁵⁶ For thy sister Sodom was not mentioned by thy mouth in the day of thy pride; ⁵⁷ before thy wickedness was discovered, as at the time of the reproach of the daughters of Syria, and of all that are round about her, the daughters of the Philistines, which do despite unto thee round about. ⁵⁸ Thou hast borne thy lewdness and thine abominations, saith the LORD. ⁵⁹ For thus saith the Lord GOD: I will even deal with thee as thou hast done, which hast despised the oath in breaking the covenant. ⁶⁰ Nevertheless I will remember my covenant with thee in the days of thy youth, and I will establish unto thee an everlasting covenant. ⁶¹ Then shalt thou remember thy ways, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receive thy sisters, thine elder sisters and thy younger; and I will give them unto thee for daughters, but not by thy covenant. ⁶² And I will establish my covenant with thee; and thou shalt know that I am the LORD: ⁶³ that thou mayest remember, and be confounded, and never open thy mouth any more, because of thy shame; when I have forgiven thee all that thou hast done, saith the Lord GOD.

¹ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ² Son of man, put forth a riddle, and speak a parable unto the house of Israel; ³ and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD: A great eagle with great wings and long pinions, full of feathers, which had divers colours, came unto Lebanon, and took the top of the cedar: ⁴ he cropped off the topmost of the young twigs thereof, and carried it into a land of traffic; he set it in a city of merchants. ⁵ He took also of the seed of the land, and planted it in a fruitful soil; he placed it beside many waters; he set it as a willow tree. ⁶ And it grew, and became a spreading vine of low stature, whose branches turned toward him, and the roots thereof were under him: so it became a vine, and brought forth branches, and shot forth sprigs. ⁷ There was also another great eagle with great wings and many feathers: and, behold, this vine did bend its roots toward him, and shot forth its branches toward him, from the beds of its plantation, that he might water

it. ⁸ It was planted in a good soil by many waters, that it might bring forth branches, and that it might bear fruit, that it might be a goodly vine. ⁹ Say thou, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Shall it prosper? shall he not pull up the roots thereof, and cut off the fruit thereof, that it may wither; that all its fresh springing leaves may wither; even without great power or much people to pluck it up by the roots thereof? ¹⁰ Yea, behold, being planted, shall it prosper? shall it not utterly wither; when the east wind toucheth it? it shall wither in the beds where it grew. ¹¹ Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ¹² Say now to the rebellious house, Know ye not what these things mean? tell them, Behold, the king of Babylon came to Jerusalem, and took the king thereof, and the princes thereof, and brought them to him to Babylon; ¹³ and he took of the seed royal, and made a covenant with him; he also brought him under an oath, and took away the mighty of the land: ¹⁴ that the kingdom might be base, that it might not lift itself up, but that by keeping of his covenant it might stand. ¹⁵ But he rebelled against him in sending his ambassadors into Egypt, that they might give him horses and much people. Shall he prosper? shall he escape that doeth such things? shall he break the covenant, and yet escape? ¹⁶ As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely in the place where the king dwelleth that made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose covenant he brake, even with him in the midst of Babylon he shall die. ¹⁷ Neither shall Pharaoh with his mighty army and great company make for him in the war, when they cast up mounts and build forts, to cut off many persons. ¹⁸ For he hath despised the oath by breaking the covenant; and behold, he had given his hand, and yet hath done all these things; he shall not escape. ¹⁹ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: As I live, surely mine oath that he hath despised, and my covenant that he hath broken, I will even bring it upon his own head. ²⁰ And I will spread my net upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare, and I will bring him to Babylon, and will plead with him there for his trespass that he hath trespassed against me. ²¹ And all his fugitives in all his bands shall fall by the sword, and they that remain shall be scattered toward every wind: and ye shall know that I the LORD have spoken it. ²² Thus saith the Lord GOD: I will also take of the lofty top of the cedar, and will set it; I will crop off from the topmost of his young twigs a tender one, and I will plant it upon an high mountain and eminent: ²³ in the mountain of the height of Israel will I plant it: and it shall bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a goodly cedar: and under it shall dwell all fowl of every wing; in the shadow of the branches thereof shall they dwell. ²⁴ And all the trees of the field shall know that I the LORD have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and have made the dry tree to flourish: I the LORD have spoken and have done it.

¹ The word of the Lord came unto me again, saying, ² What mean ye, that ye use this proverb concerning the land of Israel, saying, The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge? ³ As I live, saith the Lord GOD, ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Israel. ⁴ Behold, all souls are mine; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine: the soul that sinneth, it shall die. ⁵ But if a man be just, and do that which is lawful and right, ⁶ and hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, neither hath defiled his neighbour's wife, neither hath come near to a woman in her separation; ⁷ and hath not wronged any, but hath restored to the debtor his pledge, hath spoiled none by violence, hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment; ⁸ he that hath not given forth upon usury, neither hath taken any increase, that hath withdrawn his hand from iniquity, hath executed true judgment between man and man, ⁹ hath walked in my statutes, and hath kept my judgments, to deal truly; he is just, he shall surely live, saith the Lord GOD. ¹⁰ If he beget a son that is a robber, a shedder of blood, and that doeth any one of these things, ¹¹ and that doeth not any of those duties, but even hath eaten upon the mountains, and defiled his neighbour's wife, ¹² hath wronged the poor and needy, hath spoiled by violence, hath not restored the pledge, and hath lifted up his eyes to the idols, hath committed abomination, ¹³ hath given forth upon usury, and hath taken increase: shall he then live? he shall not live: he hath done all these abominations: he shall surely die; his blood shall be upon him. ¹⁴ Now, lo, if he beget a son, that seeth all his father's sins, which he hath done, and feareth, and doth not such like, ¹⁵ that hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, hath not defiled his neighbour's wife, ¹⁶ neither hath wronged any, hath not taken aught to pledge, neither hath spoiled by violence, but hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment, ¹⁷ that hath withdrawn his hand from the poor, that hath not received usury nor increase, hath executed my judgments, hath walked in my statutes; he shall not die for the iniquity of his father, he shall surely live. ¹⁸ As for his father, because he cruelly oppressed, spoiled his brother by violence, and did that which is not good among his people, behold, he shall die in his iniquity. ¹⁹ Yet say ye, Wherefore doth not the son bear the iniquity of the father? When the son hath done that which is lawful and right, and hath kept all my statutes, and hath done them, he shall surely live. ²⁰ The soul that sinneth, it shall die: the son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son; the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him. ²¹ But if the wicked turn from all his sins that he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die. ²² None of his transgressions that he hath committed shall be remembered against him: in his righteousness that he hath done he shall live. ²³ Have I any pleasure in the death of the wicked? saith the Lord GOD: and not rather that he should return from his way, and live? ²⁴ But when the righteous turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and doeth according to all the abominations that the wicked man doeth, shall he live? None of his righteous deeds that he hath done shall be remembered; in his trespass that he hath trespassed, and in his sin that he hath sinned, in them shall he die. ²⁵ Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equal. Hear now, O house of Israel: Is not my way equal? are not your ways unequal? ²⁶ When the righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and dieth therein; in his iniquity that he hath done shall he die. ²⁷ Again, when the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive. ²⁸ Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, he shall surely live, he shall not die. ²⁹ Yet saith the house of Israel, The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, are not my ways equal? are not your ways unequal? ³⁰ Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, every one according to his ways, saith the Lord GOD. Return ye, and turn yourselves from all your transgressions; so iniquity shall not be your ruin. ³¹ Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereto ye have transgressed; and make you a new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Israel? ³² For I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord GOD: wherefore turn yourselves, and live.

¹ Moreover, take thou up a lamentation for the princes of Israel, ² and say, What was thy mother? A lioness: she couched among lions, in the midst of the young lions she nourished her whelps. ³ And she brought up one of her whelps; he became a young lion: and he learned to catch the prey, he devoured men. ⁴ The nations also heard of him; he was taken in their pit: and they brought him with hooks unto the land of Egypt. ⁵ Now when she saw that she had waited, and her hope was lost, then she took another of her whelps, and made him a young lion. ⁶ And he went up and down among the lions, he became a young lion: and he learned to catch the prey, he devoured men. ⁷ And he knew their palaces, and laid waste their cities; and the land was desolate, and the fulness thereof, because of the noise of his roaring. ⁸ Then the nations set against him on every side from the provinces: and they spread their net over him; he was taken in their pit. ⁹ And they put him in a cage with hooks, and brought him to the king of Babylon; they brought him into strong holds, that his voice should no more be heard upon the mountains of Israel. ¹⁰ Thy mother was like a vine, in thy blood, planted by the waters: she was fruitful and full of branches by reason of many waters. ¹¹ And she had strong rods for the sceptres of them that bare rule, and their stature was exalted among the thick boughs, and they were seen in their height with the multitude of their branches. ¹² But she was plucked up in fury, she was cast down to the ground, and the east wind dried up her fruit: her strong rods were broken off and withered; the fire consumed them. ¹³ And now she is planted in the wilderness, in a dry and thirsty land. ¹⁴ And fire is gone out of the rods of her branches, it hath devoured her fruit, so that there is in her no strong rod to be a sceptre to rule. This is a lamentation, and shall be for a lamentation.

¹ And it came to pass in the seventh year, in the fifth month, the tenth day of the month, that certain of the elders of Israel came to inquire of the LORD, and sat before me. ² And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ³ Son of man, speak unto the elders of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Are ye come to inquire of me? As I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will not be inquired of by you. ⁴ Wilt thou judge them, son of man, wilt thou judge them? Cause them to know the abominations of their fathers; ⁵ and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD: In the day when I chose Israel, and lifted up mine hand unto the seed of the house of Jacob, and made myself known unto them in the land of Egypt, when I lifted up mine hand unto them, Saying, I am the LORD your God; ⁶ in that day I lifted up mine hand unto them, to bring them forth out of the land of Egypt into a land that I had espied for them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands: ⁷ And I said unto them, Cast ye away every man the abominations of his eyes, and defile not yourselves with the idols of Egypt; I am the LORD your God. ⁸But they rebelled against me, and would not hearken unto me; they did not every man cast away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idols of Egypt: then I said I would pour out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the midst of the land of Egypt. ⁹But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, among whom they were, in whose sight I made myself known unto them, in bringing them forth out of the land of Egypt. ¹⁰So I caused them to go forth out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness. ¹¹And I gave them my statutes, and shewed them my judgments, which if a man do, he shall live in them. ¹²Moreover also I gave them my sabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am the LORD that sanctify them. ¹³But the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness: they walked not in my statutes, and they rejected my judgments, which if a man do, he shall live in them; and my sabbaths they greatly profaned: then I said I would pour out my fury upon them in the wilderness, to consume them. ¹⁴But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, in whose sight I brought them out. ¹⁵Moreover also I lifted up my hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands; ¹⁶because they rejected my judgments, and walked not in my statutes, and profaned my sabbaths: for their heart went after their idols. ¹⁷Nevertheless mine eye spared them from destroying them, neither did I make a full end of them in the wilderness. ¹⁸And I said unto their children in the wilderness, Walk ye not in the statutes of your fathers, neither observe their judgments, nor defile yourselves with their idols: ¹⁹I am the LORD your God; walk in my statutes, and keep my judgments, and do them: ²⁰and hallow my sabbaths; and they shall be a sign between me and you, that ye may know that I am the LORD your God. ²¹But the children rebelled against me; they walked not in my statutes, neither kept my judgments to do them, which if a man do, he shall live in them; they profaned my sabbaths: then I said I would pour out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the wilderness. ²²Nevertheless I withdrew mine hand, and wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned in the sight of the nations, in whose sight I brought them forth. ²³Moreover I lifted up mine hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the nations, and disperse them through the countries, ²⁴because they had not executed my judgments, but had rejected my statutes, and had profaned my sabbaths, and their eyes were after their fathers' idols. ²⁵Moreover also I gave them statutes that were not good, and judgments wherein they should not live; ²⁶and I polluted them in their own gifts, in that they caused to pass through the fire all that openeth the womb, that I might make them desolate, to the end that they might know that I am the LORD. ²⁷Therefore, son of man, speak unto the house of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD: In this moreover have your fathers blasphemed me, in that they have committed a trespass against me. ²⁸For when I had brought them into the land, which I lifted up mine hand to give unto them, then they saw every high hill, and every thick tree, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented the provocation of their offering, there also they made their sweet savour, and they poured out there their drink offerings. ²⁹Then I said unto them, What meaneth the high place whereunto ye go? So the name thereof is called Bamah unto this day. ³⁰Wherefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Do ye pollute yourselves after the manner of your fathers? and go ye a whoring after their abominations? ³¹and when ye offer your gifts, when ye make your sons to pass through the fire, do ye pollute yourselves with all your idols, unto this day? and shall I be inquired of by you, O house of Israel? As I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will not be inquired of by you: ³²and that which cometh into your mind shall not be at all; in that ye say, We will be as the nations, as the families of the countries, to serve wood and stone. ³³As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with fury poured out, will I be king over you: ³⁴and I will bring you out from the peoples, and will gather you out of the countries wherein ye are scattered, with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with fury poured out. ³⁵and I will bring you into the wilderness of the peoples, and there will I plead with you face to face. ³⁶Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I plead with you, saith the Lord GOD. ³⁷And I will cause you to pass under the rod, and I will bring you into the bond of the covenant; ³⁸and I will purge out from among you the rebels, and them that transgress against me; I will bring them forth out of the land where they sojourn, but they shall not enter into the land of Israel: and ye shall know that I am the LORD. ³⁹As for you, O house of Israel, thus saith the Lord GOD: Go ye, serve every one his idols, and hereafter also, if ye will not hearken unto me: but my holy name shall ye no more profane with your gifts, and with your idols. ⁴⁰For in mine holy mountain, in the mountain of the height of Israel, saith the Lord GOD, there shall all the house of Israel, all of them, serve me in the land: there will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings, and the firstfruits of your oblations, with all your holy things. ⁴¹As a sweet savour will I accept you, when I bring you out from the peoples, and gather you out of the countries wherein ye have been scattered; and I will be sanctified in you in the sight of the nations. ⁴²And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall bring you into the land of Israel, into the country which I lifted up mine hand to give unto your fathers. ⁴³And there shall ye remember your ways, and all your doings, wherein ye have polluted yourselves; and ye shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for all your evils that ye have committed. ⁴⁴And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have wrought with you for my name's sake, not according to your evil ways, nor according to your corrupt doings, O ye house of Israel, saith the Lord GOD. ⁴⁵And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ⁴⁶Son of man, set thy face toward the south, and drop thy word toward the south, and prophesy against the forest of the field in the South; ⁴⁷and say to the forest of the South, Hear the word of the LORD; Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it shall devour every green tree in thee, and every dry tree: the flaming flame shall not be quenched, and all faces from the south to the north shall be burnt thereby. ⁴⁸And all flesh shall see that I the LORD have kindled it: it shall not be quenched. ⁴⁹Then said I, Ah Lord GOD! they say of me, Is he not a speaker of parables?

¹And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ²Son of man, set thy face toward Jerusalem, and drop thy word toward the sanctuaries, and prophesy against the land of Israel; ³and say to the land of Israel, Thus saith the LORD: Behold, I am against thee, and will draw forth my sword out of its sheath, and will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked. ⁴Seeing then that I will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked, therefore shall my sword go forth out of its sheath against all flesh from the south to the north: ⁵and all flesh shall know that I the LORD have drawn forth my sword out of its sheath; it shall not return any more. ⁶Sigh therefore, thou son of man; with the breaking of thy loins and with bitterness shalt thou sigh before their eyes. ⁷And it shall be, when they say unto thee, Wherefore sighest thou? that thou shalt say, Because of the tidings, for it cometh: and every heart shall melt, and all hands shall be feeble, and every spirit shall faint, and all knees shall be weak as water: behold, it cometh, and it shall be done, saith the Lord GOD. ⁸And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ⁹Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the LORD: Say, A sword, a sword, it is sharpened, and also furbished: ¹⁰it is sharpened that it may make a slaughter; it is furbished that it may be as lightning: shall we then make mirth? the rod of my son, it contemneth every tree. ¹¹And it is given to be furbished, that it may be handled: the sword, it is sharpened, yea, it is furbished, to give it into the hand of the slayer. ¹² Cry and howl, son of man: for it is upon my people, it is upon all the princes of Israel: they are delivered over to the sword with my people: smite therefore upon thy thigh. ¹³ For there is a trial; and what if even the rod that contemneth shall be no more? saith the Lord GOD. ¹⁴ Thou therefore, son of man, prophesy, and smite thine hands together; and let the sword be doubled the third time, the sword of the deadly wounded: it is the sword of the great one that is deadly wounded, which entereth into their chambers. ¹⁵ I have set the point of the sword against all their gates, that their heart may melt, and their stumblings be multiplied: ah! it is made as lightning, it is pointed for slaughter. ¹⁶ Gather thee together, go to the right; set thyself in array, go to the left; whithersoever thy face is set. ¹⁷ I will also smite mine hands together, and I will satisfy my fury: I the LORD have spoken it. ¹⁸ The word of the LORD came unto me again, saying, ¹⁹ Also, thou son of man, appoint thee two ways, that the sword of the king of Babylon may come; they twain shall come forth out of one land: and mark out a place, mark it out at the head of the way to the city. ²⁰ Thou shalt appoint a way, for the sword to come to Rabbah of the children of Ammon, and to Judah in Jerusalem the defenced. ²¹ For the king of Babylon stood at the parting of the way, at the head of the two ways, to use divination: he shook the arrows to and fro, he consulted the teraphim, he looked in the liver. ²² In his right hand was the divination for Jerusalem, to set battering rams, to open the mouth in the slaughter, to lift up the voice with shouting, to set battering rams against the gates, to cast up mounts, to build forts. ²³ And it shall be unto them as a vain divination in their sight, which have sworn oaths unto them: but he bringeth iniquity to remembrance, that they may be taken. ²⁴ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Because ye have made your iniquity to be remembered, in that your transgressions are discovered, so that in all your doings your sins do appear; because that ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand. ²⁵ And thou, O deadly wounded wicked one, the prince of Israel, whose day is come, in the time of the iniquity of the end; ²⁶ thus saith the Lord GOD: Remove the mitre, and take off the crown: this shall be no more the same: exalt that which is low, and abase that which is high. ²⁷ I will overturn, overturn, overturn it: this also shall be no more, until he come whose right it is; and I will give it him. ²⁸ And thou, son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD concerning the children of Ammon, and concerning their reproach; and say thou, A sword, a sword is drawn, for the slaughter it is furbished, to cause it to devour, that it may be as lightning: ²⁹ whiles they see vanity unto thee, whiles they divine lies unto thee, to lay thee upon the necks of the wicked that are deadly wounded, whose day is come, in the time of the iniquity of the end. ³⁰ Cause it to return into its sheath. In the place where thou wast created, in the land of thy birth, will I judge thee. ³¹ And I will pour out mine indignation upon thee; I will blow upon thee with the fire of my wrath: and I will deliver thee into the hand of brutish men, skilful to destroy. ³² Thou shalt be for fuel to the fire; thy blood shall be in the midst of the land; thou shalt be no more remembered: for I the LORD have spoken it.

stranger: in thee have they wronged the fatherless and the widow. ⁸ Thou hast despised mine holy things, and hast profaned my sabbaths. ⁹ Slanderous men have been in thee to shed blood: and in thee they have eaten upon the mountains: in the midst of thee they have committed lewdness. ¹⁰ In thee have they discovered their fathers' nakedness: in thee have they humbled her that was unclean in her separation. ¹¹ And one hath committed abomination with his neighbour's wife; and another hath lewdly defiled his daughter in law; and another in thee hath humbled his sister, his father's daughter. ¹² In thee have they taken bribes to shed blood; thou hast taken usury and increase, and thou hast greedily gained of thy neighbours by oppression, and hast forgotten me, saith the Lord GOD. ¹³ Behold, therefore, I have smitten mine hand at thy dishonest gain which thou hast made, and at thy blood which hath been in the midst of thee. ¹⁴ Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands be strong, in the days that I shall deal with thee? I the LORD have spoken it, and will do it. ¹⁵ And I will scatter thee among the nations, and disperse thee through the countries; and I will consume thy filthiness out of thee. ¹⁶ And thou shalt be profaned in thyself, in the sight of the nations; and thou shalt know that I am the LORD. ¹⁷ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ¹⁸ Son of man, the house of Israel is become dross unto me: all of them are brass and tin and iron and lead, in the midst of the furnace; they are the dross of silver. ¹⁹ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Because ye are all become dross, therefore behold, I will gather you into the midst of Jerusalem. ²⁰ As they gather silver and brass and iron and lead and tin into the midst of the furnace, to blow the fire upon it, to melt it; so will I gather you in mine anger and in my fury, and I will lay you there, and melt you. ²¹ Yea, I will gather you, and blow upon you with the fire of my wrath, and ye shalt be melted in the midst thereof. ²² As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so shall ye be melted in the midst thereof; and ye shall know that I the LORD have poured out my fury upon you. ²³ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ²⁴ Son of man, say unto her, thou art a land that is not cleansed, nor rained upon in the day of indignation. ²⁵ There is a conspiracy of her prophets in the midst thereof, like a roaring lion ravening the prey: they have devoured souls; they take treasure and precious things; they have made her widows many in the midst thereof. ²⁶ Her priests have done violence to my law, and have profaned mine holy things: they have put no difference between the holy and the common, neither have they caused men to discern between the unclean and the clean, and have hid their eyes from my sabbaths, and I am profaned among them. ²⁷ Her princes in the midst thereof are like wolves ravening the prey; to shed blood, and to destroy souls, that they may get dishonest gain. ²⁸ And her prophets have daubed for them with untempered mortar, seeing vanity, and divining lies unto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord GOD, when the LORD hath not spoken. ²⁹ The people of the land have used oppression, and exercised robbery; yea, they have vexed the poor and needy, and have oppressed the stranger wrongfully. ³⁰ And I sought for a man among them, that should make up the fence, and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it: but I found none. ³¹ Therefore have I poured out mine indignation upon them; I have consumed them with the fire of my wrath: their own way have I brought upon their heads, saith the Lord GOD.

¹ The word of the LORD came again unto me, saying, ² Son of man, there were two women, the daughters of one mother: ³ and they committed whoredoms in Egypt; they committed whoredoms in their youth: there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the teats of their virginity. ⁴ And the names of them were Oholah the elder, and Oholibah her sister: and they became mine, and they bare sons and daughters. And as for their names, Samaria is Oholah, and Jerusalem Oholibah. ⁵ And Oholah played the harlot when she was mine; and she doted on her lovers, on the Assyrians her neighbours, ⁶ which were clothed with blue, governors and rulers, all of them desirable young men, horsemen riding upon horses. ⁷ And she bestowed her whoredoms upon them, the choicest men of Assyria all of them: and on whomsoever she doted, with all their idols she defiled herself. ⁸Neither hath, she left her whoredoms since the days of Egypt; for in her youth they lay with her, and they bruised the teats of her virginity: and they poured out their whoredom upon her. ⁹Wherefore I delivered her into the hand of her lovers, into the hand of the Assyrians, upon whom she doted. ¹⁰These discovered her nakedness: they took her sons and her daughters, and her they slew with the sword: and she became a byword among women; for they executed judgments upon her. ¹¹And her sister Oholibah saw this, yet was she more corrupt in her doting than she, and in her whoredoms which were more than the whoredoms of her sister. ¹²She doted upon the Assyrians, governors and rulers, her neighbours, clothed most gorgeously, horsemen riding upon horses, all of them desirable young men. ¹³And I saw that she was defiled; they both took one way. ¹⁴And she increased her whoredoms; for she saw men pourtrayed upon the wall, the images of the Chaldeans pourtrayed with vermilion, ¹⁵girded with girdles upon their loins, exceeding in dyed attire upon their heads, all of them princes to look upon, after the likeness of the Babylonians in Chaldea, the land of their nativity. ¹⁶And as soon as she saw them she doted upon them, and sent messengers unto them into Chaldea. ¹⁷And the Babylonians came to her into the bed of love; and they defiled her with their whoredom, and she was polluted with them, and her soul was alienated from them. ¹⁸So she discovered her whoredoms, and discovered her nakedness: then my soul was alienated from her, like as my soul was alienated from her sister. ¹⁹Yet she multiplied her whoredoms, remembering the days of her youth, wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt. ²⁰And she doted upon their paramours, whose flesh is as the flesh of asses, and whose issue is like the issue of horses. ²¹Thus thou calledst to remembrance the lewdness of thy youth, in the bruising of thy teats by the Egyptians for the breasts of thy youth. ²²Therefore, O Oholibah, thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will raise up thy lovers against thee, from whom thy soul is alienated, and I will bring them against thee on every side; ²³the Babylonians and all the Chaldeans, Pekod and Shoa and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them: desirable young men, governors and rulers all of them, princes and men of renown, all of them riding upon horses. ²⁴And they shall come against thee with weapons, chariots, and wagons, and with an assembly of peoples; they shall set themselves against thee with buckler and shield and helmet round about: and I will commit the judgment unto them, and they shall judge thee according to their judgments. ²⁵And I will set my jealousy against thee, and they shall deal with thee in fury: they shall take away thy nose and thine ears; and thy residue shall fall by the sword: they shall take thy sons and thy daughters; and thy residue shall be devoured by the fire. ²⁶They shall also strip thee of thy clothes, and take away thy fair jewels. ²⁷Thus will I make thy lewdness to cease from thee, and thy whoredom brought from the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt not lift up thine eyes unto them, nor remember Egypt any more. ²⁸For thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will deliver thee into the hand of them whom thou hatest, into the hand of them from whom thy soul is alienated: ²⁹and they shall deal with thee in hatred, and shall take away all thy labour, and shall leave thee naked and bare: and the nakedness of thy whoredoms shall be discovered, both thy lewdness and thy whoredoms. ³⁰These things shall be done unto thee, for that thou hast gone a whoring after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idols. ³¹Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister; therefore will I give her cup into thine hand. ³²Thus saith the Lord GOD: Thou shalt drink of thy sister's cup, which is deep and large: thou shalt be laughed to scorn and had in derision; it containeth much. ³³Thou shalt be filled with drunkenness and sorrow, with the cup of astonishment and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria. ³⁴Thou shalt even drink it and drain it out, and thou shalt gnaw the sherds thereof, and shalt tear thy breasts: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD. ³⁵Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Because thou hast forgotten me, and cast me behind thy back, therefore bear thou also thy lewdness and thy whoredoms. ³⁶The LORD said moreover unto me: Son of man, wilt thou judge Oholah and Oholibah? then declare unto them their abominations. ³⁷For they have committed adultery, and blood is in their hands, and with their idols have they committed adultery; and they have also caused their sons, whom they bare unto me, to pass through the fire unto them to be devoured. ³⁸Moreover this they have done unto me: they have defiled my sanctuary in the same day, and have profaned my sabbaths. ³⁹For when they had slain their children to their idols, then they came the same day into my sanctuary to profane it; and, lo, thus have they done in the midst of mine house. ⁴⁰And furthermore ye have sent for men that come from far: unto whom a messenger was sent, and, lo, they came; for whom thou didst wash thyself, paintedst thine eyes, and deckedst thyself with ornaments; ⁴¹and satest upon a stately bed. with a table prepared before it, whereupon thou didst set mine incense and mine oil. ⁴²And the voice of a multitude being at ease was with her: and with men of the common sort were brought drunkards from the wilderness; and they put bracelets upon the hands of them twain, and beautiful crowns upon their heads. ⁴³Then said I of her that was old in adulteries, Now will they commit whoredoms with her, and she with them. ⁴⁴And they went in unto her, as they go in unto an harlot: so went they in unto Oholah and unto Oholibah, the lewd women. ⁴⁵And righteous men, they shall judge them with the judgment of adulteresses, and with the judgment of women that shed blood; because they are adulteresses, and blood is in their hands. ⁴⁶For thus saith the Lord GOD: I will bring up an assembly against them, and will give them to be tossed to and fro and spoiled. ⁴⁷And the assembly shall stone them with stones, and despatch them with their swords; they shall slay their sons and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire. ⁴⁸Thus will I cause lewdness to cease out of the land, that all women may be taught not to do after your lewdness. ⁴⁹And they shall recompense your lewdness upon you, and ye shall bear the sins of your idols: and ye shall know that I am the Lord

GOD.

¹Again, in the ninth year, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ²Son of man, write thee the name of the day, even of this selfsame day: the king of Babylon drew close unto Jerusalem this selfsame day. ³And utter a parable unto the rebellious house, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Set on the caldron, set it on, and also pour water into it: ⁴gather the pieces thereof into it, even every good piece, the thigh, and the shoulder; fill it with the choice bones. ⁵Take the choice of the flock, and pile also the bones under it: make it boil well; yea, let the bones thereof be seethed in the midst of it. ⁶Wherefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Woe to the bloody city, to the caldron whose rust is therein, and whose rust is not gone out of it! bring it out piece by piece; no lot is fallen upon it. ⁷For her blood is in the midst of her; she set it upon the bare rock; she poured it not upon the ground, to cover it with dust; ⁸That it might cause fury to come up to take vengeance, I have set her blood upon the bare rock, that it should not be covered. ⁹Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Woe to the bloody city! I also will make the pile great. ¹⁰Heap on the wood, make the fire hot, boil well the flesh, and make thick the broth, and let the bones be burned. ¹¹Then set it empty upon the coals thereof, that it may be hot, and the brass thereof may burn, and that the filthiness of it may be molten in it, that the rust of it may be consumed. ¹²She hath wearied herself with toil: yet her great rust goeth not forth out of her; her rust goeth not forth by fire. ¹³In thy filthiness is lewdness: because I have purged thee and thou wast not purged, thou shalt not be purged from thy filthiness any more, till I have satisfied my fury upon thee. ¹⁴I the LORD have spoken it: it shall come to pass, and I will do it; I will not go back, neither will I spare, neither will I repent; according to thy ways, and according to thy doings, shall they judge thee, saith the Lord GOD. ¹⁵Also the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ¹⁶Son of man, behold, I take away from thee the desire of thine eyes with a stroke: yet neither shalt thou mourn nor weep, neither shall thy tears run down. ¹⁷ Sigh, but not aloud; make no mourning for the dead, bind thy headtire upon thee, and put thy shoes upon thy feet, and cover not thy lips, and eat not the bread of men. ¹⁸ So I spake unto the people in the morning; and at even my wife died: and I did in the morning as I was commanded. ¹⁹ And the people said unto me, Wilt thou not tell us what these things are to us, that thou doest so? ²⁰ Then I said unto them, The word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ²¹ Speak unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will profane my sanctuary, the pride of your power, the desire of your eyes, and that which your soul pitieth; and your sons and your daughters whom ye have left behind shall fall by the sword. ²² And ye shall do as I have done: ye shall not cover your lips, nor eat the bread of men. ²³ And your tires shall be upon your heads, and your shoes upon your feet: ye shall not mourn nor weep; but ye shall pine away in your iniquities, and moan one toward another. ²⁴ Thus shall Ezekiel be unto you a sign; according to all that he hath done shall ye do: when this cometh, then shall ye know that I am the Lord GOD. ²⁵ And thou, son of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them their strength, the joy of their glory, the desire of their eyes, and that whereupon they set their heart, their sons and their daughters, ²⁶ that in that day he that escapeth shall come unto thee, to cause thee to hear it with thine ears? ²⁷ In that day shall thy mouth be opened to him which is escaped, and thou shalt speak, and be no more dumb: so shalt thou be a sign unto them; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

¹ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ² Son of man, set thy face toward the children of Ammon, and prophesy against them: ³ and say unto the children of Ammon, Hear the word of the Lord GOD; Thus saith the Lord GOD: Because thou saidst, Aha, against my sanctuary, when it was profaned; and against the land of Israel, when it was made desolate; and against the house of Judah, when they went into captivity: ⁴ therefore behold, I will deliver thee to the children of the east for a possession, and they shall set their encampments in thee, and make their dwellings in thee; they shall eat thy fruit, and they shall drink thy milk. ⁵ And I will make Rabbah a stable for camels, and the children of Ammon a couching place for flocks: and ye shall know that I am the LORD. ⁶ For thus saith the Lord GOD: Because thou hast clapped thine hands, and stamped with the feet, and rejoiced with all the despite of thy soul against the land of Israel; ⁷ therefore behold, I have stretched out mine hand upon thee, and will deliver thee for a spoil to the nations; and I will cut thee off from the peoples, and I will cause thee to perish out of the countries: I will destroy thee; and thou shalt know that I am the LORD. ⁸ Thus saith the Lord GOD: Because that Moab and Seir do say, Behold, the house of Judah is like unto all the nations; ⁹ therefore behold, I will open the side of Moab from the cities, from his cities which are on his frontiers, the glory of the country, Beth-jeshimoth, Baal-meon, and Kiriathaim, ¹⁰ unto the children of the east, to go against the children of Ammon, and I will give them for a possession, that the children of Ammon may not be remembered among the nations: ¹¹ and I will execute judgments upon Moab; and they shall know that I am the LORD. ¹² Thus saith the Lord GOD: Because that Edom hath dealt against the house of Judah by taking vengeance, and hath greatly offended, and revenged himself upon them; ¹³ therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, I will stretch out mine hand upon Edom, and will cut off man and beast from it: and I will make it desolate from Teman; even unto Dedan shall they fall by the sword. ¹⁴ And I will lay my vengeance upon Edom by the hand of my people Israel; and they shall do in Edom according to mine anger and according to my fury: and they shall know my vengeance, saith the Lord GOD. ¹⁵ Thus saith the Lord GOD: Because the Philistines have dealt by revenge, and have taken vengeance with despite of soul to destroy it with perpetual enmity; ¹⁶ therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will stretch out mine hand upon the Philistines, and I will cut off the Cherethites, and destroy the remnant of the sea coast. ¹⁷ And I will execute great vengeance upon them with furious rebukes; and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall lay my vengeance upon them.

¹And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first day of the month, that the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, ²Son of man, because that Tyre hath said against Jerusalem, Aha, she is broken that was the gate of the peoples; she is turned unto me: I shall be replenished, now that she is laid waste: ³therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against thee, O Tyre, and will cause many nations to come up against thee, as the sea causeth his waves to come up. ⁴And they shall destroy the walls of Tyre, and break down her towers: I will also scrape her dust from her, and make her a bare rock. ⁵She shall be a place for the spreading of nets in the midst of the sea; for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD: and she shall become a spoil to the nations. ⁶And her daughters which are in the field shall be slain with the sword: and they shall know that I am the LORD. ⁷For thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will bring upon Tyre Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, king of kings, from the north, with horses; and with chariots, and with horsemen, and a company, and much people. ⁸He shall slay with the sword thy daughters in the field: and he shall make forts against thee, and cast up a mount against thee, and raise up the buckler against thee. ⁹And he shall set his battering engines against thy walls, and with his axes he shall break down thy towers. ¹⁰By reason of the abundance of his horses their dust shall cover thee: thy walls shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the wagons, and of the chariots, when he shall enter into thy gates, as men enter into a city wherein is made a breach. ¹¹With the hoofs of his horses shall he tread down all thy streets: he shall slay thy people with the sword, and the pillars of thy strength shall go down to the ground. ¹²And they shall make a spoil of thy riches, and make a prey of thy merchandise: and they shall break down thy walls, and destroy thy pleasant houses: and they shall lay thy stones and thy timber and thy dust in the midst of the waters.

¹³And I will cause the noise of thy songs to cease; and the sound of thy harps shall be no more heard. ¹⁴And I will make thee a bare rock: thou shalt be a place for the spreading of nets; thou shalt be built no more: for I the LORD have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD. ¹⁵Thus saith the Lord GOD to Tyre: Shall not the isles shake at the sound of thy fall, when the wounded groan, when the slaughter is made in the midst of thee? ¹⁶Then all the princes of the sea shall come down from their thrones, and lay aside their robes, and strip off their brodered garments: they shall clothe themselves with trembling; they shall sit upon the ground, and shall tremble every moment, and be astonished at thee. ¹⁷And they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and say to thee, How art thou destroyed, that wast inhabited of seafaring men, the renowned city, which wast strong in the sea, she and her inhabitants, which caused their terror to be on all that haunt it! ¹⁸Now shall the isles tremble in the day of thy fall; yea, the isles that are in the sea shall be dismayed at thy departure. ¹⁹For thus saith the Lord GOD: When I shall make thee a desolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited; when I shall bring up the deep upon thee, and the great waters shall cover thee; ²⁰then will I bring thee down with them that descend into the pit, to the people of old time, and will make thee to dwell in the nether parts of the earth, in the places that are desolate of old, with them that go down to the pit, that thou be not inhabited; and I will set glory in the land of the living; ²¹I will make thee a terror, and thou shalt be no more: though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou never be found again, saith the Lord GOD.

have taken cedars from Lebanon to make a mast for thee. ⁶ Of the oaks of Bashan have they made thine oars; they have made thy benches of ivory inlaid in boxwood, from the isles of Kittim. ⁷ Of fine linen with brodered work from Egypt was thy sail, that it might be to thee for an ensign; blue and purple from the isles of Elishah was thine awning. ⁸ The inhabitants of Zidon and Arvad were thy rowers: thy wise men, O Tyre, were in thee, they were thy pilots. ⁹ The ancients of Gebal and the wise men thereof were in thee thy calkers: all the ships of the sea with their mariners were in thee to occupy thy merchandise. ¹⁰ Persia and Lud and Put were in thine army, thy men of war: they hanged the shield and helmet in thee; they set forth thy comeliness. ¹¹ The men of Arvad with thine army were upon thy walls round about, and the Gammadim were in thy towers: they hanged their shields upon thy walls round about; they have perfected thy beauty. ¹² Tarshish was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of all kinds of riches; with silver, iron, tin, and lead, they traded for thy wares. ¹³ Javan, Tubal, and Meshech, they were thy traffickers: they traded the persons of men and vessels of brass for thy merchandise. ¹⁴ They of the house of Togarmah traded for thy wares with horses and war-horses and mules. ¹⁵ The men of Dedan were thy traffickers: many isles were the mart of thine hand: they brought thee in exchange horns of ivory and ebony. ¹⁶ Syria was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of thy handyworks: they traded for thy wares with emeralds, purple, and brodered work, and fine linen, and coral, and rubies. ¹⁷ Judah, and the land of Israel, they were thy traffickers: they traded for thy merchandise wheat of Minnith, and pannag, and honey, and oil, and balm: ¹⁸ Damascus was thy merchant for the multitude of thy handyworks, by reason of the multitude of all kinds of riches; with the wine of Helbon, and white wool. ¹⁹ Vedan and Javan traded with yarn for thy wares: bright iron, cassia, and calamus, were among thy merchandise. ²⁰ Dedan was thy trafficker in precious cloths for riding. ²¹ Arabia, and all the princes of Kedar, they were the merchants of thy hand; in lambs, and rams, and goats, in these were they thy merchants. ²² The traffickers of Sheba and Raamah, they were thy traffickers: they traded for thy wares with chief of all spices, and with all precious stones, and gold. ²³ Haran and Canneh and Eden, the traffickers of Sheba, Asshur and Chilmad were they traffickers. ²⁴ These were thy traffickers in choice wares, in wrappings of blue and brodered work, and in chests of rich apparel, bound with cords and made of cedar, among thy merchandise. ²⁵ The ships of Tarshish were thy caravans for thy merchandise: and thou wast replenished, and made very glorious in the heart of the seas. ²⁶ Thy rowers have brought thee into great waters: the east wind hath broken thee in the heart of the seas. ²⁷ Thy riches, and thy wares, thy merchandise, thy mariners, and thy pilots, thy calkers, and the occupiers of thy merchandise, and all thy men of war, that are in thee, with all thy company which is in the midst of thee, shall fall into the heart of the seas in the day of thy ruin. ²⁸ At the sound of the cry of thy pilots the suburbs shall shake. ²⁹ And all that handle the oar, the mariners, and all the pilots of the sea, shall come down from their ships, they shall stand upon the land, ³⁰ and shall cause their voice to be heard over thee, and shall cry bitterly, and shall cast up dust upon their heads, they shall wallow themselves in the ashes: ³¹ and they shall make themselves bald for thee, and gird them with sackcloth, and they shall weep for thee in bitterness of soul with bitter mourning. ³² And in their wailing they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and lament over thee, saying, Who is there like Tyre, like her that is brought to silence in the midst of the sea? ³³ When thy wares went forth out of the seas, thou filledst many peoples; thou didst enrich the kings of the earth with the multitude of thy riches and of thy merchandise. ³⁴ In the time that thou wast broken by the seas in the depths of the waters, thy merchandise and all thy company did fall in the midst of thee. ³⁵ All the inhabitants of the isles are astonished at thee, and their kings are horribly afraid, they are troubled in their countenance. ³⁶ The merchants among the peoples hiss at thee; thou art become a terror, and thou shalt never be any more.

¹The word of the LORD came again unto me, saying, ²Son of man, say unto the prince of Tyre, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Because thine heart is lifted up, and thou hast said, I am a god, I sit in the seat of God, in the midst of the seas; yet thou art man, and not God, though thou didst set thine heart as the heart of God: ³behold, thou art wiser than Daniel; there is no secret that they can hide from thee: ⁴by thy wisdom and by thine understanding thou hast gotten thee riches, and hast gotten gold and silver into thy treasures: ⁵by thy great wisdom and by thy traffic hast thou increased thy riches, and thine heart is lifted up because of thy riches: ⁶therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Because thou hast set thine heart as the heart of God; ⁷therefore behold, I will bring strangers upon thee, the terrible of the nations: and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of thy wisdom, and they shall defile thy brightness. ⁸They shall bring thee down to the pit; and thou shalt die the deaths of them that are slain, in the heart of the seas. ⁹Wilt thou yet say before him that slayeth thee, I am God? but thou art man, and not God, in the hand of him that woundeth thee. ¹⁰Thou shalt die the deaths of the uncircumcised by the hand of strangers: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD. ¹¹Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ¹²Son of man, take up a lamentation for the king of Tyre, and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Thou sealest up the sum, full of wisdom, and perfect in beauty. ¹³Thou wast in Eden the garden of God; every precious stone was thy covering, the sardius, the topaz, and the diamond, the beryl, the onyx, and the jasper, the sapphire, the emerald, and the carbuncle, and gold: the workmanship of thy tabrets and of thy pipes was in thee; in the day that thou wast created they were prepared. ¹⁴Thou wast the anointed cherub that covereth: and I set thee, so that thou wast upon the holy mountain of God; thou hast walked up and down in the midst of the stones of fire. ¹⁵Thou wast perfect in thy ways from the day that thou wast created, till unrighteousness was found in thee. ¹⁶By the multitude of they traffic

they filled the midst of thee with violence, and thou hast sinned: therefore, have I cast thee as profane out of the mountain of God; and I have destroyed thee, O covering cherub, from the midst of the stones of fire. ¹⁷Thine heart was lifted up because of thy beauty, thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightness: I have cast thee to the ground, I have laid thee before kings, that they may behold thee. ¹⁸By the multitude of thine iniquities, in the unrighteousness of thy traffic, thou hast profaned thy sanctuaries; therefore have I brought forth a fire from the midst of thee, it hath devoured thee, and I have turned thee to ashes upon the earth in the sight of all them that behold thee. ¹⁹All they that know thee among the peoples shall be astonished at thee: thou art become a terror, and thou shalt never be any more. ²⁰And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ²¹Son of man, set thy face toward Zidon, and prophesy against it, ²²and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against thee, O Zidon; and I will be glorified in the midst of thee: and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall have executed judgments in her, and shall be sanctified in her. ²³For I will send into her pestilence and blood in her streets; and the wounded shall fall in the midst of her, with the sword upon her on every side; and they shall know that I am the LORD. ²⁴And there shall be no more a pricking brier unto the house of Israel, nor a grieving thorn of any that are round about them, that did despite unto them; and they shall know that I am the Lord GOD. ²⁵Thus saith the Lord GOD: When I shall have gathered the house of Israel from the peoples among whom they are scattered, and shall be sanctified in them in the sight of the nations, then shall they dwell in their own land which I gave my servant Jacob. ²⁶And they shall dwell securely therein; yea, they shall build houses, and plant vineyards, and shall dwell securely; when I have executed judgments upon all those that do them despite round about them; and they shall know that I am the LORD their God.

¹In the tenth year, in the tenth month, in the twelfth day of the month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ²Son of man, set thy face against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and prophesy against him, and against all Egypt: ³ speak, and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against thee, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great dragon that lieth in the midst of his rivers, which hath said, My river is mine own, and I have made it for myself. ⁴ And I will put hooks in thy jaws, and I will cause the fish of thy rivers to stick unto thy scales; and I will bring thee up out of the midst of thy rivers, with all the fish of thy rivers which stick unto thy scales. ⁵ And I will leave thee thrown into the wilderness, thee and all the fish of thy rivers: thou shalt fall upon the open field; thou shalt not be brought together, nor gathered: I have given thee for meat to the beasts of the earth and to the fowls of the heaven, ⁶ And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall know that I am the LORD, because they have been a staff of reed to the house of Israel. ⁷ When they took hold of thee by thy hand, thou didst break, and didst rend all their shoulders: and when they leaned upon thee, thou brakest, and madest all their loins to be at a stand. ⁸ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will bring a sword upon thee, and will cut off from thee man and beast. ⁹ And the land of Egypt shall be a desolation and a waste; and they shall know that I am the LORD: because he hath said, The river is mine, and I have made it. ¹⁰ therefore behold, I am against thee, and against thy rivers, and will make the land of Egypt an utter waste and desolation, from the tower of Seveneh even unto the border of Ethiopia. ¹¹ No foot of man shall pass through it, nor foot of beast shall pass through it, neither shall it be inhabited forty years. ¹² And I will make the land of Egypt a desolation in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities among the cities that are laid waste shall be a desolation forty years: and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries. ¹³ For thus saith the Lord GOD: At the end of forty years will I gather the Egyptians from the peoples whither they were scattered: ¹⁴ and I will bring again the captivity of Egypt, and will cause them to return into the land of Pathros, into the land of their birth; and they shall be there a base kingdom. ¹⁵ It shall be the basest of the kingdoms; neither shall it any more lift itself up above the nations: and I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule over the nations. ¹⁶ And it shall be no more the confidence of the house of Israel, bringing iniquity to remembrance, when they turn to look after them: and they shall know that I am the Lord GOD. ¹⁷ And it came to pass in the seven and twentieth year, in the first month, in the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ¹⁸ Son of man, Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon caused his army to serve a great service against Tyre: every head was made bald, and every shoulder was peeled: yet had he no wages, nor his army, from Tyre, for the service that he had served against it: ¹⁹ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will give the land of Egypt unto Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon; and he shall carry off her multitude, and take her spoil, and take her prey; and it shall be the wages for his army. ²⁰ I have given him the land of Egypt as his recompense for which he served, because they wrought for me, saith the Lord GOD. ²¹ In that day will I cause an horn to bud forth unto the house of Israel, and I will give thee the opening of the mouth in the midst of them; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

¹ The word of the LORD came again unto me, saying, ² Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Howl ye, Woe worth the day! ³ For the day is near, even the day of the LORD is near, a day of clouds; it shall be the time of the heathen. ⁴ And a sword shall come upon Egypt, and anguish shall be in Ethiopia, when the slain shall fall in Egypt; and they shall take away her multitude, and her foundations shall be broken down. ⁵ Ethiopia, and Put, and Lud, and all the mingled people, and Cub, and the children of the land that is in league, shall fall with them by the sword. ⁶ Thus saith the LORD: They also that uphold Egypt shall fall, and the pride of her power shall come down: from the tower of Seveneh shall they fall in it by the sword, saith the Lord GOD. ⁷ And they shall be desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities shall be in the midst of the cities that are wasted. ⁸And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I have set a fire in Egypt, and all her helpers are destroyed. ⁹In that day shall messengers go forth from before me in ships to make the careless Ethiopians afraid; and there shall be anguish upon them, as in the day of Egypt; for, lo, it cometh. ¹⁰Thus saith the Lord GOD: I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease, by the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon. ¹¹He and his people with him, the terrible of the nations, shall be brought in to destroy the land; and they shall draw their swords against Egypt, and fill the land with the slain. ¹²And I will make the rivers dry, and will sell the land into the hand of evil men; and I will make the land desolate, and all that is therein, by the hand of strangers: I the LORD have spoken it. ¹³Thus saith the Lord GOD: I will also destroy the idols, and I will cause the images to cease from Noph; and there shall be no more a prince out of the land of Egypt: and I will put a fear in the land of Egypt. ¹⁴And I will make Pathros desolate, and will set a fire in Zoan, and will execute judgments in No. ¹⁵And I will pour my fury upon Sin, the strong hold of Egypt; and I will cut off the multitude of No. ¹⁶And I will set a fire in Egypt; Sin shall be in great anguish, and No shall be broken up: and Noph shall have adversaries in the day time. ¹⁷The young men of Aven and of Pi-beseth shall fall by the sword: and these cities shall go into captivity. ¹⁸At Tehaphnehes also the day shall withdraw itself, when I shall break there the yokes of Egypt, and the pride of her power shall cease in her: as for her, a cloud shall cover her, and her daughters shall go into captivity. ¹⁹Thus will I execute judgments in Egypt: and they shall know that I am the LORD. ²⁰And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first month, in the seventh day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ²¹Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and, lo, it hath not been bound up to apply healing medicines, to put a roller to bind it, that it be strong to hold the sword. ²²Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and will break his arms, the strong, and that which was broken; and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand. ²³And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries. ²⁴And I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and put my sword in his hand: but I will break the arms of Pharaoh, and he shall groan before him with the groanings of a deadly wounded man. ²⁵And I will hold up the arms of the king of Babylon, and the arms of Pharaoh shall fall down; and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall put my sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall stretch it out upon the land of Egypt. ²⁶And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them through the countries; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

¹And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the third month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ²Son of man, say unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, and to his multitude; Whom art thou like in thy greatness? ³Behold, the Assyrian was a cedar in Lebanon with fair branches, and with a shadowing shroud, and of an high stature; and his top was among the thick boughs. ⁴The waters nourished him, the deep made him to grow: her rivers ran round about her plantation; and she sent out her channels unto all the trees of the field. ⁵Therefore his stature was exalted above all the trees of the field: and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches became long by reason of many waters, when he shot them forth. ⁶All the fowls of heaven made their nests in his boughs, and under his branches did all the beasts of the field bring forth their young, and under his shadow dwelt all great nations. ⁷Thus was he fair in his greatness, in the length of his branches: for his root was by many waters. ⁸The cedars in the garden of God could not hide him: the fir trees were not like his boughs, and the plane trees were not as his branches; nor was any tree in the garden of God like unto him in his beauty. ⁹I made him fair by the multitude of his branches: so that all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, envied him. ¹⁰Therefore thus said the Lord GOD:

Because thou art exalted in stature, and he hath set his top among the thick boughs, and his heart is lifted up in his height; ¹¹I will even deliver him into the hand of the mighty one of the nations; he shall surely deal with him: I have driven him out for his wickedness. ¹²And strangers, the terrible of the nations, have cut him off, and have left him: upon the mountains and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs are broken by all the watercourses of the land; and all the peoples of the earth are gone down from his shadow, and have left him. ¹³Upon his ruin all the fowls of the heaven shall dwell, and all the beasts of the field shall be upon his branches: ¹⁴to the end that none of all the trees by the waters exalt themselves in their stature, neither set their top among the thick boughs, nor that their mighty ones stand up in their height, even all that drink water: for they are all delivered unto death, to the nether parts of the earth, in the midst of the children of men, with them that go down to the pit. ¹⁵Thus saith the Lord GOD: In the day when he went down to hell I caused a mourning: I covered the deep for him, and I restrained the rivers thereof, and the great waters were stayed: and I caused Lebanon to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted for him. ¹⁶I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him down to hell with them that descend into the pit: and all the trees of Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all that drink water, were comforted in the nether parts of the earth. ¹⁷They also went down into hell with him unto them that be slain by the sword; yea, they that were his arm, that dwelt under his shadow in the midst of the nations. ¹⁸To whom art thou thus like in glory and in greatness among the trees of Eden? yet shalt thou be brought down with the trees of Eden unto the nether parts of the earth: thou shalt lie in the midst of the uncircumcised, with them that be slain by the sword. This is Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord GOD.

¹And it came to pass in the twelfth year, in the twelfth month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ²Son of man, take up a lamentation for Pharaoh king of Egypt, and say unto him, Thou wast likened unto a young lion of the nations: yet art thou as a dragon in the seas; and thou brakest forth with thy rivers, and troubledst the waters with thy feet, and fouledst their rivers. ³Thus saith the Lord GOD: I will spread out my net over thee with a company of many peoples; and they shall bring thee up in my net. ⁴And I will leave thee upon the land, I will cast thee forth upon the open field, and will cause all the fowls of the heaven to settle upon thee, and I will satisfy the beasts of the whole earth with thee. ⁵And I will lay thy flesh upon the mountains, and fill the valleys with thy height. ⁶I will also water with thy blood the land wherein thou swimdest, even to the mountains; and the watercourses shall be full of thee. ⁷And when I shall extinguish thee, I will cover the heaven, and make the stars thereof dark; I will cover the sun with a cloud, and the moon shall not give her light. ⁸All the bright lights of heaven will I make dark over thee, and set darkness upon thy land, saith the Lord GOD. ⁹I will also vex the hearts of many peoples, when I shall bring thy destruction among the nations, into the countries which thou hast not known. ¹⁰Yea, I will make many peoples amazed at thee, and their kings shall be horribly afraid for thee, when I shall brandish my sword before them; and they shall tremble at every moment, every man for his own life, in the day of thy fall. ¹¹For thus saith the Lord GOD: The sword of the king of Babylon shall come upon thee. ¹²By the swords of the mighty will I cause thy multitude to fall; the terrible of the nations are they all: and they shall spoil the pride of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof shall be destroyed. ¹³I will destroy also all the beasts thereof from beside many waters; neither shall the foot of man trouble them any more, nor the hoofs of beasts trouble them. ¹⁴Then will I make their waters clear, and cause their rivers to run like oil, saith the Lord GOD. ¹⁵When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate and waste, a land destitute of that whereof it was full, when I shall smite all them that dwell therein, then shall they know that I am the LORD. ¹⁶This is the lamentation wherewith they shall lament; the daughters of the nations shall lament therewith: for Egypt, and for all her multitude, shall they lament therewith, saith the Lord GOD. ¹⁷It came to pass also in the twelfth year, in the fifteenth day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ¹⁸Son of man, wail for the multitude of Egypt, and cast them down, even her, and the daughters of the famous nations, unto the nether parts of the earth, with them that go down into the pit. ¹⁹Whom dost thou pass in beauty? go down, and be thou laid with the uncircumcised. ²⁰They shall fall in the midst of them that are slain by the sword: she is delivered to the sword: draw her away and all her multitudes. ²¹The strong among the mighty shall speak to him out of the midst of hell with them that help him: they are gone down, they lie still, even the uncircumcised, slain by the sword. ²²Asshur is there and all her company; his graves are round about him: all of them slain, fallen by the sword: ²³whose graves are set in the uttermost parts of the pit, and her company is round about her grave: all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which caused terror in the land of the living. ²⁴There is Elam and all her multitude round about her grave: all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which are gone down uncircumcised into the nether parts of the earth, which caused their terror in the land of the living, and have borne their shame with them that go down to the pit. ²⁵They have set her a bed in the midst of the slain with all her multitude; her graves are round about her: all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword; for their terror was caused in the land of the living, and they have borne their shame with them that go down to the pit: he is put in the midst of them that be slain. ²⁶There is Meshech, Tubal, and all her multitude; her graves are round about her: all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword; for they caused their terror in the land of the living. ²⁷And they shall not lie with the mighty that are fallen of the uncircumcised, which are gone down to hell with their weapons of war, and have laid their swords under their heads, and their iniquities are upon their bones; for they were the terror of the mighty in the land of the living. ²⁸But thou shalt be broken in the midst of the uncircumcised, and shalt lie with them that are slain by the sword. ²⁹There is Edom, her kings and all her princes, which in their might are laid with them that are slain by the sword: they shall lie with the uncircumcised, and with them that go down to the pit. ³⁰There be the princes of the north, all of them, and all the Zidonians, which are gone down with the slain; in the terror which they caused by their might they are ashamed; and they lie uncircumcised with them that are slain by the sword, and bear their shame with them that go down to the pit. ³¹Pharaoh shall see them, and shall be comforted over all his multitude: even Pharaoh and all his army, slain by the sword, saith the Lord GOD. ³²For I have put his terror in the land of the living: and he shall be laid in the midst of the uncircumcised, with them that are slain by the sword, even Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord GOD.

¹And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ²Son of man, speak to the children of thy people, and say unto them, When I bring the sword upon a land, if the people of the land take a man from among them, and set him for their watchman: ³if, when he seeth the sword come upon the land, he blow the trumpet, and warn the people; ⁴then whosoever heareth the sound of the trumpet, and taketh not warning, if the sword come, and take him away, his blood shall be upon his own head. ⁵He heard the sound of the trumpet, and took not warning; his blood shall be upon him: whereas if he had taken warning he should have delivered his soul. ⁶But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned, and the sword come, and take any person from among them; he is taken away in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at the watchman's hand. ⁷So thou, son of man, I have set thee a watchman unto the house of Israel; therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me. ⁸When I say unto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt surely die, and thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way; that wicked man shall die in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at thine hand. ⁹Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it, and he turn not from his way; he shall die in his iniquity, but thou hast delivered thy soul. ¹⁰ And thou, son of man, say unto the house of Israel: Thus ye speak, saying, Our transgressions and our sins are upon us, and we pine away in them; how then should we live? ¹¹ Say unto them, As I live, saith the Lord GOD, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live: turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; for why will ye die, O house of Israel? ¹² And thou, son of man, say unto the children of thy people, The righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression; and as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not fall thereby in the day that he turneth from his wickedness: neither shall he that is righteous be able to live thereby in the day that he sinneth. ¹³ When I say to the righteous, that he shall surely live; if he trust to his righteousness, and commit iniquity, none of his righteous deeds shall be remembered; but in his iniquity that he hath committed, therein shall he die. ¹⁴ Again, when I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; if he turn from his sin, and do that which is lawful and right; ¹⁵ if the wicked restore the pledge, give again that he had taken by robbery, walk in the statutes of life, committing no iniquity; he shall surely live, he shall not die. ¹⁶ None of his sins that he hath committed shall be remembered against him: he hath done that which is lawful and right; he shall surely live. ¹⁷ Yet the children of thy people say, The way of the Lord is not equal: but as for them, their way is not equal. ¹⁸ When the righteous turneth from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, he shall even die therein. ¹⁹ And when the wicked turneth from his wickedness, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall live thereby. ²⁰ Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, I will judge you every one after his ways. ²¹ And it came to pass in the twelfth year of our captivity, in the tenth month, in the fifth day of the month, that one that had escaped out of Jerusalem came unto me, saying, The city is smitten. ²² Now the hand of the LORD had been upon me in the evening, afore he that was escaped came; and he had opened my mouth, until he came to me in the morning; and my mouth was opened, and I was no more dumb. ²³ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ²⁴ Son of man, they that inhabit those waste places in the land of Israel speak, saying, Abraham was one, and he inherited the land: but we are many; the land is given us for inheritance. ²⁵ Wherefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Ye eat with the blood, and lift up your eyes unto your idols, and shed blood: and shall ye possess the land? ²⁶ Ye stand upon your sword, ye work abomination, and ye defile every one his neighbour's wife: and shall ye possess the land? ²⁷ Thus shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD: As I live, surely they that are in the waste places shall fall by the sword, and him that is in the open field will I give to the beasts to be devoured, and they that be in the strong holds and in the caves shall die of the pestilence. ²⁸ And I will make the land a desolation and an astonishment, and the pride of her power shall cease; and the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, that none shall pass through. ²⁹ Then shall they know that I am the LORD, when I have made the land a desolation and an astonishment, because of all their abominations which they have committed. ³⁰ And as for thee, son of man, the children of thy people talk of thee by the walls and in the doors of the houses, and speak one to another, everyone to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and hear what is the word that cometh forth from the LORD. ³¹ And they come unto thee as the people cometh, and they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but do them not: for with their mouth they shew much love, but their heart goeth after their gain. ³² And, lo, thou art unto them as a very lovely song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and can play well on an instrument: for they hear thy words, but they do them not. ³³ And when this cometh to pass, (behold, it cometh,) then shall they know that a prophet hath been among them.

¹ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ² Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel, prophesy, and say unto them, even to the shepherds, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Woe unto the shepherds of Israel that do feed themselves! should not the shepherds feed the sheep? ³ Ye eat the fat, and ye clothe you with the wool, ye kill the fatlings; but ye feed not the sheep. ⁴ The diseased have ye not strengthened, neither have ye healed that which was sick, neither have ye bound up that which was broken, neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye sought that which was lost; but with force and with rigour have ye ruled over them. ⁵ And they were scattered, because there was no shepherd; and they became meat to all the beasts of the field, and were scattered. ⁶ My sheep wandered through all the mountains, and upon every high hill: yea, my sheep were scattered upon all the face of the earth; and there was none that did search or seek after them. ⁷ Therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD: ⁸ As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely forasmuch as my sheep became a prey, and my sheep became meat to all the beasts of the field, because there was no shepherd, neither did my shepherds search for my sheep, but the shepherds fed themselves, and fed not my sheep; ⁹ therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD; ¹⁰ Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against the shepherds; and I will require my sheep at their hand, and cause them to cease from feeding the sheep; neither shall the shepherds feed themselves any more; and I will deliver my sheep from their mouth, that they may not be meat for them. ¹¹ For thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I myself, even I, will search for my sheep, and will seek them out. ¹² As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered abroad, so will I seek out my sheep; and I will deliver them out of all places whither they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day. ¹³ And I will bring them out from the peoples, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them into their own land; and I will feed them upon the mountains of Israel, by the watercourses, and in all the inhabited places of the country. ¹⁴ I will feed them with good pasture, and upon the mountains of the height of Israel shall their fold be: there shall they lie down in a good fold, and on fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Israel. ¹⁵ I myself will feed my sheep, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord GOD. ¹⁶ I will seek that which was lost, and will bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick; and the fat and the strong I will destroy; I will feed them in judgment. ¹⁷ And as for you, O my flock, thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I judge between cattle and cattle, as well the rams as the he-goats. ¹⁸ Seemeth it a small thing unto you to have fed upon the good pasture, but ye must tread down with your feet the residue of your pasture? and to have drunk of the clear waters, but ye must foul the residue with your feet? ¹⁹ And as for my sheep, they eat that which ye have trodden with your feet, and they drink that which ye have fouled with your feet. ²⁰ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD unto them: Behold, I, even I, judge between the fat cattle and the lean cattle. ²¹ Because ye thrust with side and with shoulder, and push all the diseased with your horns, till ye have scattered them abroad; ²² therefore will I save my flock, and they shall no more be a prey; and I will judge between cattle and cattle. ²³ And I will set up one shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even my servant David; he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd. ²⁴ And I the LORD will be their God, and my servant David prince among them; I the LORD have spoken it. ²⁵ And I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will cause evil beasts to cease out of the land: and they shall dwell securely in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods. ²⁶ And I will make them and the places round about my hill a blessing; and I will cause the shower to come down in its season; there shall be showers of blessing. ²⁷ And the tree of the field shall yield its fruit, and the earth shall yield her increase, and they shall be secure in their land; and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I have broken the bars of their yoke, and have delivered them out of the hand of those that served themselves of them. ²⁸ And they shall no more be a prey to the heathen, neither shall the beast of the earth devour them; but they shall dwell securely, and none shall make them afraid. ²⁹ And I will raise up unto them a plantation for renown, and they shall be no more consumed with famine in the land, neither bear the shame of the heathen any more. ³⁰ And they shall know that I the LORD their God am with them, and that they, the house of Israel, are my people, saith the Lord GOD. ³¹ And ye my sheep, the sheep of my pasture, are men, and I am your God, saith the Lord GOD.

Israel, saying, They are laid desolate, they are given us to devour. ¹³ And ye have magnified yourselves against me with your mouth, and have multiplied your words against me: I have heard it. ¹⁴ Thus saith the Lord GOD: When the whole earth rejoiceth, I will make thee desolate. ¹⁵ As thou didst rejoice over the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so will I do unto thee: thou shalt be desolate, O mount Seir, and all Edom, even all of it: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

⁹ For, behold, I am for you, and I will turn unto you, and ye shall be tilled and sown: ¹⁰ and I will multiply men upon you, all the house of Israel, even all of it: and the cities shall be inhabited, and the waste places shall be builded: ¹¹ and I will multiply upon you man and beast; and they shall increase, and be fruitful: and I will cause you to be inhabited after your former estate, and will do better unto you than at your beginnings: and ye shall know that I am the LORD. ¹² Yea, I will cause men to walk upon you, even my people Israel; and they shall possess thee, and thou shalt be their inheritance, and thou shalt no more henceforth bereave them of children. ¹³ Thus saith the Lord GOD: Because they say unto you, Thou land art a devourer of men, and hast been a bereaver of thy nation; ¹⁴ therefore thou shalt devour men no more, neither bereave thy nation any more, saith the Lord GOD; ¹⁵ neither will I let thee hear any more the shame of the heathen, neither shalt thou bear the reproach of the peoples any more, neither shalt thou cause thy nation to stumble any more, saith the Lord GOD. ¹⁶ Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ¹⁷ Son of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their own land, they defiled it by their way and by their doings: their way before me was as the uncleanness of a woman in her separation. ¹⁸ Wherefore I poured out my fury upon them for the blood which they had poured out upon the land, and because they had defiled it with their idols: ¹⁹ and I scattered them among the nations, and they were dispersed through the countries: according to their way and according to their doings I judged them. ²⁰ And when they came unto the nations, whither they went, they profaned my holy name; in that men said of them, These are the people of the LORD, and are gone forth out of his land. ²¹ But I had pity for mine holy name, which the house of Israel had profaned among the nations, whither they went. ²² Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GOD: I do not this for your sake, O house of Israel, but for mine holy name, which ye have profaned among the nations, whither ye went. ²³ And I will sanctify my great name, which hath been profaned

among the nations, which ye have profaned in the midst of them; and the nations shall know that I am the LORD, saith the Lord GOD, when I shall be sanctified in you before their eyes. ²⁴ For I will take you from among the nations, and gather you out of all the countries, and will bring you into your own land. ²⁵ And I will sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean: from all your filthiness, and from all your idols, will I cleanse you. ²⁶ A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you: and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you art heart of flesh. ²⁷ And I will put my spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments, and do them. ²⁸ And ye shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers; and ye shall be my people, and I will be your God. ²⁹ And I will save you from all your uncleannesses: and I will call for the corn, and will multiply it, and lay no famine upon you. ³⁰ And I will multiply the fruit of the tree, and the increase of the field, that ye shall receive no more the reproach of famine among the nations. ³¹ Then shall ye remember your evil ways, and your doings that were not good; and ye shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for your iniquities and for your abominations. ³² Not for your sake do I this, saith the Lord GOD, be it known unto you: be ashamed and confounded for your ways, O house of Israel. ³³ Thus saith the Lord GOD: In the day that I cleanse you from all your iniquities, I will cause the cities to be inhabited, and the waste places shall be builded. ³⁴ And the land that was desolate shall be tilled, whereas it was a desolation in the sight of all that passed by. ³⁵ And they shall say, This land that was desolate is become like the garden of Eden; and the waste and desolate and ruined cities are fenced and inhabited. ³⁶ Then the nations that are left round about you shall know that I the LORD have builded the ruined places, and planted that which was desolate: I the LORD have spoken it, and I will do it. ³⁷ Thus saith the Lord GOD: For this moreover will I be inquired of by the house of Israel; to do it for them; I will increase them with men like a flock. ³⁸ As the flock for sacrifice, as the flock of Jerusalem in her appointed feasts;

so shall the waste cities be filled with flocks of men: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

¹ The hand of the LORD was upon me, and he carried me out in the spirit of the LORD, and set me down in the midst of the valley; and it was full of bones; ² And he caused me to pass by them round about: and behold, there were very many in the open valley; and lo, they were very dry. ³ And he said unto me, Son of man, can these bones live? And I answered, O Lord GOD, thou knowest. ⁴ Again he said unto me, Prophecy over these bones, and say unto them, O ye dry bones, hear the word of the LORD. ⁵ Thus saith the Lord GOD unto these bones: Behold, I will cause breath to enter into you, and ye shall live. ⁶ And I will lay sinews upon you, and will bring up flesh upon you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you, and ye shall live; and ye shall know that I am the LORD. ⁷ So I prophesied as I was commanded: and as I prophesied, there was a noise, and behold an earthquake, and the bones came together, bone to his bone. ⁸ And I beheld, and lo, there were sinews upon them, and flesh came up, and skin covered them above: but there was no breath in them. ⁹ Then said he unto me, Prophecy unto the wind, prophecy, son of man, and say to the wind, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe upon these slain, that they may live. ¹⁰ So I prophesied as he commanded me; and the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood up upon their feet, an exceeding great army. ¹¹ Then he said unto me, Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel: behold, they say, Our bones are dried up, and our hope is lost; we are clean cut off. ¹² Therefore prophecy, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your graves, O my people; and I will bring you into the land of Israel. ¹³ And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have opened your graves, and caused you to come up out of your graves, O my people. ¹⁴ And I will put my spirit in you, and ye shall live, and I will place you in your own land: and ye shall know that

I the LORD have spoken it, and performed it, saith the LORD. ¹⁵ The word of the LORD came again unto me, saying, ¹⁶ And thou, son of man, take thee one stick, and write upon it, For Judah, and for the children of Israel his companions: then take another stick, and write upon it, For Joseph, the stick of Ephraim, and for all the house of Israel his companions: ¹⁷ and join them for thee one to another into one stick, that they may become one in thine hand. ¹⁸ And when the children of thy people shall speak unto thee, saying, Wilt thou not shew us what thou meanest by these? ¹⁹ say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will take the stick of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his companions; and I will put them with it, even with the stick of Judah, and make them one stick, and they shall be one in mine hand. ²⁰ And the sticks whereon thou writest shall be in thine hand before their eyes. ²¹ And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I will take the children of Israel from among the nations, whither they be gone, and will gather them on every side, and bring them into their own land: ²² and I will make them one nation in the land, upon the mountains of Israel; and one king shall be king to them all: and they shall be no more two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdoms any more at all: ²³ neither shall they defile themselves any more with their idols, nor with their detestable things, nor with any of their transgressions: but I will save them out of all their dwelling places, wherein they have sinned, and will cleanse them: so shall they be my people, and I will be their God. ²⁴ And my servant David shall be king over them; and they all shall have one shepherd: they shall also walk in my judgments, and observe my statutes, and do them. ²⁵ And they shall dwell in the land that I have given unto Jacob my servant, wherein your fathers dwelt; and they shall dwell therein, they, and their children, and their children's children, for ever: and David my servant shall be their prince for ever. ²⁶ Moreover I will make a covenant of peace with them: it shall be an everlasting covenant with them: and I will place them, and multiply them, and will set my sanctuary in the midst of them for evermore. ²⁷ My tabernacle also shall be with them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. ²⁸ And the nations shall know that I am the LORD that sanctify Israel, when my sanctuary shall be in the midst of them for evermore.

¹ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ² Son of man, set thy face toward Gog, of the land of Magog, the prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal, and prophesy against him, ³ and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal: ⁴ and I will turn thee about, and put hooks into thy jaws, and I will bring thee forth, and all thine army, horses and horsemen, all of them clothed in full armour, a great company with buckler and shield, all of them handling swords: ⁵ Persia, Cush, and Put with them; all of them with shield and helmet: ⁶ Gomer, and all his hordes; the house of Togarmah in the uttermost parts of the north, and all his hordes: even many peoples with thee. ⁷ Be thou prepared, yea, prepare thyself, thou, and all thy companies that are assembled unto thee, and be thou a guard unto them. ⁸ After many days thou shalt be visited: in the latter years thou shalt come into the land that is brought back from the sword, that is gathered out of many peoples, upon the mountains of Israel, which have been a continual waste: but it is brought forth out of the peoples, and they shall dwell securely, all of them. ⁹ And thou shalt ascend, thou shalt come like a storm, thou shalt be like a cloud to cover the land, thou, and all thy hordes, and many peoples with thee. ¹⁰ Thus saith the Lord GOD: It shall come to pass in that day, that things shall come into thy mind, and thou shalt devise an evil device: ¹¹ and thou shalt say, I will go up to the land of unwallled villages; I will go to them that are at quiet, that dwell securely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates: ¹² to take the spoil and to take the prey; to turn thine hand against the waste places that are now inhabited, and against the people that are gathered out of the nations, which have gotten cattle and goods, that dwell in the middle of the earth. ¹³ Sheba, and Dedan, and the merchants of Tarshish; with all the young lions thereof, shall say unto thee, Art thou come to take the spoil? hast thou assembled thy company to take the prey? to carry away silver and gold, to take away cattle and goods, to take great spoil? ¹⁴ Therefore, son of man, prophesy, and say unto Gog, Thus saith the Lord GOD: In that day when my people Israel dwelleth securely, shalt thou not know it? ¹⁵ And thou shalt come from thy place out of the uttermost parts of the north, thou, and many peoples with thee, all of them riding upon horses; a great company and a mighty army: ¹⁶ and thou shalt come up against my people Israel, as a cloud to cover the land; it shall come to pass in the latter days, that I will bring thee against my land, that the nations may know me, when I shall be sanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes. ¹⁷ Thus saith the Lord GOD: Art thou he of whom I spake in old time by my servants the prophets of Israel, which prophesied in those days for many years that I would bring thee against them? ¹⁸ And it shall come to pass in that day, when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, saith the Lord GOD, that my fury shall come up into my nostrils. ¹⁹ For in my jealousy and in the fire of my wrath have I spoken, Surely in that day there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel; ²⁰ so that the fishes of the sea, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the field, and all creeping things that creep upon the earth, and all the men that are upon the face of the earth, shall shake at my presence, and the mountains shall be thrown down, and the steep places shall fall, and every wall shall fall to the ground. ²¹ And I will call for a sword against him unto all my mountains, saith the Lord GOD: every man's sword shall be against his brother. ²² And I will plead against him with pestilence and with blood: and I will rain upon him, and upon his hordes, and upon the many peoples that are with him, an overflowing shower, and great hailstones, fire, and brimstone. ²³ And I will magnify myself, and sanctify myself, and I will make myself known in the eyes of many nations; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

¹And thou, son of man, prophesy against Gog, and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, prince of Rosh, Meshech, and Tubal: ²and I will turn thee about, and will lead thee on, and will cause thee to come up from the uttermost parts of the north; and I will bring thee upon the mountains of Israel: ³and I will smite thy bow out of thy left hand, and will cause thine arrows to fall out of thy right hand. ⁴Thou shalt fall upon the mountains of Israel, thou, and all thy hordes, and the peoples that are with thee: I will give thee unto the ravenous birds of every sort, and to the beasts of the field to be devoured. ⁵Thou shalt fall upon the open field; for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD. ⁶And I will send a fire on Magog, and on them that dwell securely in the isles: and they shall know that I am the LORD. ⁷And my holy name will I make known in the midst of my people Israel; neither will I suffer my holy name to be profaned any more: and the nations shall know that I am the LORD, the Holy One in Israel. ⁸Behold, it cometh, and it shall be done, saith the Lord GOD; this is the day whereof I have spoken. ⁹And they that dwell in the cities of Israel shall go forth, and shall make fires of the weapons and burn them, both the shields and the bucklers, the bows and the arrows, and the handstaves, and the spears, and they shall make fires of them seven years. ¹⁰so that they shall take no wood out of the field, neither cut down any out of the forests; for they shall make fires of the weapons: and they shall spoil those that spoiled them, and rob those that robbed them, saith the Lord GOD. ¹¹And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will give unto Gog a place for burial in Israel, the valley of them that pass through on the east of the sea: and it shall stop them that pass through: and there shall they bury Gog and all his multitude: and they shall call it The valley of Hamon-gog. ¹²And seven months shall the house of Israel be burying of them, that they may cleanse the land. ¹³Yea, all the people of the land shall bury them; and it shall be to them a renown, in the day that I shall be glorified, saith the Lord GOD. ¹⁴And they shall sever out men of continual employment, that shall pass through the land to bury them that pass through, that remain upon the face of the land, to cleanse it: after the end of seven months shall they search. ¹⁵And they that pass through the land shall pass through; and when any seeth a man's bone, then shall he set up a sign by it, till the buriers have buried it in the valley of Hamon-gog. ¹⁶And Hamonah shall also be the name of a city. Thus shall they cleanse the land. ¹⁷And thou, son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD: Speak unto the birds of every sort, and to every beast of the field, Assemble yourselves, and come; gather yourselves on every side to my sacrifice that I do sacrifice for you, even a great sacrifice upon the mountains of Israel, that ye may eat flesh and drink blood. ¹⁸Ye shall eat the flesh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of rams, of lambs, and of goats, of bullocks, all of them fatlings of Bashan. ¹⁹And ye shall eat fat till ye be full, and drink blood till ye be drunken, of my sacrifice which I have sacrificed for you. ²⁰And ye shall be filled at my table with horses and chariots, with mighty men, and with all men of war, saith the Lord GOD. ²¹And I will set my glory among the nations, and all the nations shall see my judgment that I have executed, and my hand that I have laid upon them. ²²So the house of Israel shall know that I am the LORD their God, from that day and forward. ²³And the nations shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquity; because they trespassed against me, and I hid my face from them: so I gave them into the hand of their adversaries, and they fell all of them by the sword. ²⁴According to their uncleanness and according to their transgressions did I unto them; and I hid my face from them. ²⁵Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Now will I bring again the captivity of Jacob, and have mercy upon the whole house of Israel; and I will be jealous for my holy name. ²⁶And they shall bear their shame, and all their trespasses whereby they have trespassed against me, when they shall dwell securely in their land, and none shall make them afraid; ²⁷when I have brought them again from the peoples, and gathered them out of their enemies' lands, and am sanctified in them in the sight of many nations. ²⁸ And they shall know that I am the LORD their God, in that I caused them to go into captivity among the nations, and have gathered them unto their own land; and I will leave none of them any more there; ²⁹ neither will I hide my face any more from them: for I have poured out my spirit upon the house of Israel, saith the Lord GOD.

¹ In the five and twentieth year of our captivity, in the beginning of the year, in the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after that the city was smitten, in the selfsame day, the hand of the LORD was upon me, and he brought me thither. ² In the visions of God brought he me into the land of Israel, and set me down upon a very high mountain, whereon was as it were the frame of a city on the south. ³ And he brought me thither, and behold, there was a man, whose appearance was like the appearance of brass, with a line of flax in his hand, and a measuring reed; and he stood in the gate. ⁴ And the man said unto me, Son of man, behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears, and set thine heart upon all that I shall shew thee; for to the intent that I might shew them unto thee art thou brought hither: declare all that thou seest to the house of Israel. ⁵ And behold, a wall on the outside of the house round about, and in the man's hand a measuring reed of six cubits long, of a cubit and an handbreadth each: so he measured the thickness of the building, one reed; and the height, one reed. ⁶ Then came he unto the gate which looketh toward the east, and went up the steps thereof; and he measured the threshold of the gate, one reed broad: and the other threshold, one reed broad. ⁷ And every lodge was one reed long, and one reed broad; and the space between the lodges was five cubits; and the threshold of the gate by the porch of the gate toward the house was one reed. ⁸ He measured also the porch of the gate toward the house, one reed. ⁹ Then measured he the porch of the gate, eight cubits; and the posts thereof, two cubits; and the porch of the gate was toward the house. ¹⁰ And the lodges of the gate eastward were three on this side, and three on that side; they three were of one measure: and the posts had one measure on this side and on that side. ¹¹ And he measured the breadth of the opening of the gate, ten cubits; and the length of the gate thirteen cubits; ¹² and a border before the lodges one cubit on this side, and a border, one cubit on that side; and the lodges six cubits on this side, and six cubit on that side. ¹³ And he measured the gate from the roof of the one lodge to the roof of the other, a breadth of five and twenty cubits; door against door. ¹⁴ He made also posts, threescore cubits; and the court reached unto the post, the gate being round about. ¹⁵ And from the forefront of the gate at the entrance unto the forefront of the inner porch of the gate were fifty cubits. ¹⁶ And there were closed windows to the lodges, and to their posts within the gate round about, and likewise to the arches: and windows were round about inward: and upon each post were palm trees. ¹⁷ Then brought he me into the outer court, and, lo, there were chambers and a pavement, made for the court round about: thirty chambers were upon the pavement. ¹⁸ And the pavement was by the side of the gates, answerable unto the length of the gates, even the lower pavement. ¹⁹ Then he measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate unto the forefront of the inner court without, an hundred cubits, both on the east and on the north. ²⁰ And the gate of the outer court whose prospect is toward the north, he measured the length thereof and the breadth thereof. ²¹ And the lodges thereof were three on this side and three on that side; and the posts thereof and the arches thereof were after the measure of the first gate: the length thereof was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits. ²² And the windows thereof, and the arches thereof, and the palm trees thereof, were after the measure of the gate whose prospect is toward the east; and they went up unto it by seven steps; and the arches thereof were before them. ²³ And there was a gate to the inner court over against the other gate, both on the north and on the east; and he measured from gate to gate an hundred cubits. ²⁴ And he led me toward the south, and behold a gate toward the south: and he measured the posts thereof and the arches thereof according to these measures. ²⁵ And there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about, like those windows: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits. ²⁶ And there were seven steps to go up to it, and the arches thereof were before them: and it had palm trees, one on this side, and another on that side, upon the posts thereof. ²⁷ And there was a gate to the inner court toward the south: and he measured from gate to gate toward the south an hundred cubits. ²⁸ Then he brought me to the inner court by the south gate: and he measured the south gate according to these measures; ²⁹ and the lodges thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof; according to these measures: and there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad. ³⁰ And there were arches round about, five and twenty cubits long, and five cubits broad. ³¹ And the arches thereof were toward the outer court; and palm trees were upon the posts thereof: and the going up to it had eight steps. ³² And he brought me into the inner court toward the east: and he measured the gate according to these measures; ³³ and the lodges thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures: and there were windows therein and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad. ³⁴ And the arches thereof were toward the outer court; and palm trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the going up to it had eight steps. ³⁵ And he brought me to the north gate: and he measured it according to these measures; ³⁶ the lodges thereof, the posts thereof, and the arches thereof; and there were windows therein round about: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits. ³⁷ And the posts thereof were toward the outer court; and palm trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the going up to it had eight steps. ³⁸ And a chamber with the door thereof was by the posts at the gates; there they washed the burnt offering. ³⁹ And in the porch of the gate were two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, to slay thereon the burnt offering and the sin offering and the guilt offering. ⁴⁰ And on the one side without, as one goeth up to the entry of the gate toward the north, were two tables; and on the other side, which belonged to the porch of the gate, were two tables. ⁴¹ Four tables were on this side, and four tables on that side, by the side of the gate; eight tables, whereupon they slew the sacrifices. ⁴² And there were four tables for the burnt offering, of hewn stone, a cubit and an half long, and a cubit and an half broad, and one cubit high: whereupon they laid the instruments wherewith they slew the burnt offering and the sacrifice. ⁴³ And the hooks, an handbreadth long, were fastened within round about: and upon the tables was the flesh of the oblation. ⁴⁴ And without the inner gate were chambers for the singers in the inner court, which was at the side of the north gate; and their prospect was toward the south: one at the side of the east gate having the prospect toward the north. ⁴⁵ And he said unto me, This chamber, whose prospect is toward the south, is for the priests, the keepers of the charge of the house. ⁴⁶ and the chamber whose prospect is toward the north is for the priests, the keepers of the charge of the altar: these are the sons of Zadok, which from among the sons of Levi come near to the LORD to minister unto him. ⁴⁷ And he measured the court, an hundred cubits long, and an hundred cubits broad, foursquare; and the altar was before the house. ⁴⁸ Then he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured each post of the porch, five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this side, and three cubits on that side. ⁴⁹ The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits; even by the steps whereby they went up to it: and there were pillars by the posts, one on this side, and another on that side.

¹ And he brought me to the temple, and measured the posts, six cubits broad on the one side, and six cubits broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the tabernacle. ² And the breadth of the entrance was ten cubits; and the sides of the entrance were five cubits on the one side, and five cubits on the other side: and he

measured the length thereof, forty cubits, and the breadth, twenty cubits. ³ Then went he inward, and measured each post of the entrance, two cubits: and the entrance, six cubits; and the breadth of the entrance, seven cubits. ⁴ And he measured the length thereof twenty cubits, and the breadth, twenty cubits, before the temple: and he said unto me, This is the most holy place. ⁵ Then he measured the wall of the house, six cubits; and the breadth of every side-chamber, four cubits, round about the house on every side. ⁶ And the side-chambers were in three stories, one over another, and thirty in order; and they entered into the wall which belonged to the house for the side-chambers round about, that they might have hold therein, and not have hold in the wall of the house. ⁷ And the side-chambers were broader as they encompassed the house higher and higher; for the encompassing of the house went higher and higher round about the house: therefore the breadth of the house continued upward; and so one went up from the lowest chamber to the highest by the middle chamber. ⁸ I saw also that the house had a raised basement round about: the foundations of the side-chambers were a full reed of six great cubits. ⁹ The thickness of the wall, which was for the side chambers, on the outside, was five cubits: and that which was left was the place of the side-chambers that belonged to the house. ¹⁰ And between the chambers was a breadth of twenty cubits round about the house on every side. ¹¹ And the doors of the side-chambers were toward the place that was left, one door toward the north, and another door toward the south: and the breadth of the place that was left was five cubits round about. ¹² And the building that was before the separate place at the side toward the west was seventy cubits broad; and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the length thereof ninety cubits. ¹³ So he measured the house, an hundred cubits long, and the separate place, and the building, with the walls thereof, an hundred cubits long; ¹⁴ also the breadth of the face of the house, and of the separate place toward the east, an hundred cubits. ¹⁵ And he measured the length of the building before the separate place which was at the back thereof, and the galleries thereof on the one side and on the other side, an hundred cubits; and the inner temple, and the porches of the court; ¹⁶ the thresholds, and the closed windows, and the galleries round about on their three stories, over against the threshold, cieled with wood round about, and from the ground up to the windows; now the windows were covered; ¹⁷ to the space above the door, even unto the inner house, and without, and by all the wall round about within and without, by measure. ¹⁸ And it was made with cherubim and palm trees; and a palm tree was between cherub and cherub, and every cherub had two faces; ¹⁹ so that there was the face of a man toward the palm tree on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm tree on the other side: thus was it made through all the house round about. ²⁰ from the ground unto above the door were cherubim and palm trees made: thus was the wall of the temple. ²¹ As for the temple, the door posts were squared; and as for the face of the sanctuary, the appearance thereof was as the appearance of the temple. ²² The altar was of wood, three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubits; and the corners thereof, and the length thereof, and the walls thereof, were of wood: and he said unto me, This is the table that is before the LORD. ²³ And the temple and the sanctuary had two doors. ²⁴ And the doors had two leaves apiece, two turning leaves; two leaves for the one door, and two leaves for the other. ²⁵ And there were made on them, on the doors of the temple, cherubim and palm trees, like as were made upon the walls; and there were thick beams of wood upon the face of the porch without. ²⁶ And there were closed windows and palm trees on the one side and on the other side, on the sides of the porch: thus were the side-chambers of the house, and the thick beams.

¹ Then he brought me forth into the outer court, the way toward the north: and he brought me into the chamber that was over against the separate place, and which was over against the building toward the north. ² Before the length of an hundred cubits was the north door, and the breadth was fifty cubits. ³Over against the twenty cubits which belonged to the inner court, and over against the pavement which belonged to the outer court, was gallery against gallery in the third story. ⁴And before the chambers was a walk of ten cubits breadth inward, a way of one cubit; and their doors were toward the north. ⁵Now the upper chambers were shorter: for the galleries took away from these, more than from the lower and the middlemost, in the building. ⁶For they were in three stories, and they had not pillars as the pillars of the courts: therefore the uppermost was straitened more than the lowest and the middlemost from the ground. ⁷And the wall that was without by the side of the chambers, toward the outer court before the chambers, the length thereof was fifty cubits. ⁸For the length of the chambers that were in the outer court was fifty cubits: and, lo, before the temple were an hundred cubits. ⁹And from under these chambers was the entry on the east side, as one goeth into them from the outer court. ¹⁰In the thickness of the wall of the court toward the east, before the separate place, and before the building, there were chambers. ¹¹And the way before them was like the appearance of the way of the chambers which were toward the north; according to their length so was their breadth: and all their goings out were both according to their fashions, and according to their doors. ¹²And according to the doors of the chambers that were toward the south was a door in the head of the way, even the way directly before the wall toward the east, as one entereth into them. ¹³Then said he unto me, The north chambers and the south chambers, which are before the separate place, they be the holy chambers, where the priests that are near unto the LORD shall eat the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meal offering, and the sin offering, and the guilt offering; for the place is holy. ¹⁴When the priests enter in, then shall they not go out of the holy place into the outer court, but there they shall lay their garments wherein they minister; for they are holy: and they shall put on other garments, and shall approach to that which pertaineth to the people. ¹⁵Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth by the way of the gate whose prospect is toward the east, and measured it round about. ¹⁶He measured on the east side with the measuring reed, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about. ¹⁷He measured on the north side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about. ¹⁸He measured on the south side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed. ¹⁹He turned about to the west side, and measured five hundred reeds with the measuring reed. ²⁰He measured it on the four sides: it had a wall round about, the length five hundred, and the breadth five hundred, to make a separation between that which was holy and that which was common.

¹Afterward he brought me to the gate, even the gate that looketh toward the east: ²And behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from the way of the east: and his voice was like the sound of many waters: and the earth shined with his glory. ³And it was according to the appearance of the vision which I saw, even according to the vision that I saw when I came to destroy the city; and the visions were like the vision that I saw by the river Chebar: and I fell upon my face. ⁴And the glory of the LORD came into the house by the way of the gate whose prospect is toward the east. ⁵And the spirit took me up, and brought me into the inner court; and behold, the glory of the LORD filled the house. ⁶And I heard one speaking unto me out of the house; and a man stood by me. ⁷And he said unto me, Son of man, *this is the place of my throne, and the place of the soles of my feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel for ever: and the house of Israel shall no more defile my holy name, neither they, nor their kings, by their whoredom, and by the carcasses of their kings in their high places; ⁸in their setting of their threshold by my threshold, and their door post beside my door post, and there was but the wall between me and them; and they have defiled my holy name by their abominations which they have committed: wherefore I have consumed them in mine anger. ⁹Now let them put away their whoredom, and the*

carcasses of their kings, far from me, and I will dwell in the midst of them for ever. ¹⁰Thou, son of man, shew the house to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities: and let them measure the pattern. ¹¹And if they be ashamed of all that they have done, make known unto them the form of the house, and the fashion thereof, and the goings out thereof, and the comings in thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the laws thereof, and write it in their sight: that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them. ¹²This is the law of the house: upon the top of the mountain the whole limit thereof round about shall be most holy. Behold, this is the law of the house. ¹³And these are the measures of the altar by cubits: (the cubit is a cubit and an handbreadth:) the bottom shall be a cubit, and the breadth a cubit, and the border thereof by the edge thereof round about a span: and this shall be the base of the altar. ¹⁴And from the bottom upon the ground to the lower settle shall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit; and from the lesser settle to the greater settle shall be four cubits, and the breadth a cubit. ¹⁵And the upper altar shall be four cubits; and from the altar hearth and upward there shall be four horns. ¹⁶And the altar hearth shall be twelve cubits long by twelve broad, square in the four sides thereof. ¹⁷And the settle shall be fourteen cubits long by fourteen broad in the four sides thereof; and the border about it shall be half a cubit; and the bottom thereof shall be a cubit about; and the steps thereof shall look toward the east. ¹⁸And he said unto me, Son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD: These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they shall make it, to offer burnt offerings thereon, and to sprinkle blood thereon. ¹⁹Thou shalt give to the priests the Levites that be of the seed of Zadok, which are near unto me, to minister unto me, saith the Lord GOD, a young bullock for a sin offering. ²⁰And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the four horns of it, and on the four corners of the settle, and upon the border round about: thus shalt thou cleanse it and make atonement for it. ²¹Thou shalt also take the bullock of the sin offering, and he shall burn it in the appointed place of the house, without the sanctuary. ²²And on the second day thou shalt offer a he-goat without blemish for a sin offering; and they shall cleanse the altar, as they did cleanse it with the bullock. ²³When thou hast made an end of cleansing it, thou shalt offer a young bullock without blemish, and a ram out of the flock without blemish. ²⁴And thou shalt bring them near before the LORD, and the priests shall cast salt upon them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt offering unto the LORD. ²⁵Seven days shalt thou prepare every day a goat for a sin offering: they shall also prepare a young bullock, and a ram out of the flock, without blemish. ²⁶Seven days shall they make atonement for the altar and purify it; so shall they consecrate it. ²⁷And when they have accomplished the days, it shall be that upon the eighth day, and forward, the priests shall make your burnt offerings upon the altar, and your peace offerings; and I will accept you, saith the Lord GOD.

¹Then he brought me back the way of the outer gate of the sanctuary, which looketh toward the east; and it was shut. ²And the LORD said unto me, This gate shall be shut, it shall not be opened, neither shall any man enter in by it, for the LORD, the God of Israel, hath entered in by it; therefore it shall be shut. ³As for the prince, he shall sit therein as prince to eat bread before the LORD; he shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate, and shall go out by the way of the same. ⁴Then he brought me the way of the north gate before the house; and I looked, and behold, the glory of the LORD filled the house of the LORD: and I fell upon my face. ⁵And the LORD said unto me, Son of man, mark well, and behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears all that I say unto thee concerning all the ordinances of the house of the LORD, and all the laws thereof; and mark well the entering in of the house, with every going forth of the sanctuary. ⁶And thou shalt say to the rebellious, even to the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GOD: O ye house of Israel, let it suffice you of all your abominations, ⁷in that ye have brought in aliens, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in my sanctuary, to profane it, even my house, when ye offer my bread, the fat and the blood, and they have broken my covenant, to add unto all your abominations. ⁸ And ye have not kept the charge of mine holy things: but ye have set keepers of my charge in my sanctuary for yourselves. ⁹ Thus saith the Lord GOD, No alien, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my sanctuary, of any alien that is among the children of Israel. ¹⁰ But the Levites that went far from me, when Israel went astray, which went astray from me after their idols; they shall bear their iniquity. ¹¹ Yet they shall be ministers in my sanctuary, having oversight at the gates of the house, and ministering in the house: they shall slay the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall stand before them to minister unto them. ¹² Because they ministered unto them before their idols, and became a stumblingblock of iniquity unto the house of Israel; therefore have I lifted up mine hand against them, saith the Lord GOD, and they shall bear their iniquity. ¹³ And they shall not come near unto me, to execute the office of priest unto me, nor to come near to any of my holy things, unto the things that are most holy: but they shall bear their shame, and their abominations which they have committed. ¹⁴ Yet will I make them keepers of the charge of the house, for all the service thereof, and for all that shall be done therein. ¹⁵ But the priests the Levites, the sons of Zadok, that kept the charge of my sanctuary when the children of Israel went astray from me, they shall come near to me to minister unto me; and they shall stand before me to offer unto me the fat and the blood, saith the Lord GOD: ¹⁶ they shall enter into my sanctuary, and they shall come near to my table, to minister unto me, and they shall keep my charge. ¹⁷ And it shall be that when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed with linen garments; and no wool shall come upon them, whiles they minister in the gates of the inner court, and within. ¹⁸ They shall have linen tires upon their heads, and shall have linen breeches upon their loins; they shall not gird themselves with any thing that causeth sweat. ¹⁹ And when they go forth into the outer court, even into the outer court to the people, they shall put off their garments wherein they minister, and lay them in the holy chambers, and they shall put on other garments, that they sanctify not the people with their garments. ²⁰ Neither shall they shave their heads, nor suffer their locks to grow long; they shall only poll their heads. ²¹ Neither shall any priest drink wine, when they enter into the inner court. ²² Neither shall they take for their wives a widow, nor her that is put away: but they shall take virgins of the seed of the house of Israel, or a widow that is the widow of a priest. ²³ And they shall teach my people the difference between the holy and the common, and cause them to discern between the unclean and the clean. ²⁴ And in a controversy they shall stand to judge; according to my judgments shall they judge it: and they shall keep my laws and my statutes in all my appointed feasts; and they shall hallow my sabbaths. ²⁵ And they shall come at no dead person to defile themselves: but for father, or for mother, or for son, or for daughter, for brother, or for sister that hath had no husband, they may defile themselves. ²⁶ And after he is cleansed, they shall reckon unto him seven days. ²⁷ And in the day that he goeth into the sanctuary, into the inner court, to minister in the sanctuary, he shall offer his sin offering, saith the Lord GOD. ²⁸ And they shall have an inheritance; I am their inheritance: and ye shall give them no possession in Israel; I am their possession. ²⁹ They shall eat the meal offering, and the sin offering, and the guilt offering; and every devoted thing in Israel shall be theirs. ³⁰ And the first of all the firstfruits of every thing, and every oblation of every thing, of all your oblations, shall be for the priests: ye shall also give unto the priest the first of your dough, to cause a blessing to rest on thine house. ³¹ The priests shall not eat of any thing that dieth of itself, or is torn, whether it be fowl or beast.

¹ Moreover, when ye shall divide by lot the land for inheritance, ye shall offer an oblation unto the LORD, an holy portion of the land: the length shall be the length of five and twenty thousand reeds, and the breadth shall be ten thousand: it shall be holy in all the border thereof round about. ²Of this there shall be for the holy place five hundred in length by five hundred in breadth, square round about; and fifty cubits for the suburbs thereof round about. ³And of this measure shalt thou measure, a length of five and twenty thousand, and a breadth of ten thousand: and in it shall be the sanctuary, which is most holy. ⁴It is an holy portion of the land; it shall be for the priests, the ministers of the sanctuary, which come near to minister unto the LORD; and it shall be a place for their houses, and an holy place for the sanctuary. ⁵And five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth, shall be unto the Levites, the ministers of the house, for a possession unto themselves, for twenty chambers. ⁶And ye shall appoint the possession of the city five thousand broad, and five and twenty thousand long, side by side with the oblation of the holy portion: it shall be for the whole house of Israel. ⁷And whatsoever is for the prince shall be on the one side and on the other side of the holy oblation and of the possession of the city, in front of the holy oblation and in front of the possession of the city, on the west side westward, and on the east side eastward: and in length answerable unto one of the portions, from the west border unto the east border. ⁸In the land it shall be to him for a possession in Israel: and my princes shall no more oppress my people; but they shall give the land to the house of Israel according to their tribes. ⁹Thus saith the Lord GOD: Let it suffice you, O princes of Israel: remove violence and spoil, and execute judgment and justice; take away your exactions from my people, saith the Lord GOD. ¹⁰Ye shall have just balances, and a just ephah, and a just bath. ¹¹The ephah and the bath shall be of one measure, that the bath may contain the tenth part of an homer, and the ephah the tenth part of an homer: the measure thereof shall be after the homer. ¹²And the shekel shall be twenty gerahs: twenty shekels, five and twenty shekels, fifteen shekels, shall be your maneh. ¹³This is the oblation that ye shall offer; the sixth part of an ephah from an homer of wheat, and ye shall give the sixth part of an ephah from an homer of barley: ¹⁴and the set portion of oil, of the bath of oil, shall be the tenth part of a bath out of the cor, which is ten baths, even an homer; for ten baths are an homer: ¹⁵and one lamb of the flock, out of two hundred, from the fat pastures of Israel; for a meal offering, and for a burnt offering, and for peace offerings, to make atonement for them, saith the Lord GOD. ¹⁶All the people of the land shall give unto this oblation for the prince in Israel. ¹⁷And it shall be the prince's part to give the burnt offerings, and the meal offerings, and the drink offerings, in the feasts, and in the new moons, and in the sabbaths, in all the appointed feasts of the house of Israel: he shall prepare the sin offering, and the meal offering, and the burnt offering, and the peace offerings, to make atonement for the house of Israel. ¹⁸Thus saith the Lord GOD: In the first month, in the first day of the month, thou shalt take a young bullock without blemish; and thou shalt cleanse the sanctuary. ¹⁹And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering, and put it upon the door posts of the house, and upon the four corners of the settle of the altar, and upon the posts of the gate of the inner court. ²⁰And so thou shalt do on the seventh day of the month for every one that erreth, and for him that is simple: so shall ye make atonement for the house. ²¹In the first month, in the fourteenth day of the month, ye shall have the passover, a feast of seven days; unleavened bread shall be eaten. ²²And upon that day shall the prince prepare for himself and for all the people of the land a bullock for a sin offering. ²³And the seven days of the feast he shall prepare a burnt offering to the LORD, seven bullocks and seven rams without blemish daily the seven days; and a he-goat daily for a sin offering. ²⁴And he shall prepare a meal offering, an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and an hin of oil to an ephah. ²⁵In the seventh month, in the fifteenth day of the month, in the feast, shall he do the like the seven days; according to the sin offering, according to the burnt offering, and according to the meal offering, and according to the oil.

¹ Thus saith the Lord GOD: The gate of the inner court that looketh toward the east shall be shut the six working days; but on the sabbath day it shall be opened, and in the day of the new moon it shall be opened. ² And the prince shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate without, and shall stand by the post of the gate, and the priests shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate; then he shall go forth: but the gate shall not be shut until the evening. ³ And the people of the land shall worship at the door of that gate before the LORD in the sabbaths and in the new moons. ⁴ And the burnt offering that the prince shall offer unto the LORD shall be in the sabbath day six lambs without blemish and a ram without blemish; ⁵ and the meal offering shall be an ephah for the ram, and the meal offering for the lambs as he is able to give, and an hin of oil to an ephah. ⁶ And in the day of the new moon it shall be a young bullock without blemish; and six lambs, and a ram; they shall be without blemish: ⁷ and he shall prepare a meal offering, an ephah for the bullock, and an ephah for the ram, and for the lambs according as he is able, and an hin of oil to an ephah. ⁸ And when the prince shall enter, he shall go in by the way of the porch of the gate, and he shall go forth by the way thereof. ⁹ But when the people of the land shall come before the LORD in the appointed feasts, he that entereth by the way of the north gate to worship shall go forth by the way of the south gate; and he that entereth by the way of the south gate shall go forth by the way of the north gate: he shall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but shall go forth straight before him. ¹⁰ And the prince, when they go in, shall go in in the midst of them; and when they go forth, they shall go forth together. ¹¹ And in the feasts and in the solemnities the meal offering shall be an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and for the lambs as he is able to give, and an hin of oil to an ephah. ¹² And when the prince shall prepare a freewill offering, a burnt offering or peace offerings as a freewill offering unto the LORD, one shall

open for him the gate that looketh toward the east, and he shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, as he doth on the sabbath day: then he shall go forth; and after his going forth one shall shut the gate. ¹³ And thou shalt prepare a lamb of the first year without blemish for a burnt offering unto the LORD daily: morning by morning shalt thou prepare it. ¹⁴ And thou shalt prepare a meal offering with it morning by morning, the sixth part of an ephah, and the third part of an hin of oil, to moisten the fine flour; a meal offering unto the LORD continually by a perpetual ordinance; ¹⁵ Thus shall they prepare the lamb, and the meal offering, and the oil, morning by morning, for a continual burnt offering. ¹⁶ Thus saith the Lord GOD: If the prince give a gift unto any of his sons, it is his inheritance, it shall belong to his sons; it is their possession by inheritance. ¹⁷ But if he give of his inheritance a gift to one of his servants, it shall be his to the year of liberty; then it shall return to the prince; but as for his inheritance, it shall be for his sons. ¹⁸ Moreover the prince shall not take of the people's inheritance, to thrust them out of their possession; he shall give inheritance to his sons out of his own possession: that my people be not scattered every man from his possession. ¹⁹ Then he brought me through the entry, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers for the priests, which looked toward the north; and behold, there was a place on the hinder part westward. ²⁰ And he said unto me, This is the place where the priests shall boil the guilt offering and the sin offering, where they shall bake the meal offering; that they bring them not forth into the outer court, to sanctify the people. ²¹ Then he brought me forth into the outer court, and caused me to pass by the four corners of the court; and behold, in every corner of the court there was a court. ²² In the four corners of the court there were courts enclosed, forty cubits long and thirty broad: these four in the corners were of one measure. ²³ And there was a row of building round about in them, round about the four, and it was made with boiling places under the rows round about. ²⁴ Then said he unto me, These are the boiling houses, where the ministers of the house shall boil the sacrifice of the people.

¹And he brought me back unto the door of the house; and behold, waters issued out from under the threshold of the house eastward, for the forefront of the house was toward the east: and the waters came down from under, from the right side of the house, on the south of the altar. ²Then brought he me out by the way of the gate northward, and led me round by the way without unto the outer gate, by the way of the gate that looketh toward the east; and behold, there ran out waters on the right side. ³When the man went forth eastward with the line in his hand, he measured a thousand cubits, and he caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the ankles. ⁴Again he measured a thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the knees. Again he measured a thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the loins. ⁵Afterward he measured a thousand; and it was a river that I could not pass through: for the waters were risen, waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed through. ⁶And he said unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen this? Then he brought me, and caused me to return to the bank of the river. ⁷Now when I had returned, behold, upon the bank of the river were very many trees on the one side and on the other. ⁸Then said he unto me, These waters issue forth toward the eastern region, and shall go down into the Arabah; and they shall go toward the sea; into the sea shall the waters go which were made to issue forth; and the waters shall be healed. ⁹And it shall come to pass, that every living creature which swarmeth, in every place whither the rivers come, shall live; and there shall be a very great multitude of fish: for these waters are come thither, and the waters of the sea shall be healed, and every thing shall live whithersoever the river cometh. ¹⁰And it shall come to pass, that fishers shall stand by it: from Engedi even unto En-eglaim shall be a place for the spreading of nets; their fish shall be after their kinds, as the fish of the great sea, exceeding many. ¹¹But the miry places thereof, and the marishes thereof, shall not be healed; they shall be given up to salt. ¹²And by the river upon the bank thereof, on this side and on that side, shall grow every tree for meat, whose leaf shall not wither, neither shall the fruit thereof fail: it shall bring forth new fruit every month, because the waters thereof issue out of the sanctuary: and the fruit thereof shall be for meat, and the leaf thereof for healing. ¹³Thus saith the Lord GOD: This shall be the border, whereby ye shall divide the land for inheritance according to the twelve tribes of Israel: Joseph shall have portions. ¹⁴And ye shall inherit it, one as well as another; concerning the which I lifted up mine hand to give it unto your fathers: and this land shall fall unto you for inheritance. ¹⁵And this shall be the border of the land: on the north side, from the great sea, by the way of Hethlon, unto the entering in of Zedad; ¹⁶Hamath, Berothah, Sibram, which is between the border of Damascus and the border of Hamath; Hazer-hatticon, which is by the border of Hauran. ¹⁷And the border from the sea shall be Hazer-enon at the border of Damascus, and on the north northward is the border of Hamath. This is the north side. ¹⁸And the east side, between Hauran and Damascus and Gilead, and the land of Israel, shall be Jordan; from the north border unto the east sea shall ye measure. This is the east side. ¹⁹And the south side southward shall be from Tamar as far as the waters of Meriboth-kadesh, to the brook of Egypt, unto the great sea. This is the south side southward. ²⁰And the west side shall be the great sea, from the south border as far as over against the entering in of Hamath. This is the west side. ²¹So shall ye divide this land unto you according to the tribes of Israel. ²²And it shall come to pass, that ye shall divide it by lot for an inheritance unto you and to the strangers that sojourn among you, which shall beget children among you; and they shall be unto you as the homeborn among the children of Israel; they shall have inheritance with you among the tribes of Israel. ²³And it shall come to pass, that in what tribe the stranger sojourneth; there shall ye give him his inheritance, saith the Lord GOD.

¹Now these are the names of the tribes: from the north end, beside the way of

Hethlon to the entering in of Hamath, Hazer-enan at the border of Damascus, northward beside Hamath; and they shall have their sides east and west; Dan, one portion.² And by the border of Dan, from the east side unto the west side; Asher, one portion.³ And by the border of Asher, from the east side even unto the west side; Naphtali, one portion.⁴ And by the border of Naphtali, from the east side unto the west side; Manasseh, one portion.⁵ And by the border of Manasseh, from the east side unto the west side; Ephraim, one portion.⁶ And by the border of Ephraim, from the east side even unto the west side; Reuben, one portion.⁷ And by the border of Reuben, from the east side unto the west side; Judah, portion.⁸ And by the border of Judah, from the east side unto the west side, shall be the oblation which ye shall offer, five and twenty thousand reefs in breadth, and in length as one of the portions, from the east side unto the west side: and the sanctuary shall be in the midst of it.⁹ The oblation that ye shall offer unto the LORD shall be five and twenty thousand reefs in length, and ten thousand in breadth.¹⁰ And for these, even for the priests, shall be the holy oblation; toward the north five and twenty thousand in length, and toward the west ten thousand in breadth, and toward the east ten thousand in breadth, and toward the south five and twenty thousand in length: and the sanctuary of the LORD shall be in the midst thereof.¹¹ It shall be for the priests that are sanctified of the sons of Zadok, which have kept my charge; which went not astray when the children of Israel went astray, as the Levites went astray.¹² And it shall be unto them an oblation from the oblation of the land, a thing most holy, by the border of the Levites.¹³ And answerable unto the border of the priests, the Levites shall have five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth: all the length shall be five and twenty thousand, and the breadth ten thousand.¹⁴ And they shall not sell of it, neither exchange it, nor shall the firstfruits of the land be alienated: for it is holy unto the LORD.¹⁵ And the five thousand that are left in the breadth, in front of the five and twenty thousand, shall be for common use, for the city, for dwelling and for suburbs: and the city shall be in the midst thereof.¹⁶ And these shall be the measures thereof; the north side four thousand and five hundred; and the south side four thousand and five hundred, and on the east side four thousand and five hundred, and the west side four thousand and five hundred.¹⁷ And the city shall have suburbs; toward the north two hundred and fifty, and toward the south two hundred and fifty, and toward the east two hundred and fifty, and toward the west two hundred and fifty.¹⁸ And the residue in the length, answerable unto the holy oblation, shall be ten thousand eastward, and ten thousand westward: and it shall be answerable unto the holy oblation; and the increase thereof shall be for food unto them that labour in the city.¹⁹ And they that labour in the city, out of all the tribes of Israel, shall till it.²⁰ All the oblation shall be five and twenty thousand by five and twenty thousand: ye shall offer the holy oblation foursquare, with the possession of the city.²¹ And the residue shall be for the prince, on the one side and on the other of the holy oblation and of the possession of the city, in front of the five and twenty thousand of the oblation toward the east border, and westward in front of the five and twenty thousand toward the west border, answerable unto the portions, it shall be for the prince: and the holy oblation and the sanctuary of the house shall be in the midst thereof.²² Moreover from the possession of the Levites, and from the possession of the city, being in the midst of that which is the prince's, between the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin, shall be for the prince.²³ And as for the rest of the tribes: from the east side unto the west side; Benjamin, one portion.²⁴ And by the border of Benjamin, from the east side unto the west side; Simeon, one portion.²⁵ And by the border of Simeon, from the east side unto the west side; Issachar, one portion.²⁶ And by the border of Issachar, from the east side unto the west side; Zebulun, one portion.²⁷ And by the border of Zebulun, from the east side unto the west side; Gad, one portion.²⁸ And by the border of Gad, at the south side southward, the border shall be even from Tamar unto the waters of Meribath-kadesh, to the brook of Egypt, unto the great sea.²⁹ This is the land which ye shall divide by lot unto the tribes of Israel for inheritance, and these are their several portions, saith the Lord GOD. ³⁰ And these are the goings out of the city; on the north side four thousand and five hundred reefs by measure: ³¹ and the gates of the city shall be after the names of the tribes of Israel; three gates northward: the gate of Reuben, one; the gate of Judah, one; the gate of Levi, one; ³² And at the east side four thousand and five hundred reefs; and three gates: even the gate of Joseph, one; the gate of Benjamin, one; the gate of Dan, one; ³³ And at the south side four thousand and five hundred reefs by measure; and three gates: the gate of Simeon, one; the gate of Issachar, one; the gate of Zebulun, one. ³⁴ At the west side four thousand and five hundred reefs, with their three gates: the gate of Gad, one; the gate of Asher, one; the gate of Naphtali, one. ³⁵ It shall be eighteen thousand reefs round about: and the name of the city from that day shall be, The LORD is there.

THE BOOK OF DANIEL.

¹In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon unto Jerusalem, and besieged it. ²And the Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with part of the vessels of the house of God; and he carried them into the land of Shinar to the house of his god: and he brought the vessels into the treasure house of his god. ³And the king spake unto Ashpenaz the master of his eunuchs, that he should bring in certain of the children of Israel, even of the seed royal and of the nobles; ⁴youths in whom was no blemish, but well favoured, and skilful in all wisdom, and cunning in knowledge, and understanding science, and such as had ability to stand in the king's palace; and that he should teach them the learning and the tongue of the Chaldeans. ⁵And the king appointed for them a daily portion of the king's meat, and of the wine which he drank, and that they should be nourished three years; that at the end thereof they might stand before the king. ⁶Now among these were, of the children of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. ⁷And the prince of the eunuchs gave names unto them: unto Daniel he gave the name of Belteshazzar; and to Hananiah, of Shadrach; and to Mishael, of Meshach; and to Azariah, of Abed-nego. ⁸But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the king's meat, nor with the wine which he drank: therefore he requested of the prince of the eunuchs that he might not defile himself. ⁹Now God made Daniel to find favour and compassion in the sight of the prince of the eunuchs. ¹⁰And the prince of the eunuchs said unto Darnel, I fear my lord the king, who hath appointed your meat and your drink: for why should he see your faces worse liking than the youths which are of your own age? so should ye endanger my head with the king. ¹¹Then said Daniel to the steward, whom the prince of the eunuchs had appointed over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: ¹²Prove thy servants, I beseech thee, ten days; and let them give us pulse to eat, and water to drink. ¹³Then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenance of the youths that eat of the king's meat; and as thou seest, deal with thy servants. ¹⁴So he hearkened unto them in this matter, and proved them ten days. ¹⁵And at the end of ten days their countenances appeared fairer, and they were fatter in flesh, than all the youths which did eat of the king's meat. ¹⁶So the steward took away their meat, and the wine that they should drink, and gave them pulse. ¹⁷Now as for these four youths, God gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom: and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams. ¹⁸And at the end of the days which the king had appointed for bringing them in, the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar. ¹⁹And the king communed with them; and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: therefore stood they before the king. ²⁰And in every matter of wisdom and understanding, concerning which the king inquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and enchanters that were in all his realm. ²¹And Daniel continued even unto the first year of king Cyrus.

¹And in the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar Nebuchadnezzar dreamed dreams; and his spirit was troubled, and his sleep brake from him. ²Then the king commanded to call the magicians, and the enchanters, and the sorcerers, and the Chaldeans, for to tell the king his dreams. So they came in and stood before the king. ³And the king said unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and my spirit is troubled to know the dream. ⁴Then spake the Chaldeans to the king in the Syrian language, O king, live for ever: tell thy servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation. ⁵The king answered and said to the Chaldeans, The thing is gone from me: if ye make not known unto me the dream and the interpretation thereof, ye shall be cut in pieces, and your houses shall be made a dunghill. ⁶But if ye shew the dream and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receive of me gifts and rewards and great honour: therefore shew me the dream and the interpretation thereof. ⁷They answered the second time and said, Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation. ⁸The king answered and said, I know of a certain that ye would gain time, because ye see the thing is gone from me. ⁹But if ye make not known unto me the dream, there is but one law for you: for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words to speak before me, till the time be changed: therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that ye can shew me the interpretation thereof. ¹⁰The Chaldeans answered before the king, and said, There is not a man upon the earth that can shew the king's matter: forasmuch as no king, lord, nor ruler, hath asked such a thing of any magician, or enchanter, or Chaldean. ¹¹And it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is none other that can shew it before the king, except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh. ¹²For this cause the king was angry and very furious, and commanded to destroy all the wise men of Babylon. ¹³So the decree went forth, and the wise men were to be slain; and they sought Daniel and his companions to be slain. ¹⁴Then Daniel returned answer with counsel and prudence to Arioch the captain of the king's guard, which was gone forth to slay the wise men of Babylon; ¹⁵ he answered and said to Arioch the king's captain, Wherefore is the decree so urgent from the king? Then Arioch made the thing known to Daniel. ¹⁶And Daniel went in, and desired of the king that he would appoint him a time, and he would shew the king the interpretation. ¹⁷Then Daniel went to his house, and made the thing known to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions: ¹⁸ that they would desire mercies of the God of heaven concerning this secret; that Daniel and his companions should not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon. ¹⁹Then was the secret revealed unto Daniel in a vision of the night. Then Daniel blessed the God of heaven. ²⁰ Daniel answered and said, Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever: for wisdom and might are his: ²¹ And he changeth the times and the seasons: he removeth kings, and setteth up kings: he giveth wisdom unto the wise, and knowledge to them that know understanding: ²² he revealeth the deep and secret things: he knoweth what is in the darkness, and the light dwelleth with him. ²³ I thank thee, and praise thee, O thou God of my fathers, who hast given me wisdom and might, and hast now made known unto me what we desired of thee: for thou hast made known unto us the king's matter. ²⁴ Therefore Daniel went in unto Arioch, whom the king had appointed to destroy the wise men of Babylon: he went and said thus unto him; Destroy not the wise men of Babylon: bring me in before the king, and I will shew unto the king the interpretation. ²⁵ Then Arioch brought in Daniel before the king in haste, and said thus unto him, I have found a man of the children of the captivity of Judah, that will make known unto the king the interpretation. ²⁶ The king answered and said to Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to make known unto me the dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof? ²⁷ Daniel answered before the king, and said, The secret which the king hath demanded can neither wise men, enchanters, magicians, nor soothsayers, shew unto the king; ²⁸ but there is a God in heaven that revealeth secrets, and he hath made known to the king Nebuchadnezzar what shall be in the latter days. Thy dream, and the visions of thy head upon thy bed, are these: ²⁹ as for thee, O king, thy thoughts came into thy mind upon thy bed, what should come to pass hereafter: and he that revealeth secrets hath made known to thee what shall come to pass. ³⁰ But as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any wisdom that I have more than any living, but to the intent that the interpretation may be made known to the king, and that thou mayest know the thoughts of thy heart. ³¹ Thou, O king, sawest, and behold a great image. This image, which was mighty, and whose brightness was excellent, stood before thee; and the aspect thereof was terrible. ³² As for this image, his head was of fine gold, his breast and his arms of silver, his belly and his thighs of brass, ³³ his legs of iron, his feet part of iron, and part of clay. ³⁴ Thou sawest till that a stone was cut out without hands, which smote the image upon his feet that were of iron and clay, and brake them in pieces. ³⁵ Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, broken in pieces together, and became like the chaff of the summer threshing-floors; and the wind carried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth. ³⁶ This is the dream; and we will tell the interpretation thereof before the king. ³⁷ Thou, O king, art king of kings, unto whom the God of heaven hath given the kingdom, the power, and the strength, and the glory; ³⁸ and wheresoever the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field and the fowls of the heaven hath he given into thine hand, and hath made thee to rule over them all: thou art the head of gold. ³⁹ And after thee shall arise another kingdom inferior to thee; and another third kingdom of brass, which shall bear rule over all the earth. ⁴⁰ And the fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron: forasmuch as iron breaketh in pieces and subdueth all things: and as iron that crusheth all these, shall it break in pieces and crush. ⁴¹ And whereas thou sawest the feet and toes, part of potters' clay, and part of iron, it shall be a divided kingdom; but there shall be in it of the strength of the iron, forasmuch as thou sawest the iron mixed with miry clay. ⁴² And as the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay, so the kingdom shall be partly strong, and partly broken. ⁴³ And whereas thou sawest the iron mixed with miry clay, they shall mingle themselves with the seed of men; but they shall not cleave one to another, even as iron doth not mingle with clay. ⁴⁴ And in the days of those kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed, nor shall the sovereignty thereof be left to another people; but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever. ⁴⁵ Forasmuch as thou sawest that a stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it brake in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the great God hath made known to the king what shall come to pass hereafter: and the dream is certain, and the interpretation thereof sure. ⁴⁶ Then the king Nebuchadnezzar fell upon his face, and worshipped Daniel, and commanded that they should offer an oblation and sweet odours unto him. ⁴⁷ The king answered unto Daniel, and said, Of a truth your God is the God of gods, and the Lord of kings, and a revealer of secrets, sing thou hast been able to reveal this secret. ⁴⁸ Then the king made Daniel great, and gave him many great gifts, and made him to rule over the whole province of Babylon, and to be chief governor over all the wise men of Babylon. ⁴⁹ And Daniel requested of the king, and he appointed Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, over the affairs of the province of Babylon: but Daniel was in the gate of the king.

¹ Nebuchadnezzar the king made an image of gold, whose height was threescore cubits, and the breadth thereof six cubits: he set it up in the plain of Dura, in the province of Babylon. ² Then Nebuchadnezzar the king sent to gather together the satraps, the deputies, and the governors, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up. ³ Then the satraps, the deputies, and the governors, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, were gathered together unto the dedication of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up; and they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up. ⁴ Then the herald cried aloud, to you it is commanded, O peoples, nations, and languages, ⁵ that at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king hath set up: ⁶ and whoso falleth not down and worshippeth shall the same hour be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace. ⁷ Therefore at that time, when all the peoples heard the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and all kinds of music, all the peoples, the nations, and the languages, fell down and worshipped the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up. ⁸ Wherefore at that time certain Chaldeans came near, and brought accusation against the Jews. ⁹ They answered and said to Nebuchadnezzar the king, O king, live for ever. ¹⁰ Thou, O king, hast made a decree, that every man that shall hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of music, shall fall down and worship the golden image: ¹¹ and whoso falleth not down and worshippeth, shall be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace. ¹² There are certain Jews whom thou hast appointed over the affairs of the province of Babylon, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego; these men, O king, have not regarded thee: they serve not thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up. ¹³ Then Nebuchadnezzar in his rage and fury commanded to bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego. Then they brought these men before the king. ¹⁴ Nebuchadnezzar answered and said unto them, Is it of purpose, O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, that ye serve not my god, nor worship the golden image which I have set up? ¹⁵ Now if ye be ready that at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the image which I have made, well: but if ye worship not, ye shall be cast the same hour into the midst of a burning fiery furnace; and who is that God that shall deliver you out of my hands? ¹⁶ Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, answered and said to the king, O Nebuchadnezzar, we have no need to answer thee in this matter. ¹⁷ If it be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace; and he will deliver us out of thine hand, O king. ¹⁸ But if not, be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up. ¹⁹ Then was Nebuchadnezzar full of fury, and the form of his visage was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego: therefore he spake, and commanded that they should heat the furnace seven times more than it was wont to be heated. ²⁰ And he commanded certain mighty men that were in his army to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace. ²¹ Then these men were bound in their hosen, their tunics, and their mantles, and their other garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. ²² Therefore because the king's commandment was urgent, and the furnace exceeding hot, the flame of the fire slew those men that took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego. ²³ And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. ²⁴ Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was astonished, and rose up in haste: he spake and said unto his counsellors, Did not we cast three men bound into the midst of the fire? They answered and said unto the king, True, O king. ²⁵ He answered and said, Lo, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they have no hurt; and the aspect of the fourth is like a son of the gods. ²⁶ Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the mouth of the burning fiery furnace: he spake and said, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, ye servants of the Most High God, come forth, and come hither. Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, came forth out of the midst of the fire. ²⁷ And the satraps, the deputies, and the governors, and the king's counsellors, being gathered together, saw these men, that the fire had no power upon their bodies, nor was the hair of their head singed, neither were their hosen changed, nor had the smell of fire passed on them. ²⁸ Nebuchadnezzar spake and said, Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, who hath sent his angel, and delivered his servants that trusted in him, and have changed the king's word, and have yielded their bodies, that they might not serve nor worship any god, except their own God. ²⁹ Therefore I make a decree, that every people, nation, and language, which speak any thing amiss against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, shall be cut in pieces, and their houses shall be made a dung-hill: because there is no other god that is able to deliver after this sort. ³⁰ Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, in the province of Babylon.

in all the earth; peace be multiplied unto you. ²It hath seemed good unto me to shew the signs and wonders that the Most High God hath wrought toward me. ³How great are his signs! and how mighty are his wonders! his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and his dominion is from generation to generation. ⁴I Nebuchadnezzar was at rest in mine house, and flourishing in my palace. ⁵I saw a dream which made me afraid; the thoughts upon my bed and the visions of my head troubled me. ⁶Therefore made I a decree to bring in all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might make known unto me the interpretation of the dream. ⁷Then came in the magicians, the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers: and I told the dream before them; but they did not make known unto me the interpretation thereof. ⁸But at the last Daniel came in before me, whose name was Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god, and in whom is the spirit of the holy gods: and I told the dream before him, saying, ⁹O Belteshazzar, master of the magicians, because I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no secret troubleth thee, tell me the visions of my dream that I have seen, and the interpretation thereof. ¹⁰Thus were the visions of my head upon my bed: I saw, and behold a tree in the midst of the earth, and the height thereof was great. ¹¹The tree grew, and was strong, and the height thereof reached unto heaven, and the sight thereof to the end of all the earth. ¹²The leaves thereof were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all: the beasts of the field had shadow under it, and the fowls of the heaven dwelt in the branches thereof, and all flesh was fed of it. ¹³I saw in the visions of my head upon my bed, and, behold, a watcher and an holy one came down from heaven. ¹⁴He cried aloud, and said thus, Hew down the tree, and cut off his branches, shake off his leaves, and scatter his fruit: let the beasts get away from under it, and the fowls from his branches. ¹⁵Nevertheless leave the stump of his roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts in the grass of the earth: ¹⁶let his heart be changed from man's and let a beast's heart be given unto him; and let seven times pass over him. ¹⁷The sentence is by the decree of the watchers, and the demand by the word of the holy ones: to the intent that the living may know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will, and setteth up over it the lowest of men. ¹⁸This dream I king Nebuchadnezzar have seen: and thou, O Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation, forasmuch as all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known unto me the interpretation; but thou art able, for the spirit of the holy gods is in thee. ¹⁹Then Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, was astonished for a while, and his thoughts troubled him. The king answered and said, Belteshazzar, let not the dream or the interpretation, trouble thee. Belteshazzar answered and said, My lord, the dream be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine adversaries. ²⁰The tree that thou sawest, which grew, and was strong, whose height reached unto the heaven, and the sight thereof to all the earth; ²¹whose leaves were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all; under which the beasts of the field dwelt, and upon whose branches the fowls of the heaven had their habitation: ²²it is thou, O king, that art grown and become strong: for thy greatness is grown, and reacheth unto heaven, and thy dominion to the end of the earth. ²³And whereas the king saw a watcher and an holy one coming down from heaven, and saying, Hew down the tree, and destroy it; nevertheless leave the stump of the roots thereof in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, till seven times pass over him; ²⁴this is the interpretation, O king, and it is the decree of the Most High, which is come upon my lord the king: ²⁵that thou shalt be driven from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field, and thou shalt be made to eat grass as oxen, and shalt be wet with the dew of heaven, and seven times shall pass over thee; till thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever

he will. ²⁶ And whereas they commanded to leave the stump of the tree roots; thy kingdom shall be sure unto thee, after that thou shalt have known that the heavens do rule. ²⁷ Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and break off thy sins by righteousness, and thine iniquities by shewing mercy to the poor; if there may be a lengthening of thy tranquillity. ²⁸ All this came upon the king Nebuchadnezzar. ²⁹ At the end of twelve months he was walking in the royal palace of Babylon. ³⁰ The king spake and said, Is not this great Babylon, which I have built for the royal dwelling place, by the might of my power and for the glory of my majesty? ³¹ While the word was in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, saying, O king Nebuchadnezzar, to thee it is spoken: the kingdom is departed from thee. ³² and thou shalt be driven from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field; thou shalt be made to eat grass as oxen, and seven times shall pass over thee; until thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will. ³³ The same hour was the thing fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar: and he was driven from men, and did eat grass as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hair was grown like eagles' feathers, and his nails like birds' claws. ³⁴ And at the end of the days I Nebuchadnezzar lifted up mine eyes unto heaven, and mine understanding returned unto me, and I blessed the Most High, and I praised and honoured him that liveth for ever; for his dominion is an everlasting dominion, and his kingdom from generation to generation: ³⁵ And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and he doeth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth: and none can stay his hand, or say unto him, What doest thou? ³⁶ At the same time mine understanding returned unto me; and for the glory of my kingdom, my majesty and brightness returned unto me; and my counsellors and my lords sought unto me; and I was established in my kingdom, and excellent greatness was added unto me. ³⁷ Now I Nebuchadnezzar praise and extol and honour the King of heaven; for all his works are truth, and his ways judgment: and those that walk in pride he is able to abase.

¹ Belshazzar the king made a great feast to a thousand of his lords, and drank wine before the thousand. ² Belshazzar, whiles he tasted the wine, commanded to bring the golden and silver vessels which Nebuchadnezzar his father had taken out of the temple which was in Jerusalem; that the king and his lords, his wives and his concubines, might drink therein. ³ Then they brought the golden vessels that were taken out of the temple of the house of God which was at Jerusalem; and the king and his lords, his wives and his concubines, drank in them. ⁴ They drank wine, and praised the gods of gold, and of silver, of brass, of iron, of wood, and of stone. ⁵ In the same hour came forth the fingers of a man's hand, and wrote over against the candlestick upon the plaister of the wall of the king's palace: and the king saw the part of the hand that wrote. ⁶ Then the king's countenance was changed in him, and his thoughts troubled him; and the joints of his loins were loosed, and his knees smote one against another. ⁷ The king cried aloud to bring in the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers. The king spake and said to the wise men of Babylon, Whosoever shall read this writing, and shew me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about his neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom. ⁸ Then came in all the king's wise men: but they could not read the writing, nor make known to the king the interpretation. ⁹ Then was king Belshazzar greatly troubled, and his countenance was changed in him, and his lords were perplexed. ¹⁰ Now the queen by reason of the words of the king and his lords came into the banquet house: the queen spake and said, O king, live for ever; let not thy thoughts trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed: ¹¹ There is a man in thy kingdom, in whom is the spirit of the holy gods; and in the days of thy father light and understanding and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, was found in him: and the king Nebuchadnezzar thy father, the king, I say, thy father, made him master of the magicians, enchanters, Chaldeans, and soothsayers; ¹² forasmuch as an excellent spirit, and knowledge, and understanding, interpreting of dreams, and shewing of dark sentences, and dissolving of doubts, were found in the same Daniel, whom the king named Belteshazzar. Now let Daniel be called, and he will shew the interpretation. ¹³ Then was Daniel brought in before the king. The king spake and said unto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Judah? ¹⁴ I have heard of thee, that the spirit of the gods is in thee, and that light and understanding and excellent wisdom is found in thee. ¹⁵ And now the wise men, the enchanters, have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing, and make known unto me the interpretation thereof: but they could not shew the interpretation of the thing. ¹⁶ But I have heard of thee, that thou canst give interpretations, and dissolve doubts: now if thou canst read the writing, and make known to me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about thy neck, and shalt be the third ruler in the kingdom. ¹⁷ Then Daniel answered and said before the king, Let thy gifts be to thyself, and give thy rewards to another; nevertheless I will read the writing unto the king, and make known to him the interpretation. ¹⁸ O thou king, the Most High God gave Nebuchadnezzar thy father the kingdom, and greatness, and glory, and majesty: ¹⁹ and because of the greatness that he gave him, all the peoples, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him: whom he would he slew, and whom he would he kept alive; and whom he would he raised up, and whom he would he put down. ²⁰ But when his heart was lifted up, and his spirit was hardened that he dealt proudly, he was deposed from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him: ²¹ and he was driven from the sons of men; and his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild asses; he was fed with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven: until he knew that the Most High God ruleth in the kingdom of men, and that he setteth up over it whomsoever he will. ²² And thou his son, O Belshazzar, hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knewest all this; ²³ but hast lifted up thyself against the Lord of heaven; and they have brought the vessels of his house before thee, and thou and thy lords, thy wives and thy concubines, have drunk wine in them; and thou hast praised the gods of silver, and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, which see not, nor hear, nor know: and the God in whose hand thy breath is, and whose are all thy ways, hast thou not glorified: ²⁴ Then was the part of the hand sent from before him, and this writing was inscribed. ²⁵ And this is the writing that was inscribed, MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN. ²⁶ This is the interpretation of the thing: MENE; God hath numbered thy kingdom, and brought it to an end. ²⁷ TEKEL; thou art weighed in the balances, and art found wanting. ²⁸ PERES; thy kingdom is divided, and given to the Medes and Persians. ²⁹ Then commanded Belshazzar, and they clothed Daniel with purple, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made proclamation concerning him, that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom. ³⁰ In that night Belshazzar the Chaldean king was slain. ³¹ And Darius the Mede received the kingdom, being about threescore and two years old.

ever. ⁷ All the presidents of the kingdom, the deputies and the satraps, the counsellors and the governors, have consulted together to establish a royal statute, and to make a strong interdict, that whosoever shall ask a petition of any god or man for thirty days, save of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions. ⁸ Now, O king, establish the interdict, and sign the writing, that it be not changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not. ⁹ Wherefore king Darius signed the writing and the interdict. ¹⁰ And when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house; (now his windows were open in his chamber toward Jerusalem;) and he kneeled upon his knees three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime. ¹¹ Then these men assembled together, and found Daniel making petition and supplication before his God. ¹² Then they came near, and spake before the king concerning the king's interdict; Hast thou not signed an interdict, that every man that shall make petition unto any god or man within thirty days, save unto thee, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions? The king answered and said, The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not. ¹³ Then answered they and said before the king, That Daniel, which is of the children of the captivity of Judah, regardeth not thee, O king, nor the interdict that thou hast signed, but maketh his petition three times a day. ¹⁴ Then the king, when he heard these words, was sore displeased, and set his heart on Daniel to deliver him: and he laboured till the going down of the sun to rescue him. ¹⁵ Then these men assembled together unto the king, and said unto the king, Know, O king, that it is a law of the Medes and Persians, that no interdict nor statute which the king establisheth may be changed. ¹⁶ Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions. Now the king spake and said unto Daniel, Thy God whom thou servest continually, he will deliver thee. ¹⁷ And a stone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den; and the king sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his lords; that nothing might be changed concerning Daniel. ¹⁸ Then the king went to his palace, and passed the night fasting; neither were instruments of music brought before him: and his sleep fled from him. ¹⁹ Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the den of lions. ²⁰ And when he came near unto the den to Daniel, he cried with a lamentable voice: the king spake and said to Daniel, O Daniel, servant of the living God, is thy God, whom thou servest continually, able to deliver thee from the lions? ²¹ Then said Daniel unto the king, O king, live for ever. ²² My God hath sent his angel, and hath shut the lions' mouths, and they have not hurt me: forasmuch as before him innocency was found in me; and also before thee, O king, have I done no hurt. ²³ Then was the king exceeding glad, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he had trusted in his God. ²⁴ And the king commanded, and they brought those men which had accused Daniel, and they cast them into the den of lions, them, their children, and their wives; and the lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones in pieces, or ever they came at the bottom of the den. ²⁵ Then king Darius wrote unto all the peoples, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth; Peace be multiplied unto you. ²⁶ I make a decree, that in all the dominion of my kingdom men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel: for he is the living God, and stedfast for ever, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed, and his dominion shall be even unto the end: ²⁷ He delivereth and rescueth, and he worketh signs and wonders in heaven and in earth; who hath delivered Daniel from the power of the lions. ²⁸ So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius, and in the reign of Cyrus the Persian.

³And four great beasts came up from the sea, diverse one from another. ⁴The first was like a lion, and had eagle's wings: I beheld till the wings thereof were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made to stand upon two feet as a man, and a man's heart was given to it. ⁵And behold another beast, a second, like to a bear, and it was raised up on one side, and three ribs were in his mouth between his teeth: and they said thus unto it, Arise, devour much flesh. ⁶After this I beheld, and lo another, like a leopard, which had upon the back of it four wings of a fowl; the beast had also four heads; and dominion was given to it. ⁷After this I saw in the night visions, and behold a fourth beast, terrible and powerful, and strong exceedingly; and it had great iron teeth: it devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with his feet: and it was diverse from all the beasts that were before it; and it had ten horns. ⁸I considered the horns, and, behold, there came up among them another horn, a little one, before which three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots: and, behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking great things. ⁹I beheld till thrones were placed, and one that was ancient of days did sit: his raiment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like pure wool; his throne was fiery flames, and the wheels thereof burning fire. ¹⁰A fiery stream issued and came forth from before him: thousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him: the judgment was set, and the books were opened. ¹¹I beheld at that time because of the voice of the great words which the horn spake; I beheld even till the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and he was given to be burned with fire. ¹²And as for the rest of the beasts, their dominion was taken away: yet their lives were prolonged for a season and a time. ¹³I saw in the night visions, and, behold, there came with the clouds of heaven one like unto a son of man, and he came even to the ancient of days, and they brought him near before him. ¹⁴And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all the peoples, nations, and languages should serve him: his dominion is an everlasting dominion, and his kingdom which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed. ¹⁵As for me Daniel, my spirit was grieved in the midst of my body, and the visions of my head troubled me. ¹⁶I came near unto one of them that stood by, and asked him the truth concerning all this. So he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things. ¹⁷These great beasts, which are four, are four kings, which shall arise out of the earth. ¹⁸But the saints of the Most High shall receive the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever. ¹⁹Then I desired to know the truth concerning the fourth beast, which was diverse from all of them, exceeding terrible, whose teeth were of iron, and his nails of brass; which devoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with his feet; ²⁰and concerning the ten horns that were on his head, and the other horn which came up, and before which three fell; even that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spake great things, whose look was more stout than his fellows. ²¹I beheld, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them; ²²until the ancient of days came, and judgment was given to the saints of the Most High; and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom. ²³Thus he said, The fourth beast shall be a fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all the kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces. ²⁴And as for the ten horns, out of this kingdom shall ten kings arise: and another shall arise after them; and he shall be diverse from the former, and he shall put down three kings. ²⁵And he shall speak words against the Most High, and shall wear out the saints of the Most High: and he shall think to change the times and the law; and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and half a time. ²⁶But the judgment shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it unto the end. ²⁷And the kingdom and the dominion, and the greatness of the kingdoms under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the saints of the Most High: his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall serve and obey him. ²⁸Here is the end of the matter. As for me Daniel, my thoughts much troubled me, and my countenance was changed in me: but I kept the matter in my heart.

¹In the third year of the reign of king Belshazzar a vision appeared unto me, even unto me Daniel, after that which appeared unto me at the first. ²And I saw in the vision; now it was so, that when I saw, I was in Shushan the palace, which is in the province of Elam; and I saw in the vision, and I was by the river Ulai. ³Then I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and, behold, there stood before the river a ram which had two horns: and the two horns were high; but one was higher than the other, and the higher came up last. ⁴I saw the ram pushing westward, and northward, and southward; and no beasts could stand before him, neither was there any that could deliver out of his hand; but he did according to his will, and magnified himself. ⁵And as I was considering, behold, an he-goat came from the west over the face of the whole earth, and touched not the ground: and the goat had a notable horn between his eyes. ⁶And he came to the ram that had the two horns, which I saw standing before the river, and ran upon him in the fury of his power. ⁷And I saw him come close unto the ram, and he was moved with choler against him, and smote the ram, and brake his two horns; and there was no power in the ram to stand before him: but he cast him down to the ground, and trampled upon him; and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his hand. ⁸And the he-goat magnified himself exceedingly: and when he was strong, the great horn was broken; and instead of it there came up four notable horns toward the four winds of heaven. ⁹And out of one of them came forth a little horn, which waxed exceeding great, toward the south, and toward the east, and toward the glorious land. ¹⁰And it waxed great, even to the host of heaven; and some of the host and of the stars it cast down to the ground, and trampled upon them. ¹¹Yea, it magnified itself, even to the prince of the host; and it took away from him the continual burnt offering, and the place of his sanctuary was cast down. ¹²And the host was given over to it together with the continual burnt offering through transgression; and it cast down truth to the ground, and it did its pleasure and prospered. ¹³Then I heard a holy one speaking; and another holy one said unto that certain one which spake, How long shall be the vision concerning the continual burnt offering, and the transgression that maketh desolate, to give both the sanctuary and the host to be trodden under foot? ¹⁴And he said unto me, Unto two thousand and three hundred evenings and mornings; then shall the sanctuary be cleansed. ¹⁵And it came to pass, when I, even I Daniel, had seen the vision, that I sought to understand it; and, behold, there stood before me as the appearance of a man. ¹⁶And I heard a man's voice between the banks of Ulai, which called, and said, Gabriel, make this man to understand the vision. ¹⁷So he came near where I stood; and when he came, I was affrighted, and fell upon my face: but he said unto me, Understand, O son of man; for the vision belongeth to the time of the end. ¹⁸Now as he was speaking with me, I fell into a deep sleep, with my face toward the ground: but he touched me, and set me upright. ¹⁹And he said, Behold, I will make thee know what shall be in the latter time of the indignation: for it belongeth to the appointed time of the end. ²⁰The ram which thou sawest that had the two horns, they are the kings of Media and Persia. ²¹And the rough he-goat is the king of Greece: and the great horn that is between his eyes is the first king. ²²And as for that which was broken, in the place whereof four stood up, four kingdoms shall stand up out of the nation, but not with his power. ²³And in the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressors are come to the full, a king of fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences, shall stand up. ²⁴And his power shall be mighty, but not by his own power; and he shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper and do his pleasure: and he shall destroy the mighty ones and the holy people. ²⁵And through his policy he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand; and he shall magnify himself in his heart, and in their security shall he destroy many: he shall also stand up against the prince of princes; but he shall be broken without hand. ²⁶And the vision of the evenings and mornings which hath been told is true: but shut thou up the vision; for it belongeth to many days to come. ²⁷ And I Daniel fainted, and was sick certain days; then I rose up, and did the king's business: and I was astonished at the vision, but none understood it.

¹In the first year of Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of the seed of the Medes, which was made king over the realm of the Chaldeans; ²in the first year of his reign I Daniel understood by the books the number of the years, whereof the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah the prophet, for the accomplishing of the desolations of Jerusalem, even seventy years. ³And I set my face unto the Lord God, to seek by prayer and supplications, with fasting, and sackcloth, and ashes. ⁴And I prayed unto the LORD my God, and made confession, and said, O Lord, the great and dreadful God, which keepeth covenant and mercy with them that love him and keep his commandments; ⁵we have sinned, and have dealt perversely, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even turning aside from thy precepts and from thy judgments: ⁶neither have we hearkened unto thy servants the prophets, which spake in thy name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land. ⁷O Lord, righteousness belongeth unto thee, but unto us confusion of face, as at this day; to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and unto all Israel, that are near, and that are far off, through all the countries whither thou hast driven them, because of their trespass that they have trespassed against thee. ⁸O Lord, to us belongeth confusion of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against thee. ⁹To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgivenesses; for we have rebelled against him; ¹⁰neither have we obeyed the voice of the LORD our God, to walk in his laws, which he set before us by his servants the prophets. ¹¹Yea, all Israel have transgressed thy law, even turning aside, that they should not obey thy voice: therefore hath the curse been poured out upon us, and the oath that is written in the law of Moses the servant of God; for we have sinned against him. ¹²And he hath confirmed his words, which he spake against us, and against our judges that judged us, by bringing upon us a great evil: for under the whole heaven hath not been done as hath been done upon Jerusalem. ¹³As it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil is come upon us: yet have we not entreated the favour of the LORD our God, that we should turn from our iniquities, and have discernment in thy truth. ¹⁴Therefore hath the LORD watched over the evil, and brought it upon us: for the LORD our God is righteous in all his works which he doeth, and we have not obeyed his voice. ¹⁵And now, O Lord our God, that hast brought thy people forth out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and hast gotten thee renown, as at this day; we have sinned, we have done wickedly. ¹⁶O Lord, according to all thy righteousness, let thine anger and thy fury, I pray thee, be turned away from thy city Jerusalem, thy holy mountain: because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and thy people are become a reproach to all that are round about us. ¹⁷Now therefore, O our God, hearken unto the prayer of thy servant, and to his supplications, and cause thy face to shine upon thy sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord's sake. ¹⁸O my God, incline thine ear, and hear; open thine eyes, and behold our desolations, and the city which is called by thy name: for we do not present our supplications before thee for our righteousnesses, but for thy great mercies. ¹⁹O Lord, hear; O Lord, forgive; O Lord, hearken and do; defer not; for thine own sake, O my God, because thy city and thy people are called by thy name. ²⁰And whiles I was speaking, and praying, and confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before the LORD my God for the holy mountain of my God; ²¹yea, whiles I was speaking in prayer, the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, being caused to fly swiftly, touched me about the time of the evening oblation. ²²And he instructed me, and talked with me, and said, O Daniel, I am now come forth to make thee skilful of understanding. ²³At the beginning of thy supplications the commandment went forth, and I am come to tell thee; for thou art greatly beloved: therefore consider the matter, and understand the vision. ²⁴ Seventy weeks are decreed upon thy people and upon thy holy city, to finish transgression, and to make an end of sins, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up vision and prophecy, and to anoint the most holy. ²⁵ Know therefore and discern, that from the going forth of the commandment to restore and to build Jerusalem unto the anointed one, the prince, shall be seven weeks: and threescore and two weeks, it shall be built again, with street and moat, even in troublous times. ²⁶ And after the threescore and two weeks shall the anointed one be cut off, and shall have nothing: and the people of the prince that shall come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary; and his end shall be with a flood, and even unto the end shall be war; desolations are determined. ²⁷ And he shall make a firm covenant with many for one week: and for the half of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease; and upon the wing of abominations shall come one that maketh desolate; and even unto the consummation, and that determined, shall wrath be poured out upon the desolator.

¹ In the third year of Cyrus king of Persia a thing was revealed unto Daniel, whose name was called Belteshazzar; and the thing was true, even a great warfare: and he understood the thing, and had understanding of the vision. ² In those days I Daniel was mourning three whole weeks. ³ I ate no pleasant bread, neither came flesh nor wine in my mouth, neither did I anoint myself at all, till three whole weeks were fulfilled. ⁴ And in the four and twentieth day of the first month, as I was by the side of the great river, which is Hiddekel, ⁵ I lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and behold a man clothed in linen, whose loins were girded with pure gold of Uphaz: ⁶ his body also was like the beryl, and his face as the appearance of lightning, and his eyes as lamps of fire, and his arms and his feet like in colour to burnished brass, and the voice of his words like the voice of a multitude. ⁷ And I Daniel alone saw the vision: for the men that were with me saw not the vision; but a great quaking fell upon them, and they fled to hide themselves. ⁸ So I was left alone, and saw this great vision, and there remained no strength in me: for my comeliness was turned in me into corruption, and I retained no strength. ⁹ Yet heard I the voice of his words: and when I heard the voice of his words, then was I fallen into a deep sleep on my face, with my face toward the ground. ¹⁰ And, behold, a hand touched me, which set me upon my knees and upon the palms of my hands. ¹¹ And he said unto me, O Daniel, thou man greatly beloved, understand the words that I speak unto thee, and stand upright; for unto thee am I now sent: and when he had spoken this word unto me, I stood trembling. ¹² Then said he unto me, Fear not, Daniel; for from the first day that thou didst set thine heart to understand, and, to humble thyself before thy God, thy words were heard: and I am come for thy words' sake. ¹³ But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twenty days; but, lo, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me: and I remained there with the kings of Persia. ¹⁴ Now I am come to make thee understand what shall befall thy people in the latter days: for the vision is yet for many days. ¹⁵ and when he had spoken unto me according to these words, I set my face toward the ground, and was dumb. ¹⁶ And, behold, one like the similitude of the sons of men touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spake and said unto him that stood before me, O my lord, by reason of the vision my sorrows are turned upon me, and I retain no strength. ¹⁷ For how can the servant of this my lord talk with this my lord? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither was there breath left in me. ¹⁸ Then there touched me again one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me. ¹⁹ And he said, O man greatly beloved, fear not: peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong. And when he spake unto me, I was strengthened, and said, Let my lord speak; for thou hast strengthened me. ²⁰ Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I am come unto thee? and now will I return to fight with the prince of Persia: and when

I go forth, lo, the prince of Greece shall come. ²¹ But I will tell thee that which is inscribed in the writing of truth: and there is none that holdeth with me against these, but Michael your prince.

¹ And as for me, in the first year of Darius the Mede, I stood up to confirm and strengthen him. ² And now will I shew thee the truth. Behold, there shall stand up yet three kings in Persia; and the fourth shall be far richer than they all: and when he is waxed strong through his riches, he shall stir up all against the realm of Greece. ³ And a mighty king shall stand up, that shall rule with great dominion, and do according to his will. ⁴ And when he shall stand up, his kingdom shall be broken, and shall be divided toward the four winds of heaven; but not to his posterity, nor according to his dominion wherewith he ruled; for his kingdom shall be plucked up, even for others beside these. ⁵ And the king of the south shall be strong, and one of his princes; and he shall be strong above him, and have dominion; his dominion shall be a great dominion. ⁶ And at the end of years they shall join themselves together; and the daughter of the king of the south shall come to the king of the north to make an agreement: but she shall not retain the strength of her arm; neither shall he stand, nor his arm; but she shall be given up, and they that brought her, and he that begat her, and he that strengthened her in those times. ⁷ But out of a shoot from her roots shall one stand up in his place, which shall come unto the army, and shall enter into the fortress of the king of the north, and shall deal against them, and shall prevail: ⁸ And also their gods, with their molten images, and with their goodly vessels of silver and of gold, shall he carry captive into Egypt; and he shall refrain some years from the king of the north. ⁹ And he shall come into the realm of the king of the south, but he shall return into his own land. ¹⁰ And his sons shall war, and shall assemble a multitude of great forces which shall come on, and overflow, and pass through: and they shall return and war, even to his fortress. ¹¹ And the king of the south shall be moved with choler, and shall come forth and fight with him, even with the king of the north: and he shall set forth a great multitude, and the multitude shall be given into his hand. ¹² And the multitude shall be lifted up, and his heart shall be exalted: and he shall cast down tens of thousands, but he shall not prevail. ¹³ And the king of the north shall return, and shall set forth a multitude greater than the former; and he shall come on at the end of the times, even of years, with a great army and with much substance. ¹⁴ And in those times there shall many stand up against the king of the south: also the children of the violent among thy people shall lift themselves up to establish the vision; but they shall fall. ¹⁵ So the king of the north shall come, and cast up a mount, and take a well fenced city: and the arms of the south shall not withstand, neither his chosen people, neither shall there be any strength to withstand. ¹⁶ But he that cometh against him shall do according to his own will, and none shall stand before him: and he shall stand in the glorious land, and in his hand shall be destruction. ¹⁷ And he shall set his face to come with the strength of his whole kingdom, and upright ones with him; and he shall do his pleasure: and he shall give him the daughter of women, to corrupt her; but she shall not stand, neither be for him. ¹⁸ After this shall he turn his face unto the isles, and shall take many: but a prince shall cause the reproach offered by him to cease; yea, moreover, he shall cause his reproach to turn upon him. ¹⁹ Then he shall turn his face toward the fortresses of his own land: but he shall stumble and fall, and shall not be found. ²⁰ Then shall stand up in his place one that shall cause an exactor to pass through the glory of the kingdom: but within few days he shall be destroyed, neither in anger, nor in battle. ²¹ And in his place shall stand up a contemptible person, to whom they had not given the honour of the kingdom: but he shall come in time of security, and shall obtain the kingdom by flatteries. ²² And with the arms of a flood shall they be swept away from before him, and shall be broken; yea, also the prince of the covenant. ²³ And after the league made with him he shall work deceitfully: for he shall come up, and shall become strong, with a small people.

²⁴ In time of security shall he come even upon the fattest places of the province; and he shall do that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers' fathers; he shall scatter among them prey, and spoil, and substance: yea, he shall devise his devices against the strong holds, even for a time.

²⁶ Yea, they that eat of his meat shall destroy him, and his army shall overflow: and many shall fall down slain.

²⁸ Then shall he return into his land with great substance; and his heart shall be against the holy covenant; and he shall do his pleasure, and return to his own land. ²⁹ At the time appointed he shall return, and come into the south; but it shall not be in the latter time as it was in the former. ³⁰ For ships of Kittim shall come against him; therefore he shall be grieved, and shall return, and have indignation against the holy covenant, and shall do his pleasure: he shall even return, and have regard unto them that forsake the holy covenant. ³¹ And arms shall stand on his part, and they shall profane the sanctuary, even the fortress, and shall take away the continual burnt offering; and they shall set up the abomination that maketh desolate. ³² And such as do wickedly against the covenant shall he pervert by flatteries: but the people that know their God shall be strong, and do exploits. ³³ And they that be wise among the people shall instruct many: yet they shall fall by the sword and by flame, by captivity and by spoil, many days. ³⁴ Now when they shall fall, they shall be holpen with a little help: but many shall join themselves unto them with flatteries.

³⁵ And some of them that be wise shall fall, to refine them, and to purify, and to make them white, even to the time of the end: because it is yet for the time appointed. ³⁶ And the king shall do according to his will;

and he shall exalt himself, and magnify himself above every god, and shall speak marvelous things against the God of gods: and he shall prosper till the indignation be accomplished; for that which is determined shall be done. ³⁷ Neither shall he regard the gods his fathers, nor the desire of women, nor regard any god: for he shall magnify himself above all.

³⁸ But in his place shall he honour the god of fortresses: and a god whom his fathers knew not shall he honour with gold, and silver, and with precious stones, and pleasant things. ³⁹ And he shall deal with the strongest fortresses by the help of a strange god; whosoever acknowledgeth him he will increase with glory: and he shall cause them to rule over many, and shall divide the land for a price.

⁴² He shall stretch forth his hand also upon the countries: and the land of Egypt shall not escape. ⁴³ But he shall have power over the treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt: and the Libyans and the Ethiopians shall be at his steps. ⁴⁴ But tidings out of the east and out of the north shall trouble him: and he shall go forth with great fury to destroy and utterly to make away many. ⁴⁵ And he shall plant the tents of his palace between the sea and the glorious holy mountain; yet he shall come to his end, and none shall help him.

awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt. ³And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever. ⁴But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased. ⁵Then I Daniel looked, and, behold, there stood other two, the one on the brink of the river on this side, and the other on the brink of the river on that side. ⁶And one said to the man clothed in linen, which was above the waters of the river, How long shall it be to the end of these wonders? ⁷And I heard the man clothed in linen, which was above the waters of the river, when he held up his right hand and his left hand unto heaven, and sware by him that liveth fear ever that it shall be for a time, times, and an half; and when they have made an end of breaking in pieces the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished. ⁸And I heard, but I understood not: then said I, O my lord, what shall be the issue of these things? ⁹And he said, Go thy way, Daniel: for the words are shut up and sealed till the time of the end. ¹⁰Many shall purify themselves; and make themselves white, and be refined; but the wicked shall do wickedly; and none of the wicked shall understand: but they that be wise shall understand. ¹¹And from the time that the continual burnt offering shall be taken away, and the abomination that maketh desolate set up, there shall be a thousand two hundred and ninety days. ¹²Blessed is he that waiteth, and cometh to the thousand three hundred and five and thirty days. ¹³But go thou thy way till the end be: for thou shalt rest, and shalt stand in thy lot, at the end of the days.

HOSEA.

¹The word of the LORD that came unto Hosea the son of Beeri, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel. ²When the LORD spake at the first by Hosea, the LORD said unto Hosea, Go, take unto thee a wife of whoredom and children of whoredom: for the land doth commit great whoredom, departing from the LORD. ³So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim; and she conceived, and bare him a son. ⁴And the LORD said unto him, Call his name Jezreel; for yet a little while, and I will avenge the blood of Jezreel upon the house of Jehu, and will cause the kingdom of the house of Israel to cease. ⁵And it shall come to pass at that day, that I will break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezreel. ⁶And she conceived again, and bare a daughter. And the LORD said unto him, Call her name Lo-ruhamah: for I will no more have mercy upon the house of Israel, that I should in any wise pardon them. ⁷But I will have mercy upon the house of Judah, and will save them by the LORD their God, and will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battle, by horses, nor by horsemen. ⁸Now when she had weaned Lo-ruhamah, she conceived, and bare a son. ⁹And the LORD said, Call his name Lo-ammi: for ye are not my people, and I will not be your God. ¹⁰Yet the number of the children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered; and it shall come to pass that, in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people, it shall be said unto them, Ye are the sons of the living God. ¹¹And the children of Judah and the children of Israel shall be gathered together, and they shall appoint themselves one head, and shall go up from the land: for great shall be the day of Jezreel.

¹Say ye unto your brethren, Ammi; and to your sisters, Ruhamah. ²Plead with your mother, plead; for she is not my wife, neither am I her husband: and let her put away her whoredoms from her face, and her adulteries from between her breasts; ³lest I strip her naked, and set her as in the day that she was born, and make her as a wilderness, and set her like a dry land, and slay her with thirst; ⁴Yea, upon her children will I have no mercy; for they be children of whoredom. ⁵for their mother hath played the harlot: she that conceived them hath done shamefully: for she said, I will go after my lovers, that give me my bread and my water, my wool and my flax, mine oil and my drink. ⁶Therefore, behold, I will hedge up thy way with thorns, and I will make a fence against her, that she shall not find her paths. ⁷And she shall follow after her lovers, but she shall not overtake them; and she shall seek them, but shall not find them: then shall she say, I will go and return to my first husband; for then was it better with me than now. ⁸For she did not know that I gave her the corn, and the wine, and the oil, and multiplied unto her silver and gold, which they used for Baal. ⁹Therefore will I take back my corn in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and will pluck away my wool and my flax which should have covered her nakedness. ¹⁰And now will I discover her lewdness in the sight of her lovers, and none shall deliver her out of mine hand. ¹¹I will also cause all her mirth to cease, her feasts, her new moons, and her sabbaths, and all her solemn assemblies. ¹²And I will lay waste her vines and her fig trees, whereof she hath said, These are my hire that my lovers have given me: and I will make them a forest, and the beasts of the field shall eat them. ¹³And I will visit upon her the days of the Baalim, unto which she burned incense; when she decked herself with her earrings and her jewels, and went after her lovers, and forgot me, saith the LORD. ¹⁴Therefore, behold, I will allure her, and bring her into the wilderness, and speak comfortably unto her. ¹⁵And I will give her her vineyards from thence, and the valley of Achor for a door of hope: and she shall make answer there, as in the days of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt. ¹⁶And it shall be at that day, saith the LORD, that thou shalt call me Ishi; and shalt call me no more Baali. ¹⁷For I will take away the names of the Baalim out of her mouth, and they shall no more be mentioned by their name.

¹⁸ And in that day will I make a covenant for them with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of the heaven, and with the creeping things of the ground: and I will break the bow and the sword and the battle out of the land, and will make them to lie down safely. ¹⁹ And I will betroth thee unto me for ever; yea, I will betroth thee unto me in righteousness, and in judgment, and in lovingkindness, and in mercies. ²⁰ I will even betroth thee unto me in faithfulness: and thou shalt know the LORD. ²¹ And it shall come to pass in that day, I will answer, saith the LORD, I will answer the heavens, and they shall answer the earth; ²² and the earth shall answer the corn, and the wine, and the oil; and they shall answer Jezreel. ²³ And I wilt sow her unto me in the earth; and I will have mercy upon her that had not obtained mercy; and I will say to them which were not my people, Thou art my people; and they shall say, Thou art my God.

¹ And the LORD said unto me, Go yet, love a woman beloved of her friend and an adulteress, even as the LORD loveth the children of Israel, though they turn unto other gods, and love cakes of raisins. ² So I bought her to me for fifteen pieces of silver, and an homer of barley, and an half homer of barley: ³ and I said unto her, Thou shalt abide for me many days; thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt not be any man's wife: so will I also be toward thee. ⁴ For the children of Israel shall abide many days without king, and without prince, and without sacrifice, and without pillar, and without ephod or teraphim. ⁵ afterward shall the children of Israel return, and seek the LORD their God, and David their king; and shall come with fear unto the LORD and to his goodness in the latter days.

¹ Hear the word of the LORD, ye children of Israel: for the LORD hath a controversy with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth, nor mercy, nor knowledge of God in the land. ² There is nought but swearing and breaking faith, and killing, and stealing, and committing adultery; they break out, and blood

toucheth blood. ³ Therefore shall the land mourn, and every one that dwelleth therein shall languish, with the beasts of the field and the fowls of heaven; yea, the fishes of the sea also shall be taken away. ⁴ Yet let no man strive, neither let any man reprove; for thy people are as they that strive with the priest. ⁵ And thou shalt stumble in the day, and the prophet also shall stumble with thee in the night; and I will destroy thy mother. ⁶ My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge: because thou hast rejected knowledge, I will also reject thee, that thou shalt be no priest to me: seeing thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, I also will forget thy children. ⁷ As they were multiplied, so they sinned against me: I will change their glory into shame. ⁸ They feed on the sin of my people, and set their heart on their iniquity. ⁹ And it shall be, like people, like priest: and I will punish them for their ways, and will reward them their doings. ¹⁰ And they shall eat, and not have enough; they shall commit whoredom, and shall not increase: because they have left off to take heed to the LORD. ¹¹ Whoredom and wine and new wine take away the understanding. ¹² My people ask counsel at their stock, and their staff declareth unto them: for the spirit of whoredom hath caused them to err, and they have gone a whoring from under their God. ¹³ They sacrifice upon the tops of the mountains, and burn incense upon the hills, under oaks and poplars and terebinths, because the shadow thereof is good: therefore your daughters commit whoredom, and your brides commit adultery. ¹⁴ I will not punish your daughters when they commit whoredom, nor your brides when they commit adultery; for they themselves go apart with whores, and they sacrifice with the harlots: and the people that doth not understand shall be overthrown. ¹⁵ Though thou, Israel, play the harlot, yet let not Judah offend; and come not ye unto Gilgal, neither go ye up to Beth-aven, nor swear, As the LORD liveth. ¹⁶ For Israel hath behaved himself stubbornly, like a stubborn heifer: now will the LORD feed them as a lamb in a large place. ¹⁷ Ephraim is joined to idols; let him alone. ¹⁸ Their drink is become sour: they commit whoredom continually; her rulers dearly love shame. ¹⁹The wind hath wrapped her up in its wings; and they shall be ashamed because of their sacrifices.

¹Hear this, O ye priests, and hearken, ye house of Israel, and give ear, O house of the king, for unto you pertain the judgment; for ye have been a snare at Mizpah, and a net spread upon Tabor. ²And the revolvers are gone deep in making slaughter; but I am a rebuker of them all. ³I know Ephraim, and Israel is not hid from me: for now, O Ephraim, thou hast committed whoredom, Israel is defiled. ⁴Their doings will not suffer them to turn unto their God: for the spirit of whoredom is within them, and they know not the LORD. ⁵And the pride of Israel doth testify to his face: therefore Israel and Ephraim shall stumble in their iniquity; Judah also shall stumble with them. ⁶They shall go with their flocks and with their herds to seek the LORD; but they shall not find him: he hath withdrawn himself from them. ⁷They have dealt treacherously against the LORD; for they have borne strange children: now shall the new moon devour them with their fields. ⁸Blow ye the cornet in Gibeah, and the trumpet in Ramah: sound an alarm at Beth-aven; behind thee, O Benjamin. ⁹Ephraim shall become a desolation in the day of rebuke: among the tribes of Israel have I made known that which shall surely be. ¹⁰The princes of Judah are like them that remove the landmark: I will pour out my wrath upon them like water. ¹¹Ephraim is oppressed, he is crushed in judgment; because he was content to walk after the command. ¹²Therefore am I unto Ephraim as a moth, and to the house of Judah as rottenness. ¹³When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah saw his wound, then went Ephraim to Assyria, and sent to king Jareb; but he is not able to heal you, neither shall he cure you of your wound. ¹⁴For I will be unto Ephraim as a lion, and as a young lion to the house of Judah: I, even I, will tear and go away; I will carry off, and there shall be none to deliver. ¹⁵I will go and return to my place, till they acknowledge their offence, and seek my face: in their affliction they will seek me earnestly.

¹Come, and let us return unto the LORD: for he hath torn, and he will heal us; he hath smitten, and he will bind us up. ²After two days will he revive us: on the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live before him. ³And let us know, let us follow on to know the LORD; his going forth is sure as the morning: and he shall come unto us as the rain, as the latter rain that watereth the earth. ⁴O Ephraim, what shall I do unto thee? O Judah, what shall I do unto thee? for your goodness is as a morning cloud, and as the dew that goeth early away. ⁵Therefore have I hewed them by the prophets; I have slain them by the words of my mouth: and thy judgments are as the light that goeth forth. ⁶For I desire mercy, and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings. ⁷But they like Adam have transgressed the covenant: there have they dealt treacherously against me. ⁸Gilead is a city of them that work iniquity, it is stained with blood. ⁹And as troops of robbers wait for a man, so the company of priests murder in the way toward Shechem; yea, they have committed lewdness. ¹⁰In the house of Israel I have seen an horrible thing: there whoredom is found in Ephraim, Israel is defiled. ¹¹Also, O Judah, there is an harvest appointed for thee, when I bring again the captivity of my people.

¹When I would heal Israel, then is the iniquity of Ephraim discovered, and the wickedness of Samaria; for they commit falsehood: and the thief entereth in, and the troop of robbers spoileth without. ²And they consider not in their hearts that I remember all their wickedness: now have their own doings beset them about; they are before my face. ³They make the king glad with their wickedness, and the princes with their lies. ⁴They are all adulterers; they are as an oven heated by the baker; he ceaseth to stir the fire, from the kneading of the dough until it be leavened. ⁵On the day of our king the princes made themselves sick with the heat of wine; he stretched out his hand with scorners. ⁶For they have made ready their heart like an oven, whiles they lie in wait: their baker sleepeth all the night; in the morning it burneth as a flaming fire. ⁷ They are all hot as an oven, and devour their judges; all their kings are fallen: there is none among them that calleth unto me. ⁸ Ephraim, he mixeth himself among the peoples; Ephraim is a cake not turned. ⁹ Strangers have devoured his strength, and he knoweth it not: yea, gray hairs are here and there upon him, and he knoweth it not. ¹⁰ And the pride of Israel doth testify to his face: yet they have not returned unto the LORD their God, nor sought him, for all this. ¹¹ And Ephraim is like a silly dove, without understanding: they call unto Egypt, they go to Assyria. ¹² When they shall go, I will spread my net upon them; I will bring them down as the fowls of the heaven: I will chastise them, as their congregation hath heard. ¹³ Woe unto them! for they have wandered from me; destruction unto them! for they have trespassed against me: though I would redeem them, yet they have spoken lies against me. ¹⁴ And they have not cried unto me with their heart, but they howl upon their beds: they assemble themselves for corn and wine, they rebel against me. ¹⁵ Though I have taught and strengthened their arms, yet do they imagine mischief against me. ¹⁶ They return, but not to him that is on high; they are like a deceitful bow: their princes shall fall by the sword for the rage of their tongue: this shall be their derision in the land of Egypt.

¹ SET the trumpet to thy mouth. As an eagle he cometh against the house of the LORD: because they have transgressed my covenant, and trespassed against my law. ² They shall cry unto me, My God, we Israel know thee. ³ Israel hath cast off that which is good: the enemy shall pursue him. ⁴ They have set up kings, but not by me; they have made princes, and I knew it not: of their silver and their gold have they made them idols, that they may be cut off. ⁵ He hath cast off thy calf, O Samaria; mine anger is kindled against them: how long will it be ere they attain to innocency? ⁶ For from Israel is even this; the workman made it, and it is no God: yea, the calf of Samaria shall be broken in pieces. ⁷ For they sow the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind: he hath no standing corn; the blade shall yield no meal; if so be it yield, strangers shall swallow it up. ⁸ Israel is swallowed up: now are they among the nations as a vessel wherein is no pleasure. ⁹ For they are gone up to Assyria, like a wild ass alone by himself: Ephraim hath hired lovers. ¹⁰ Yea, though they hire among the nations, now will I gather them; and they begin to be diminished by reason of the burden of the king of princes. ¹¹ Because Ephraim hath multiplied altars to sin, altars have been unto him to sin. ¹² Though I write for him my law in ten thousand precepts, they are counted as a strange thing. ¹³ As for the sacrifices of mine offerings, they sacrifice flesh and eat it; but the LORD accepteth them not: now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins; they shall return to Egypt. ¹⁴ For Israel hath forgotten his Maker, and builded palaces; and Judah hath multiplied fenced cities: but I will send a fire upon his cities, and it shall devour the castles thereof.

the enmity is great. ⁸Ephraim was a watchman with my God: as for the prophet, a fowler's snare is in all his ways, and enmity in the house of his God. ⁹They have deeply corrupted themselves, as in the days of Gibeah: he will remember their iniquity, he will visit their sins. ¹⁰I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness; I saw your fathers as the firstripe in the fig tree at her first season: but they came to Baal-peor, and consecrated themselves unto the shameful thing, and became abominable like that which they loved. ¹¹As for Ephraim, their glory shall fly away like a bird: there shall be no birth, and none with child, and no conception. ¹²Though they bring up their children, yet will I bereave them, that there be not a man left: yea, woe also to them when I depart from them! ¹³Ephraim, like as I have seen Tyre, is planted in a pleasant place: but Ephraim shall bring out his children to the slayer. ¹⁴Give them, O LORD: what wilt thou give? give them a miscarrying womb and dry breasts. ¹⁵All their wickedness is in Gilgal; for there I hated them: because of the wickedness of their doings I will drive them out of mine house: I will love them no more; all their princes are revolvers. ¹⁶Ephraim is smitten, their root is dried up, they shall bear no fruit: yea, though they bring forth, yet will I slay the beloved fruit of their womb. ¹⁷My God will cast them away, because they did not hearken unto him: and they shall be wanderers among the nations.

¹Israel is a luxuriant vine, which putteth forth his fruit: according to the multitude of his fruit he hath multiplied his altars; according to the goodness of his land they have made goodly pillars. ²Their heart is divided; now shall they be found guilty: he shall smite their altars, he shall spoil their pillars. ³Surely now shall they say, We have no king: for we fear not the LORD; and the king, what can he do for us? ⁴They speak vain words, swearing falsely in making covenants: therefore judgment springeth up as hemlock in the furrows of the field. ⁵The inhabitants of Samaria shall be in terror for the calves of Beth-aven: for the people thereof shall mourn over it, and the priests thereof that rejoiced

over it, for the glory thereof, because it is departed from it. ⁶It also shall be carried unto Assyria for a present to king Jareb: Ephraim shall receive shame, and Israel shall be ashamed of his own counsel. ⁷As for Samaria, her king is cut off, as foam upon the water. ⁸The high places also of Aven, the sin of Israel, shall be destroyed: the thorn and the thistle shall come up on their altars; and they shall say to the mountains, Cover us; and to the hills, Fall on us. ⁹O Israel, thou hast sinned from the days of Gibeah: there they stood; that the battle against the children of iniquity should not overtake them in Gibeah. ¹⁰When it is my desire, I will chastise them; and the peoples shall be gathered against them, when they are bound to their two transgressions. ¹¹And Ephraim is an heifer that is taught, that loveth to tread out the corn; but I have passed over upon her fair neck: I will set a rider on Ephraim; Judah shall plow, Jacob shall break his clods. ¹²Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap according to mercy; break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the LORD, till he come and rain righteousness upon you. ¹³Ye have plowed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity; ye have eaten the fruit of lies: for thou didst trust in thy way, in the multitude of thy mighty men. ¹⁴Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy people, and all thy fortresses shall be spoiled, as Shalman spoiled Beth-arbel in the day of battle: the mother was dashed in pieces with her children. ¹⁵So shall Beth-el do unto you because of your great wickedness: at daybreak shall the king of Israel be utterly cut off.

¹When Israel was a child, then I loved him, and called my son out of Egypt. ²As they called them, so they went from them: they sacrificed unto the Baalim, and burned incense to graven images. ³Yet I taught Ephraim to go; I took them on my arms; but they knew not that I healed them. ⁴I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love; and I was to them as they that take off the yoke on their jaws, and I laid meat before them. ⁵He shall not return into the land of Egypt; but the Assyrian shall be his king, because they refused to return. ⁶And the sword shall fall upon his cities, and shall consume his bars, and devour them, because of their own counsels. ⁷And my people are bent to backsliding from me: though they call them to him that is on high, none at all will exalt him. ⁸How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? how shall I deliver thee, Israel? how shall I make thee as Admah? how shall I set thee as Zeboim? mine heart is turned within me, my compassions are kindled together. ⁹I will not execute the fierceness of mine anger, I will not return to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not man; the Holy One in the midst of thee: and I will not enter into the city. ¹⁰They shall walk after the LORD, who shall roar like a lion: for he shall roar, and the children shall come trembling from the west. ¹¹They shall come trembling as a bird out of Egypt, and as a dove out of the land of Assyria: and I will make them to dwell in their houses, saith the LORD. ¹²Ephraim compasseth me about with falsehood, and the house of Israel with deceit: but Judah yet ruleth with God, and is faithful with the Holy One.

¹Ephraim feedeth on wind, and followeth after the east wind: he continually multiplieth lies and desolation; and they make a covenant with Assyria, and oil is carried into Egypt. ²The LORD hath also a controversy with Judah, and will punish Jacob according to his ways; according to his doings will he recompense him. ³In the womb he took his brother by the heel; and in his manhood he had power with God: ⁴yea, he had power over the angel, and prevailed: he wept, and made supplication unto him: he found him at Beth-el, and there he spake with us; ⁵even the LORD, the God of hosts; the LORD is his memorial. ⁶Therefore turn thou to thy God: keep mercy and judgment, and wait on thy God continually. ⁷*He* is a trafficker, the balances of deceit are in his hand: he loveth to oppress. ⁸And Ephraim said, Surely I am become rich, I have found me wealth: in all my labours they shall find in me none iniquity that were sin. ⁹But I am the LORD thy God from the land of Egypt; I will yet again make thee to dwell in tents, as in the days of the solemn feast. ¹⁰I have also spoken unto the prophets, and I have multiplied visions; and by the ministry of the prophets have I used similitudes. ¹¹Is Gilead iniquity? they are altogether vanity; in Gilgal they sacrifice bullocks: yea, their altars are as heaps in the furrows of the field. ¹²And Jacob fled into the field of Aram, and Israel served for a wife, and for a wife he kept sheep. ¹³And by a prophet the LORD brought Israel up out of Egypt, and by a prophet was he preserved. ¹⁴Ephraim hath provoked to anger most bitterly: therefore shall his blood be left upon him, and his reproach shall his Lord return unto him.

¹When Ephraim spake, there was trembling; he exalted himself in Israel: but when he offended in Baal, he died. ²And now they sin more and more, and have made them molten images of their silver, even idols according to their own understanding, all of them the work of the craftsmen: they say of them, Let the men that sacrifice kiss the calves. ³Therefore they shall be as the morning cloud, and as the dew that passeth early away, as the chaff that is driven with the whirlwind out of the threshing-floor, and as the smoke out of the chimney. ⁴Yet I am the LORD thy God from the land of Egypt; and thou shalt know no god but me, and beside me there is no saviour. ⁵I did know thee in the wilderness, in the land of great drought. ⁶According to their pasture, so were they filled; they were filled, and their heart was exalted: therefore have they forgotten me. ⁷Therefore am I unto them as a lion: as a leopard will I watch by the way: ⁸I will meet them as a bear that is bereaved of her whelps, and will rend the caul of their heart: and there will I devour them like a lion; the wild beast shall tear them. ⁹It is thy destruction, O Israel, that thou art against me, against thy help. ¹⁰Where now is thy king, that he may save thee in all thy cities? and thy judges, of whom thou saidst, Give me a king and princes? ¹¹I have given thee a king in mine anger, and have taken him away in my wrath. ¹²The iniquity of Ephraim is bound up; his sin is laid up in store. ¹³The sorrows of a travailing woman shall come upon him: he is an unwise son; for it is time he should not tarry in the place of the breaking forth of children. ¹⁴I will ransom them from the power of the grave; I will redeem them from death: O death, where are thy plagues? O grave, where is thy destruction? repentance shall be hid from mine eyes. ¹⁵ Though he be fruitful among his brethren, an east wind shall come, the breath of the LORD coming up from the wilderness, and his spring shall become dry, and his fountain shall be dried up: he shall spoil the treasure of all pleasant vessels. ¹⁶ Samaria shall bear her guilt; for she hath rebelled against her God: they shall fall by the sword; their infants shall be dashed in pieces, and their women with child shall be ripped up.

¹ O ISRAEL, return unto the LORD thy God; for thou hast fallen by thine iniquity. ² Take with you words, and return unto the LORD: say unto him, Take away all iniquity, and accept that which is good: so will we render as bullocks the offering of our lips. ³ Asshur shall not save us; we will not ride upon horses: neither will we say any more to the work of our hands, Ye are our gods: for in thee the fatherless findeth mercy. ⁴ I will heal their backsliding, I will love them freely: for mine anger is turned away from him. ⁵ I will be as the dew unto Israel: he shall blossom as the lily, and cast forth his roots as Lebanon. ⁶ His branches shall spread, and his beauty shall be as the olive tree, and his smell as Lebanon. ⁷ They that dwell under his shadow shall return; they shall revive as the corn, and blossom as the vine: the scent thereof shall be as the wine of Lebanon. ⁸ Ephraim shall say, What have I to do any more with idols? I have answered, and will regard him: I am like a green fir tree; from me is thy fruit found. ⁹ Who is wise, and he shall understand these things? prudent, and he shall know them? for the ways of the LORD are right, and the just shall walk in them; but transgressors shall fall therein.

JOEL.

¹The word of the LORD that came to Joel the son of Pethuel. ²Hear this, ye old men, and give ear, all ye inhabitants of the land. Hath this been in your days, or in the days of your fathers? ³Tell ye your children of it, and let your children tell their children, and their children another generation. ⁴That which the palmerworm hath left hath the locust eaten; and that which the locust hath left hath the cankerworm eaten; and that which the cankerworm hath left hath the caterpillar eaten. ⁵Awake, ye drunkards, and weep; and howl, all ye drinkers of wine, because of the sweet wine; for it is cut off from your mouth. ⁶For a nation is come up upon my land, strong, and without number; his teeth are the teeth of a lion, and he hath the jaw teeth of a great lion. ⁷He hath laid my vine waste, and barked my fig tree: he hath made it clean bare, and cast it away; the branches thereof are made white. ⁸Lament like a virgin girded with sackcloth for the husband of her youth. ⁹The meal offering and the drink offering is cut off from the house of the LORD; the priests, the LORD'S ministers, mourn. ¹⁰The field is wasted, the land mourneth; for the corn is wasted, the new wine is dried up, the oil languisheth. ¹¹Be ashamed, O ye husbandmen, howl, O ye vinedressers, for the wheat and for the barley; for the harvest of the field is perished. ¹²The vine is withered, and the fig tree languisheth; the pomegranate tree, the palm tree also, and the apple tree, even all the trees of the field are withered: for joy is withered away from the sons of men. ¹³Gird yourselves with sackcloth, and lament, ye priests; howl, ye ministers of the altar; come, lie all night in sackcloth, ye ministers of my God: for the meal offering and the drink offering is withholden from the house of your God. ¹⁴Sanctify a fast, call a solemn assembly, gather the old men and all the inhabitants of the land unto the house of the LORD your God, and cry unto the LORD. ¹⁵Alas for the day! for the day of the LORD is at hand, and as destruction from the Almighty shall it come, ¹⁶Is not the meat cut off before our eyes, yea, joy and gladness from the house of our God? ¹⁷The seeds rot under their clods; the garners are laid desolate, the barns are broken down; for the corn is withered. ¹⁸How do the beasts groan! the herds of cattle are perplexed, because they have no pasture; yea, the flocks of sheep are made desolate. ¹⁹O LORD, to thee do I cry: for the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness, and the flame hath burned all the trees of the field. ²⁰Yea, the beasts of the field pant unto thee: for the water brooks are dried up, and the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness.

¹Blow ye the trumpet in Zion, and sound an alarm in my holy mountain; let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the day of the LORD cometh, for it is nigh at hand; ²a day of darkness and gloominess, a day of clouds and thick darkness, as the dawn spread upon the mountains; a great people and a strong, there hath not been ever the like, neither shall be any more after them, even to the years of many generations. ³A fire devoureth before them; and behind them a flame burneth: the land is as the garden of Eden before them, and behind them a desolate wilderness; yea, and none hath escaped them. ⁴The appearance of them is as the appearance of horses; and as horsemen, so do they run. ⁵Like the noise of chariots on the tops of the mountains do they leap, like the noise of a flame of fire that devoureth the stubble, as a strong people set in battle array. ⁶At their presence the peoples are in anguish: all faces are waxed pale. ⁷They run like mighty men; they climb the wall like men of war; and they march every one on his ways, and they break not their ranks. ⁸Neither doth one thrust another; they march every one in his path: and they burst through the weapons, and break not off their course. ⁹They leap upon the city; they run upon the wall; they climb up into the houses; they enter in at the windows like a thief. ¹⁰The earth quaketh before them; the heavens tremble: the sun and the moon are darkened, and the stars withdraw their shining: ¹¹And the LORD uttereth his voice before his army; for his camp is very great; for he is strong that executeth his word: for the day of the LORD is great and very terrible; and who can abide it? ¹² Yet even now, saith the LORD, turn ye unto me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning: ¹³ and rend your heart, and not your garments, and turn unto the LORD your God, for he is gracious and full of compassion, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy, and repenteth him of the evil. ¹⁴ Who knoweth whether he will not turn and repent, and leave a blessing behind him, even a meal offering and a drink offering unto the LORD your God? ¹⁵ Blow the trumpet in Zion, sanctify a fast, call a solemn assembly: ¹⁶ gather the people, sanctify the congregation, assemble the old men, gather the children, and those that suck the breasts: let the bridegroom go forth of his chamber, and the bride out of her closet. ¹⁷ Let the priests, the ministers of the LORD, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say, Spare thy people, O LORD, and give not thine heritage to reproach, that the nations should rule over them: wherefore should they say among the peoples, Where is their God? ¹⁸ Then was the LORD jealous for his land, and had pity on his people. ¹⁹ And the LORD answered and said unto his people, Behold, I will send you corn, and wine, and oil, and ye shall be satisfied therewith: and I will no more make you a reproach among the nations: ²⁰ but I will remove far off from you the northern army, and will drive him into a land barren and desolate, his forepart into the eastern sea, and his hinder part into the western sea; and his stink shall come up, and his ill savour shall come up, because he hath done great things. ²¹ Fear not, O land, be glad and rejoice; for the LORD hath done great things. ²² Be not afraid, ye beasts of the field; for the pastures of the wilderness do spring, for the tree beareth her fruit, the fig tree and the vine do yield their strength. ²³ Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and rejoice in the LORD your God: for he giveth you the former rain in just measure, and he causeth to come down for you the rain, the former rain and the latter rain, in the first month. ²⁴ And the floors shall be full of wheat, and the vats shall overflow with wine and oil. ²⁵ And I will restore to you the years that the locust hath eaten, the cankerworm, and the caterpillar, and the palmerworm, my great army which

I sent among you. ²⁶ And ye shall eat in plenty and be satisfied, and shall praise the name of the LORD your God, that hath dealt wondrously with you: and my people shall never be ashamed. ²⁷ And ye shall know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am the LORD your God, and there is none else: and my people shall never be ashamed. ²⁸ And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions: ²⁹ and also upon the servants and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my spirit. ³⁰ And I will shew wonders in the heavens and in the earth, blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke. ³¹ The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the great and terrible day of the LORD come. ³² And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the LORD shall be delivered: for in mount Zion and in Jerusalem there shall be those that escape, as the LORD hath said, and among the remnant those whom the LORD doth call.

¹ For, behold, in those days, and in that time, when I shall bring again the captivity of Judah and Jerusalem, ² I will gather all nations, and will bring them down into the valley of Jehoshaphat; and I will plead with them there for my people and for my heritage Israel, whom they have scattered among the nations, and parted my land. ³ and they have cast lots for my people: and have given a boy for an harlot, and sold a girl for wine, that they might drink. ⁴ Yea, and what are ye to me, O Tyre, and Zidon, and all the regions of Philistia? will ye render me a recompence? and if ye recompense me, swiftly and speedily will I return your recompence upon your own head. ⁵ Forasmuch as ye have taken my silver and my gold, and have carried into your temples my goodly pleasant things; ⁶ the children also of Judah and the children of Jerusalem have ye sold unto the sons of the Grecians, that ye might remove them far from their border: ⁷ behold, I will stir them up out of the place whither ye have sold them, and will return your recompence upon your own head; ⁸ and I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hand of the children of Judah, and they shall sell them to the men of Sheba, to a nation far off: for the LORD hath spoken it. ⁹ Proclaim ye this among the nations; prepare war: stir up the mighty men; let all the men of war draw near, let them come up. ¹⁰ Beat your plowshares into swords, and your pruninghooks into spears: let the weak say, I am strong. ¹¹ Haste ye, and come, all ye nations round about, and gather yourselves together: thither cause thy mighty ones to come down, O LORD. ¹² Let the nations bestir themselves, and come up to the valley of Jehoshaphat: for there will I sit to judge all the nations round about. ¹³ Put ye in the sickle, for the harvest is ripe: come, tread ye; for the winepress is full, the vats overflow; for their wickedness is great. ¹⁴ Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision! for the day of the LORD is near in the valley of decision. ¹⁵ The sun and the moon are darkened, and the stars withdraw their shining. ¹⁶ And the LORD shall roar from Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem; and the heavens and the earth shall shake, but the LORD will be a refuge unto his people, and a strong hold to the children of Israel. ¹⁷ So shall ye know that I am the LORD your God, dwelling in Zion my holy mountain: then shall Jerusalem be holy, and there shall no strangers pass through her any more. ¹⁸ And it shall come to pass in that day, that the mountains shall drop down sweet wine, and the hills shall flow with milk, and all the brooks of Judah shall flow with waters; and a fountain shall come forth of the house of the LORD, and shall water the valley of Shittim. ¹⁹ Egypt shall be a desolation, and Edom shall be a desolate wilderness, for the violence done to the children of Judah, because they have shed innocent blood in their land. ²⁰ But Judah shall abide for ever, and Jerusalem from generation to generation. ²¹ And I will cleanse their blood that I have not cleansed: for the LORD dwelleth in Zion.

AMOS.

¹The words of Amos, who was among the herdmen of Tekoa, which he saw concerning Israel in the days of Uzziah king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel, two years before the earthquake. ²And he said, The LORD shall roar from Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem; and the pastures of the shepherds shall mourn, and the top of Carmel shall wither. ³Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Damascus, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have threshed Gilead with threshing instruments of iron: ⁴but I will send a fire into the house of Hazael, and it shall devour the palaces of Ben-hadad. ⁵And I will break the bar of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant from the valley of Aven, and him that holdeth the sceptre from the house of Eden: and the people of Syria shall go into captivity unto Kir, saith the LORD. ⁶Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Gaza, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they carried away captive the whole people, to deliver them up to Edom: ⁷But I will send a fire on the wall of Gaza, and it shall devour the palaces thereof: ⁸And I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod, and him that holdeth the sceptre from Ashkelon; and I will turn mine hand against Ekron, and the remnant of the Philistines shall perish, saith the Lord GOD. ⁹Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Tyre, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they delivered up the whole people to Edom, and remembered not the brotherly covenant: ¹⁰but I will send a fire on the wall of Tyre, and it shall devour the palaces thereof. ¹¹Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Edom, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because he did pursue his brother with the sword, and did cast off all pity, and his anger did tear perpetually, and he kept his wrath for ever: ¹²but I will send a fire upon Teman, and it shall devour the palaces of Bozrah. ¹³Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, yea, for four, I will not turn away

the punishment thereof; because they have ripped up the women with child of Gilead, that they might enlarge their border: ¹⁴But I will kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbath and it shall devour the palaces thereof, with shouting in the day of battle, with a tempest in the day of the whirlwind: ¹⁵and their king shall go into captivity, he and his princes together, saith the LORD.

¹Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Moab, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because he burned the bones of the king of Edom into lime: ²but I will send a fire upon Moab, and it shall devour the palaces of Kerioth; and Moab shall die with tumult, with shouting, and with the sound of the trumpet: ³and I will cut off the judge from the midst thereof, and will slay all the princes thereof with him, saith the LORD. ⁴Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Judah, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have rejected the law of the LORD, and have not kept his statutes, and their lies have caused them to err, after the which their fathers did walk: ⁵but I will send a fire upon Judah, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem. ⁶Thus saith the LORD: For three transgressions of Israel, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have sold the righteous for silver and the needy for a pair of shoes: ⁷that pant after the dust of the earth on the head of the poor, and turn aside the way of the meek: and a man and his father will go unto the same maid, to profane my holy name: ⁸and they lay themselves down beside every altar upon clothes taken in pledge, and in the house of their God they drink the wine of such as have been fined. ⁹Yet destroyed I the Amorite before them, whose height was like the height of the cedars, and he was strong as the oaks; yet I destroyed his fruit from above, and his roots from beneath. ¹⁰Also I brought you up out of the land of Egypt, and led you forty years in the wilderness, to possess the land of the Amorite. ¹¹And I raised up of your sons for prophets, and of your young men for Nazirites. Is it not even thus, O ye children of Israel? saith the LORD. ¹²But ye gave the Nazirites wine to drink; and commanded the prophets, saying, Prophesy not. ¹³Behold, I will press you in your place, as a cart presseth that is full of sheaves. ¹⁴And flight shall perish from the swift, and the strong shall not strengthen his force, neither shall the mighty deliver himself: ¹⁵neither shall he stand that handleth the bow; and he that is swift of foot shall not deliver himself; neither shall he that rideth the horse deliver himself: ¹⁶and he that is courageous among the mighty shall flee away naked in that day, saith the LORD.

¹Hear this word that the LORD hath spoken against you, O children of Israel, against the whole family which I brought up out of the land of Egypt, saying, ²You only have I known of all the families of the earth: therefore I will visit upon you all your iniquities. ³Shall two walk together, except they have agreed? ⁴Will a lion roar in the forest, when he hath no prey? will a young lion cry out of his den, if he have taken nothing? ⁵Can a bird fall in a snare upon the earth, where no gin is set for him? shall a snare spring up from the ground, and have taken nothing at all? ⁶Shall the trumpet be blown in a city, and the people not be afraid? shalt evil befall a city, and the LORD hath not done it? ⁷Surely the Lord GOD will do nothing, but he revealeth his secret unto his servants the prophets. ⁸The lion hath roared, who will not fear? the Lord GOD hath spoken, who can but prophesy? ⁹Publish ye in the palaces at Ashdod, and in the palaces in the land of Egypt, and say, Assemble yourselves upon the mountains of Samaria, and behold what great tumults are therein, and what oppressions in the midst thereof. ¹⁰For they know not to do right, saith the LORD, who store up violence and robbery in their palaces. ¹¹Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: An adversary there shall be, even round about the land: and he shall bring down thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shall be spoiled. ¹²Thus saith the LORD: As the shepherd rescueth out of the mouth of the lion two legs, or a piece of an ear; so shall the children of Israel be rescued that sit in Samaria in the corner of a couch, and on the silken cushions of a bed. ¹³Hear ye, and testify against the house of Jacob, saith the Lord GOD, the God of hosts. ¹⁴For in the day that I shall visit the transgressions of Israel upon him, I will also visit the altars of Beth-el, and the horns of the altar shall be cut off, and fall to the ground. ¹⁵And I will smite the winter house with the summer house; and the houses of ivory shall perish, and the great houses shall have an end, saith the LORD.

¹Hear this word, ye kine of Bashan, that are in the mountain of Samaria, which oppress the poor, which crush the needy, which say unto their lords, Bring, and let us drink. ²The Lord GOD hath sworn by his holiness, that, lo, the days shall come upon you, that they shall take you away with hooks, and your residue with fish hooks. ³And ye shall go out at the breaches, every one straight before her; and ye shall cast yourselves into Harmon, saith the LORD. ⁴Come to Beth-el, and transgress; to Gilgal, and multiply transgression; and bring your sacrifices every morning, and your tithes every three days; ⁵and offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving of that which is leavened, and proclaim freewill offerings and publish them: for this liketh you, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord GOD. ⁶And I also have given you cleanness of teeth in all your cities, and want of bread in all your places: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD. ⁷And I also have withholden the rain from you, when there were yet three months to the harvest: and I caused it to rain upon one city, and caused it not to rain upon another city: one piece was rained upon, and the piece whereupon it rained not withered. ⁸So two or three cities wandered unto one city to drink water, and were not satisfied: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD. ⁹I have smitten you with blasting and mildew: the multitude of your gardens and your vineyards and your fig trees and your olive trees hath the palmerworm devoured: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD. ¹⁰I have sent among you the pestilence after the manner of Egypt: your young men have I slain with the sword, and have carried away your horses; and I have made the stink

of your camp to come up even into your nostrils: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD. ¹¹I have overthrown some among you, as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and ye were as a brand plucked out of the burning: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD. ¹²Therefore thus will I do unto thee, O Israel: and because I will do this unto thee, prepare to meet thy God, O Israel. ¹³For, lo, he that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought, that maketh the morning darkness, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth; the LORD, the God of hosts, is his name.

¹Hear ye this word which I take up for a lamentation over you, O house of Israel. ²The virgin of Israel is fallen; she shall no more rise: she is cast down upon her land; there is none to raise her up. ³For thus saith the Lord GOD: The city that went forth a thousand shall have an hundred left, and that which went forth an hundred shall have ten left, to the house of Israel. ⁴For thus saith the LORD unto the house of Israel, Seek ye me, and ye shall live: ⁵but seek not Beth-el, nor enter into Gilgal, and pass not to Beer-sheba: for Gilgal shall surely go into captivity, and Beth-el shall come to nought. ⁶Seek the LORD, and ye shall live; lest he break out like fire in the house of Joseph, and it devour and there be none to quench it in Beth-el: ⁷Ye who turn judgment to wormwood, and cast down righteousness to the earth; ⁸*seek him* that maketh the Pleiades and Orion, and turneth the shadow of death into the morning, and maketh the day dark with night; that calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth; the LORD is his name; ⁹that bringeth sudden destruction upon the strong, so that destruction cometh upon the fortress. ¹⁰They hate him that reproveth in the gate, and they abhor him that speaketh uprightly. ¹¹Forasmuch therefore as ye trample upon the poor, and take exactions from him of wheat: ye have built houses of hewn stone, but ye shall not dwell in them; ye have planted pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drink the wine thereof. ¹²For I know how manifold are your transgressions, and how mighty are your sins; ye that afflict the just, that take a bribe, and that turn aside the needy in the gate from their right. ¹³Therefore he that is prudent shall keep silence in such a time; for it is an evil time. ¹⁴Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live: and so the LORD, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye say. ¹⁵Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgment in the gate: it may be that the LORD, the God of hosts, will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph. ¹⁶Therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the Lord: Wailing shall be in all the broad ways; and they shall say in all the streets, Alas! alas! and they shall call the husbandman to mourning, and such as are skilful of lamentation to wailing. ¹⁷And in all vineyards shall be wailing: for I will pass through the midst of thee, saith the LORD. ¹⁸Woe unto you that desire the day of the LORD! wherefore would ye have the day of the LORD? it is darkness, and not light. ¹⁹As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him; or went into the house and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him. ²⁰Shall not the day of the LORD be darkness, and not light? even very dark, and no brightness in it? ²¹I hate, I despise your feasts, and I will take no delight in your solemn assemblies. ²²Yea, though ye offer me your burnt offerings and meal offerings, I will not accept them: neither will I regard the peace offerings of your fat beasts. ²³Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs; for I will not hear the melody of thy viols. ²⁴But let judgment roll down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream. ²⁵Did ye bring unto me sacrifices and offerings in the wilderness forty years, O house of Israel? ²⁶Yea, ye have borne Siccuth your king and Chiun your images, the star of your god, which ye made to yourselves. ²⁷Therefore will I cause you to go into captivity beyond Damascus, saith the LORD, whose name is the God of hosts.

¹Woe to them that are at ease in Zion, and to them that are secure in the mountain of Samaria, the notable men of the chief of the nations, to whom the house of Israel come!

²Pass ye unto Calneh, and see; and from thence go ye to Hamath the great: then go down to Gath of the Philistines: be they better than these kingdoms? or is their border greater than your border? ³Ye that put far away the evil day, and cause the seat of violence to come near; ⁴that lie upon beds of ivory, and stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst of the stall; ⁵that sing idle songs to the sound of the viol; that devise for themselves instruments of music, like David; ⁶that drink wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief ointments; but they are not grieved for the affliction of Joseph. ⁷Therefore now shall they go captive with the first that go captive, and the revelry of them that stretched themselves shall pass away. ⁸The Lord GOD hath sworn by himself, saith the LORD, the God of hosts; I abhor the excellency of Jacob, and hate his palaces: therefore will I deliver up the city with all that is therein. ⁹And it shall come to pass, if there remain ten men in one house, that they shall die. ¹⁰And when a man's uncle shall take him up, even he that burneth him, to bring out the bones out of the house, and shall say unto him that is in the innermost parts of the house, Is there yet any with thee? and he shall say, No; then shall he say, Hold thy peace; for we may not make mention of the name of the LORD. ¹¹For, behold, the LORD commandeth, and the great house shall be smitten with breaches, and the little house with clefts. ¹²Shall horses run upon the rock? will one plow there with oxen? that ye have turned judgment into gall, and the fruit of righteousness into wormwood: ¹³ye which rejoice in a thing of nought, which say, Have we not taken to us horns by our own strength? ¹⁴For, behold, I will raise up against you a nation, O house of Israel, saith the LORD, the God of hosts; and they shall afflict you from the entering in of Hamath unto the brook of the Arabah.

¹Thus the Lord GOD shewed me: and, behold, he formed locusts in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter growth; and, lo, it was the latter growth after the king's mowings. ²And it came to pass that when they made an end of eating the grass of the land, then I said, O Lord GOD, forgive, I beseech thee: how shall Jacob stand? for he is small. ³The LORD repented concerning this: It shall not be, saith the LORD. ⁴Thus the Lord GOD shewed me: and, behold, the Lord GOD called to contend by fire; and it devoured the great deep, and would have eaten up the land. ⁵Then said I, O Lord GOD, cease, I beseech thee: how shall Jacob stand? for he is small. ⁶The LORD repented concerning this: This also shall not be, saith the Lord GOD. ⁷Thus he shewed me: and, behold, the Lord stood beside a wall made by a plumbline, with a plumbline in his hand. ⁸And the LORD said unto me, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A plumbline. Then said the Lord, Behold, I will set a plumbline in the midst of my people Israel; I will not again pass by them any more: ⁹and the high places of Isaac shall be desolate, and the sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste; and I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword. ¹⁰Then Amaziah the priest of Beth-el sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel: the land is not able to bear all his words. ¹¹For thus Amos saith, Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land. ¹²Also Amaziah said unto Amos, O thou seer, go, flee thee away into the land of Judah, and there eat bread, and prophesy there: ¹³but prophesy not again any more at Beth-el: for it is the king's sanctuary, and it is a royal house. ¹⁴Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah, I was no prophet, neither was I a prophet's son; but I was an herdman, and a dresser of sycomore trees: ¹⁵and the LORD took me from following the flock, and the LORD said unto me, Go, prophesy unto my people Israel. ¹⁶Now therefore hear thou the word of the LORD: Thou sayest, Prophesy not against Israel, and drop not thy word against the house of Isaac; ¹⁷therefore thus saith the LORD: Thy wife shall be an harlot in the city, and thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be divided by line; and thou thyself shalt die in a land that is unclean, and Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land.

¹ Thus the Lord GOD shewed me: and behold, a basket of summer fruit. ² And he said, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A basket of summer fruit. Then said the LORD unto me, The end is come upon my people Israel; I will not again pass by them any more. ³ And the songs of the temple shall be howlings in that day, saith the Lord GOD: the dead bodies shall be many; in every place shall they cast them forth with silence. ⁴ Hear this, O ye that would swallow up the needy, and cause the poor of the land to fail, ⁵ saying, When will the new moon be gone, that we may sell corn? and the sabbath, that we may set forth wheat? making the ephah small, and the shekel great, and dealing falsely with balances of deceit; ⁶ that we may buy the poor for silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes, and sell the refuse of the wheat. ⁷ The LORD hath sworn by the excellency of Jacob, Surely I will never forget any of their works. ⁸ Shall not the land tremble for this, and every one mourn that dwelleth therein? yea, it shall rise up wholly like the River; and it shall be troubled and sink again, like the River of Egypt. ⁹ And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord GOD, that I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the clear day. ¹⁰ And I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation; and I will bring up sackcloth upon all loins, and baldness upon every head; and I will make it as the mourning for an only son, and the end thereof as a bitter day. ¹¹ Behold, the days come, saith the Lord GOD, that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the words of the LORD. ¹² And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the north even to the east; they shall run to and fro to seek the word of the LORD, and shall not find it. ¹³ In that day shall the fair virgins and the young men faint for thirst. ¹⁴ They that swear by the sin of Samaria, and say, As thy God, O Dan, liveth; and, As the way of Beer-sheba liveth; even they shall fall, and never rise up again.

and he said, Smite the chapiters, that the thresholds may shake: and break them in pieces on the head of all of them; and I will slay the last of them with the sword: there shall not one of them flee away, and there shall not one of them escape. ² Though they dig into hell, thence shall mine hand take them; and though they climb up to heaven, thence will I bring them down. ³ And though they hide themselves in the top of Carmel, I will search and take them out thence; and though they be hid from my sight in the bottom of the sea, thence will I command the serpent, and he shall bite them. ⁴ And though they go into captivity before their enemies, thence will I command the sword, and it shall slay them; and I will set mine eyes upon them for evil, and not for good. ⁵ For the Lord, the GOD of hosts, is he that toucheth the land and it melteth, and all that dwell therein shall mourn; and it shall rise up wholly like the River; and shall sink again, like the River of Egypt; ⁶ it is he that buildeth his chambers in the heaven, and hath founded his vault upon the earth; he that calleth for the waters of the sea and poureth them out upon the face of the earth; the LORD is his name. ⁷ Are ye not as the children of the Ethiopians unto me, O children of Israel? saith the LORD. Have not I brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt, and the Philistines from Capthor, and the Syrians from Kir? ⁸ Behold, the eyes of the Lord GOD are upon the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it from off the face of the earth; saving that I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, saith the LORD. ⁹ For, lo, I will command, and I will sift the house of Israel among all the nations, like as corn is sifted in a sieve, yet shall not the least grain fall upon the earth. ¹⁰ All the sinners of my people shall die by the sword, which say, The evil shall not overtake nor prevent us. ¹¹ In that day will I raise up the tabernacle of David that is fallen, and close up the breaches thereof; and I will raise up his ruins, and I will build it as in the days of old; ¹² that they may possess the remnant of Edom, and all the nations, which are called by my name, saith the LORD that doeth this. ¹³ Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that the plowman shall overtake the reaper, and the treader of grapes him that soweth seed; and the mountains shall drop sweet wine, and all the hills shall melt. ¹⁴ And I will bring again the captivity of my people Israel, and they shall build the waste cities, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof; they shall also make gardens, and eat the fruit of them. ¹⁵ And I will plant them upon their land, and they shall no more be plucked up out of their land which I have given them, saith the LORD thy God.

OBADIAH.

¹The vision of Obadiah. Thus saith the Lord GOD concerning Edom: We have heard tidings from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent among the nations, saying, Arise ye, and let us rise up against her in battle. ²Behold, I have made thee small among the nations: thou art greatly despised. ³The pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, whose habitation is high; that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me down to the ground? ⁴Though thou mount on high as the eagle, and though thy nest be set among the stars, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the LORD. ⁵If thieves came to thee, if robbers by night, (how art thou cut off!) would they not steal till they had enough? if grapegatherers came to thee, would they not leave some gleaning grapes? ⁶How are the things of Esau searched out! how are his hidden treasures sought up! ⁷All the men of thy confederacy have brought thee on thy way, even to the border: the men that were at peace with thee have deceived thee, and prevailed against thee; they that eat thy bread lay a snare under thee: there is none understanding in him. ⁸Shall I not in that day, saith the LORD, destroy the wise men out of Edom, and understanding out of the mount of Esau? ⁹And thy mighty men, O Teman, shall be dismayed, to the end that every one may be cut off from the mount of Esau by slaughter. ¹⁰For the violence done to thy brother Jacob shame shall cover thee, and thou shalt be cut off for ever. ¹¹In the day that thou stoodest on the other side, in the day that strangers carried away his substance, and foreigners entered into his gates, and cast lots upon Jerusalem, even thou wast as one of them. ¹²But look not thou on the day of thy brother in the day of his disaster, and rejoice not over the children of Judah in the day of their destruction; neither speak proudly in the day of distress. ¹³Enter not into the gate of my people in the day of their calamity; yea, look not thou on their affliction in the day of their calamity, neither lay ye hands on their substance in the day of their calamity. ¹⁴And stand thou not in the crossway, to cut off those of his that escape; and deliver not up those of his that remain in the day of distress. ¹⁵For the day of the LORD is near upon all the nations: as thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee; thy dealing shall return upon thine own head. ¹⁶For as ye have drunk upon my holy mountain, so shall all the nations drink continually, yea, they shall drink, and swallow down, and shall be as though they had not been. ¹⁷But in mount Zion there shall be those that escape, and it shall be holy; and the house of Jacob shall possess their possessions. ¹⁸And the house of Jacob shall be a fire, and the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau for stubble, and they shall burn among them, and devour them: and there shall not be any remaining to the house of Esau; for the LORD hath spoken it. ¹⁹And they of the South shall possess the mount of Esau; and they of the lowland the Philistines and they shall possess the field of Ephraim, and the field of Samaria: and Benjamin shall possess Gilead. ²⁰And the captivity of this host of the children of Israel, which are among the Canaanites, shall possess even unto Zarephath; and the captivity of Jerusalem, which is in Sepharad, shall possess the cities of the South. ²¹And saviours shall come up on mount Zion to judge the mount of Esau; and the kingdom shall be the LORD'S.

JONAH.

¹Now the word of the LORD came unto Jonah the son of Amittai, saying, ²Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and cry against it; for their wickedness is come up before me. ³But Jonah rose up to flee unto Tarshish from the presence of the LORD; and he went down to Joppa, and found a ship going to Tarshish: so he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it, to go with them unto Tarshish from the presence of the LORD. ⁴But the LORD sent out a great wind into the sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the ship was like to be broken. ⁵Then the mariners were afraid, and cried every man unto his god; and they cast forth the wares that were in the ship into the sea, to lighten it unto them. But Jonah was gone down into the innermost parts of the ship; and he lay, and was fast asleep. ⁶So the shipmaster came to him, and said unto him, What meanest thou, O sleeper? arise, call upon thy God, if so be that God will think upon us, that we perish not. ⁷And they said every one to his fellow, Come, and let us cast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us. So they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jonah. ⁸Then said they unto him, Tell us, we pray thee, for whose cause this evil is upon us; what is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? what is thy country? and of what people art thou? ⁹And he said unto them, I am an Hebrew; and I fear the LORD, the God of heaven, which hath made the sea and the dry land. ¹⁰Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and said unto him, What is this that thou hast done? For the men knew that he fled from the presence of the LORD, because he had told them. ¹¹Then said they unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea may be calm unto us? for the sea grew more and more tempestuous. ¹²And he said unto them, Take me up, and cast me forth into the sea; so shall the sea be calm unto you: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is upon you. ¹³Nevertheless the men rowed hard to get them back to the land; but they could not: for the sea grew more and more tempestuous against them. ¹⁴Wherefore they cried unto the LORD, and said, We beseech thee, O LORD, we beseech thee, let us not perish for this man's life, and lay not upon us innocent blood: for thou, O LORD, hast done as it pleased thee. ¹⁵So they took up Jonah, and cast him forth into the sea: and the sea ceased from her raging. ¹⁶Then the men feared the LORD exceedingly; and they offered a sacrifice unto the LORD, and made vows. ¹⁷And the LORD prepared a great fish to swallow up Jonah; and Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights.

¹Then Jonah prayed unto the LORD his God out of the fish's belly. ²And he said, I called by reason of mine affliction unto the LORD, and he answered me; out of the belly of hell cried I, and thou heardest my voice. ³For thou didst cast me into the depth, in the heart of the seas, and the flood was round about me; all thy waves and thy billows passed over me. ⁴And I said, am cast out from before thine eyes; yet I will look again toward thy holy temple. ⁵The waters compassed me about, even to the soul; the deep was round about me; the weeds were wrapped about my head. ⁶I went down to the bottoms of the mountains; the earth with her bars closed upon me for ever: yet hast thou brought up my life from the pit, O LORD my God. ⁷When my soul fainted within me, I remembered the LORD: and my prayer came in unto thee, into thine holy temple. ⁸They that regard lying vanities forsake their own mercy. ⁹But I will sacrifice unto thee with the voice of thanksgiving; I will pay that which I have vowed. Salvation is of the LORD. ¹⁰And the LORD spake unto the fish, and it vomited out Jonah upon the dry land.

¹And the word of the LORD came unto Jonah the second time, saying, ²Arise, go unto Nineveh, that great city, and preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee. ³So Jonah arose, and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of the LORD. Now Nineveh was an exceeding great city, of three days' journey. ⁴And Jonah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and he cried, and said, Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown. ⁵ And the people of Nineveh believed God; and they proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of things even to the least of them. ⁶ And the tidings reached the king of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne, and laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, and sat in ashes. ⁷ And he made proclamation and published through Nineveh by the decree of the king and his nobles, saying, Let neither man nor beast, herd nor flock, taste any thing: let them not feed, nor drink water: ⁸ but let them be covered with sackcloth, both man and beast, and let them cry mightily unto God: yea, let them turn every one from his evil way, and from the violence that is in their hands. ⁹ Who knoweth whether God will not turn and repent, and turn away from his fierce anger, that we perish not? ¹⁰ And God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way; and God repented of the evil, which he said he would do unto them; and he did it not.

¹ But it displeased Jonah exceedingly, and he was angry. ² And he prayed unto the LORD, and said, I pray thee, O LORD, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country? Therefore I hastened to flee unto Tarshish: for I knew that thou art a gracious God, and full of compassion, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy, and repentest thee of the evil. ³ Therefore now, O LORD, take, I beseech thee, my life from me; for it is better for me to die than to live. ⁴ And the LORD said, Doest thou well to be angry? ⁵ Then Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the east side of the city, and there made him a booth, and sat under it in the shadow, till he might see what would become of the city. ⁶ And the LORD God prepared a gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shadow over his head, to deliver him from his evil case. So Jonah was exceeding glad because of the gourd. ⁷ But God prepared a worm when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourd, that it withered. ⁸ And it came to pass, when the sun arose, that God prepared a sultry east wind; and the sun beat upon the head of Jonah, that he fainted, and requested for himself that he might die, and said, It is better for me to die than to live. ⁹ And God said to Jonah, Doest thou well to be angry for the gourd? And he said, I do well to be angry even unto death. ¹⁰ And the LORD said, Thou hast had pity on the gourd; for the which thou hast not laboured, neither madest it grow; which came up in a night, and perished in a night: ¹¹ and should not I have pity on Nineveh, that great city; wherein are more than sixscore thousand persons that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand; and also much cattle?

MICAHA.

¹ The word of the LORD that came to Micah the Morashtite in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, which he saw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem. ² Hear, ye peoples, all of you; hearken, O earth, and all that therein is: and let the Lord GOD be witness against you, the Lord from his holy temple. ³ For, behold, the LORD cometh forth out of his place, and will come down, and tread upon the high places of the earth. ⁴ And the mountains shall be molten under him, and the valleys shall be cleft, as wax before the fire, as waters that are poured down a steep place. ⁵ For the transgression of Jacob is all this, and for the sins of the house of Israel. What is the transgression of Jacob? is it not Samaria? and what are the high places of Judah? are they not Jerusalem? ⁶ Therefore I will make Samaria as an heap of the field, and as the plantings of a vineyard: and I will pour down the stones thereof into the valley, and I will discover the foundations thereof. ⁷ And all her graven images shall be beaten to pieces, and all her hires shall be burned with fire, and all her idols will I lay desolate: for of the hire of an harlot hath she gathered them, and unto the hire of an harlot shall they return. ⁸ For this will I wail and howl, I will go stripped and naked: I will make a wailing like the jackals, and a mourning like the ostriches. ⁹ For her wounds are incurable: for it is come even unto Judah; it reacheth unto the gate of my people, even to Jerusalem. ¹⁰ Tell it not in Gath, weep not at all: at Beth-le-Aphrah have I rolled myself in the dust. ¹¹ Pass ye away, O inhabitant of Shaphir, in nakedness and shame: the inhabitant of Zaanan is not come forth; the wailing of Beth-ezel shall take from you the stay thereof. ¹² For the inhabitant of Maroth waiteth anxiously for good: because evil is come down from the LORD unto the gate of Jerusalem. ¹³ Bind the chariot to the swift steed, O inhabitant of Lachish: she was the beginning of sin to the daughter of Zion; for the transgressions of Israel were found in thee. ¹⁴ Therefore shalt thou give a parting gift to Moresheth-gath: the houses of Achzib shall be a deceitful thing unto the kings of Israel. ¹⁵ I will yet bring unto thee, O inhabitant of Mareshah, him that shall possess thee: the glory of Israel shall come even unto Adullam. ¹⁶ Make thee bald, and poll thee for the children of thy delight: enlarge thy baldness as the eagle; for they are gone into captivity from thee.

¹ Woe to them that devise iniquity and work evil upon their beds! when the morning is light, they practise it, because it is in the power of their hand. ² And they covet fields, and seize them; and houses, and take them away: and they oppress a man and his house, even a man and his heritage. ³ Therefore thus saith the LORD: Behold, against this family do I devise an evil, from which ye shall not remove your necks, neither shall ye walk haughtily; for it is an evil time. ⁴ In that day shall they take up a parable against you, and lament with a doleful lamentation, and say, We be utterly spoiled: he changeth the portion of my people: how doth he remove it from me! to the rebellious he divideth our fields. ⁵ Therefore thou shalt have none that shall cast the line by lot in the congregation of the LORD. ⁶ Prophecy ye not, thus they prophesy. They shall not prophesy to these: reproaches shall not depart. ⁷ Shall it be said, O house of Jacob, Is the spirit of the LORD straitened? are these his doings? Do not my words do good to him that walketh uprightly? ⁸ But of late my people is risen up as an enemy: ye strip the robe from off the garment from them that pass by securely as men averse from war. ⁹ The women of my people ye cast out from their pleasant houses; from their young children ye take away my glory for ever. ¹⁰ Arise ye, and depart; for this is not your rest: because of uncleanness that destroyeth, even with a grievous destruction. ¹¹ If a man walking in wind and falsehood do lie, saying, I will prophesy unto thee of wine and of strong drink; he shall even be the prophet of this people. ¹² I will surely assemble, O Jacob, all of thee; I will surely gather the remnant of Israel; I will put them together as the sheep of Bozrah: as a flock in the midst of their pasture, they shall make great noise

by reason of the multitude of men. ¹³ The breaker is gone up before them: they have broken forth and passed on to the gate, and are gone out thereat: and their king is passed on before them, and the LORD at the head of them.

¹ And I said, Hear, I pray you, ye heads of Jacob, and rulers of the house of Israel: is it not for you to know judgment? ² who hate the good, and love the evil; who pluck off their skin from off them, and their flesh from off their bones; ³ who also eat the flesh of my people; and they flay their skin from off them, and break their bones: yea, they chop them in pieces, as for the pot, and as flesh within the caldron. ⁴ Then shall they cry unto the LORD, but he will not answer them: yea, he will hide his face from them at that time, according as they have wrought evil in their doings. ⁵ Thus saith the LORD concerning the prophets that make my people to err; that bite with their teeth and cry, Peace; and whoso putteth not into their mouths, they even prepare war against him: ⁶ Therefore it shall be night unto you, that ye shall have no vision; and it shall be dark unto you, that ye shall not divine; and the sun shall go down upon the prophets, and the day shall be black over them. ⁷ And the seers shall be ashamed, and the diviners confounded; yea, they shall all cover their lips: for there is no answer of God. ⁸ But I truly am full of power by the spirit of the LORD, and of judgment, and of might, to declare unto Jacob his transgression, and to Israel his sin. ⁹ Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and rulers of the house of Israel, that abhor judgment, and pervert all equity. ¹⁰ They build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity. ¹¹ The heads thereof judge for reward, and the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof divine for money: yet will they lean upon the LORD, and say, Is not the LORD in the midst of us? no evil shall come upon us. ¹² Therefore shall Zion for your sake be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of a forest.

¹ But in the latter days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the LORD'S house shall be established in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and peoples shall flow unto it. ² And many nations shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem. ³ and he shall judge between many peoples, and shall reprove strong nations afar off; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more. ⁴ But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree; and none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the LORD of hosts hath spoken it. ⁵ For all the peoples will walk every one in the name of his god, and we will walk in the name of the LORD our God for ever and ever. ⁶ In that day, saith the LORD, will I assemble her that halteth, and I will gather her that is driven away, and her that I have afflicted; ⁷ and I will make her that halted a remnant, and her that was cast far off a strong nation: and the LORD shall reign over them in mount Zion from henceforth even for ever. ⁸ And thou, O tower of the flock, the hill of the daughter of Zion, unto thee shall it come; yea, the former dominion shall come, the kingdom of the daughter of Jerusalem. ⁹ Now why dost thou cry out aloud? Is there no king in thee, is thy counsellor perished, that pangs have taken hold of thee as of a woman in travail? ¹⁰ Be in pain, and labour to bring forth, O daughter of Zion, like a woman in travail: for now shalt thou go forth out of the city, and shalt dwell in the field, and shalt come even unto Babylon; there shalt thou be rescued; there shall the LORD redeem thee from the hand of thine enemies. ¹¹ And now many nations are assembled against thee, that say, Let her be defiled, and let our eye see its desire upon Zion. ¹² But they know not the thoughts of the LORD, neither understand they his counsel: for he hath gathered them as the sheaves to the threshingfloor. ¹³ Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion: for I will make thine horn iron, and I will make thy hoofs brass: and thou shalt beat in pieces many peoples: and thou shalt devote their gain unto the LORD, and their substance unto the Lord of the whole earth.

¹Now shalt thou gather thyself in troops, O daughter of troops: he hath laid siege against us: they shall smite the judge of Israel with a rod upon the cheek. ²But thou, Beth-lehem Ephrathah, which art little to be among the thousands of Judah, out of thee shall one come forth unto me that is to be ruler in Israel; whose goings forth are from of old, from everlasting. ³Therefore will he give them up, until the time that she which travaileth hath brought forth: then the residue of his brethren shall return unto the children of Israel. ⁴And he shall stand, and shall feed his flock in the strength of the LORD, in the majesty of the name of the LORD his God: and they shall abide; for now shall he be great unto the ends of the earth. ⁵And this man shall be our peace: when the Assyrian shall come into our land, and when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seven shepherds, and eight principal men. ⁶And they shall waste the land of Assyria with the sword, and the land of Nimrod in the entrances thereof: and he shall deliver us from the Assyrian, when he cometh into our land, and when he treadeth within our border. ⁷And the remnant of Jacob shall be in the midst of many peoples as dew from the LORD, as showers upon the grass; that tarrieth not for man, nor waiteth for the sons of men. ⁸And the remnant of Jacob shall be among the nations, in the midst of many peoples, as a lion among the beasts of the forest, as a young lion among the flocks of sheep: who, if he go through, treadeth down and teareth in pieces, and there is none to deliver. ⁹Let thine hand be lifted up above thine adversaries, and let all thine enemies be cut off. ¹⁰And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD, that I will cut off thy horses out of the midst of thee, and will destroy thy chariots: ¹¹and I will cut off the cities of thy land, and will throw down all thy strong holds: ¹²And I will cut off witchcrafts out of thine hand; and thou shalt have no more soothsayers: ¹³and I will cut off thy graven images and thy pillars out of the midst of thee; and thou shalt no more worship the work of thine hands. ¹⁴and I will pluck up thine Asherim out of the midst of thee: and I will destroy thy cities. ¹⁵And I will execute vengeance in anger and fury upon the nations which hearkened not.

¹Hear ye now what the LORD saith: Arise, contend thou before the mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice. ²Hear, O ye mountains, the LORD'S controversy, and ye enduring foundations of the earth: for the LORD hath a controversy with his people, and he will plead with Israel. ³O my people, what have I done unto thee? and wherein have I wearied thee? testify against me. ⁴For I brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed thee out of the house of bondage; and I sent before thee Moses, Aaron, and Miriam. ⁵O my people, remember now what Balak king of Moab consulted, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him; remember from Shittim unto Gilgal, that ye may know the righteous acts of the LORD. ⁶Wherewith shall I come before the LORD, and bow myself before the high God? shall I come before him with burnt offerings, with calves of a year old? ⁷will the LORD be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousands of rivers of oil? shall I give my firstborn for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul? ⁸He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the LORD require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God? ⁹The voice of the LORD crieth unto the city, and the man of wisdom will see thy name: hear ye the rod, and who hath appointed it. ¹⁰Are there yet the treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and the scant measure that is abominable? ¹¹Shall I be pure with wicked balances, and with a bag of deceitful weights? ¹²For the rich men thereof are full of violence, and the inhabitants thereof have spoken lies, and their tongue is deceitful in their mouth. ¹³Therefore I also have smitten thee with a grievous wound; I have made thee desolate because of thy sins. ¹⁴Thou shalt eat, but not be satisfied; and thy humiliation shall be in the midst of thee: and thou shalt remove, but shalt not carry away safe; and that which thou carriest away will I give up to the sword. ¹⁵ Thou shalt sow, but shalt not reap: thou shalt tread the olives, but shalt not anoint thee with oil; and the vintage, but shalt not drink the wine. ¹⁶ For the statutes of Omri are kept, and all the works of the house of Ahab, and ye walk in their counsels: that I should make thee a desolation, and the inhabitants thereof an hissing; and ye shall bear the reproach of my people.

¹ Woe is me! for I am as when they have gathered the summer fruits, as the grape gleanings of the vintage: there is no cluster to eat; my soul desireth the firstripe fig. ² The godly man is perished out of the earth, and there is none upright among men: they all lie in wait for blood; they hunt every man his brother with a net. ³ Their hands are upon that which is evil to do it diligently; the prince asketh, and the judge is ready for a reward; and the great man, he uttereth the mischief of his soul: thus they weave it together. ⁴ The best of them is as a brier: the most upright is worse than a thorn hedge: the day of thy watchmen, even thy visitation, is come; now shall be their perplexity. ⁵ Trust ye not in a friend, put ye not confidence in a guide: keep the doors of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosom. ⁶ For the son dishonoureth the father, the daughter riseth up against her mother, the daughter in law against her mother in law; a man's enemies are the men of his own house. ⁷ But as for me, I will look unto the LORD; I will wait for the God of my salvation: my God will hear me. ⁸ Rejoice not against me, O mine enemy: when I fall, I shall arise; when I sit in darkness, the LORD shall be a light unto me. ⁹ I will bear the indignation of the LORD, because I have sinned against him; until he plead my cause, and execute judgment for me: he will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold his righteousness. ¹⁰ Then mine enemy shall see it, and shame shall cover her; which said unto me, Where is the LORD thy God? Mine eyes shall behold her; now shall she be trodden down as the mire of the streets. ¹¹ A day for building thy walls! in that day shall the decree be far removed. ¹² In that day shall they come unto thee, from Assyria and the cities of Egypt, and from Egypt even to the River, and from sea to sea, and from mountain to mountain. ¹³ Yet shall the land be desolate because of them that dwell therein, for the fruit of their doings. ¹⁴ Feed thy people with thy rod, the flock of thine heritage, which dwell solitarily, in the forest in the midst of Carmel: let them feed in Bashan and Gilead, as in the days of old. ¹⁵ As in the days of thy coming forth out of the land of Egypt will I shew unto him marvelous things. ¹⁶ The nations shall see and be ashamed of all their might: they shall lay their hand upon their mouth, their ears shall be deaf. ¹⁷ They shall lick the dust like a serpent; like crawling things of the earth they shall come trembling out of their close places: they shall come with fear unto the LORD our God, and shall be afraid because of thee. ¹⁸ Who is a God like unto thee, that pardoneth iniquity, and passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage? he retaineth not his anger for ever, because he delighteth in mercy. ¹⁹ He will turn again and have compassion upon us; he will tread our iniquities under foot: and thou wilt cast all their sins into the depths of the sea. ²⁰ Thou wilt perform the truth to Jacob, and the mercy to Abraham, which thou hast sworn unto our fathers from the days of old.

NAHUM.

¹The burden of Nineveh. The book of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite. ²The LORD is a jealous God and avengeth; the LORD avengeth and is full of wrath; the LORD taketh vengeance on his adversaries, and he reserveth wrath for his enemies. ³The LORD is slow to anger, and great in power, and will by no means clear the guilty: the LORD hath his way in the whirlwind and in the storm, and the clouds are the dust of his feet. ⁴He rebuketh the sea, and maketh it dry, and drieth up all the rivers: Bashan languisheth, and Carmel, and the flower of Lebanon languisheth. ⁵The mountains quake at him, and the hills melt; and the earth is upheaved at his presence, yea, the world, and all that dwell therein. ⁶Who can stand before his indignation? and who can abide in the fierceness of his anger? his fury is poured out like fire, and the rocks are broken asunder by him. ⁷The LORD is good, a strong hold in the day of trouble; and he knoweth them that put their trust in him. ⁸But with an overrunning flood he will make a full end of the place thereof, and will pursue his enemies into darkness. ⁹What do ye imagine against the LORD? he will make a full end: affliction shall not rise up the second time. ¹⁰For though they be like tangled thorns, told be drenched as it were in their drink, they shall be devoured utterly as dry stubble. ¹¹There is one gone forth out of thee, that imagineth evil against the LORD, that counselleth wickedness. ¹²Thus saith the LORD: Though they be in full strength, and likewise many, even so shall they be cut down, and he shall pass away. Though I have afflicted thee, I will afflict thee no more. ¹³And now will I break his yoke from off thee, and will burst thy bonds in sunder. ¹⁴And the LORD hath given commandment concerning thee, that no more of thy name be sown: out of the house of thy gods will I cut off the graven image and the molten image; I will make thy grave; for thou art vile. ¹⁵Behold, upon the mountains the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace! Keep thy feasts, O Judah, perform thy vows: for the wicked one shall no more pass through thee; he is utterly cut off.

¹He that dasheth in pieces is come up before thy face: keep the munition, watch the way, make thy loins strong, fortify thy power mightily. ²For the LORD bringeth again the excellency of Jacob, as the excellency of Israel: for the emptiers have emptied them out, and marred their vine branches. ³The shield of his mighty men is made red, the valiant men are in scarlet: the chariots flash with steel in the day of his preparation, and the spears are shaken terribly. ⁴The chariots rage in the streets, they jostle one against another in the broad ways: the appearance of them is like torches, they run like the lightnings. ⁵He remembereth his worthies: they stumble in their march; they make haste to the wall thereof, and the mantelet is prepared. ⁶The gates of the rivers are opened, and the palace is dissolved. ⁷And Huzzab is uncovered, she is carried away, and her handmaids mourn as with the voice of doves, tabering upon their breasts. ⁸But Nineveh hath been from of old like a pool of water: yet they flee away; Stand, stand, they cry; but none looketh back. ⁹Take ye the spoil of silver, take the spoil of gold: for there is none end of the store, the glory of all pleasant furniture. ¹⁰She is empty, and void, and waste: and the heart melteth, and the knees smite together, and anguish is in all loins, and the faces of them all are waxed pale. ¹¹Where is the den of the lions, and the feeding place of the young lions, where the lion and the lioness walked, the lion's whelp, and none made them afraid? ¹²The lion did tear in pieces enough for his whelps, and strangled for his lionesses, and filled his caves with prey, and his dens with ravin. ¹³Behold, I am against thee, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will burn her chariots in the smoke, and the sword shall devour thy young lions: and I will cut off thy prey from the earth, and the voice of thy messengers shall no more be heard.

¹Woe to the bloody city! it is all full of lies and rapine; the prey departeth not. ²The

noise of the whip, and the noise of the rattling of wheels; and prancing horses, and jumping chariots; ³ the horseman mounting, and the flashing sword, and the glittering spear; and a multitude of slain, and a great heap of carcases: and there is none end of the corpses; they stumble upon their corpses: ⁴ because of the multitude of the whoredoms of the well favoured harlot, the mistress of witchcrafts, that selleth nations through her whoredoms, and families through her witchcrafts. ⁵ Behold, I am against thee, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will discover thy skirts upon thy face; and I will shew the nations thy nakedness, and the kingdoms thy shame. ⁶ And I will cast abominable filth upon thee, and make thee vile, and will set thee as a gazingstock. ⁷ And it shall come to pass, that all they that look upon thee shall flee from thee, and say, Nineveh is laid waste: who will bemoan her? whence shall I seek comforters for thee? ⁸ Art thou better than No-amon, that was situate among the rivers, that had the waters round about her; whose rampart was the sea, and her wall was of the sea? ⁹ Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength, and it was infinite; Put and Lubim were thy helpers. ¹⁰ Yet was she carried away, she went into captivity: her young children also were dashed in pieces at the top of all the streets: and they cast lots for her honourable men, and all her great men were bound in chains. ¹¹ Thou also shalt be drunken, thou shalt be hid; thou also shalt seek a strong hold because of the enemy. ¹² All thy fortresses shall be like fig trees with the firstripe figs: if they be shaken, they fall into the mouth of the eater. ¹³ Behold, thy people in the midst of thee are women; the gates of thy land are set wide open unto thine enemies: the fire hath devoured thy bars. ¹⁴ Draw thee water for the siege, strengthen thy fortresses: go into the clay, and tread the mortar, make strong the brickkiln. ¹⁵ There shall the fire devour thee; the sword shall cut thee off, it shall devour thee like the cankerworm: make thyself many as the cankerworm, make thyself many as the locust. ¹⁶ Thou hast multiplied thy merchants above the stars of heaven: the cankerworm spoileth, and flieth away. ¹⁷ Thy crowned are as the locusts, and thy marshals as the swarms of grasshoppers, which camp in the hedges in the cold day, but when the sun ariseth they flee away, and their place is not known where they are. ¹⁸ Thy shepherds slumber, O king of Assyria: thy worthies are at rest: thy people are scattered upon the mountains, and there is none to gather them. ¹⁹ There is no assuaging of thy hurt; thy wound is grievous: all that hear the bruit of thee clap the hands over thee; for upon whom hath not thy wickedness passed continually?

HABAKKUK.

¹ The burden which Habakkuk the prophet did see. ² O LORD, how long shall I cry, and thou wilt not hear? I cry out unto thee of violence, and thou wilt not save. ³ Why dost thou shew me iniquity, and look upon perverseness? for spoiling and violence are before me: and there is strife, and contention riseth up. ⁴ Therefore the law is slacked, and judgment doth never go forth: for the wicked doth compass about the righteous; therefore judgment goeth forth perverted. ⁵ Behold ye among the nations, and regard, and wonder marvelously: for I work a work in your days, which ye will not believe though it be told you. ⁶ For, lo, I raise up the Chaldeans, that bitter and hasty nation; which march through the breadth of the earth, to possess dwelling places that are not theirs. ⁷ They are terrible and dreadful: their judgment and their dignity proceed from themselves. ⁸ Their horses also are swifter than leopards, and are more fierce than the evening wolves; and their horsemen spread themselves: yea, their horsemen come from far; they fly as an eagle that hasteth to devour. ⁹ They come all of them for violence; their faces are set eagerly as the east wind; and they gather captives as the sand. ¹⁰ Yea, he scoffeth at kings, and princes are a derision unto him: he derideth every strong hold; for he heapeth up dust, and taketh it. ¹¹ Then shall he sweep by as a wind, and shall pass over, and be guilty: even he whose might is his god. ¹² Art not thou from everlasting, O LORD my God, mine Holy One? we shall not die. O LORD, thou hast ordained him for judgment; and thou, O Rock, hast established him for correction. ¹³ Thou that art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and that canst not look on perverseness, wherefore lookest thou upon them that deal treacherously, and holdest thy peace when the wicked swalloweth up the man that is more righteous than he; ¹⁴ and makest men as the fishes of the sea, as the creeping things, that have no ruler over them? ¹⁵ He taketh up all of them with the angle, he catcheth them in his net, and gathereth them in his drag; therefore he rejoiceth and is glad. ¹⁶ Therefore he sacrificeth unto his net, and burneth incense unto his drag; because by them his portion is fat, and his meat plenteous. ¹⁷ Shall he therefore empty his net, and not spare to slay the nations continually?

¹ I WILL stand upon my watch, and set me upon the tower, and will look forth to see what he will speak with me, and what I shall answer concerning my complaint. ² And the LORD answered me, and said, Write the vision, and make it plain upon tables, that he may run that readeth it. ³ For the vision is yet for the appointed time, and it hasteth toward the end, and shall not lie: though it tarry, wait for it; because it will surely come, it will not delay. ⁴ Behold, his soul is puffed up, it is not upright in him: but the just shall live by his faith. ⁵ Yea, moreover, wine is a treacherous dealer, a haughty man, and that keepeth not at home; who enlargeth his desire as hell, and he is as death, and cannot be satisfied, but gathereth unto him all nations, and heapeth unto him all peoples. ⁶ Shall not all these take up a parable against him, and a taunting proverb against him, and say, Woe to him that increaseth that which is not his! how long? and that ladeth himself with pledges! ⁷ Shall they not rise up suddenly that shall bite thee, and awake that shall vex thee, and thou shalt be for booties unto them? ⁸ Because thou hast spoiled many nations, all the remnant of the peoples shall spoil thee; because of men's blood, and for the violence done to the land, to the city and to all that dwell therein. ⁹ Woe to him that getteth an evil gain for his house, that he may set his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the hand of evil! ¹⁰ Thou hast consulted shame to thy house, by cutting off many peoples, and hast sinned against thy soul. ¹¹ For the stone shall cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the timber shall answer it. ¹² Woe to him that buildeth a town with blood, and stablisheth a city by iniquity! ¹³ Behold, is it not of the LORD of hosts that the peoples labour for the fire, and the nations weary themselves for vanity? ¹⁴ For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea.

¹⁵ Woe unto him that giveth his neighbour drink, that addest thy venom thereto, and makest him drunken also, that thou mayest look on their nakedness! ¹⁶ Thou art filled with shame for glory: drink thou also, and be as one uncircumcised: the cup of the LORD'S right hand shall be turned unto thee, and foul shame shall be upon thy glory. ¹⁷ For the violence done to Lebanon shall cover thee, and the destruction of the beasts, which made them afraid; because of men's blood, and for the violence done to the land, to the city and to all that dwell therein. ¹⁸ What profiteth the graven image, that the maker thereof hath graven it; the molten image, and the teacher of lies, that the maker of his work trusteth therein, to make dumb idols? ¹⁹ Woe unto him that saith to the wood, Awake; to the dumb stone, Arise! Shall this teach? Behold, it is laid over with gold and silver, and there is no breath at all in the midst of it. ²⁰ But the LORD is in his holy temple: let all the earth keep silence before him.

¹ A PRAYER of Habakkuk the prophet, set to Shigionoth. ² O LORD, I have heard the report of thee, and am afraid: O LORD, revive thy work in the midst of the years, in the midst of the years make it known; in wrath remember mercy. ³ God came from Teman, and the Holy One from mount Paran.

Selah
 His glory covered the heavens, and the earth was full of his praise. ⁴ And his brightness was as the light; he had rays coming forth from his hand: and there was the hiding of his power. ⁵ Before him went the pestilence, and fiery bolts went forth at his feet. ⁶ He stood, and measured the earth; he beheld, and drove asunder the nations: and the eternal mountains were scattered, the everlasting hills did bow; his goings were as of old. ⁷ I saw the tents of Cushan in affliction: the curtains of the land of Midian did tremble. ⁸ Was the LORD displeased against the rivers? was thine anger against the rivers, or thy wrath against the sea, that thou didst ride upon thine horses, upon thy chariots of salvation? ⁹ Thy bow was made quite bare; the oaths to the tribes were a sure word.

Selah
 Thou didst cleave the earth with rivers. ¹⁰ The mountains saw thee, and were afraid; the tempest of waters passed by: the deep uttered his voice, and lifted up his hands on high. ¹¹ The sun and moon stood still in their habitation; at the light of thine arrows as they went, at the shining of thy glittering spear. ¹² Thou didst march through the land in indignation, thou didst thresh the nations in anger. ¹³ Thou wentest forth for the salvation of thy people, for the salvation of thine anointed; thou woundedst the head out of the house of the wicked, laying bare the foundation even unto the neck.

Selah
¹⁴ Thou didst pierce with his own staves the head of his warriors: they came as a whirlwind to scatter me: their rejoicing was as to devour the poor secretly. ¹⁵ Thou didst tread the sea with thine horses, the heap of mighty waters. ¹⁶ I heard, and my belly trembled, my lips quivered at the voice; rottenness entered into my bones, and I trembled in my place: that I should rest in the day of trouble, when it cometh up against the people which invadeth him in troops. ¹⁷ For though the fig tree shall not blossom, neither shall fruit be in the vines; the labour of the olive shall fail, and the fields shall yield no meat; the flock shall be cut off from the fold, and there shall be no herd in the stalls: ¹⁸ Yet I will rejoice in the LORD, I will joy in the God of my salvation. ¹⁹ Jehovah, the Lord, is my strength, and he maketh my feet like hinds' feet, and will make me to walk upon mine high places. For the Chief Musician, on my stringed instruments.

ZEPHANIAH.

¹The word of the LORD which came unto Zephaniah the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hezekiah, in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah. ²I will utterly consume all things from off the face of the ground, saith the LORD. ³I will consume man and beast; I will consume the fowls of the heaven, and the fishes of the sea, and the stumblingblocks with the wicked; and I will cut off man from off the face of the ground, saith the LORD. ⁴And I will stretch out mine hand upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, and the name of the Chemarim with the priests; ⁵and them that worship the host of heaven upon the housetops; and them that worship, which swear to the LORD and swear by Malcam; ⁶and them that are turned back from following the LORD; and those that have not sought the LORD, nor inquired after him. ⁷Hold thy peace at the presence of the Lord GOD: for the day of the LORD is at hand: for the LORD hath prepared a sacrifice, he hath sanctified his guests. ⁸And it shall come to pass in the day of the LORD'S sacrifice, that I will punish the princes, and the king's sons, and all such as are clothed with foreign apparel. ⁹And in that day I will punish all those that leap over the threshold, which fill their master's house with violence and deceit. ¹⁰And in that day, saith the LORD, there shall be the noise of a cry from the fish gate, and an howling from the second quarter, and a great crashing from the hills. ¹¹Howl, ye inhabitants of Maktesh, for all the people of Canaan are undone: all they that were laden with sliver are cut off. ¹²And it shall come to pass at that time, that I will search Jerusalem with candles; and I will punish the men that are settled on their lees, that say in their heart, The LORD will not do good, neither will he do evil. ¹³And their wealth shall become a spoil, and their houses a desolation: yea, they shall build houses, but shall not inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, but shall not drink the wine thereof. ¹⁴The great day of the LORD is near, it is near and hasteth greatly, even the voice of the day of the LORD; the mighty man crieth there bitterly. ¹⁵That day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and distress, a day of wasteness and desolation, a day of darkness and gloominess, a day of clouds and thick darkness, ¹⁶a day of the trumpet and alarm, against the fenced cities, and against the high battlements. ¹⁷And I will bring distress upon men, that they shall walk like blind men, because they have sinned against the LORD: and their blood shall be poured out as dust, and their flesh as dung. ¹⁸Neither their silver nor their gold shall be able to deliver them in the day of the LORD'S wrath; but the whole land shall be devoured by the fire of his jealousy: for he shall make an end, yea, a terrible end, of all them that dwell in the land.

¹Gather yourselves together, yea, gather together, O nation that hath no shame; ²before the decree bring forth, before the day pass as the chaff, before the fierce anger of the LORD come upon you, before the day of the LORD'S anger come upon you. ³Seek ye the LORD, all ye meek of the earth, which have wrought his judgment; seek righteousness, seek meekness: it may be ye shall be hid in the day of the LORD'S anger. ⁴For Gaza shall be forsaken, and Ashkelon a desolation: they shall drive out Ashdod at the noonday, and Ekron shall be rooted up. ⁵Woe unto the inhabitants of the sea coast, the nation of the Cherethites! The word of the LORD is against you, O Canaan, the land of the Philistines; I will destroy thee, that there shall be no inhabitant. ⁶And the sea coast shall be pastures, with cottages for shepherds and folds for flocks. ⁷And the coast shall be for the remnant of the house of Judah; they shall feed their flocks thereupon: in the houses of Ashkelon shall they lie down in the evening; for the LORD their God shall visit them, and bring again their captivity. ⁸I have heard the reproach of Moab, and the revilings of the children of Ammon, where-with they have reproached my people, and magnified themselves against their border. ⁹Therefore as I live, saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Surely Moab shall be as Sodom, and the children of Ammon as Gomorrah, a possession of nettles, and

saltpits, and a perpetual desolation: the residue of my people shall spoil them, and the remnant of my nation shall inherit them. ¹⁰This shall they have for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against the people of the LORD of hosts. ¹¹The LORD will be terrible unto them: for he will famish all the gods of the earth; and men shall worship him, every one from his place, even all the isles of the nations. ¹²Ye Ethiopians also, ye shall be slain by my sword. ¹³And he will stretch out his hand against the north, and destroy Assyria; and will make Nineveh a desolation, and dry like the wilderness. ¹⁴And herds shall lie down in the midst of her, all the beasts of the nations: both the pelican and the porcupine shall lodge in the chapters thereof: their voice shall sing in the windows; desolation shall be in the thresholds; for he hath laid bare the cedar work. ¹⁵This is the joyous city that dwelt carelessly, that said in her heart, I am, and there is none else beside me: how is she become a desolation, a place for beasts to lie down in! every one that passeth by her shall hiss, and wag his hand.

¹Woe to her that is rebellious and polluted, to the oppressing city! ²She obeyed not the voice; she received not correction; she trusted not in the LORD; she drew not near to her God. ³Her princes in the midst of her are roaring lions; her judges are evening wolves; they leave nothing till the morrow. ⁴Her prophets are light and treacherous persons: her priests have profaned the sanctuary, they have done violence to the law. ⁵The LORD in the midst of her is righteous; he will not do iniquity; every morning doth he bring his judgment to light, he faileth not; but the unjust knoweth no shame. ⁶I have cut off nations, their battlements are desolate; I have made their streets waste, that none passeth by: their cities are destroyed, so that there is no man, that there is none inhabitant. ⁷I said, Surely thou wilt fear me, thou wilt receive correction; so her dwelling should not be cut off, according to all that I have appointed concerning her: but they rose early and corrupted all their doings. ⁸Therefore wait ye for me,

saith the LORD, until the day that I rise up to the prey: for my determination is to gather the nations, that I may assemble the kingdoms, to pour upon them mine indignation, even all my fierce anger; for all the earth shall be devoured with the fire of my jealousy. ⁹For then will I turn to the peoples a pure language, that they may all call upon the name of the LORD, to serve him with one consent. ¹⁰From beyond the rivers of Ethiopia my suppliants, even the daughter of my dispersed, shall bring mine offering. ¹¹In that day shalt thou not be ashamed for all thy doings, wherein thou hast transgressed against me: for then I will take away out of the midst of thee thy proudly exulting ones, and thou shalt no more be haughty in my holy mountain. ¹²But I will leave in the midst of thee an afflicted and poor people, and they shall trust in the name of the LORD. ¹³The remnant of Israel shall not do iniquity, nor speak lies; neither shall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth: for they shall feed and lie down, and none shall make them afraid. ¹⁴Sing, O daughter of Zion; shout, O Israel; be glad and rejoice with all the heart, O daughter of Jerusalem. ¹⁵The LORD hath taken away thy judgments, he hath cast out thine enemy: the king of Israel, even the LORD, is in the midst of thee: thou shalt not fear evil any more. ¹⁶In that day it shall be said to Jerusalem, Fear thou not: O Zion, let not thine hands be slack. ¹⁷The LORD thy God is in the midst of thee, a mighty one who will save: he will rejoice over thee with joy, he will rest in his love, he will joy over thee with singing. ¹⁸I will gather them that sorrow for the solemn assembly, who were of thee: to whom the burden upon her was a reproach. ¹⁹Behold, at that time I will deal with all them that afflict thee: and I will save her that halteth, and gather her that was driven away; and I will make them a praise and a name, whose shame hath been in all the earth. ²⁰At that time will I bring you in, and at that time will I gather you: for I will make you a name and a praise among all the peoples of the earth, when I bring again your captivity before your eyes, saith the LORD.

HAGGAI.

¹In the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet unto Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, saying, ²Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, This people say, It is not the time for us to come, the time for the LORD'S house to be built. ³Then came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying, ⁴Is it a time for you yourselves to dwell in your cieled houses, while this house lieth waste? ⁵Now therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts: Consider your ways, ⁶Ye have sown much, and bring in little; ye eat, but ye have not enough; ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink; ye clothe you, but there is none warm; and he that earneth wages earneth wages to put it into a bag with holes. ⁷Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Consider your ways. ⁸Go up to the mountain, and bring wood, and build the house; and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, saith the LORD. ⁹Ye looked for much, and, lo, it came to little; and when ye brought it home, I did blow upon it. Why? saith the LORD of hosts. Because of mine house that lieth waste, while ye run every man to his own house. ¹⁰Therefore for your sake the heaven is stayed from dew, and the earth is stayed from her fruit. ¹¹And I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the corn, and upon the wine, and upon the oil, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon cattle, and upon all the labour of the hands. ¹²Then Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, with all the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of the LORD their God, and the words of Haggai the prophet, as the LORD their God had sent him; and the people did fear before the LORD. ¹³Then spake Haggai the LORD'S messenger in the LORD'S message unto the people, saying, I am with you, saith the LORD. ¹⁴And the LORD stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people; and they came and did work in the house of the LORD of hosts, their God, ¹⁵in the four and twentieth day of the month, in the sixth month, in the second year of Darius the king.

¹In the seventh month, in the one and twentieth day of the month, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying, ²Speak now to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and to the remnant of the people, saying, ³Who is left among you that saw this house in its former glory? and how do ye see it now? is it not in your eyes as nothing? ⁴Yet now be strong, O Zerubbabel, saith the LORD; and be strong, O Joshua, son of Jehozadak, the high priest; and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the LORD, and work: for I am with you, saith the LORD of hosts, ⁵according to the word that I covenanted with you when ye came out of Egypt, and my spirit abode among you: fear ye not. ⁶For thus saith the LORD of hosts: Yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land; ⁷and I will shake all nations, and the desirable things of all nations shall come, and I will fill this house with glory, saith the LORD of hosts. ⁸The silver is mine, and the gold is mine, saith the LORD of hosts. ⁹The latter glory of this house shall be greater than the former, saith the LORD of hosts: and in this place will I give peace, saith the LORD of hosts. ¹⁰In the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying, ¹¹Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Ask now the priests concerning the law, saying, ¹²If one bear holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touch bread, or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any meat, shall it become holy? And the priests answered and said, No. ¹³Then said Haggai, If one that is unclean by a dead body touch any of these, shall it be unclean? And the priests answered and said, It shall be unclean. ¹⁴Then answered

Haggai and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the LORD; and so is every work of their hands; and that which they offer there is unclean. ¹⁵ And now, I pray you, consider from this day and upward, from before a stone was laid upon a stone in the temple of the LORD: ¹⁶ Through all that time, when one came to an heap of twenty measures, there were but ten; when one came to the winefat for to draw out fifty vessels, there were but twenty. ¹⁷ I smote you with blasting and with mildew and with hail in all the work of your hands; yet ye turned not to me, saith the LORD. ¹⁸ Consider, I pray you, from this day and upward, from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, since the day that the foundation of the LORD'S temple was laid, consider it. ¹⁹ Is the seed yet in the barn? yea, the vine, and the fig tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive tree hath not brought forth; from this day will I bless you. ²⁰ And the word of the LORD came the second time unto Haggai in the four and twentieth day of the month, saying, ²¹ Speak to Zerubbabel, governor of Judah, saying, I will shake the heavens and the earth: ²² and I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the nations; and I will overthrow the chariots, and those that ride in them; and the horses and their riders shall come down, every one by the sword of his brother. ²³ In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel, my servant, the son of Shealtiel, saith the LORD, and will make thee as a signet: for I have chosen thee, saith the LORD of hosts.

ZECHARIAH.

¹In the eighth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, the prophet, saying, ²The LORD hath been sore displeased with your fathers. ³Therefore say thou unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Return unto me, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts. ⁴Be ye not as your fathers, unto whom the former prophets cried, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Return ye now from your evil ways, and from your evil doings: but they did not hear, nor hearken unto me, saith the LORD. ⁵Your fathers, where are they? and the prophets, do they live for ever? ⁶But my words and my statutes, which I commanded my servants the prophets, did they not overtake your fathers? and they turned and said, Like as the LORD of hosts thought to do unto us, according to our ways, and according to our doings, so hath he dealt with us. ⁷Upon the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is the month Shebat, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto Zechariah the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo, the prophet, saying, ⁸I saw in the night, and behold a man riding upon a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle trees that were in the bottom; and behind him there were horses, red, sorrel, and white. ⁹Then said I, O my lord, what are these? And the angel that talked with me said unto me, I will shew thee what these be. ¹⁰And the man that stood among the myrtle trees answered and said, These are they whom the LORD hath sent to walk to and fro through the earth. ¹¹And they answered the angel of the LORD that stood among the myrtle trees, and said, We have walked to and fro through the earth, and, behold, all the earth sitteth still, and is at rest. ¹²Then the angel of the LORD answered and said, O LORD of hosts, how long wilt thou not have mercy on Jerusalem and on the cities of Judah, against which thou hast had indignation these threescore and ten years? ¹³And the LORD answered the angel that talked with me with good words, even comfortable words. ¹⁴So the angel that talked with me said unto me, Cry thou, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion with a great jealousy. ¹⁵And I am very sore displeased with the nations that are at ease: for I was but a little displeased, and they helped forward the affliction. ¹⁶Therefore thus saith the LORD: I am returned to Jerusalem with mercies; my house shall be built in it, saith the LORD of hosts, and a line shall be stretched forth over Jerusalem. ¹⁷Cry yet again, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: My cities through prosperity shall yet be spread abroad; and the LORD shall yet comfort Zion, and shall yet choose Jerusalem. ¹⁸And I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold four horns. ¹⁹And I said unto the angel that talked with me, What be these? And he answered me, These are the horns which have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem. ²⁰And the LORD shewed me four smiths. ²¹Then said I, What come these to do? And he spake, saying, These are the horns which scattered Judah, so that no man did lift up his head: but these are come to fray them, to cast down the horns of the nations, which lifted up their horn against the land of Judah to scatter it.

¹And I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold a man with a measuring line in his hand. ²Then said I, Whither goest thou? And he said unto me, To measure Jerusalem, to see what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof. ³And, behold, the angel that talked with me went forth, and another angel went out to meet him, ⁴and said unto him, Run, speak to this young man, saying, Jerusalem shall be inhabited as villages without walls, by reason of the multitude of men and cattle therein. ⁵For I, saith the LORD, will be unto her a wall of fire round about, and I will be the glory in the midst of her. ⁶Ho, ho, flee from the land of the north, saith the LORD: for I have spread you abroad as the four winds of the heaven, saith the LORD. ⁷Ho Zion, escape, thou that dwellest with the daughter of Babylon. ⁸For thus saith the LORD of hosts: After glory hath he sent me unto the nations which spoiled you: for he that toucheth you toucheth the apple of his eye. ⁹For, behold, I will shake mine hand over them, and they shall be a spoil to those that served them: and ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me. ¹⁰Sing and rejoice, O daughter of Zion: for, lo, I come, and I will dwell in the midst of thee, saith the LORD. ¹¹And many nations shall join themselves to the LORD in that day, and shall be my people: and I will dwell in the midst of thee, and thou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto thee. ¹²And the LORD shall inherit Judah as his portion in the holy land, and shall yet choose Jerusalem. ¹³Be silent, all flesh, before the LORD: for he is waked up out of his holy habitation.

¹And he shewed me Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of the LORD, and Satan standing at his right hand to be his adversary. ²And the LORD said unto Satan, The LORD rebuke thee, O Satan; yea, the LORD that hath chosen Jerusalem rebuke thee: is not this a brand plucked out of the fire? ³Now Joshua was clothed with filthy garments, and stood before the angel. ⁴And he answered and spake unto those that stood before him, saying, Take the filthy garments from off him. And unto him he said, Behold, I have caused thine iniquity to pass from thee, and I will clothe thee with rich apparel. ⁵And I said, Let them set a fair mitre upon his head. So they set a fair mitre upon his head, and clothed him with garments; and the angel of the LORD stood by. ⁶And the angel of the LORD protested unto Joshua, saying, ⁷Thus saith the LORD of hosts: If thou wilt walk in my ways, and if thou wilt keep my charge, then thou also shalt judge my house, and shalt also keep my courts, and I will give thee a place of access among these that stand by. ⁸Hear now, O Joshua the high priest, thou and thy fellows that sit before thee; for they are men which are a sign: for, behold, I will bring forth my servant the Branch. ⁹For behold, the stone that I have set before Joshua; upon one stone are seven eyes: behold, I will engrave the graving thereof, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day. ¹⁰In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, shall ye call every man his neighbour under the vine and under the fig tree.

¹And the angel that talked with me came again, and waked me, as a man that is wakened out of his sleep. ²And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I said, I have seen, and behold, a candlestick all of gold, with its bowl upon the top of it, and its seven lamps thereon; there are seven pipes to each of the lamps, which are upon the top thereof: ³and two olive trees by it, one upon the right side of the bowl, and the other upon the left side thereof. ⁴And I answered and spake to the angel that talked with me, saying, What are these, my lord? ⁵Then the angel that talked with me answered and said unto me, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my lord. ⁶Then he answered and spake unto me, saying, This is the word of the LORD unto Zerubbabel, saying, Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the LORD of hosts. ⁷Who art thou, O great mountain? before Zerubbabel thou shalt become a plain: and he shall bring forth the head stone with shoutings of Grace, grace, unto it. ⁸Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ⁹The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house; his hands shall also finish it; and thou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you. ¹⁰For who hath despised the day of small things? for they shall rejoice, and shall see the plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel, even these seven, which are the eyes of the LORD; they run to and fro through the whole earth. ¹¹Then answered I, and said unto him, What are these two olive trees upon the right side of the candlestick and upon the left side thereof? ¹²And I answered the second time, and said unto him, What be these two olive branches, which are beside the two golden spouts, that empty the golden oil out of themselves? ¹³And he answered me and said, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my lord. ¹⁴Then said he, These are the two sons of oil, that stand by the Lord of the whole earth.

¹Then again I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, a flying roll. ²And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying roll; the length thereof is twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits. ³Then said he unto me, This is the curse that goeth forth over the face of the whole land: for every one that stealeth shall be purged out on the one side according to it; and every one that sweareth shall be purged out on the other side according to it. ⁴I will cause it to go forth, saith the LORD of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of him that sweareth falsely by my name: and it shall abide in the midst of his house, and shall consume it with the timber thereof and the stones thereof. ⁵Then the angel that talked with me went forth, and said unto me, Lift up now thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth. ⁶And I said, What is it? And he said, This is the ephah that goeth forth. He said moreover, This is their resemblance in all the land: ⁷(and behold, there was lifted up a talent of lead:) and this is a woman sitting in the midst of the ephah. ⁸And he said, This is Wickedness; and he cast her down into the midst of the ephah: and he cast the weight of lead upon the mouth thereof. ⁹Then lifted I up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, there came forth two women, and the wind was in their wings; now they had wings like the wings of a stork: and they lifted up the ephah between the earth and the heaven. ¹⁰Then said I to the angel that talked with me, Whither do these bear the ephah? ¹¹And he said unto me, To build her an house in the land of Shinar: and when it is prepared, she shall be set there in her own place.

¹And again I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, there came four chariots out from between two mountains; and the mountains were mountains of brass. ²In the first chariot were red horses; and in the second chariot black horses; ³and in the third chariot white horses; and in the fourth chariot grisled bay horses. ⁴Then I answered and said unto the angel that talked with me, What are these, my lord? ⁵And the angel answered and said unto me, These are the four winds of heaven, which go forth from standing before the Lord of all the earth. ⁶*The chariot wherein*

are the black horses goeth forth toward the north country; and the white went forth after them; and the grisled went forth toward the south country. ⁷And the bay went forth, and sought to go that they might walk to and fro through the earth: and he said, Get you hence, walk to and fro through the earth. So they walked to and fro through the earth. ⁸Then cried he upon me, and spake unto me, saying, Behold, they that go toward the north country have quieted my spirit in the north country. ⁹And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ¹⁰Take of them of the captivity, even of Heldai, of Tobijah, and of Jedaiah; and come thou the same day, and go into the house of Josiah the son of Zephaniah, whither they are come from Babylon; ¹¹yea, take of them silver and gold, and make crowns, and set them upon the head of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest; ¹²and speak unto him, saying, Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, Behold, the man whose name is the Branch; and he shall grow up out of his place, and he shall build the temple of the LORD; ¹³even he shall build the temple of the LORD; and he shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule upon his throne; and he shall be a priest upon his throne: and the counsel of peace shall be between them both. ¹⁴And the crowns shall be to Helem, and to Tobijah, and to Jedaiah, and to Hen the son of Zephaniah, for a memorial in the temple of the LORD. ¹⁵And they that are far off shall come and build in the temple of the LORD, and ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you. And this shall come to pass, if ye will diligently obey the voice of the LORD your God.

¹And it came to pass in the fourth year of king Darius, that the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth month, even in Chisleu. ²Now they of Beth-el had sent Sharezer and Regem-melech, and their men, to entreat the favour of the LORD, ³and to speak unto the priests of the house of the LORD of hosts, and to the prophets, saying, Should I weep in the fifth month, separating myself, as I have done these so many years? ⁴Then came the word of the LORD of hosts unto me, saying, ⁵ Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying, When ye fasted and mourned in the fifth and in the seventh month, even these seventy years, did ye at all fast unto me, even to me? ⁶ And when ye eat, and when ye drink, do not ye eat for yourselves, and drink for yourselves? ⁷ Should ye not hear the words which the LORD hath cried by the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited and in prosperity, and the cities thereof round about her, and the South and the lowland were inhabited? ⁸ And the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah, saying, ⁹ Thus hath the LORD of hosts spoken, saying, Execute true judgment, and shew mercy and compassion every man to his brother: ¹⁰ and oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the stranger, nor the poor; and let none of you imagine evil against his brother in your heart. ¹¹ But they refused to hearken, and pulled away the shoulder, and stopped their ears, that they should not hear. ¹² Yea, they made their hearts as an adamant stone, lest they should hear the law, and the words which the LORD of hosts had sent by his spirit by the hand of the former prophets: therefore came there great wrath from the LORD of hosts. ¹³ And it came to pass that, as he cried, and they would not hear; so they shall cry, and I will not hear, said the LORD of hosts; ¹⁴ but I will scatter them with a whirlwind among all the nations whom they have not known. Thus the land was desolate after them, that no man passed through nor returned: for they laid the pleasant land desolate.

playing in the streets thereof. ⁶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts: If it be marvelous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days, should it also be marvelous in mine eyes? saith the LORD of hosts. ⁷ Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Behold, I will save my people from the east country, and from the west country: ⁸ and I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness. ⁹ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Let your hands be strong, ye that hear in these days these words from the mouth of the prophets, which were in the day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts was laid, even the temple, that it might be built. ¹⁰ For before those days there was no hire for man, nor any hire for beast; neither was there any peace to him that went out or came in because of the adversary: for I set all men every one against his neighbour. ¹¹ But now I will not be unto the remnant of this people as in the former days, saith the LORD of hosts. ¹² For there shall be the seed of peace; the vine shall give her fruit, and the ground shall give her increase, and the heavens shall give their dew; and I will cause the remnant of this people to inherit all these things. ¹³ And it shall come to pass that, as ye were a curse among the nations, O house of Judah and house of Israel, so will I save you, and ye shall be a blessing: fear not, but let your hands be strong. ¹⁴ For thus saith the LORD of hosts: As I thought to do evil unto you, when your fathers provoked me to wrath, saith the LORD of hosts, and I repented not; ¹⁵ so again have I thought in these days to do good unto Jerusalem and to the house of Judah: fear ye not. ¹⁶ These are the things that ye shall do; Speak ye every man the truth with his neighbour; execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates: ¹⁷ and let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his neighbour; and love no false oath: for all these are things that I hate, saith the LORD. ¹⁸ And the word of the LORD of hosts came unto me, saying, ¹⁹ Thus saith the LORD of hosts: The fast of the fourth month, and the fast of the fifth, and the fast of the seventh, and the fast of the tenth, shall be to the house of Judah joy and gladness, and cheerful feasts; therefore love truth and peace. ²⁰ Thus saith the LORD of hosts: It shall yet come to pass, that there shall come peoples, and the inhabitants of many cities: ²¹ and the inhabitants of one city shall go to another, saying, Let us go speedily to entreat the favour of the LORD, and to seek the LORD of hosts: I will go also. ²² Yea, many peoples and strong nations shall come to seek the LORD of hosts in Jerusalem, and to entreat the favour of the LORD. ²³ Thus saith the LORD of hosts: In those days it shall come to pass, that ten men shall take hold, out of all the languages of the nations, shall even take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying, We will go with you, for we have heard that God is with you.

¹ The burden of the word of the LORD upon the land of Hadrach, and Damascus shall be its resting place: for the eye of man and of all the tribes of Israel is toward the LORD: ² and Hamath also which bordereth thereon: Tyre and Zidon, because she is very wise. ³ And Tyre did build herself a strong hold, and heaped up silver as the dust, and fine gold as the mire of the streets. ⁴ Behold, the Lord will dispossess her, and he will smite her power in the sea; and she shall be devoured with fire. ⁵ Ashkelon shall see it, and fear; Gaza also, and shall be sore pained; and Ekron, for her expectation shall be ashamed: and the king shall perish from Gaza, and Ashkelon shall not be inhabited. ⁶ And a bastard shall dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistines. ⁷ And I will take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his teeth; and he also shall be a remnant for our God: and he shall be as a chieftain in Judah, and Ekron as a Jebusite. ⁸ And I will encamp about mine house against the army, that none pass through or return: and no oppressor shall pass through them any more: for now have I seen with mine eyes. ⁹ Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion; shout, O daughter of Jerusalem: behold, thy king cometh unto thee: he is just, and having salvation; lowly, and riding upon an ass, even upon a colt the foal of an ass. ¹⁰ And I will cut off the chariot from Ephraim, and the horse from Jerusalem, and the battle bow shall be cut off; and he shall speak peace unto the nations: and his dominion shall be from sea to sea, and from the River to the ends of the earth. ¹¹ As for thee also, because of the blood of thy covenant I have sent forth thy prisoners out of the pit wherein is no water. ¹² Turn you to the strong hold, ye prisoners of hope: even today do I declare that I will render double unto thee. ¹³ For I have bent Judah for me, I have filled the bow with Ephraim; and I will stir up thy sons, O Zion, against thy sons, O Greece, and will make thee as the sword of a mighty man. ¹⁴ And the LORD shall be seen over them, and his arrow shall go forth as the lightning: and the Lord GOD shall blow the trumpet, and shall go with whirlwinds of the south. ¹⁵ The LORD of hosts shall defend them; and they shall devour, and shall tread down the sling stones; and they shall drink, and make a noise as through wine: and they shall be filled like bowls, like the corners of the altar. ¹⁶ And the LORD their God shall save them in that day as the flock of his people: for they shall be as the stones of a crown, lifted on high over his land. ¹⁷ For how great is his goodness, and how great is his beauty! corn shall make the young men flourish, and new wine the maids.

and I will save the house of Joseph, and I will bring them again, for I have mercy upon them; and they shall be as though I had not cast them off: for I am the LORD their God, and I will hear them. ⁷ And they of Ephraim shall be like a mighty man, and their heart shall rejoice as through wine: yea, their children shall see it, and rejoice; their heart shall be glad in the LORD. ⁸ I will hiss for them, and gather them; for I have redeemed them: and they shall increase as they have increased. ⁹ And I will sow them among the peoples; and they shall remember me in far countries: and they shall live with their children, and shall return. ¹⁰ I will bring them again also out of the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria; and I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon; and place shall not be found for them. ¹¹ And he shall pass through the sea of affliction, and shall smite the waves in the sea, and all the depths of the Nile shall dry up: and the pride of Assyria shall be brought down, and the sceptre of Egypt shall depart away. ¹² And I will strengthen them in the LORD; and they shall walk up and down in his name, saith the LORD.

the three shepherds in one month; for my soul was weary of them, and their soul also loathed me. ⁹ Then said I, I will not feed you: that that dieth, let it die; and that that is to be cut off, let it be cut off; and let them which are left eat every one the flesh of another. ¹⁰ And I took my staff Beauty, and cut it asunder, that I might break my covenant which I had made with all the peoples. ¹¹ And it was broken in that day: and thus the poor of the flock that gave heed unto me knew that it was the word of the LORD. ¹² And I said unto them, If ye think good, give me my hire; and if not, forbear. So they weighed for my hire thirty pieces of silver. ¹³ And the LORD said unto me, Cast it unto the potter, the goodly price that I was prised at of them. And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and cast them unto the potter, in the house of the LORD. ¹⁴ Then I cut asunder mine other staff, even Bands, that I might break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel. ¹⁵ And the LORD said unto me, Take unto thee yet again the instruments of a foolish shepherd. ¹⁶ For, lo, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, which shall not visit those that be cut off, neither shall seek those that be scattered, nor heal that that is broken; neither shall he feed that which is sound, but he shall eat the flesh of the fat, and shall tear their hoofs in pieces. ¹⁷ Woe to the worthless shepherd that leaveth the flock, the sword shall be upon his arm, and upon his right eye: his arm shall be clean dried up, and his right eye shall be utterly darkened.

mine eyes upon the house of Judah, and will smite every horse of the peoples with blindness. ⁵ And the chieftains of Judah shall say in their heart, The inhabitants of Jerusalem are my strength in the LORD of hosts their God. ⁶ In that day will I make the chieftains of Judah like a pan of fire among wood, and like a torch of fire among sheaves; and they shall devour all the peoples round about, on the right hand and on the left: and Jerusalem shall yet again dwell in her own place, even in Jerusalem. ⁷ The LORD also shall save the tents of Judah first, that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem be not magnified above Judah. ⁸ In that day shall the LORD defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and he that is feeble among them at that day shall be as David; and the house of David shall be as God, as the angel of the LORD before them. ⁹ And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem. ¹⁰ And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplication; and they shall look unto me whom they have pierced: and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his firstborn. ¹¹ In that day shall there be a great mourning in Jerusalem, as the mourning of Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddon. ¹² And the land shall mourn, every family apart; the family of the house of David apart, and their wives apart; the family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wives apart; ¹³ the family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart; the family of the Shimeites apart, and their wives apart; ¹⁴ all the families that remain, every family apart, and their wives apart.

¹ In that day there shall be a fountain opened to the house of David and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for sin and for uncleanness. ² And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD of hosts, that I will cut off the names of the idols out of the land, and they shall no more be remembered: and also I will cause the prophets and the unclean spirit to pass out of the land. ³ And it shall come to pass that, when any shall yet prophesy, then his father and his mother that begat him shall say unto him, Thou shalt not live; for thou speakest lies in the name of the LORD: and his father and his mother that begat him shall thrust him through when he prophesieth. ⁴ And it shall come to pass in that day, that the prophets shall be ashamed every one of his vision, when he prophesieth; neither shall they wear a hairy mantle to deceive: ⁵ but he shall say, I am no prophet, I am a tiller of the ground; for I have been made a bondman from my youth. ⁶ And one shall say unto him, What are these wounds between thine arms? Then he shall answer, Those with which I was wounded in the house of my friends. ⁷ Awake, O sword, against my shepherd, and against the man that is my fellow, saith the LORD of hosts: smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered; and I will turn mine hand upon the little ones. ⁸ And it shall come to pass, that in all the land, saith the LORD, two parts therein shall be cut off and die; but the third shall be left therein. ⁹ And I will bring the third part through the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried: they shall call on my name, and I will hear them: I will say, It is my people; and they shall say, The LORD is my God.

the mountains shall reach unto Azel: yea, ye shall flee, like as ye fled from before the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah: and the LORD my God shall come, and all the holy ones with thee. ⁶ And it shall come to pass in that day, that the light shall not be with brightness and with gloom: ⁷ but it shall be one day which is known unto the LORD; not day, and not night: but it shall come to pass, that at evening time there shall be light. ⁸ And it shall come to pass in that day, that living waters shall go out from Jerusalem; half of them toward the eastern sea, and half of them toward the western sea: in summer and in winter shall it be. ⁹ And the LORD shall be king over all the earth: in that day shall the LORD be one, and his name one. ¹⁰ All the land shall be turned as the Arabah, from Geba to Rimmon south of Jerusalem; and she shall be lifted up, and shall dwell in her place, from Benjamin's gate unto the place of the first gate, unto the corner gate, and from the tower of Hananel unto the king's winepresses. ¹¹ And men shall dwell therein, and there shall be no more curse; but Jerusalem shall dwell safely. ¹² And this shall be the plague wherewith the LORD will smite all the peoples that have warred against Jerusalem: their flesh shall consume away while they stand upon their feet, and their eyes shall consume away in their sockets, and their tongue shall consume away in their mouth. ¹³ And it shall come to pass in that day, that a great tumult from the LORD shall be among them; and they shall lay hold every one on the hand of his neighbour, and his hand shall rise up against the hand of his neighbour. ¹⁴ And Judah also shall fight against Jerusalem; and the wealth of all the nations round about shall be gathered together, gold, and silver, and apparel, in great abundance. ¹⁵ And so shall be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camel, and of the ass, and of all the beasts that shall be in those camps, as this plague. ¹⁶ And it shall come to pass, that every one that is left of all the nations which came against Jerusalem shall go up from year to year to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, and to keep the feast of tabernacles. ¹⁷ And it shall be, that whoso of all the families of the earth goeth not up unto Jerusalem to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, upon them there shall be no rain. ¹⁸ And if the family of Egypt go not up, and come not, neither shall it be upon them; there shall be the plague, wherewith the LORD will smite the nations that go not up to keep the feast of tabernacles. ¹⁹ This shall be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all the nations that go not up to keep the feast of tabernacles. ²⁰ In that day shall there be upon the bells of the horses, HOLY UNTO THE LORD; and the pots in the LORD'S house shall be like the bowls before the altar. ²¹ Yea, every pot in Jerusalem and in Judah shall be holy unto the LORD of hosts: and all they that sacrifice shall come and take of them, and see the therein: and in that day there shall be no more a Canaanite in the house of the LORD of hosts.

MALACHI.

¹The burden of the word of the LORD to Israel by Malachi. ²I have loved you, saith the LORD. Yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? Was not Esau Jacob's brother? saith the LORD: yet I loved Jacob; ³but Esau I hated, and made his mountains a desolation, and gave his heritage to the jackals of the wilderness. ⁴Whereas Edom saith, We are beaten down, but we will return and build the waste places; thus saith the LORD of hosts, They shall build, but I will throw down: and men shall call them The border of wickedness, and The people against whom the LORD hath indignation for ever. ⁵And your eyes shall see, and ye shall say, The LORD be magnified beyond the border of Israel. ⁶A son honoureth his father, and a servant his master: if then I be a father, where is mine honour? and if I be a master, where is my fear? saith the LORD of hosts unto you, O priests, that despise my name. And ye say, Wherein have we despised thy name? ⁷Ye offer polluted bread upon mine altar. And ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye say, The table of the LORD is contemptible. ⁸And when ye offer the blind for sacrifice, it is no evil! and when ye offer the lame and sick, it is no evil! Present it now unto thy governor; will he be pleased with thee? or will he accept thy person? saith the LORD of hosts. ⁹And now, I pray you, entreat the favour of God, that he may be gracious unto us: this hath been by your means: will he accept any of your persons? saith the LORD of hosts. ¹⁰Oh that there were one among you that would shut the doors, that ye might not kindle fire on mine altar in vain! I have no pleasure in you, saith the LORD of hosts, neither will I accept an offering at your hand. ¹¹For from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same my name is great among the Gentiles; and in every place incense is offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for my name is great among the Gentiles, saith the LORD of hosts. ¹²But ye profane it, in that ye say, The table of the LORD is polluted, and the fruit thereof, even his meat, is contemptible. ¹³Ye say also, Behold, what a weariness is it! and ye have snuffed at it, saith the LORD of hosts; and ye have brought that which was taken by violence, and the lame, and the sick; thus ye bring the offering: should I accept this of your hand? saith the LORD. ¹⁴But cursed be the deceiver, which hath in his flock a male, and voweth, and sacrificeth unto the Lord a blemished thing: for I am a great king, saith the LORD of hosts, and my name is terrible among the Gentiles.

¹And now, O ye priests, this commandment is for you. ²If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the LORD of hosts, then will I send the curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings: yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart. ³Behold, I will rebuke the seed for your sake, and will spread dung upon your faces, even the dung of your sacrifices; and ye shall be taken away with it. ⁴And ye shall know that I have sent this commandment unto you, that my covenant might be with Levi, saith the LORD of hosts. ⁵My covenant was with him of life and peace; and I gave them to him that he might fear, and he feared me, and stood in awe of my name. ⁶The law of truth was in his mouth, and unrighteousness was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and uprightness, and did turn many away from iniquity. ⁷For the priest's lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth: for he is the messenger of the LORD of hosts. ⁸But ye are turned aside out of the way; ye have caused many to stumble in the law; ye have corrupted the covenant of Levi, saith the LORD of hosts. ⁹Therefore have I also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but have had respect of persons in the law. ¹⁰Have we not all one father? hath not one God created us? why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, profaning the covenant of our fathers? ¹¹Judah hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem; for Judah hath profaned the holiness of the LORD which he loveth, and hath married the daughter of a strange god. ¹² The LORD will cut off to the man that doeth this him that waketh and him that answereth, out of the tents of Jacob, and him that offereth an offering unto the LORD of hosts. ¹³ And this again ye do: ye cover the altar of the LORD with tears, with weeping, and with sighing, insomuch that he regardeth not the offering any more, neither receiveth it with good will at your hand. ¹⁴ Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because the LORD hath been witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously, though she is thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant. ¹⁵ And did he not make one, although he had the residue of the spirit? And wherefore one? He sought a godly seed. Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none deal treacherously against the wife of his youth. ¹⁶ For I hate putting away, saith the LORD, the God of Israel, and him that covereth his garment with violence, saith the LORD of hosts: therefore take heed to your spirit, that ye deal not treacherously. ¹⁷ Ye have wearied the LORD with your words. Yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? In that ye say, Every one that doeth evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delighteth in them; or where is the God of judgment?

¹ Behold, I send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple; and the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in, behold, he cometh, saith the LORD of hosts. ² But who may abide the day of his coming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' soap: ³ and he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver, and he shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver; and they shall offer unto the LORD offerings in righteousness. ⁴ Then shall the offering of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant unto the LORD, as in the days of old, and as in ancient years. ⁵ And I will come near to you to judgment; and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers; and against those that oppress the hireling

in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the LORD of hosts. ⁶ For I the LORD change not; therefore ye, O sons of Jacob, are not consumed. ⁷ From the days of your fathers ye have turned aside from mine ordinances, and have not kept them. Return unto me, and I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts. But ye say, Wherein shall we return? ⁸ Will a man rob God? yet ye rob me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes and offerings. ⁹ Ye are cursed with the curse; for ye rob me, even this whole nation. ¹⁰ Bring ye the whole tithe into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the LORD of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it. ¹¹ And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the LORD of hosts. ¹² And all nations shall call you happy: for ye shall be a delightsome land, saith the LORD of hosts. ¹³ Your words have been stout against me, saith the LORD. Yet ye say, Wherein have we spoken against thee? ¹⁴ Ye have said, It is vain to serve God: and what profit is it that we have kept his charge, and that we have walked mournfully before the LORD of hosts? ¹⁵ And now we call the proud happy; yea, they that work wickedness are built up; yea, they tempt God, and are delivered. ¹⁶ Then they that feared the LORD spake one with another: and the LORD hearkened, and heard, and a book of remembrance was written before him, for them that feared the LORD, and that thought upon his name. ¹⁷ And they shall be mine, saith the LORD of hosts, in the day that I do make, even a peculiar treasure; and I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him. ¹⁸ Then shall ye return and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him that serveth God and him that serveth him not.

¹ For, behold, the day cometh, it burneth as a furnace; and all the proud, and all that work wickedness, shall be stubble:

and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the LORD of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch. ² But unto you that fear my name shall the sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings; and ye shall go forth, and gambol as calves of the stall. ³ And ye shall tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day that I do make, saith the LORD of hosts. ⁴ Remember ye the law of Moses my servant, which I commanded unto him in Horeb for all Israel, even statutes and judgments. ⁵ Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the great and terrible day of the LORD come. ⁶ And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers; lest I come and smite the earth with a curse.

TOBIT.

³ I Tobit walked in the ways of truth and righteousness all the days of my life, and I did many almsdeeds to my brethren and my nation, who went with me into the land of the Assyrians, to Nineveh. ⁴ And when I was in mine own country, in the land of Israel, while I was yet young, all the tribe of Naphtali my father fell away from the house of Jerusalem, which was chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, that all the tribes should sacrifice there, and the temple of the habitation of the Most High was hallowed and built therein for all ages. ⁵ And all the tribes which fell away together sacrificed to the heifer Baal, and so did the house of Naphtali my father. ⁶ And I alone went often to Jerusalem at the feasts, as it hath been ordained unto all Israel by an everlasting decree, having the firstfruits and the tenths of mine increase, and that which was first shorn; and I gave them at the altar to the priests the sons of Aaron. ⁷ The tenth part of all mine increase I gave to the sons of Levi, who ministered at Jerusalem: and the second tenth part I sold away, and went, and spent it each year at Jerusalem: ⁸ and the third I gave unto them to whom it was meet, as Deborah my father's mother had commanded me, because I was left an orphan by my father. ⁹ And when I became a man, I took to wife Anna of the seed of our own family, and of her I begat Tobias. ¹⁰ And when I was carried away captive to Nineveh, all my brethren and those that were of my kindred did eat of the bread of the Gentiles: ¹¹ but I kept myself from eating, ¹² because I remembered God with all my soul. ¹³ And the Most High gave me grace and [†] favour in the sight of Enemessar, and I was his purveyor. ¹⁴ And I went into Media, and left in trust with Gabael, the brother of Gabrias, at Rages of Media, ten talents of silver.

¹⁵ And when Enemessar was dead, Sennacherib his son reigned in his stead; and [‡] in his time the highways were troubled, and I could no more go into Media. ¹⁶ And in the days of Enemessar I did many almsdeeds to my brethren: I gave my bread to the hungry, ¹⁷ and my garments to the naked: and if I saw any of my race dead, and cast forth [§] on the wall of Ninevah, I buried him. ¹⁸ And if Sennacherib the king slew any, when he came fleeing from Judaea, I buried them privily; for in his wrath he slew many; and the bodies were sought for by the king, and were not found. ¹⁹ But one of the Ninevites went and shewed to the king concerning me, how that I buried them, and hid myself; and when I knew that I was sought for to be put to death, I withdrew myself for fear. ²⁰ And all my goods were forcibly taken away, and there was nothing left unto me, save my wife Anna and my son Tobias. ²¹ And there passed not five and fifty days, before two of his sons slew him, and they fled into the mountains of Ararat. And ^{} Sarchedonus his son reigned in his stead; and he appointed over all the accounts of his kingdom, and over all his affairs, Achiacharus my brother Anael's son. ²² And Achiacharus made request for me, and I came to Nineveh. Now Achiacharus was cupbearer, and keeper of the signet, and steward, and overseer of the accounts: and Sarchedonus appointed him next unto himself: but he was my brother's son.

¹ Now when I was come home again, and my wife Anna was restored unto me, and my son Tobias, in the feast of Pentecost, which is the holy feast of the seven weeks, there was a good dinner prepared me, and I sat down to eat. ² And I saw abundance of meat, and I said to my son, Go and bring what poor man soever thou shalt find of our brethren, who is mindful of the Lord;

and lo, I tarry for thee. ³And he came, and said, Father, one of our race is strangled, and is cast out in the marketplace. ⁴And before I had tasted aught, I sprang up, and took him up into a chamber until the sun was set. ⁵And I returned, and washed myself, and ate my bread in heaviness, ⁶and remembered the prophecy of Amos, as he said,

☉Your feasts shall be turned into mourning,

And all your mirth into lamentation.

⁷And I wept: and when the sun was set, I went and made a grave, and buried him. ⁸And my neighbours mocked me, and said, He is no longer afraid to be put to death for this matter: and yet he fled away: and, lo, he burieth the dead again. ⁹And the same night I returned from burying him, and slept by the wall of my courtyard, being polluted; and my face was uncovered: ¹⁰and I knew not that there were sparrows in the wall; and, mine eyes being open, the sparrows muted warm dung into mine eyes, and white films came in mine eyes; and I went to the physicians, and they helped me not: but Achiacharus did nourish me, ^{*} until I went into Elymais.

¹¹And my wife Anna did spin in the women's chambers, ¹²and did send the work back to the owners. And they on their part paid her wages, and gave her also besides a kid. ¹³But when it came to my house, it began to cry, and I said unto her, From whence is this kid? is it stolen? render it to the owners; for it is not lawful to eat anything that is stolen. ¹⁴But she said, It hath been given me for a gift more than the wages. And I did not believe her, and I bade her render it to the owners; and I was abashed at her. But she answered and said unto me, Where are thine alms and thy righteous deeds? behold, † thou and all thy works are known.

¹And I was grieved and wept, and prayed in sorrow, saying,

²O Lord, thou art righteous, and all thy works and all thy ways are mercy and truth, and thou judgest true and righteous judgement for ever. ³Remember me, and look on me; take not vengeance on me for my sins and mine ignorances, and the sins of my fathers, which sinned before thee: ⁴for they disobeyed thy commandments; and thou gavest us for a spoil, and for captivity, and for death, and for a proverb of reproach to all the nations among whom we are dispersed. ⁵And now many are thy judgments, true are they; that thou shouldest deal with me according to my sins and the sins of my fathers: because we did not keep thy commandments, for we walked not in truth before thee. ⁶And now deal with me according to that which is pleasing in thy sight, command my spirit to be taken from me, that I may be released, and become earth: for it is profitable for me to die rather than to live, because I have heard false reproaches, and there is much sorrow in me: command that I be now released from my distress, and go to the everlasting place: turn not thy face away from me.

⁷The same day it happened unto Sarah the daughter of Raguel in Ecbatana of Media, that she also was reproached by her father's maidservants; ⁸because that she had been given to seven husbands, and Asmodaues the evil ^{*} spirit slew them, before they had lain with her. And they said unto her, Dost thou not know that thou stranglest thy husbands? thou hast had already seven husbands, and thou hast had no profit of any one of them. ⁹Wherefore dost thou scourge us? if they be dead, go thy ways with them; let us never see of thee either son or daughter. ¹⁰When she heard these things, she was grieved exceedingly, so that she thought to have hanged herself: and she said, I am the only daughter of my father; if I do this, it shall be a reproach unto him, and I shall bring down his old age with sorrow to † the grave. ¹¹And she prayed by the window, and said, Blessed art thou, O Lord my God, and blessed is thy holy and honourable name for ever: let all thy works praise thee for ever. ¹²And now, Lord, I have set mine eyes and my face toward thee: ¹³command that I be released from the earth, and that I no more hear reproach. ¹⁴Thou knowest, Lord, that I am pure from all sin with man, ¹⁵and that I never polluted my name, nor the name of my father, in the land of my captivity: I am the only daughter of my father, and he hath no child that shall be his heir, nor brother near him, nor son belonging to him, that I should keep myself for a wife unto him: seven husbands of mine are dead already; why should I live? And if it pleaseth thee not to slay me, command some regard to be had of me, and pity taken of me, and that I hear no more reproach.

¹⁶And the prayer of both was heard before the glory of the great God. ¹⁷Raphael also was sent to heal them both, to scale away the white films from Tobit's eyes, and to give Sarah the daughter of Raguel for a wife to Tobias the son of Tobit; and to bind Asmodaeus the evil † spirit; because it belonged to Tobias that he should inherit her. The selfsame time did Tobit return and enter into his house, and Sarah the daughter of Raguel came down from her upper chamber.

¹In that day Tobit remembered concerning the money which he had left in trust with Gabael in Rages of Media, ²and he said in himself, I have asked for death; why do I not call my son Tobias, that I may shew to him of the money before I die? ³And he called him, and said,

My child, * when I die, bury me: and despise not thy mother; honour her all the days of thy life, and do that which is pleasing unto her, and grieve her not. ⁴Remember, my child, that she hath seen many dangers for thee, when thou wast in her womb. When she is dead, bury her by me in one grave. ⁵My child, be mindful of the Lord our God all thy days, and let not thy will be set to sin and to transgress his commandments: do righteousness all the days of thy life, and follow not the ways of unrighteousness. ⁶For if thou doest the truth, thy doings shall prosperously succeed to thee, and to all them that do righteousness. ⁷Give alms of thy substance; and when thou givest alms, let not thine eye be envious: turn not away thy face from any poor man, and the face of God shall not be turned away from thee. ⁸As thy substance is, give alms of it according to thine abundance: if thou have little, be not afraid to give alms according to that little: ⁹for thou layest up a good treasure for thyself against the day of necessity: ¹⁰because alms delivereth from death, and suffereth not to come into darkness. ¹¹Alms is a good gift in the sight of the Most High for all that give it. ¹²Beware, my child, of all whoredom, and take first a wife of the seed of thy fathers, and take not a strange wife, which is not of thy father's tribe: for we are the sons of the prophets. Noah, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, our fathers of old time, remember, my child, that they all took wives of their brethren, and were blessed in their children, and their seed shall inherit the land. ¹³And now, my child, love thy brethren, and scorn not in thy heart thy brethren, and the sons and the daughters of thy people, to take a wife of them: for in scornfulness is destruction and much trouble, and in naughtiness is decay and great want: for naughtiness is the mother of famine. ¹⁴Let not the wages of any man, which shall work for thee, tarry with thee, but render it unto him out of hand: and if thou serve God, recompense shall be made unto thee. Take heed to thyself, my child, in all thy works, and be discreet in all thy behaviour. ¹⁵And what thou thyself hatest, do to no man. Drink not wine unto drunkenness, and let not drunkenness go with thee on thy way. ¹⁶Give of thy bread to the hungry, and of thy garments to them that are naked: of all thine abundance give alms; and let not thine eye be envious when thou givest alms. ¹⁷Pour out thy bread on the † burial of the just, and give nothing to sinners. ¹⁸Ask counsel of every man that is wise, and despise not any counsel that is profitable. ¹⁹And bless the Lord thy God at all times, and ask of him that thy ways may be made straight, and that all thy paths and counsels may prosper: for every nation hath not counsel; but the Lord himself giveth all good things, and he humbleth whom he will, as he will. And now, my child, remember my commandments, and let them not be blotted out of thy mind.

²⁰ And now I shew thee of the ten talents of silver, which I left in trust with Gabael the son of Gabrias at Rages of Media. ²¹ And fear not, my child, because we are made poor: thou hast much wealth, if thou fear God, and depart from all sin, and do that which is pleasing in his sight.

¹ And Tobias answered and said unto him, Father, I will do all things, whatsoever thou hast commanded me: ² but how shall I be able to receive the money, seeing I know him not? ³ And he gave him the handwriting, and said unto him, Seek thee a man which shall go with thee, and I will give him wages, whiles I yet live: and go and receive the money. ⁴ And he went to seek a man, and found Raphael which was an angel; ⁵ and he knew it not; and he said unto him, Can I go with thee to Rages of Media? and knowest thou the places well? ⁶ And the angel said unto him, I will go with thee, and I know the way well: and I have lodged with our brother Gabael. ⁷ And Tobias said unto him, Wait for me, and I will tell my father. ⁸ And he said unto him, Go, and tarry not. And he went in and said to his father, Behold, I have found one which will go with me. But he said, Call him unto me, that I may know of what tribe he is, and whether he be a trusty man to go with thee.

⁹ And he called him, and he came in, and they saluted one another. ¹⁰ And Tobit said unto him, Brother, of what tribe and of what family art thou? Shew me. ¹¹ And he said unto him, Seekest thou a tribe and a family, or a hired man which shall go with thy son? And Tobit said unto him, I would know, brother, thy kindred and thy name. ¹² And he said, I am Azarias, the son of Ananias the great, of thy brethren. ¹³ And he said unto him, Welcome, brother; and be not angry with me, because I sought to know thy tribe and family: and thou art my brother, of an honest and good lineage: for I knew Ananias and Jathan, the sons of She-maiah the great, when we went together to Jerusalem to worship, and offered the firstborn, and the tenths of our increase; and they went not astray in the error of our brethren: my brother, thou art of a great stock. ¹⁴ But tell me, what wages shall I give thee? a drachma a day, and those things that be necessary for thee, as unto my son? ¹⁵ And moreover, if ye return safe and sound, I will add something to thy wages. ¹⁶ And so they consented. And he said to Tobias, Prepare thyself for the journey, and God prosper you. And his son prepared what was needful for the journey, and his father said unto him, Go thou with this man; but God, which dwelleth in heaven, shall prosper your journey; and may his angel go with you. And they both went forth to depart, and the young man's dog with them.

¹⁷ But Anna his mother wept, and said to Tobit, Why hast thou sent away our child? is he not the staff of our hand, in going in and out before us? ¹⁸ Be not greedy to add money to money: but let it be as refuse in respect of our child. ¹⁹ For as the Lord hath given us to live, so doth it suffice us. ²⁰ And Tobit said to her, Take no care, my sister; he shall return safe and sound, and thine eyes shall see him. ²¹ For a good angel shall go with him, and his journey shall be prospered, and he shall return safe and sound. ²² And she made an end of weeping.

¹ Now as they went on their journey, they came at eventide to the river Tigris, and they lodged there. ² But the young man went down to wash himself, and a fish leaped out of the river, and would have swallowed up the young man. ³ But the angel said unto him, Take hold on the fish. And the young man caught hold of the fish, and cast it up on the land. ⁴ And the angel said unto him, Cut the fish open, and take the heart and the liver and the gall, and put them up safely. ⁵ And the young man did as the angel commanded him; but they roasted the fish, and ate it. And they both went on their way, till they drew near to Ecbatana. ⁶ And the young man said to the angel, Brother Azarias, to what use is the heart and the liver and the gall of the fish? ⁷ And he said unto him, Touching the heart and the liver, if a * devil or an evil spirit trouble any, we must make a smoke thereof before the man or the woman, and the party shall be no more vexed. ⁸ But as for the gall, it is good to anoint a man that hath white films in his eyes, and he shall be healed.

* 6:7 Gr. demon.

⁹ But when they drew nigh unto Rages, ¹⁰ the angel said to the young man, Brother, to-day we shall lodge with Raguel, and he is thy kinsman; and he hath an only daughter, named Sarah. I will speak for her, that she should be given thee for a wife. ¹¹ For to thee doth the inheritance of her appertain, and thou only art of her kindred: ¹² and the maid is fair and wise. And now hear me, and I will speak to her father; and when we return from Rages we will celebrate the marriage: for I know that Raguel may in no wise marry her to another according to the law of Moses, or else he shall be liable to death, because it appertaineth unto thee to take the inheritance, rather than any other. ¹³ Then the young man said unto the angel, Brother Azarias, I have heard that this maid hath been given to seven men, and that they all perished in the bride-chamber. ¹⁴ And now I am the only son of my father, and I am afraid, lest I go in and die, even as those before me: for a † devil loveth her, which hurteth no man, but those which come unto her: and now I fear lest I die, and bring my father's and my mother's life to the grave with sorrow because of me: and they have no other son to bury them. ¹⁵ But the angel said unto him, Dost thou not remember the words which thy father commanded thee, that thou shouldst take a wife of thine own kindred? and now hear me, brother; for she shall be thy wife; and make thou no reckoning of the devil; for this night shall she be given thee to wife. ¹⁶ And ‡ when thou shalt come into the bride-chamber, thou shalt take the ashes of incense, and shalt lay upon them some of the heart and liver of the fish, and shalt make a smoke therewith: ¹⁷ and the devil shall smell it, and flee away, and never come again any more. But when thou goest nigh unto her, rise up both of you, and cry to God which is merciful, and he shall save you, and have mercy on you. Fear not, for she was prepared for thee from the beginning; and thou shalt save her, and she shall go with thee. And I suppose that thou shalt have children of her. And when Tobias heard these things, he loved her, and his soul clave to her exceedingly.

¹ And they came to Ecbatana, and arrived at the house of Raguel. But Sarah met them; and she saluted them, and they her; and she brought them into the house. ² And he said to Edna his wife, How like is the young man to Tobit my cousin. ³ And Raguel asked them, From whence are ye, brethren? And they said unto him, We are of the sons of Naphtali, which are captives in Nineveh. ⁴ And he said unto them, Know ye Tobit our brother? But they said, We know him. And he said unto them, Is he in good health? ⁵ But they said, He is both alive, and in good health: and Tobias said, He is my father. ⁶ And Raguel sprang up, and kissed him, and wept, ⁷ and blessed him, and said unto him, Thou art the son of an honest and good man. And when he had heard that Tobit had lost his sight, he was grieved, and wept; ⁸ and Edna his wife and Sarah his daughter wept. And they received them gladly; and they killed a ram of the flock, and set store of meat before them.

But Tobias said to Raphael, Brother Azarias, speak of those things of which thou didst talk in the way, and let the matter be finished. ⁹ And he communicated the thing to Raguel: and Raguel said to Tobias, Eat and drink, and make merry: ¹⁰ for it appertaineth unto thee to take my child. Howbeit I will shew thee the truth. ¹¹ I have given my child to seven men, and whensoever they came in unto her, they died in the night. But for the present be merry. And Tobias said, I will taste nothing here, until ye make covenant and enter into covenant with me. ¹² And Raguel said, Take her to thyself from henceforth according to the manner: thou art her brother, and she is thine: but the merciful God shall give all good success to you. ¹³ And he called his daughter Sarah, and took her by the hand, and gave her to be wife to Tobias, and said, Behold, take her to thyself after the law of Moses, and lead her away to thy father.

† 6:14 Gr. demon, and so in ver. 15, 17. ‡ 6:16 Gr. if.

And he blessed them; ¹⁴And he called Edna his wife, and took a book, and wrote an instrument, and sealed it. ¹⁵And they began to eat.

¹⁶And Raguel called his wife Edna, and said unto her, Sister, prepare the other chamber, and bring her in thither. ¹⁷And she did as he bade her, and brought her in thither; and she wept, and she received the tears of her daughter, and said unto her, ¹⁸Be of good comfort, my child; the Lord of heaven and earth give thee * favour for this thy sorrow: be of good comfort, my daughter.

¹And when they had finished their supper, they brought Tobias in unto her. ²But as he went, he remembered the words of Raphael, and took the ashes of the incense, and put the heart and the liver of the fish thereupon, and made a smoke therewith. ³But when the * devil smelled the smell, he fled into the uppermost parts of Egypt, and the angel bound him. ⁴But after they were both shut in together, Tobias rose up from the bed, and said, Sister, arise, and let us pray that the Lord may have mercy on us. ⁵And Tobias began to say, Blessed art thou, O God of our fathers, and blessed is thy holy and glorious name for ever; let the heavens bless thee, and all thy creatures. ⁶Thou madest Adam, and gavest him Eve his wife for a helper and a stay: of them came the seed of men: thou didst say, it is not good that the man should be alone; let us make him a helper like unto him. ⁷And now, O Lord, I take not this my sister for lust, but in truth: command that I may find mercy and grow old with her. ⁸And she said with him, Amen. And they slept both that night.

⁹And Raguel arose, and went and digged a grave, ¹⁰saying, Lest he also should die. ¹¹And Raguel came into his house, ¹²and said to Edna his wife, Send one of the maidservants, and let them see whether he be alive: but if not, that we may bury him, and no man know it. ¹³So the maidservant opened the door, and went in, and found them both sleeping, ¹⁴and came forth, and told them that he was alive. ¹⁵And Raguel blessed God, saying,

Blessed art thou, O God, with all pure and holy blessing; and let thy saints bless thee, and all thy creatures; and let all thine angels and thine elect bless thee for ever. ¹⁶Blessed art thou, because thou hast made me glad; and it hath not befallen me as I suspected; but thou hast dealt with us according to thy great mercy. ¹⁷Blessed art thou, because thou hast had mercy on two that were the only begotten children of their parents: shew them mercy, O Lord; accomplish their life in health with gladness and mercy.

¹⁸But he commanded his servants to fill the grave. ¹⁹And he kept the wedding feast for them fourteen days. ²⁰And before the days of the wedding feast were finished, Raguel sware unto him, that he should not depart till the fourteen days of the wedding feast were fulfilled; ²¹and that then he should take the half of his goods, and go in safety to his father; and the rest, said he, when I and my wife shall die.

¹And Tobias called Raphael, and said unto him, ²Brother Azarias, take with thee a servant, and two camels, and go to Rages of Media to Gabael, and receive the money for me, and bring him to the wedding feast: ³because Raguel hath sworn that I shall not depart; ⁴and my father counteth the days; and if I tarry long, he will be sorely grieved. ⁵And Raphael went on his way, and lodged with Gabael, and gave him the handwriting; but he brought forth the bags with their seals, and gave them to him. ⁶And they rose up early in the morning together, and came to the wedding feast: and Tobias blessed his wife.

10

¹And Tobit his father made his count every day: and when the days of the journey were expired, and they came not, ²he said, * Is he perchance detained? or is Gabael perchance dead, and there is no man to give him the money? ³And he was sorely grieved. ⁴But his wife said unto him,

* 7:18 Many ancient authorities read joy. * 8:3 Gr. demon. * 10:2 Many ancient authorities read Are they perchance put to shame? † 10:5 Some authorities read Woe is me.

The child hath perished, seeing he tarrieth long; and she began to bewail him, and said, ⁵† I care for nothing, my child, since I have let thee go, the light of mine eyes. ⁶ And Tobit saith unto her, Hold thy peace, take no care; he is in good health. ⁷ And she said unto him, Hold thy peace, deceive me not; my child hath perished. And she went out every day into the way by which they went, and did eat no bread in the day-time, and ceased not whole nights to bewail her son Tobias, until the fourteen days of the wedding feast were expired, which Raguel had sworn that he should spend there.

But Tobias said unto Raguel, Send me away, for my father and my mother look no more to see me. ⁸ But his father in law said unto him, Abide with me, and I will send to thy father, and they shall declare unto him how things go with thee. ⁹ And Tobias saith, No; but send me away to my father. ¹⁰ But Raguel arose, and gave him Sarah his wife, and half his goods, servants and cattle and money; ¹¹ and he blessed them, and sent them away, saying, The God of heaven shall prosper you, my children, before I die. ¹² And he said to his daughter, Honour thy father and thy mother in law; they are now thy parents; let me hear a good report of thee. And he kissed her. And Edna said to Tobias, The Lord of heaven restore thee, dear brother, and grant to me that I may see thy children of my daughter Sarah, that I may rejoice before the Lord: and, behold, I commit my daughter unto thee in special trust: vex her not.

⁷ And Raphael said, I know, Tobias, that thy father will open his eyes. ⁸ Do thou therefore anoint his eyes with the gall, and being pricked therewith, he shall rub, and shall make the white films to fall away, and he shall see thee.

⁹ And Anna ran unto him, and fell upon the neck of her son, and said unto him, I have seen thee, my child; from henceforth I will die. And they wept both. ¹⁰ And Tobit went forth toward the door, and stumbled: but his son ran unto him, ¹¹ and took hold of his father: and he strake the gall on his father's eyes, saying, Be of good cheer, my father. ¹² But when his eyes began to smart, he rubbed them; ¹³ and the white films scaled away from the corners of his eyes; and he saw his son, and fell upon his neck. ¹⁴ And he wept, and said, Blessed art thou, O God, and blessed is thy name for ever, and blessed are all thy holy angels; ¹⁵ for thou didst scourge, and didst have mercy on me: behold, I see my son Tobias. And his son went in rejoicing, and told his father the great things that had happened to him in Media.

¹⁶ And Tobit went out to meet his daughter in law at the gate of Nineveh, rejoicing, and blessing God: and they which saw him go marvelled, because he had received his sight. ¹⁷ And Tobit gave thanks before them, because God had shewed mercy on him. And when Tobit came near to Sarah his daughter in law, he blessed her, saying, Welcome, daughter: blessed is God which hath brought thee unto us, and blessed are thy father and thy mother. And there was joy to all his brethren which were at Nineveh. ¹⁸ And Achiacharus, and Nasbas his brother's son, came: ¹⁹ and Tobias' wedding feast was kept seven days with great gladness.

¹ And Tobit called his son Tobias, and said unto him, See, my child, that the man which went with thee have his wages, and thou must give him more. ² And he said unto him, Father, it is no harm to me to give him the half of those things which I have brought: ³ for he hath led me for thee in safety, and he cured my wife, and brought my money, and likewise cured thee. ⁴ And the old man said, It is due unto him. ⁵ And

he called the angel, and said unto him, Take the half of all that ye have brought. ⁶Then he called them both privily, and said unto them,

Bless God, and give him thanks, and magnify him, and give him thanks in the sight of all that live, for the things which he hath done with you. It is good to bless God and exalt his name, shewing forth with honour the works of God; and be not slack to give him thanks. ⁷It is good to keep close the secret of a king, but to reveal gloriously the works of God. Do good, and evil shall not find you. ⁸Good is prayer with fasting and alms and righteousness. A little with righteousness is better than much with unrighteousness. It is better to give alms than to lay up gold: ⁹alms doth deliver from death, and it shall purge away all sin. They that do alms and righteousness shall be filled with life; ¹⁰but they that sin are enemies to their own life. ¹¹Surely I will keep close nothing from you. I have said, It is good to keep close the secret of a king, but to reveal gloriously the works of God. ¹²And now, when thou didst pray, and Sarah thy daughter in law, I did bring the memorial of your prayer before the Holy One: and when thou didst bury the dead, I was with thee likewise. ¹³And when thou didst not delay to rise up, and leave thy dinner, that thou mightest go and cover the dead, thy good deed was not hid from me: but I was with thee. ¹⁴And now God did send me to heal thee and Sarah thy daughter in law. ¹⁵I am Raphael, one of the seven holy angels, which present the prayers of the saints, and go in before the glory of the Holy One.

¹⁶And they were both troubled, and fell upon their faces; for they were afraid. ¹⁷And he said unto them, Be not afraid, ye shall have peace; but bless God for ever. ¹⁸For not of any favour of mine, but by the will of your God I came; wherefore bless him for ever. ¹⁹All these days did I appear unto you; and I did neither eat nor drink, but ye saw a vision. ²⁰And now give God thanks: because I ascend to him that sent me: and write in a book all the things which have been done. ²¹And they rose up, and saw him no more. ²²And they confessed the great and wonderful works of God, and how the angel of the Lord had appeared unto them.

¹And Tobit wrote a prayer for rejoicing, and said,
Blessed is God that liveth for ever,
And blessed is his kingdom.

²For he scourgeth, and sheweth mercy:

He leadeth down to * the grave, and
bringeth up again:

And there is none that shall escape his hand.

³Give thanks unto him before the Gentiles,
ye children of Israel:

For he hath scattered us among them.

⁴There declare his greatness,
And extol him before all the living:

Because he is our Lord,
And God is our Father for ever.

⁵And he will scourge us for our iniquities,
and will again shew mercy,

And will gather us out of all the nations
among whom ye are scattered.

⁶If ye turn to him with your whole heart and with your whole soul,

To do truth before him,

Then will he turn unto you,

And will not hide his face from you.

And see what he will do with you,

And give him thanks with your whole
mouth,

And bless the Lord of righteousness,

And exalt the everlasting King.

I in the land of my captivity give him
thanks,

And shew his strength and majesty to a nation of sinners.

Turn, ye sinners, and do righteousness before him:

Who can tell if he will accept you and have mercy on you?

⁷I exalt my God,

And my soul doth exalt the King of heaven,

And it shall rejoice in his greatness.

⁸Let all men speak, and let them give him
thanks in Jerusalem.

⁹O Jerusalem, the holy city,
He will scourge thee for the works of thy sons,

* 13:2 Gr. Hades.

And will again have mercy on the sons of the righteous.

¹⁰Give thanks to the Lord with goodness,
And bless the everlasting King,
That his tabernacle may be builded in thee
again with joy,
And that he may make glad in thee those that are captives,
And love in thee for ever those that are miserable.

¹¹Many nations shall come from far to the name of the Lord God
With gifts in their hands, even gifts to the King of heaven;
Generations of generations shall praise
thee,
And sing songs of rejoicing.

¹²Cursed are all they that hate thee; Blessed shall be all they that love thee for ever.

¹³Rejoice and be exceeding glad for the sons of the righteous:
For they shall be gathered together and shall bless the Lord of the righteous.

¹⁴O blessed are they that love thee;
They shall rejoice for thy peace:
Blessed are all they that sorrowed for all thy scourges:

Because they shall rejoice for thee,
When they have seen all thy glory;
And they shall be made glad for ever.

¹⁵Let my soul bless God the great King.

¹⁶For Jerusalem shall be builded with sapphires and emeralds and precious stones;
Thy walls and towers and battlements with pure gold.

¹⁷And the streets of Jerusalem shall be paved with beryl and carbuncle and stones of Ophir.

¹⁸And all her streets shall say, Hallelujah, and give praise,

Saying, Blessed is God, which hath exalted thee for ever.

14

¹And Tobit made an end of giving thanks.

²And he was eight and fifty years old when he lost his sight; and after eight years he received it again; and he gave alms, and he feared the Lord God more and more, and gave thanks unto him.

³Now he grew very old; and he called his son, and the six sons of his son, and said
unto him,

My child, take thy sons: behold, I am grown old, and am ready to depart out of this life. ⁴Go into Media, my child, for I surely believe all the things which Jonah the prophet spake of Nineveh, that it shall be overthrown, but in Media there shall rather be peace for a season; and that our brethren shall be scattered in the earth from the good land; and Jerusalem shall be desolate, and the house of God in it shall be burned up, and shall be desolate for a time; ⁵and God shall again have mercy on them, and bring them back into the land, and they shall build the house, but not like to the former house, until the times of that age be fulfilled; and afterward they shall return from the places of their captivity, and build up Jerusalem with honour, and the house of God shall be built in it for ever with a glorious building, even as the prophets spake concerning it. ⁶And all the nations shall turn to fear the Lord God truly, and shall bury their idols. ⁷And all the nations shall bless the Lord, and his people shall give thanks unto God, and the Lord shall exalt his people; and all they that love the Lord God in truth and righteousness shall rejoice, shewing mercy to our brethren.
⁸And now, my child, depart from Nineveh, because those things which the prophet Jonah spake shall surely come to pass. ⁹But keep thou the law and the ordinances, and shew thyself merciful and righteous, that it may be well with thee. ¹⁰And bury me decently, and thy mother with me; and dwell ye no longer at Nineveh. See, my child, what Aman did to Achiacharus that nourished him, how out of light he brought him into darkness, and all the recompense that he made him: and Achiacharus was saved, but the other had his recompense, and he went down into darkness. Manasses gave alms, and escaped the snare of death which he set for him: but Aman fell into the snare, and perished. ¹¹And now, my children, consider what alms doeth, and how righteousness doth deliver.

And while he was saying these things, he gave up the ghost in the bed; but he was a hundred and eight and fifty years old;
and he buried him magnificently. ¹²And

when Anna died, he buried her with his father. But Tobias departed with his wife and his sons to Ecbatana unto Raguel his father in law,¹³ and he grew old in honour, and he buried his father and mother in law magnificently, and he inherited their substance, and his father Tobit's.¹⁴ And he died at Ecbatana of Media, being a hundred and seven and twenty years old.¹⁵ And before he died he heard of the destruction of Nineveh, which Nebuchadnezzar and Ahasuerus took captive; and before his death he rejoiced over Nineveh.

JUDITH.

⁷And Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians sent unto all that dwelt in Persia, and to all that dwelt westward, to those that dwelt in Cilicia and Damascus and Libanus and Antilibanus, and to all that dwelt over against the sea coast, ⁸and to those among the nations that were of Carmel and Gilead, and to the higher Galilee and the great plain of Esdraelon, ⁹and to all that were in Samaria and the cities thereof, and beyond Jordan unto Jerusalem, and Betane, and Chellus, and Kadesh, and the river of Egypt, and Tahpanhes, and Rameses, and all the land of Goshen, ¹⁰until thou comest above Tanis and Memphis, and to all that dwelt in Egypt, until thou comest to the borders of Ethiopia. ¹¹And all they that dwelt in all the land made light of the commandment of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians, and went not with him to the war; for they were not afraid of him, but he was before them as one man; and they turned away his messengers from their presence without effect, and with disgrace. ¹²And

Nebuchadnezzar was exceeding wroth with all this land, and he swore by his throne and kingdom, that he would surely be avenged upon all the coasts of Cilicia and Damascus and Syria, that he would slay with his sword all the inhabitants of the land of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and all Judaea, and all that were in Egypt, until thou comest to the borders of the two seas. ¹³And he set the battle in array with his host against king Arphaxad in the seventeenth year; and he prevailed in his battle, and turned to flight all the host of Arphaxad, and all his horse, and all his chariots; ¹⁴and he became master of his cities, and he came even unto Ecbatana, and took the towers, and spoiled the streets thereof, and turned the beauty thereof into shame. ¹⁵And he took Arphaxad in the mountains of Ragau, and smote him through with his darts, and destroyed him utterly, unto this day. ¹⁶And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host, a hundred and twenty days.

¹And in the eighteenth year, the two and twentieth day of the first month, there was talk in the house of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians, that he should be avenged on all the land, even as he spake. ²And he called together all his servants, and all his great men, and communicated with them his secret counsel, and concluded the afflicting of all the land out of his own mouth. ³And they decreed to destroy all flesh which followed not the word of his mouth. ⁴And it came to pass, when he had ended his counsel, Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians called Holofernes the chief captain of his host, which was next after himself, and said unto him,

prepare earth and water; because I will go forth in my wrath against them, and will cover the whole face of the earth with the feet of my host, and I will give them for a spoil unto them: ⁸ and their slain shall fill their valleys and brooks, and the river shall be filled with their dead, till it overflow: ⁹ and I will lead them captives to the utmost parts of all the earth. ¹⁰ But thou shalt go forth, and take beforehand for me all their coasts; and ^{*} if they shall yield themselves unto thee, then shalt thou reserve them for me till the day of their reproof. ¹¹ But as for them that are disobedient, thine eye shall not spare; but thou shalt give them up to be slain and to be spoiled in all thy land. ¹² For as I live, and by the power of my kingdom, I have spoken, and I will do this with my hand. ¹³ And thou, moreover, shalt not transgress aught of the commandments of thy lord, but thou shalt surely accomplish them, as I have commanded thee, and thou shalt not defer to do them.

¹⁴ And Holofernes went forth from the presence of his lord, and called all the governors and the captains and officers of the host of Asshur; ¹⁵ and he numbered chosen men for the battle, as his lord had commanded him, unto a hundred and twenty thousand, and twelve thousand archers on horseback; ¹⁶ and he ranged them, as a great multitude is ordered for the war. ¹⁷ And he took camels and asses and mules for their baggage, an exceeding great multitude; and sheep and oxen and goats without number for their provision; ¹⁸ and great store of victual for every man, and exceeding much gold and silver out of the king's house. ¹⁹ And he went forth, he and all his host, on their journey, to go before king Nebuchadnezzar, and to cover all the face of the earth westward with their chariots and horsemen and chosen footmen. ²⁰ And a great company of sundry nations went forth with them like locusts, and like the sand of the earth: for they could not be numbered by reason of their multitude.

chariots, and went away from thence into the hill country, ²³ and destroyed Put and Lud, and spoiled all the children of Rassas, and the children of Ishmael, which were over against the wilderness to the south of the land of the Chellians. ²⁴ And he went over Euphrates, and went through Mesopotamia, and brake down all the high cities that were upon the river Arbonai, until thou comest to the sea. ²⁵ And he took possession of the borders of Cilicia, and slew all that resisted him, and came unto the borders of Japheth, which were toward the south, over against Arabia. ²⁶ And he compassed about all the children of Midian, and set on fire their tents, and spoiled their sheepcotes. ²⁷ And he went down into the plain of Damascus in the days of wheat harvest, and set on fire all their fields, and utterly destroyed their flocks and herds, and spoiled their cities, and laid their plains waste, and smote all their young men with the edge of the sword.

²⁸ And the fear and the dread of him fell upon them that dwelt on the sea coast, upon them that were in Sidon and Tyre, and them that dwelt in Sur and Ocina, and all that dwelt in Jemnaan; and they that dwelt in Azotus and Ascalon feared him exceedingly.

⁶ And he came down toward the sea coast, he and his host, and set garrisons in the high cities, and took out of them chosen men for allies. ⁷ And they received him, they and all the country round about them, with garlands and dances and timbrels. ⁸ And he cast down all their borders, and cut down their groves: and it had been given unto him to destroy all the gods of the land, that all the nations should worship Nebuchadnezzar only, and that all their tongues and their tribes should call upon him as god. ⁹And he came towards Esdraelon nigh unto Dotaea, which is over against the great ridge of Judaea. ¹⁰And he encamped between Geba and Scythopolis, and he was there a whole month, that he might gather together all the baggage of his host.

¹And the children of Israel that dwelt in Judaea heard all that Holofernes the chief captain of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians had done to the nations, and after what manner he had spoiled all their temples, and destroyed them utterly. ²And they were exceedingly afraid before him, and were troubled for Jerusalem, and for the temple of the Lord their God: ³because they were newly come up from the captivity, and all the people of Judaea were lately gathered together; and the vessels, and the altar, and the house, were sanctified after the profanation.

⁴And they sent into every coast of Samaria, and to Konaë, and to Beth-horon, and Belmair, and Jericho, and to Choba, and Aesora, and to the valley of Salem; ⁵and they possessed themselves beforehand of all the tops of the high mountains, and fortified the villages that were in them, and laid up victual for the provision of war: for their fields were newly reaped. ⁶And Joakim the high priest, which was in those days at Jerusalem, wrote to them that dwelt in Bethulia, and Betomesthaim, which is over against Esdraelon toward the plain that is nigh unto Dothaim, ⁷charging them to seize upon the ascents of the hill country; because by them was the entrance into Judaea, and it was easy to stop them from approaching, inasmuch as the approach was narrow, with space for two men at the most. ⁸And the children of Israel did as Joakim the high priest had commanded them, and the senate of all the people of Israel, which dwelt at Jerusalem.

⁹And every man of Israel cried to God with great earnestness, and with great earnestness did they humble their souls.

¹⁰They, and their wives, and their babes, and their cattle, and every sojourner and hireling and servant bought with their money, put sackcloth upon their loins. ¹¹And every man and woman of Israel, and the little children, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, fell before the temple, and cast ashes upon their heads, and spread out their sackcloth before the Lord; and they put sackcloth about the altar: ¹²and they cried to the God of Israel earnestly with one consent, that he would not give their babes for a prey, and their wives for a spoil, and the cities of their inheritance to destruction, and the sanctuary to profanation and reproach, for the nations to rejoice at. ¹³And the Lord heard their voice, and looked upon their affliction: and the people continued fasting many days in all Judaea and Jerusalem before the sanctuary of the Lord Almighty. ¹⁴And Joakim the high priest, and all the priests that stood before the Lord, and they that ministered unto the Lord, had their loins girt about with sackcloth, and offered the continual burnt offering, and the vows and the free gifts of the people; ¹⁵and they had ashes on their mitres: and they cried unto the Lord with all their power, that he would look upon all the house of Israel for good.

¹And it was told Holofernes, the chief captain of the host of Asshur, that the children of Israel had prepared for war, and had shut up the passages of the hill country, and had fortified all the tops of the high hills, and had laid impediments in the plains: ²and he was exceeding wroth, and he called all the princes of Moab, and the captains of Ammon, and all the governors of the sea coast, ³and he said unto them, Tell me now, ye sons of Canaan, who is this people, that dwelleth in the hill country, and what are the cities that they inhabit, and what is the multitude of their host, and wherein is their power and their strength, and what king is set over them, to be the leader of their army; ⁴and why have they turned their backs, that they should not come and meet me, more than all that dwell in the west.

⁵And Achior, the leader of all the children of Ammon, said unto him,

Let my lord now hear a word from the mouth of thy servant, and I will tell thee the truth concerning this people, which dwelleth in this hill country, nigh unto the place where thou dwellest: and there shall no lie come out of the mouth of thy servant. ⁶This people are descended of the Chaldeans: ⁷and they sojourned heretofore in Mesopotamia, because they were not minded to follow the gods of their fathers, which were in the land of the Chaldeans. ⁸And they departed from the way of their parents, and worshipped the God of heaven, the God whom they knew: and they cast them out from the face of their gods, and they fled into Mesopotamia, and sojourned there many days. ⁹And their God commanded them to depart from the place where they sojourned, and to go into the land of Canaan: and they dwelt there, and were increased with gold and silver, and with exceeding much cattle. ¹⁰And they went down into Egypt, for a famine covered all the land of Canaan; and there they sojourned, until they were grown up; and they became there a great multitude, so that one could not number their nation. ¹¹And the king of Egypt rose up against them, and dealt subtilly with them, ^{*}and brought them low, making them to labour in brick, and made them slaves. ¹²And they cried unto their God, and he smote all the land of Egypt with incurable plagues: and the Egyptians cast them out of their sight. ¹³And God dried up the Red sea before them, ¹⁴and brought them into the way of Sinai, and Kadesh-Barnea, and they cast out all that dwelt in the wilderness. ¹⁵And they dwelt in the land of the Amorites, and they destroyed by their strength all them of Heshbon, and passing over Jordan they possessed all the hill country. ¹⁶And they cast out before them the Canaanite, the Perizzite, the Jebusite, and the Shechemite, and all the Girgashites, and they dwelt in that country many days. ¹⁷And whilst they sinned not before their God, they prospered, because God that hateth iniquity was with them. ¹⁸But when they departed from the way which he appointed them, they were destroyed in many battles very sore, and were led captives into a land that was not theirs, and the temple of their God was cast to the ground, and their cities were taken by their adversaries.

¹⁹And now they are returned to their God, and are come up from the dispersion where they were dispersed, and have possessed Jerusalem, where their sanctuary is, and are seated in the hill country: for it was desolate. ²⁰And now, my lord and master, if there is any error in this people, and they sin against their God, we will consider what this thing is wherein they stumble, and we will go up and overcome them. ²¹But if there is no lawlessness in their nation, let my lord now pass by, lest their Lord defend them, and their God be for them, and we shall be a reproach before all the earth.

²²And it came to pass, when Achior had finished speaking these words, all the people that compassed the tent and stood round about it murmured; and the great men of Holofernes, and all that dwelt by the sea side, and in Moab, spake that he should kill him. ²³For, said they, we will not be afraid of the children of Israel: for, lo, it is a people that hath no power nor might to make the battle strong. ²⁴Wherefore now we will go up, and they shall be a prey to be devoured of all thine army, lord Holofernes.

¹And when the tumult of the men that were about the council was ceased, Holofernes the chief captain of the host of Asshur said unto Achior and to all the children of ^{*}Moab before all the people of the aliens,

²And who art thou, Achior, and the hirelings of † Ephraim, that thou hast prophesied among us as to-day, and hast said, that we should not make war with the race of Israel, because their God will defend them? And who is God but Nebuchadnezzar? ³He shall send forth his might, and shall destroy them from the face of the earth, and their God shall not deliver them: but we his servants shall smite them as one man; and they shall not sustain the might of our horses. ⁴For with them we shall burn them up, and their mountains shall be drunken with their blood, and their plains shall be filled with their dead bodies, and their footsteps shall not stand before us, but they shall surely perish, saith king Nebuchadnezzar, lord of all the earth: for he said, The words that † I have spoken shall not be in vain. ⁵ But thou, Achior, hireling of Ammon, which hast spoken these words in the day of thine iniquity, shalt see my face no more from this day, until I shall be avenged of the race of those that came out of Egypt. ⁶ And then shall the sword of mine army, and the multitude of them that serve me, pass through thy sides, and thou shalt fall among their slain, when I shall return. ⁷ And my servants shall bring thee back into the hill country, and shall set thee in one of the cities of the ascents: ⁸ and thou shalt not perish, till thou be destroyed with them. ⁹ And if thou hopest in thy heart that they shall not be taken, let not thy countenance fall. I have spoken it, and none of my words shall fall to the ground. ¹⁰ And Holofernes commanded his servants, that waited in his tent, to take Achior, and bring him back to Bethulia, and deliver him into the hands of the children of Israel. ¹¹ And his servants took him, and brought him out of the camp into the plain, and they removed from the midst of the plain country into the hill country, and came unto the fountains that were under Bethulia. ¹² And when the men of the city saw them on the top of the hill, they took up their weapons, and went out of the city against them to the top of the hill: and every man that used a sling kept them from coming up, and cast stones against them. ¹³ And they gat them privily under the hill, and bound Achior, and cast him down, and left him at the foot of the hill, and went away unto their lord. ¹⁴ But the children of Israel descended from their city, and came upon him, and loosed him, and led him away into Bethulia, and presented him to the rulers of their city; ¹⁵ which were in those days Ozias the son of Micah, of the tribe of Simeon, and Chabris the son of Gothoniel, and Charmis the son of Melchiel. ¹⁶ And they called together all the elders of the city; and all their young men ran together, and their women, to the assembly; and they set Achior in the midst of all their people. And Ozias asked him of that which had happened: ¹⁷ and he answered and declared unto them the words of the council of Holofernes, and all the words that he had spoken in the midst of the princes of the children of Asshur, and all the great words that Holofernes had spoken against the house of Israel. ¹⁸ And the people fell down and worshipped God, and cried, saying, ¹⁹ O Lord God of heaven, behold their arrogance, and pity the low estate of our race, and look upon the face of those that are sanctified unto thee this day. ²⁰ And they comforted Achior, and praised him exceedingly. ²¹ And Ozias took him out of the assembly into his house, and made a feast to the elders; and they called on the God of Israel for help all that night.

¹ But the next day Holofernes gave command to all his army, and to all his people which were come to be his allies, that they should remove their camp toward Bethulia, and take aforehand the ascents of the hill country, and make war against the children of Israel. ² And every mighty man of them removed that day, and the host of their men of war was a hundred and seventy thousand footmen, and twelve thousand horsemen, beside the baggage, and the men that were afoot among them, an exceeding great multitude. ³ And they encamped in the valley near unto Bethulia, by the fountain, and they spread themselves in breadth over Dothaim even to Belmaim, and in length from Bethulia unto Cyamon, which is over against Esdraelon.

⁶ But on the second day Holofernes led out all his horse in the sight of the children of Israel which were in Bethulia, ⁷ and viewed the ascents to their city, and searched out the fountains of the waters, and seized upon them, and set garrisons of men of war over them, and himself departed to his people.

⁸ And there came unto him all the rulers of the children of Esau, and all the leaders of the people of Moab, and the captains of the sea coast, and said,

⁹ Let our lord now hear a word, that there be not an overthrow in thy host. ¹⁰ For this people of the children of Israel do not trust in their spears, but in the height of the mountains wherein they dwell, for it is not easy to come up to the tops of their mountains. ¹¹ And now, my lord, fight not against them as men fight who join battle, and there shall not so much as one man of thy people perish. ¹² Remain in thy camp, and keep safe every man of thy host, and let thy servants get possession of the fountain of water, which issueth forth of the foot of the mountain: ¹³ because all the inhabitants of Bethulia have their water thence; and thirst shall kill them, and they shall give up their city: and we and our people will go up to the tops of the mountains that are near, and will encamp upon them, to watch that not one man go out of the city. ¹⁴ And they shall be consumed with famine, they and their wives and their children, and before the sword come against them they shall be laid low in the streets where they dwell. ¹⁵ And thou shalt render them an evil reward; because they rebelled, and met not thy face in peace.

¹⁶ And their words were pleasing in the sight of Holofernes and in the sight of all his servants; and he appointed to do as they had spoken. ¹⁷ And the army of the children of Ammon removed, and with them five thousand of the children of Asshur, and they encamped in the valley, and seized upon the waters and the fountains of the waters of the children of Israel. ¹⁸ And the children of Esau went up with the children of Ammon, and encamped in the hill country over against Dothaim: and they sent some of them toward the south, and toward the east, over against Ekrebel, which is near unto Chusi, that is upon the brook Mochmur; and the rest of the army of the Assyrians encamped in the plain, and covered all the face of the land; and their tents and baggage were pitched upon it in a great crowd, and they were an exceeding great multitude.

¹⁹ And the children of Israel cried unto the Lord their God, for their spirit fainted; for all their enemies had compassed them round about, and there was no way to escape out from among them. ²⁰ And all the army of Asshur remained about them, their footmen and their chariots and their horsemen, four and thirty days; and all their vessels of water failed all the inhabitants of Bethulia. ²¹ And the cisterns were emptied, and they had not water to drink their fill for one day: for they gave them drink by measure. ²² And their young children were out of heart, and the women and the young men fainted for thirst, and they fell down in the streets of the city, and in the passages of the gates, and there was no longer any strength in them. ²³ And all the people were gathered together against Ozias, and against the rulers of the city, the young men and the women and the children, and they cried with a loud voice, and said before all the elders,

²⁴ God be judge between you and us: because ye have done us great wrong, in that ye have not spoken words of peace with the children of Asshur. ²⁵ And now we have no helper: but God hath sold us into their hands, that we should be laid low before them with thirst and great destruction. ²⁶ And now call them unto you, and deliver up the whole city for a prey to the people of Holofernes, and to all his host. ²⁷ For it is better for us to be made a spoil unto them: for we shall be servants, and our souls shall live, and we shall not see the death of our babes before our eyes, and our wives and our children fainting in death. ²⁸ We take to witness against you the heaven and the earth, and our God and the Lord of our fathers, which punisheth us according to our sins and the sins of our fathers, that he do not according as we have said this day.

²⁹ And there was great weeping of all with one consent in the midst of the assembly; and they cried unto the Lord God with a loud voice. ³⁰ And Ozias said to them, Brethren, be of good courage, let us yet endure five days, in the which space the Lord our God shall turn his mercy toward us; for he will not forsake us utterly. ³¹ But if these days pass, and there come no help unto us, I will do according to your words. ³² And he dispersed the people, every man to his own camp; and they went away unto the walls and towers of their city; and he sent the women and children into their houses: and they were brought very low in the city.

¹ And in those days Judith heard thereof, the daughter of Merari, the son of Ox, the son of Joseph, the son of Oziel, the son of Elkiah, the son of Ananias, the son of Gideon, the son of Raphaim, the son of Ahitub, the son of Elihu, the son of Eliab, the son of Nathanael, the son of Salamiel, the son of Salasadai, the son of Israel. ² And her husband was Manasses, of her tribe and of her family, and he died in the days of barley harvest. ³ For he stood over them that bound sheaves in the field, and the heat came upon his head, and he fell on his bed, and died in his city Bethulia: and they buried him with his fathers in the field which is between Dothaim and Balamon. ⁴ And Judith was a widow in her house three years and four months. ⁵ And she made her a tent upon the roof of her house, and put on sackcloth upon her loins; and the garments of her widowhood were upon her. ⁶ And she fasted all the days of her widowhood, save the eves of the sabbaths, and the sabbaths, and the eves of the new moons, and the new moons, and the feasts and joyful days of the house of Israel. ⁷ And she was of a goodly countenance, and exceeding beautiful to behold: and her husband Manasses had left her gold, and silver, and menservants, and maidservants, and cattle, and lands; and she remained upon them. ⁸ And there was none that gave her an evil word; for she feared God exceedingly.

Hear me now, O ye rulers of the inhabitants of Bethulia: for your word that ye have spoken before the people this day is not right, and ye have set the oath which ye have pronounced between God and you, and have promised to deliver the city to our enemies, unless within these days the Lord turn to help you. ¹² And now who are ye that have tempted God this day, and stand instead of God among the children of men? ¹³ And now try the Lord Almighty, and ye shall never know anything. ¹⁴ For ye shall not find the depth of the heart of man, and ye shall not perceive the things that he thinketh: and how shall ye search out God, which hath made all these things, and know his mind, and comprehend his purpose? Nay, my brethren, provoke not the Lord our God to anger. ¹⁵ For if he be not minded to help us within these five days, he hath power to defend us in such time as he will, or to destroy us before the face of our enemies. ¹⁶ But do not ye pledge the counsels of the Lord our God: for God is not as man, that he should be threatened; neither as the son of man, that he should be turned by intreaty. ¹⁷ Wherefore let us wait for the salvation that cometh from him, and call upon him to help us, and he will hear our voice, if it please him. ¹⁸ For there arose none in our age, neither is there any of us to-day, tribe, or kindred, or family, or city, which worship gods made with hands, as it was in the former days; ¹⁹ for the which cause our fathers were given to the sword, and for a spoil, and fell with a great fall before our enemies. ²⁰ But we know none other god beside him, wherefore we hope that he will not despise us, nor any of our race. ²¹ For if we be taken so, all Judaea shall sit upon the ground, and our sanctuary shall be spoiled; and of our blood shall he require the profanation thereof. ²² And the slaughter of our brethren, and the captivity of the land, and the desolation of our inheritance, shall he turn upon our heads among the Gentiles, wheresoever we shall be in bondage; and we shall be an offence and a reproach before them that take us for a possession. ²³ For our bondage shall not be ordered to favour: but the Lord our God shall turn it to dishonour. ²⁴ And now, brethren, let us shew an example to our brethren, because their soul hangeth upon us, and the sanctuary and the house and the altar rest upon us. ²⁵ Besides all this let us give thanks to the Lord our God, which trieth us, even as he did our fathers also. ²⁶ Remember all the things which he did to Abraham, and all the things in which he tried Isaac, and all the things which happened to Jacob in Mesopotamia of Syria, when he kept the sheep of Laban his mother's brother. ²⁷ For he hath not tried us in the fire, as he did them, to search out their hearts, neither hath he taken vengeance on us; but the Lord doth scourge them that come near unto him, to admonish them.

²⁸ And Ozias said to her, All that thou hast spoken hast thou spoken with a good heart, and there is none that shall gainsay thy words. ²⁹ For this is not the first day wherein thy wisdom is manifested; but from the beginning of thy days all the people have known thine understanding, because the disposition of thy heart is good. ³⁰ But the people were exceeding thirsty, and compelled us to do as we spake to them, and to bring an oath upon ourselves, which we will not break. ³¹ And now pray thou for us, because thou art a godly woman, and the Lord shall send us rain to fill our cisterns, and we shall faint no more. ³² And Judith said unto them, Hear me, and I will do a thing, which shall go down to all generations among the children of our race. ³³ Ye shall stand at the gate this night, and I will go forth with my maid: and, within the days after which ye said that ye would deliver the city to our enemies, the Lord shall visit Israel by my hand. ³⁴ But ye shall not inquire of mine act: for I will not declare it unto you, till the things be finished that I do. ³⁵ And Ozias and the rulers said unto her, Go in peace, and the Lord God be before thee, to take vengeance on our enemies. ³⁶ And they returned from the tent, and went to their stations.

¹ But Judith fell upon her face, and put ashes upon her head, and uncovered the sackcloth wherewith she was clothed; and the incense of that evening was now being offered at Jerusalem in the house of God, and Judith cried unto the Lord with a loud voice, and said,

² O Lord God of my father Simeon, into whose hand thou gavest a sword to take vengeance of the strangers, who loosened the girdle of a virgin to defile her, and uncovered the thigh to her shame, and profaned the womb to her reproach; for thou saidst, It shall not be so; and they did so: ³ wherefore thou gavest their rulers to be slain, and their bed, ^{*} which was ashamed for her that was deceived, to be dyed in blood, and smotest the servants with their lords, and the lords upon their thrones; ⁴ and gavest their wives for a prey, and their daughters to be captives, and all their spoils to be divided among thy dear children; which were moved with zeal for thee, and abhorred the pollution of their blood, and called upon thee for aid: O God, O my God, hear me also that am a widow. ⁵ For thou wroughtest the things that were before those things, and those things, and such as ensued after; and thou didst devise the things which are now, and the things which are to come: and the things which thou didst devise came to pass; ⁶ yea, the things which thou didst determine stood before thee, and said, Lo, we are here: for all thy ways are prepared, and thy judgement is with foreknowledge. ⁷ For, behold, the Assyrians are multiplied in their power; they are exalted with horse and rider; they have gloried in the [†] strength of their footmen; they have trusted in shield and spear and bow and sling; and they know not that thou art the Lord that breaketh the battles: the Lord is thy name. ⁸ Dash thou down their strength in thy power, and bring down their force in thy wrath: for they have purposed to profane thy sanctuary, and to defile the tabernacle where thy glorious name resteth, and to cast down with the sword the horn of thine altar. ⁹ Look upon their pride, and send thy wrath upon their heads: give into my hand, which am a widow, the might that I have conceived. ¹⁰ Smite by the deceit of my lips the servant with the prince, and the prince with his servant: break down their stateliness by the hand of a woman. ¹¹For thy power standeth not in multitude, nor thy might in strong men: but thou art a God of the afflicted, thou art a helper of the † oppressed, an upholder of the weak, a protector of the forlorn, a saviour of them that are without hope. ¹²Yea, yea, God of my father, and God of the inheritance of Israel, Lord of the heavens and of the earth. Creator of the waters, King § of every creature, hear thou my prayer: ¹³and make my speech and deceit to be their wound and stripe, who have purposed hard things against thy covenant, and thy hallowed house, and the top of Sion, and the house of the possession of thy children. ¹⁴And make every nation and tribe of thine to know that thou art God, the God of all power and might, and that there is none other that protecteth the race of Israel but thou.

¹And it came to pass, when she had ceased to cry unto the God of Israel, and had made an end of all these words, ²that she rose up where she had fallen down, and called her maid, and went down into the house, in the which she was wont to abide on the sabbath days and on her feast days, ³and pulled off the sackcloth which she had put on, and put off the garments of her widowhood, and washed her body all over with water, and anointed herself with rich ointment, and braided the hair of her head, and put a tire upon it, and put on her garments of gladness, wherewith she was wont to be clad in the days of the life of Manasses her husband. ⁴And she took sandals for her feet, and put her chains about her, and her bracelets, and her rings, and her earrings, and all her ornaments, and decked herself bravely, to beguile the eyes of all men that should see her. ⁵And she gave her maid a leathern bottle of wine, and a cruse of oil, and filled a bag with parched corn and lumps of figs and * fine bread; and she packed all her vessels together, and laid them upon her.

⁶And they went forth to the gate of the city of Bethulia, and found standing thereby Ozias, and the elders of the city, Chabris and Charmis. ⁷But when they saw her, that her countenance was altered, and her apparel was changed, they wondered at her beauty very exceedingly, and said unto her, ⁸The God of our fathers give thee favour, and accomplish thy purposes to the glory of the children of Israel, and to the exaltation of Jerusalem. And she worshipped God, ⁹and said unto them, Command that they open unto me the gate of the city, and I will go forth to accomplish the things whereof ye spake with me. And they commanded the young men to open unto her, as she had spoken: ¹⁰and they did so.

And Judith went out, she, and her handmaid with her; and the men of the city looked after her, until she was gone down the mountain, until she had passed the valley, and they could see her no more. ¹¹And they went straight onward in the valley: and the watch of the Assyrians met her; ¹²and they took her, and asked her, Of what people art thou? and whence comest thou? and whither goest thou? And she said, I am a daughter of the Hebrews, and I flee away from their presence; because they are about to be given you to be consumed: ¹³and I am coming into the presence of Holofernes the chief captain of your host, to declare words of truth; and I will shew before him a way, whereby he shall go, and win all the hill country, and there shall not be lacking of his men one person, nor one life. ¹⁴Now when the men heard her words, and considered her countenance, the beauty thereof was exceeding marvellous in their eyes, and they said unto her, ¹⁵Thou hast saved thy life, in that thou hast hastened to come down to the presence of our lord: and now come to his tent, and some of us shall conduct thee, until they shall deliver thee into his hands.

¹⁶But † when thou standest before him, be not afraid in thine heart, but declare unto him according to thy words; and he shall entreat thee well. ¹⁷And they chose out of them a hundred men, and appointed them to accompany her and her maid; and they brought them to the tent of Holofernes.

¹⁸And there was a concourse throughout all the camp, for her coming was noised among the tents; and they came and com-

passed her about, as she stood without the tent of Holofernes, until they told him of her. ¹⁹ And they marvelled at her beauty, and marvelled at the children of Israel because of her, and each one said to his neighbour, Who shall despise this people, that have among them such women? for it is not good that one man of them be left, seeing that, if they are let go, they shall be able to deceive the whole earth. ²⁰ And they that lay near Holofernes, and all his servants, went forth and brought her into the tent. ²¹ And Holofernes was resting upon his bed under the canopy, which was woven with purple and gold and emeralds and precious stones. ²² And they told him of her; and he came forth into the space before his tent, with silver lamps going before him. ²³ But when Judith was come before him and his servants, they all marvelled at the beauty of her countenance; and she fell down upon her face, and did reverence unto him: and his servants raised her up.

¹ And Holofernes said unto her, Woman, be of good comfort, fear not in thy heart: for I never hurt any that hath chosen to serve Nebuchadnezzar, the king of all the earth. ² And now, if thy people that dwelleth in the hill country had not set light by me, I would not have lifted up my spear against them: but they have done these things to themselves. ³ And now tell me wherefore thou didst flee from them, and camest unto us: for thou art come to save thyself; be of good comfort, thou shalt live this night, and hereafter: ⁴ for there is none that shall wrong thee, but all shall entreat thee well, as is done unto the servants of king Nebuchadnezzar my lord. ⁵ And Judith said unto him,

Receive the words of thy servant, and let thy handmaid speak in thy presence, and I will declare no lie unto my lord this night. ⁶ And if thou shalt follow the words of thy handmaid, God shall bring the thing to pass perfectly with thee; and my lord shall not fail of his purposes. ⁷ As Nebuchadnezzar king of all the earth liveth, and as his power liveth, who hath sent thee for the preservation of every living thing, not only do men serve him by thee, but also the beasts of the field and the cattle and the birds of the heaven shall live through thy strength, in the time of Nebuchadnezzar and of all his house. ⁸ For we have heard of thy wisdom and the subtil devices of thy soul, and it hath been reported in all the earth, that thou only art brave in all the kingdom, and mighty in knowledge, and wonderful in feats of war. ⁹ And now as concerning the matter, which Achior did speak in thy council, we have heard his words: for the men of Bethulia saved him, and he declared unto them all that he had spoken before thee. ¹⁰ Wherefore, O lord and master, neglect not his word; but lay it up in thy heart, for it is true: for our race shall not be punished, neither shall the sword prevail against them, except they sin against their God. ¹¹ And now, that my lord be not defeated and frustrate of his purpose, and that death may fall upon them, their sin hath overtaken them, wherewith they shall provoke their God to anger, whensoever they shall do wickedness. ¹² Since their victuals failed them, and all their water was scant, they took counsel to lay hands upon their cattle, and determined to consume all those things, which God charged them by his laws that they should not eat: ¹³ and they are resolved to spend the firstfruits of the corn, and the tenths of the wine and the oil, which they had sanctified, and reserved for the priests that stand before the face of our God in Jerusalem; the which things it is not fitting for any of the people so much as to touch with their hands. ¹⁴ And they have sent some to Jerusalem, because they also that dwell there have done this thing, to bring them a licence from the senate. ¹⁵ And it shall be, when one shall bring them word, and they shall do it, they shall be given thee to be destroyed the same day. ¹⁶ Wherefore I thy servant, knowing all this, fled away from their presence; and God sent me to work things with thee, whereat all the earth shall be astonished, even as many as shall hear it. ¹⁷ For thy servant is religious, and serveth the God of heaven day and night: and now, my lord, I will abide with thee, and thy servant will go forth by night into the valley, and I will pray unto God, and he shall tell me when they have committed their sins: ¹⁸ and I will come and shew it also unto thee; and thou shalt go forth with all thy host, and there shall be none of them that shall resist thee. ¹⁹ And I will lead thee through the midst of Judaea, until thou comest over against Jerusalem; and I will set thy seat in the midst thereof; and thou shalt drive them as sheep that have no shepherd, and a dog shall not so much as open his mouth before thee: for these things were told me according to my foreknowledge, and were declared unto me, and I was sent to tell thee.

²⁰ And her words were pleasing in the sight of Holofernes and of all his servants; and they marvelled at her wisdom, and said, ²¹ There is not such a woman from one end of the earth to the other, for beauty of face, and wisdom of words. ²² And Holofernes said unto her, God did well to send thee before the people, that might should be in our hands, and destruction among them that lightly regarded my lord. ²³ And now thou art beautiful in thy countenance, and witty in thy words: for if thou shalt do as thou hast spoken, thy God shall be my God, and thou shalt dwell in the house of king Nebuchadnezzar, and shalt be renowned through the whole earth.

¹ And he commanded to bring her in where his silver vessels were set, and bade that they should prepare for her of his own meats, and that she should drink of his own wine. ² And Judith said, I will not eat thereof, lest there be an occasion of stumbling: but provision shall be made for me of the things that are come with me. ³ And Holofernes said unto her, But if the things that be with thee should fail, whence shall we be able to give thee the like? for there is none of thy race with us. ⁴ And Judith said unto him, As thy soul liveth, my lord, thy servant shall not spend those things that be with me, until the Lord work by my hand the things that he hath determined. ⁵ And the servants of Holofernes brought her into the tent, and she slept till midnight, and she rose up toward the morning watch, ⁶ and sent to Holofernes, saying, Let my lord now command that they suffer thy servant to go forth unto prayer. ⁷ And Holofernes commanded his guards that they should not stay her: and she abode in the camp

three days, and went out every night into the valley of Bethulia, and washed herself at the fountain of water in the camp. ⁸ And when she came up, she besought the Lord God of Israel to direct her way to the raising up of the children of his people. ⁹ And she came in clean, and remained in the tent, until she took her meat toward evening.

¹⁰ And it came to pass on the fourth day, Holofernes made a feast to his own servants only, and called none of the officers to the banquet. ¹¹ And he said to Bagoas the eunuch, who had charge over all that he had, Go now, and persuade this Hebrew woman which is with thee, that she come unto us, and eat and drink with us. ¹² For, lo, it is a shame for our person, if we shall let such a woman go, not having had her company; for if we draw her not unto us, she shall laugh us to scorn. ¹³ And Bagoas went from the presence of Holofernes, and came in to her, and said, Let not this fair damsel fear to come to my lord, and to be honoured in his presence, and to drink wine and be merry with us, and to be made this day as one of the daughters of the children of Asshur, which wait in the house of Nebuchadnezzar. ¹⁴ And Judith said unto him, And who am I, that I should gainsay my lord? for whatsoever shall be pleasing in his eyes I will do speedily, and this shall be my joy unto the day of my death. ¹⁵ And she arose, and decked herself with her apparel and all her woman's attire; and her servant went and laid fleeces on the ground for her over against Holofernes, which she had received of Bagoas for her daily use, that she might sit and eat upon them. ¹⁶ And Judith came in and sat down, and Holofernes' heart was ravished with her, and his soul was moved, and he desired exceedingly her company; and he was watching for a time to deceive her, from the day that he had seen her. ¹⁷ And Holofernes said unto her, Drink now, and be merry with us. ¹⁸ And Judith said, I will drink now, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. ¹⁹ And she took and ate and drank before him what her servant had prepared. ²⁰ And Holofernes took great delight in her, and drank exceeding much wine, more than he had drunk at any time in one day since he was born.

¹ But when the evening was come, his servants made haste to depart, and Bagoas shut the tent without, and dismissed them that waited from the presence of his lord; and they went away to their beds: for they were all weary, because the feast had been long. ² But Judith was left alone in the tent, and Holofernes lying along upon his bed: for he was overflowed with wine. ³ And Judith had said to her servant that she should stand without her bedchamber, and wait for her coming forth, as she did daily: for she said she would go forth to her prayer; and she spake to Bagoas according to the same words. ⁴ And all went away from her presence, and none was left in the bedchamber, neither small nor great. And Judith, standing by his bed, said in her heart, O Lord God of all power, look in this hour upon the works of my hands for the exaltation of Jerusalem. ⁵ For now is the time to help thine inheritance, and to do the thing that I have purposed to the destruction of the enemies which are risen up against us. ⁶ And she came to the rail of the bed, which was at Holofernes' head, and took down his scimitar from thence; ⁷ And she drew near unto the bed, and took hold of the hair of his head, and said, Strengthen me, O Lord God of Israel, this day. ⁸ And she smote twice upon his neck with all her might, and took away his head from him, ⁹ and tumbled his body down from the bed, and took down the canopy from the pillars; and after a little while she went forth, and gave Holofernes' head to her maid; ¹⁰ and she put it in her bag of victuals: and they twain went forth together unto prayer, according to their custom: and they passed through the camp, and compassed that valley, and went up to the mountain of Bethulia, and came to the gates thereof.

great, for it was strange unto them that she was come: and they opened the gate, and received them, making a fire to give light, and compassed them round about. ¹⁴ And she said to them with a loud voice, Praise God, praise him: praise God, who hath not taken away his mercy from the house of Israel, but hath destroyed our enemies by my hand this night. ¹⁵ And she took forth the head out of the bag, and shewed it, and said unto them, Behold, the head of Holofernes, the chief captain of the host of Asshur, and behold, the canopy, wherein he did lie in his drunkenness; and the Lord smote him by the hand of a woman. ¹⁶ And as the Lord liveth, who preserved me in my way that I went, my countenance deceived him to his destruction, and he did not commit sin with me, to defile and shame me. ¹⁷ And all the people were exceedingly amazed, and bowed themselves, and worshipped God, and said with one accord, Blessed art thou, O our God, which hast this day brought to nought the enemies of thy people. ¹⁸ And Ozias said unto her, Blessed art thou, daughter, in the sight of the Most High God, above all the women upon the earth; and blessed is the Lord God, who created the heavens and the earth, who directed thee to the smiting of the head of the prince of our enemies. ¹⁹ For thy hope shall not depart from the heart of men that remember the strength of God for ever. ²⁰ And God turn these things to thee for a perpetual praise, to visit thee with good things, because thou didst not spare thy life by reason of the affliction of our race, but didst avenge our fall, walking a straight way before our God. And all the people said, So be it, so be it.

¹ And Judith said unto them, Hear me now, my brethren, and take this head, and hang it upon the battlement of your wall. ² And it shall be, so soon as the morning shall appear, and the sun shall come forth upon the earth, ye shall take up every one his weapons of war, and go forth every valiant man of you out of the city, and ye shall set a captain over them, as though ye would go down to the plain toward the watch of the children of Asshur; and ye shall not go down. ³ And these shall take up their panoplies, and shall go into their camp, and rouse up the captains of the host of Asshur, and they shall run together to the tent of Holofernes, and they shall not find him: and fear shall fall upon them, and they shall flee before your face. ⁴ And ye, and all that inhabit every coast of Israel, shall pursue them, and overthrow them as they go. ⁵ But before ye do these things, call me Achior the Ammonite, that he may see and know him that despised the house of Israel, and that sent him to us, as it were to death.

⁶ And they called Achior out of the house of Ozias; but when he came, and saw the head of Holofernes in a man's hand in the assembly of the people, he fell upon his face, and his spirit failed. ⁷ But when * they had recovered him, he fell at Judith's feet, and did reverence unto her, and said, Blessed art thou in every tent of Judah, and in every nation, which hearing thy name shall be troubled. ⁸ And now tell me all the things that thou hast done in these days. And Judith declared unto him in the midst of the people all the things that she had done, from the day that she went forth until the time that she spake unto them. ⁹ But when she left off speaking, the people shouted with a loud voice, and made a joyful noise in their city. ¹⁰ But when Achior saw all the things that the God of Israel had done, he believed in God exceedingly, and circumcised the flesh of his foreskin, and was joined unto the house of Israel, unto this day.

¹¹ But as soon as the morning arose, they hanged the head of Holofernes upon the wall, and every man took up his weapons, and they went forth by bands unto the ascents of the mountain. ¹² But when the children of Asshur saw them, they sent hither and thither to their leaders; but they went to their captains and tribunes, and to every one of their rulers. ¹³ And they came to Holofernes' tent, and said to him that was over all that he had, Waken now our lord: for the slaves have been bold to come down against us to battle, that they may be utterly destroyed. ¹⁴ And Bagoas went in, and knocked at the outer door of the tent; for he supposed that he was sleeping with

Judith. ¹⁵ But when none hearkened to him, he opened it, and went into the bedchamber, and found him cast upon the threshold dead, and his head had been taken from him. ¹⁶ And he cried with a loud voice, with weeping and groaning and a mighty cry, and rent his garments. ¹⁷ And he entered into the tent where Judith lodged: and he found her not, and he leaped out to the people, and cried aloud, ¹⁸ The slaves have dealt treacherously: one woman of the Hebrews hath brought shame upon the house of king Nebuchadnezzar; for, behold, Holofernes lieth upon the ground, and his head is not on him. ¹⁹ But when the rulers of the host of Asshur heard the words, they rent their coats, and their soul was troubled exceedingly, and there was a cry and an exceeding great noise in the midst of the camp.

¹ And when they that were in the tents heard, they were amazed at the thing that was come to pass. ² And trembling and fear fell upon them, and no man durst abide any more in the sight of his neighbour, but rushing out with one accord, they fled into every way of the plain and of the hill country. ³ And they that had encamped in the hill country round about Bethulia fled away. And then the children of Israel, every one that was a warrior among them, rushed out upon them. ⁴ And Ozias sent to Betomasthaim, and Bebai, and Chobai, and Chola, and to every coast of Israel, such as should tell concerning the things that had been accomplished, and that all should rush forth upon their enemies to destroy them. ⁵ But when the children of Israel heard, they all fell upon them with one accord, and smote them unto Chobai: yea, and in like manner also they of Jerusalem and of all the hill country came (for men had told them what things were come to pass in the camp of their enemies), and they that were in Gilead and in Galilee fell upon their flank with a great slaughter, until they were past Damascus and the borders thereof. ⁶ But the residue, that dwelt at Bethulia, fell upon the camp of Asshur, and spoiled them, and were enriched exceedingly. ⁷ But the children of Israel returned from the slaughter, and gat possession of that which remained; and the villages and the cities, that were in the hill country and in the plain country, took many spoils: for there was an exceeding great store.

⁸ And Joakim the high priest, and the senate of the children of Israel that dwelt in Jerusalem, came to behold the good things which the Lord had shewed to Israel, and to see Judith, and to salute her. ⁹ But when they came unto her, they all blessed her with one accord, and said unto her, Thou art the exaltation of Jerusalem, thou art the great glory of Israel, thou art the great rejoicing of our race: ¹⁰ thou hast done all these things by thy hand: thou hast done with Israel the things that are good, and God is pleased therewith: blessed be thou with the Almighty Lord for evermore. And all the people said, So be it. ¹¹ And the people spoiled the camp for the space of thirty days: and they gave unto Judith Holofernes' tent, and all his silver cups, and his beds, and his vessels, and all his furniture: and she took them, and placed them on her mule, and made ready her wagons, and heaped them thereon.

¹² And all the women of Israel ran together to see her; and they blessed her, and made a dance among them for her; and she took * branches in her hand, and gave to the women that were with her. ¹³ And they made themselves garlands of olive, she and they that were with her, and she went before all the people in the dance, leading all the women: and all the men of Israel followed in their armour with garlands, and with songs in their mouths.

¹ And Judith began to sing this thanksgiving in all Israel, and all the people sang with loud voices this song of praise. ² And Judith said, Begin unto my God with timbrels,
 Sing unto my Lord with cymbals:
 Tune unto him psalm and praise:
 Exalt him, and call upon his name.
³ For the Lord is the God that breaketh the battles:
 For in his armies in the midst of the people
 He delivered me out of the hand of them that persecuted me.

⁴ Asshur came out of the mountains from the north,

He came with ten thousands of his host,
 The multitude whereof stopped the torrents,

And their horsemen covered the hills.

⁵ He said that he would burn up my borders,
 And kill my young men with the sword,
 And throw my sucking children to the ground,

And give mine infants for a prey,

And make my virgins a spoil.

⁶ The Almighty Lord brought them to nought by the hand of a woman.

⁷ For their mighty one did not fall by young men,

Neither did sons of the Titans smite him.

Nor did high giants set upon him:

But Judith the daughter of Merari made him weak with the beauty of her countenance.

⁸ For she put off the apparel of her widowhood

For the exaltation of those that were distressed in Israel,

She anointed her face with ointment,

And bound her hair in a tire,

And took a linen garment to deceive him.

⁹ Her sandal ravished his eye,

And her beauty took his soul prisoner:

The scimitar passed through his neck.

¹⁰ The Persians quaked at her daring,

And the Medes were daunted at her boldness.

¹¹ Then my lowly ones shouted aloud,

And my weak ones were terrified and crouched for fear:

They lifted up their voice, and they were turned to flight.

¹² The sons of damsels pierced them through,

And wounded them as runagates' children;

They perished by the battle of my Lord.

¹³ I will sing unto my God a new song:

O Lord, thou art great and glorious,
 Marvellous in strength, invincible.

¹⁴ Let all thy creation serve thee:

For thou spakest, and they were made,

Thou didst send forth thy spirit, and it builded them,

And there is none that shall resist thy voice.

¹⁵ For the mountains shall be moved from their foundations with the waters,

*

15:12 Compare 2 Macc. x. 7.

And the rocks shall melt as wax at thy presence:
But thou art yet merciful to them that fear
thee.

¹⁶For all sacrifice is little for a sweet savour,
And all the fat is very little for a whole burnt offering to thee:

But he that feareth the Lord is great continually.

¹⁷Woe to the nations that rise up against my race:

The Lord Almighty will take vengeance of them in the day of judgement,

To put fire and worms in their flesh;
And they shall weep and feel their pain for ever.

¹⁸ Now when they came to Jerusalem, they worshipped God; and when the people were purified, they offered their whole burnt offerings, and their freewill offerings, and their gifts. ¹⁹ And Judith dedicated all the stuff of Holofernes, which the people had given her, and gave the canopy, which she had taken for herself out of his bedchamber, for a gift unto the Lord. ²⁰ And the people continued feasting in Jerusalem before the sanctuary for the space of three months, and Judith remained with them. ²¹ But after these days every one departed to his own inheritance, and Judith went away to Bethulia, and remained in her own possession, and was honourable in her time in all the land. ²² And many desired her, and no man knew her all the days of her life, from the day that Manasses her husband died and was gathered to his people. ²³ And she increased in greatness exceedingly; and she waxed old in her husband's house, unto a hundred and five years, and let her maid go free: and she died in Bethulia; and they buried her in the cave of her husband Manasses. ²⁴ And the house of Israel mourned for her seven days: and she distributed her goods before she died to all them that were nearest of kin to Manasses her husband, and to them that were nearest of her own kindred. ²⁵ And there was none that made the children of Israel any more afraid in the days of Judith, nor a long time after her death.

PART OF THE TENTH CHAPTER AFTER THE GREEK.

⁴ Then Mardocheus said, These things are of God. ⁵ For I remember the dream * which I saw concerning these matters, and nothing thereof hath failed. ⁶ As for the little fountain that became a river, and there was light, and the sun, and much water, the river is Esther, whom the king married, and made queen: ⁷ and the two dragons are I and Aman: ⁸ and the nations are those that were assembled to destroy the name of the Jews: ⁹ and my nation, this is Israel, which cried to God, and were saved: for the Lord hath saved his people, and the Lord hath delivered us from all these evils, and God hath wrought signs and great wonders, which have not been done among the nations. ¹⁰ Therefore hath he made two lots, one for the people of God, and another for all the nations. ¹¹ And these two lots came at the hour, and time, and day of judgement, before God among all the nations. ¹² So God remembered his people, and justified his inheritance. ¹³ Therefore these days shall be unto them in the month Adar, the fourteenth and fifteenth day of the month, with an assembly, and joy, and with gladness before God, throughout the generations for ever among his people Israel.

11

¹ In the fourth year of the reign of Ptolemy and Cleopatra, Dositheus, who said he was a priest and Levite, and Ptolemy his son, brought the epistle of Phurai here set forth, which they said was the same, and that Lysimachus the son of Ptolemy, that was in Jerusalem, had interpreted it.

² * In the second year of the reign of Artaxerxes the great, in the first day of the month Nisan, Mardocheus the son of Jairus, the son of Semeias, the son of Kiseus, of the tribe of Benjamin, had a dream; ³ who was a Jew, and dwelt in the city of Susa, a great man, being a servitor in the king's court; ⁴ and he was of the captivity, which Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon carried from Jerusalem with Jechonias king of Judaea; and this was his dream: ⁵ Behold, [†] noise and tumult, thunderings and earthquake, and uproar upon the earth: ⁶ and, behold, two great dragons came forth, both of them ready to fight, and their cry was great. ⁷ And at their cry all nations were ready to battle, that they might fight against the righteous nation. ⁸ And, lo, a day of darkness and gloominess, tribulation and anguish, affliction and great uproar upon the earth. ⁹ And the whole righteous nation was troubled, fearing [‡] the evils that should befall them, and were ready to perish. ¹⁰ Then they cried unto God, and upon their cry, as it were from a little fountain, there came a great river, even much water. ¹¹ The light and the sun rose up, and the lowly were exalted, and devoured the glorious. ¹² Now when Mardocheus, who had seen this dream, and what God had determined to do, was awake, he bare it in mind, and until night by all means was desirous to know it.

12

¹ And Mardocheus took his rest in the court with Gabatha and Tharra, the two eunuchs of the king, that were keepers of the court. ² And he heard their communings, and searched out their purposes, and learned that they were about to lay hands upon Artaxerxes the king; and he certified the king of them. ³ Then the king examined the two eunuchs, and after that they had confessed it, they were led to execution. ⁴ And the king wrote these things for a memorial; Mardocheus also wrote concerning these things. ⁵ So the king commanded Mardocheus to serve in the court, and for this he gave him gifts. ⁶ Howbeit Aman the son of Amadathus, a Bugean, who was in great honour with the king, sought to molest Mardocheus and his people because of the two eunuchs of the king.

¹* Now this is the copy of the letter: The great king Artaxerxes writeth these things to the princes of a hundred and seven and twenty provinces from India unto Ethiopia, and to the governors that are set under them. ² After that I became lord over many nations, and had dominion over the whole world, not lifted up with presumption of my authority, but carrying myself alway with equity and mildness, I purposed to settle my subjects continually in a quiet life, and making my kingdom peaceable, and open for passage to the utmost coasts, to renew peace, which is desired of all men. ³ Now when I asked my counsellors how this might be brought to pass, Aman, that excelled in wisdom among us, and was approved for his constant good will and stedfast fidelity, and had the honour of the second place in the kingdom, ⁴ declared unto us, that in all nations throughout the world there was scattered a certain malignant people, that had laws contrary to all nations, and continually set aside the commandments of kings, so as the uniting of our kingdoms, honourably intended by us, cannot go forward. ⁵ Seeing then we understand that this nation is alone continually in opposition unto all men, following perversely a life which is strange to our laws, and evil affected to our state, working all the mischief they can, that our kingdom may not be firmly stablished: ⁶ therefore have we commanded, that they that are signified in writing unto you by Aman, who is ordained over the affairs, and is a second father unto us, shall all, with their wives and children, be utterly destroyed by the sword of their enemies, without all mercy and pity, the fourteenth day of the twelfth month Adar of this present year: ⁷ that they, who of old and now also are malicious, may in one day with violence go down to † the grave, and so ever hereafter cause our affairs to be well settled, and without trouble.

⁸ ‡ Then Mardocheus made his prayer unto the Lord, calling to remembrance all the works of the Lord, ⁹ and said, O Lord, Lord, thou King Almighty: for the whole world is in thy power, and if it be thy will to save Israel, there is no man that can gainsay thee: ¹⁰ for thou hast made heaven and earth, and all the wondrous things that are beneath the heaven; ¹¹ and thou art Lord of all, and there is no man that can resist thee, which art the Lord. ¹² Thou knowest all things, and thou knowest, Lord, that it was neither in contempt nor pride, nor for any desire of glory, that I did not bow down to proud Aman. ¹³ For I could have been content with good will for the salvation of Israel to kiss the soles of his feet. ¹⁴ But I did this, that I might not prefer the glory of man above the glory of God: neither will I bow down unto any but to thee, which art my Lord, neither will I do it in pride. ¹⁵ And now, O Lord, thou God and King, the God of Abraham, spare thy people: for their eyes are upon us to bring us to nought, and they desire to destroy the heritage, that hath been thine from the beginning. ¹⁶ Despise not thy portion, which thou didst redeem out of the land of Egypt for thine own self. ¹⁷ Hear my prayer, and be merciful unto thine inheritance: and turn our mourning into feasting, that we may live, O Lord, and sing praises to thy name: and destroy not the mouth of them that praise thee, O Lord.

¹⁸ And all Israel cried out mightily, because their death was before their eyes.

¹ Queen Esther also, being seized as it were with the agony of death, resorted unto the Lord: ² and laid away her glorious apparel, and put on the garments of anguish and mourning: and instead of the most excellent ointments, she covered her head with ashes and dung, and she humbled her body greatly, and all the places of the ornaments of her joy she covered with her tangled hair. ³ And she prayed unto the Lord, the God of Israel, saying, O my Lord, thou only art our King: help me that am desolate and have no other helper but thee: ⁴ for my danger is in mine hand. ⁵ From my youth up I have heard in the tribe of my family, that thou, O Lord, tookest Israel from among all the nations, and our fathers from all their progenitors, for a perpetual inheritance, and didst perform for them whatsoever thou didst promise. ⁶And now we have sinned before thee, and thou hast given us into the hands of our enemies, ⁷because we glorified their gods: O Lord, thou art righteous. ⁸Nevertheless it satisfieth them not, that we are in bitter captivity: but they have stricken hands with their idols, ⁹that they will abolish the thing that thou with thy mouth hast ordained, and destroy thine inheritance, and stop the mouth of them that praise thee, and quench the glory of thy house, and thine altar, ¹⁰and open the mouths of ^{}the heathen to set forth the virtues of ^{}idols, and that a fleshly king shall be magnified for ever. ¹¹O Lord, give not thy sceptre unto them that be nothing, and let them not laugh at our fall; but turn their device upon themselves, and make him an example, that hath begun this against us. ¹²Remember, O Lord, make thyself known in the time of our affliction, and give me boldness, O King of the gods, and holder of all dominion. ¹³Give me eloquent speech in my mouth before the lion: and turn his heart to hate him that fighteth against us, that there may be an end of him, and of them that are likeminded with him: ¹⁴but deliver us with thine hand, and help me that am desolate and have no other helper but thee, O Lord. ¹⁵Thou hast knowledge of all things; and thou knowest that I hate the glory of the wicked, and abhor the bed of the uncircumcised, and of every alien. ¹⁶Thou knowest my necessity: that I abhor the sign of my high estate, which is upon mine head in the days wherein I shew myself. I abhor it as a menstruous rag, and I wear it not when I am private by myself. ¹⁷And thine handmaid hath not eaten at Aman's table, neither have I honoured the king's feast, nor drunk the wine of the drink offerings. ¹⁸Neither had thine handmaid any joy since the day that I was brought hither to this present, but in thee, O Lord, thou God of Abraham. ¹⁹O God, that art mighty above all, hear the voice of the forlorn, and deliver us out of the hands of the mischievous, and deliver me out of my fear.

¹And upon the third day, when she had ended her prayer, she laid away her garments of service, and put on her glorious apparel. ²And being majestically adorned, after she had called upon the all-seeing God and saviour, she took her two maids with her: ³and upon the one she leaned, as carrying herself delicately; ⁴and the other followed, bearing up her train. ⁵And she was ruddy through the perfection of her beauty, and her countenance was cheerful and right amiable: but her heart was in anguish for fear. ⁶Then having passed through all the doors, she stood before the king, who sat upon his royal throne, and was clothed with all his robes of majesty, all glittering with gold and precious stones; and he was very dreadful. ⁷Then lifting up his countenance that was flushed with glory, he looked upon her in fierce anger: and the queen fell down, and turned pale, and fainted, and she bowed herself upon the head of the maid that went before. ⁸Then God changed the spirit of the king into mildness, who in an agony leaped from his throne, and took her in his arms, till she came to herself again, and comforted her with soothing words, and said unto her, ⁹Esther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheer: ¹⁰thou shalt not die, for ^{*}our commandment is for our subjects: come near. ¹¹So he held up his golden sceptre, and laid it upon her neck, ¹²and embraced her, and said, Speak unto me. ¹³Then said she unto him, I saw thee, my lord, as an angel of God, and my heart was troubled for fear of thy glory. ¹⁴For wonderful art thou, my lord, and thy countenance is full of grace. ¹⁵And as she was speaking, she fell down for faintness. ¹⁶Then the king was troubled, and all his servants comforted her. †

he thought, finding us destitute of friends, to have translated the kingdom of the Persians to the Macedonians. ¹⁵ But we find that the Jews, whom this most ungracious wretch hath delivered to utter destruction, are no evil-doers, but live by most just laws: ¹⁶ and that they be children of the most high and most mighty living God, who hath ordered the kingdom both unto us and to our progenitors in the most excellent manner. ¹⁷ Wherefore ye shall do well not to put in execution the letters sent unto you by Aman the son of Amadathus. ¹⁸ For he, that was the worker of these things, is hanged at the gates of Susa with all his family: God, who ruleth all things, speedily rendering vengeance to him according to his deserts. ¹⁹ Therefore ye shall publish openly the copy of this letter in all places, and let the Jews live after their own laws, ²⁰ and ye shall aid them, that even the same day, being the thirteenth day of the twelfth month Adar, they may defend themselves against those who set upon them in the time of their affliction. ²¹ For Almighty God hath made this day to be a joy unto them, instead of the destruction of the chosen people. ²² And ye shall therefore among your commemorative feasts keep it a high day with all feasting: ²³ that both now and hereafter there may be safety to us, and the well affected Persians; but to those which do conspire against us a memorial of destruction. ²⁴ Therefore every city or country whatsoever, which shall not do according to these things, shall be utterly destroyed without mercy with † fire and sword; it shall be made not only unpassable for men, but also most hateful to wild beasts and fowls for ever.

THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON.

¹ Love righteousness, ye that be judges of the earth,

Think ye of the Lord * with a good mind,
And in singleness of heart seek ye him;

² Because he is found of them that tempt him not,

And is manifested to them that do not distrust him.

³ For crooked thoughts separate from God;
And the supreme Power, when it is brought to the proof, † putteth to confusion the foolish:

⁴ Because wisdom will not enter into a soul that deviseth evil,
Nor dwell in a body that is held in pledge by sin.

⁵ For a holy spirit of discipline will flee deceit.

And will start away from thoughts that are without understanding,

And will be ‡ put to confusion when unrighteousness hath come in.

⁶ For § wisdom is a spirit that loveth man,
And she will not hold a  blasphemer guiltless for his lips;

Because God beareth witness of his reins,
And is a true overseer of his heart,
And a hearer of his tongue:

⁷ Because the spirit of the Lord hath filled †† the world,

And that which holdeth all things together hath knowledge of every voice.

⁸ Therefore no man that uttereth unrighteous things shall be unseen;

‡‡ Neither shall Justice, when it convicteth, pass him by.

⁹ For in the midst of his counsels the ungodly shall be searched out;

And the sound of his words shall come unto the Lord

To bring to conviction his lawless deeds:

And the noise of murmurings is not hid.

¹¹ Beware then of unprofitable murmuring,
And refrain your tongue from backbiting;
Because no secret utterance shall go on its way void,

And a mouth that belieti destroyeth a soul.

¹² Court not death in the error of your life;
Neither draw upon yourselves destruction by the works of your hands:

¹³ Because God made not death;
Neither delighteth he when the living perish:

¹⁴ For he created all things that they might have being:

And §§ the generative powers of the world are healthsome,

And there is no poison of destruction in them:

Nor hath Hades  royal dominion upon earth,

¹⁵ For righteousness is immortal:

¹⁶ But ungodly men by their hands and their words called ††† death unto them:

Deeming him a friend they ‡‡‡ consumed away,

And they made a covenant with him,
Because they are worthy to be of his portion.

2

¹ For they said * within themselves, reasoning not aright,

Short and sorrowful is our life;
And there is no healing when a man cometh to his end,

And none was ever known that † gave release from Hades.

² Because by mere chance were we born,
And hereafter we shall be as though we had never been:

Because the breath in our nostrils is smoke,
And ‡ while our heart beateth reason is a spark,

³ Which being extinguished, the body shall be turned into ashes,

And the spirit shall be dispersed as thin air;
⁴ And our name shall be forgotten in time,

And no man shall remember our works;
And our life shall pass away as the traces of
a cloud,

And shall be scattered as is a mist,
When it is chased by the beams of the sun,
And § overcome by the heat thereof.

⁵ For our allotted time is the passing of a shadow,

And  our end retreateth not;
Because it is fast sealed, and none †† turneth it back.

⁶ Come therefore and let us enjoy the good things ‡‡ that now are;

And let us use the creation §§ with all our soul  as youth's possession.

⁷ Let us fill ourselves with costly wine and perfumes;

And let no flower of ††† spring pass us by:

⁸ Let us crown ourselves with rosebuds,
before they be withered:

⁹ Let none of us go without his share in our proud revelry:

Everywhere let us leave tokens of our mirth:

Because this is our portion, and our lot is this.

¹⁰ Let us oppress the righteous poor;
Let us not spare the widow,
Nor reverence the hairs of the old man gray for length of years.

¹¹ But let our strength be to us a law of righteousness;

For that which is weak is ‡‡‡ found to be of no service.

¹² But let us lie in wait for the righteous man,
Because he is of disservice to us,
And is contrary to our works,

And upbraideth us with sins against §§§ the law,

And layeth to our charge sins against our discipline.

¹³ He professeth to have knowledge of God,
And nameth himself * servant of the Lord.

¹⁴ He became to us a reproof of our thoughts.

¹⁵ He is grievous unto us even to behold,
Because his life is unlike other men's,
And his paths are of strange fashion.

¹⁶ We were accounted of him as base metal,

And he abstaineth from our ways as from uncleanesses.

The latter end of the righteous he calleth
happy;

And he vaunteth that God is his father.

¹⁷ Let us see if his words be true,
And let us try what shall befall in the ending of his life.

¹⁸ For if the righteous man is God's son, he will uphold him,
And he will deliver him out of the hand of his adversaries.

¹⁹ With outrage and torture let us put him to the test,

That we may learn his gentleness,
And may prove his patience under wrong.

²⁰ Let us condemn him to a shameful death;
For † he shall be visited according to his words.

²¹ Thus reasoned they, and they were led astray;

For their ‡ wickedness blinded them,

²² And they knew not the mysteries of God,
Neither hoped they for wages of holiness, Nor did they judge that there is a prize for blameless souls.

²³ Because God created man for incorrup-
tion,

And made him an image of his own § proper being;

²⁴ But by the envy of the devil death entered into the world,

And they that are of his portion make trial thereof.

hand of God,
And no torment shall touch them.

² In the eyes of the foolish they seemed to have died;

And their departure was accounted to be their hurt,

³ And their journeying away from us to be their ruin:

But they are in peace.

⁵ And having borne a little chastening, they shall receive great good; Because God made trial of them, and found them worthy of himself.

⁶ As gold in the furnace he proved them, And as a whole burnt offering he accepted them.

⁷ And in the time of their visitation they shall shine forth, And as sparks among stubble they shall run to and fro.

⁸ They shall judge nations, and have dominion over peoples; And the Lord shall reign over them for evermore.

⁹ They that trust on him shall understand truth, And * the faithful shall abide with him in love; Because grace and mercy are to his chosen.

¹⁰ But the ungodly shall be requited even as they reasoned,

They which lightly regarded † the righteous man, and revolted from the Lord;

¹¹ (For he that setteth at nought wisdom and discipline is miserable;) And void is their hope and their toils unprofitable,

And useless are their works:

¹² Their wives are foolish, and wicked are their children;

¹³ Accursed is their begetting. Because happy is the barren that is undefiled,

She who hath not conceived in transgression;

She shall have fruit when God visiteth souls.

¹⁴ And happy is the eunuch which hath wrought no lawless deed with his hands,

Nor imagined wicked things against the Lord;

For there shall be given him for his faithfulness ‡ a peculiar favour,

And a lot in the sanctuary of the Lord more delightsome than wife or children.

¹⁵ For good labours have fruit of great renown;

And the root of understanding cannot fail.

¹⁶ But children of adulterers shall not come to maturity,

And the seed of an unlawful bed shall vanish away.

¹⁷ For if they live long, they shall be held in no account,

And at the last their old age shall be without honour.

¹⁸ And if they die quickly, they § shall have no hope,

Nor in the day of decision shall they have consolation.

¹⁹ For  the end of an unrighteous generation is always grievous.

¹ Better than this is childishness with virtue; For in the memory * of virtue is immortality:

Because it is recognised both before God and before men.

² When it is present, men imitate it;

And they long after it when it is departed:

And † throughout all time it marcheth crowned in triumph, Victorious in the strife for the prizes that are undefiled.

³ But the multiplying brood of the ungodly shall be of no profit,

And ‡ with bastard § slips they shall not strike deep root,

Nor shall they establish a sure hold.

⁴ For even if these  put forth boughs and flourish for a season,

Yet, standing unsure, they shall be shaken by the wind,

And by the violence of winds they shall be rooted out.

⁵ Their branches shall be broken off before they come to maturity, and their fruit shall be useless,

Never ripe to eat, and fit for nothing.

⁶ For children unlawfully begotten are witnessings of wickedness

Against parents when God searcheth them out.

* 3:9 Or, they that are faithful through love shall abide with him † 3:10 Or, that which is righteous ‡ 3:14 Or, the grace of God's chosen Gr. a chosen grace. § 3:18 Some authorities read have  3:19 Gr. the ends...are grievous. * 4:1 Gr. of it. † 4:2 Gr. in the age. ‡ 4:3 Gr. from § 4:3 Or, offshoots  4:4 Gr. in boughs flourish.

⁷But a righteous man, though he die before his time, shall be at rest.

⁸(For honourable old age is not that which standeth in length of time,

Nor is its measure given by number of years:

⁹But understanding is gray hairs unto men, And an unspotted life is ripe old age.)

¹⁰Being found well-pleasing unto God he was beloved of him,

And while living among sinners he was translated:

¹¹He was caught away, lest †† wickedness should change his understanding,

Or guile deceive his soul.

¹²(For the bewitching of naughtiness bedimmeth the things which are good, And the giddy whirl of desire perverteth an innocent mind.)

¹³Being made perfect in a little while, he fulfilled long †† years;

¹⁴For his soul was pleasing unto the Lord: Therefore §§ hastened he out of the midst of wickedness.

¹⁵But as for the peoples, seeing and understanding not,

Neither laying  this to heart, That grace and mercy are with his chosen, And that ††† he visiteth his holy ones:-

¹⁶But a righteous man that is dead shall condemn the ungodly that are living, And youth that is quickly perfected the many years of an unrighteous man's old age;

¹⁷For the ungodly shall see a wise man's end, And shall not understand what the Lord purposed concerning him, And for what he safely kept him:-

¹⁸They shall see, and they shall despise; But them the Lord shall laugh to scorn.

And after this they shall become a dishonoured carcase,

And ††† a reproach among the dead for ever:

¹⁹Because he shall dash them speechless to the ground,

And shall shake them from the foundations,

And they shall $$$ lie utterly waste, and they shall be in anguish, And their memory shall perish.

²⁰They shall come, * when their sins are reckoned up, with coward fear; And their lawless deeds shall convict them to their face.

¹Then shall the righteous man stand in great boldness

Before the face of them that afflicted him, And them that make his labours of no account.

²When they see * it, they shall be troubled with terrible fear, And shall be amazed at the marvel of God's salvation.

³They shall say † within themselves repenting,

And for distress of spirit shall they groan, This was he whom aforetime we had in derision,

And made a parable of † reproach:

⁴We fools accounted his life madness, And his end without honour:

⁵How was he numbered among sons of God? And how is his lot among saints?

⁶Verily we went astray from the way of truth,

And the light of righteousness shined not for us,

And the sun rose not for us.

⁷We § took our fill of the paths of lawlessness and destruction,

And we journeyed through trackless deserts,

But the way of the Lord we knew not.

⁸What did our arrogance profit us?

And what good have riches  and vaunting brought us?

⁹Those things all passed away as a shadow, And as a message that runneth by:

¹⁰As a ship passing through the billowy water,

Whereof, when it is gone by, there is no trace to be found,

Neither pathway of its keel in the billows:

But the light wind, lashed with the stroke
of her pinions,

And rent asunder †† with the violent

And afterwards no sign of her coming is found therein:

¹²Or as when an arrow is shot at a mark,
The air departed closeth up again immediately,

So that men know not where it passed through:

¹³So we also, as soon as we were born, †† ceased to be;

And of virtue we had no sign to shew,
But in our wickedness we were utterly consumed.

¹⁴Because the hope of the ungodly man is as chaff carried by the wind,

And §§ as  foam vanishing before a tempest;

And is scattered as smoke is scattered by the wind,

And passeth by as the remembrance of a guest that tarrieth but a day.

¹⁵But the righteous live for ever,
And in the Lord is their reward,
And the care for them with the Most High.

¹⁶Therefore shall they receive the crown of royal dignity

And the diadem of beauty from the Lord's
hand;

Because with his right hand shall he cover
them,

And with his arm shall he shield them.

¹⁷He shall take his jealousy as complete armour,

And shall make the whole creation his weapons ††† for vengeance on his enemies:

¹⁸He shall put on righteousness as a breast-
plate,

And shall array himself with judgement
unfeigned as with a helmet;

¹⁹He shall take holiness as an invincible
shield,

²⁰And he shall sharpen stern wrath for a sword:

And the world shall go forth with him to fight against his insensate foes.

²¹Shafts of lightning shall fly with true aim,
And from the clouds, as from a well drawn bow, shall they leap to the mark.

²²And as from an engine of war shall be hurled hailstones full of wrath;

The water of the sea shall be angered against them,

And rivers shall sternly overwhelm them;

²³A mighty blast shall encounter them,
And as a tempest shall it winnow them
away:

And so shall lawlessness make all the land
desolate,

And their evil-doing shall overturn the thrones of princes.

6

¹Hear therefore, ye kings, and understand;
Learn, ye judges of the ends of the earth:

²Give ear, ye that have dominion over much people,

And make your boast * in multitudes of nations.

³Because your dominion was given you from the Lord,

And your sovereignty from the Most High;
Who shall search out your works,

And shall make inquisition of your counsels:

⁴Because being officers of his kingdom ye did not judge aright,
Neither kept ye † law, nor walked after the counsel of God.

⁵Awfully and swiftly shall he come upon you;

Because a stern judgement befalleth them
that be in high place:

⁶For the man of low estate may be pardoned
in mercy,

But mighty men shall be ‡ searched out mightily.

⁷For the Sovereign Lord of all will not refrain himself for any man's person,
Neither will he reverence greatness;

Because it is he that made both small and great,

And alike he taketh thought for all;

⁸ But [§] strict is the scrutiny that cometh upon the powerful.

⁹ Unto you therefore, O princes, are my words,

That ye may learn wisdom and ^{} fall not from the right way.

¹⁰ For they that have kept holily the things that are holy shall themselves be ^{††} hallowed;

And they that have been taught them shall find what to answer;

¹¹ Set your desire therefore on my words; Long for them, and ye shall be ^{‡‡} trained by their discipline.

¹² Wisdom is radiant and fadeth not away; And easily is she beheld of them that love her,

And found of them that seek her.

¹³ She forestalleth them that desire to know her, making herself first known.

¹⁴ He that riseth up early to seek her shall have no toil,

For he shall find her sitting at his gates.

¹⁵ For to think upon her is perfectness of understanding,

And he that watcheth for her sake shall quickly be free from care.

¹⁶ Because she goeth about, herself seeking them that are worthy of her,

And in their paths she appeareth unto them graciously,

And in every purpose she meeteth them.

¹⁷ For ^{§§} her ^{} true beginning is desire of discipline;

And the care for discipline is love of her;

¹⁸ And love of her is observance of her laws; And to give heed to her laws confirmeth incorruption;

¹⁹ And incorruption ^{†††} bringeth near unto God;

²⁰ So then desire of wisdom promoteth to a kingdom.

²¹ If therefore ye delight in thrones and sceptres, ye princes of peoples, Honour wisdom, that ye may reign for ever.

And I will not pass by the truth;

²³ Neither indeed will I take ^{§§§} pining envy for my companion in the way,

²⁴ But a multitude of wise men is salvation to the world,

And an understanding king is tranquillity to his people.

¹ I myself also am ^{*} mortal, like to all,

And am sprung from one born of the earth, the man first formed,

² And in the womb of a mother was I moulded into flesh in the time of ten months,

Being compacted in blood of the seed of man and pleasure that came with sleep.

³ And I also, when I was born, drew in the common air,

And fell upon the [†] kindred earth, Uttering, like all, for my first voice, the selfsame wail:

⁴ In swaddling clothes was I nursed, and [‡] with watchful cares.

⁵ For no king had any other first beginning;

⁶ But all men have one entrance into life, and a like departure.

⁷ For this cause I prayed, and understanding was given me:

I called upon God, and there came to me a spirit of wisdom.

And I chose to have her rather than light,
Because her bright shining is never laid to sleep.

¹¹ But with her there came to me all good things together,
And in her hands innumerable riches:

¹² And I rejoiced over them all because wisdom leadeth them;

Though I knew not that she was the § mother of them.

¹³ As I learned without guile, I impart without grudging;

I do not hide her riches.

¹⁴ For she is unto men a treasure that faileth not,

And they that use it  obtain friendship with God,

Commended to him †† by the gifts which they through discipline present to him.

¹⁵ But to me may God give to speak †† with judgement,

And to conceive thoughts worthy of what §§ hath been given me;

Because himself is one that guideth even wisdom and that correcteth the wise.

¹⁶ For in his hand are both we and our words;
All understanding, and all acquaintance with divers crafts.

¹⁷ For himself gave me an unerring knowledge of the things that are,
To know the constitution of the world, and the operation of the elements;

¹⁸ The beginning and end and middle of times,

The alternations of the solstices and the changes of seasons,

¹⁹ The circuits of years and the  positions of stars;

²⁰ The natures of living creatures and the ragings of wild beasts,

The violences of ††† winds and the thoughts of men,
The diversities of plants and the virtues of roots:

²¹ All things that are either secret or manifest I learned,

²² For she that is the artificer of all things taught me, even wisdom.

For there is in her a spirit quick of understanding, holy, ‡‡‡ Alone in kind, manifold,

Subtil, freely moving,

Clear in utterance, unpolluted,

Distinct, unharmed,

Loving what is good, keen, unhindered,

²³ Beneficent, loving toward man,

Stedfast, sure, free from care,

All-powerful, all-surveying,

And penetrating through all spirits

That are quick of understanding, pure, most subtil:

²⁴ For wisdom is more mobile than any motion;

Yea, she pervadeth and penetrateth all things by reason of her pureness.

²⁵ For she is a §§§ breath of the power of God,
And a clear effluence of the glory of the Almighty;

Therefore can nothing defiled find entrance into her.

²⁶ For she is an effulgence from everlasting light,

And an unspotted mirror of the working of God,

And an image of his goodness.

²⁷ And she, being one, hath power to do all things;

And remaining in herself, reneweth all things:

And from generation to generation passing into holy souls

She maketh men friends of God and prophets.

²⁸ For nothing doth God love save him that dwelleth with wisdom.

²⁹ For she is fairer than the sun,

And I sought to take her for my bride,
And I became enamoured of her beauty.

³She glorifieth her noble birth in that it is given her to live with God,
And the Sovereign Lord of all loved her.

⁴For she is initiated into the knowledge of God,

And she ‡ chooseth out for him his works.

⁵But if riches are a desired possession in
life,

What is richer than wisdom, which worketh all things?

⁶§ And if understanding worketh,

Who more than  wisdom is an artificer of the things that are?

⁷And if a man loveth righteousness,

†† The fruits of wisdom's labour are virtues,

For she teacheth soberness and understanding, righteousness and courage;

And there is nothing in life for men more profitable than these.

⁸And if a man longeth even for much experience,

She knoweth ‡‡ the things of old, and §§
divineth the things to come:

She understandeth subtilties of speeches and interpretations of dark sayings:

She foreseeth signs and wonders, and the issues of seasons and times.

⁹I determined therefore to take her unto me to live with me,

Knowing that she is one who would  give me good thoughts for counsel,

And ††† encourage me in cares and grief.

¹⁰Because of her I shall have glory among multitudes,

And honour in the sight of elders, though I be young.

¹¹I shall be found of a quick conceit when I give judgement,

And in the presence of ‡‡‡ princes I shall be admired.

¹²When I am silent, they shall wait for me;
And when I open my lips, they shall give heed unto me;

And if I continue speaking, they shall lay their hand upon their mouth.

¹³Because of her I shall have immortality, And leave behind an eternal memory to them that come after me.

¹⁴I shall govern peoples,
And nations shall be subjected to me.

¹⁵Dread princes shall fear me when they hear of me:

Among my §§§ people I shall shew myself a good ruler, and in war courageous.

¹⁶When I am come into my house, I shall find rest with her;

For converse with her hath no bitterness,
And to live with her hath no pain, but gladness and joy.

¹⁷When I considered these things in myself,
And took thought in my heart how that in kinship unto wisdom is immortality,

¹⁸And in her friendship is good delight,
And in the labours of her hands is wealth that faileth not,

And in * assiduous communing with her is understanding,

And great renown in having fellowship

 And reject me not from among thy § servants:
⁵Because I am thy bondman and the son of thy handmaid,

 And of small power to understand judgement and laws.
⁶For even if a man be perfect among the sons of men,
 Yet if the wisdom that cometh from thee be not with him, he shall be held in no account.
⁷Thou didst choose me before my brethren to be king of thy people,
 And to do judgement for thy sons and daughters.
⁸Thou gavest command to build a sanctuary in thy holy mountain,
 And  an altar in the city of thy †† habitation,
 A copy of the holy tabernacle which thou preparedst aforehand from the beginning.

⁹And with thee is wisdom, which knoweth thy works,

 And what is right †† according to thy commandments.
¹⁰Send her forth out of the holy heavens,
 And from the throne of thy glory bid her come,
 That being present with me she may toil with me,
 And that I may learn what is well-pleasing before thee.
¹¹For she knoweth all things and hath understanding thereof,
 And in my doings she shall guide me in ways of soberness,
 And she shall guard me in her glory.
¹²And so shall my works be acceptable,
 And I shall judge thy people righteously,
 And I shall be worthy of my father's §§ throne.
¹³For what man shall know the counsel of God?
 Or who shall conceive what the Lord willeth?
¹⁴For the thoughts of mortals are  timorous,
 And our devices are prone to fail.
¹⁵For a corruptible body weigheth down the soul,
 And the earthy frame lieth heavy on a mind that ††† is full of cares.
¹⁶And hardly do we ††† divine the things that are on earth,
 And the things that are close at hand we find with labour;
 But the things that are in the heavens who ever yet traced out?

And men were taught the things that are pleasing unto thee;
And through wisdom were they saved.

⁸ For having passed wisdom by,
Not only were they disabled from recognising the things which are good,
But they also left behind them ^{††} for human life a monument of their folly;
To the end that ^{‡‡} where they ^{§§} went astray they might fail even to be unseen:
⁹ But wisdom delivered out of troubles
those that waited on her.

10

¹ * Wisdom guarded to the end the first formed father of the world, that was created alone,
And delivered him out of his own transgression,
² And gave him strength to get dominion over all things.
³ But when an unrighteous man fell away
from her in his anger,
He perished himself in the rage wherewith
he slew his brother.
⁴ And when for his cause the earth was drowning with a flood,
Wisdom again saved it,
Guiding the righteous man's course by a poor piece of wood.

¹⁰ When a righteous man was a fugitive from a brother's wrath, ^{} wisdom guided him in straight paths;
She shewed him God's kingdom, and gave him knowledge of holy things;
She prospered him in his toils, and multiplied the fruits of his labour;
¹¹ When in their covetousness men dealt hardly with him,
She stood by him and made him rich;
¹² She guarded him from enemies,
And from those that lay in wait she kept him safe,
And over his sore conflict she watched as judge,
That he might know that godliness is more powerful than ^{†††} all.

⁵ Moreover, when nations consenting together in wickedness had been confounded,
[†] Wisdom knew the righteous man, and preserved him blameless unto God,
And kept him strong when his heart
yearned toward his child.

¹³ When a righteous man was sold, ^{‡‡‡} wisdom forsook him not,
But ^{§§§} from sin she delivered him;
She went down with him into a dungeon,
¹⁴ And in bonds she left him not,
Till she brought him the sceptre of a kingdom,
And authority over those that dealt tyrannously with him;
She shewed them also to be false that had
mockingly accused him,
And gave him eternal glory.

⁶ While the ungodly were perishing, [‡] wisdom delivered a righteous man,

She guided them along a marvellous way,
And became unto them a covering in the day-time,

And a flame of stars through the night.

¹⁸ She brought them over the Red sea,
And led them through much water;

¹⁹ But their enemies she drowned,
And out of the bottom of the deep she cast

thou didst prove;

But those, as a stern king, condemning them, thou didst search out.

¹¹ Yea and whether they were far off from the righteous or near them, they were alike distressed;

¹² For a double grief took hold on them,
And a groaning at the remembrance of things past.

¹³ For when they heard that through their

min,

Thou didst send upon them a multitude of irrational creatures for vengeance;

¹⁶ That they might learn, that by what things a man sinneth, by these he is punished.

eyes;

¹⁹ Which had power not only to consume them by their ††† violence,
But to destroy them even by the terror of their sight.

²⁰ Yea and without these might they have fallen by a single breath,
Being pursued by Justice, and scattered abroad by the breath of thy power.
But by measure and number and weight thou didst order all things.

²¹ For to be greatly strong is thine at all times;
And the might of thine arm who shall withstand?

²² Because the whole world before thee is as
‡‡‡ a grain §§§ in a balance,
And as a drop of dew that at morning
cometh down upon the earth.

²³ But thou hast mercy on all men, because thou hast power to do all things,
And thou overlookest the sins of men to the end they may repent.

²⁴ For thou lovest all things that are,
And abhorrest none of the things which thou didst make;
For never wouldest thou have formed anything if thou didst hate it.

²⁵ And how would anything have endured, except thou hadst willed it?
Or that which was not called by thee, how would it have been preserved?

²⁶ But thou sparest all things, because they are thine,

O Sovereign Lord, thou lover of men's * lives;

12

¹ For thine incorruptible spirit is in all things.

² Wherefore thou convictest by little and little them that * fall from the right way,

And, putting them in remembrance by the very things wherein they sin, dost thou admonish them,

That escaping from their wickedness they may believe on thee, O Lord.

³ For verily the old inhabitants of thy holy land,

⁴ Hating them because they practised detestable works of enchantments
and unholy rites

⁵ †(Merciless slaughters of children,
And sacrificial banquets of men's flesh and
of blood),

⁶ Confederates in an impious fellowship,
And murderers of their own helpless babes,
It was thy counsel to destroy by the hands
of our fathers;

⁷ That the land which in thy sight is most precious of all lands

Might receive a worthy colony of God's ‡ servants.

⁸ Nevertheless even these thou didst spare
as being men,

And thou sentest § hornets as forerunners
of thy host,

To cause them to perish by little and little;

⁹ Not that thou wast unable to subdue the ungodly under the hand of the righteous in battle,

Or by terrible beasts or by one stern word
to make away with them at once;

¹⁰ But judging them by little and little thou gavest them a place of repentance, Not being ignorant that their nature by birth was evil, and their wickedness
inborn,

And that their manner of thought would in no wise ever be changed,

¹¹ For they were a seed accursed from the beginning:

Neither was it through fear of any that thou didst leave them then unpunished for their sins.

¹² For who shall say, What hast thou done?

Or who shall withstand thy judgement?

And who shall accuse thee for the perishing of nations which thou didst make?

Or who shall come and stand before thee as an avenger for unrighteous men?

¹³ For neither is there any God beside thee that careth for all,

That thou mightest shew unto him that thou didst not judge unrighteously;

¹⁴ Neither shall king or prince be able to look thee in the face to plead for those whom thou hast punished.

¹⁵ But being righteous thou rulest all things righteously,

Deeming it a thing alien from thy power
To condemn one that doth not himself deserve to be punished.

¹⁶ For thy strength is the beginning of righteousness,

And thy sovereignty over all maketh thee to forbear all.

¹⁷ For when men believe not that thou art perfect in power, thou shewest thy strength,

 And †† in dealing with them that know it thou puttest their boldness to confusion.

¹⁸ But thou, being sovereign over thy strength, judgest in gentleness,

And with great forbearance dost thou govern us;

For the power is thine whensoever thou hast the will.

¹⁹ But thou didst teach thy people by such works as these,

How that the righteous must be a lover of
men;

And thou didst make thy sons to be of good hope,

Because thou givest repentance when men have sinned.

²⁰ For if on them that were enemies of thy †† servants and due to death

Thou didst take vengeance with so great heedfulness and indulgence,

Giving them times and place whereby they might escape from their wickedness;

²¹ With how great carefulness didst thou judge thy sons,

To whose fathers thou gavest oaths and covenants of good promises!

²² While therefore thou dost chasten us, thou scourgest our enemies ten thousand times more,

To the intent that we may ponder thy goodness when we judge,

And when we are judged may look for mercy.

²³ Wherefore also the unrighteous that lived in folly of life

Thou didst torment through their own abominations.

²⁴ For verily they went astray very far §§ in the ways of error,

Taking as gods those  animals which even among their enemies were held in dishonour,

Deceived like foolish babes.

²⁵ Therefore, as unto unreasoning children, thou didst send thy judgement to mock them.

²⁶ But they that would not be admonished ††† by a mocking correction as of children

Shall have experience of a judgement worthy of God.

²⁷ For through the sufferings whereat they were indignant,

Being punished in these creatures which
they supposed to be gods,

They saw, and recognised as the true God him whom before they ††† refused to know:

Wherefore also the last end of condemnation came upon them.

13

¹ For verily all men by nature * were but vain who had no perception of God,

And from the good things that are seen they gained not power to know him that is,

Neither by giving heed to the works did they recognise the artificer;

They thought to be gods that rule the world.

³ And if it was through delight in their beauty that they took them to be gods,

Let them know how much better than these is their Sovereign Lord;

For the first author of beauty created them:

⁴ But if it was through astonishment at their power and [§] influence,

Let them understand from them how much more powerful is he that formed them;

⁵ For from the ^{} greatness of the beauty ^{††} even of created things

^{‡‡} In like proportion ^{§§} does man form the image of their first maker.

⁶ But yet for these ^{} men there is but small blame,

For they too peradventure do but go astray While they are seeking God and desiring to find him.

⁷ For ^{†††} living among his works they make diligent search,

And they ^{‡‡‡} yield themselves up to sight, because the things that they look upon are beautiful.

⁸ But again even they are not to be excused.

⁹ For if they had power to know so much, That they should be able to explore ^{§§§} the course of things,

How is it that they did not sooner find the Sovereign Lord of these his works?

¹⁰ But miserable ^{*} were they, and [†] in dead things [‡] were their hopes,

Who called them gods which are works of men's hands,

Gold and silver, wrought with careful art, and likenesses of animals,

Or a useless stone, the work of an ancient hand.

¹¹ Yea and if some [§] woodcutter, having sawn down a ^{} tree that is easily moved,

Skilfully strippeth away all its bark,

And fashioning it in comely form maketh a vessel useful for the service of life;

¹³ And taking the very refuse thereof which served to no use,

A crooked piece of wood and full of knots, Carveth it with the diligence of his idleness,

And shapeth it by the skill of his ^{††} indolence;

^{‡‡} Then he giveth it the semblance of the image of a man,

¹⁴ Or maketh it like some paltry animal,

Smearing it with vermilion, and with ^{§§} paint colouring it red,

And smearing over every stain that is therein;

¹⁵ And having made for it a chamber worthy of it,

He setteth it in a wall, making it fast with iron.

¹⁶ While then he taketh thought for it that it may not fall down,

Knowing that it is unable to help itself;

(For verily it is an image, and hath need of help;)

¹⁷ When he maketh his prayer concerning goods and his marriage and children,

He is not ashamed to speak to that which hath no life;

¹⁸ Yea for health he calleth upon that which is weak,

And for life he beseecheth that which is dead,

And for aid he supplicateth that which hath least experience.

¹ Again, one preparing to sail, and about to journey over raging waves,

Callesh upon a piece of wood more rotten than the vessel that carrieth him;

² For that vessel the hunger for gains devised,

And an artificer, even wisdom, built it;

³ And thy providence, O Father, guideth it along,

Because even in the sea thou gavest a way, And in the waves a sure path,

⁴ Shewing that thou canst save out of every danger,

That so even without art a man may put to sea;

⁵ And it is thy will that the works of thy wisdom should be not idle;

Therefore also do men intrust their lives to a little piece of wood,,

And passing through the surge * on a raft are brought safe to land.

⁶ For † in the old time also, when proud giants were perishing,

The hope of the world, taking refuge on a raft,

Left to ‡ the race of men a seed of generations to come,

Thy hand guiding the helm.

⁷ For blessed § hath been wood through which cometh righteousness:

⁸ But the idol made with hands is accursed, itself and he that made it;

Because his was the working, and the corruptible thing was named a god:

⁹ For both the ungodly doer and his ungodliness are alike hateful to God;

¹⁰ For verily the deed shall be punished together with him that committed it.

¹¹ Therefore also  among the idols of the nations shall there be a visitation,

Because, though formed of things which God created, they were made an abomination,

And stumblingblocks to the souls of men,

And a snare to the feet of the foolish.

¹² For the devising of idols was the beginning of fornication,

And the invention of them the corruption of life:

¹³ For neither were they from the beginning, neither shall they be for ever;

¹⁴ For by the vaingloriousness of men they entered into the world,

And therefore was a speedy end devised for them.

¹⁵ For a father worn with untimely grief, Making an image of the child quickly taken away,

Now honoured him as a god which was then a dead man,

And delivered to those that were under him mysteries and solemn rites.

¹⁶ Afterward the ungodly custom, in process of time grown strong, was kept as a law,

And by the commandments of princes the graven images received worship.

¹⁷ And when men could not honour them in presence because they dwelt far off,

Imagining the likeness from afar, They made a visible image of the king whom they honoured,

That by their zeal they might flatter the absent as if present.

¹⁸ But unto a yet higher pitch was worship raised even by them that knew him not,

Urged forward by the ambition of the artificer:

¹⁹ For he, wishing peradventure to please one in authority,

Used his art to force the likeness toward a greater beauty;

²⁰ And the multitude, allured by reason of the grace of his handywork,

Now accounted as an object of devotion him that a little before was honoured as a man.

²¹ And this became †† a hidden danger unto life,

Because men, in bondage either to calamity or to tyranny,

Invested stones and stocks with the incommunicable Name.

²² Afterward it was not enough for them to go astray as touching the knowledge of God;

 But one brings upon another either death by treachery, or anguish by adulterate offspring.
²⁵ And all things confusedly are filled with blood and murder, theft and deceit, Corruption, faithlessness, tumult, perjury,
²⁶ ††† turmoil,
 Ingratitude for benefits received,
 Defiling of souls, confusion of ††† sex,
 Disorder in marriage, adultery and wantonness.
²⁷ For the worship of §§§ those * nameless idols
 Is a beginning and cause and end of every evil.
²⁸ For their worshippers either make merry unto madness, or prophesy lies,
 Or live unrighteously, or lightly forswear themselves.
²⁹ For putting their trust in lifeless idols,
 When they have sworn a wicked oath, they expect not to suffer harm.
³⁰ But for both sins shall the just doom pursue them,
 Because they had evil thoughts of God by giving heed to idols,
 And swore unrighteously in deceit through contempt for holiness.
³¹ For it is not the power of them by whom men swear,
 But it is † that Justice which hath regard to them that sin,
 That visiteth always the transgression of the unrighteous.

Longsuffering, and in mercy ordering all things.
² For even if we sin, we are thine, knowing thy dominion;
 But we shall not sin, knowing that we have been accounted thine:
³ For to be acquainted with thee is * perfect righteousness,
 And to know thy dominion is the root of immortality.
⁴ For neither were we led astray by any evil device of men's art,
 Nor yet by painters' fruitless labour,
 A form stained with varied colours;
⁵ The sight whereof leadeth fools into † lust:
Their desire is for the breathless form of a dead image.
⁶ Lovers of evil things, and worthy of such hopes as these,
 Are both they that do, and they that desire, and they that worship.
⁷ For a potter, kneading soft earth,
 Laboriously mouldeth each several vessel for our service:
 Nay, out of the same clay doth he fashion Both the vessels that minister to clean uses, and those of a contrary sort,
 All in like manner;
 But what shall be the use of each vessel of either sort,
 The † craftsman himself is the judge.
⁸ And also, labouring to an evil end, he mouldeth a vain god out of the same clay,
 He who, having but a little before been made of earth,
 After a short space goeth his way to the earth out of which he was taken,
 When he is required to render back the § soul which was lent him.

For, saith he, one must get gain whence one can, though it be by evil.

¹³ For this man beyond all others knoweth that he sinneth,
Out of earthy matter making brittle vessels and graven images.

¹⁴ But most foolish * were they all, and † of feebler soul than a babe,
The enemies of thy people, who oppressed
them;

¹⁵ Because they even accounted all the idols
of the nations to be gods;
Which have neither the use of eyes for seeing,

Nor nostrils for drawing breath,
Nor ears to hear,
Nor fingers for handling,
And their feet are helpless for walking.

¹⁶ For a man made them,
And one whose own spirit is borrowed moulded them;

For no one hath power, being a man, to mould a god like unto himself,

¹⁷ But, being mortal, he maketh a dead thing
by the work of lawless hands;
For he is better than the objects of his worship,

‡ Forasmuch as he indeed had life, but they never.

¹⁸ Yea, and the creatures that are most hateful do they worship,

§ For, being compared as to want of sense,
these are worse than all others;

¹⁹ Neither, as seen beside other creatures, are they beautiful, so that one should desire them,
But they have escaped both the praise of God and his blessing.

¹ For this cause were these men worthily punished through creatures like those which they worship,
And tormented through a multitude of vermin.

² Instead of which punishment, thou, bestowing benefits on thy people,
Preparedst quails for food,
Food of * rare taste, to satisfy the desire of their appetite;

³ To the end that † thine enemies, desiring food,
Might for the hideousness of the creatures
sent among them

Loathe even the necessary appetite;
But these, thy people, having for a short space suffered want,

Might even partake of food of ‡ rare taste.

⁴ For it was needful that upon those should come inexorable want in their tyrannous dealing,

But that to these it should only be shewed
how their enemies were tormented.

⁵ For even when terrible raging of wild beasts came upon § thy people,
And they were perishing by the bites of crooked serpents,

Thy wrath continued not to the uttermost;
⁶ But for admonition were they troubled for a short space,
Having a token of salvation,

To put them in remembrance of the commandment of thy law:

⁷ For he that turned toward it was not saved
because of that which was beheld,
But because of thee, the Saviour of all.

⁸ Yea, and in this didst thou persuade our enemies,
That thou art he that delivereth out of every evil.

And there was not found a healing for their life,

Because they were worthy to be punished by such as these;

¹⁰ But thy sons not the very teeth of venomous dragons overcame,
For thy mercy passed by where they were,
and healed them.

¹¹ For they were ^{} bitten, to put them in remembrance of thine oracles;
And were quickly saved, lest, falling into deep forgetfulness,

They should become ^{††} unable to be ^{‡‡} roused by thy beneficence:

¹² For of a truth it was neither herb nor mollifying plaster that cured them,
But thy word, O Lord, which healeth all things;

¹³ For thou hast authority over life and death,
And thou leadest down to the gates of Hades, and leadest up again.

¹⁴ But though a man may slay by his ^{§§} wickedness,
Yet the spirit that is gone forth he turneth not again,
Neither giveth release to the soul that Hades hath received.

¹⁵ But thy hand it is not possible to escape;

¹⁶ For ungodly men, ^{} refusing to know thee, were scourged in the strength of thine arm,

Pursued with strange rains and hails and showers inexorable,
And utterly consumed with fire;

¹⁷ For, what was most marvellous of all,
In the water which quenqueth all things the fire wrought yet more mightily;
For the world fighteth for the righteous.

¹⁸ For at one time the flame lost its fierceness,

That it might not burn up the creatures sent against the ungodly,

But that these themselves as they looked might ^{†††} see that they were chased through the judgement of God:

¹⁹ And at another time even in the midst of water it burneth above the power of fire,

That it may destroy the ^{‡‡‡} fruits of an unrighteous land.

²⁰ Instead whereof thou gavest thy people angels' food to eat,

And bread ready for their use didst thou provide for them from heaven without their toil,

Bread having the virtue of every pleasant savour,

And agreeing to every taste;

²¹ For ^{§§§} thy ^{*} nature manifested thy sweetness toward thy children;

While that bread, ministering to the desire of the eater,

Tempered itself according to every man's choice.

²² But snow and ice endured fire, and melted not,

That men might know that fire was destroying the fruits of the enemies,

Burning in the hail and flashing in the rains;

²³ And [†] that this element again, in order that righteous men may be nourished, Hath even forgotten its own power.

²⁴ For the creation, ministering to thee its maker,

Straineth its force against the unrighteous, for punishment,

And slackeneth it in behalf of them that trust in thee, for beneficence.

²⁵ Therefore at that time also, converting itself into all forms,

It ministered to thine all-nourishing bounty,

According to the desire of them that [‡] made supplication;

²⁶ That thy sons, whom thou lovedst, O Lord, might learn

That it is not the [§] growth of the earth's fruits that nourisheth a man,

But that thy word preserveth them that trust thee.

as the winter's hoar frost,
And shall flow away as water that hath no use.

17

¹For great are thy judgements, and hard to
* interpret;
Therefore souls undisciplined went astray.
²For when lawless men had supposed that they held a holy nation in their power,
They, themselves, prisoners of darkness, and bound in the fetters of a long
night,
Close kept beneath their roofs,
Lay exiled from the eternal providence.
³For while they thought that they were unseen in their secret sins,
They were † sundered one from another by a dark curtain of forgetfulness, Stricken with terrible awe, and sore troubled by spectral forms.
⁴For neither did ‡ the dark recesses that held them guard them from fears,
But sounds § rushing down rang around
them,
And phantoms appeared, cheerless with unsmiling faces.
⁵And no force of fire prevailed to give them
light,
Neither were the brightest flames of the stars strong enough to illumine that gloomy night:
⁶But only there appeared to them the glimmering of a fire self-kindled, full of fear;
And in terror they deemed the things which they saw
To be worse than that sight, on which they could not gaze.

^{7} And they lay helpless, made the sport of magic art,
And a shameful rebuke of their vaunts of
understanding:
⁸For they that promised to drive away terrors and troublings from a sick soul,
These were themselves sick with a ludicrous
fearfulness:
⁹For even if no troublous thing affrighted
them,
Yet, scared with the creepings of vermin
and hissings of serpents, ¹⁰they perished †† for very trembling, Refusing even to look on the air, which could on no side be escaped.
^{11‡‡} For wickedness, condemned by a witness within, is a coward thing,
And, being pressed hard by conscience,
always §§ forecasteth the worst lot:
¹²For fear is nothing else but a surrender of the succours which reason offereth; ¹³And from within the heart the expectation of them being less Maketh of greater account the ignorance of the cause that bringeth the torment.
¹⁴But they, all through the night which was powerless indeed,
And which came upon them out of the recesses of powerless Hades,
All sleeping the same sleep,
¹⁵Now were haunted by monstrous apparitions,
And now were paralysed by their soul's surrendering;
For fear sudden and unlooked for  came upon them.
¹⁶So then every man, whosoever it might be,
sinking down ††† in his place,
Was kept in ward shut up in that prison which was barred not with iron:
¹⁷For whether he were a husbandman, or a shepherd,
Or a labourer whose toils were in the wilderness,
He was overtaken, and endured that inevitable necessity,

For with one chain of darkness were they all bound.

¹⁸ Whether there were a whistling wind,
Or a melodious noise of birds among the spreading branches,
Or a measured fall of water running violently,

¹⁹ Or a harsh crashing of rocks hurled down,
Or the swift course of animals bounding along unseen,
Or the voice of wild beasts harshly roaring,
Or an echo rebounding from ††† the hollows of the mountains,

All these things paralysed them with terror.

²⁰ For the whole world beside was enlightened with clear light,

And was occupied with unhindered works;

²¹ While over them alone was spread a heavy night,

An image of the darkness that should afterward receive them;

But yet heavier than darkness were they unto themselves.

18

¹ But for thy holy ones there was great light;
And the Egyptians, hearing their voice but seeing not their form,

Counted it a happy thing that they too had suffered,

And when a single child had been cast forth and saved  to convict them of their sin,

Thou tookest away from them their multitude of children,
And destroyedst all their host together in a mighty flood.

⁶ Of that night were our fathers made aware beforehand,

That, having sure knowledge, they might be cheered by the oaths which they had trusted:

⁷ So by thy people was expected salvation of the righteous and destruction of the enemies;

⁸ For as thou didst take vengeance on the adversaries,

†† By the same means, calling us unto thyself, thou didst glorify us.

⁹ For holy children ‡‡ of good men offered sacrifice in secret,

And with one consent they took upon themselves the covenant of the §§ divine law,

That  they would partake alike in the same good things and the same perils;

The fathers already leading the sacred songs of praise.

¹⁰ But there sounded back in discord the cry of the enemies,

††† And a piteous voice of lamentation for children was borne abroad.

¹¹ And servant along with master punished with a like just doom,

And commoner suffering the same as king,
¹² Yea, all the people together, under one form of death,

Had with them corpses without number;
For the living were not sufficient even to bury them,

Since at a single ††† stroke their †††† nobler offspring was consumed.

¹³For while they were disbelieving all things by reason of the enchantments, Upon the destruction of the firstborn they confessed the people to be God's son.

¹⁴For while peaceful silence enwrapped all things, And night in her own swiftness was in mid course,

¹⁵Thine all-powerful word leaped from heaven out of * the royal † throne, A stern warrior, into the midst of the † doomed land, ¹⁶Bearing as a sharp sword thine unfeigned commandment; And standing it filled all things with death; And while it touched the heaven it trode upon the earth.

¹⁷Then forthwith apparitions in dreams terribly troubled them, And fears came upon them unlooked for.

¹⁸And each, one thrown here half dead, another there, Made manifest wherefore he was dying:

¹⁹For the dreams, perturbing them, did foreshew this, That they might not perish without knowing why they were afflicted.

²⁰But it § befell the righteous also to make trial of death, And a multitude were stricken in the wilderness:

Howbeit the wrath endured not for long.

²¹For a blameless man hastened to be their champion:

Bringing the weapon of his own ministry, Even prayer and the propitiation of incense,

He withstood the indignation, and set an end to the calamity, Shewing that he was thy servant.

²²And he overcame the  anger, Not by strength of body, not by efficacy of weapons;

But †† by word did he subdue †† the minister of punishment,

By bringing to remembrance oaths and covenants made with the fathers.

²³For when the dead were already fallen in heaps one upon another, Standing between he stopped the advancing wrath,

And §§ cut off the way to the living.

²⁴For upon his long high-priestly robe was the whole world,

And the glories of the fathers were upon the graving of the four rows of  precious stones,

And thy majesty was upon the diadem of his head.

²⁵To these the destroyer gave place, and these ††† the people feared;

For it was enough only to make trial of the wrath.

¹But upon the ungodly there came unto the end indignation without mercy;

For their future also God foreknew,

²How that, having changed their minds to let thy people go,

And having speeded them eagerly on their way,

They would repent themselves and pursue them.

³For while they were yet in the midst of their mourning,

And making lamentation at the graves of the dead,

They drew upon themselves another counsel of folly,

And pursued as fugitives those whom with intreaties they had cast out.

⁴For * the doom which they deserved was drawing them † unto this end,

And it made them forget the things that had befallen them,

anew,

That thy § servants might be guarded free from hurt.

⁷*Then* was beheld the cloud that shadowed
the camp,
And dry land rising up out of what before
was water,

Out of the Red sea an unhindered highway,
And a grassy plain out of the violent surge;

⁸ By which they passed over with all their hosts,

These that were covered with thy hand,
Having beheld strange marvels.

⁹For like horses they roamed at large,
And they skipped about like lambs,
Praising thee, O Lord, who wast their deliverer.

¹⁰For they still remembered the things that came to pass in the time of their sojourning,

How that instead of †† bearing †† cattle the land brought forth §§ lice,

And instead of  fish the river cast up a multitude of frogs.

¹¹But afterwards they saw also a new ††† race of birds,

When, led on by desire, they asked for luxurious dainties;

¹²For, to solace them, there came up for them quails from the sea.

¹³And upon the sinners came the punishments

Not without the tokens that were given ‡‡‡ beforehand by the force of the thunders;

For justly did they suffer through their own
wickednesses,

For §§§ grievous indeed was the hatred which they practised toward guests.

¹⁴* For whereas the men of Sodom received not † the strangers when they came among them;

‡ The Egyptians made slaves of guests who were their benefactors.

¹⁵And not only so, but God shall § visit  the men of Sodom after another sort, Since they received as enemies them that were aliens;

¹⁶Whereas these first welcomed with feast-
ings,

And then afflicted with dreadful toils,
Them that had already shared with them in the same rights.

¹⁷And moreover they were stricken with loss of sight

(Even as were those others at the righteous man's doors),

When, being compassed about with yawning darkness,

They sought every one the passage through order one with another, Continuing always the same, each in its

As may clearly be ††† divined from the sight of the things that are come to pass.

¹⁹For creatures of the dry land were turned into creatures of the waters,

And creatures that swim trode now upon
the earth:

²⁰Fire kept the mastery of its own power in the midst of water,

And water forgot its quenching nature:

THE WISDOM OF JESUS THE SON OF SIRACH, OR ECCLESIASTICUS.

The Prologue of the Wisdom of Jesus the Son of Sirach.

WHEREAS many and great things have been delivered unto us by the law and the prophets, and by the others that have followed in their steps, for the which things we must give Israel the praise of instruction and wisdom; and since not only the readers must needs become skilful themselves, but also they that love learning must be able to profit them which are without, both by speaking and writing; my grandfather Jesus, having much given himself to the reading of the law, and the prophets, and the other books of our fathers, and having gained great familiarity therein, was drawn on also himself to write somewhat pertaining to instruction and wisdom; in order that those who love learning, and are addicted to these things, might make progress much more by living according to the law. Ye are intreated therefore to read with favour and attention, and to pardon us, if in any parts of what we have laboured to interpret, we may seem to fail in some of the phrases. For things originally spoken in Hebrew have not the same force in them, when they are translated into another tongue: and not only these, but the law itself, and the prophecies, and the rest of the books, have no small difference, when they are spoken in their original language. For having come into Egypt in the eight and thirtieth year of Energetes the king, and having continued there some time, I found * a copy affording no small instruction. I thought it therefore most necessary for me to apply some diligence and travail to interpret this book; applying indeed much watchfulness and skill in that space of time to bring the book to an end, and set it forth for them also, who in the land of their sojourning are desirous to learn, fashioning their manners

* : Or, a like work The word is of very doubtful meaning.

¹All wisdom cometh from the Lord,
And is with him for ever.

²The sand of the seas, and the drops of rain,
And the days of eternity, who shall number?

³The height of the heaven, and the breadth
of the earth,
And the deep, and wisdom, who shall search them out?

⁴Wisdom hath been created before all things,
And the understanding of prudence from everlasting. ⁵†

⁶To whom hath the root of wisdom been revealed?

And who hath known her shrewd counsels?
⁷‡

⁸There is one wise, greatly to be feared,
The Lord sitting upon his throne:

⁹He created her,
And saw, and numbered her,
And poured her out upon all his works.

¹⁰*She is* with all flesh according to his gift;
And he gave her freely to them that love him.

¹¹The fear of the Lord is glory, and exultation,
And gladness, and a crown of rejoicing.

¹²The fear of the Lord shall delight the heart,
And shall give gladness, and joy, and length of days.

¹³Whoso feareth the Lord, it shall go well with him at the last,
And in the day of his death he shall be blessed.

¹⁴To fear the Lord is the beginning of wisdom;
And it was created together with the faithful in the womb.

¹⁵With men she [§] laid an eternal foundation;
And with their seed shall she be had in trust.

¹⁶To fear the Lord is the fulness of wisdom;
And she satiateth men with her fruits.

¹⁷She shall fill all her house with desirable things,

And her garners with her produce.

¹Hear me your father, O my children,
And do thereafter, that ye may be saved.

²For the Lord hath given the father glory as touching the children,

And hath confirmed the judgement of the mother as touching the sons.

³He that honoureth his father shall make

⁴And he that giveth glory to his mother is as one that layeth up treasure.

⁵Whoso honoureth his father shall have joy heard.

⁶He that giveth glory to his father shall

⁸In deed and word honour thy father,
That a blessing may come upon thee from him.

⁹For the blessing of the father establisheth
the houses of children;

But the curse of the mother rooteth out the foundations.

¹⁰Glorify not thyself in the dishonour of thy father;

For thy father's dishonour is no glory unto
thee.

¹¹For the glory of a man is from the honour of his father;

And a mother in dishonour is a reproach to her children.

¹²My son, help thy father in his old age;
And grieve him not as long as he liveth.

¹³ And if he fail in understanding, have patience with him;

And dishonour him not while thou art in thy ¹⁴For the relieving of thy father shall not be forgotten:

And instead of sins it shall be added to build thee up.

¹⁵ In the day of thine affliction it shall remember thee;

As fair weather upon ice,
So shall thy sins also melt away.

¹⁶ He that forsaketh his father is as a blasphemer;

And he that provoketh his mother is cursed of the Lord.

¹⁷ My son, go on with thy business in meek-
ness;

So shalt thou be beloved of an acceptable
man.

¹⁸ The greater thou art, humble thyself the

And thou shalt find favour before the Lord.

And he is glorified of them that are lowly.

²¹ Seek not things that are too hard for thee,
And search not out things that are above thy strength.

²² The things that have been commanded thee, think thereupon;
For thou hast no need of the things that are secret.

²³ Be not over busy in thy superfluous works:
For more things are shewed unto thee than men can understand.

³³ If thou love to hear, thou shalt receive; And if thou incline thine ear, thou shalt be wise.

³⁴ Stand thou in the multitude of the elders; And whoso is wise, cleave thou unto him.

³⁵ Be willing to listen to every godly discourse;

And let not the proverbs of understanding escape thee.

³⁶ If thou seest a man of understanding, get thee betimes unto him,

And let thy foot wear out the steps of his doors.

³⁷ Let thy mind dwell upon the ordinances of the Lord,

And meditate continually in his commandments:

He shall establish thine heart,

And thy desire of wisdom shall be given unto thee.

⁴ Seek not of the Lord preeminence,
Neither of the king the seat of honour.
⁵ Justify not thyself in the presence of the Lord;
And display not thy wisdom before the king.
⁶ Seek not to be a judge,
Lest thou be not able to take away iniquities;
Lest haply thou fear the person of a mighty
man,
And lay a stumblingblock in the way of thy uprightness.
⁷ Sin not against the multitude of the city,
And cast not thyself down in the crowd.
⁸ Bind not up sin twice;
For in one sin thou shalt not be unpun-ished.
⁹ Say not, He will look upon the multitude of my gifts,
And when I offer to the Most High God, he will accept * it.
¹⁰ Be not fainthearted in thy prayer;
And neglect not to give alms.
¹¹ Laugh not a man to scorn when he is in the bitterness of his soul;
For there is one who humbleth and exalteth.
¹² † Devise not a lie against thy brother;
Neither do the like to a friend.
¹³ Love not to make any manner of lie;
For the custom thereof is not for good.
¹⁴ Prate not in the multitude of elders;
And repeat not thy words in thy prayer.
¹⁵ Hate not laborious work;
Neither husbandry, which the Most High hath ‡ ordained.
¹⁶ Number not thyself among the multitude of sinners:
Remember that wrath will not tarry.
¹⁷ Humble thy soul greatly;
For the punishment of the ungodly man is fire and the worm.
¹⁸ Change not a friend for a thing indifferent;
Neither a true brother for the gold of Ophir.
¹⁹ Forgo not a wise and good wife;
For her grace is above gold.

²⁰ Entreat not evil a servant that worketh truly,

Defraud him not of liberty.
²² Hast thou cattle? have an eye to them;
And if they are profitable to thee, let them stay by thee.
²³ Hast thou children? correct them,
And bow down their neck from their youth.
²⁴ Hast thou daughters? give heed to their body,
And make not thy face cheerful toward
them.
²⁵ Give thy daughter in marriage, and thou shalt have accomplished a great matter:
And give her to a man of understanding.
²⁶ Hast thou a wife after thy mind? cast her not out:
 But trust not thyself to one that is †† hateful.
²⁷ Give glory to thy father with thy whole heart;
And forget not the pangs of thy mother.
²⁸ Remember that of them thou wast born:
And what wilt thou recompense them for the things that they have done for
thee?
²⁹ Fear the Lord with all thy soul;
And reverence his priests.
³⁰ With all thy strength love him that made
thee;
And forsake not his ministers.
³¹ Fear the Lord, and glorify the priest;
And give him his portion, even as it is commanded thee;
The firstfruits, and the trespass offering,
and the gift of the shoulders,
And the sacrifice of sanctification, and the firstfruits of holy things.
³² Also to the poor man stretch out thy hand,
That thy blessing may be perfected.
³³ A gift hath grace in the sight of every man living;
And for a dead man keep not back grace.
³⁴ Be not wanting to them that weep;
And mourn with them that mourn.

Lest haply thou fall into his hands.

² Strive not with a rich man, lest haply he overweigh thee:

For gold hath destroyed many,
And turned aside the hearts of kings.

³ Contend not with a man that is full of tongue,

And heap not wood upon his fire.

⁴ Jest not with a rude man,
Lest thine ancestors be dishonoured.

⁵ Reproach not a man when he turneth from
sin:

Remember that we are all worthy of punishment.

⁶ Dishonour not a man in his old age;
For some of us also are waxing old.

⁷ Rejoice not over one that is dead:
Remember that we die all.

⁸ Neglect not the discourse of the wise,
And be conversant with their proverbs;
For of them thou shalt learn instruction,
And how to minister to great men.

⁹ Miss not the discourse of the aged;
For they also learned of their fathers:
Because from them thou shalt learn understanding,

And to give answer in time of need.

¹⁰ Kindle not the coals of a sinner, Lest thou be burned with the * flame of his fire.

¹¹ Rise not up from the presence of an insolent man,
Lest he lie in wait as an ambush for thy mouth.

¹² Lend not to a man that is mightier than thyself;

And if thou lend, be as one that hath lost.

¹³ Be not surety above thy power:

And if thou be surety, take thought as one that will have to pay.

¹⁴ Go not to law with a judge;

For according to his honour will they give judgement for him.

¹⁵ Go not in the way with a rash man,
Lest he be aggrieved with thee;

For he will do according to his own will,
And thou shalt perish with his folly.

¹⁶ Fight not with a wrathful man,
And travel not with him through the desert:

For blood is as nothing in his sight;
And where there is no help, he will overthrow thee.

¹⁷ Take not counsel with a fool;
For he will not be able to conceal the matter.

¹⁸ Do no secret thing before a stranger;
For thou knowest not what † he will bring forth.

¹⁹ Open not thine heart to every man;
And let him not return thee a favour.

¹ Be not jealous over the wife of thy bosom,
And teach her not an evil lesson against thyself.

² Give not thy soul unto a woman,
That she should set her foot upon thy
strength.

³ Go not to meet a woman that playeth the harlot,
Lest haply thou fall into her snares.

⁴ Use not the company of a woman that is a singer,

Lest haply thou be caught by her attempts.
⁵ Gaze not on a maid, lest haply thou be trapped in her penalties.

⁶ Give not thy soul unto harlots,
That thou lose not thine inheritance.

⁷ Look not round about thee in the streets of the city,
Neither wander thou in the solitary places
thereof.

⁸ Turn away thine eye from a comely woman,
And gaze not on another's beauty:

By the beauty of a woman many have been led astray;

And herewith love is kindled as a fire.

tion.

¹⁰ Forsake not an old friend;
For the new is not comparable to him:
As new wine, so is a new friend;
If it become old, thou shalt drink it with gladness.

¹¹ Envy not the glory of a sinner;
For thou knowest not what shall be his overthrow.

¹² Delight not in the delights of the ungodly:
Remember they shall not go unpunished unto † the grave.

¹³ Keep thee far from the man that hath ‡ power to kill,
And thou shalt have no suspicion of the fear
of death:
And if thou come unto him, commit no fault,
Lest he take away thy life:
Know surely that thou goest about in the midst of snares,
And walkest upon the battlements of a city.

¹⁴ As well as thou canst, guess at thy neighbours;
And take counsel with the wise.

¹⁵ Let thy converse be with men of understanding;
And let all thy discourse be in the law of the Most High.

¹⁶ Let just men be the companions of thy board;
And let thy glorying be in the fear of the Lord.

¹⁷ For the hand of the artificers a work shall be commended:
And he that ruleth the people shall be counted wise for his speech.

¹⁸ A man full of tongue is dangerous in his city;

they that dwell therein.

³ An uninstructed king will destroy his people;
And a city will be established through the understanding of the powerful.

⁴ In the hand of the Lord is the authority of
the earth;
And in due time he will raise up over it one that is profitable.

⁵ In the hand of the Lord is the prosperity of a man;
And upon the person of the scribe shall he lay his honour.

⁶ Be not wroth with thy neighbour for every wrong;
And do nothing by works of violence.

⁷ Pride is hateful before the Lord and before
men;
And in the judgement of both will unrighteousness err.

⁸ Sovereignty is transferred from nation to made him.

¹³ For the beginning of pride is sin;
And he that keepeth it will pour forth abomination.

For this cause the Lord brought upon them
strange calamities,
And overthrew them utterly.

¹⁴ The Lord cast down the thrones of rulers,
And set the meek in their stead.

¹⁵ The Lord plucked up the roots of nations,
And planted the lowly in their stead.

¹⁶ The Lord overthrew the lands of nations,
And destroyed them unto the foundations
of the earth.

¹⁷ He took some of them away, and destroyed them,
And made their memorial to cease from the earth.

¹⁸ Pride hath not been created for men, Nor wrathful anger for the offspring of women.

¹⁹ † What manner of seed hath honour? the seed of man.

What manner of seed hath honour? they

ments.

²⁰ In the midst of brethren he that ruleth them hath honour;
And in the eyes of the Lord they that fear
him. ²¹ §

²² The rich man, and the honourable, and the poor,
Their glorying is the fear of the Lord.

²³ It is not right to dishonour a poor man that hath understanding;
And it is not fitting to glorify a man that is a sinner.

²⁴ The great man, and the judge, and the mighty man, shall be glorified;
And there is not one of them greater than he that feareth the Lord.

²⁵ Free men shall minister unto a wise servant;
And a man that hath knowledge will not murmur thereat.

²⁶ Be not over wise in doing thy work;
And glorify not thyself in the time of thy distress.

²⁷  Better is he that laboureth, and aboundeth in all things,
Than he that glorifieth himself, and lacketh bread.

²⁸ My son, glorify thy soul in meekness,
And give it honour according to the worthiness thereof.

²⁹ Who will justify him that sinneth against his own soul?

And who will glorify him that dishonoureth his own life?

³⁰ A poor man is glorified for his knowledge;
And a rich man is glorified for his riches.

³¹ But he that is glorified in poverty, how much more in riches?
And he that is inglorious in riches, how much more in poverty?

¹ The wisdom of the lowly shall lift up his head,
And make him to sit in the midst of great
men.

² Commend not a man for his beauty;
And abhor not a man for his outward appearance.

³ The bee is little among such as fly;
And her fruit is the chief of sweetmeats.

⁴ Glory not in the putting on of raiment,

 And now will I eat of my goods;
 Yet he knoweth not what time shall pass,
 And he shall leave them to others, and die.

²⁰ Be steadfast in thy covenant, and be conversant therein,
 And wax old in thy work.

²¹ Marvel not at the works of a sinner;
 But trust the Lord, and abide in thy labour:
 For it is an easy thing in the sight of the Lord swiftly on the sudden to make a poor man rich.

²² The blessing of the Lord is in the reward of the godly;
 And in an hour that cometh swiftly he maketh his blessing to flourish.

²³ Say not, What use is there of me?
 And what from henceforth shall my good things be?

²⁴ Say not, I have sufficient,
 And from henceforth what harm shall happen unto me?

²⁵ In the day of good things there is a forgetfulness of evil things;
 And in the day of evil things a man will not remember things that are good.

²⁶ For it is an easy thing in the sight of the Lord
 To reward a man in the day of death according to his ways.

²⁷ The affliction of an hour causeth forgetfulness of delight;

And in the last end of a man is the revelation of his deeds.

²⁸ Call no man blessed before his death;
 And a man shall be known in his children.

²⁹ Bring not every man into thine house;
 For many are the plots of the deceitful man.

³⁰ As a decoy partridge in a cage, so is the heart of a proud man;
 And as one that is a spy, he looketh upon thy falling.

³¹ For he lieth in wait to turn things that are good into evil;
 And in things that are praiseworthy he will

 And if not from him, yet from the Most High.

³ There shall no good come to him that continueth to do evil,
 Nor to him that giveth no alms.

⁴ Give to the godly man,
 And help not the sinner.

⁵ Do good to one that is lowly,
 And give not to an ungodly man:
 Keep back his bread, and give it not to him,
 Lest he overmaster thee thereby;

For thou shalt receive twice as much evil
 For all the good thou shalt have done unto
 him.

⁶ For the Most High also hateth sinners, rest;

And in Jerusalem was my authority.

¹² And I took root in a people that was glorified,

Even in the portion of the Lord's own inheritance.

¹³ I was exalted like a cedar in Libanus,
And as a cypress tree on the mountains of Hermon.

¹⁴ I was exalted like a palm tree on the sea shore,

And as rose plants in Jericho,
And as a fair olive tree in the plain;

And I was exalted as a plane tree.

¹⁵ As cinnamon and aspalathus, I have given a scent of perfumes;

And as choice myrrh, I spread abroad a pleasant odour;

As † galbanum, and onyx, and stacte,
And as the fume of frankincense in the tabernacle.

¹⁶ As the terebinth I stretched out my branches;
And my branches are branches of glory and grace.

¹⁷ As the vine I put forth grace;
And my flowers are the fruit of glory and riches. ¹⁸ ‡

¹⁹ Come unto me, ye that are desirous of me,
And be ye filled with my produce.

²⁰ For my memorial is sweeter than honey,
And mine inheritance than the honeycomb.

²¹ They that eat me shall yet be hungry;
And they that drink me shall yet be thirsty.

²² He that obeyeth me shall not be ashamed;
And they that work in me shall not do amiss.

²³ All these things are the book of the covenant of the Most High God, Even the law which Moses commanded us for a heritage unto the assemblies of Jacob. ²⁴ §

²⁵ It is he that maketh wisdom abundant, as Pishon,

And as Tigris in the days of new fruits;

²⁶ That maketh understanding full as Euphrates,

And as Jordan in the days of harvest;

²⁷ That maketh instruction to shine forth as the light,

As Gihon in the days of vintage.

²⁸ The first man knew her not perfectly;
And in like manner the last hath not traced her out.

²⁹ For her thoughts are filled from the sea,
And her counsels from the great deep.

³⁰ And I came out as a ^{} stream from a river,
And as a conduit into a garden.

³¹ I said, I will water my garden,
And will water abundantly my garden bed;
And, lo, my stream became a river,
And my river became a sea.

³² I will yet bring instruction to light as the morning,

And will make †† these things to shine forth afar off.

³³ I will yet pour out doctrine as prophecy, And leave it unto generations of ages.

³⁴ Behold that I have not laboured for myself only, But for all them that diligently seek her.

¹ In three things I was beautified, And stood up beautiful before the Lord and men:

The concord of brethren, and friendship of neighbours, And a woman and her husband that walk together in agreement.

² But three sorts of men my soul hateth, And I am greatly offended at their life: A poor man that is haughty, and a rich man that is a liar, And an old man that is an adulterer lacking understanding.

³ In thy youth thou hast not gathered, And how shouldest thou find in thine old age?

⁴ How beautiful a thing is judgement for gray hairs, And for elders to know counsel!

⁵ How beautiful is the wisdom of old men, And thought and counsel to men that are in honour!

⁶ Much experience is the crown of old men; And their glorying is the fear of the Lord.

⁷ There be nine things that I have thought of, and in mine heart counted happy;

And the tenth I will utter with my tongue: A man that hath joy of his children; A man that liveth and looketh upon the fall of his enemies:

⁸ Happy is he that dwelleth with a wife of understanding; And he that hath not slipped with his tongue;

And he that hath not served a man that is unworthy of him:

⁹ Happy is he that hath found prudence;

And he that discourseth in the ears of them that listen.

¹⁰ How great is he that hath found wisdom! Yet is there none above him that feareth the Lord.

¹¹ The fear of the Lord passeth all things: He that holdeth it, to whom shall he be likened? ¹²*

¹³ Give me any plague but the plague of the heart; And any wickedness but the wickedness of a woman;

¹⁴ Any calamity, but a calamity from them that hate me; And any vengeance, but the vengeance of enemies.

¹⁵ There is no head above the head of a serpent; And there is no wrath above the wrath of an enemy.

¹⁶ I will rather dwell with a lion and a dragon, Than keep house with a wicked woman.

¹⁷ The wickedness of a woman changeth her look, And darkeneth her countenance as a bear doth.

¹⁸ Her husband shall sit at meat among his neighbours, And when he heareth it he sigheth bitterly.

¹⁹ All malice is but little to the malice of a woman: Let the portion of a sinner fall on her.

²⁰ As the going up a sandy way is to the feet of the aged,

So is a wife full of words to a quiet man. ²¹ Throw not thyself upon the beauty of a woman;

And desire not a woman for her beauty. ²² There is anger, and impudence, and great reproach,

If a woman maintain her husband. ²³ A wicked woman is abasement of heart, And sadness of countenance, and a wounded heart:

A woman that will not make her husband happy Is as hands that hang down, and palsied knees.

²⁴ From a woman was the beginning of sin; And because of her we all die.

²⁵ Give not water an outlet;

* 25:12 Verse 12 is omitted by the best authorities. † 25:26 Gr. according to thy hand.

Neither to a wicked woman freedom of speech.

²⁶ If she go not † as thou wouldest have her,
Cut her off from thy flesh. ‡

And the number of his days shall be twofold.

² A brave woman rejoiceth her husband;
And he shall fulfil his years in peace.

³ A good wife is a good portion:
She shall be given in the portion of such as fear the Lord.

⁴ Whether a man be rich or poor,
A good heart maketh at all times a cheerful countenance.

⁵ Of three things my heart was afraid;
And concerning the fourth * kind I made supplication:

The slander of a city, and the assembly of a multitude, and a false accusation:
All these are more grievous than death.

⁶ A grief of heart and sorrow is a woman that is jealous of another woman,
And the scourge of a tongue communicating to all.

⁷ A wicked woman is as a yoke of oxen shaken to and fro:
He that taketh hold of her is as one that graspeth a scorpion.

⁸ A drunken woman causeth great wrath;
And she will not cover her own shame.

⁹ The whoredom of a woman is in the lifting up of her eyes;
And it shall be known by her eyelids.

¹⁰ Keep strict watch on a headstrong daughter,
Lest she find liberty for herself, and use it.

¹¹ Look well after an impudent eye;
And marvel not if it trespass against thee.

¹² She will open her mouth, as a thirsty traveller,
And drink of every water that is near:
At every post will she sit down,
And open her quiver against any arrow.

¹³ The grace of a wife will delight her husband;

And her knowledge will fatten his bones.

¹⁴ A silent woman is a gift of the Lord;
And there is nothing so much worth as a well-instructed soul.

¹⁵ A shamefast woman is grace upon grace;
And there is no † price worthy of a content soul.

¹⁶ As the sun when it ariseth in the highest places of the Lord,
So is the beauty of a good wife in the ordering of ‡ a man's house.

¹⁷ As the lamp that shineth upon the holy candlestick,
So is the beauty of the face in ripe age.

¹⁸ As the golden pillars are upon a base of silver,
So are beautiful feet with the breasts of one that is stedfast. ¹⁹⁻²⁷ §

²⁸ For two things my heart is grieved;
And for the third anger cometh upon me:
A man of war that suffereth for poverty;
And men of understanding that are counted as refuse:

One that turneth back from righteousness to sin;
The Lord shall prepare him for the sword.

²⁹ A merchant shall hardly keep himself from wrong doing;
And a huckster shall not be acquitted of sin.

¹ Many have sinned for a thing indifferent;
And he that seeketh to multiply gain will turn his eye away.

² A nail will stick fast between the joinings of stones;
And sin will * thrust itself in between buying and selling.

³ Unless a man hold on diligently in the fear of the Lord,
His house shall soon be overthrown.

⁴ In the shaking of a sieve, the refuse remaineth;
So the filth of man in his reasoning.

⁵ The furnace will prove the potter's vessels;
And the trial of a man is in his reasoning.

⁶ The fruit of a tree declareth the husbandry thereof;

So is the utterance of the thought of the heart of a man.

⁷Praise no man before thou hearest him reason;

For this is the trial of men.

⁸If thou followest righteousness, thou shalt obtain her,

And put her on, as a long robe of glory.

⁹Birds will resort unto their like;

And truth will return unto them that practise her.

¹⁰The lion lieth in wait for prey;

So doth sin for them that work iniquity.

¹¹The discourse of a godly man is always wisdom:

But the foolish man changeth as the moon.

¹²Among men void of understanding observe the opportunity;

But stay continually among the thoughtful.

¹³The discourse of fools is an offence;

And their laughter is in the wantonness of sin.

¹⁴The talk of a man of many oaths will make the hair stand upright;

And their strife maketh one stop his ears.

¹⁵The strife of the proud is a shedding of blood;

And their reviling of each other is a grievous thing to hear.

¹⁶He that revealeth secrets destroyeth credit,

And shall not find a friend to his mind.

¹⁷Love a friend, and keep faith with him:

But if thou reveal his secrets,

Thou shalt not pursue after him;

¹⁸For as a man hath destroyed his enemy,

So hast thou destroyed the friendship of thy neighbour.

¹⁹And as a bird which thou hast loosed out of thy hand,

So hast thou let thy neighbour go, and thou wilt not catch him again:

²⁰Pursue him not, for he is gone far away, And hath escaped as a gazelle out of the snare.

²¹For a wound may be bound up, and after reviling there may be a reconciliation;

But he that revealeth secrets hath lost hope.

²²One that winketh with the eye contriveth evil things;

And no man will remove him from it.

²³When thou art present, he will speak sweetly,

And will admire thy words;

But afterward he will writhe his mouth,

And set a trap for thee in thy words.

²⁴I have hated many things, but nothing like him;

And the Lord will hate him.

²⁵One that casteth a stone on high casteth it on his own head;

And a deceitful stroke will open wounds.

²⁶He that diggeth a pit shall fall into it;

And he that setteth a snare shall be taken therein.

²⁷He that doeth evil things, they shall roll upon him,

And he shall not know whence they have come to him.

²⁸Mockery and reproach are from the haughty;

And vengeance, as a lion, shall lie in wait for him.

²⁹They that rejoice at the fall of the godly shall be taken in a snare;

And anguish shall consume them before they die.

³⁰Wrath and anger, these also are abominations;

And a sinful man shall possess them.

28

¹He that taketh vengeance shall find vengeance from the Lord;

And he will surely make firm his sins.

²Forgive thy neighbour the hurt that he hath done thee;

And then thy sins shall be pardoned when thou prayest.

³Man cherisheth anger against man;

And doth he seek healing from the Lord?

⁴Upon a man like himself he hath no mercy; And doth he make supplication for his own sins?

⁵He being himself flesh nourisheth wrath: Who shall make atonement for his sins?

⁶Remember thy last end, and cease from enmity:

Remember corruption and death, and abide in the commandments.

⁷ Remember the commandments, and be not wroth with thy neighbour; And remember the covenant of the Highest, and wink at ignorance.

⁸ Abstain from strife, and thou shalt diminish thy sins:

For a passionate man will kindle strife;

⁹ And a man that is a sinner will trouble friends, And will make debate among them that be at peace.

¹⁰ * As is the fuel of the fire, so will it burn; And as the stoutness of the strife is, so will it burn:

As is the strength of the man, so will be his wrath; And as is his wealth, so will he exalt his anger.

¹¹ A contention begun in haste kindleth a fire;

And a hasty fighting sheddeth blood.

¹² If thou blow a spark, it shall burn;

And if thou spit upon it, it shall be quenched:

And both these shall come out of thy mouth.

¹³ Curse the whisperer and double-tongued: For he hath destroyed many that were at peace.

¹⁴ A third person's tongue hath shaken many, And dispersed them from nation to nation; And it hath pulled down strong cities, And overthrown the houses of great men.

¹⁵ A third person's tongue hath cast out brave women, And deprived them of their labours.

¹⁶ He that hearkeneth unto it shall not find rest,

Nor shall he dwell quietly.

¹⁷ The stroke of a whip maketh a mark in the flesh;

But the stroke of a tongue will break bones.

¹⁸ Many have fallen by the edge of the sword:

Yet not so many as they that have fallen because of the tongue.

¹⁹ Happy is he that is sheltered from it, That hath not passed through the wrath thereof;

That hath not drawn its yoke,

* 28:10 The order of the lines in this verse is uncertain.

And hath not been bound with its bands.

²⁰ For the yoke thereof is a yoke of iron, And the bands thereof are bands of brass.

²¹ The death thereof is an evil death; And Hades were better than it.

²² It shall not have rule over godly men; And they shall not be burned in its flame.

²³ They that forsake the Lord shall fall into it;

And it shall burn among them, and shall not be quenched:

It shall be sent forth upon them as a lion; And as a leopard it shall destroy them.

²⁴ Look that thou hedge thy possession about with thorns;

Bind up thy silver and thy gold;

²⁵ And make a balance and a weight for thy words;

And make a door and a bar for thy mouth.

²⁶ Take heed lest thou slip therein; Lest thou fall before one that lieth in wait.

29

¹ He that sheweth mercy will lend unto his neighbour;

And he that strengtheneth him with his hand keepeth the commandments.

² Lend to thy neighbour in time of his need; And pay thou thy neighbour again in due season.

³ Confirm thy word, and keep faith with him;

And at all seasons thou shalt find what thou needest.

⁴ Many have reckoned a loan as a windfall, And have given trouble to those that helped them.

⁵ Till he hath received, he will kiss a man's hands;

And for his neighbour's money he will speak submissly:

And when payment is due, he will prolong the time,

And return words of heaviness, and complain of * the times.

⁶ If he prevail, he shall hardly receive the half;

And he will count it as a windfall:

If not, he hath deprived him of his money, And he hath gotten him for an enemy without cause:

He will pay him with cursings and railings;

* 29:5 Gr. the season.

And for honour he will pay him disgrace.

⁷ † Many on account of men's ill-dealing have turned away;

They have feared to be defrauded for nought.

⁸ Howbeit with a man in poor estate be longsuffering;

And let him not wait for thine alms.

⁹ Help a poor man for the commandment's sake;

And according to his need send him not empty away.

¹⁰ Lose thy money for a brother and a friend;
And let it not rust under the stone to be lost.

¹¹ Bestow thy treasure according to the commandments of the Most High;
And it shall profit thee more than gold.

¹² Shut up alms in thy store-chambers;

And it shall deliver thee out of all affliction:

¹³ It shall fight for thee against thine enemy Better than a mighty shield and a ponderous spear.

¹⁴ A good man will be surety for his neighbour;

And he that hath lost shame will fail him.

¹⁵ Forget not the good offices of thy surety;
For he hath given his life for thee.

¹⁶ A sinner will overthrow the good estate of his surety;

¹⁷ And he that is of an unthankful mind will fail him that delivered him.

¹⁸ Suretiship hath undone many that were prospering,

And shaken them as a wave of the sea:

Mighty men hath it driven from their homes;

And they wandered among strange nations.

¹⁹ A sinner that falleth into suretiship,
And undertaketh contracts for work, shall fall into lawsuits.

²⁰ Help thy neighbour according to thy power,

And take heed to thyself that thou fall not to the same.

²¹ The chief thing for life is water, and bread,
And a garment, and a house to cover shame.

²² Better is the life of a poor man under a shelter of logs,

Than sumptuous fare in another man's
house.

²³ With little or with much, be well satisfied.
‡

²⁴ It is a miserable life to go from house to
house:

And where thou art a sojourner, thou shalt not dare to open thy mouth.

²⁵ Thou shalt entertain, and give to drink,
and have no thanks:

And besides this thou shalt hear bitter
words.

²⁶ Come hither, thou sojourner, furnish a table,

And if thou hast aught in thy hand, feed me with it.

²⁷ Go forth, thou sojourner, from the face of honour;

My brother is come to be my guest; I have need of my house.

²⁸ These things are grievous to a man of understanding;

The upbraiding of house-room, and the reproaching of the money-lender.

30

¹ He that loveth his son will continue to lay stripes upon him,

That he may have joy of him in the end.

² He that chastiseth his son shall have profit of him,

And shall glory of him among his acquaint-
tance.

³ He that teacheth his son shall provoke his enemy to jealousy;

And before friends he shall rejoice of him.

⁴ His father dieth, and is as though he had not died;

For he hath left one behind him like himself.

⁵ In his life, he saw and rejoiced in him;

And when he died, he sorrowed not:

⁶ He left behind him an avenger against his enemies,

And one to requite kindness to his friends.

⁷ He that maketh too much of his son shall bind up his wounds;

And his heart will be troubled at every cry.

⁸ An unbroken horse becometh stubborn;

And a son left at large becometh headstrong.

¹⁰ Laugh not with him, lest thou have sorrow with him;

And thou shalt gnash thy teeth in the end.

¹¹ Give him no liberty in his youth,

* And wink not at his follies.

¹² † Bow down his neck in his youth,

And beat him on the sides while he is a child,

Lest he wax stubborn, and be disobedient unto thee;

‡ And there shall be sorrow to thy soul.

¹³ Chastise thy son, and take pains with him, Lest his shameless behaviour be an offence unto thee.

¹⁴ Better is a poor man, being sound and strong of constitution,

Than a rich man that is plagued in his body.

¹⁵ Health and a good constitution are better than all gold;

And a strong body than wealth without measure.

¹⁶ There is no riches better than health of body;

And there is no gladness above the joy of the heart.

¹⁷ Death is better than a bitter life,

§ And  eternal rest than a continual sickness.

¹⁸ Good things poured out upon a mouth that is closed

Are as messes of meat laid upon a grave.

¹⁹ What doth an offering profit an idol?

For neither shall it eat nor smell:

So is he that is afflicted of the Lord,

²⁰ Seeing with his eyes and groaning,

As an eunuch embracing a virgin and groaning.

²¹ Give not over thy soul to sorrow;

And afflict not thyself in thine own counsel.

²² Gladness of heart is the life of a man;

And the joyfulness of a man is length of days.

²³ Love thine own soul, and comfort thy heart:

And remove sorrow far from thee;

For sorrow hath destroyed many,

And there is no profit therein.

²⁴ Envy and wrath shorten a man's days;

And care bringeth old age before the time.

²⁵ A cheerful and good heart

Will have a care of his meat and diet.

31

¹ Wakefulness that cometh of riches consumeth the flesh,

And the anxiety thereof putteth away sleep.

² Wakeful anxiety will crave slumber;

And * in a sore disease sleep will be broken.

³ A rich man toileth in gathering money together;

And when he resteth, he is filled with his good things.

⁴ A poor man toileth in lack of substance; And when he resteth, he becometh needy.

⁵ He that loveth gold shall not be justified; And he that followeth destruction shall himself have his fill of it.

For wonderful things hath he done among his people.

¹⁰ Who hath been tried thereby, and found perfect?

Then let him glory.

Who hath had the power to transgress, and hath not transgressed?

And to do evil, and hath not done it?

¹⁵ Consider thy neighbour's liking by thine own;

And be discreet in every point.

¹⁶ Eat, as becometh a man, those things which are set before thee;

And eat not greedily, lest thou be hated.

¹⁷ Be first to leave off for manners' sake;

And be not insatiable, lest thou offend.

¹⁸ And if thou sittest among many, Reach not out thy hand before them.

¹⁹ How sufficient to a well-mannered man is a very little,

And he doth not breathe hard upon his bed.

²⁰ Healthy sleep cometh of moderate eating;

He riseth early, and his wits are with him:

The pain of wakefulness, and colic, And griping, are with an insatiable man.

²¹ And if thou hast been forced to eat, Rise up in the midst thereof, and thou shalt have rest.

²² Hear me, my son, and despise me not, And at the last thou shalt find my words true:

In all thy works be quick, And no disease shall come unto thee.

²³ Him that is liberal of his meat the lips shall bless;

And the testimony of his excellence shall be believed.

²⁴ Him that is a niggard of his meat the city shall murmur at;

And the testimony of his niggardness shall be sure.

²⁵ Shew not thyself valiant in wine;

For wine hath destroyed many.

²⁶ The furnace proveth the temper of steel by dipping;

So doth wine prove hearts in the quarreling of the proud.

²⁷ Wine is as good as life to men,

If thou drink it in its measure:

What life is there to a man that is without wine?

And it hath been created to make men glad.

²⁸ Wine drunk in season and to satisfy

Is joy of heart, and gladness of soul:

²⁹ Wine drunk largely is bitterness of soul,

With provocation and conflict.

³⁰ Drunkenness increaseth the rage of a fool unto his hurt;

It diminisheth strength, and addeth wounds.

³¹ Rebuke not thy neighbour at a banquet of wine,

Neither set him at nought in his mirth:

Speak not unto him a word of reproach,

And press not upon him by asking back a debt.

32

¹ Have they made thee ruler of a feast?

Be not lifted up,

Be thou among them as one of them;

Take thought for them, and so sit down.

² And when thou hast done all thy office, take thy place,

That thou mayest be gladdened on their account,

And receive a crown for thy well ordering.

³ Speak, thou that art the elder, for it becometh thee, but with sound knowledge;

And hinder not music.

⁴ Pour not out talk where there is a performance of music,

And display not thy wisdom out of season.

⁵ As a signet of carbuncle in a setting of gold, So is a concert of music in a banquet of wine.

⁶ As a signet of emerald in a work of gold, So is a strain of music with pleasant wine.

⁷ Speak, young man, if there be need of thee; Yet scarcely if thou be twice asked.

⁸ Sum up thy speech, many things in few words;

Be as one that knoweth and yet holdeth his tongue.

⁹ If thou be among great men, behave not as their equal;

And when another is speaking, make not much babbling.

¹⁰ Before thunder speedeth lightning;

And before a shamefast man favour shall go forth.

¹¹ Rise up betimes, and be not the last;

Get thee home quickly and loiter not:

¹² There take thy pastime, and do what is in thy heart;

And sin not by proud speech:

¹³ And for these things bless him that made thee,
And giveth thee to drink freely of his good things.

¹⁴ He that feareth the Lord will receive his discipline;

And they that seek him early shall find favour.

¹⁵ He that seeketh the law shall be filled therewith:

But the hypocrite shall stumble thereat.

¹⁶ They that fear the Lord shall find judgement,

And shall kindle righteous acts as a light.

¹⁷ A sinful man shunneth reproof,
And will find a judgement according to his will.

¹⁸ A man of counsel will not neglect a thought;

A strange and proud man will not crouch in fear,

Even after he hath done a thing by himself without counsel.

¹⁹ Do nothing without counsel;

And when thou hast once done, repent not.

²⁰ Go not in a way of conflict;

And stumble not in stony places.

²¹ Be not confident in a * smooth way.

²² And beware of thine own children.

²³ In every work trust thine own soul;
For this is the keeping of the commandments.

²⁴ He that believeth the law giveth heed to the commandment;

And he that trusteth in the Lord shall suffer no loss.

33

¹ There shall no evil happen unto him that feareth the Lord;

But in temptation once and again will he deliver him.

² A wise man will not hate the law;
But he that is a hypocrite therein is as a ship in a storm.

³ A man of understanding will put his trust in the law;
And the law is faithful unto him, as when one asketh at the oracle.

⁴ Prepare thy speech, and so shalt thou be heard;
Bind up instruction, and make thine answer.

⁵ The heart of a fool is as a cartwheel;
And his thoughts like a rolling axletree.

⁶ A stallion horse is as a mocking friend;
He neigheth under every one that sitteth upon him.

⁷ Why doth one day excel another,
When all the light of every day in the year is of the sun?

⁸ By the knowledge of the Lord they were distinguished;

And he varied seasons and feasts:

⁹ Some of them he exalted and hallowed,
And some of them hath he made ordinary days.

¹⁰ And all men are from the ground,
And Adam was created of earth.

¹¹ In the abundance of his knowledge the Lord distinguished them,
And made their ways various:

¹² Some of them he blessed and exalted,
And some of them he hallowed and brought nigh to himself:

Some of them he cursed and brought low,
And overthrew them from their place.

¹³ As the clay of the potter in his hand,
All his ways are according to his good pleasure;

So men are in the hand of him that made them,
To render unto them according to his judgement.

¹⁴ Good is set over against evil,
And life over against death:

So is * the sinner over against the godly.

¹⁵ And thus look upon all the works of the Most High;

Two and two, one against another.

And give not thy goods to another,
Lest thou repent and make supplication for them again.

²⁰ Whilst thou yet livest, and breath is in thee,
Give not thyself over to anybody.

²¹ For better it is that thy children should supplicate thee,
Than that thou shouldest look to the hand of thy sons.

²² In all thy works keep the upper hand;
Bring not a stain on thine honour.

²³ In the day that thou endest the days of thy life,
And in the time of death, distribute thine inheritance.

²⁴ Fodder, a stick, and burdens, for an ass;
Bread, and discipline, and work, for a servant.

²⁵ Set thy servant to work, and thou shalt find rest:
Leave his hands idle, and he will seek liberty.

²⁶ Yoke and thong will bow the neck;
And for an evil servant there are racks and tortures.

²⁷ Send him to labour, that he be not idle;
For idleness teacheth much mischief.

²⁸ Set him to work, as is fit for him;
And if he obey not, make his fetters heavy.

²⁹ And be not excessive toward any;
And without judgement do nothing.

³⁰ If thou hast a servant, let him be as thyself,
Because thou hast bought him with blood.

³¹ If thou hast a servant, treat him as thyself;

† For as thine own soul wilt thou have need of him:

If thou treat him ill, and he depart and run away,

Which way wilt thou go to seek him?

34

¹ Vain and false hopes are for a man void of understanding;

And dreams give wings to fools.

² As one that catcheth at a shadow, and followeth after the wind,

So is he that setteth his mind on dreams.

³ The vision of dreams is as this thing against that,

The likeness of a face over against a face.

⁴ Of an unclean thing what shall be cleansed?

And of that which is false what shall be true?

⁵ Divinations, and soothsayings, and dreams, are vain:

And the heart fancieth, as a woman's in travail.

⁶ If they be not sent from the Most High in thy visitation,

Give not thy heart unto them. ⁷ For dreams have led many astray:

And they have failed by putting their hope in them.

⁸ Without lying shall the law be accomplished;

And wisdom is perfection to a faithful mouth.

⁹ A well-instructed man knoweth many things;

And he that hath much experience will declare understanding.

¹⁰ He that hath no experience knoweth few things:

But he that hath wandered shall increase his skill.

¹¹ In my wandering I have seen many things;
And more than my words is my understanding.

¹² Ofttimes was I in danger even unto death;
And I was preserved because of these things.

¹³ The spirit of those that fear the Lord shall live;

For their hope is upon him that saveth them.

† 33:31 The Greek text of this line is probably corrupt.

¹⁴ Whoso feareth the Lord shall not be afraid, and shall not play the coward;

For he is his hope.

¹⁵ Blessed is the soul of him that feareth the Lord:

To whom doth he give heed? and who is his stay?

¹⁶ The eyes of the Lord are upon them that love him,

A mighty protection and strong stay,

A cover from the hot blast, and a cover from the noonday,

A guard from stumbling, and a succour from falling.

¹⁷ He raiseth up the soul, and enlighteneth the eyes:

He giveth healing, life, and blessing.

¹⁸ He that sacrificeth of a thing wrongfully gotten, his offering is made in mockery;

And the mockeries of wicked men are not well-pleasing.

¹⁹ The Most High hath no pleasure in the offerings of the ungodly;

Neither is he pacified for sins by the multitude of sacrifices.

²⁰ As one that killeth the son before his father's eyes

Is he that bringeth a sacrifice from the goods of the poor.

²¹ The bread of the needy is the life of the poor:

He that depriveth him thereof is a man of blood.

²² As one that slayeth his neighbour is he that taketh away his living;

And as a shedder of blood is he that depriveth a hireling of his hire.

²³ One building, and another pulling down, What profit have they had but toil?

²⁴ One praying, and another cursing, Whose voice will the Lord listen to?

²⁵ He that washeth himself after touching a dead body, and toucheth it again, What profit hath he in his washing?

²⁶ Even so a man fasting for his sins, And going again, and doing the same; Who will listen to his prayer?

And what profit hath he in his humiliation?

¹ He that keepeth the law multiplieth offerings;

He that taketh heed to the commandments sacrificeth a peace offering.

² He that requiteth a good turn offereth fine flour;

And he that giveth alms sacrificeth a thank offering.

³ To depart from wickedness is a thing pleasing to the Lord;

And to depart from unrighteousness is a propitiation.

⁴ See that thou appear not in the presence of the Lord empty.

⁵ For all these things are to be done because of the commandment.

⁶ The offering of the righteous maketh the altar fat;

And the sweet savour thereof is before the Most High.

⁷ The sacrifice of a righteous man is acceptable;

And the memorial thereof shall not be forgotten.

⁸ Glorify the Lord with a good eye,

And stint not the firstfruits of thine hands.

⁹ In every gift shew a cheerful countenance, And dedicate thy tithe with gladness.

¹⁰ Give unto the Most High according as he hath given;

And as thy hand hath found, give with a good eye.

¹¹ For the Lord recompenseth,

And he will recompense thee sevenfold.

¹² Think not to corrupt with gifts; for he will not receive them:

And set not thy mind on an unrighteous sacrifice;

For the Lord is judge,

And with him is no respect of persons.

¹³ He will not accept any person against a poor man;

And he will listen to the prayer of him that is wronged.

¹⁴ He will in no wise despise the supplication of the fatherless;

Nor the widow, * when she poureth out her tale.

¹⁵ Do not the tears of the widow run down her cheek?

* 35:14 Gr. if

And is not her cry against him that hath caused them to fall?

¹⁶ He that serveth God according to his good pleasure shall be accepted, And his supplication shall reach unto the clouds.

¹⁷ The prayer of the humble pierceth the clouds; And till it come nigh, he will not be comforted;

And he will not depart, till the Most High shall visit;

And he shall judge † righteously, and execute judgement.

¹⁸ And the Lord will not be slack, neither will he be longsuffering toward them, Till he have crushed the loins of the unmerciful;

And he shall repay vengeance to the heathen;

Till he have taken away the multitude of the haughty,

And broken in pieces the sceptres of the unrighteous;

¹⁹ Till he have rendered to every man according to his doings,

And to the works of men according to their devices;

Till he have judged the cause of his people; And he shall make them to rejoice in his mercy.

²⁰ Mercy is seasonable in the time of his afflicting them,

As clouds of rain in the time of drought.

36

¹ Have mercy upon us, O Lord the God of all, and behold;

² And send thy fear upon all the nations: *

³ Lift up thy hand against the strange nations;

And let them see thy mighty power.

⁴ As thou wast sanctified in us before them, So be thou magnified in them before us.

⁵ And let them know thee, as we also have known thee,

That there is no God but only thou, O God.

⁶ Shew new signs, and work divers wonders; Glorify thy hand and thy right arm. †

⁸ Hasten the time, and remember the oath; And let them declare thy mighty works.

⁹ Let him that escapeth be devoured by the rage of fire;

And may they that harm thy people find destruction.

¹⁰ Crush the heads of the rulers of the enemies,

That say, There is none but we.

¹¹ Gather all the tribes of Jacob together,

And ‡ take them for thine inheritance, as from the beginning.

¹² O Lord, have mercy upon the people that is called by thy name,

And upon Israel, whom thou didst liken unto a firstborn.

¹³ Have compassion upon the city of thy sanctuary,

Jerusalem, the place of thy rest.

¹⁴ Fill Zion; exalt thine oracles, And fill thy people with thy glory.

¹⁵ Give testimony unto those that were thy creatures in the beginning,

And raise up the prophecies that have been in thy name.

¹⁶ Give reward unto them that wait for thee: And men shall put their trust in thy prophets.

¹⁷ Hearken, O Lord, to the prayer of thy supplicants,

According to the blessing of Aaron concerning thy people;

And all they that are on the earth shall know

That thou art the Lord, the § eternal God.

¹⁸ The belly will eat any meat;

Yet is one meat better than another.

¹⁹ The  mouth tasteth meats taken in hunting;

So doth an understanding heart false speeches.

²⁰ A froward heart will cause heaviness: And a man of experience will recompense him.

²¹ A woman will receive any man;

But one daughter is better than another.

§ 36:17 Gr. God of the ages.

²² The beauty of a woman cheereth the countenance;
And a man desireth nothing so much.
²³ If there is on her tongue mercy and meekness,
Her husband is not like the sons of men.
²⁴ He that getteth a wife entereth upon a possession:
A help meet for him, and a pillar of rest.
²⁵ Where no hedge is, the possession will be laid waste:
And he that hath no wife will mourn as he wandereth up and down.
²⁶ For who will trust a nimble robber, that skipketh from city to city?
Even so who shall trust a man that hath no nest, and lodgeth wheresoever he findeth himself at nightfall?

37

¹ Every friend will say, I also am his friend:
But there is a friend, which is only a friend in name.
² Is there not a grief in it even unto death,
When a companion and friend is turned to enmity?
³ O wicked imagination, whence camest thou rolling in
To cover the dry land with deceitfulness?
⁴ There is a companion, which rejoiceth in the gladness of a friend,
But in time of affliction will be against him.
⁵ There is a companion, which for the belly's sake laboreth with his friend,
In the face of battle will take up the buckler.
⁶ Forget not a friend in thy soul;
And be not unmindful of him in thy riches.
⁷ Every counsellor extolleth counsel;
But there is that counsellor for himself.
⁸ Let thy soul beware of a counsellor,
And know thou before what is his interest
(For he will take counsel for himself);
Lest he cast the lot upon thee,
⁹ And say unto thee, Thy way is good:
And he will stand over against thee, to see what shall befall thee.
¹⁰ Take not counsel with one that looketh askance at thee;
And hide thy counsel from such as are jealous of thee.
¹¹ Take not counsel with a woman about her rival;
Neither with a coward about war;

Nor with a merchant about exchange;
Nor with a buyer about selling;
Nor with an envious man about thankfulness;
Nor with an unmerciful man about kindness;
Nor with a sluggard about any kind of work;
Nor with a hireling in thy house about finishing his work;
Nor with an idle servant about much business:
Give not heed to these in any matter of counsel.
¹² But rather be continually with a godly man,
Whom thou shalt have known to be a keeper of the commandments,
Who in his soul is as thine own soul,
And who will grieve with thee, if thou shalt miscarry.
¹³ And make the counsel of thy heart to stand;
For there is none more faithful unto thee than it.
¹⁴ For a man's soul is sometime wont to bring him tidings,
More than seven watchmen that sit on high on a watch-tower.
¹⁵ And above all this intreat the Most High,
That he may direct thy way in truth.
¹⁶ Let reason be the beginning of every work,
And let counsel go before every action.
¹⁷ As a token of the changing of the heart,
¹⁸ four manner of things do rise up,
Good and evil, life and death;
And that which ruleth over them continually is the tongue.
¹⁹ There is one that is shrewd and the instructor of many,
And yet is unprofitable to his own soul.
²⁰ There is one that is subtil in words, and is hated;
He shall be destitute of all food:
²¹ For grace was not given him from the Lord;
Because he is deprived of all wisdom.
²² There is one that is wise to his own soul;
And the fruits of his understanding are trustworthy in the mouth.
²³ A wise man will instruct his own people;
And the fruits of his understanding are trustworthy.
²⁴ A wise man shall be filled with blessing;

And all they that see him shall call him happy.

²⁵The life of man is numbered by days;
And the days of Israel are innumerable.

²⁶The wise man shall inherit confidence
among his people,
And his name shall live for ever.

²⁷My son, prove thy soul in thy life,
And see what is evil for it, and give not that unto it.

²⁸For all things are not profitable for all
men,
Neither hath every soul pleasure in every thing.

²⁹Be not insatiable in any luxury,
And be not greedy on the things that thou eatest.

³⁰For in multitude of meats there shall be disease,
And surfeiting shall come nigh unto colic.

³¹Because of surfeiting have many perished;
But he that taketh heed shall prolong his life.

38

¹Honour a physician according to thy need of him with the honours due unto
him:

For verily the Lord hath created him.

²For from the Most High cometh healing;
And from the king he shall receive a gift.

³The skill of the physician shall lift up his head;
And in the sight of great men he shall be admired.

⁴The Lord created medicines out of the earth;
And a prudent man will have no disgust at
them.

⁵Was not water made sweet with wood,
That the virtue thereof might be known?

⁶And he gave men skill,
That ^{*}they might be glorified in his marvellous works.

⁷With them doth he heal a man,
And taketh away his pain.

⁸With these will the apothecary make a confection;
And his works shall not be brought to an end;
And from him is peace upon the face of the earth.

⁹My son, in thy sickness be not negligent;
But pray unto the Lord, and he shall heal
thee.

¹⁰Put away wrong doing, and order thine hands aright,
And cleanse thy heart from all manner of
sin.

¹¹Give a sweet savour, and a memorial of fine flour;
And make fat thine offering, as one that is not.

¹²Then give place to the physician, for verily the Lord hath created him;
And let him not go from thee, for thou hast need of him.

¹³There is a time when in their very hands is the issue for good.

¹⁴For they also shall beseech the Lord,
That he may prosper them in giving relief and in healing for the maintenance of life.

¹⁵He that sinneth before his Maker,
Let him fall into the hands of the physician.

¹⁶My son, let thy tears fall over the dead,
And as one that suffereth grievously begin lamentation;
And wind up his body according to his due,
And neglect not his burial.

¹⁷Make bitter weeping, and make passionate wailing,
And let thy mourning be according to his desert,
For one day or two, lest thou be evil spoken of:
And so be comforted for thy sorrow.

¹⁸For of sorrow cometh death,
And sorrow of heart will bow down the
strength.

¹⁹In calamity sorrow also remaineth:
And the poor man's life is [†]grievous to the heart.

²⁰Give not thy heart unto sorrow:
Put it away, remembering the last end:

²¹Forget it not, for there is no returning again:
Him thou shalt not profit, and thou wilt hurt thyself.

²²Remember the sentence upon him; for so also shall thine be;
Yesterday for me, and today for thee.

²³When the dead is at rest, let his remembrance rest;

* 38:6 Or, he † 38:19 Gr. against the heart.

And be comforted for him, when his spirit
departeth from him.

²⁴The wisdom of the scribe cometh by opportunity of leisure;

And † he that hath little business shall become wise.

²⁵How shall he become wise that holdeth the plough,

That glorieth in the shaft of the goad,
That driveth oxen, and is occupied in their labours,

And whose discourse is of the stock of bulls?

²⁶He will set his heart upon turning his furrows;

And his wakefulness is to give his heifers their fodder.

²⁷So is every artificer and workmaster,
That passeth his time by night as by day;

They that cut gravings of signets,
And his diligence is to make great variety;

He will set his heart to preserve likeness in his portraiture,

And will be wakeful to finish his work.

²⁸So is the smith sitting by the anvil,

And considering the unwrought iron:
The vapour of the fire will waste his flesh;
And in the heat of the furnace will he wrestle with his work;

The noise of the hammer will § be ever in his ear,

And his eyes are upon the pattern of the vessel;

He will set his heart upon perfecting his works,

And And he will be wakeful to adorn them perfectly.

²⁹So is the potter sitting at his work,
And turning the wheel about with his feet,

Who is alway anxiously set at his work,
And all his handywork is by number;

³⁰He will fashion the clay with his arm,
And will bend its strength in front of his feet;

He will apply his heart to finish the glazing;
And he will be wakeful to make clean the furnace.

³¹All these put their trust in their hands;
And each becometh wise in his own work.

³¹All these put their trust in their hands;
And each becometh wise in his own work.

³²Without these shall not a city be inhabited,

And men shall not sojourn nor walk up and down therein.

³³ They shall not be sought for in the council of the people,

And in the assembly they shall not mount on high;

They shall not sit on the seat of the judge,
And they shall not understand the covenant of judgement:

Neither shall they declare instruction and judgement;

And where parables are they shall not be found.

³⁴But they will maintain the fabric of the †† world;

And in the handywork of their craft is their prayer.

39

¹* Not so he that hath applied his soul,
And meditateth in the law of the Most High;

He will seek out the wisdom of all the ancients,

And will be occupied in prophecies.

²He will keep the discourse of the men of renown,

And will enter in amidst the subtilties of parables.

³He will seek out the hidden meaning of proverbs,

And be conversant in the dark sayings of parables.

⁴He will serve among great men,
And appear before him that ruleth:

He will travel through the land of strange nations;

For he hath tried good things and evil among men.

⁵He will apply his heart to resort early to the Lord that made him,

And will make supplication before the Most High,

And will open his mouth in prayer,
And will make supplication for his sins.

⁶If the great Lord will,
He shall be filled with the spirit of understanding:

† 38:24 Gr. he that is lessened in his business. § 38:28 Gr. renew.  38:33 This line is absent from the oldest MSS. †† 38:34 Gr. age. * 39:1 Gr. Except him that.

He shall pour forth the words of his wisdom,

And in prayer give thanks unto the Lord.

⁷He shall direct his counsel and knowledge, And in his secrets shall he meditate.

⁸He shall shew forth the instruction which he hath been taught,

And shall glory in the law of the covenant of the Lord.

⁹Many shall commend his understanding; And so long as the world endureth, it shall not be blotted out:

His memorial shall not depart, And his name shall live from generation to generation.

¹⁰Nations shall declare his wisdom, And the congregation shall tell out his praise.

¹¹If he continue, he shall leave a greater name than a thousand:

And if he † die, he addeth thereto.

¹²Yet more will I utter, which I have thought upon;

And I am filled as the moon at the full.

¹³Hearken unto me, ye holy children, And bud forth as a rose growing by a brook of water:

¹⁴And give ye a sweet savour as frankincense,

And put forth flowers as a lily, Spread abroad a sweet smell, and sing a song of praise;

Bless ye the Lord for all his works.

¹⁵Magnify his name,

And give utterance to his praise With the songs of your lips, and with harps; And thus shall ye say when ye utter his praise:

¹⁶All the works of the Lord are exceeding good,

And every command shall be accomplished in his season.

¹⁷None can say, What is this? wherefore is that?

For in his season they shall all be sought out.

At his word the waters stood as a heap, And the receptacles of waters at the word of his mouth.

¹⁸At his command is all his good pleasure done;

And there is none that shall hinder his salvation.

¹⁹The works of all flesh are before him; And it is not possible to be hid from his eyes.

²⁰He beholdeth from everlasting to everlasting;

And there is nothing wonderful before him.

²¹None can say, What is this? wherefore is that?

For all things are created for their uses.

²²His blessing covered the dry land as a river,

And saturated it as a flood.

²³As he hath turned the waters into saltness;

So shall the heathen inherit his wrath.

²⁴His ways are plain unto the holy; So are they stumblingblocks unto the wicked.

²⁵Good things are created from the beginning for the good;

So are evil things for sinners.

²⁶The chief of all things necessary for the life of man

Are water, and fire, and iron, and salt, And flour of wheat, and honey, and milk, The blood of the grape, and oil, and clothing.

²⁷All these things are for good to the godly; So to the sinners they shall be turned into evil.

²⁸There be winds that are created for vengeance,

And in their fury lay on their scourges heavily;

In the time of consummation they pour out their strength,

And shall appease the wrath of him that made them.

²⁹Fire, and hail, and famine, and death, All these are created for vengeance;

³⁰Teeth of wild beasts, and scorpions and adders,

And a sword punishing the ungodly unto destruction.

³¹They shall rejoice in his commandment, And shall be made ready upon earth, when need is;

And in their seasons they shall not transgress his word.

† 39:11 Gr. cease.

³² Therefore from the beginning I was resolved,
 And I thought this, and left it in writing;
³³ All the works of the Lord are good:
 And he will supply every need in its season.
³⁴ And none can say, This is worse than that:
 For they shall all be well approved in their season.
³⁵ And now with all your heart and mouth
 sing ye praises,
 And bless the name of the Lord.

¹ Great travail is created for every man,
 And a heavy yoke is upon the sons of Adam,
 From the day of their coming forth from their mother's womb,
 Until the day for their burial in the mother of all things.
² The expectation of things to come, and the day of death,
 * Trouble their thoughts, and cause fear of heart;
³ From him that sitteth on a throne of glory, Even unto him that is humbled in earth and ashes;
⁴ From him that weareth purple and a crown,
 Even unto him that is clothed with a hempen frock.
⁵ There is wrath, and jealousy, and trouble,
 and disquiet,
 And fear of death, and anger, and strife;
 And in the time of rest upon his bed
 His night sleep doth change his knowledge.
⁶ A little or nothing is his resting,
 And afterward in his sleep, as in a day of keeping watch,
 He is troubled in the vision of his heart,
 As one that hath escaped from the front of battle.
⁷ In the very time of his deliverance he awaketh,
 And marvelleth that the fear is nought.
⁸ It is thus with all flesh, from man to beast,
 And upon sinners sevenfold more.
⁹ Death, and bloodshed, and strife, and
 sword,
 Calamities, famine, tribulation, and the scourge;

* 40:2 The Greek text of this line is probably corrupt.

¹⁰ All these things were created for the wicked,
 And because of them came the flood.
¹¹ All things that are of the earth turn to the earth again:
 And all things that are of the waters return
 into the sea.
¹² All bribery and injustice shall be blotted out;
 And good faith shall stand for ever.
¹³ The goods of the unjust shall be dried up like a river,
 And like a great thunder in rain shall go off
 in noise.
¹⁴ In opening his hands a man shall be made glad:
 So shall transgressors utterly fail.
¹⁵ The children of the ungodly shall not put forth many branches;
 And are as unclean roots upon a sheer rock.
¹⁶ The sedge that groweth upon every water and bank of a river
 Shall be plucked up before all grass.
¹⁷ Bounty is as a garden † of blessings,
 And almsgiving endureth for ever.
¹⁸ The life of one that laboureth, and is contented, shall be made sweet;
 And he that findeth a treasure is above both.
¹⁹ Children and the building of a city establish a man's name;
 And a blameless wife is counted above both.
²⁰ Wine and music rejoice the heart;
 And the love of wisdom is above both.
²¹ The pipe and the psaltery make pleasant
 melody;
 And a pleasant tongue is above both.
²² Thine eye shall desire grace and beauty;
 And above both the green blade of corn.
²³ A friend and a companion never meet
 amiss;
 And a wife with her husband is above both.
²⁴ Brethren and succour are for a time of affliction;
 And almsgiving is a deliverer above both.
²⁵ Gold and silver will make the foot stand sure;
 And counsel is esteemed above them both.
²⁶ Riches and strength will lift up the heart;
 And the fear of the Lord is above both:

† 40:17 Gr. in.

There is nothing wanting in the fear of the Lord,
 And there is no need to seek help therein.
²⁷ The fear of the Lord is as a garden of blessing,
 And covereth † a man above all glory.

²⁸ My son, lead not a beggar's life;
 Better it is to die than to beg.
²⁹ A man that looketh unto the table of another,
 His life is not to be counted for a life;
 He will pollute his soul with another man's meats:
 But a man wise and well-instructed will beware thereof.
³⁰ In the mouth of the shameless begging will be sweet;
 And in his belly a fire shall be kindled.

41

¹ O death, how bitter is the remembrance of thee to a man that is at peace in his possessions,
 Unto the man that hath nothing to distract him, and hath prosperity in all things,
 And that still hath strength to receive meat!
² O death, acceptable is thy sentence unto a man that is needy, and that faileth in strength,
 That is in extreme old age, and is distracted about all things,
 And is perverse, and hath lost patience!
³ Fear not the sentence of death;
 Remember them that have been before thee, and that come after:
 This is the sentence from the Lord over all flesh.
⁴ And why dost thou refuse, when it is the good pleasure of the Most High?
 Whether it be ten, or a hundred, or a thousand years,
 There is no inquisition of life in * the grave.
⁵ The children of sinners are abominable children,
 And they frequent the dwellings of the ungodly.
⁶ The inheritance of sinners' children shall perish,

And with their posterity shall be a perpetual reproach.

⁷ Children will complain of an ungodly father,
 Because they shall be reproached for his sake.

⁸ Woe unto you, ungodly men,
 Which have forsaken the law of the Most High God! †

⁹ If ye be born, ye shall be born to a curse;
 If ye die, a curse shall be your portion.

¹⁰ All things that are of the earth shall go back to the earth:
 So the ungodly shall go from a curse unto perdition.

¹¹ The mourning of men is about their bodies:
 But the name of sinners being evil shall be blotted out.

¹² Have regard to thy name;
 For it continueth with thee longer than a thousand great treasures of gold.

¹³ A good life hath its number of days;
 And a good name continueth for ever.

¹⁴ My children, keep instruction in peace:
 But wisdom that is hid, and a treasure that is not seen,
 What profit is in them both?

¹⁵ Better is a man that hideth his foolishness
 Than a man that hideth his wisdom.

¹⁶ Wherefore shew reverence to my word:
 For it is not good to retain every kind of shame;
 And not all things are approved by all in good faith.

¹⁷ Be ashamed of whoredom before father and mother:
 And of a lie before a prince and a mighty man;

¹⁸ Of an offence before a judge and ruler;
 Of iniquity before the congregation and the people;
 Of unjust dealing before a partner and friend;

¹⁹ And of theft in regard of the place where thou sojournest,
 And in regard of the truth of God and his covenant;
 And of leaning with thine elbow at meat;
 And of scurrility in the matter of giving and taking;

 And of looking upon a woman that is a harlot;
²¹ And of turning away ‡ thy face from a kinsman;
 Of taking away a portion or a gift;
 And of gazing upon a woman that hath a husband;
²² Of being over busy with his maid; and come not near her bed;
 Of upbraiding speeches before friends;
 And after thou hast given, upbraid not;
²³ Of repeating and speaking what thou hast heard;
 And of revealing of secrets.
²⁴ So shalt thou be truly shamefast,
 And find favour in the sight of every man.

¹ Of these things be not ashamed,
 And accept no man's person to sin thereby:
² Of the law of the Most High, and his covenant;
 And of judgement to do justice to the ungodly;
³ Of reckoning with a partner and with travellers;
 And of a gift from the heritage of friends;
⁴ Of exactness of balance and weights;
 And of getting much or little;
⁵ Of indifferent selling of merchants;
 And of much correction of children;
 And of making the side of an evil servant to bleed.
⁶* Sure keeping is good, where an evil wife is;
 And where many hands are, shut thou close.
⁷ Whatsoever thou handest over, let it be by number and weight;
 And in giving and receiving let all be in writing.
⁸ Be not ashamed to instruct the unwise and foolish,
 And one of extreme old age that contendeth with those that are young;
 And so shalt thou be well instructed indeed,
 And approved in the sight of every man living.

⁹ A daughter is a secret cause of wakefulness to a father;
 And the care for her putteth away sleep;
 In her youth, lest she pass the flower of her age;
 And when she is married, lest she should be hated:
¹⁰ In her virginity, lest she should be defiled
 And be with child in her father's house;
 And when she hath a husband, lest she should transgress;
 And when she is married, lest she should be barren.
¹¹ Keep a strict watch over a headstrong daughter,
 Lest she make thee † a laughingstock to thine enemies,
 A byword in the city and ‡ notorious among the people,
 And shame thee before the multitude.

¹² Look not upon every body in regard of beauty,
 And sit not in the midst of women;
¹³ For from garments cometh a moth,
 And from a woman a woman's wickedness.
¹⁴ Better is the wickedness of a man than a pleasant-dealing woman,
 And a woman which putteth thee to shameful reproach.

¹⁵ I will make mention now of the works of the Lord,
 And will declare the things that I have seen:
 In the words of the Lord are his works.

¹⁶ The sun that giveth light looketh upon all things;

And the work of the Lord is full of his glory.

¹⁷ The Lord hath not given power to the saints to declare all his marvellous works;

Which the Almighty Lord firmly settled,
 That whatsoever is might be established in his glory.

¹⁸ He searcheth out the deep, and the heart,
 And he hath understanding of their cunning devices:

For the Most High knoweth all knowledge,
 And he looketh into the § signs of the world,

¹⁹ Declaring the things that are past, and the things that shall be,

And revealing the traces of hidden things.
²⁰No thought escapeth him;
 There is not a word hid from him.
²¹The mighty works of his wisdom he hath ordered,
 Who is from everlasting to everlasting:
 Nothing hath been added unto them, nor diminished from them;
 And he had no need of any counsellor.
²²How desirable are all his works!
 One may behold this even unto a spark.
²³All these things live and remain for ever in all manner of uses,
 And they are all obedient.
²⁴All things are double one against another:
 And he hath made nothing imperfect.
²⁵One thing establisheth the good things of another:
 And who shall be filled with beholding his glory?

43

¹The pride of the height is the firmament *
 in its clearness,
 The appearance of heaven, in the spectacle of its glory.
²The sun when he appeareth, bringing tidings as he goeth forth,
 Is a marvellous instrument, the work of the Most High:
³At his noon he drieth up the country,
 And who shall stand against his burning heat?
⁴A man blowing a furnace is in works of heat,
But the sun three times more, burning up
 the mountains:
 Breathing out fiery vapours,
 And sending forth bright beams, he dimmeth the eyes.
⁵Great is the Lord that made him;
 And at his word he hasteneth his course.
⁶The moon also is in all things for her season,
 For a declaration of times, and a sign of the world.
⁷From the moon is the sign of the feast day;
 A light that waneth when she is come to the full.
⁸The month is called after her name,
 Increasing wonderfully in her changing;

An instrument of the hosts on high,
 Shining forth in the firmament of heaven;
⁹The beauty of heaven, the glory of the stars,
 An ornament giving light in the highest places of the Lord.
¹⁰At the word of the Holy One they will stand in † due order,
 And they will not faint in their watches.
¹¹Look upon the rainbow, and praise him that made it;
 Exceeding beautiful in the brightness
 thereof.
¹²It compasseth the heaven round about with a circle of glory;
 The hands of the Most High have stretched it.
¹³By his commandment he maketh the snow to fall apace,
 And sendeth swiftly the lightnings of his judgement.
¹⁴By reason thereof the treasure-houses are opened;
 And clouds fly forth as fowls.
¹⁵By his mighty power he maketh strong the clouds,
 And the hailstones are broken small:
¹⁶And at his appearing the mountains will
 be shaken,
 And at his will the south wind will blow.
¹⁷The voice of his thunder maketh the earth to travail;
 So doth the northern storm and the whirl-
 wind:
 As birds flying down he sprinkleth the snow;
 And as the lighting of the locust is the falling down thereof:
¹⁸The eye will marvel at the beauty of its whiteness,
 And the heart will be astonished at the raining of it.
¹⁹The hoar frost also he poureth on the earth as salt;
 And when it is congealed, it is as points of thorns.
²⁰The cold north wind shall blow,
 And the ice shall be congealed on the water:
 It shall lodge upon every gathering together of water,
 And the water shall put on as it were a breastplate.

* 43:1 Gr. of clearness. † 43:10 Gr. judgement.

²¹ It shall devour the mountains, and burn up the wilderness,
And consume the green herb as fire.
²² A mist coming speedily is the healing of all things;
A dew coming after heat shall bring cheerfulness.
²³ By his counsel he hath stilled the deep,
And † planted islands therein.
²⁴ They that sail on the sea tell of the danger
thereof;
And when we hear it with our ears, we marvel.
²⁵ Therein be also those strange and wondrous works,
Variety of all that hath life, the § race of sea-monsters.
²⁶ By reason of him his end hath success,
And by his word all things consist.
²⁷ We may say many things, yet shall we not attain;
And the sum of our words is, He is all.
²⁸ How shall we have strength to glorify
him?
For he is himself the great one above all his works.
²⁹ The Lord is terrible and exceeding great;
And marvellous is his power.
³⁰ When ye glorify the Lord, exalt him as much as ye can;
For even yet will he exceed:
And when ye exalt him, put forth your full
strength:
Be not weary; for ye will never attain.
³¹ Who hath seen him, that he may declare
him?
And who shall magnify him as he is?
³² Many things are hidden greater than these;
For we have seen but a few of his works.
³³ For the Lord made all things;
And to the godly gave he wisdom.

44

¹ Let us now praise famous men,
And our fathers that begat us.
² The Lord * manifested in them great glory,
Even his mighty power from the beginning.
³ Such as did bear rule in their kingdoms,

And were men renowned for their power,
† Giving counsel by their understanding,
Such as have brought tidings in prophecies:
⁴ Leaders of the people by their counsels,
And by their understanding ‡ men of learn- ing for the people;
Wise were their words in their instruction:
⁵ Such as sought out musical tunes,
And set forth verses in writing;
⁶ Rich men furnished with ability,
Living peaceably in their habitations:
⁷ All these were honoured in their generations,
And were a glory in their days.
⁸ There be of them, that have left a name behind them,
To declare their praises.
⁹ And some there be, which have no memorial;
Who are perished as though they had not been,
And are become as though they had not been born;
And their children after them.
¹⁰ But these were men of mercy, Whose righteous deeds have not been forgotten.
¹¹ With their seed shall remain continually
a good inheritance;
Their children are § within the covenants.
¹² Their seed standeth fast,
And their children for their sakes.
¹³ Their seed shall remain for ever,
And their glory shall not be blotted out.
¹⁴ Their bodies were buried in peace,
And their name liveth to all generations.
¹⁵ Peoples will declare their wisdom,
And the congregation telleth out their praise.

¹⁶ Enoch pleased the Lord, and was translated,
Being an example of repentance to all generations.

¹⁷ Noah was found perfect and righteous;
In the season of wrath he was taken in exchange for the world;
Therefore was there left a remnant unto
the earth,
When the flood came.

¹⁸ Everlasting covenants were made with him,
That all flesh should no more be blotted out by a flood.

¹⁹ Abraham was a great father of a multitude of nations;
And there was none found like him in glory;
²⁰ Who kept the law of the Most High,
And was taken into covenant with him:
In his flesh he established the covenant;
And when he was proved, he was found faithful.

²¹ Therefore he assured him by an oath,
That the nations should be blessed in his seed;
That he would multiply him as the dust of
the earth,
And exalt his seed as the stars,
And cause them to inherit from sea to sea,
And from the River unto the utmost part of
the earth.

²² In Isaac also did he establish likewise, for Abraham his father's sake,
The blessing of all men, and the covenant:

²³ And he made it rest upon the head of Jacob;
He acknowledged him in his blessings,
And gave to him by inheritance,
And divided his portions;
Among twelve tribes did he part them.

45

¹ And he brought out of him a man of mercy,
Which found favour in the sight of all flesh;
A man beloved of God and men, even Moses,

Whose memorial is blessed.
² He made him like to the glory of the saints,
And magnified him in the fears of his enemies.

³ By his words he caused the wonders to cease;
He glorified him in the sight of kings;
He gave him commandment for his people,
And shewed him part of his glory.

⁴ He sanctified him in his faithfulness and meekness;
He chose him out of all flesh.

⁵ He made him to hear his voice,
And led him into the thick darkness,
And gave him commandments face to face,

Even the law of life and knowledge,
That he might teach Jacob the covenant,
And Israel his judgments.

⁶ He exalted Aaron, a holy man like unto
him,
Even his brother, of the tribe of Levi.

⁷ He established for him an everlasting covenant,
And gave him the priesthood of the people;
He ^{*} beautified him with comely ornaments,
And girded him about with a robe of glory.
⁸ He clothed him with the perfection of exultation;

And strengthened him with apparel of †
honour,
The linen breeches, the long robe, and the ephod.

⁹ And he compassed him with pomegranates of gold,
And with many bells round about,
To send forth a sound as he went,
To make a sound that might be heard in the temple,

For a memorial to the children of his people;

¹⁰ With a holy garment, with gold and blue and purple, the work of the embroiderer,

With an oracle of judgement, even with the Urim and Thummim;

¹¹ With twisted scarlet, the work of the craftsman;

With precious stones graven like a signet, in a setting of gold, the work of the jeweller,

For a memorial engraved in writing, after the number of the tribes of Israel;

¹² With a crown of gold upon the mitre, ‡ having graven on it, as on a signet, HOLINESS,

An ornament of honour, a work of might,
The desires of the eyes, goodly and beautiful.

¹³ Before him there never have been any such;

No stranger put them on, but his sons only,
and his offspring perpetually.

¹⁴ His sacrifices shall be wholly consumed
Every day twice continually.

¹⁵ Moses § consecrated him,

* 45:7 Gr. blessed. † 45:8 Gr. strength. ‡ 45:12 Gr. an engraving of a signet of holiness. § 45:15 Gr. filled his hands.

And anointed him with holy oil:
It was unto him for an everlasting
covenant,
And to his seed, all the days of heaven,
To minister unto him, and to execute also
the priest's office,
And bless his people in his name.

¹⁶ He chose him out of all living
To offer sacrifice to the Lord, Incense, and a sweet savour, for a memorial,

To make reconciliation for thy people.

¹⁷ He gave unto him in his commandments,
Yea, authority in the covenants of judge-
ments,

To teach Jacob the testimonies,
And to enlighten Israel in his law.

¹⁸ Strangers gathered themselves together against him,

And envied him in the wilderness,
Even Dathan and Abiram with their company,

And the congregation of Korah, with wrath and anger.

¹⁹ The Lord saw it, and it displeased him;
And in the wrath of his anger they were destroyed:

He did wonders upon them,
To consume them with flaming fire.

²⁰ And he added glory to Aaron,
And gave him a heritage:
He divided unto him the firstfruits of the increase;
And first did he prepare bread in abundance:

²¹ For they shall eat the sacrifices of the Lord,
Which he gave unto him and to his seed.

²² Howbeit in the land of the people he shall have no inheritance,
And he hath no portion among the people:
For he himself is thy portion and inheritance.

²³ And Phinehas the son of Eleazar is the third in glory,

In that he was zealous in the fear of the Lord,

And stood fast in the good forwardness of his soul when the people turned away,

And he made reconciliation for Israel.

²⁴ Therefore was there a covenant of peace established for him,

That he should be leader of the ^{} saints and
of his people;

That he and his seed
Should have the dignity of the priesthood for ever.

²⁵ Also he made a covenant with David the son of Jesse, of the tribe of Judah;
The inheritance of the king is his alone
from son to son;

So the inheritance of Aaron is also unto his seed.

²⁶ God give you wisdom in your heart
To judge his people in righteousness,
That their good things be not abolished,
And that their glory endure for all their generations.

¹ Joshua the son of ^{*} Nun was valiant in war,
And was the successor of Moses in prophecies:

Who according to his name was made great
For the saving of † God's elect,
To take vengeance of the enemies that rose up against them,

That he might give Israel their inheritance.

² How was he glorified in the lifting up his hands,
And in stretching out his sword against the cities!

³ Who before him so stood fast?
For the Lord himself brought his enemies
unto him.

⁴ Did not the sun go back by his hand?
And did not one day become as two?

⁵ He called upon the Most High and Mighty
One,

When his foes pressed him round about;
And the great Lord heard him.

⁶ With hailstones of mighty power
He caused war to break violently upon the nation,

And ‡ in the going down he destroyed them
that resisted;

That the nations might know his § armour,

He and Caleb the son of Jephunneh,
 In that they withstood the adversary,
 Hindered the people from sin,
 And stilled the murmuring of wickedness.
⁸ And of six hundred thousand people on foot, they two alone were preserved
 To bring them into the heritage, Even into a land flowing with milk and honey.

⁹ Also the Lord gave strength unto Caleb,
 And it remained with him unto his old age;
 So that he entered upon the height of the
 land,
 And his seed obtained it for a heritage:
¹⁰ That all the children of Israel might see
 That it is good to walk after the Lord.

¹¹ Also the judges, every one by his name,
 All whose hearts went not a whoring,
 And who turned not away from the Lord,
 May their memorial be blessed.

¹² May their bones flourish again out of their place,
 And may the name of them that have been honoured be renewed upon their children.

¹³ Samuel, the prophet of the Lord, beloved of his Lord,
 Established a kingdom, and anointed princes over his people.

¹⁴ By the law of the Lord he judged the congregation,
 And the Lord visited Jacob.

¹⁵ By his faithfulness he was proved to be a prophet,
 And by his words he was known to be faithful in vision.

¹⁶ Also when his enemies pressed him round about
 He called upon the Lord, the Mighty One,
 With the offering of the sucking lamb.

¹⁷ And the Lord thundered from heaven,
 And with a mighty sound made his voice to be heard.

¹⁸ And he utterly destroyed the rulers of the Tyrians,
 And all the princes of the Philistines.

¹⁹ Also before the time of his ^{} long sleep
 He made protestations in the sight of the lord and his anointed,

I have not taken any man's goods, so much as a shoe:
 And no man did accuse him.
²⁰ And after he fell asleep he prophesied,
 And shewed the king his end,
 And lifted up his voice from the earth in prophecy,
 To blot out the wickedness of the people.

47

¹ And after him rose up Nathan
 To prophesy in the days of David.
² As is the fat when it is separated from the peace offering,
 So was David separated from the children of Israel.

³ He played with lions as with kids,
 And with bears as with lambs of the flock.

⁴ In his youth did he not slay a giant,
 And take away reproach from the people,
 When he lifted up his hand with a sling
 stone,

And beat down the boasting of Goliath?
⁵ For he called upon the Most High Lord;
 And he gave him strength in his right hand,
 To slay a man mighty in war,
 To exalt the horn of his people.

⁶ So they glorified him for his ten thousands,
 And praised him for the blessings of the Lord,
 In that there was given him a diadem of
 glory.

⁷ For he destroyed the enemies on every side,
 And brought to nought the Philistines his
 adversaries,
 Brake their horn in pieces unto this day.

⁸ In every work of his he gave thanks to the Holy One Most High with words of
 glory;

With his whole heart he sang praise,
 And loved him that made him.

⁹ Also he set singers before the altar,
 And to make sweet melody by their music.
 *

¹⁰ He gave comeliness to the feasts,
 And set in order the seasons to perfection,
 While they praised his holy name,
 And the sanctuary sounded from early morning.

 46:19 Gr. age-long sleep.

* 47:9 The remainder of this verse is omitted by the best authorities.

¹¹ The Lord took away his sins,
 And exalted his horn for ever;
 And gave him a covenant of kings,
 And a throne of glory in Israel.
¹² After him rose up a son, a man of understanding;
 And for his sake he dwelt at large.
¹³ Solomon reigned in days of peace;
 And to him God gave rest round about,
 That he might set up a house for his name,
 And prepare a sanctuary for ever.
¹⁴ How wise wast thou made in thy youth,
 And filled as a river with understanding!
¹⁵ Thy soul covered the earth,
 And thou filledst it with † dark parables.
¹⁶ Thy name reached unto the aisles afar off;
 And for thy peace thou wast beloved.
¹⁷ For thy songs and proverbs and parables,
 And for thine interpretations, the countries marvelled at thee.
¹⁸ By the name of the Lord God,
 Which is called the God of Israel,
 Thou didst gather gold as tin,
 And didst multiply silver as lead.
¹⁹ Thou didst bow thy loins unto women,
 And in thy body thou wast brought into subjection.
²⁰ Thou didst blemish thine honour,
 And profane thy seed,
 To bring wrath upon thy children;
 And I was grieved for thy folly:
²¹ So that the sovereignty was divided,
 And out of Ephraim ruled a disobedient kingdom.
²² But the Lord will never forsake his mercy;
 And he will not destroy any of his works,
 Nor blot out the posterity of his elect;
 And the seed of him that loved him he will not take away;
 And he gave a remnant unto Jacob,
 And unto David a root out of him.
²³ And so rested Solomon with his fathers;
 And of his seed he left behind him Rehoboam,
 Even the foolishness of the people, and one that lacked understanding,
 Who made the people to revolt by his counsel.
 Also Jeroboam the son of Nebat,
 Who made Israel to sin,
 And gave unto Ephraim a way of sin.

²⁴ And their sins were multiplied exceedingly,
 To remove them from their land.
²⁵ For they sought out all manner of wicked-
 ness,
 Till vengeance should come upon them.

48

¹ Also there arose Elijah the prophet as fire,
 And his word burned like a torch:
² Who brought a famine upon them,
 And by his zeal made them few in number.
³ By the word of the Lord he shut up the heaven:
 Thrice did he thus bring down fire.
⁴ How wast thou glorified, O Elijah, in thy wondrous deeds!
 And who shall glory like unto thee?
⁵ Who did raise up a dead man from death,
 And from * the place of the dead, by the word of the Most High:
⁶ Who brought down kings to destruction,
 And honourable men from their bed:
⁷ Who heard rebuke in Sinai,
 And judgements of vengeance in Horeb:
⁸ Who anointed kings for retribution,
 And prophets to succeed after him:
⁹ Who was taken up in a tempest of fire,
 In a chariot of fiery horses:
¹⁰ Who was recorded for reproofs in their seasons,
 To pacify anger, before it brake forth into wrath;
 To turn the heart of the father unto the son,
 And to restore the tribes of Jacob.
¹¹ Blessed are they that saw thee,
 And they that have been beautified with love;
 For we also shall surely live.
¹² Elijah it was, who was wrapped in a tempest:
 And Elisha was filled with his spirit;
 And in all his days he was not moved by the fear of any ruler,
 And no one brought him into subjection.
¹³ † Nothing was too high for him;

¹⁷Hezekiah fortified his city,
And brought in † water into the midst of
them:

He digged the sheer rock with iron,
And builded up wells for waters.

¹⁸In his days Sennacherib came up,
And sent Rabshakeh, and departed;
And he lifted up his hand against Zion,
And boasted great things in his arrogance.

¹⁹Then were their hearts and their hands shaken,

And they were in pain, as women in travail;
²⁰And they called upon the Lord which is merciful,

Spreading forth their hands unto him:
And the Holy One heard them speedily out of Heaven,
And delivered them by the hand of Isaiah.

²¹He smote the camp of the Assyrians,
And his angel utterly destroyed them.

²²For Hezekiah did that which was pleasing to the Lord,
And was strong in the ways of David his
father,

Which Isaiah the prophet commanded,
Who was great and faithful in his vision.

²³In his days the sun went backward;
And he added life to the king.

²⁴He saw by an excellent spirit what should come to pass at the last;
And he comforted them that mourned in Sion.

²⁵He shewed the things that should be to the end of time,
And the hidden things or ever they came.

²He behaved himself uprightly in the conversion of the people,
And took away the abominations of iniquity.

³He set his heart right toward the Lord;
In the days of wicked men he made godliness to prevail.

⁴Except David and Hezekiah and Josiah,
All committed trespass:
For they forsook the law of the Most High;
The kings of Judah failed.

⁵For they gave their * power unto others,
And their glory to a strange nation.

⁶They set on fire the chosen city of the sanctuary,
And made her streets desolate, as it was written by the hand of Jeremiah.

⁷For they entreated him evil;
And yet he was sanctified in the womb to

At his coming forth out of the § sanctuary!
⁶As the morning star in the midst of a cloud,
As the moon at the full:
⁷As the sun shining forth upon the temple

⁹As fire and incense in the censer,
As a vessel all of beaten gold Adorned with all manner of precious stones:
¹⁰As an olive tree budding forth fruits,
And as a cypress growing high among the clouds.
¹¹When he took up the robe of glory,
And put on the perfection of exultation,
In the ascent of the holy altar,

He made glorious the precinct of the sanctuary.
¹²And when he received the portions out of the priests' hands,
Himself also standing by the hearth of the altar,
His brethren as a garland round about him,
He was as a young cedar in Libanus;
And as stems of palm trees compassed they him round about,
¹³And all the sons of Aaron in their glory,
And the Lord's offering in their hands, before all the congregation of Israel.
¹⁴And finishing the service at the altars,
That he might adorn the offering of the Most High, the Almighty, ¹⁵He stretched out his hand to the  cup,
And poured out the cup of the grape;
He poured out at the foot of the altar
A sweet-smelling savour unto the Most High, the King of all.
¹⁶Then shouted the sons of Aaron,
They sounded the trumpets of beaten work,
They made a great noise to be heard,
For a remembrance before the Most High.
¹⁷Then all the people together hasted,
And fell down upon the earth on their faces
To worship their Lord, the Almighty, God
Most High.
¹⁸The singers also praised him with their voices;
In the whole house was there made sweet
melody.
¹⁹And the people besought the Lord Most High,
In prayer before him that is merciful.
Till the †† worship of the Lord should be ended;
And so they accomplished his service.
²⁰Then he went down, and lifted up his hands
Over the whole congregation of the children of Israel,
To give blessing unto the Lord with his lips,
And to glory in his name.
²¹And he bowed himself down in worship
the second time,
To declare the blessing from the Most High.
²²And now bless ye the God of all,

A Prayer of Jesus the son of Sirach.

¹ I will give thanks unto thee, O Lord, O King,
And will praise thee, O God my Saviour:
I do give thanks unto thy name:

² For thou wast my protector and helper,
And didst deliver my body out of destruction,

And out of the snare of a slanderous
tongue,

From lips that forge lies,
And wast my helper before them that stood by;

³ And didst deliver me, according to the abundance of thy mercy, and greatness of thy name,

From the gnashings of teeth ready to devour,

Out of the hand of such as sought my life,
Out of the manifold afflictions which I had;

†† 50:26 According to some ancient versions, Seir. §§

⁴ From the choking of a fire on every side,
And out of the midst of fire which I kindled
not;

⁵ Out of the depth of the belly of * the grave,
And from an unclean tongue,

And from lying words,

⁶ The slander of an unrighteous tongue unto the king.

My soul drew near even unto death,
And my life was near to † the grave beneath.

⁷ They compassed me on every side,
And there was none to help me.
I was looking for the succour of men,
And it was not.

⁸ And I remembered thy mercy, O Lord,
And thy working which hath been from everlasting,

How thou deliverest them that wait for
thee,
And savest them out of the hand of the enemies.

⁹ And I lifted up my supplication from the earth,

And prayed for deliverance from death.

¹⁰ I called upon the Lord, the Father of my Lord,

That he would not forsake me in the days
of affliction,

In the time when there was no help against the proud.

¹¹ I will praise thy name continually,
And will sing praise with thanksgiving;
And my supplication was heard:

¹² For thou savedst me from destruction,
And deliveredst me from the evil time:
Therefore will I give thanks and praise unto
thee,

And bless the name of the Lord.

¹³ When I was yet young,
Or ever I went abroad,
I sought wisdom openly in my prayer.

¹⁴ Before the temple I asked for her,
And I will seek her out even to the end.

¹⁵ From her flower as from the ripening grape my heart delighted in her:

My foot trod in uprightness,
From my youth I tracked her out.

¹⁶ I bowed down mine ear a little, and received her,

And found for myself much instruction.

¹⁷ I profited in her:
Unto him that giveth me wisdom I will give glory.

¹⁸ For I purposed to practice her,
And I was zealous for that which is good;
And I shall never be put to shame.

¹⁹ My soul hath wrestled in her,
And in my doing I was exact:
I spread forth my hands to the heaven
above,
And bewailed my ignorances of her.

²⁰ I set my soul aright unto her,
And in pureness I found her.
I gat me a heart joined with her from the
beginning;

Therefore shall I not be forsaken.

²¹ My inward part also was troubled to seek her:

Therefore have I gotten a good possession.

²² The Lord gave me a tongue for my reward;
And I will praise him therewith.

²³ Draw near unto me, ye unlearned,
And lodge in the house of instruction.

²⁴ Say, wherefore are ye lacking in these things,

And your souls are very thirsty?

²⁵ I opened my mouth, and spake,
Get her for yourselves without money.

²⁶ Put your neck under the yoke,
And let your soul receive instruction:
She is hard at hand to find.

²⁷ Behold with your eyes,
How that I laboured but a little,
And found for myself much rest.

²⁸ Get you instruction with a great sum of silver,
And gain much gold by her.

²⁹ May your soul rejoice in his mercy,
And may ye not be put to shame in praising
him.

³⁰ Work your work before the time cometh,
And in his time he will give you your reward.

BARUCH.

¹AND these are the words of the book, which Baruch the son of Nerias, the son of Maaseas, the son of Sedekias, the son of Asadias, the son of Helkias, wrote in Babylon, ²in the fifth year, and in the seventh day of the month, what time as the Chaldeans took Jerusalem, and burnt it with fire. ³And Baruch did read the words of this book in the hearing of Jechonias the son of Joakim king of Judah, and in the hearing of all the people that came to hear the book, ⁴and in the hearing of the mighty men, and of the kings' sons, and in the hearing of the elders, and in the hearing of all the people, from the least unto the greatest, even of all them that dwelt at Babylon by the river Sud. ⁵And they wept, and fasted, * and prayed before the Lord; ⁶they made also a collection of money according to every man's power: ⁷and they sent it to Jerusalem unto Joakim the high priest, the son of Helkias, the son of Salom, and to the priests, and to all the people which were found with him at Jerusalem, ⁸at the same time when he took the vessels of the house of the Lord, that had been carried out of the temple, to return them into the land of Judah, the tenth day of the month Sivan, namely, silver vessels, which Sedekias the son of Josias king of Judah had made, ⁹after that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had carried away Jechonias, and the princes, and the captives, and the mighty men, and the people of the land, from Jerusalem, and brought them unto Babylon. ¹⁰And they said, Behold, we have sent you money; buy you therefore with the money burnt offerings, and sin offerings, and incense, and prepare an oblation, and offer upon the altar of the Lord our God; ¹¹and pray for the life of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and for the life of Baltasar his son, that their days may be † as the days of heaven above the earth: ¹²and the Lord will give us strength, and lighten our eyes, and we shall live under the shadow of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and under the shadow of Baltasar his son, and we shall serve them many days, and find favour in their sight. ¹³Pray for us also unto the Lord our God, for we have sinned against the Lord our God; and unto this day the wrath of the Lord and his indignation is not turned from us. ¹⁴And ye shall read this book which we have sent unto you, to make confession in the house of the Lord, upon the day of the feast and on the days of the solemn assembly.

¹⁵And ye shall say, To the Lord our God belongeth righteousness, but unto us confusion of face, as at this day, unto the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, ¹⁶and to our kings, and to our princes, and to our priests, and to our prophets, and to our fathers: ¹⁷for that we have sinned before the Lord, ¹⁸and disobeyed him, and have not hearkened unto the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in the commandments of the Lord that he hath set before us: ¹⁹since the day that the Lord brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, unto this present day, we have been disobedient unto the Lord our God, and we have dealt unadvisedly in not hearkening unto his voice. ²⁰Wherefore the plagues clave unto us, and the curse, which the Lord commanded Moses his servant to pronounce in the day that he brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, to give us a land that floweth with milk and honey, as at this day. ²¹Nevertheless we hearkened not unto the voice of the Lord our God, according unto all the words of the prophets, whom he sent unto us: ²²but we walked every man in the imagination of his own wicked heart, to serve strange gods, and to do that which is evil in the sight of the Lord our God.

¹Therefore the Lord hath made good his word, which he pronounced against us, and against our judges that judged Israel, and against our kings, and against our princes, and against the men of Israel and Judah, ²to bring upon us great plagues, such as never happened under the whole heaven, * as it came to pass in Jerusalem, according to the things that are written in the law of Moses; ³That we should eat every man

the flesh of his own son, and every man the flesh of his own daughter. ⁴Moreover he hath given them to be in subjection to all the kingdoms that are round about us, to be a reproach and a desolation among all the people round about, where the Lord hath scattered them. ⁵Thus were they cast down, and not exalted, because we sinned against the Lord our God, in not hearkening unto his voice. ⁶To the Lord our God belongeth righteousness: but unto us and to our fathers confusion of face, as at this day. ⁷For all these plagues are come upon us, which the Lord hath pronounced against us. ⁸Yet have we not intreated the favour of the Lord, in turning every one from the thoughts of his wicked heart. ⁹Therefore hath the Lord kept watch over the plagues, and the Lord hath brought them upon us; for the Lord is righteous in all his works which he hath commanded us. ¹⁰Yet we have not hearkened unto his voice, to walk in the commandments of the Lord that he hath set before us.

¹¹And now, O Lord, thou God of Israel, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and with signs, and with wonders, and with great power, and with a high arm, and hast gotten thyself a name, as at this day: ¹²O Lord our God, we have sinned, we have done ungodly, we have dealt unrighteously in all thine ordinances. ¹³Let thy wrath turn from us: for we are but a few left among the heathen, where thou hast scattered us. ¹⁴Hear our prayer, O Lord, and our petition, and deliver us for thine own sake, and give us favour in the sight of them which have led us away captive: ¹⁵that all the earth may know that thou art the Lord our God, because Israel and his posterity is called by thy name. ¹⁶O Lord, look down from thine holy house, and consider us: incline thine ear, O Lord, and hear: ¹⁷open thine eyes, and behold: for the dead that are in † the grave, whose breath is taken from their bodies, will give unto the Lord neither glory nor righteousness: ¹⁸but the soul that is greatly vexed, which goeth stooping and feeble, and the eyes that fail, and the hungry soul, will give thee glory and righteousness, O Lord. ¹⁹For we do not present our supplication before thee, O Lord our God, for the righteousness of our fathers, and of our kings. ²⁰For thou hast sent thy wrath and thine indignation upon us, as thou hast spoken by thy servants the prophets, saying, ²¹Thus saith the Lord, Bow your shoulders to serve the king of Babylon, and remain in the land that I gave unto your fathers. ²²But if ye will not hear the voice of the Lord, to serve the king of Babylon, ²³I will cause to cease out of the cities of Judah, and from without Jerusalem, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride: and the whole land shall be desolate without inhabitant. ²⁴But we would not hearken unto thy voice, to serve the king of Babylon: therefore hast thou made good thy words that thou spakest by thy servants the prophets, namely, that the bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers, should be taken out of their places. ²⁵And, lo, they are cast out to the heat by day, and to the frost by night, and they died in great miseries by famine, by sword, and by ‡ pestilence. ²⁶And the house which is called by thy name hast thou laid waste, as at this day, for the wickedness of the house of Israel and the house of Judah. ²⁷Yet, O Lord our God, thou hast dealt with us after all thy kindness, and according to all that great mercy of thine, ²⁸as thou spakest by thy servant Moses in the day when thou didst command him to write thy law before the children of Israel, saying, ²⁹If ye will not hear my voice, surely this very great multitude shall be turned into a small number among the nations, where I will scatter them. ³⁰For I know that they will not hear me, because it is a stiffnecked people: but in the land of their captivity they shall lay it to heart, ³¹and shall know that I am the Lord their God: and I will give them a heart, and ears to hear: ³²and they shall praise me in the land of their captivity, and think upon my name, ³³and shall return from their stiff neck, and from their wicked deeds: for they shall remember the way of their fathers, which sinned before the Lord. ³⁴And I will bring them again into the land which I sware unto their fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, and they shall be lords of it: and I will increase them, and they shall not be diminished. ³⁵ And I will make an everlasting covenant with them to be their God, and they shall be my people: and I will no more remove my people of Israel out of the land that I have given them.

¹ O Lord Almighty, thou God of Israel, the soul in anguish, the troubled spirit, crieth unto thee. ² Hear, O Lord, and have mercy; for thou art a merciful God: yea, have mercy upon us, because we have sinned before thee. ³ For thou sittest as king for ever, and we perish evermore. ⁴ O Lord Almighty, thou God of Israel, hear now the prayer of ^{*} the dead Israelites, and of the children of them which were sinners before thee, that hearkened not unto the voice of thee their God: for the which cause these plagues clave unto us. ⁵ Remember not the iniquities of our fathers: but remember thy power and thy name now at this time. ⁶ For thou art the Lord our God, and thee, O Lord, will we praise. ⁷ For for this cause thou hast put thy fear in our hearts, [†] to the intent that we should call upon thy name: and we will praise thee in our captivity, for we have [‡] called to mind all the iniquity of our fathers, that sinned before thee. ⁸ Behold, we are yet this day in our captivity, where thou hast scattered us, for a reproach and a curse, and to be subject to penalty, according to all the iniquities of our fathers, which departed from the Lord our God.

days, and life, where is the light of the eyes, and peace. ¹⁵ Who hath found out her place? and who hath come into her treasuries? ¹⁶ Where are the princes of the heathen, and such as ruled the beasts that are upon the earth; ¹⁷ they that had their pastime with the fowls of the air, and they that hoarded up silver and gold, wherein men trust; and of whose getting there is no end? ¹⁸ For they that ^{††} wrought in silver, and were so careful, and whose works are past finding out, ¹⁹ they are vanished and gone down to ^{‡‡} the grave, and others are come up in their steads. ²⁰ Younger men have seen the light, and dwelt upon the earth: but the way of knowledge have they not known, ²¹ neither understood they the paths thereof: neither have their children laid hold of it: they are far off from ^{§§} their way. ²² It hath not been heard of in Canaan, neither hath it been seen in Teman. ²³ The sons also of Agar that seek understanding, which are in the land, the merchants of Merran and Teman, and the authors of fables, and the searchers out of understanding; none of these have known the way of wisdom, or remembered her paths. ²⁴ O Israel, how great is the house of God! and how large is the place of his possession! ²⁵ great, and hath none end; high, and unmeasurable. ²⁶ There were the giants born that were famous of old, great of stature, and expert in war. ²⁷ These did not God choose, neither gave he the way of knowledge unto them: ²⁸ so they perished, because they had no ^{} wisdom, they perished through their own foolishness. ²⁹ Who hath gone up into heaven, and taken her, and brought her down from the clouds? ³⁰ Who hath gone over the sea, and found her, and will bring her for choice gold? ³¹ There is none that knoweth her way, nor any that comprehendeth her path. ³² But he that knoweth all things knoweth her, he found her out with his understanding: he that prepared the earth for evermore hath filled it with fourfooted beasts: ³³ he that sendeth forth the light, and it goeth;

¹This is the book of the commandments of God, and the law that endureth for ever: all they that hold it fast are appointed to life; but such as leave it shall die. ²Turn thee, O Jacob, and take hold of it: walk towards her shining in the presence of the light thereof. ³Give not thy glory to another, nor the things that are profitable unto thee to a strange nation. ⁴O Israel, happy are we: for the things that are pleasing to God are made known unto us. ⁵Be of good cheer, my people, the memorial of Israel. ⁶Ye were sold to the nations, but not for destruction: because ye moved God to wrath, ye were delivered unto your adversaries. ⁷For ye provoked him that made you by sacrificing unto demons, and not to God. ⁸Ye forgot the everlasting God, that brought you up; ye grieved also Jerusalem, that nursed you. ⁹For she saw the wrath that is come upon you from God, and said, Hearken, ye women that dwell about Sion: for God hath brought upon me great mourning; ¹⁰for I have seen the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting hath brought upon them. ¹¹For with joy did I nourish them; but sent them away with weeping and mourning. ¹²Let no man rejoice over me, a widow, and forsaken of many: for the sins of my children am I left desolate; because they turned aside from the law of God, ¹³and had no regard to his statutes, neither walked they in the ways of God's commandments, nor trod in the paths of discipline in his righteousness. ¹⁴Let them that dwell about Sion come, and remember ye the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting hath brought upon them. ¹⁵For he hath brought a nation upon them from far,

a shameless nation, and of a strange language, ^{*} who neither revered old man, nor pitied child. ¹⁶And they have carried away the dear beloved sons of the widow, and left her that was alone desolate of her daughters. ¹⁷But I, what can I help you? ¹⁸For he that brought these plagues upon you will deliver you from the hand of your enemies. ¹⁹Go your way, O my children, go your way: for I am left desolate. ²⁰I have put off the garment of peace, and put upon me the sackcloth of my petition: I will cry unto the Everlasting as long as I live. ²¹Be of good cheer, O my children, cry unto God, and he shall deliver you from the power and hand of the enemies. ²²For I have trusted in the Everlasting, that he will save you; and joy is come unto me from the Holy One, because of the mercy which shall soon come unto you [†] from the Everlasting your Saviour. ²³For I sent you out with mourning and weeping: but God will give you to me again with joy and gladness for ever. ²⁴For like as now they that dwell about Sion have seen your captivity: so shall they see shortly your salvation from [‡] our God, which shall come upon you with great glory, and brightness of the Everlasting. ²⁵My children, suffer patiently the wrath that is come upon you from God: for thine enemy hath persecuted thee; but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt tread upon their necks. ²⁶My delicate ones have gone rough ways; they were taken away as a flock carried off by the enemies. ²⁷Be of good cheer, O my children, and cry unto God: for ye shall be remembered of him that hath brought these things upon you. ²⁸For as it was your mind to go astray from God: so, return and seek him ten times more. ²⁹For he that brought these plagues upon you shall bring you everlasting joy again with your salvation. ³⁰Be of good cheer, O Jerusalem: for he that called thee by name will comfort thee. ³¹Miserable are they that afflicted thee, and rejoiced at thy fall. ³²Miserable are the cities which thy children served: miserable is she that received thy sons. ³³For as she rejoiced at thy fall, and was glad of thy ruin: so shall she be grieved for her own desolation. ³⁴And I will take away her exultation in her great multitude, and her boasting shall be turned into mourning. ³⁵For fire shall come upon her from the Everlasting, long to endure; and she shall be inhabited of [§] devils for a great time.

³⁶O Jerusalem, look about thee toward the east, and behold the joy that cometh unto thee from God. ³⁷Lo, thy sons come, whom thou sentest away, they come gathered together from the east to the west at the word of the Holy One, rejoicing in the glory of God.

¹Put off, O Jerusalem, the garment of thy mourning and affliction, and put on the comeliness of the glory that cometh from God for ever. ²Cast about thee the robe of the righteousness which cometh from God; set a diadem on thine head of the glory of the Everlasting. ³For God will shew thy brightness unto every region under heaven. ⁴For thy name shall be called of God for ever The peace of righteousness, and The glory of godliness. ⁵Arise, O Jerusalem, and stand upon the height, and look about thee toward the east, and behold thy children gathered from the going down of the sun unto the rising thereof at the word of the Holy One, rejoicing that God hath remembered them. ⁶For they went from thee on foot, being led away of their enemies: but God bringeth them in unto thee borne on high with glory, * as on a royal throne. ⁷For God hath appointed that every high mountain, and the everlasting hills, should be made low, and the valleys filled up, to make plain the ground, that Israel may go safely in the glory of God. ⁸Moreover the woods and every sweet-smelling tree have overshadowed Israel by the commandment of God. ⁹For God shall lead Israel with joy in the light of his glory with the mercy and righteousness that cometh from him.

THE EPISTLE OF JEREMY.

¹A copy of an epistle, which Jeremy sent unto them which were to be led captives into Babylon by the king of the Babylonians, to certify them, as it was commanded him of God.

²Because of the sins which ye have committed before God, ye shall be led away captives unto Babylon by Nabuchodonosor king of the Babylonians. ³So when ye come unto Babylon, ye shall remain there many years, and for a long season, even for seven generations: and after that I will bring you out peaceably from thence. ⁴But now shall ye see in Babylon gods of silver, and of gold, and of wood, borne upon shoulders, which cause the nations to fear. ⁵Beware therefore that ye in no wise become like unto the strangers, neither let fear take hold upon you because of them, when ye see the multitude before them and behind them, worshipping them. ⁶But say ye in your hearts, O Lord, we must worship thee. ⁷For mine angel is with you, * and I myself do care for your † souls. ⁸For their tongue is polished by the workman, and they themselves are overlaid with gold and with silver; yet are they but false, and cannot speak. ⁹And taking gold, as it were for a virgin that loveth to go gay, they make crowns for the heads of their gods: ¹⁰and sometimes also the priests convey from their gods gold and silver, and bestow it upon themselves; ¹¹and will even give thereof to the common harlots: and they deck them as men with garments, even the gods of silver, and gods of gold, and of wood. ¹²Yet cannot these gods save themselves from rust and moths, though they be covered with purple raiment. ¹³They wipe their faces because of the dust of the temple, which is thick upon them. ¹⁴And he that cannot put to death one that offendeth against him holdeth a sceptre, as though he were judge of a country. ¹⁵He hath also a dagger in his right hand, and an axe: but cannot deliver himself from war and robbers. ¹⁶Whereby they are known not to be gods: therefore fear them not. ¹⁷For like as a vessel that a man useth is nothing worth when it is broken; even so it is with their gods: when they be set up in the temples their eyes be full of dust through the feet of them that come in. ¹⁸ And as the courts are made sure on every side upon him that offendeth the king, as being committed to suffer death; even so the priests make fast their temples with doors, with locks, and bars, lest they be carried off by robbers. ¹⁹ They light them candles, yea, more than for themselves, whereof they cannot see one. ²⁰ They are as one of the beams of the temple; and men say their hearts are eaten out, when things creeping out of the earth devour both them and their raiment: they feel it not ²¹ when their faces are blacked through the smoke that cometh out of the temple: ²² upon their bodies and heads alight bats, swallows, and birds; and in like manner the cats also. ²³ Whereby ye may know that they are no gods: therefore fear them not. ²⁴ Notwithstanding the gold wherewith they are beset to make them beautiful, except one wipe off the rust, they will not shine: for not even when they were molten did they feel it. ²⁵ Things wherein there is no breath are bought at any cost. ²⁶ Having no feet, they are borne upon shoulders, whereby they declare unto men that they be nothing worth. ²⁷ They also that serve them are ashamed: for if they fall to the ground at any time, they cannot rise up again of themselves: neither, if they be set awry, can they make themselves straight: but the offerings are set before them, as if they were dead men. ²⁸ And the things that are sacrificed unto them, their priests sell and spend; and in like manner their wives also lay up part thereof in salt; but unto the poor and to the impotent will they give nothing thereof. ²⁹ The menstruous woman and the woman in childbed touch their sacrifices: knowing therefore by these things that they are no gods, fear them not. ³⁰ For how can they be called gods? because women set meat before the gods of silver, gold, and wood. ³¹ And in their temples the priests † sit on seats, having their clothes rent, and their heads and beards shaven, and nothing upon their heads. ³² They roar and cry before their gods, as men do at the feast when one is dead. ³³ The priests also take off garments from them, and clothe their wives and children withal. ³⁴ Whether it be evil that one doeth unto them, or good, they are not able to recompense it: they can neither set up a king, nor put him down. ³⁵ In like manner, they can neither give riches nor money: though a man make a vow unto them, and keep it not, they will never exact it. ³⁶ They can save no man from death, neither deliver the weak from the mighty. ³⁷ They cannot restore a blind man to his sight, nor deliver any that is in distress. ³⁸ They can shew no mercy to the widow, nor do good to the fatherless. ³⁹ They are like the stones that be hewn out of the mountain, these gods of wood, and that are overlaid with gold and with silver: they that minister unto them shall be confounded. ⁴⁰ How should a man then think or say that they are gods, when even the Chaldeans themselves dishonour them? ⁴¹ Who if they shall see one dumb that cannot speak, they bring him, and intreat him to call upon Bel, as though he were able to understand. ⁴² Yet they cannot perceive this themselves, and forsake them: for they have no understanding. ⁴³ The women also with cords about them sit in the ways, burning bran for incense: but if any of them, drawn by some that passeth by, lie with him, she reproacheth her fellow, that she was not thought as worthy as herself, nor her cord broken. ⁴⁴ Whatsoever is done among them is false: how should a man then think or say that they are gods? ⁴⁵ They are fashioned by carpenters and goldsmiths: they can be nothing else than the workmen will have them to be. ⁴⁶ And they themselves that fashioned them can never continue long; how then should the things that are fashioned by them? ⁴⁷ For they have left lies and reproaches to them that come after. ⁴⁸ For when there cometh any war or plague upon them, the priests consult with themselves, where they may be hidden with them. ⁴⁹ How then cannot men understand that they be no gods, which can neither save themselves from war, nor from plague? ⁵⁰ For seeing they be but of wood, and overlaid with gold and with silver, it shall be known hereafter that they are false: ⁵¹ and it shall be manifest to all nations and kings that they are no

† 6:31 Or, bear the litter

gods, but the works of men's hands, and that there is no work of God in them. ⁵²Who then may not know that they are no gods? ⁵³For neither can they set up a king in a land, nor give rain unto men. ⁵⁴Neither can they judge their own cause, nor [§]redress a wrong, being unable: for they are as crows between heaven and earth. ⁵⁵For even when fire falleth upon the house of gods of wood, or overlaid with gold or with silver, their priests will flee away, and escape, but they themselves shall be burnt asunder like beams. ⁵⁶Moreover they cannot withstand any king or enemies: how should a man then allow or think that they be gods? ⁵⁷Neither are those gods of wood, and overlaid with silver or with gold, able to escape either from thieves or robbers. ⁵⁸Whose gold, and silver, and garments wherewith they are clothed, they that are strong will take from them, and go away withal: neither shall they be able to help themselves. ⁵⁹Therefore it is better to be a king that sheweth his manhood, or else a vessel in a house profitable for that whereof the owner shall have need, than such false gods; or even a door in a house, to keep the things safe that be therein, than such false gods; or a pillar of wood in a palace, than such false gods. ⁶⁰For sun, and moon, and stars, being bright and sent to do their offices, are obedient. ⁶¹Likewise also the lightning when it glittereth is fair to see; and after the same manner the wind also bloweth in every country. ⁶²And when God commandeth the clouds to go over the whole world, they do as they are bidden. ⁶³And the fire sent from above to consume mountains and woods doeth as it is commanded: but these are to be likened unto them neither in shew nor power. ⁶⁴Wherefore a man should neither think nor say that they are gods, seeing they are able neither to judge causes, nor to do good unto men. ⁶⁵Knowing therefore that they are no gods, fear them not. ⁶⁶For they can neither curse nor bless kings: ⁶⁷neither can they shew signs in the heavens among the nations, nor shine as the sun, nor give light as the moon. ⁶⁸The beasts are better than they: for they can get under a covert, and help themselves. ⁶⁹In no wise then is it manifest unto us that they are gods: therefore fear them not. ⁷⁰For as a scarecrow in a garden of cucumbers that keepeth nothing, so are their gods of wood, and overlaid with gold and with silver. ⁷¹Likewise also their gods of wood, and overlaid with gold and with silver, are like to a white thorn in an orchard, that every bird sitteth upon; as also to a dead body, that is cast forth into the dark. ⁷²And ye shall know them to be no gods by the ^{}bright purple that rotteth upon them: And they themselves afterward shall be consumed, and shall be a reproach in the country. ⁷³Better therefore is the just man that hath none idols: for he shall be far from reproach.

THE SONG OF THE THREE HOLY CHILDREN,

Which followeth in the third Chapter of DANIEL after this place, —fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. — Verse 23. That which followeth is not in the Hebrew, to wit, And they walked — unto these words, Then Nebuchadnezzar — Verse 24.

¹ AND they walked in the midst of the fire, praising God, and blessing the Lord. ² Then Azarias stood, and prayed on this manner; and opening his mouth in the midst of the fire said, ³ Blessed art thou, O Lord, thou God of our fathers, * and worthy to be praised; and thy name is glorified for evermore: ⁴ For thou art righteous in all the things that thou hast done: yea, true are all thy works, and thy ways are right, and all thy judgements truth. ⁵ In all the things that thou hast brought upon us, and upon the holy city of our fathers, even Jerusalem, thou hast executed true judgements: for according to truth and justice hast thou brought all these things upon us because of our sins. ⁶ For we have sinned and committed iniquity, in departing from thee. ⁷ In all things have we trespassed, and not obeyed thy commandments, nor kept them, neither done as thou hast commanded us, that it might go well with us. ⁸ Wherefore all that thou hast brought upon us, and everything that thou hast done to us, thou hast done in true judgement. ⁹ And thou didst deliver us into the hands of lawless enemies, and most hateful forsakers of God, and to an unjust king, and the most wicked in all the world. ¹⁰ And now we cannot open our mouth; shame and reproach have befallen thy servants, and them that worship thee. ¹¹ Deliver us not up utterly, for thy name's sake, neither disannul thou thy covenant: ¹² and cause not thy mercy to depart from us, for the sake of Abraham that is beloved of thee, and for the sake of Isaac thy servant, and Israel thy holy one; ¹³ to whom thou didst promise, that thou wouldest multiply their seed as the stars of heaven, and as the sand that is upon the sea shore. ¹⁴ For we, O Lord, are become less than any nation, and be kept under this day in all the world because of our sins. ¹⁵ Neither is there at this time prince, or prophet, or leader, or burnt offering, or sacrifice, or oblation, or incense, or place to offer before thee, and to find mercy. ¹⁶ Nevertheless in a contrite heart and a humble spirit let us be accepted; ¹⁷ like as in the burnt offerings of rams and bullocks, and like as in ten thousands of fat lambs; so let our sacrifice be in thy sight this day, and grant that we may wholly go after thee, for they shall not be ashamed that put their trust in thee. ¹⁸ And now we follow thee with all our heart, we fear thee, and seek thy face. Put us not to shame: but deal with us after thy kindness, and according to the multitude of thy mercy. ²⁰ Deliver us also according to thy marvellous works, and give glory to thy name, O Lord: and let all them that do thy servants hurt be confounded; ²¹ and let them be ashamed of all their † power and might, and let their strength be broken; ²² and let them know that thou art the Lord, the only God, and glorious over the whole world.

²³ And the king's servants, that put them in, ceased not to make the furnace hot with naphtha, pitch, tow, and small wood; ²⁴ so that the flame streamed forth above the furnace forty and nine cubits. ²⁵ And it spread, and burned those Chaldeans whom it found about the furnace. ²⁶ But the angel of the Lord came down into the furnace together with Azarias and his fellows, and he smote the flame of the fire out of the furnace; ²⁷ and made the midst of the furnace as it had been a moist whistling wind, so that the fire touched them not at all, neither hurt nor troubled them.

²⁸ Then the three, as out of one mouth, praised, and glorified, and blessed God in the furnace, saying, ²⁹ Blessed art thou, O Lord, thou God of our fathers: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever. ³⁰ And blessed is thy glorious and holy name: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever. ³¹ Blessed art thou in the temple of thine holy glory: and to be praised and glorified above all for ever. ³² Blessed art thou that beholdest the depths, and sittest

THE HISTORY OF SUSANNA,

Set apart from the beginning of DANIEL, because it is not in the Hebrew, as neither the Narration of Bel and the Dragon.

¹THERE dwelt a man in Babylon, and his name was Joakim: ²and he took a wife, whose name was Susanna, the daughter of Helkias, a very fair woman, and one that feared the Lord. ³Her parents also were righteous, and taught their daughter according to the law of Moses. ⁴Now Joakim was a great rich man, and had a fair garden joining unto his house: and to him resorted the Jews; because he was more honourable than all others. ⁵And the same year there were appointed two of the ancients of the people to be judges, such as the Lord spake of, that wickedness came from Babylon from ancient judges, who were accounted to govern the people. ⁶These kept much at Joakim's house: and all that had any suits in law came unto them. ⁷Now when the people departed away at noon, Susanna went into her husband's garden to walk. ⁸And the two elders beheld her going in every day, and walking; and they were inflamed with love for her. ⁹And they perverted their own mind, and turned away their eyes, that they might not look unto heaven, nor remember just judgements. ¹⁰And albeit they both were wounded with her love, yet durst not one shew another his grief. ¹¹For they were ashamed to declare their lust, that they desired to have to do with her. ¹²Yet they watched jealously from day to day to see her. ¹³And the one said to the other, Let us now go home: for it is dinner time. ¹⁴So when they were gone out, they parted the one from the other, and turning back again they came to the same place; and after that they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust: and then appointed they a time both together, when they might find her alone. ¹⁵And it fell out, as they watched a fit day, she went in as aforetime with two maids only, and she was desirous to wash herself in the garden: for it was hot. ¹⁶And there was nobody there save the two elders, that had hid themselves, and watched her. ¹⁷Then

she said to her maids, Bring me oil and washing balls, and shut the garden doors, that I may wash me. ¹⁸And they did as she bade them, and shut the garden doors, and went out themselves at the side doors to fetch the things that she had commanded them: and they saw not the elders, because they were hid. ¹⁹Now when the maids were gone forth, the two elders rose up, and ran unto her, saying, ²⁰Behold, the garden doors are shut, that no man can see us, and we are in love with thee; therefore consent unto us, and lie with us. ²¹If thou wilt not, we will bear witness against thee, that a young man was with thee: and therefore thou didst send away thy maids from thee. ²²Then Susanna sighed, and said, I am straitened on every side: for if I do this thing, it is death unto me: and if I do it not, I cannot escape your hands. ²³It is better for me to fall into your hands, and not do it, than to sin in the sight of the Lord. ²⁴With that Susanna cried with a loud voice: and the two elders cried out against her. ²⁵Then ran the one, and opened the garden doors. ²⁶So when the servants of the house heard the cry in the garden, they rushed in at the side door, to see what had befallen her. ²⁷But when the elders had told their tale, the servants were greatly ashamed: for there was never such a report made of Susanna. ²⁸And it came to pass on the morrow, when the people assembled to her husband Joakim, the two elders came full of their wicked intent against Susanna to put her to death; ²⁹and said before the people, Send for Susanna, the daughter of Helkias, Joakim's wife. So they sent; ³⁰and she came with her father and mother, her children, and all her kindred. ³¹Now Susanna was a very delicate woman, and beauteous to behold. ³²And these wicked men commanded her to be unveiled, (for she was veiled) that they might be filled with her beauty. ³³Therefore her friends and all that saw her wept. ³⁴Then the two elders stood up in the midst of the people, and laid their hands upon her head. ³⁵And she weeping looked up toward heaven: for her heart trusted in the Lord. ³⁶And the elders said, As we walked in the garden alone, this woman came in with two maids, and shut the garden doors, and sent the maids away. ³⁷Then a young man, who

there was hid, came unto her, and lay with her. ³⁸ And we, being in a corner of the garden, saw this wickedness, and ran unto them. ³⁹ And when we saw them together, the man we could not hold: for he was stronger than we, and opened the doors, and leaped out. ⁴⁰ But having taken this woman, we asked who the young man was, but she would not tell us: these things do we testify. ⁴¹ Then the assembly believed them, as those that were elders of the people and judges: so they condemned her to death. ⁴² Then Susanna cried out with a loud voice, and said, O everlasting God, that knowest the secrets, that knowest all things before they be: ⁴³ thou knowest that they have borne false witness against me, and, behold, I must die; whereas I never did such things as these men have maliciously invented against me. ⁴⁴ And the Lord heard her voice. ⁴⁵ Therefore when she was led away to be put to death, God raised up the holy spirit of a young youth, whose name was Daniel: ⁴⁶ and he cried with a loud voice, I am clear from the blood of this woman. ⁴⁷ Then all the people turned them toward him, and said, What mean these words that thou hast spoken? ⁴⁸ So he standing in the midst of them said, Are ye such fools, ye sons of Israel, that without examination or knowledge of the truth ye have condemned a daughter of Israel? ⁴⁹ Return again to the place of judgement: for these have borne false witness against her. ⁵⁰ Wherefore all the people turned again in haste, and the elders said unto him, Come, sit down among us, and shew it us, seeing God hath given thee the honour of an elder. ⁵¹ Then said Daniel unto them, Put them asunder one far from another, and I will examine them. ⁵² So when they were put asunder one from another, he called one of them, and said unto him, O thou that art waxen old in wickedness, now are thy sins come home to thee which thou hast committed aforetime, ⁵³ in pronouncing unjust judgement, and condemning the innocent, and letting the guilty go free; albeit the Lord saith, The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay. ⁵⁴ Now then, if thou sawest her, tell me, Under what tree sawest thou them companying together? Who answered, Under a mastick tree. ⁵⁵ And Daniel said, Right well hast thou lied against thine own head;

for even now the angel of God hath received the sentence of God and shall cut thee in two. ⁵⁶ So he put him aside, and commanded to bring the other, and said unto him, O thou seed of Canaan, and not of Judah, beauty hath deceived thee, and lust hath perverted thine heart. ⁵⁷ Thus have ye dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for fear companyed with you: but the daughter of Judah would not abide your wickedness. ⁵⁸ Now therefore tell me, Under what tree didst thou take them companying together? Who answered, Under a holm tree. ⁵⁹ Then said Daniel unto him, Right well hast thou also lied against thine own head: for the angel of God waiteth with the sword to cut thee in two, that he may destroy you. ⁶⁰ With that all the assembly cried out with a loud voice, and blessed God, who saveth them that hope in him. ⁶¹ And they arose against the two elders, for Daniel had convicted them of false witness out of their own mouth: ⁶² and according to the law of Moses they did unto them in such sort as they maliciously intended to do to their neighbour: and they put them to death, and the innocent blood was saved the same day. ⁶³ Therefore Helkias and his wife praised God for their daughter Susanna, with Joakim her husband, and all the kindred, because there was no dishonesty found in her. ⁶⁴ And from that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the sight of the people.

Bel and the Dragon.

¹AND king Astyages was gathered to his fathers, and Cyrus the Persian received his kingdom. ²And Daniel lived with the king, and was honoured above all his friends. ³Now the Babylonians had an idol, called Bel, and there were spent upon him every day twelve great measures of fine flour, and forty sheep, and six firkins of wine. ⁴And the king did honour to it, and went daily to worship it: but Daniel worshipped his own God. And the king said unto him, Why dost thou not worship Bel? ⁵And he said, Because I may not do honour to idols made with hands, but to the living God, who hath created the heaven and the earth, and hath sovereignty over all flesh. ⁶Then said the king unto him, Thinkest thou not that Bel is a living god? or seest thou not how much he eateth and drinketh every day? ⁷Then Daniel laughed, and said, O king, be not deceived: for this is but clay within, and brass without, and did never eat or drink anything. ⁸So the king was wroth, and called for his priests, and said unto them, If ye tell me not who this is that devoureth these expenses, ye shall die. ⁹But if ye can shew me that Bel devoureth them, then Daniel shall die: for he hath spoken blasphemy against Bel. And Daniel said unto the king, Let it be according to thy word. ¹⁰Now the priests of Bel were threescore and ten, beside their wives and children. And the king went with Daniel into the temple of Bel. ¹¹So Bel's priests said, Lo, we will get us out: but thou, O king, set on the meat, and mingle the wine and set it forth, and shut the door fast, and seal it with thine own signet; ¹²and when thou comest in the morning, if thou find not that Bel hath eaten up all, we will suffer death: or else Daniel, that speaketh falsely against us. ¹³And they little regarded it: for under the table they had made a privy entrance, whereby they entered in continually, and consumed those things. ¹⁴And it came to pass, when they were gone forth, the king set the meat before Bel. Now Daniel had commanded his servants to bring ashes, and they strewed all the temple with them in the presence of the king alone: then went they out, and shut the door, and sealed it with the king's signet, and so departed. ¹⁵Now in the night came the priests with their wives and children, as they were wont to do, and did eat and drink up all. ¹⁶In the morning betime the king arose, and Daniel with him. ¹⁷And the king said, Daniel, are the seals whole? And he said, Yea, O king, they be whole. ¹⁸And as soon as he had opened the door, the king looked upon the table, and cried with a loud voice, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceit at all. ¹⁹Then laughed Daniel, and held the king that he should not go in, and said, Behold now the pavement, and mark well whose footsteps are these. ²⁰And the king said, I see the footsteps of men, women, and children. And then the king was angry, ²¹and took the priests with their wives and children, who shewed him the privy doors, where they came in, and consumed such things as were upon the table. ²²Therefore the king slew them, and delivered Bel into Daniel's power, who overthrew him and his temple.

²³And in that same place there was a great * dragon, which they of Babylon worshipped. ²⁴And the king said unto Daniel, Wilt thou also say that this is of brass? lo, he liveth, and eateth and drinketh; thou canst not say that he is no living god: therefore worship him. ²⁵Then said Daniel, I will worship the Lord my God: for he is a living God. ²⁶But give me leave, O king, and I shall slay this dragon without sword or staff. The king said, I give thee leave. ²⁷Then Daniel took pitch, and fat, and hair, and did seethe them together, and made lumps thereof: this he put in the dragon's mouth, so the dragon did eat and burst in sunder: and Daniel said, Lo, these are the gods ye worship. ²⁸When they of Babylon heard that, they took great indignation, and conspired against the king, saying, The king is become a Jew, and he hath pulled down Bel, and slain the dragon, and put the priests to the sword. ²⁹So they came to the king, and said, Deliver us Daniel, or else we will destroy thee and thine house. ³⁰Now when the king saw that they pressed him sore, being constrained, the king delivered Daniel unto them: ³¹who cast him into the lion's den: where he was six days. ³²And in the den there were seven lions, and they had given them every day two carcasses, and two sheep: which then were not given to them, to the intent they might devour Daniel.

³³Now there was in Jewry the prophet † Habakkuk, who had made pottage, and had broken bread into a bowl, and was going into the field, for to bring it to the reapers. ³⁴But the angel of the Lord said unto Habakkuk, Go carry the dinner that thou hast into Babylon unto Daniel, in the lions' den. ³⁵And Habakkuk said, Lord, I never saw Babylon; neither do I know where the den is. ³⁶Then the angel of the Lord took him by the crown, and lifted him up by the hair of his head, and with the blast of his breath set him in Babylon over the den. ³⁷And Habakkuk cried, saying, O Daniel, Daniel, take the dinner which God hath sent thee. ³⁸And Daniel said, Thou hast remembered me, O God: neither hast thou forsaken them that love thee. ³⁹So Daniel arose, and did eat: and the angel of God set Habakkuk in his own place again immediately. ⁴⁰Upon the seventh day the king came to bewail Daniel: and when he came to the den, he looked in, and, behold, Daniel was sitting. ⁴¹Then cried the king with a loud voice, saying, Great art thou, O Lord, thou God of Daniel, and there is none other beside thee. ⁴²And he drew him out, and cast those that were the cause of his destruction into the den: and they were devoured in a moment before his face.

THE FIRST BOOK OF THE MACCABEES.

¹AND it came to pass, after that Alexander the Macedonian, the son of Philip, who came out of the land of Chittim, and smote Darius king of the Persians and Medes, it came to pass, after he had smitten him, that he reigned in his stead, in former time, over * Greece. ²And he fought many battles, and won many strongholds, and slew the kings of the earth, ³and went through to the ends of the earth, and took spoils of a multitude of nations. And the earth was quiet before him, and he was exalted, and his heart was lifted up, ⁴and he gathered together an exceeding strong host, and ruled over countries and nations and principalities, and they became tributary unto him. ⁵And after these things he fell sick, and perceived that he should die. ⁶And he called his servants, which were honourable, which had been brought up with him from his youth, and he divided unto them his kingdom, while he was yet alive. ⁷And Alexander reigned twelve years, and he died. ⁸And his servants bare rule, each one in his place. ⁹And they did all put diadems upon themselves after that he was dead, and so did their sons after them many years: and they multiplied evils in the earth.

¹⁰And there came forth out of them a sinful root, Antiochus Epiphanes, son of Antiochus the king, who had been a hostage at Rome, and he reigned in † the hundred and thirty and seventh year of the kingdom of the Greeks.

¹¹In those days came there forth out of Israel transgressors of the law, and persuaded many, saying, let us go and make a covenant with the ‡ Gentiles that are round about us; for since we were parted from them many evils have befallen us. ¹²And the saying was good in their eyes. ¹³And certain of the people were forward herein and went to the king, and he gave them licence to do after the ordinances of the § Gentiles. ¹⁴And *† they built a place of exercise in Jerusalem according to the laws of the †† Gentiles; ¹⁵and they made themselves uncircumcised, and forsook the holy covenant, and joined themselves to the ‡‡ Gentiles, and sold themselves to do evil.

¹⁶And the kingdom was well ordered in the sight of Antiochus, and he thought to reign over Egypt, that he might reign over the two kingdoms. ¹⁷And he entered into Egypt with a §§ great multitude, with chariots, and with elephants, and with horsemen, and with a great  navy; ¹⁸and he made war against Ptolemy king of Egypt; and Ptolemy was put to shame before him, and fled; and many fell wounded to death. ¹⁹And they got possession of the strong cities in the land of Egypt; and he took the spoils of Egypt.

²⁰And Antiochus, after that he had smitten Egypt, returned in ††† the hundred and forty and third year, and went up against Israel and Jerusalem with a ‡‡‡ great multitude, ²¹and entered presumptuously into the sanctuary, and took the golden altar, and the candlestick of the light, and all that pertained thereto, ²²and the table of the shewbread, and the cups to pour withal, and the bowls, and the golden censers, and the veil, and the crowns, and the adorning of gold which was on the face of the temple, and he scaled it all off. ²³And he took the silver and the gold and the precious vessels; and he took the hidden treasures which he found. ²⁴And when he had taken all, he went away into his own land, and he made a great slaughter, and spake very presumptuously. ²⁵And there came great mourning upon Israel, in every place where they were; ²⁶and the rulers and elders groaned, the virgins and young men were made feeble, and the beauty of the women was changed. ²⁷Every bridegroom took up lamentation, she that sat in the marriage chamber was in heaviness. ²⁸And the land was moved for the inhabitants thereof, and all the house of Jacob was clothed with shame.

²⁹ And §§§ after * two full years the king sent a chief collector of tribute unto the cities of Judah, and he came unto Jerusalem with a † great multitude. ³⁰ And he spake words of peace unto them in subtilty, and they gave him credence: and he fell upon the city suddenly, and smote it very sore, and destroyed much people out of Israel. ³¹ And he took the spoils of the city, and set it on fire, and pulled down the houses thereof and the walls thereof on every side. ³² And they led captive the women and the children, and the cattle they took in possession. ³³ And they builded the city of David with a great and strong wall, with strong towers, and it became unto them a citadel. ³⁴ And they put there a sinful nation, transgressors of the law, and they strengthened themselves therein. ³⁵ And they stored up arms and victuals, and gathering together the spoils of Jerusalem, they laid them up there, and they became a sore snare: ³⁶ and it became a place to lie in wait in against the sanctuary, and an evil adversary to Israel continually. ³⁷ And they shed innocent blood on every side of the sanctuary, and defiled the sanctuary. ³⁸ And the inhabitants of Jerusalem fled because of them; and she became a habitation of strangers, and she became strange to them that were born in her, and her children forsook her. ³⁹ Her sanctuary was laid waste like a wilderness, ‡ her feasts were turned into mourning, her sabbaths into reproach, her honour into contempt. ⁴⁰ According to her glory, so was her dishonour multiplied, and her high estate was turned into mourning.

⁴¹ And king Antiochus wrote to his whole kingdom, that all should be one people, ⁴² and that each should forsake his own laws. And all the nations agreed according to the word of the king; ⁴³ and many of Israel consented to his worship, and sacrificed to the idols, and profaned the sabbath. ⁴⁴ And the king sent letters by the hand of messengers unto Jerusalem and the cities of Judah, that they should follow laws strange to the land, ⁴⁵ and should forbid whole burnt offerings and sacrifice and drink offerings in the sanctuary; and should profane the sabbaths and feasts, ⁴⁶ and pollute the sanctuary and them that were holy; ⁴⁷ that they should build altars, and temples, and shrines for idols, and should sacrifice swine's flesh and unclean beasts: ⁴⁸ and that they should leave their sons uncircumcised, that they should make their souls abominable with all manner of uncleanness and profanation; ⁴⁹ so that they might forget the law, and change all the ordinances. ⁵⁰ And whosoever shall not do according to the word of the king, he shall die. ⁵¹ According to all these words wrote he to his whole kingdom; and he appointed overseers over all the people, and he commanded the cities of Judah to sacrifice, city by city. ⁵² And from the people were gathered together unto them many, every one that had forsaken the law; and they did evil things in the land; ⁵³ and they made israel to hide themselves in every place of refuge which they had.

⁵⁴ And on the fifteenth day of Chislev, in § the hundred and forty and fifth year, they builded an abomination of desolation upon the  altar, and in the cities of Judah on every side they builded idol †† altars. ⁵⁵ And at the doors of the houses and in the streets they burnt incense. ⁵⁶ And they rent in pieces the books of the law which they found, and set them on fire. ⁵⁷ And wheresoever was found with any a book of the covenant, and if any consented to the law, the king's sentence delivered him to death. ⁵⁸ Thus did they in their might unto Israel, to those that were found month by month in the cities. ⁵⁹ And on the five and twentieth day of the month they sacrificed upon the idol ‡‡ altar of God. ⁶⁰ And §§ the women that had circumcised their children they put to death according to the commandment. ⁶¹ And they hanged their

⁶ And he saw the blasphemies that were committed in Judah and in Jerusalem, ⁷ and he said,

Woe is me! wherefore was I born to see the destruction of my people, and the destruction of the holy city, and to dwell there, when it was given into the hand of the enemy, the sanctuary into the hand of aliens? ⁸ Her temple is become as a man † that was glorious: ⁹ her vessels of glory are carried away into captivity, her infants are slain in her streets, her young men with the sword of the enemy. ¹⁰ What nation hath not inherited her palaces, and gotten possession of her spoils? ¹¹ her adorning is all taken away; instead of a free woman she is become a bond woman: ¹² and, behold, our holy things and our beauty and our glory are laid waste, and the Gentiles have profaned them. ¹³ Wherefore should we live any longer?

¹⁴ And Mattathias and his sons rent their clothes, and put on sackcloth, and mourned exceedingly.

¹⁵ And the king's officers, that were enforcing the apostasy, came into the city Modin to sacrifice. ¹⁶ And many of Israel came unto them, and Mattathias and his sons were gathered together. ¹⁷ And the king's officers answered and spake to

Mattathias, saying, Thou art a ruler and an honourable and great man in this city, and strengthened with sons and brethren: ¹⁸ now therefore come thou first and do the commandment of the king, as all the nations have done, and the men of Judah, and they that remain in Jerusalem: and thou and thy house shall be in the number of the king's ‡ Friends, and thou and thy sons shall be honoured with silver and gold and many gifts. ¹⁹ And Mattathias answered and said with a loud voice, If all the nations that are in the house of the king's dominion hearken unto him, to fall away each one from the worship of his fathers, and have made choice to follow his commandments, ²⁰ yet will I and my sons and my brethren walk in the covenant of our fathers. ²¹ § Heaven forbid that we should forsake the law and the ordinances. ²² We will not hearken to the king's words, to go aside from our worship, on the right hand, or on the left. ²³ And when he had left speaking these words, there came a Jew in the sight of all to sacrifice on the altar which was at Modin, according to the king's commandment. ²⁴ And Mattathias saw it, and his zeal was kindled, and his reins trembled, and he shewed forth his wrath according to judgement, and ran, and slew him upon the altar. ²⁵ And the king's officer, who compelled men to sacrifice, he killed at that time, and pulled down the altar. ²⁶ And he was zealous for the law, even as Phinehas did unto Zimri the son of Salu. ²⁷ And Mattathias cried out in the city with a loud voice, saying, Whosoever is zealous for the law, and maintaineth the covenant, let him come forth after me. ²⁸ And he and his sons fled into the mountains, and forsook all that they had in the city.

²⁹ Then many that sought after justice and judgement went down into the wilderness, to dwell there. ³⁰ they, and their sons, and their wives, and their cattle; because evils were multiplied upon them. ³¹ And it was told the king's officers, and the forces that were in Jerusalem, the city of David, that certain men, who had broken the king's commandment, were gone down into the secret places in the wilderness;

³²and many pursued after them, and having overtaken them, they encamped against them, and set the battle in array against them on the sabbath day. ³³And they said unto them, Thus far. Come forth, and do according to the word of the king, and ye shall live. ³⁴And they said, We will not come forth, neither will we do the word of the king, to profane the sabbath day. ³⁵And they hastened to give them battle. ³⁶And they answered them not, neither cast they a stone at them, nor stopped up the secret places, ³⁷saying, Let us die all in our innocency: heaven and earth witness over us, that ye put us to death without trial. ³⁸And they rose up against them in battle on the sabbath, and they died, they and their wives and their children, and their cattle, to the number of a thousand ^{} souls.

³⁹And Mattathias and his friends knew it, and they mourned over them exceedingly. ⁴⁰And one said to another, If we all do as our brethren have done, and fight not against the Gentiles for our lives and our ordinances, they will now quickly destroy us from off the earth. ⁴¹And they took counsel on that day, saying, whosoever shall come against us to battle on the sabbath day, let us fight against him, and we shall in no wise all die, as our brethren died in the secret places. ⁴²Then were gathered together unto them a company of †† Hasidaeans, mighty men of Israel, every one that offered himself willingly for the law. ⁴³And all they that fled from the evils were added to them, and became a stay unto them. ⁴⁴And they mustered a host, and smote sinners in their anger, and lawless men in their wrath: and the rest fled to the Gentiles for safety. ⁴⁵And Mattathias and his friends went round about, and pulled down the altars; ⁴⁶and they circumcised by force the children that were uncircumcised, as many as they found in the coasts of Israel. ⁴⁷And they pursued after the sons of pride, and the work prospered in their hand. ⁴⁸And they rescued the law out of the hand of the Gentiles, and out of the hand of the kings, neither †† suffered they the sinner to triumph.

⁴⁹And the days of Mattathias drew near that he should die, and he said unto his sons,

Now have pride and rebuke gotten strength, and a season of overthrow, and wrath of indignation. ⁵⁰And now, my children, be ye zealous for the law, and give your lives for the covenant of your fathers. ⁵¹And call to remembrance the deeds of our fathers which they did in their generations; and receive great glory and an everlasting name. ⁵²Was not Abraham found faithful in temptation, and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness? ⁵³Joseph in the time of his distress kept the commandment, and became lord of Egypt. ⁵⁴Phinehas our father, for that he was zealous exceedingly, obtained the covenant of an everlasting priesthood. ⁵⁵Joshua for fulfilling the word became a judge in Israel. ⁵⁶Caleb for bearing witness in the congregation obtained a heritage in the land. ⁵⁷David for being merciful inherited the throne of a kingdom for ever and ever. ⁵⁸Elijah, for that he was exceeding zealous for the law, was taken up into heaven. ⁵⁹Hananiah, Azariah, Mishael, believed, and were saved out of the flame. ⁶⁰Daniel for his innocency was delivered from the mouth of lions. ⁶¹And thus consider ye from generation to generation, that none that put their trust in him shall want for strength. ⁶²And be not afraid of the words of a sinful man; for his glory shall be dung and worms. ⁶³To-day he shall be lifted up, and to-morrow he shall in no wise be found, because he is returned unto his dust, and his thought is perished. ⁶⁴And ye, my children, be strong, and shew yourselves men in behalf of the law; for therein shall ye obtain glory. ⁶⁵And, behold, Simon your brother, I know that he is a man of counsel; give ear unto him alway: he shall be a father unto you. ⁶⁶And Judas Maccabaeus, he hath been strong and mighty from his youth: he shall be your captain, and †† shall fight the battle of the people. ⁶⁷And take ye unto you all the doers of the law, and avenge the wrong of your people. ⁶⁸Render a recompense to the Gentiles, and take heed to the commandments of the law. ⁶⁹And he blessed them, and was gathered to his fathers. ⁷⁰ And he died in  the hundred and forty and sixth year, and his sons buried him in the sepulchres of his fathers at Modin, and all Israel made great lamentation for him.

¹ And his son Judas, who was called Macabaeus, rose up in his stead. ² And all his brethren helped him, and so did all they that clave unto his father, and they fought with gladness the battle of Israel. ³ And he gat his people great glory, and put on a breastplate as a giant, and girt his warlike harness about him, and set battles in array, protecting the army with his sword. ⁴ And he was like a lion in his deeds, and as a lion's whelp roaring for prey. ⁵ And he pursued the lawless, seeking them out, and he burnt up those that troubled his people. ⁶ And the lawless shrunk for fear of him, and all the workers of lawlessness were sore troubled, and salvation prospered in his hand. ⁷ And he angered many kings, and made Jacob glad with his acts, and his memorial is blessed for ever. ⁸ And he went about among the cities of Judah, and destroyed the ungodly * out of the land, and turned away wrath from Israel: ⁹ and he was renowned unto the utmost part of the earth, and he gathered together such as were ready to perish.

¹⁰ And Apollonius gathered the Gentiles together, and a great host from Samaria, to fight against Israel. ¹¹ And Judas perceived it, and he went forth to meet him, and smote him, and slew him: and many fell wounded to death, and the rest fled. ¹² And they took their spoils, and Judas took the sword of Apollonius, and therewith he fought all his days.

¹³ And Seron, the commander of the host of Syria, heard say that Judas had gathered a gathering and a congregation of faithful men with him, and of such as went out to war; ¹⁴ And he said, I will make myself a name and get me glory in the kingdom; and I will fight against Judas and them that are with him, that set at nought the word of the king. ¹⁵ And there went up with him also a mighty army of the ungodly to help him, to take vengeance on the children of Israel.

¹⁶ And he came near unto the going up of Bethhoron, and Judas went forth to meet him with a small company. ¹⁷ But when they saw the army coming to meet them, they said unto Judas, What? shall we be able, being a small company, to fight against so great and strong a multitude? and we for our part are faint, having tasted no food this day. ¹⁸ And Judas said, It is an easy thing for many to be shut up in the hands of a few; and with † heaven it is all one, to save by many or by few: ¹⁹ for victory in battle standeth not in the multitude of a host; but strength is from heaven. ²⁰ They come unto us in fulness of insolence and lawlessness, to destroy us and our wives and our children, for to spoil us: ²¹ but we fight for our lives and our laws. ²² And he himself will discomfit them before our face: but as for you, be ye not afraid of them.

²⁷ But when king Antiochus heard these words, he was full of indignation: and he sent and gathered together all the forces of his realm, an exceeding strong army. ²⁸ And he opened his treasury, and gave his forces pay for a year, and commanded them to be ready for every need. ²⁹ And he saw that the money failed from his treasures, and that the tributes of the country were small, because of the dissension and plague which he had brought upon the land, to the end that he might take away the laws which had been from the first days; ³⁰ and he feared that he should not have enough as at other times for the charges and the gifts which he gave aforetime with a liberal hand, and he abounded above the kings that were before him. ³¹ And he was exceedingly perplexed in his mind, and he determined to go into

Persia, and to take the tributes of the countries, and to gather much money. ³² And he left Lysias, an honourable man, and one of the seed royal, to be over the affairs of the king from the river Euphrates unto the borders of Egypt, ³³ and to bring up his son Antiochus, until he came again. ³⁴ And he delivered unto him the half of his forces, and the elephants, and gave him charge of all the things that he would have done, and concerning them that dwell in Judaea and in Jerusalem, ³⁵ that he should send a host against them, to root out and destroy the strength of Israel, and the remnant of Jerusalem, and to take away their memorial from the place; ³⁶ And that he should make strangers to dwell on all their coasts, and should divide their land to them by lot. ³⁷ And the king took the half that remained of the forces, and removed from Antioch, from his royal city, † the hundred and forty and seventh year; and he passed over the river Euphrates, and went through the upper countries.

⁴² And Judas and his brethren saw that evils were multiplied, and that the forces were encamping in their borders; and they took knowledge of the king's words which he had commanded, to destroy the people and make an end of them; ⁴³ and they said each man to his neighbour, Let us raise up the ruin of our people, and let us fight for our people and the holy place. ⁴⁴ And the congregation was gathered together, that they might be ready for battle, and that they might pray, and ask for mercy and compassion. ⁴⁵ And Jerusalem was without inhabitant as a wilderness, there was none of her offspring that went in or went out; and the sanctuary was trodden down, and the sons of strangers were in the citadel, the Gentiles lodged therein; and joy was taken away from Jacob, and the pipe and the harp ceased. ⁴⁶ And they gathered themselves together, and came to Mizpeh, over against Jerusalem; for in Mizpeh was there a place of prayer aforetime for Israel. ⁴⁷ And they fasted that day, and put on sackcloth, and put ashes upon their heads, and rent their clothes, ⁴⁸ and laid open the book of the law, concerning which the Gentiles were wont to inquire, seeking the likenesses of their idols. ⁴⁹ And they brought the priests' garments, and the firstfruits, and the tithes: and they stirred up the Nazarites, who had accomplished their days. ⁵⁰ And they cried aloud toward heaven, saying, What shall we do with these men, and whither shall we carry them away? ⁵¹ And thy holy place is trodden down and profaned, and thy priests are in heaviness and brought low. ⁵² And, behold, the Gentiles are assembled together against us to destroy us: thou knowest what things they imagine against us. ⁵³ How shall we be able to stand before them, except thou be our help? ⁵⁴ And they sounded with the trumpets, and cried with a loud voice.

⁵⁵ And after this Judas appointed leaders of the people, captains of thousands, and captains of hundreds, and captains of fifties, and captains of tens. ⁵⁶ And he said to them that were building houses, and were betrothing wives, and were planting vineyards, and were fearful, that they should return, each man to his own house, according to the law. ⁵⁷ And the army removed, and encamped upon the south side of Emmaus. ⁵⁸ And Judas said, Gird yourselves, and be valiant men, and be in readiness against the morning, that ye may fight with these Gentiles, that are assembled together against us to destroy us, and our holy place: ⁵⁹ for it is better for us to die in battle, than to look upon the evils of our nation and the holy place. ⁶⁰ Nevertheless, as may be the

¹ And Gorgias took five thousand footmen, and a thousand chosen horse, and the army removed by night, ² that it might fall upon the army of the Jews and smite them suddenly: and the men of the citadel were his guides. ³ And Judas heard thereof, and removed, he and the valiant men, that he might smite the king's host which was at Emmaus, ⁴ while as yet the forces were dispersed from the camp. ⁵ And Gorgias came into the camp of Judas by night, and found no man; and he sought them in the mountains; for he said, These men flee from us. ⁶ And as soon as it was day, Judas appeared in the plain with three thousand men: howbeit they had not armour nor swords to their minds. ⁷ And they saw the camp of the Gentiles strong and fortified, and horsemen compassing it round about; and these were expert in war. ⁸ And Judas said to the men that were with him, Fear ye not their multitude, neither be ye afraid of their onset. ⁹ Remember how our fathers were saved in the Red sea, when Pharaoh pursued them with a host. ¹⁰ And now let us cry unto heaven, if he will have us, and will remember the covenant of our fathers, and destroy this army before our face today: ¹¹ and all the Gentiles shall know that there is one who redeemeth and saveth Israel. ¹² And the strangers lifted up their eyes, and saw them coming over against them: ¹³ and they went out of the camp to battle. And they that were with Judas sounded their trumpets, ¹⁴ and joined battle, and the Gentiles were discomfited, and fled into the plain. ¹⁵ But all the hindmost fell by the sword: and they pursued them unto * Gazara, and unto the plains of Idumaea and Azotus and Jamnia, and there fell of them about three thousand men. ¹⁶ And Judas and his host returned from pursuing after them, ¹⁷ and he said unto the people, Be not greedy of the spoils, inasmuch as there is a battle before us; ¹⁸ and Gorgias and his host are nigh unto us in the mountain. But stand ye now against our enemies, and fight against them, and afterwards take the spoils with boldness. ¹⁹ While Judas was yet making an end of these words, there appeared a part of them looking out from the mountain: ²⁰ and they saw that their host had been put to flight, and that the Jews were burning the camp; for the smoke that was seen declared what was done. ²¹ But when they perceived these things, they were sore afraid; and perceiving also the army of Judas in the plain ready for battle, ²² they fled all of them into the land of the † Philistines. ²³ And Judas returned to spoil the camp, and they got much gold, and silver, and blue, and sea purple, and great riches. ²⁴ And they returned home, and sang a song of thanksgiving, and gave praise ‡ unto heaven; because his mercy is good, because his mercy endureth for ever. ²⁵ And Israel had a great deliverance that day.

²⁶ But the strangers, as many as had escaped, came and told Lysias all the things that had happened: ²⁷ but when he heard thereof, he was confounded and discouraged, because neither had such things as he would been done unto Israel, nor had such things as the king commanded him come to pass.

²⁸ And in the next year he gathered together threescore thousand chosen footmen, and five thousand horse, that he might subdue them. ²⁹ And they came into Idumaea, and encamped at Bethsura; and Judas met them with ten thousand men. ³⁰ And he saw that the army was strong, and he prayed and said,

Blessed art thou, O Saviour of Israel, who didst quell the onset of the mighty man by the hand of thy servant David, and didst deliver the army of the § Philistines into the hands of Jonathan the son of Saul, and of his armourbearer: ³¹ shut up this army in the hand of thy people Israel, and let them be ashamed for their host and their horsemen: ³² give them faintness of heart, and cause the boldness of their strength to melt away, and let them quake at their destruction: ³³ cast them down with the sword of them that love thee, and let all that know thy name praise thee with thanksgiving.

³⁴ And they joined battle; and there fell of the army of Lysias about five thousand men, and they fell down over against them.

³⁵ But when Lysias saw that his array was put to flight, and the boldness that had come upon them that were with Judas, and how they were ready either to live or to die nobly, he removed to Antioch, and gathered together hired soldiers, that he might come again into Judaea with even a greater company.

³⁶ But Judas and his brethren said, Behold, our enemies are discomfited: let us go up to cleanse the holy place, and to dedicate it afresh. ³⁷ And all the army was gathered together, and they went up unto mount Sion. ³⁸ And they saw the sanctuary laid desolate, and the altar profaned, and the gates burned up, and shrubs growing in the courts as in a forest or as on one of the mountains, and the priests' chambers pulled down; ³⁹ and they rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, and put ashes upon their heads, ⁴⁰ and fell on their faces to the ground, and  blew with the †† solemn trumpets, and cried toward heaven. ⁴¹ Then Judas appointed certain men to fight against those that were in the citadel, until he should have cleansed the holy place.

⁴² And he chose blameless priests, such as had pleasure in the law: ⁴³ and they cleansed the holy place, and bare out the stones of defilement into an unclean place. ⁴⁴ And they took counsel concerning the altar of burnt offerings, which had been profaned, what they should do with it: ⁴⁵ and there came into their mind a good counsel, that they should pull it down, lest it should be a reproach to them, because the Gentiles had defiled it: and they pulled down the altar, ⁴⁶ and laid up the stones in the mountain of the house in a convenient place, until there should come a prophet to give an answer concerning them. ⁴⁷ And they took whole stones according to the law, and built a new altar after the fashion of the former; ⁴⁸ and they built the holy place, and the inner parts of the house; and they hallowed the courts. ⁴⁹ And they made the holy vessels new, and they brought the candlestick, and the altar of burnt offerings and of incense, and the table, into the temple. ⁵⁰ And they burned incense upon the altar, and they lighted the lamps that were upon the candlestick, and they gave light in the temple. ⁵¹ And they set loaves upon the table, and spread out the veils, and finished all the works which they made.

⁵² And they rose up early in the morning, on the five and twentieth day of the ninth month, which is the month Chislev, in †† the hundred and forty and eighth year, ⁵³ and offered sacrifice according to the law upon the new altar of burnt offerings which they had made. ⁵⁴ At what time and on what day the Gentiles had profaned it, even on that day was it dedicated afresh, with songs and harps and lutes, and with cymbals. ⁵⁵ And all the people fell upon their faces, and worshipped, and §§ gave praise unto heaven, which had given them good success. ⁵⁶ And they kept the dedication of the altar eight days, and offered burnt offerings with gladness, and sacrificed a sacrifice of deliverance and praise. ⁵⁷ And they decked the forefront of the temple with crowns of gold and small shields, and dedicated afresh the gates and the priests' chambers, and made doors for them. ⁵⁸ And there was exceeding great gladness among the people, and the reproach of the Gentiles was turned away. ⁵⁹ And Judas and his brethren and the whole congregation of Israel ordained, that the days of the dedication of the altar should be kept in their seasons from year to year by the space of eight days, from the five and twentieth day of the month Chislev, with gladness and joy. ⁶⁰ And at that season they builded up the mount Sion with high walls and strong towers round about, lest haply the Gentiles should come and tread them down, as they had done aforetime. ⁶¹ And he set there a force to keep it, and they fortified Bethsura to keep it; that the people might have a stronghold over against Idumaea.

¹ And it came to pass, when the Gentiles round about heard that the altar was built, and the sanctuary dedicated as aforetime, they were exceeding wroth. ²And they took counsel to destroy the race of Jacob that was in the midst of them, and they began to slay and destroy among the people. ³And Judas fought against the children of Esau in Idumaea at Akrabattine, because they besieged Israel: and he smote them with a great slaughter, and brought down their pride, and took their spoils. ⁴And he remembered the wickedness of the children of ^{*}Baeon, who were unto the people a snare and a stumblingblock, lying in wait for them in the ways. ⁵And they were shut up by him in the towers; and he encamped against them, and destroyed them utterly, and burned with fire the towers of the place, with all that were therein. ⁶And he passed over to the children of Ammon, and found a mighty band, and much people, with Timotheus for their leader. ⁷And he fought many battles with them, and they were discomfited before his face; and he smote them, ⁸and gat possession of Jazer, and the † villages thereof, and returned again into Judaea.

⁹And the Gentiles that were in Gilead gathered themselves together against the Israelites that were on their borders, to destroy them. And they fled to the stronghold of Dathema, ¹⁰and sent letters unto Judas and his brethren, saying, The Gentiles that are round about us are gathered together against us to destroy us: ¹¹and they are preparing to come and get possession of the stronghold whereunto we are fled for refuge, and Timotheus is the leader of their host. ¹²Now therefore come and deliver us from their hand, for many of us are fallen. ¹³And all our brethren that were in the land of ‡ Tubias have been put to death; and they have carried into captivity their wives and their children and their stuff; and they destroyed there about a thousand men. ¹⁴While the letters were yet reading, behold, there came other messengers from Galilee with their clothes rent, bringing a report after this wise, ¹⁵saying, That there were gathered together against them those of Ptolemais, and of Tyre, and of Sidon, and all Galilee of the § Gentiles to consume them. ¹⁶Now when Judas and the people heard these words, there assembled together a great congregation, to consult what they should do for their brethren, that were in tribulation, and were assaulted of them. ¹⁷And Judas said unto Simon his brother, Choose thee out men, and go and deliver thy brethren that are in Galilee, but I and Jonathan my brother will go into the land of Gilead. ¹⁸And he left Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias, as leaders of the people, with the remnant of the host, in Judaea, for to keep it. ¹⁹And he gave commandment unto them, saying, Take ye the charge of this people, and fight no battle with the Gentiles until that we come again. ²⁰And unto Simon were divided three thousand men to go into Galilee, but unto Judas eight thousand men to go into the land of Gilead.

²¹And Simon went into Galilee, and fought many battles with the Gentiles, and the Gentiles were discomfited before him. ²²And he pursued them unto the gate of Ptolemais; and there fell of the Gentiles about three thousand men, and he took their spoils. ²³And they took to them those that were in Galilee, and in Arbatta, with their wives and their children, and all that they had, and brought them into Judaea with great gladness. ²⁴And Judas Maccabaeus and his brother Jonathan passed over Jordan, and went three days' journey in the wilderness; ²⁵and they met with the Nabathaeans, and these met them in a peaceable manner, and told them all things that had befallen their brethren in the land of Gilead: ²⁶and how that many of them were shut up in Bosora, and Bosor, and Alema, ^{}Casphor, Maked, and †† Carnaim; all these cities are strong and great: ²⁷and how that they were shut up in the rest of the cities of the land of Gilead, and that tomorrow they have appointed to encamp against the strongholds, and to take them, and to destroy all these men in one day. ²⁸And Judas and his army turned suddenly by the way of the wilderness unto Bosora; and he took the city, and slew all the males with the edge of the sword, and took all their spoils, and burned the city with fire.

²⁹ And he removed from thence by night, and went till he came to the stronghold.

³⁰ And the morning came, and they lifted up their eyes, and, behold, much people which could not be numbered, bearing ladders and engines of war, to take the stronghold; and they were fighting against them. ³¹ And Judas saw that the battle was begun, and that the cry of the city went up to heaven, with trumpets and a great sound, ³² and he said unto the men of his host, Fight this day for your brethren. ³³ And he went forth behind them in three companies, and they sounded with their trumpets, and cried out in prayer. ³⁴ And the army of Timotheus perceived that it was Maccabaeus, and they fled from before him: and he smote them with a great slaughter; and there fell of them on that day about eight thousand men. ³⁵ And he turned aside to Mizpeh and fought against it, and took it, and slew all the males thereof, and took the spoils thereof, and burned it with fire. ³⁶ From thence he removed, and took † Casphor, Maked, Bosor, and the other cities of the land of Gilead.

³⁷ Now after these things Timotheus gathered another army, and encamped over against Raphon beyond the brook.

³⁸ And Judas sent men to espy the army; and they brought him word, saying, All the Gentiles that be round about us are gathered together unto them, an exceeding great host. ³⁹ And they have hired Arabians to help them, and are encamping beyond the brook, ready to come against thee to battle. And Judas went to meet them. ⁴⁰ And Timotheus said unto the captains of his host, when Judas and his army drew nigh unto the brook of water, if he pass over first unto us, we shall not be able to withstand him; for he will mightily prevail against us: ⁴¹ but if he be afraid, and encamp beyond the river, we will cross over unto him, and prevail against him. ⁴² Now when Judas came nigh unto the brook of water, he caused the scribes of the people to remain by the brook, and gave commandment unto them, saying, Suffer no man to encamp, but let all come to the battle. ⁴³ And he crossed over the first against them, and all the people after him: and all the Gentiles were discomfited before his face, and cast away their arms, and fled unto the temple at §§ Carnaim. ⁴⁴ And they took the city, and burned the temple with fire, together with all that were therein. And Carnaim was subdued, neither could they stand any longer before the face of Judas.

⁴⁵ And Judas gathered together all Israel, them that were in the land of Gilead, from the least unto the greatest, and their wives, and their children, and their stuff, an exceeding great army, that they might come into the land of Judah. ⁴⁶ And they came as far as Ephron, and this same city was great, and it was in the way as they should go, exceeding strong: they could not turn aside from it on the right hand or on the left, but must needs pass through the midst of it.

⁴⁷ And they of the city shut them out, and stopped up the gates with stones. ⁴⁸ And Judas sent unto them with words of peace, saying, We will pass through thy land to go into our own land, and none shall do you any hurt, we will only pass by on our feet. And they would not open unto him.

⁴⁹ And Judas commanded proclamation to be made in the army, that each man should encamp in the place where he was. ⁵⁰ And the men of the host encamped, and fought against the city all that day and all that night, and the city was delivered into his hands; ⁵¹ and he destroyed all the males with the edge of the sword, and rased the city, and took the spoils thereof, and passed through the city over them that were slain.

⁵² And they went over Jordan into the great plain over against Bethshan. ⁵³ And Judas gathered together those that lagged behind, and encouraged the people all the way through, until he came into the land of Judah. ⁵⁴ And they went up to mount Sion with gladness and joy, and offered whole burnt offerings, because not so much as one of them was slain until they returned in peace.

⁵⁵ And in the days when Judas and Jonathan were in the land of Gilead, and Simon his brother in Galilee before Ptolemais, ⁵⁶ Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias, rulers of the host, heard of their exploits and of the war, what things they had done; ⁵⁷ and they said, Let us also get us a name, and let us go fight against the Gentiles that are round about us. ⁵⁸ And they gave charge unto the men of the host that was with them, and went toward Jamnia. ⁵⁹ And Gorgias and his men came out of the city to meet them in battle. ⁶⁰ And Joseph and Azarias were put to flight, and were pursued unto the borders of Judaea; and there fell on that day of the people of Israel about two thousand men. ⁶¹ And there was a great overthrow among the people, because they hearkened not unto Judas and his brethren, thinking to do some exploit. ⁶² But they were not of the seed of those men, by whose hand deliverance was given unto Israel.

⁶³ And the man Judas and his brethren were glorified exceedingly in the sight of all Israel, and of all the Gentiles, wheresoever their name was heard of; ⁶⁴ and men gathered together unto them, acclaiming them.

⁶⁵ And Judas and his brethren went forth, and fought against the children of Esau in the land toward the south; and he smote Hebron and the  villages thereof, and pulled down the strongholds thereof, and burned the towers thereof round about. ⁶⁶ And he removed to go into the land of the ††† Philistines, and he went through ††† Samaria. ⁶⁷ In that day certain priests, desiring to do exploits there, were slain in battle, when as §§§ he went out to battle unadvisedly. ⁶⁸ And Judas turned aside to Azotus, to the land of the * Philistines, and pulled down their altars, and burned the carved images of their gods with fire, and took the spoil of their cities, and returned into the land of Judah.

¹ And king Antiochus was journeying through the upper countries; and he heard say, that in Elymais in Persia there was a city renowned for riches, for silver and gold; ² and that the temple which was in it was rich exceedingly, and that therein were golden shields, and breastplates, and arms, which Alexander, son of Philip, the Macedonian king, who reigned first among the Greeks, left behind there. ³ And he came and sought to take the city, and to pillage it; and he was not able, because the thing was known to them of the city, ⁴ and they rose up against him to battle: and he fled, and removed thence with great heaviness, to return unto Babylon.

⁵ And there came one bringing him tidings into Persia, that the armies, which went against the land of Judah, had been put to flight; ⁶ and that Lysias went first with a strong host, and was put to shame before them; and that they had waxed strong by reason of arms and power, and with store of spoils, which they took from the armies that they had cut off; ⁷ and that they had pulled down the abomination which he had built upon the altar that was in Jerusalem; and that they had compassed about the sanctuary with high walls, as before, and Bethsura, his city. ⁸ And it came to pass, when the king heard these words, he was astonished and moved exceedingly; and he laid him down upon his bed, and fell sick for grief, because it had not befallen him as he looked for. ⁹ And he was there many days, because great grief was renewed upon him, and he made account that he should die. ¹⁰ And he called for all his * Friends, and said unto them, Sleep departeth from mine eyes, and my heart faileth for care. ¹¹ And I said in my heart, Unto what tribulation am I come, and how great a flood is it, wherein I now am! for I was gracious and beloved in my power. ¹² But now I remember the evils which I did at Jerusalem, and that I took all the vessels of silver and gold that were therein, and sent forth to destroy the inhabitants of Judah without a cause. ¹³ I perceive that on this account these evils are come upon me, and, behold, I perish through great grief in a strange land. ¹⁴ And he called for Philip, one of his † Friends, and set him over all his kingdom, ¹⁵ and gave him his diadem, and his robe, and his signet ring, to the end he should bring Antiochus his son, and nourish him up that he might be king. ¹⁶ And king Antiochus died there in ‡ the hundred and forty and ninth year. ¹⁷ And Lysias knew that the king was dead, and he set up Antiochus his son to reign, whom he had nourished up being young, and he called his name Eupator.

¹⁸ And they that were in the citadel shut up Israel round about the sanctuary, and sought always their hurt, and the strengthening of the Gentiles. ¹⁹ And Judas thought to destroy them, and called all the people together to besiege them. ²⁰ And they were gathered together, and besieged them in § the hundred and fiftieth year, and he made mounds to shoot from, and engines of war. ²¹ And there came forth some of them that were shut up, and there were joined unto them certain ungodly men of Israel. ²² And they went unto the king, and said, How long wilt thou not execute judgement, and avenge our brethren? ²³ We were willing to serve thy father, and to walk after his words, and to follow his commandments; ²⁴ and for this cause the children of our people besieged  the citadel, and were alienated from us; but as many of us as they could light on they slew, and spoiled our inheritances. ²⁵ And not against us only did they stretch out their hand, but also against all their borders. ²⁶ And, behold, they are encamped this day against the citadel at Jerusalem, to take it: and the sanctuary and Bethsura have they fortified. ²⁷ And if ye are not beforehand with them quickly, they will do greater things than these, and thou shalt not be able to control them.

²⁸ And when the king heard this, he was angry, and gathered together all his †† Friends, even the rulers of his host, and them that were over the horse. ²⁹ And there came unto him from other kingdoms, and from isles of the sea, bands of hired soldiers. ³⁰ And the number of his forces was a hundred thousand footmen, and twenty thousand horsemen, and two and thirty elephants trained for war. ³¹ And they went through Idumaea, and encamped against Bethsura, and fought against it many days, and made engines of war; and they of Bethsura came out, and burned them with fire, and fought valiantly. ³² And Judas removed from the citadel, and encamped at Bethzacharias, over against the king's camp. ³³ And the king rose early in the morning, and removed his army †† at full speed along the road to Bethzacharias, and his forces made them ready to battle, and sounded with the trumpets. ³⁴ And they shewed the elephants the blood of grapes and mulberries, that they might prepare them for the battle. ³⁵ And they divided the beasts among the phalanxes, and they set by each elephant a thousand men armed with coats of mail, and helmets of brass on their heads; and for each beast were appointed five hundred chosen horsemen. ³⁶ These were ready beforehand, where-soever the beast was; and whithersoever the beast went, they went with him; they departed not from him. ³⁷ And towers of wood were upon them, strong and covered, one upon each beast, girt fast upon him with cunning contrivances; and upon each beast were two and thirty valiant men that fought upon them, beside his Indian ³⁸ (and the residue of the horsemen he set on this side and that side at the two parts of the army), striking terror into the enemy, and protected by the phalanxes. ³⁹ Now when the sun shone upon the shields of gold and brass, the mountains shone therewith, and blazed like torches of fire. ⁴⁰ And a part of the king's army was spread upon the high mountains, and some on the low ground, and they went on firmly and in order. ⁴¹ And all that heard the noise of their multitude, and the marching of the multitude, and the rattling of the arms, did quake: for the army was exceeding great and strong. ⁴² And Judas and his army drew near for battle, and there fell of the king's army six hundred men. ⁴³ And Eleazar, who was called Avaran, saw one of the beasts armed with royal breastplates, and he was higher than all the beasts, and the king seemed to be upon him; ⁴⁴ and he gave himself to deliver his people, and to get him an everlasting name; ⁴⁵ and he ran upon him courageously into the midst of the phalanx, and slew on the right hand and on the left, and they parted asunder from him on this side and on that. ⁴⁶ And he crept under the elephant, and thrust him from beneath, and slew him; and the elephant fell to the earth upon him, and he died there. ⁴⁷ And they saw the strength of the kingdom, and the fierce onset of the hosts, and turned away from them.

⁴⁸ But they of the king's army went up to Jerusalem to meet them, and the king encamped toward Judaea, and toward mount Zion. ⁴⁹ And he made peace with them of Bethsura; and he came out of the city, because they had no food there to endure the siege, because it was a sabbath to the land. ⁵⁰ And the king took Bethsura, and appointed a garrison there to keep it. ⁵¹ And he encamped against the sanctuary many days; and set there mounds to shoot from, and engines of war, and instruments for casting fire and stones, and pieces to cast darts, and slings. ⁵² And they also made engines against their engines, and fought for many days. ⁵³ But there were no victuals in the sanctuary, because it was the seventh year, and they that fled for safety into Judaea from among the Gentiles had eaten up the residue of the store; ⁵⁴ and there were but a few left in the sanctuary, because the famine prevailed against them, and they were scattered, each man to his own place.

⁵⁵ And Lysias heard say, that Philip, whom Antiochus the king, whiles he was yet alive, appointed to nourish up his son Antiochus, that he might be king, ⁵⁶ was returned from Persia and Media, and with him the forces that went with the king, and that he was seeking to take unto him the government. ⁵⁷ And he made haste, and gave consent to depart; and he said to the king and the leaders of the host and to the men, We decay daily, and our food is scant, and the place where we encamp is strong, and the affairs of the kingdom lie upon us: ⁵⁸ now therefore let us give the right hand to these men, and make peace with them and with all their nation, ⁵⁹ and covenant with them, that they shall walk after their own laws, as aforetime: for because of their laws which we abolished they were angered, and did all these things. ⁶⁰ And the saying pleased the king and the princes, and he sent unto them to make peace; and they accepted thereof. ⁶¹ And the king and the princes swore unto them: thereupon they came forth from the stronghold. ⁶² And the king entered into mount Zion; and he saw the strength of the place, and set at nought the oath which he had sworn, and gave commandment to pull down the wall round about. ⁶³ And he removed in haste, and returned unto Antioch, and found Philip master of the city; and he fought against him, and took the city by force.

¹ In * the hundred and one and fiftieth year Demetrius the son of Seleucus came forth from Rome, and went up with a few men unto a city by the sea, and reigned there. ² And it came to pass, when he would go into the house of the kingdom of his fathers, that the army laid hands on Antiochus and Lysias, to bring them unto him. ³ And the thing was known to him, and he said, shew me not their faces. ⁴ And the army slew them. And Demetrius sat upon the throne of his kingdom. ⁵ And there came unto him all the lawless and ungodly men of Israel; and Alcimus was their leader, desiring to be high priest; ⁶ and they accused the people to the king, saying, Judas and his brethren have destroyed all thy friends, and have scattered us from our own land. ⁷ Now therefore send a man whom thou trustest, and let him go and see all the havock which he hath made of us, and of the king's country, and how he hath punished them and all that helped them. ⁸ And the king chose Bacchides, one of the king's † Friends, who was ruler in the country beyond the river, and was a great man in the kingdom, and faithful to the king. ⁹ And he sent him, and that ungodly Alcimus, and made sure to him the high priesthood, and he commanded him to take vengeance upon the children of Israel.

¹⁰ And they removed, and came with a great host into the land of Judah, and he sent messengers to Judas and his brethren with words of peace deceitfully. ¹¹ And they gave no heed to their words; for they saw that they were come with a great host. ¹² And there were gathered together unto Alcimus and Bacchides a company of scribes, to seek for justice. ¹³ And the † Hasi-daeans were the first among the children of Israel that sought peace of them; ¹⁴ for they said, One that is a priest of the seed of Aaron is come with the forces, and he will do us no wrong. ¹⁵ And he spake with them words of peace, and sware unto them, saying, We will seek the hurt neither of you nor your friends. ¹⁶ And they gave him credence: and he laid hands on threescore men of them, and slew them in one day, according to the word which the psalmist wrote,

¹⁷ § The flesh of thy saints did they cast out,
And their blood did they shed round about Jerusalem;

And there was no man to bury them.

¹⁸ And the fear and the dread of them fell upon all the people, for they said, There is neither truth nor judgement in them; for they have broken the covenant and the oath which they sware. ¹⁹ And Bacchides removed from Jerusalem, and encamped in Bezeth; and he sent and took away many of the deserters that were with him, and certain of the people, and he slew them, and cast them into the great pit. ²⁰ And he made sure the country to Alcimus, and left with him a force to aid him; and Bacchides went away unto the king.

²¹ And Alcimus strove for his high priesthood. ²² And there were gathered unto him all they that troubled their people, and they got the mastery of the land of Judah, and did great hurt in Israel. ²³ And Judas saw all the mischief that Alcimus and his company had done among the children of Israel, even above the Gentiles, ²⁴ and he went out into all the coasts of Judaea round about, and took vengeance on the men that had deserted from him, and they were restrained from going forth into the country. ²⁵ But when Alcimus saw that Judas and his company waxed strong, and knew that he was not able to withstand them, he returned to the king, and brought evil accusations against them.

to Jerusalem with a great host; and he sent unto Judas and his brethren deceitfully with words of peace, saying, ²⁸ Let there be no battle between me and you; I will come with a few men, that I may see your faces in peace. ²⁹ And he came to Judas, and they saluted one another peaceably. And the enemies were ready to take away Judas by violence. ³⁰ And the thing was known to Judas, to wit, that he came unto him with deceit, and he was sore afraid of him, and would see his face no more. ³¹ And Nicanor knew that his counsel was discovered; and he went out to meet Judas in battle beside Capharsalama; ³² and there fell of Nicanor's side about †† five hundred men, and they fled into the city of David.

³³ And after these things Nicanor went up to mount Sion: and there came some of the priests out of the sanctuary, and some of the elders of the people, to salute him peaceably, and to shew him the whole burnt sacrifice that was being offered for the king. ³⁴ And he mocked them, and laughed at them, and †† entreated them shamefully, and spake haughtily, ³⁵ and sware in a rage, saying, Unless Judas and his army be now delivered into my hands, it shall be that, if I come again in peace, I will burn up this house: and he went out in a great rage. ³⁶ And the priests entered in, and stood before the altar and the temple; and they wept, and said, ³⁷ Thou didst choose this house to be called by thy name, to be a house of prayer and supplication for thy people: ³⁸ take vengeance on this man and his army, and let them fall by the sword: remember their blasphemies, and suffer them not to live any longer.

³⁹ And Nicanor went forth from Jerusalem, and encamped in Bethhoron, and there met him the host of Syria. ⁴⁰ And Judas encamped in Adasa with three thousand men: and Judas prayed and said, ⁴¹ When they that came from the king blasphemed, thine angel went out, and smote among them a hundred and fourscore and five thousand. ⁴² Even so discomfit thou this army before us to-day, and let all the rest know that he hath spoken wickedly against thy sanctuary, and judge thou him according to his wickedness. ⁴³ And on the thirteenth day of the month Adar the armies joined battle: and Nicanor's army was discomfited, and he himself was the first to fall in the battle. ⁴⁴ Now when his army saw that Nicanor was fallen, they cast away their arms, and fled. ⁴⁵ And they pursued after them a day's journey from Adasa until thou comest to §§ Gazara, and they sounded an alarm after them with the  solemn trumpets. ⁴⁶ And they came forth out of all the villages of Judaea round about, and ††† closed them in; and these turned them back on those, and they all fell by the sword, and there was not one of them left. ⁴⁷ And they took the spoils, and the booty, and they smote off Nicanor's head, and his right hand, which he stretched out so haughtily, and brought them, and ††† hanged them up beside Jerusalem. ⁴⁸ And the people were exceeding glad, and they kept that day as a day of great gladness. ⁴⁹ And §§§ they ordained to keep this day year by year, to wit, the thirteenth day of Adar. ⁵⁰ And the land of Judah had rest* a little while.

¹ And Judas heard of the fame of the Romans, that they are valiant men, and have pleasure in all that join themselves unto them, and make amity with all such as come unto them, ² and that they are valiant men. And they told him of their wars and exploits which they do among the Gauls, and how that they conquered them, and brought them under tribute; ³ and what things they did in the land of Spain, that they might become masters of the mines of silver and gold which were there; ⁴ and how that by their policy and persistence they conquered all the place (and the place was exceeding far from them), and the kings that came against them from the uttermost part of the earth, until they had discomfited them, and smitten them very sore; and how the rest give them tribute year by year: ⁵ and Philip, and Perseus, king of Chittim, and them that lifted up themselves against them, did they discomfit in battle, and conquered them: ⁶ Antiochus also, the great king of Asia, who came against them to battle, having a hundred and twenty elephants, with horse, and chariots, and an exceeding great host, and he was discomfited by them, ⁷ and they took him alive, and appointed that both he and such as reigned after him should give them a great tribute, and should give hostages, and a parcel of land, to wit, ⁸ the country of India, and Media, and Lydia, and of the goodliest of their countries; and they took them from him, and gave them to king Eumenes: ⁹ and how they of Greece took counsel to come and destroy them; ¹⁰ and the thing was known to them, and they sent against them a captain, and fought against them, and many of them fell down wounded to death, and they made captive their wives and their children, and spoiled them, and conquered their land, and pulled down their strongholds, and spoiled them, and brought them into bondage unto this day: ¹¹ and the residue of the kingdoms and of the isles, as many as rose up against them at any time, they destroyed and made them to be their servants; ¹² but with their friends and such as relied upon them they kept amity; and they conquered the kingdoms that were nigh and those that were far off, and all that heard of their fame were afraid of them: ¹³ moreover, whomsoever they will to succour and to make kings, these do they make kings; and whomsoever they will, do they depose; and they are exalted exceedingly: ¹⁴ and for all this none of them did ever put on a diadem, neither did they clothe themselves with purple, to be magnified thereby: ¹⁵ and how they had made for themselves a senate house, and day by day three hundred and twenty men sat in council, consulting alway for the people, to the end they might be well ordered: ¹⁶ and how they commit their government to one man year by year, that he should rule over them, and be lord over all their country, and all are obedient to that one, and there is neither envy nor emulation among them.

of John, the son of Accos, and Jason the son of Eleazar, and sent them to Rome, to make a league of amity and confederacy with them,¹⁸ and that they should take the yoke from them; for they saw that the kingdom of the Greeks did keep Israel in bondage.¹⁹ And they went to Rome (and the way was exceeding long), and they entered into the senate house, and answered and said,²⁰ Judas, who is also called Maccabaeus, and his brethren, and the people of the Jews, have sent us unto you, to make a confederacy and peace with you, and that we might be registered your confederates and friends.

²³ Good success be to the Romans, and to the nation of the Jews, by sea and by land for ever: the sword also and the enemy be far from them. ²⁴ But if war arise for Rome first, or any of their confederates in all their dominion, ²⁵ the nation of the Jews shall help them as confederates, as the occasion shall prescribe to them, with all their heart: ²⁶ and unto them that make war upon them they shall not give, neither supply, food, arms, money, or ships, as it hath seemed good unto Rome, and they shall keep their ordinances without taking anything therefore. ²⁷ In the same manner, moreover, if war come first upon the nation of the Jews, the Romans shall help them as confederates with all their soul, as the occasion shall prescribe to them: ²⁸ and to them that are confederates with their foes there shall not be given food, arms, money, or ships, as it hath seemed good unto Rome; and they shall keep these ordinances, and that without deceit. ²⁹ According to these words have the Romans made a covenant thus with the people of the Jews. ³⁰ But if hereafter the one party and the other shall take counsel to add or diminish anything, they shall do it at their pleasure, and whatsoever they shall add or take away shall be established. ³¹ And as touching the evils which king Demetrius doeth unto them, we have written to him, saying, Wherefore hast thou made thy yoke heavy upon our friends and confederates the Jews?³² If therefore they plead any more against thee, we will do them justice, and fight with thee by sea and by land.

¹ And Demetrius heard that Nicanor was fallen with his forces in battle, and he sent Bacchides and Alcimus again into the land of Judah a second time, and the right wing of his army with them: ² and they went by the way that leadeth to Gilgal, and encamped against Mesaloth, which is in Arbela, and gat possession of it, and destroyed much people. ³ And the first month of* the hundred and fifty and second year they encamped against Jerusalem: ⁴ and they removed, and went to Berea, with twenty thousand footmen and two thousand horse. ⁵ And Judas was encamped at Elasa, and three thousand chosen men with him: ⁶ and they saw the multitude of the forces, that they were many, and they feared exceedingly: and many slipped away out of the army; there were not left of them more than eight hundred men. ⁷ And Judas saw that his army slipped away, and that the battle pressed upon him, and he was sore troubled in heart, for that he had no time to gather them together, and he waxed faint. ⁸ And he said to them that were left, Let us arise and go up against our adversaries, if peradventure we may be able to fight with them. ⁹ And they would have dissuaded him, saying, We shall in no wise be able: but let us rather save our lives now: let us return again, we and our brethren, and fight against them: but we are few. ¹⁰ And Judas said, let it not be so that I should do this thing, to flee from them: and if our time is come, let us die manfully for our brethren's sake, and not leave a cause of reproach against our glory. ¹¹ And the host removed from the camp, and stood to encounter them, and the horse was parted into two companies, and the slingers and the archers went before the host, and all the mighty men that fought in the front of the battle. ¹² But Bacchides was in the right wing; and the phalanx drew near on the two parts, and they blew with their trumpets. ¹³ And the men of Judas' side, even they sounded with their trumpets, and the earth shook with the shout of the armies, and the battle was joined, and continued from morning until evening. ¹⁴ And Judas saw that Bacchides and the strength of his army were on the right side, and there went with him all that were brave in heart, ¹⁵ and the right wing was discomfited by them, and he pursued after them unto the mount Azotus. ¹⁶ And they that were on the left wing saw that the right wing was discomfited, and they turned and followed upon the footsteps of Judas and of those that were with him: ¹⁷ and the battle waxed sore, and many on both parts fell wounded to death. ¹⁸ And Judas fell, and the rest fled. ¹⁹ And Jonathan and Simon took Judas their brother, and buried him in the sepulchre of his fathers at Modin. ²⁰ And they bewailed him, and all Israel made great lamentation for him, and mourned many days, and said, ²¹ How is the mighty fallen, the saviour of Israel! ²² And the rest of the acts of Judas, and his wars, and the valiant deeds which he did, and his greatness, they are not written; for they were exceeding many.

²³ And it came to pass after the death of Judas, that the lawless put forth their heads in all the coasts of Israel, and all they that wrought iniquity rose up ²⁴ (in those days there was an exceeding great famine), and the country went over with them. ²⁵ And Bacchides chose out the ungodly men, and made them lords of the country. ²⁶ And they sought out and searched for the friends of Judas, and brought them unto Bacchides, and he took vengeance on them, and used them despitefully. ²⁷ And there was great tribulation in Israel, such as was not since the time that no prophet appeared unto them. ²⁸ And all the friends of Judas were gathered together, and they said unto Jonathan, ²⁹ Since thy brother Judas hath died, we have no man like him to go forth against our enemies and Bacchides, and among them of our nation that hate us. ³⁰ Now therefore we have chosen thee this day to be our prince and leader in his stead, that thou mayest fight our battles. ³¹ And Jonathan took the governance upon him at that time, and rose up in the stead of his brother Judas.

³² And Bacchides knew it, and he sought to slay him. ³³ And Jonathan, and Simon his brother, and all that were with him, knew it; and they fled into the wilderness of Tekoah, and encamped by the water of the pool Asphar. ³⁴ And Bacchides knew it on the sabbath day, and came, he and all his army, over Jordan. ³⁵ And Jonathan sent his brother, a leader of the multitude, and besought his friends the Nabathaeans, that they might leave with them their baggage, which was much. ³⁶ And the children of Jambri came out of Medaba, and took John, and all that he had, and went their way with it.

³⁷ But after these things they brought word to Jonathan and Simon his brother, that the children of Jambri were making a great marriage, and were bringing the bride from Nadabath with a great train, a daughter of one of the great nobles of Canaan. ³⁸ And they remembered John their brother, and went up, and hid themselves under the covert of the mountain: ³⁹ and they lifted up their eyes, and saw, and, behold, a great ado and much baggage: and the bridegroom came forth, and his friends and his brethren, to meet them with timbrels, and minstrels, and many weapons. ⁴⁰ And they rose up against them from their ambush, and slew them, and many fell wounded to death, and the remnant fled into the mountain, and they took all their spoils. ⁴¹ And the marriage was turned into mourning, and the voice of their minstrels into lamentation. ⁴² And they avenged fully the blood of their brother, and turned back to the marsh of Jordan

⁴³ And Bacchides heard it, and he came on the sabbath day unto the banks of Jordan with a great host. ⁴⁴ And Jonathan said to his company, Let us stand up now and fight for our lives, for it is not with us to-day, as yesterday and the day before. ⁴⁵ For, behold, the battle is before us and behind us; moreover the water of the Jordan is on this side and on that side, and marsh and wood; and there is no place to turn aside. ⁴⁶ Now therefore cry unto heaven, that ye may be delivered out of the hand of your enemies. ⁴⁷ And the battle was joined, and Jonathan stretched forth his hand to smite Bacchides, and he turned away back from him. ⁴⁸ And Jonathan and they that were with him leapt into the Jordan, and swam over to the other side: and they did not pass over Jordan against them. ⁴⁹ And there fell of Bacchides' company that day about a thousand men; ⁵⁰ and he returned to Jerusalem. And they builded strong cities in Judaea, the stronghold that was in Jericho, and Emmaus, and Bethhoron, and Bethel, and Timnath, Pharathon, and Tephon, with high walls and gates and bars. ⁵¹ And in them he set a garrison, to vex Israel. ⁵² And he fortified the city Bethsura, and Gazara, and the citadel, and put forces in them, and store of victuals. ⁵³ And he took the sons of the chief men of the country for hostages, and put them in ward in the citadel at Jerusalem.

⁵⁴ And in † the hundred and fifty and third year, in the second month, Alcimus commanded to pull down the wall of the inner court of the sanctuary; he pulled down also the works of the prophets; ⁵⁵ and he began to pull down. At that time was Alcimus stricken, and his works were hindered; and his mouth was stopped, and he was taken with a palsy, and he could no more speak anything and give order concerning his house. ⁵⁶ And Alcimus died at that time with great torment. ⁵⁷ And Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, and he returned to the king: and the land of Judah had rest two years.

⁵⁸ And all the lawless men took counsel, saying, Behold, Jonathan and they of his part are dwelling at ease, and in security: now therefore we will bring Bacchides, and he shall lay hands on them all in one night. ⁵⁹ And they went and consulted with him. ⁶⁰ And he removed, and came with a great host, and sent letters privily to all his confederates that were in Judaea, that they should lay hands on Jonathan and those that were with him: and they could not, because their counsel was known unto them. ⁶¹ And they that were of Jonathan's part laid hands on about fifty of the men of the country, that were authors of the wickedness, and he slew them. ⁶² And Jonathan, and Simon, and they that were with him, gat them away to Bethbasi, which is in the wilderness, and he built up that which had been pulled down thereof, and they made it strong. ⁶³ And Bacchides knew it, and he gathered together all his multitude, and sent word to them that were of Judaea. ⁶⁴ And he went and encamped against Bethbasi, and fought against it many days, and made engines of war. ⁶⁵ And Jonathan left his brother Simon in the city, and went forth into the country, and he went with a few men. ⁶⁶ And he smote Odomera and his brethren, and the children of Phasiron in their tent. ⁶⁷ And they began to smite them, and to go up with their forces. And Simon and they that were with him went out of the city, and set on fire the engines of war, ⁶⁸ and fought against Bacchides, and he was discomfited by them, and they afflicted him sore; for his counsel was in vain, and his inroad. ⁶⁹ And they were very wroth with the lawless men that gave him counsel to come into the country, and they slew many of them. And he took counsel to depart into his own land. ⁷⁰ And Jonathan had knowledge thereof, and sent ambassadors unto him, to the end that they should make peace with him, and that he should restore unto them the captives. ⁷¹ And he accepted the thing, and did according to his words, and sware unto him that he would not seek his hurt all the days of his life. ⁷² And he restored unto him the captives which he had taken aforetime out of the land of Judah, and he returned and departed into his own land, and came not any more into their borders. ⁷³ And the sword ceased from Israel. And Jonathan dwelt at Michmash; and Jonathan began to judge the people; and he destroyed the ungodly out of Israel.

¹ And in * the hundred and sixtieth year Alexander Epiphanes, the son of Antiochus, went up and took possession of Ptolemais: and they received him, and he reigned there. ² And king Demetrius heard thereof, and he gathered together exceeding great forces, and went forth to meet him in battle.

³ And Demetrius sent letters unto Jonathan with words of peace, so as to magnify him. ⁴ For he said, let us be beforehand to make peace with them, ere he make peace with Alexander against us: ⁵ for he will remember all the evils that we have done against him, and unto his brethren and unto his nation. ⁶ And he gave him authority to gather together forces, and to provide arms, and that he should be his confederate: and he commanded that they should deliver up to him the hostages that were in the citadel.

⁷ And Jonathan came to Jerusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in the citadel: ⁸ and they were sore afraid, when they heard that the king had given him authority to gather together a host. ⁹ And they of the citadel delivered up the hostages unto Jonathan, and he restored them unto their parents. ¹⁰ And Jonathan dwelt in Jerusalem, and began to build and renew the city. ¹¹ And he commanded them that did the work to build the walls and the mount Sion round about with † square stones for defence; and they did so. ¹² And the strangers, that were in the strongholds which Bacchides had built, fled away; ¹³ and each man left his place, and departed into his own land. ¹⁴ Only at Bethsura were there left certain of those that had forsaken the law and the commandments; for it was a place of refuge unto them.

¹⁵ And king Alexander heard all the promises which Demetrius had sent unto Jonathan: and they told him of the battles and the valiant deeds which he and his brethren had done, and of the toils which they had endured; ¹⁶ And he said, Shall we find such another man? and now we will make him our ‡ Friend and confederate. ¹⁷ And he wrote letters, and sent them unto him, according to these words, saying, ¹⁸ King Alexander to his brother Jonathan, greeting: ¹⁹ We have heard of thee, that thou art a mighty man of valour, and meet to be our § Friend. ²⁰ And now we have appointed thee this day to be high priest of thy nation, and to be called the king's  Friend (and he sent unto him a purple robe and a crown of gold), and to take our part, and to keep friendship with us.

²¹ And Jonathan put on the holy garments in the seventh month of †† the hundred and sixtieth year, at the feast of tabernacles, and he gathered together forces, and provided arms in abundance.

²² And Demetrius heard these things, and he was grieved, and said, ²³ What is this that we have done, that Alexander hath been beforehand with us in establishing friendship with the Jews, to strengthen himself? ²⁴ I also will write unto them words of encouragement and of honour and of gifts, that they may be with me to aid me. ²⁵ And he sent unto them according to these words:

King Demetrius unto the nation of the Jews, greeting: ²⁶ Forasmuch as ye have kept your covenants with us, and continued in our friendship, and have not joined yourselves to our enemies, we have heard hereof, and are glad. ²⁷ And now continue ye still to keep faith with us, and we will recompense unto you good things in return for your dealings with us, ²⁸ and will grant you many immunities, and give you gifts. ²⁹ And now do I free you, and release all the Jews, from the tributes, and from the customs of salt, and from the crowns. ³⁰ And instead of the third part of the seed, and instead of the half of the fruit of the trees, which falleth to me to receive, I release it from this day and henceforth, so that I will not take it from the land of Judah, and from the three governments which are added thereunto from the country of Samaria and Galilee, from this day forth and for all time. ³¹ And let Jerusalem be holy and free, and her borders; the tenths and the tolls also. ³² I yield up also my authority over the citadel which is at Jerusalem, and give it to the high priest, that he may appoint in it such men as he shall choose to keep it. ³³ And every soul of the Jews, that hath been carried captive from the land of Judah into any part of my kingdom, I set at liberty without price; and let all remit the tributes of their cattle also. ³⁴ And all the feasts, and the sabbaths, and new moons, and appointed days, and three days before a feast, and three days after a feast, let them all be days of immunity and release for all the Jews that are in my kingdom. ³⁵ And no man shall have authority to exact from any of them, or to trouble them concerning any matter. ³⁶ And let there be enrolled among the king's forces about thirty thousand men of the Jews, and pay shall be given unto them, as belongeth to all the king's forces. ³⁷ And of them some shall be placed in the king's great strongholds, and some of them shall be placed over the affairs of the kingdom, which are of trust: and let those that are over them, and their rulers, be of themselves, and let them walk after their own laws, even as the king hath commanded in the land of Judah. ³⁸ And the three governments that have been added to Judaea from the country of Samaria, let them be added to Judaea, that they may be reckoned to be under one, that they may not obey other authority than the high priest's. ³⁹ As for Ptolemais, and the land pertaining thereto, I have given it as a gift to the sanctuary that is at Jerusalem, for the expenses that befit the sanctuary. ⁴⁰ And I give every year fifteen thousand shekels of silver from the king's revenues from the places that are convenient. ⁴¹ And all the overplus, which they that manage the king's affairs paid not in as in the first years, they shall give from henceforth toward the works of the house. ⁴² And beside this, the five thousand shekels of silver, which they received from the uses of the sanctuary from the revenue year by year, this also is released, because it appertaineth to the priests that minister. ⁴³ And whosoever shall flee unto the temple that is at Jerusalem, and be found within all the borders thereof, whether one owe moneys to the king, or any other matter, let them go free, and all that they have in my kingdom. ⁴⁴ And for the building and renewing of the works of the sanctuary the expense shall be given also out of the king's revenue. ⁴⁵ And for the building of the walls of Jerusalem, and the fortifying thereof round about, shall the expense be given also out of the king's revenue, and for the building of the walls in Judaea.

⁴⁶ Now when Jonathan and the people heard these words, they gave no credence unto them, nor received them, because they remembered the great evil which he had done in Israel, and that he had afflicted them very sore. ⁴⁷ And they were well pleased with Alexander, because he was the first that spake words of peace unto them, and they were confederate with him always. ⁴⁸ And king Alexander gathered together great forces, and encamped over against Demetrius. ⁴⁹ And the two kings joined battle, and the army of Alexander fled; and Demetrius followed after him, and prevailed against them. ⁵⁰ And he strengthened the battle exceedingly until the sun went down: and Demetrius fell that day.

⁵¹ And Alexander sent ambassadors to Ptolemy king of Egypt according to these words, saying, ⁵² Forasmuch as I am returned to my kingdom, and am set on the throne of my fathers, and have gotten the dominion, and have overthrown Demetrius, and have gotten possession of our country; ⁵³ yea, I joined the battle with him, and he and his army were discomfited by us, and we sat upon the throne of his kingdom: ⁵⁴ now also let us establish amity one with the other, and give me now thy daughter to wife: and I will make affinity with thee, and will give both thee and her gifts worthy of thee. ⁵⁵ And Ptolemy the king answered, saying, Happy is the day wherein thou didst return into the land of thy fathers, and didst sit on the throne of their kingdom. ⁵⁶ And now will I do to thee, as thou hast written: but meet me at Ptolemais, that we may see one another; and I will make affinity with thee, even as thou hast said. ⁵⁷ And Ptolemy went out of Egypt, himself and Cleopatra his daughter, and came unto Ptolemais in †† the hundred and threescore and second year: ⁵⁸ and king Alexander met him, and he bestowed on him his daughter Cleopatra, and celebrated her marriage at Ptolemais with great pomp, as the manner of kings is.

⁵⁹ And king Alexander wrote unto Jonathan, that he should come to meet him. ⁶⁰ And he went with pomp to Ptolemais, and met the two kings, and gave them and their §§ Friends silver and gold, and many gifts, and found favour in their sight. ⁶¹ And there were gathered together against him certain pestilent fellows out of Israel, men that were transgressors of the law, to complain against him: and the king gave no heed to them. ⁶² And the king commanded, and they took off Jonathan's garments, and clothed him in purple: and thus they did. ⁶³ And the king made him sit with him, and said unto his princes, Go forth with him into the midst of the city, and make proclamation, that no man complain against him of any matter, and let no man trouble him for any manner of cause. ⁶⁴ And it came to pass, when they that complained against him saw his glory according as the herald made proclamation, and saw him clothed in purple, they all fled away. ⁶⁵ And the king gave him honour, and wrote him among his  Chief Friends, and made him a captain, and governor of a province. ⁶⁶ And Jonathan returned to Jerusalem with peace and gladness.

⁶⁷ And in ††† the hundred and three-score and fifth year came Demetrius, son of Demetrius, out of Crete into the land of his fathers: ⁶⁸ and king Alexander heard thereof, and he grieved exceedingly, and returned unto Antioch. ⁶⁹ And Demetrius appointed Apollonius, who was over Coelesyria, and he gathered together a great host, and encamped in Jamnia, and sent unto Jonathan the high priest, saying,

⁷⁰ Thou alone liftest up thyself against us, but I am had in derision and in reproach because of thee. And why dost thou vaunt thy power against us in the mountains?

⁷¹ Now therefore, if thou trustest in thy forces, come down to us into the plain, and there let us try the matter together; for with me is the power of the cities. ⁷² Ask and learn who I am, and the rest that help us; and they say, Your foot cannot stand before our face; for thy fathers have been twice put to flight in their own land. ⁷³ And now thou shalt not be able to abide the horse and such a host as this in the plain, where is neither stone nor flint, nor place to flee unto.

⁷⁴ Now when Jonathan heard the words of Apollonius, he was moved in his mind, and he chose out ten thousand men, and went forth from Jerusalem, and Simon his brother met him for to help him. ⁷⁵ And he encamped against Joppa: and they of the city shut him out, because Apollonius had a garrison in Joppa: ⁷⁶ and they fought against

it. And they of the city were afraid, and opened unto him: and Jonathan became master of Joppa. ⁷⁷ And Apollonius heard, and he gathered an army of three thousand horse, and a great host, and went to Azotus as though he were on a journey, and therewithal drew onward into the plain, because he had a multitude of horse, and trusted therein. ⁷⁸ And he pursued after him to Azotus, and the armies joined battle†††.

⁷⁹ And Apollonius had left a thousand horse behind them privily. ⁸⁰ And Jonathan knew that there was an ambushment behind him. And they compassed round his army, and cast their darts at the people, from morning until evening: ⁸¹ but the people stood still, as Jonathan commanded them: and their horses were wearied. ⁸² And Simon drew forth his host, and joined battle with the phalanx (for the horsemen were spent), and they were discomfited by him, and fled. ⁸³ And the horsemen were scattered in the plain, and they fled to Azotus, and entered into Beth-dagon, their idol's temple, to save themselves. ⁸⁴ And Jonathan burned Azotus, and the cities round about it, and took their spoils; and the temple of Dagon, and them that fled into it, he burned with fire. ⁸⁵ And they that had fallen by the sword, with them that were burned, were about eight thousand men. ⁸⁶ And from thence Jonathan removed, and encamped against Ascalon, and they of the city came forth to meet him with great pomp. ⁸⁷ And Jonathan, with them that were on his side, returned unto Jerusalem, having many spoils. ⁸⁸ And it came to pass, when king Alexander heard these things, he honoured Jonathan yet more; ⁸⁹ and he sent unto him a buckle of gold, as the use is to give to such as are of the kindred of the kings: and he gave him Ekron and all the coasts thereof for a possession.

¹ And the king of Egypt gathered together great forces, as the sand which is by the sea shore, and many ships, and sought to make himself master of Alexander's kingdom by deceit, and to add it to his own kingdom. ² And he went forth into Syria with words of peace, and they of the cities opened unto him, and met him; For king Alexander's commandment was that they should meet him, because he was his father in law. ³Now as he entered into the cities of Ptolemais, he set his forces for a garrison in each city. ⁴But when he came near to Azotus, they shewed him the temple of Dagon burned with fire, and Azotus and the suburbs thereof pulled down, and the bodies cast abroad, and them that had been burned, whom he burned in the war, for they had made heaps of them in his way. ⁵And they told the king what things Jonathan had done, that they might cast blame on him: and the king held his peace. ⁶And Jonathan met the king with pomp at Joppa, and they saluted one another, and they slept there. ⁷And Jonathan went with the king as far as the river that is called Eleutherus, and returned to Jerusalem. ⁸But king Ptolemy became master of the cities upon the sea coast, unto Selucia which is by the sea, and he devised evil devices concerning Alexander. ⁹And he sent ambassadors unto king Demetrius, saying, Come, let us make a covenant with one another, and I will give thee my daughter whom Alexander hath, and thou shalt reign over thy father's kingdom; ¹⁰for I have repented that I gave my daughter unto him, for he sought to slay me. ¹¹And he cast blame on him, because he coveted his kingdom. ¹²And taking his daughter from him, he gave her to Demetrius, and was estranged from Alexander, and their enmity was openly seen. ¹³And Ptolemy entered into Antioch, and put on himself the diadem of Asia; and he put two diadems upon his head, the diadem of Egypt and that of Asia. ¹⁴But king Alexander was in Cilicia at that season, because they of those parts were in revolt. ¹⁵And Alexander heard of it, and he came against him in war: and Ptolemy led forth his host, and met him with a strong force, and put him to flight. ¹⁶And Alexander fled into Arabia, that he might be sheltered there; but king Ptolemy was exalted. ¹⁷And Zabdiel the Arabian took off Alexander's head, and sent it to Ptolemy. ¹⁸And king Ptolemy died the third day after, and they

that were in his strongholds were slain by them that were in the strongholds. ¹⁹And Demetrius reigned in * the hundred and threescore and seventh year.

²⁰In those days Jonathan gathered together them of Judaea, to take the citadel that was at Jerusalem: and he made many engines of war against it. ²¹And certain that hated their own nation, men that transgressed the law, went unto the king, and reported to him that Jonathan was besieging the citadel. ²²And he heard, and was angered; but when he heard it, he set forth immediately, and came to Ptolemais, and wrote unto Jonathan, that he should not besiege it, and that he should meet him and speak with him at Ptolemais with all speed. ²³But when Jonathan heard this, he commanded to besiege it still: and he chose certain of the elders of Israel and of the priests, and put himself in peril, ²⁴and taking silver and gold and raiment and divers presents besides, went to Ptolemais unto the king. And he found favour in his sight. ²⁵And certain lawless men of them that were of the nation made complaints against him, ²⁶and the king did unto him even as his predecessors had done unto him, and exalted him in the sight of all his † Friends, ²⁷and confirmed to him the high priesthood, and all the other honours that he had before, and gave him preeminence among his ‡ Chief Friends. ²⁸And Jonathan requested of the king, that he would make Judaea free from tribute, and the three § provinces, and the country of Samaria; and promised him three hundred talents. ²⁹And the king consented, and wrote letters unto Jonathan concerning all these things after this manner:

³⁰King Demetrius unto his brother Jonathan, and unto the nation of the Jews, greeting: ³¹The copy of the letter which we wrote unto Lasthenes our kinsman concerning you, we have written also unto you, that ye may see it. ³²King Demetrius unto Lasthenes his father, greeting: ³³We have determined to do good to the nation of the Jews, who are our friends, and observe what is just toward us, because of their good will toward us.

³⁴ We have confirmed therefore unto them the borders of Judaea, and also the three governments of Aphaerema and Lydda and Ramathaim (these were added unto Judaea from the country of Samaria), and all things appertaining unto them, for all such as do sacrifice in Jerusalem, instead of the king's dues which the king received of them yearly aforesaid from the produce of the earth and the fruits of trees. ³⁵ And as for the other things that pertain unto us from henceforth, of the tenths and the tolls that pertain unto us, and the saltpits, and the crowns that pertain unto us, all these we will bestow upon them. ³⁶ And not one of these things shall be annulled from this time forth and for ever. ³⁷ Now therefore be careful to make a copy of these things, and let it be given unto Jonathan, and let it be set up on the holy mount in a meet and conspicuous place.

³⁸ And king Demetrius saw that the land was quiet before him, and that no resistance was made to him, and he sent away all his forces, each man to his own place, except the foreign forces, which he had raised from the isles of the Gentiles: and all the forces of his fathers hated him. ³⁹ Now Tryphon was of those who aforesaid had been of Alexander's part, and he saw that all the forces murmured against Demetrius, and he went to Imalcue the Arabian, who was nourishing up Antiochus the young child of Alexander, ⁴⁰ and pressed sore upon him that he should deliver him unto him, that he might reign in his father's stead: and he told him all that Demetrius had done, and the hatred wherewith his forces hated him; and he abode there many days.

⁴¹ And Jonathan sent unto king Demetrius, that he should cast out of Jerusalem them of the citadel, and them that were in the strongholds; for they fought against Israel continually. ⁴² And Demetrius sent unto Jonathan, saying, I will not only do this for thee and thy nation, but I will greatly honour thee and thy nation, if I find fair occasion. ⁴³ Now therefore thou shalt do well, if thou send me men who shall fight for me; for all my forces are revolted. ⁴⁴ And Jonathan sent him three thousand valiant men unto Antioch: and they came to the king, and the king was glad at their coming. ⁴⁵ And they of the city gathered themselves together into the midst of the city, to the number of a hundred and twenty thousand men, and they were minded to slay the king. ⁴⁶ And the king fled into the court of the palace, and they of the city seized the passages of the city, and began to fight. ⁴⁷ And the king called the Jews to help him, and they were gathered together unto him all at once, and they dispersed themselves in the city, and slew that day to the number of a hundred thousand. ⁴⁸ And they set the city on fire, and gat many spoils that day, and saved the king. ⁴⁹ And they of the city saw that the Jews had made themselves masters of the city as they would, and they waxed faint in their hearts, and they cried out to the king with supplication, saying, ⁵⁰ Give us thy right hand, and let the Jews cease from fighting against us and the city. ⁵¹ And they cast away their arms, and made peace; and the Jews were glorified in the sight of the king, and before all that were in his kingdom; and they returned to Jerusalem, having many spoils. ⁵² And king Demetrius sat on the throne of his kingdom, and the land was quiet before him. ⁵³ And he lied in all that he spake, and estranged himself from Jonathan, and recompensed him not according to the benefits with which he had recompensed him, and afflicted him exceedingly.

⁵⁴ Now after this Tryphon returned, and with him the young child Antiochus; and he reigned, and put on a diadem. ⁵⁵ And there were gathered unto him all the forces which Demetrius had sent away with disgrace, and they fought against him, and he fled and was put to the rout. ⁵⁶ And Tryphon took the elephants, and became master of Antioch. ⁵⁷ And the young Antiochus wrote unto Jonathan, saying, I confirm unto thee the high priesthood, and appoint thee over the four governments, and to be one of the king's ^{} Friends. ⁵⁸ And he sent unto him golden vessels and furniture for the table, and gave him leave to drink in golden vessels, and to be clothed in purple, and to have a golden buckle. ⁵⁹ And his brother Simon he made captain from the Ladder of Tyre unto the borders of Egypt. ⁶⁰ And Jonathan went forth, and took his journey beyond the river and through the cities; and all the forces of Syria gathered themselves unto him for to be his confederates. And he came to Ascalon, and they of the city met him honourably. ⁶¹ And he departed thence to Gaza, and they of Gaza shut him out; and he laid siege unto it, and burned the suburbs thereof with fire, and spoiled them. ⁶² And they of Gaza made request unto Jonathan, and he gave them his right hand, and took the sons of their princes for hostages, and sent them away to Jerusalem; and he passed through the country as far as Damascus.

⁶³ And Jonathan heard that Demetrius' princes were come to Kedesh, which is in Galilee, with a great host, purposing to remove him from his office; ⁶⁴ and he went to meet them, but Simon his brother he left in the country. ⁶⁵ And Simon encamped against Bethsura, and fought against it many days, and shut it up: ⁶⁶ and they made request to him that he would give them his right hand, and he gave it to them; and he put them out from thence, and took possession of the city, and set a garrison over it. ⁶⁷ And Jonathan and his army encamped at the water of Gennesareth, and early in the morning they gat them to the plain of Hazor. ⁶⁸ And, behold, an army of strangers met him in the plain, and they laid an ambush for him in the mountains, but themselves met him face to face. ⁶⁹ But they that lay in ambush rose out of their places, and joined battle; and all they that were of Jonathan's side fled: ⁷⁰ not one of them was left, except Mattathias the son of Absalom, and Judas the son of Chalphi, captains of the forces. ⁷¹ And Jonathan rent his clothes, and put earth upon his head, and prayed. ⁷² And he turned again unto them in battle, and put them to the rout, and they fled. ⁷³ And they of his side that fled saw it, and returned unto him, and pursued with him unto Kedesh unto their camp, and they encamped there. ⁷⁴ And there fell of the strangers on that day about three thousand men: and Jonathan returned to Jerusalem.

¹ And Jonathan saw that the time served him, and he chose men, and sent them to Rome, to confirm and renew the friendship that they had with them. ² And to the Spartans, and to other places, he sent letters after the same manner. ³ And they went unto Rome, and entered into the senate house, and said, Jonathan the high priest, and the nation of the Jews, have sent us, to renew for them the friendship and the confederacy, as in former time. ⁴ And they gave them letters unto the men in every place, that they should bring them on their way to the land of Judah in peace. ⁵ And this is the copy of the letters which Jonathan wrote to the Spartans:

⁶ Jonathan the high priest, and the senate of the nation, and the priests, and the rest of the people of the Jews, unto their brethren the Spartans, greeting: ⁷ Even before this time were letters sent unto Onias the high priest from ^{*} Arius, who was reigning among you, to signify that ye are our brethren, as the copy here underwritten sheweth. ⁸ And Onias entreated honourably the man that was sent, and received the letters, wherein declaration was made of confederacy and friendship. ⁹ Therefore we also, albeit we need none of these things, having for our encouragement the holy books which are in our hands, ¹⁰ have assayed to send that we might renew our brotherhood and friendship with you, to the end that we should not become estranged from you altogether: for long time is passed since ye sent unto us. ¹¹ We therefore at all times without ceasing, both in our feasts, and on the other convenient days, do remember you in the sacrifices which we offer, and in our prayers, as it is right and meet to be mindful of brethren: ¹² and moreover are glad for your glory. ¹³ But as for ourselves, many afflictions and many wars have encompassed us, and the kings that are round about us have fought against us. ¹⁴ We were not minded therefore to be troublesome unto you, and to the rest of our confederates and friends, in these wars; ¹⁵ for we have the help which is from heaven to help us, and we have been delivered from our enemies, and our enemies have been brought low. ¹⁶We chose therefore Numenius the son of Antiochus, and Antipater the son of Jason, and have sent them unto the Romans, to renew the friendship that we had with them, and the former confederacy. ¹⁷We commanded them therefore to go also unto you, and to salute you, and to deliver you our letters concerning the renewing of friendship and our brotherhood. ¹⁸And now ye shall do well if ye give us an answer thereto.

¹⁹And this is the copy of the letters which they sent to Onias:

²⁰Arius king of the Spartans to Onias the chief priest, greeting: ²¹It hath been found in writing, concerning the Spartans and the Jews, that they are brethren, and that they are of the stock of Abraham: ²²and now, since this is come to our knowledge, ye shall do well to write unto us of your † prosperity. ²³And we moreover do write on our part to you, that your cattle and goods are ours, and ours are yours. We do command therefore that they make report unto you on this wise.

²⁴And Jonathan heard that Demetrius' princes were returned to fight against him with a greater host than afore, ²⁵and he removed from Jerusalem, and met them in the country of Hamath; for he gave them no respite to set foot in his country. ²⁶And he sent spies into his camp, and they came again, and reported to him that they were appointed in such and such a way to fall upon them in the night season. ²⁷But as soon as the sun was down, Jonathan commanded his men to watch, and to be in arms, that all the night long they might be ready for battle: and he put forth sentinels round about the camp. ²⁸And the adversaries heard that Jonathan and his men were ready for battle, and they feared, and trembled in their hearts, and they kindled fires in their camp ‡ ²⁹But Jonathan and his men knew it not till the morning; for they saw the lights burning. ³⁰And Jonathan pursued after them, and overtook them not; for they were gone over the river Eleutherus. ³¹And Jonathan turned aside to the Arabians, who are called Zabadaeans, and smote them, and took their spoils.

³²And he came out from thence, and came to Damascus, and took his journey through all the country. ³³And Simon went forth, and took his journey as far as Ascalon, and the strongholds that were near unto it. And he turned aside to Joppa, and took possession of it; ³⁴for he had heard that they were minded to deliver the stronghold unto the men of Demetrius; and he set a garrison there to keep it.

³⁵And Jonathan returned, and called the elders of the people together; and he took counsel with them to build strongholds in Judaea, ³⁶and to make the walls of Jerusalem higher, and to raise a great mound between the citadel and the city, for to separate it from the city, that so it might be all alone, that men might neither buy nor sell. ³⁷And they were gathered together to build the city, and there fell down part of the wall of the brook that is on the east side, and he repaired that which is called Chaphenatha.

³⁸And Simon also built Adida in the § plain country, and made it strong, and set up gates and bars.

³⁹And Tryphon sought to reign over Asia and to put on himself the diadem, and to stretch forth his hand against Antiochus the king. ⁴⁰And he was afraid lest haply Jonathan should not suffer him, and lest he should fight against him; and he sought a way how to take him, that he might destroy him. And he removed, and came to Bethshan. ⁴¹And Jonathan came forth to meet him with forty thousand men chosen for battle, and came to Bethshan. ⁴²And Tryphon saw that he came with a great host, and he was afraid to stretch forth his hand against him: ⁴³and he received him honourably, and commended him unto all his  Friends, and gave him gifts, and commanded his forces to be obedient unto him, as unto himself. ⁴⁴And he said unto Jonathan, Why hast thou put all this people to trouble, seeing there is no war betwixt us? ⁴⁵And now send them away to their homes, but choose for thyself a few men who shall be with thee, and come thou with me to Ptolemais, and I will give it up to thee, and the rest of the strongholds and the rest of the forces, and all the king's officers: and

I will return and depart; for this is the cause of my coming. ⁴⁶ And he put his trust in him, and did even as he said, and sent away his forces, and they departed into the land of Judah. ⁴⁷ But he reserved to himself three thousand men, of whom he left two thousand in Galilee, but one thousand went with him. ⁴⁸ Now as soon as Jonathan entered into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, and laid hands on him; and all them that came in with him they slew with the sword. ⁴⁹ And Tryphon sent forces and horsemen into Galilee, and into the great plain, to destroy all Jonathan's men. ⁵⁰ And they perceived that he was taken and had perished, and they that were with him; and they encouraged one another, and went on their way close together, prepared to fight. ⁵¹ And they that followed upon them saw that they were ready to fight for their lives, and turned back again. ⁵² And they all came in peace into the land of Judah, and they mourned for Jonathan, and them that were with him, and they were sore afraid; and all Israel mourned with a great mourning. ⁵³ And all the Gentiles that were round about them sought to destroy them utterly: for they said, They have no ruler, nor any to help them: now therefore let us fight against them, and take away their memorial from among men.

¹ And Simon heard that Tryphon had gathered together a mighty host to come into the land of Judah, and destroy it utterly. ² And he saw that the people trembled and was in great fear; and he went up to Jerusalem, and gathered the people together; ³ and he encouraged them, and said unto them, Ye yourselves know all the things that I, and my brethren, and my father's house, have done for the laws and the sanctuary, and the battles and the distresses which we have seen: ⁴ by reason hereof all my brethren have perished for Israel's sake, and I am left alone. ⁵ And now be it far from me, that I should spare mine own life in any time of affliction; for I am not better than my brethren. ⁶ Howbeit I will take vengeance for my nation, and for the sanctuary, and for our wives and children; because all the Gentiles are gathered to destroy us of very hatred. ⁷ And the spirit of the people revived, as soon as they heard these words. ⁸ And they answered with a loud voice, saying, Thou art our leader instead of Judas and Jonathan thy brother. ⁹ Fight thou our battles, and all that thou shalt say unto us, that will we do. ¹⁰ And he gathered together all the men of war, and made haste to finish the walls of Jerusalem, and he fortified it round about. ¹¹ And he sent Jonathan the son of Absalom, and with him a great host, to Joppa: and he cast out them that were therein, and abode there in it

¹² And Tryphon removed from Ptolemais with a mighty host to enter into the land of Judah, and Jonathan was with him in ward. ¹³ But Simon encamped at Adida, over against the plain. ¹⁴ And Tryphon knew that Simon was risen up instead of his brother Jonathan, and meant to join battle with him, and he sent ambassadors unto him, saying, ¹⁵ It is for money which Jonathan thy brother owed unto the king's treasure, by reason of the offices which he had, that we hold him fast. ¹⁶ And now send a hundred talents of silver, and two of his sons for hostages, that when he is set at liberty he may not revolt from us, and we will set him at liberty. ¹⁷ And Simon knew that they spake unto him deceitfully; and he sendeth the money and the children, lest peradventure he should procure to himself great hatred of the people, ¹⁸ and they should say, Because I sent him not the money and the children, he perished. ¹⁹ And he sent the children and the hundred talents. And he dealt falsely, and did not set Jonathan at liberty. ²⁰ And after this Tryphon came to invade the land, and destroy it, and he went round about by the way that leadeth unto Adora: and Simon and his army marched over against him to every place, wheresoever he went. ²¹ Now they of the citadel sent unto Tryphon ambassadors, hastening him to come unto them through the wilderness, and to send them victuals. ²² And Tryphon made ready all his horse to come: and on that night there fell a very great snow, and he came not by reason of the snow. And he removed, and came into the country of Gilead. ²³ But when he came near to Bascama, he slew Jonathan, and he was buried there. ²⁴ And Tryphon returned, and went away into his own land.

³⁶ King Demetrius unto Simon the high priest and ‡ Friend of kings, and unto the elders and nation of the Jews, greeting: ³⁷ The golden crown, and the palm branch, which ye sent, we have received: and we are ready to make a § stedfast peace with you, yea, and to write unto our officers, to grant immunities unto you. ³⁸ And whatsoever things we confirmed unto you, they are confirmed; and the strongholds, which ye have builded, let them be your own. ³⁹ As for any oversights and faults committed unto this day, we forgive them, and the crown which ye owed us: and if there were any other toll exacted in Jerusalem, let it be exacted no longer. ⁴⁰ And if there be any among you meet to be enrolled in our court, let them be enrolled, and let there be peace betwixt us.

⁴³ In those days he encamped against †† Gazara, and compassed it round about with armies; and he made an engine of siege, and brought it up to the city, and smote a tower, and took it. ⁴⁴ And they that were in the engine leaped forth into the city; and there was a great uproar in the city: ⁴⁵ and they of the city rent their clothes, and went up on the walls with their wives and children, and cried with a loud voice, making request to Simon to give them ‡‡ his right hand. ⁴⁶ And they said, Deal not with us according to our wickednesses, but according to thy mercy. ⁴⁷ And Simon was reconciled unto them, and did not fight against them: and he put them out of the city, and cleansed the houses wherein the idols were, and so entered into it with singing and giving praise. ⁴⁸ And he put all uncleanness out of it, and placed in it such men as would keep the law, and made it stronger than it was before, and built therein a dwelling place for himself.

⁴⁹ But they of the citadel in Jerusalem were hindered from going forth, and from going into the country, and from buying and selling; and they hungered exceedingly, and a great number of them perished through famine. ⁵⁰ And they cried out to Simon, that he should give them his right hand; and he gave it to them: and he put them out from thence, and he cleansed the citadel from its pollutions. ⁵¹ And he entered into it on the three and twentieth day of the second month, in §§ the hundred and seventy and first year, with praise and palm branches, and with harps, and with cymbals, and with viols, and with hymns, and with songs: because a great enemy was destroyed out of Israel. ⁵² And he ordained that they should keep that day every year with gladness. And the hill of the temple that was by the citadel he made stronger than before, and there he dwelt, himself and his men. ⁵³ And Simon saw that John his son was a valiant man, and he made him leader of all his forces: and he dwelt in Gazara.

¹ And in ^{*} the hundred and seventy and second year king Demetrius gathered his forces together, and went into Media, to get him help, that he might fight against Tryphon. ² And Arsaces, the king of Persia and Media, heard that Demetrius was come into his borders, and he sent one of his princes to take him alive: ³ and he went and smote the army of Demetrius, and took him, and brought him to Arsaces; and he put him in ward.

⁴ And the land had rest all the days of Simon: and he sought the good of his nation; and his authority and his glory was well-pleasing to them all his days. ⁵ And amid all his glory he took Joppa for a haven, and made it an entrance for the isles of the sea; ⁶ and he enlarged the borders of his nation, and gat possession of the country; ⁷ and he gathered together a great number of captives, and gat the dominion of Gazara, and Bethsura, and the citadel, and he took away from it its uncleannesses; and there was none that resisted him. ⁸ And they tilled their land in peace, and the land gave her increase, and the trees of the plains their fruit. ⁹ The ancient men sat in the streets, they communed all of them together of good things, and the young men put on glorious and warlike apparel. ¹⁰ He provided victuals for the cities, and furnished them with [†] all manner of munition, until the name of his glory was named unto the end of the earth. ¹¹ He made peace in the land, and Israel rejoiced with great joy: ¹² and they sat each man under his vine and his fig tree, and there was none to make them afraid: ¹³ and there ceased in the land any that fought against them: and the kings were discomfited in those days. ¹⁴ And he strengthened all those of his people that were brought low: the law he searched out, and every lawless and wicked person he took away. ¹⁵ He glorified the sanctuary, and the vessels of the temple he multiplied.

¹⁶ And it was heard at Rome that Jonathan was dead, and even unto Sparta, and they were exceeding sorry. ¹⁷ But as soon as they heard that his brother Simon was made high priest in his stead, and ruled the country, and the cities therein, ¹⁸ they wrote unto him on tables of brass, to renew with him the friendship and the confederacy which they had confirmed with Judas and Jonathan his brethren; ¹⁹ and they were read before the congregation at Jerusalem. ²⁰ And this is the copy of the letters which the Spartans sent:

The rulers of the Spartans, and the city, unto Simon the high priest, and unto the elders, and the priests, and the residue of the people of the Jews, our brethren, greeting: ²¹ The ambassadors that were sent unto our people made report to us of your glory and honour: and we were glad for their coming, ²² and we did register the things that were spoken by them in the [‡] public records after this manner: Numenius son of Antiochus, and Antipater son of Jason, the Jews' ambassadors, came unto us to renew the friendship they had with us. ²³ And it pleased the people to entertain the men honourably, and to put the copy of their words in the [§] public records, to the end that the people of the Spartans might have a memorial thereof: moreover they wrote a copy of these things unto Simon the high priest.

²⁴ After this Simon sent Numenius to Rome with a great shield of gold of a thousand pound weight, in order to confirm the confederacy with them.

²⁵ But when the people heard these things, they said, What thanks shall we give to Simon and his sons? ²⁶ for he and his brethren and the house of his father have made themselves strong, and have chased away in fight the enemies of Israel from them, and confirmed liberty to  Israel.

 27 And they wrote on tables of brass, and set them upon pillars in mount Sion: and this is the copy of the writing:

On the eighteenth day of Elul, in †† the hundred and seventy and second year, and this is the third year of Simon the high priest, 28 †‡ in Asaramel, in a great congregation of priests and people and princes of the nation, and of the elders of the country, §§ was it notified unto us: 29 Forasmuch as oftentimes there have been wars in the country, but Simon the son of Mattathias, the son of the sons of Joarib, and his brethren, put themselves in jeopardy, and withstood the enemies of their nation, that their sanctuary and the law might be established, and glorified their nation with great glory: 30 and Jonathan assembled their nation together, and became their high priest, and was gathered to his people: 31 and their enemies purposed to invade their country, that they might destroy their country utterly, and stretch forth their hands against their sanctuary: 32 then rose up Simon, and fought for his nation, and spent much of his own substance, and armed the valiant men of his nation, and gave them wages: 33 and he fortified the cities of Judaea, and Bethsura that lieth upon the borders of Judaea, where the arms of the enemies were aforetime, and set there a garrison of Jews: 34 and he fortified Joppa which is upon the sea, and Gazara which is upon the borders of Azotus, wherein the enemies dwelt aforetime, and placed Jews there, and set therein all things convenient for the reparation thereof: 35 and the people saw the  faith of Simon, and the glory which he thought to bring unto his nation, and they made him their leader and high priest, because he had done all these things, and for the justice and the faith which he kept to his nation, and for that he sought by all means to exalt his people: 36 and in his days things prospered in his hands, so that the Gentiles were taken away out of their country, and they also that were in the city of David, they that were in Jerusalem, who had made themselves a citadel, out of which they issued, and polluted all things round about the sanctuary, and did great hurt unto its purity; 37 and he placed Jews therein, and fortified it for the safety of the country and the city, and made high the walls of Jerusalem: 38 and king Demetrius confirmed to him the high priesthood according to these things, 39 and made him one of his ††† Friends, and honoured him with great honour; 40 for he had heard say, that the Jews had been called by the Romans friends and confederates and brethren, and that they had met the ambassadors of Simon honourably; 41 and that the Jews and the priests were well pleased that Simon should be their leader and high priest for ever, until there should arise a faithful prophet; 42 and that he should be captain over them, and should take charge of the sanctuary, to set them over their works, and over the country, and over the arms, and over the strongholds; and that he should take charge of the sanctuary, 43 and that he should be obeyed by all, and that all instruments in the country should be written in his name, and that he should be clothed in purple, and wear gold; 44 and that it should not be lawful for any of the people or of the priests to set at nought any of these things, or to gainsay the words that he should speak, or to gather an assembly in the country without him, or to be clothed in purple, or wear a buckle of gold; 45 but whosoever should do otherwise, or set at nought any of these things, he should be liable to punishment. 46 All the people consented to ordain for Simon that he should do according to these words; 47 and Simon accepted hereof, and consented to be high priest, and to be captain and ††† governor of the Jews and of the priests, and to be protector of all.

48 And they commanded to put this writing on tables of brass, and to set them up within the precinct of the sanctuary in a conspicuous place; 49 and moreover to put the copies thereof in the treasury, to the end that Simon and his sons might have them.

¹ And Antiochus son of Demetrius the king sent letters from the isles of the sea unto Simon the priest and * governor of the Jews, and to all the nation; ² and the contents thereof were after this manner:

King Antiochus to Simon the chief priest and † governor, and to the nation of the Jews, greeting: ³ Forasmuch as certain pestilent fellows have made themselves masters of the kingdom of our fathers, but my purpose is to claim the kingdom, that I may restore it as it was before; and moreover I have raised a multitude of foreign soldiers, and have prepared ships of war; ⁴ moreover I am minded to land in the country, that I may punish them that have destroyed our country, and them that have made many cities in the kingdom desolate: ⁵ Now therefore I confirm unto thee all the exactions which the kings that were before me remitted unto thee, and whatsoever gifts besides they remitted unto thee: ⁶ and I give thee leave to coin money for thy country with thine own stamp, ⁷ but that Jerusalem and the sanctuary should be free: and all the arms that thou hast prepared, and the strongholds that thou hast built, which thou hast in thy possession, let them remain unto thee: ⁸ and everything owing to the king, and the things that shall be owing to the king from henceforth and for evermore, let them be remitted unto thee: ⁹ moreover, when we shall have established our kingdom, we will glorify thee and thy nation and the temple with great glory, so that your glory shall be made manifest in all the earth.

¹⁰ In ‡ the hundred and seventy and fourth year went Antiochus forth into the land of his fathers; and all the forces came together unto him, so that there were few men with Tryphon. ¹¹ And king Antiochus pursued him, and § he came, as he fled, unto Dor, which is by the sea: ¹² for he knew that troubles were come upon him all at once, and that his forces had forsaken him. ¹³ And Antiochus encamped against Dor, and with him a hundred and twenty thousand men of war, and eight thousand horse. ¹⁴ And he compassed the city round about, and the ships joined in the attack from the sea; and he vexed the city by land and sea, and suffered no man to go out or in.

¹⁵ And Numenius and his company came from Rome, having letters to the kings and to the countries, wherein were written these things:

²² And the same things wrote he to Demetrius the king, and to Attalus, and to Arathes, and to Arsaces, ²³ and unto all the countries, and to  Sampsames, and to the Spartans, and unto Delos, and unto Myndos, and unto Sicyon, and unto Caria, and unto Samos, and unto Pamphylia, and unto Lycia, and unto Halicarnassus, and unto Rhodes, and unto Phaselis, and unto Cos, and unto Side, and unto Aradus, and Gortyna, and Cnidus, and Cyprus, and Cyrene. ²⁴ But the copy hereof they wrote to Simon the high priest.

²⁵ But Antiochus the king encamped against Dor the second day, bringing his forces up to it continually, and making engines of war, and he shut up Tryphon from going in or out. ²⁶ And Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to fight on his side; and silver, and gold, and instruments of war in abundance. ²⁷ And he would not receive them, but set at nought all the covenants which he had made with him aforetime, and was estranged from him. ²⁸ And he sent unto him Athenobius, one of his †† Friends, to commune with him, saying,

Ye hold possession of Joppa and Gazara, and the citadel that is in Jerusalem, cities of my kingdom. ²⁹ The borders thereof ye have wasted, and done great hurt in the land, and got the dominion of many places in my kingdom. ³⁰ Now therefore deliver up the cities which ye have taken, and the tributes of the places whereof ye have gotten dominion without the borders of Judaea: ³¹ or else give me for them five hundred talents of silver; and for the harm that ye have done, and the tributes of the cities, other five hundred talents: or else we will come and subdue you.

³² And Athenobius the king's ‡‡ Friend came to Jerusalem; and he saw the glory of Simon, and the cupboard of gold and silver vessels, and his great attendance, and he was amazed; and he reported to him the king's words. ³³ And Simon answered, and said unto him,

We have neither taken other men's land, nor have we possession of that which appertaineth to others, but of the inheritance of our fathers; howbeit, it was had in possession of our enemies wrongfully for a certain time. ³⁴ But we, having opportunity, hold fast the inheritance of our fathers. ³⁵ But as touching Joppa and Gazara, which thou demandest, they did great harm among the people throughout our country, we will give a hundred talents for them.

And he answered him not a word, ³⁶ but returned in a rage to the king, and reported unto him these words, and the glory of Simon, and all that he had seen: and the king was exceeding wroth. ³⁷ But Tryphon embarked on board a ship, and fled to Orthosia.

³⁸ And the king appointed Cendebaeus chief captain of the sea coast, and gave him forces of foot and horse: ³⁹ and he commanded him to encamp before Judaea, and he commanded him to build up Kidron, and to fortify the gates, and that he should fight against the people: but the king pursued

Tryphon. ⁴⁰ And Cendebaeus came to Jamnia, and began to provoke the people, and to invade Judaea, and to take the people captive, and to slay them. ⁴¹ And he built Kidron, and set horsemen there, and forces of foot, to the end that issuing out they might make outroads upon the ways of Judaea, according as the king commanded him.

¹ And John went up from Gazara, and told Simon his father what Cendebaeus was doing. ² And Simon called his two oldest sons, Judas and John, and said unto them, I and my brethren and my father's house have fought the battles of Israel from our youth, even unto this day; and things have prospered in our hands, that we should deliver Israel oftentimes. ³ But now I am old, and ye moreover, by his mercy, are of a sufficient age: be ye instead of me and my brother, and go forth and fight for our nation; but let the help which is from heaven be with you. ⁴ And he chose out of the country twenty thousand men of war and horsemen, and they went against Cendebaeus, and slept at Modin. ⁵ And rising up in the morning, they went into the plain, and, behold, a great host came to meet them, of footmen and horsemen: and there was a brook betwixt them. ⁶ And he encamped over against them, he and his people: and he saw that the people were afraid to pass over the brook, and he passed over first, and the men saw him, and passed over after him. ⁷ And he divided the people, and set the horsemen in the midst of the footmen: but the enemies' horsemen were exceeding many. ⁸ And they sounded with the trumpets; and Cendebaeus and his army were put to the rout, and there fell of them many wounded to death, but they that were left fled to the stronghold: ⁹ at that time was Judas John's brother wounded: but John pursued after them, till he came unto Kidron, which Cendebaeus had built; ¹⁰ and they fled unto the towers that are in the fields of Azotus; and he burned it with fire; and there fell of them about two thousand men. And he returned into Judaea in peace.

Jericho, and he had much silver and gold;
¹² for he was the high priest's son in law.
¹³ And his heart was lifted up, and he was minded to make himself master of the country, and he took counsel deceitfully against Simon and his sons, to make away with them. ¹⁴ Now Simon was visiting the cities that were in the country, and taking care for the good ordering of them; and he went down to Jericho, himself and Mattathias and Judas his sons, in * the hundred and seventy and seventh year, in the eleventh month, the same is the month Sebat: ¹⁵ and the son of Abubus received them deceitfully into the little stronghold that is called Dok, which he had built, and made them a great banquet, and hid men there. ¹⁶ And when Simon and his sons had drunk freely, Ptolemy and his men rose up, and took their arms, and came in upon Simon into the banqueting place, and slew him, and his two sons, and certain of his servants. ¹⁷ And he committed a great iniquity, and recompensed evil for good. ¹⁸ And Ptolemy wrote these things, and sent to the king, that he should send him forces to aid him, and should deliver him their country and the cities. ¹⁹ And he sent others to Gazara to make away with John: and unto the captains of thousands he sent letters to come unto him, that he might give them silver and gold and gifts. ²⁰ And others he sent to take possession of Jerusalem, and the mount of the temple. ²¹ And one ran before to Gazara, and told John that his father and brethren were perished, and he hath sent to slay thee also. ²² And when he heard, he was sore amazed; and he laid hands on the men that came to destroy him, and slew them; for he perceived that they were seeking to destroy him.

²³ And the rest of the acts of John, and of his wars, and of his valiant deeds which he did, and of the building of the walls which he built, and of his doings, ²⁴ behold, they are written in the † chronicles of his high priesthood, from the time that he was made high priest after his father.

THE SECOND BOOK OF THE MACCABEES.

¹THE brethren, the Jews that are in Jerusalem and they that are in the country of Judaea, send greeting to the brethren, the Jews that are throughout Egypt, and wish them good peace: ²and may God do good unto you, and remember his covenant with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, his faithful servants; ³and give you all a heart to worship him and do his * pleasure with a great heart and a willing soul; ⁴and open your heart in his law and in his statutes, and make peace, ⁵and hearken to your supplications, and be reconciled with you, and not forsake you in an evil time. ⁶And now we here are praying for you. ⁷In the reign of Demetrius, in the hundred threescore and ninth year, we the Jews have already written unto you in the tribulation and in the extremity that hath come upon us in these years, from the time that Jason and his company revolted from the holy land and the kingdom, ⁸and set the † gate on fire, and shed innocent blood: and we besought the Lord, and were heard; and we offered sacrifice and meal offering, and we lighted the lamps, and we set forth the ‡ shewbread. ⁹And now see that ye keep the days of the feast of tabernacles of the month Chisleu. ¹⁰Written in the hundred fourscore and eighth year.

THEY that are in Jerusalem and they that are in Judaea and the senate and Judas, unto Aristobulus, king Ptolemy's teacher, who is also of the stock of the anointed priests, and unto the Jews that are in Egypt, send greeting and health. ¹¹Having been saved by God out of great perils, as men arrayed against a king, we thank him greatly. ¹²For himself cast forth into Persia them that arrayed themselves against us in the holy city. ¹³For when the prince was come there, and the army with him that seemed irresistible, they were cut to pieces in the temple of Nanaea by the treachery of Nanaea's priests. ¹⁴For Antiochus, on the pretence that he would marry her, came into the place, he and his § Friends that were with him, that they might take a great part of the treasures in name of a dowry. ¹⁵And when the priests of Nanaea's temple had set  the treasures forth, and he was come there with a small company within the wall of the precincts, they shut to the temple when Antiochus was come in: ¹⁶and opening the secret door of the panelled cieling, they threw stones and †† struck down the prince, and they hewed ‡‡ him and his company in pieces, and smote off their heads, and cast them to those that were without. ¹⁷Blessed be our God in all things, who gave for a prey them that had committed impiety.

¹⁸Whereas we are now about to keep the purification of the temple in the month Chisleu, on the five and twentieth day, we thought it necessary to certify you thereof, that §§ ye also may keep a feast of tabernacles, and a memorial of the fire which was given when Nehemiah offered sacrifices, after that he had builded both the temple and the altar. ¹⁹For indeed when our fathers were about to be led into the land of Persia, the godly priests of that time took of the fire of the altar, and hid it privily in the hollow of a well that was without water, wherein they made it sure, so that the place was unknown to all men. ²⁰Now after many years, when it pleased God, Nehemiah, having received a charge from the king of Persia, sent in quest of the fire the descendants of the priests that hid it. When they declared to us that they had found no fire, but thick water, ²¹he commanded them to draw out thereof and bring to him: and when  the sacrifices had been offered on the altar, Nehemiah commanded the priests to sprinkle with the water both the wood and the things laid thereupon. ²²And when it was done, and some time had passed, and the sun shone out, which before was hid with clouds, there was kindled a great blaze, so that all men marvelled. ²³And the priests made a prayer while the sacrifice was consuming, both the priests and all others, Jonathan leading and the rest answering, as Nehemiah did. ²⁴ And the prayer was after this manner:

O Lord, Lord God, the Creator of all things, who art terrible and strong and righteous and merciful, who alone art King and gracious, ²⁵ who alone suppliest every need, who alone art righteous and almighty and eternal, thou that savest Israel out of all evil, who madest the fathers thy chosen, and didst sanctify them: ²⁶ accept the sacrifice for all thy people Israel, and guard thine own portion, and consecrate it. ²⁷ Gather together our Dispersion, set at liberty them that are in bondage among the heathen, look upon them that are despised and abhorred, and let the heathen know that thou art our God. ²⁸ Torment them that oppress us and in arrogancy shamefully entreat us. ²⁹ Plant thy people in thy holy place, even as Moses said.

³⁰ And thereupon the priests sang the hymns. ³¹ And as soon as the sacrifice was consumed, then Nehemiah commanded ††† to pour on great stones the water that was left. ³² And when this was done, a flame was kindled; ††† but when the light from the altar §§§ shone over against it, all was consumed. ³³ And when the matter became known, and it was told the king of the Persians, that, in the place where the priests that were led away had hid the fire, there appeared the water, wherewith also Nehemiah and they that were with him purified the sacrifice, ³⁴ then the king, inclosing the place, made it sacred, after he had proved the matter. ³⁵ And when the king would shew favour to any, he would take from them many presents and give them some of this water. ³⁶ And Nehemiah and they that were with him called this thing Nephthar, which is by interpretation, Cleansing; but most men call it Nephthai.

that were carried away to take of the fire, as hath been signified above: ² and how that the prophet charged them that were carried away, having given them the law, that they should not forget the statutes of the Lord, neither be led astray in their minds, when they saw images of gold and silver, and the adornment thereof. ³ And with other such words exhorted he them, that the law should not depart from their heart. ⁴ And it was contained in the writing, that the prophet, being warned of God, commanded that the tabernacle and the ark should follow with him, * when he went forth into the mountain where Moses went up and beheld the heritage of God. ⁵ And Jeremiah came and found † a chamber in the rock, and there he brought in the tabernacle, and the ark, and the altar of incense; and he made fast the door. ⁶ And some of those that followed with him came there that they might mark the way, and could not find it. ⁷ But when Jeremiah perceived it, he blamed them, saying, Yea and the place shall be unknown until God † gather the people again together, and mercy come: ⁸ and then shall the Lord disclose these things, and the glory of the Lord shall be seen, and the § cloud.

As also it was shewed with Moses; as also Solomon besought that the place might be consecrated greatly, ⁹ and it was also declared that he, having wisdom, offered a sacrifice of dedication, and of the finishing of the temple; so we would have it now. ¹⁰ As Moses prayed unto the Lord, and fire came down out of heaven and consumed the sacrifice, even so prayed Solomon also, and the fire came down and consumed the burnt offerings; ¹¹  (and Moses said, Because the sin offering had not been eaten, it was consumed in like manner with the rest;) ¹² and Solomon kept the eight days.

¹³ And the same things were related †† both in the public archives and in †† the records that concern Nehemiah; and how he, founding a library, gathered together the books about the kings and prophets, and the books of David, and letters of kings about sacred gifts. ¹⁴ And in like manner Judas also gathered together for us all those writings that had been scattered by reason of the war that befell, and they are still with us. ¹⁵ If therefore ye have need thereof, send some to fetch them unto you.

¹⁶ Seeing then that we are about to keep the purification, we write unto you; ye will therefore do well if ye keep the days. ¹⁷ Now God, who saved all his people, and restored the heritage to all, and the kingdom, and the priesthood, and the hallowing, ¹⁸ even as he promised through the law,— in God have we hope, that he will quickly have mercy upon us, and gather us together out of SS all the earth unto the holy place: for he delivered us out of great evils, and purified the place.

¹⁹ Now the things concerning Judas Maccabaeus and his brethren, and the purification of the  great temple, and the dedication of the altar, ²⁰ and further the wars against Antiochus Epiphanes, and Eupator his son, ²¹ and the manifestations that came from heaven unto those that vied with one another in manful deeds for the religion of the Jews; so that, being but a few, they ††† rescued the whole country, and chased the barbarous multitudes, ²² and recovered again the temple renowned all the world over, and freed the city, and restored the laws which were like to be overthrown, seeing the Lord became ‡‡‡ gracious unto them with all forbearance: ²³ these things, I say, which have been declared by Jason of Cyrene in five books, we will assay to abridge in one work. ²⁴ For having in view the confused mass of the numbers, and the SSS difficulty which awaiteth them that would enter into the narratives of the history, by reason of the abundance of the matter, ²⁵ we were careful that they who choose to read may be attracted, and that they who wish well to our cause may find it easy to recall  what we have written, and that all readers may have profit. ²⁶ And although to us, who have taken upon us the painful labour of the abridgement, the task is not easy, but a matter of sweat and watching ²⁷ (even as it is no light thing unto him that prepareth a banquet, and seeketh the benefit of others); yet for the sake of the gratitude of the many we will gladly endure the painful labour, ²⁸ leaving to the historian the exact handling of every particular, and again † having no strength to ‡ fill in the outlines of our abridgement. ²⁹ For as the masterbuilder of a new house must care for the whole § structure, and again he that undertaketh to * decorate and paint it must seek out the things fit for the adorning thereof; even so I think it is also with us. ³⁰ To occupy the ground, and to †† indulge in long discussions, and to be curious in particulars, becometh the first author of the history: ³¹ but to strive after brevity of expression, and to avoid a laboured fulness in the treatment, is to be granted to him that would bring a writing into a new form. ³² Here then let us begin the narration, only adding thus much to that which hath been already ‡‡ said; for it is a foolish thing to make a long prologue to the history, and to abridge the history itself.

¹ WHEN the holy city was inhabited with all peace, and the laws were kept very well, because of the godliness of Onias the high priest, and his hatred of wickedness, ² it came to pass that even the kings themselves did honour the place, and glorify the temple with the noblest presents; ³ insomuch that even Seleucus the king of Asia of his own revenues bare all the costs belonging to the services of the sacrifices. ⁴ But one Simon of the tribe of Benjamin, having been made guardian of the temple, fell out with the high priest about the  ruling of the market in the city. ⁵ And when he could not overcome Onias, he gat him to Apollonius the son of † Thrasaeus, who at that time was governor of Coelesyria and Phoenicia: ⁶ and he brought him word how that the treasury in Jerusalem was full of untold sums of money, so that the multitude of the funds was innumerable, and that they did not pertain to the account of the sacrifices, but that it was possible that these should fall under the king's power. ⁷ And when Apollonius met the king, he informed him of the money whereof he had been told; and the king appointed Heliodorus, who was his chancellor, and sent him with a commandment to accomplish the removal of the aforesaid money. ⁸ So forthwith Heliodorus took his journey, under a colour of visiting the cities of Coelesyria and Phoenicia, but in fact to execute the king's purpose. ⁹ And when he was come to Jerusalem, and had been courteously received by the high priest ‡ of the city, he laid before § them an account of the information which had been given him, and declared wherefore he was come; and he inquired if in truth these things were so. ¹⁰ And the high priest explained to him that there were in the treasury deposits of widows and orphans, ¹¹ and moreover some money belonging to Hyrcanus the son of Tobias, a man in very high place,  and that the case was not as that impious Simon falsely alleged; and that in all there were four hundred talents of silver and two hundred of gold; ¹² and that it was altogether impossible that wrong should be done unto them that had put trust in the holiness of the place, and in the majesty and inviolable sanctity of the temple, honoured over all the world. ¹³ But †† Heliodorus, because of the king's commandments given him, said that in any case this money must be confiscated for the king's treasury.

¹⁴ So having appointed a day, he entered in to direct the inquiry concerning these matters; and there was no small distress throughout the whole city. ¹⁵ And the priests, prostrating themselves before the altar in their priestly garments, and looking toward heaven, called upon him that gave the law concerning deposits, that he should preserve these treasures safe for those that had deposited them. ¹⁶ And whosoever saw the mien of the high priest was wounded in mind; for his countenance and the change of his colour betrayed the distress of his soul. ¹⁷ For a terror and a shuddering of the body had come over the man, whereby the pain that was in his heart was plainly shewn to them that looked upon him. ¹⁸ And they that were in the houses rushed flocking out to make a universal supplication, because the place was like to come into contempt. ¹⁹ And the women, girt with sackcloth under their breasts, thronged the streets, and the virgins that were kept in ward ran together, some to the ‡ gates, others to the walls, and some looked out through the windows. ²⁰ And all, stretching forth their hands toward heaven, made their solemn supplication. ²¹ Then it would have pitied a man to see the multitude prostrating themselves all mingled together, and the expectation of the high priest in his sore distress.

²² While therefore they called upon the Almighty Lord to keep the things intrusted to them §§ safe and sure for those that had intrusted them, ²³ Heliodorus went on to execute that which had been decreed. ²⁴ But when he was already present there with his guards over against the treasury, the Sovereign of spirits and of all authority caused a great  apparition, so that all that had presumed to come in with him, stricken with dismay at the power of God, fainted and were sore afraid. ²⁵ For there was seen by them a horse with a terrible rider upon him, and adorned with beautiful trappings, and he rushed fiercely and smote at Heliodorus with his forefeet, and it seemed that he that sat upon the horse had complete armour of gold. ²⁶ Two other also appeared unto him, young men notable in their strength, and beautiful in their glory, and splendid in their apparel, who stood by him on either side, and scourged him unceasingly, inflicting on him many sore stripes. ²⁷ And when he had fallen suddenly unto the ground, and great darkness had come over him, his guards caught him up and put him into a litter, ²⁸ and carried him, him that had just now entered with a great train and all his guard into the aforesaid treasury, himself now brought to utter helplessness, manifestly made to recognise the sovereignty of God. ²⁹ And so, while he, through the working of God, speechless and bereft of all hope and deliverance, lay prostrate, ³⁰ they blessed the Lord, that made marvellous his own place; and the temple, which a little afore was full of terror and alarm, was filled with joy and gladness after the Almighty Lord appeared.

³¹ But quickly certain of Heliodorus's familiar friends besought Onias to call upon the Most High, and grant life to him who lay quite at the last gasp. ³² And the high priest, secretly fearing lest the king might come to think that some treachery toward Heliodorus had been perpetrated by the Jews, brought a sacrifice for the deliverance of the man. ³³ But as the high priest was making the propitiation, the same young men appeared again to Heliodorus, arrayed in the same garments; and they stood and said, Give Onias the high priest great thanks, for for his sake the Lord hath granted thee life; ³⁴ and do thou, since thou hast been scourged from heaven, publish unto all men the sovereign majesty of God. And when they had spoken these words, they vanished out of sight. ³⁵ So Heliodorus, having offered a sacrifice unto the Lord and vowed ††† great vows unto him that had saved his life, and having graciously received Onias, returned with his host to the king. ³⁶ And he testified to all men the works of the ††† great God which he had beheld with his eyes.

³⁷ And when the king asked Heliodorus, what manner of man was fit to be sent yet once again to Jerusalem, he said, ³⁸ If thou hast any enemy or conspirator against the state, send him thither, and thou shalt receive him back well scourged, if he even escape with his life; because of a truth there is about the place a power of God. ³⁹ For he that hath his dwelling in heaven himself hath his eyes upon that place, and helpeth it; and them that come to hurt it he smiteth and destroyeth.

⁴⁰ And such was the history of Heliodorus and the keeping of the treasury.

¹ But the aforesaid Simon, he who had given information of the money, and had betrayed his country, slandered Onias, saying that it was he who had incited Heliodorus, and made himself the author of these evils. ² And him that was the benefactor of the city, and the guardian of his fellow countrymen, and a zealot for the laws, he dared to call a conspirator against the state. ³ But when the growing enmity between them waxed so great, that even murders were perpetrated through one of * Simon's trusted followers, ⁴ Onias, seeing the † danger of the contention, and that ‡ Apollonius the son of Menestheus, the governor of Coelesyria and Phoenicia, was increasing Simon's malice, ⁵ betook himself to the king, not to be an accuser of his fellow-citizens, but looking to the good of all the § people, both public and private; ⁶ for he saw that without the king's providence it was impossible for the state to obtain peace any more, and that Simon would not cease from his madness.

⁷ But when Seleucus was deceased, and Antiochus, who was called Epiphanes, succeeded to the kingdom, Jason the brother of Onias supplanted his brother in the high priesthood, ⁸ having promised unto the king at an audience three hundred and threescore talents of silver, and out of another fund eighty talents; ⁹ and beside this, he undertook to assign a hundred and fifty more, if it might be allowed him  through the king's authority to set him up a Greek place of exercise and form a body of youths to be trained therein, and to register the inhabitants of Jerusalem as citizens of Antioch. ¹⁰ And when the king had given assent, and he had gotten possession of the office, he forthwith brought over them of his own race to the Greek fashion. ¹¹ And setting aside the royal ordinances of special favour to the Jews, granted by the means of John the father of Eupolemus, who went on the ambassage to the Romans for friendship and alliance, and seeking to overthrow the lawful modes of life, he brought in new customs forbidden by the law: ¹² for he eagerly established a Greek place of exercise under the citadel itself; and caused the noblest of the young men to wear the Greek cap. ¹³ And thus there was an extreme of Greek fashions, and an advance of an alien religion, by reason of the exceeding profaneness of Jason, that ungodly man and no high priest; ¹⁴ so that the priests had no more any zeal for the services of the altar: but despising the sanctuary, and neglecting the sacrifices, they hastened to ^{††} enjoy that which was unlawfully provided in the palaestra, after the summons ^{‡‡} of the discus; ¹⁵ making of no account the honours of their fathers, and thinking the glories of the Greeks best of all. ¹⁶ By reason whereof sore calamity beset them; and the men whose ways of living they earnestly followed, and unto whom they desired to be made like in all things, these they had to be their enemies and to punish them. ¹⁷ For it is not a light thing to do impiously against the laws of God: but ^{§§} these things the time following shall declare.

¹⁸ Now when certain games that came every fifth year were kept at Tyre, and the king was present, ¹⁹ the vile Jason sent sacred envoys, ^{} as being Antiochians of Jerusalem, bearing three hundred drachmas of silver to the sacrifice of Hercules, which even the bearers thereof thought not right to use for any sacrifice, because it was not fit, but to ^{†††} expend on another charge. ²⁰ And though in the purpose of the sender this money was for the sacrifice of Hercules, yet on account of ^{‡‡‡} present circumstances it went to the equipment of the galleys.

²¹ Now when Apollonius the son of Menestheus was sent into Egypt for the ^{§§§} enthronement of Ptolemy Philometor as king, Antiochus, learning that Ptolemy had shewn himself ill affected toward the state, took thought for the security of his realm; wherefore, going by sea to Joppa, he travelled on to Jerusalem. ²² And being magnificently received by Jason and the city, he was brought in with torches and shoutings. This done, he afterward led his army down into Phoenicia.

²³ Now after a space of three years Jason sent Menelaus, the aforesaid Simon's brother, to bear the money unto the king, and to ^{*} make reports concerning some necessary matters. ²⁴ But he being commended to the king, and [†] having glorified [‡] himself [§] by the display of his authority, got the high priesthood for himself, outbidding Jason by three hundred talents of silver. ²⁵ And having received the royal mandates he came to Jerusalem, bringing nothing worthy the high priesthood, but having the passion of a cruel tyrant, and the rage of a savage beast. ²⁶ And whereas Jason, who had supplanted his own brother, was supplanted by another and driven as a fugitive into the country of the Ammonites, ²⁷ Menelaus had possession of the office: but of the money that had been promised to the king nothing ^{} was duly paid, and that though Sostratus the governor of the citadel demanded it ²⁸ (for unto him appertained the gathering of the revenues); for which cause they were both called by the king to his presence. ²⁹ And Menelaus left his own brother Lysimachus for his ^{††} deputy in the high priesthood; and Sostratus left Crates, who was over the ³⁰Now while such was the state of things, it came to pass that they of Tarsus and Mallus made insurrection, because they were to be given as a present to Antiochis, the king's concubine. ³¹The king therefore came to Cilicia in all haste to settle matters, leaving for his †† deputy Andronicus, a man of high rank. ³²And Menelaus, supposing that he had gotten a favourable opportunity, presented to Andronicus certain vessels of gold belonging to the temple, which he had stolen: other vessels also he had already sold into Tyre and the cities round about. ³³And when Onias had sure knowledge of this, he sharply reproved him, having withdrawn himself into a sanctuary at Daphne, that lieth by Antioch. ³⁴Wherefore Menelaus, taking Andronicus apart, prayed him §§ to kill Onias. And coming to Onias, and  being persuaded to use treachery, and being received as a friend, Andronicus gave him his right hand with oaths of fidelity, and, though he was suspected by him, so persuaded him to come forth of the sanctuary; and forthwith he ††† despatched him without regard of justice. ³⁵For the which cause not only Jews, but many also of the other nations, had indignation and displeasure at the unjust murder of the man. ³⁶And when the king was come back again from the places in Cilicia, the Jews that were ††† in the city pleaded before him against Andronicus (the Greeks also joining with them in hatred of the wickedness), urging that Onias had been wrongfully slain. ³⁷Antiochus therefore was heartily sorry, and was moved to pity, and wept, because of the sober and well ordered life of him that was dead; ³⁸and being inflamed with passion, forthwith he stripped off Andronicus's purple robe, and §§§ rent off his under garments, and when he had led him round through the whole city unto that very place where he had committed impiety against Onias, there he put the murderer out of the way, the Lord rendering to him the punishment he had deserved.

³⁹Now when many sacrileges had been committed in the city by Lysimachus with the consent of Menelaus, and when the bruit thereof was spread abroad outside, the people gathered themselves together against Lysimachus, after many vessels of gold had been already dispersed. ⁴⁰And when the multitudes were rising against him, and were filled with anger, Lysimachus armed about three thousand men, and with unrighteous violence began the conflict, one Hauran, a man far gone in years and no less also in madness, leading the attack. ⁴¹But when they perceived the assault of Lysimachus, some caught up stones, others logs of wood, and some took handfuls of the ashes that lay near, and they flung them all pell-mell upon Lysimachus and them that were with him; ⁴²by reason of which they wounded many of them, and some they struck to the ground, and all of them they forced to flee, but the author of the sacrilege himself they killed beside the treasury.

⁴³But touching these matters there was an accusation laid against Menelaus. ⁴⁴And when the king was come to Tyre, the three men that were sent by the senate pleaded the cause before him. ⁴⁵But Menelaus, seeing himself now defeated, promised much money to Ptolemy the son of Dorymenes, that he might win over the king. ⁴⁶Whereupon Ptolemy taking the king aside into a cloister, as it were to take the air, brought him to be of another mind: ⁴⁷and him that was the cause of all the evil, Menelaus, he discharged from the accusations; but these hapless men, who, if they had pleaded even before Scythians, would have been discharged uncondemned, them he sentenced to death. ⁴⁸Soon then did they that were spokesmen for the city and the families of Israel and the holy vessels suffer that unrighteous penalty. ⁴⁹For which cause even certain Tyrians, moved with hatred of the wickedness, provided magnificently for their burial. ⁵⁰But Menelaus through the covetous dealings of them that were in power remained still in his office, ¹Now about this time Antiochus made his second inroad into Egypt. ²And it so befell that throughout all the city, for the space of almost forty days, there appeared in the midst of the sky horsemen in swift motion, wearing robes inwrought with gold and carrying spears, equipped in troops for battle; ³and drawing of swords; and on the other side squadrons of horse in array; and encounters and * pursuits of both armies; and shaking of shields, and multitudes of lances, and casting of darts, and flashing of golden trappings, and girding on of all sorts of armour. ⁴Wherefore all men besought that the † vision might have been given for good.

⁵But when a false rumour had arisen that Antiochus was deceased, Jason took not less than a thousand men, and suddenly ‡ made an assault upon the city; and they that were upon the wall being routed, and the city being now at length well nigh taken, Menelaus took refuge in the citadel. ⁶But Jason slaughtered his own citizens without mercy, not considering that good success against kinsmen is the greatest ill success, but supposing himself to be setting up trophies over enemies, and not over fellow-countrymen. ⁷The office however he did not get, but, receiving shame as the end of his conspiracy, he passed again a fugitive into the country of the Ammonites. ⁸At the last therefore he met with a miserable end: having been § shut up at the court of Aretas the prince of the Arabians, fleeing from city to city, pursued of all men, hated as an apostate from the laws, and held in abomination as the butcher of his country and his fellow-citizens, he was cast forth into Egypt; ⁹and he that had driven many from their own country into strange lands perished himself in a strange land, having crossed the sea to the Lacedaemonians, as thinking to find shelter there because they were  near of kin; ¹⁰and he that had cast out a multitude unburied had none to mourn for him, nor had he any funeral at all, or place in the sepulchre of his fathers.

¹¹Now when tidings came to the king concerning that which was done, he thought that Judaea was in revolt; whereupon setting out from Egypt in a furious mind, he took the city by force of arms, ¹²and commanded his soldiers to cut down without mercy such as came in their way, and to slay such as went up upon the houses; ¹³and there was killing of young and old, making away of boys, women, and children, slaying of virgins and infants. ¹⁴And in all the three days of the slaughter there were destroyed fourscore thousand, whereof forty thousand were slain in close combat, and no fewer were sold than slain. ¹⁵But not content with this he presumed to enter into the most holy temple of all the earth, having Menelaus for his guide (him that had proved himself a traitor both to the laws and to his country), ¹⁶even taking the sacred vessels with his polluted hands, and dragging down with his profane hands the offerings that had been dedicated by other kings to the augmentation and glory and honour of the place. ¹⁷And Antiochus was lifted up in mind, not seeing that because of the sins of them that dwelt in the city the Sovereign Lord had been provoked to anger a little while, and therefore his eye was then turned away from the place. ¹⁸But had it not so been that they were already holden by many sins, this man, even as Heliodorus who was sent by Seleucus the king to view the treasury, would, so soon as he pressed forward, have been scourged and turned back from his daring deed. ¹⁹Howbeit the Lord did not choose the nation for the place's sake, but the place for the nation's sake. ²⁰Wherefore also the place itself, having partaken in the calamities that befell the nation, did afterward share in its benefits; and the place which was forsaken in the wrath of the Almighty was, at the reconciliation of the great Sovereign, restored again with all glory. ²¹As for Antiochus, when he had carried away out of the temple a thousand and eight hundred talents, he departed in all haste unto Antioch, weening in his arrogancy to make the land navigable and the sea passable by foot, because his heart was lifted up. ²² And moreover he left governors to afflict the race: at Jerusalem, Philip, by race a Phrygian, and in character more barbarous than him that set him there; ²³ and at Gerizim, Andronicus; and besides these, Menelaus, who worse than all the rest exalted himself against his fellow-citizens. And having a malicious mind †† toward the Jews ‡‡ whom he had made his citizens, ²⁴ he sent that §§ lord of pollutions Apollonius with an army of two and twenty thousand, commanding him to slay all those that were of full age, and to sell the women and the younger men. ²⁵ And he coming to Jerusalem, and playing the man of peace, waited till the holy day of the sabbath, and finding the Jews at rest from work, he commanded his men to parade in arms. ²⁶ And he put to the sword all them that came forth to the spectacle; and running into the city with the armed men he slew great multitudes. ²⁷ But Judas, who is also called Maccabaeus, with nine others or thereabout, withdrew himself, and with his company kept himself alive in the mountains after the manner of wild beasts; and they continued feeding on such poor herbs as grew there, that they might not be partakers of the threatened pollution.

¹ And not long after this the king sent forth * an old man of Athens to compel the Jews to depart from the laws of their fathers, and not to live after the laws of God; ² and also to pollute the sanctuary in Jerusalem, and to call it by the name of † Jupiter Olympius, and to call the sanctuary in Gerizim by the name of ‡ Jupiter the Protector of strangers, even as they § were that dwelt in the place. ³ But sore and utterly grievous was the visitation of this evil. ⁴ For the temple was filled with riot and revellings by the heathen, who  dallied with harlots, and had to do with women within the sacred precincts, and moreover brought inside things that were not befitting; ⁵ and †† the place of sacrifice was filled with those abominable things which had been prohibited by the laws. ⁶ And a man could neither keep the sabbath, nor observe the feasts of the fathers, nor so much as confess himself to be a Jew. ⁷ And on the day of the king's birth every month they were led along with bitter constraint to eat of the sacrifices; and when the ‡‡ feast of Bacchus came, they were compelled to go in procession in honour of §§ Bacchus, wearing wreaths of ivy. ⁸ And there went out a decree to the neighbouring Greek cities, by the suggestion of Ptolemy, that they should observe the same conduct against the Jews, and should make them eat of the sacrifices; ⁹ and that they should slay such as did not choose to go over to the Greek rites. So the present misery was for all to see: ¹⁰ for two women were brought up for having circumcised their children; and these, when they had led them publicly round about the city, with the babes hung from their breasts, they cast down headlong from the wall. ¹¹ And others, that had run together into the caves near by to keep the seventh day secretly, being betrayed to Philip were all burnt together, because they scrupled to defend themselves, from regard to the honour of that most solemn day.

¹² I beseech therefore those that read this book, that they be not discouraged because of the calamities, but account that these punishments were not for the destruction, but for the chastening of our race. ¹³ For indeed that those who act impiously be not let alone any long time, but straight-way meet with retribution, is a sign of great beneficence. ¹⁴ For in the case of the other nations the Sovereign Lord doth with longsuffering forbear, until that he punish them when they have attained unto the full measure of their sins; but not so judged he as touching us,¹⁵ that he may not take vengeance on us afterward,^{} when we be come unto the ††† height of our sins.¹⁶ Wherefore he never withdraweth his mercy from us; but though he chasteneth with calamity, yet doth he not forsake his own people.¹⁷ Howbeit let this that we have spoken suffice to put you in remembrance; but after these few words we must come to the narrative.

¹⁸ Eleazar, one of the principal scribes, a man already well stricken in years, and of a noble countenance, was compelled to open his mouth to eat swine's flesh.¹⁹ But he, welcoming death with renown rather than life with pollution, advanced of his own accord to the instrument of torture, but first spat forth the flesh,²⁰ coming forward as men ought to come that are resolute to repel such things as not even for the natural love of life is it lawful to taste.²¹ But they that had the charge of that forbidden sacrificial feast took the man aside, for the acquaintance which of old times they had with him, and privately besought him to bring flesh of his own providing, such as was befitting for him to use, and to make as if he did eat of the flesh from the sacrifice, as had been commanded by the king;²² that by so doing he might be delivered from death, and for his ancient friendship with them might be treated kindly.²³ But he, having formed a high resolve, and one that became his years, and the dignity of old age, and the gray hairs ††† which he had reached with honour, and his excellent §§§ education from a child,^{*} or rather that became the holy † laws of God's ordaining, declared his mind accordingly, bidding them quickly send him unto Hades.²⁴ For it becometh not our years to dissemble, said he, that through this many of the young should suppose that Eleazar, the man of fourscore years and ten, had gone over unto an alien religion;²⁵ and so they, by reason of my dissimulation, and for the sake of this brief and momentary life, should be led astray because of me, † and thus I get to myself a pollution and a stain of mine old age.²⁶ For even if for the present time I shall remove from me the punishment of men, yet shall I not escape the hands of the Almighty, either living or dead.²⁷ Wherefore, by manfully parting with my life now, I will shew myself worthy of mine old age,²⁸ and § leave behind a noble ensample to the young to die willingly and nobly a glorious death for the reverend and holy laws. And when he had said these words, he went straightway to the instrument of torture.²⁹  And when they changed the good will they bare him a little before into ill will, because †† these words of his were, as they thought, sheer madness,³⁰ and when he was at the point to die with the † stripes, he groaned aloud and said, To the Lord, that hath the holy knowledge, it is manifest that, whereas I might have been delivered from death, I endure sore pains in my body by being scourged; but in soul I gladly suffer these things for my fear of him.³¹ So this man also died after this manner, leaving his death for an ensample of nobleness and a memorial of virtue, not only to the young but also to the great body of his nation.

¹ And it came to pass that seven brethren also with their mother were at the king's command taken and shamefully handled with scourges and cords, to compel them to taste of the abominable swine's flesh.² But one of them made himself the spokesman and said, What wouldest thou ask and learn of us? for we are ready to die rather than transgress the laws of our fathers.³ And the king fell into a rage, and commanded to heat pans and caldrons:⁴ and when these forthwith were heated, he commanded to cut out the tongue of him that had been their spokesman, and to scalp him, and to cut off his extremities, the rest of his brethren and his mother looking on.⁵ And when he was utterly * maimed, the king commanded to bring him to the fire, being yet alive, and to fry him in the pan. their mother also exhorted one another to die nobly, saying thus: ⁶ The Lord God beholdeth, and in truth is [†] intreated for us, as Moses declared in [‡] his song, which witnesseth against the people to their faces, saying, And he shall be [§] intreated for his servants.

⁷ And when the first had died after this manner, they brought the second to the mocking; and they pulled off the skin of his head with the hair and asked him, Wilt thou eat, before thy body be punished in every limb? ⁸ But he answered in the language of his fathers and said to them, No. Wherefore he also underwent the next torture in succession, as the first had done. ⁹ And when he was at the last gasp, he said, Thou, miscreant, dost release us out of this present life, but the King of the world shall raise up us, who have died for his laws, unto an eternal renewal of life.

¹⁰ And after him was the third made a mocking-stock. And when he was required, he quickly put out his tongue, and stretched forth his hands courageously, ¹¹ and nobly said, From heaven I possess these; and for his laws' sake I contemn these; and from him I hope to receive these back again: ¹² insomuch that the king himself and they that were with him were astonished at the young man's soul, for that he nothing regarded the pains.

¹³ And when he too was dead, they shamefully handled and tortured the fourth in like manner. ¹⁴ And being come near unto death he said thus: It is good to die at the hands of men and look for the hopes which are given by God, that we shall be raised up again by him; for as for thee, thou shalt have no resurrection unto life.

¹⁵ And next after him they brought the fifth, and shamefully handled him. ¹⁶ But he looked toward ^{} the king and said, Because thou hast authority among men, though thou art thyself corruptible, thou dost what thou wilt; yet think not that our race hath been forsaken of God; ¹⁷ but hold thou on thy way, and behold his sovereign majesty, how it will torture thee and thy seed.

¹⁸ And after him they brought the sixth. And when he was at the point to die he said, Be not vainly deceived, for we suffer these things for our own doings, as sinning against our own God: marvellous things are come to pass; ¹⁹ but think not thou that thou shalt be unpunished, having assayed to fight against God.

²⁴ But Antiochus, thinking himself to be despised, and suspecting the reproachful voice, whilst the youngest was yet alive did not only make his appeal to him by words, but also at the same time promised with oaths that he would enrich him and ^{†††} raise him to high estate, if he would turn from the customs of his fathers, and that he would take him for his ^{‡‡‡} Friend and intrust him with affairs. ²⁵ But when the young man would in no wise give heed, the king called unto him his mother, and exhorted her that she would counsel the lad to save himself. ²⁶ And when he had exhorted her with many words, she undertook to persuade her son. ²⁷ But bending toward him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorn, she spoke thus in the language of her fathers: My son, have pity upon me that carried thee nine months in my womb, and gave thee suck three years, and nourished and brought thee up unto this age, and sustained thee. ²⁸ I beseech thee, my child, to lift thine eyes unto the heaven and the earth, and to see all things that are therein, and thus to recognise that God made them not of things that were, and that the race of men in this wise cometh into being. ²⁹ Fear not this butcher, but, proving thyself worthy of thy brethren, accept thy death, that in the mercy of God I may receive thee again with thy brethren.

³⁰ But before she had yet ended speaking, the young man said, Whom wait ye for? I obey not the commandment of the king, but I hearken to the commandment of the law that was given to our fathers through Moses. ³¹ But thou, that hast devised all manner of evil against the Hebrews, shalt in no wise escape the hands of God. ³² For we are suffering because of our own sins; ³³ and if for rebuke and chastening our living Lord hath been angered a little while, yet shall he again be reconciled with his own servants. ³⁴ But thou, O unholy man and of all most vile, be not vainly lifted up in thy wild pride with uncertain hopes, raising thy hand against the heavenly children; ³⁵ For not yet hast thou escaped the judgement of the Almighty God that seeth all things. ³⁶ For these our brethren, having endured a §§§ short pain that bringeth everlasting life, have now * died under God's covenant; But thou, through the judgement of God, shalt receive in just measure the penalties of thine arrogancy. ³⁷ But I, as my brethren, give up both body and soul for the laws of our fathers, calling upon God that he may speedily become † gracious to the nation; and that thou amidst trials and plagues mayest confess that he alone is God; ³⁸ and that in me and my brethren ‡ thou mayest stay the wrath of the Almighty, which hath been justly brought upon our whole race. ³⁹ But the king, falling into a rage, handled him worse than all the rest, being exasperated at his mocking. ⁴⁰ So he also died pure from pollution, putting his whole trust in the Lord.

⁴¹ And last of all after her sons the mother died.

⁴² Let it then suffice to have said thus much concerning the enforcement of sacrificial feasts and the king's exceeding barbarities.

¹ But Judas, who is also called Maccabaeus, and they that were with him, making their way privily into the villages, called unto them their kinsfolk; and taking unto them such as had continued in the Jews' religion, gathered together as many as six thousand. ² And they called upon the Lord, beseeching him to look upon the people that was oppressed by all; and to have compassion on the sanctuary also that had been profaned by the ungodly men; ³ and to have pity on the city also that was suffering ruin and ready to be made even even with the ground; and to hearken to the blood that cried unto him; ⁴ and to remember also the lawless * slaughter of the innocent infants, and † the blasphemies that had been committed against his name; and to shew his hatred of wickedness. ⁵ And when Maccabaeus had trained his men for service, the heathen at once found him irresistible, for that the wrath of the Lord was turned into pity. ⁶ ‡ And coming unawares he set fire to cities and villages. And in winning back the most important positions, putting to flight no small number of the enemies, ⁷ he specially took advantage of the nights for such assaults. And his courage was loudly talked of everywhere.

⁸ But when Philip saw the man gaining ground by little and little, and increasing more and more in his prosperity, he wrote unto Ptolemy, the governor of Coelesyria and Phoenicia, that he should support the king's cause. ⁹ And Ptolemy quickly appointed Nicanor the son of Patroclus, one of the king's § Chief Friends, and sent him, in command of no fewer than twenty thousand of all nations, to destroy the whole race of Judaea; and with him he joined Gorgias also, a captain and one that had experience in matters of war. ¹⁰ And Nicanor ^{} undertook by the sale of the captive Jews to make up for the king the tribute of two thousand talents which he was to pay to the Romans. ¹¹ And immediately he sent unto the cities upon the sea coast, inviting them to buy Jewish ^{††} slaves, promising to allow fourscore and ten ^{‡‡} slaves for a talent, not expecting the judgement that was to follow upon him from the Almighty.

¹² But tidings came to Judas concerning the inroad of Nicanor; and when he communicated to them that were with him the presence of the army, ¹³ they that were cowardly and distrustful of the judgement of God ^{§§} ran away and left the country. ¹⁴ And others sold all that was left over to them, and withal besought the Lord to deliver them that had been sold as slaves by the impious Nicanor or ever he met them; ¹⁵ and this, if not for their own sakes, yet for the covenants made with their fathers, and because he had called them by his reverend and glorious name. ¹⁶ And Maccabaeus gathered his men together, six thousand in number, and exhorted them not to be stricken with dismay at the enemy, nor to fear the great multitude of the heathen who came wrongfully against them; but to contend nobly, ¹⁷ setting before their eyes the outrage that had been lawlessly perpetrated upon the holy place, and the shameful handling of the city that had been turned to mockery, and further the overthrow of the mode of life received from their ancestors. ¹⁸ For they, said he, trust to arms, and withal to deeds of daring; but we trust on the almighty God, since he is able at a beck to cast down them that are coming against us, and even the whole world. ¹⁹ And moreover he recounted unto them the help given from time to time in the days of their ancestors, both the help given in the days of Sennacherib, how that a hundred fourscore and five thousand perished, ²⁰ and the help given in the land of Babylon, even the battle that was fought against the ^{} Gauls, how that they came to the engagement eight thousand in all, with four thousand Macedonians, and how that, the Macedonians being hard pressed, the ^{†††} six thousand destroyed the hundred and twenty thousand, because of the succour which they had from heaven, and took great booty. ²¹ And when he had with these words made them of good courage, and ready to die for the laws and their country, he divided his army into four parts; ²² ^{‡‡‡} appointing his brethren to be with himself leaders of the several bands, to wit, Simon and Joseph and Jonathan, giving each the command of fifteen hundred men, ²³ and moreover Eleazer also: then, having read aloud the sacred book, and having given as watchword, THE HELP OF GOD, leading the first band himself, he joined battle with Nicanor. ²⁴ And, since the Almighty fought on their side, they slew of the enemy above nine thousand, and wounded and ^{§§§} disabled the more part of Nicanor's army, and compelled all to flee: ²⁵ and they took the money of those that had come there to buy them. And after they had pursued them for some ^{*} distance, they returned, being constrained by the time of the day; ²⁶ for it was the day before the sabbath, and for this cause they made no effort to chase them far. ²⁷ [†] And when they had gathered [‡] the arms of the enemy together, and had stripped off their spoils, they occupied themselves about the sabbath, blessing and thanking the Lord exceedingly, who had saved them unto this day, for that he had caused a beginning of mercy to distil upon them. ²⁸ And after the sabbath, when they had given of the spoils to the [§] maimed, and to the widows and orphans, the residue they distributed among themselves and their children. ²⁹ And when they had accomplished these things, and had made a common supplication, they besought the merciful Lord to be wholly reconciled with his servants.

³⁰ And having had an encounter with the forces of Timotheus and Bacchides, they killed above twenty thousand of them, and made themselves masters of strongholds exceeding high, and divided very much plunder, giving the ^{} maimed and orphans and widows, and moreover the aged also, an equal share with themselves. ³¹ ^{††} And when they had gathered the arms ^{‡‡} of the enemy together, they stored them all up carefully in the most important positions, and the residue of the spoils they carried to Jerusalem. ³² And they killed the ^{§§} phylarch of Timotheus's forces, a most unholy man, and one who had done the Jews much hurt. ³³ ^{} And as they kept the feast of victory in the ^{†††} city of their fathers, they burned those that had set the sacred ^{‡‡‡} gates on fire, and among them Callisthenes, who had fled into ^{§§§} an outhouse; and so they received the meet reward of their impiety.

¹ Now about that time it befell that Antiochus had returned ^{*} in disorder from the region of Persia. ² For he had entered into the city called Persepolis, and he assayed to rob [†] a temple and to hold down the city. Wherefore, the judgement from heaven even now accompanying him, he gave order to his charioteer to drive without ceasing and despatch the journey; for thus he arrogantly spake: I will make Jerusalem a common graveyard of Jews, when I come there. ⁵ But the All-seeing Lord, the God of Israel, smote him with a ^{} fatal and invisible stroke; and as soon as he had ceased speaking this word, an incurable pain of the bowels seized him, and bitter torments of the inner parts; ⁶ and that most justly, for he had tormented other men's bowels with many and strange sufferings. ⁷ But he in no wise ceased from his rude insolence; nay, still more was he filled with arrogancy, breathing fire in his passion against the Jews, and commanding to haste the journey. But it came to pass moreover that he fell from his chariot as it rushed along, and having a grievous fall was racked in all the members of his body. ⁸ And he that but now supposed himself to have the waves of the sea at his bidding, so vainglorious was he beyond the condition of a man, and that thought to weigh the heights of the mountains in a balance, was now brought to the ground and carried

¹¹ Hereupon therefore he began in great part to cease from his arrogancy, being broken in spirit, and to come to knowledge under the scourge of God, his pains increasing every moment. ¹² And when he himself could not abide his own smell, he said these words: It is right to be subject unto God, and that one who is mortal should not ‡‡ be minded arrogantly. ¹³ And the vile man vowed unto the sovereign Lord, who now no more would have pity upon him, saying on this wise: ¹⁴ that the holy city, to the which he was going in haste, to lay it even with the ground and to §§ make it a common graveyard, he would declare free; ¹⁵ and as touching the Jews, whom he had decided not even to count worthy of burial, but to cast them out to the beasts with their infants, for the birds to devour, he would make them all equal to citizens of Athens; ¹⁶ and the holy sanctuary, which before he had spoiled, he would adorn with goodliest offerings, and would restore all the sacred vessels many times multiplied, and out of his own revenues would defray the charges that were required for the sacrifices; ¹⁷ and, beside all this, that he would become a Jew, and would visit every inhabited place, publishing abroad the might of God. ¹⁸ But when his sufferings did in no wise cease, for the judgement of God had come upon him in righteousness, having given up all hope of himself, he wrote unto the Jews the letter written below, having the nature of a supplication, to this effect:

¹⁹ To the worthy Jews, his fellow-citizens, Antiochus, king and general, wisheth much joy and health and prosperity. ²⁰  May ye and your children fare well; and your affairs shall be to your mind. Having my hope in heaven, ²¹ I remembered with affection your honour and good will toward me. Returning out of the region of Persia, and being taken with a noisome sickness, I deemed it necessary to take thought for the common safety of all, ²² not despairing of myself, but having great hope to escape from the sickness. ²³ But considering that my father also, at what time he led an army into the upper country, appointed his successor, ²⁴ to the end that, if anything fell out contrary to expectation, or if any unwelcome tidings were brought, they that remained in the country, knowing to whom the state had been left, might not be troubled; ²⁵ and, beside all this, observing how that the princes that are borderers and neighbours unto my kingdom watch opportunities, and look for the future event, I have appointed my son Antiochus to be king, whom I often committed and commended to most of you, when I was hastening unto the upper provinces; and I have written to him what is written below. ²⁶ I exhort you therefore and beseech you, having in your remembrance the benefits done to you in common and severally, to preserve each of you your present good will toward me and my son. ²⁷ For I am persuaded that he in gentleness and kindness will follow my purpose and treat you with indulgence.

²⁸ So the murderer and blasphemer, having endured the sorest sufferings, even as he had dealt with other men, ended his life among the mountains by a most piteous fate in a strange land. ²⁹ And Philip his foster-brother conveyed the body home; and then, fearing the son of Antiochus, he betook himself to Ptolemy Philometor in Egypt.

¹ And Maccabaeus and they that were with him, the Lord leading them on, recovered the temple and the city; ² and they pulled down the altars that had been built in the marketplace by the aliens, and also the walls of sacred inclosures. ³ And having cleansed the sanctuary they made another altar of sacrifice; and * striking stones and taking fire out of them, they offered sacrifices, after they had ceased for two years, and burned incense, and lighted lamps, and set forth the shewbread. ⁴And when they had done these things, they fell prostrate and besought the Lord that they might fall no more into such evils; but that, if ever they should sin, they might be chastened by him with forbearance, and not be delivered unto blaspheming and barbarous heathen.

⁵Now on the same day that the sanctuary was profaned by aliens, upon that very day did it come to pass that the cleansing of the sanctuary was made, even on the five and twentieth day of the same month, which is Chislew. ⁶And they kept eight days with gladness in the manner of the feast of tabernacles, remembering how that † not long afore, during the feast of tabernacles, they were wandering in the mountains and in the caves after the manner of wild beasts. ⁷Wherefore bearing wands wreathed with leaves, and fair boughs, and palms also, they offered up hymns of thanksgiving to him that had prosperously brought to pass the cleansing of his own place. ⁸They ordained also with a common statute and decree, for all the nation of the Jews, that they should keep these days every year.

⁹And ‡ such was the end of Antiochus, who was called Epiphanes. ¹⁰But now will we declare what came to pass under Antiochus named § Eupator, who proved himself a true son of that ungodly man, and will gather up briefly the  successive evils of the wars. ¹¹For this man, when he succeeded to the kingdom, appointed one Lysias to be chancellor, and supreme governor of Coelesyria and Phoenicia. ¹²For Ptolemy that was called Macron, setting an example of observing justice toward the Jews because of the wrong that had been done unto them, endeavoured to †† conduct his dealings with them on peaceful terms.

¹³Whereupon being accused by the king's ‡‡ Friends before Eupator, and hearing himself called traitor at every turn, because he had abandoned Cyprus which Philometor had intrusted to him, and had withdrawn himself unto Antiochus called Epiphanes, and §§ failing to uphold the honour of his office, he took poison and made away with himself.

¹⁴But Gorgias, when he was made governor of the district, maintained a force of mercenaries, and at every turn kept up war with the Jews. ¹⁵And together with him the Idumaeans also, being masters of important strongholds, harassed the Jews; and receiving unto them those that had taken refuge there from Jerusalem, they assayed to keep up war. ¹⁶But Maccabaeus and his men, having made solemn supplication and besought God to fight on their side, rushed upon the strongholds of the Idumaeans; ¹⁷and assailing them vigorously they made themselves masters of the positions, and kept off all that fought upon the wall, and slew those that fell in their way, and killed no fewer than twenty thousand. ¹⁸And because no less than nine thousand were fled into two towers exceeding strong and having all things needed for a seige, ¹⁹Maccabaeus, having left Simon and Joseph, and Zacchaeus besides and them that were with him, a force sufficient to besiege them, departed himself unto places where he was most needed. ²⁰But Simon and they that were with him, yielding to covetousness, were bribed by certain of those that were in the towers, and receiving seventy thousand drachmas let some of them slip away. ²¹But when word was brought to Maccabaeus of what was done, he gathered the leaders of the people together, and accused those men of having sold their brethren for money, by setting their enemies free to fight against them. ²²So he slew these men for having turned traitors, and forthwith took possession of the two towers. ²³And prospering with his arms in all things he took in hand, he destroyed in the two strongholds more than twenty thousand.

²⁴Now Timotheus, who had been before defeated by the Jews, having gathered together foreign forces in great multitudes,

³² But Timotheus himself fled into a stronghold called Gazara, a fortress of exceeding strength, † Chaereas being in command there. ³³ But Maccabaeus and his men were glad and laid siege to the fortress four and twenty days. ³⁴ And they that were within, trusting to the strength of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and hurled forth impious words. ³⁵ But at dawn of the five and twentieth day certain young men of the company of Maccabaeus, inflamed with passion because of the blasphemies, assaulted the wall with masculine force and with ‡ furious passion, and cut down whosoever came in their way. ³⁶ And others climbing up in like manner, while the besieged were distracted with them that had made their way within, set fire to the towers, and kindling fires burned the blasphemers alive; while others broke open the gates, and, having given entrance to the rest of the band, occupied the city. ³⁷ And they slew Timotheus, who was hidden in a cistern, and his brother Chaereas, and Apollophanes. ³⁸ And when they had accomplished these things, they blessed the Lord with hymns and thanksgivings, him who doeth great benefits unto Israel, and giveth them the victory.

¹ Now after a very little time Lysias, the king's guardian and kinsman and chancellor, being sore displeased for the things that had come to pass, ² collected about fourscore thousand footmen and all his horsemen and came against the Jews, thinking to make the city a place for Greeks to dwell in, ³ and to levy tribute on the temple, as * on the other sacred places of the nations, and to put up the high priesthood to sale every year; ⁴ holding in no account the might of God, but puffed up with his ten thousands of footmen, and his thousands of horsemen, and his fourscore elephants. ⁵ And coming into Judaea and drawing near to Bethsuron, which was a strong place and distant from Jerusalem about † five leagues, he pressed it hard. ⁶ But when Maccabaeus and his men learned that he was besieging the strongholds, they and all the people with lamentations and tears made supplication unto the Lord to send a good angel to save Israel. ⁷ And Maccabaeus himself took up arms first, and exhorted the others to jeopard themselves together with him and succour their brethren; and they sallied forth with him right willingly. ⁸ And as they were there, close to Jerusalem, there appeared at their head one on horseback in white apparel, brandishing ‡ weapons of gold. ⁹ And they all together praised the Lysias unto the ^{††} people of the Jews, greeting. ¹⁷ John and Absalom, who were sent from you, having delivered the ^{‡‡} petition written below, made request concerning the things signified therein. ¹⁸ What things soever therefore had need to be brought before the king I declared to him, and what things were possible he allowed. ¹⁹ If then ye will preserve your good will toward the state, henceforward also will I endeavour to contribute to your good. ²⁰ ^{§§} And on this behalf I have given order in detail, both to these men and to those that are sent from me, to confer with you. ²¹ Fare ye well. Written in the hundred forty and eighth year, on the four and twentieth day of the month ^{} Dioscorinthius.

²² And the king's letter was in these

words:

King Antiochus unto his brother Lysias, greeting. ²³ Seeing that our father passed unto the gods having the wish that the subjects of his kingdom ^{†††} should be undisturbed and give themselves to the care of their own affairs, ²⁴ we, having heard that the Jews do not consent to our father's purpose to turn them unto the customs of the Greeks, but choose rather their own manner of living, and make request that the customs of their law be allowed unto them, — ²⁵ choosing therefore that this nation also should be free from ^{‡‡‡} disturbance, we determine that their temple be restored to them, and that they live according to the customs that were in the days of their ancestors. ²⁶ Thou wilt therefore do well to send messengers unto them and give them the right hand of friendship, that they, knowing our mind, may be of good heart, and gladly occupy themselves with the conduct of their own affairs.

²⁷ And unto the nation the king's letter was after this manner:

King Antiochus to the senate of the Jews and to the other Jews, greeting. ²⁸ If ye fare well, we have our desire: we ourselves also are in good health. ²⁹ Menelaus informed us that your desire was to return home and follow your own business. ³⁰ They therefore that depart home up to the thirtieth day of Xanthicus shall have our ^{§§§} friendship, with full permission ³¹ that the Jews use their own proper meats and observe their own laws, even as heretofore; and none of them shall be in any way molested for the things that have been ignorantly done. ³² Moreover I have sent Menelaus also, that he may encourage you. ³³ Fare ye well. Written in the hundred forty and eighth year, on the fifteenth day of Xanthicus. ³⁴ And the Romans also sent unto them a letter in these words:

¹ So when these covenants had been made, Lysias departed unto the king, and the Jews went about their husbandry. ² But certain of the governors of districts, Timotheus and Apollonius the son of Gennaesus, and Hieronymus also and Demophon, and beside them Nicanor the governor of Cyprus, would not suffer them to enjoy tranquillity and live in peace. ³ And men of Joppa perpetrated this great impiety: they invited the Jews that dwelt among them to go with their wives and children into the boats which they had provided, as though they had no ill will towards them; ⁴ and when * the Jews, † relying on the common decree of the city, accepted the invitation, as men desiring to live in peace and suspecting nothing, they took them out to sea and drowned them, in number not less than two hundred. ⁵ But when Judas heard of the cruelty done unto his fellow-countrymen, giving command to the men that were with him ⁶ and calling upon God the righteous Judge, he came against the murderers of his brethren, and set the haven on fire by night, and burned the boats, and put to the sword those that had fled thither. ⁷ But when the town was closed against him, he withdrew, intending to come again to root out the whole community of the men of Joppa. ⁸ But learning that the men of Jamnia were minded to do in like manner unto the Jews that sojourned among them, ⁹ he fell upon the Jamnites also by night, and set fire to the haven together with the fleet, so that the glare of the light was seen at Jerusalem, two hundred and forty furlongs distant.

¹⁰ Now when they had drawn off nine furlongs from thence, as they marched against Timotheus, a host of Arabians attacked him, no fewer than five thousand footmen and five hundred horsemen. ¹¹ And when a sore battle had been fought, and Judas and his company by the help of God had good success, the nomads being overcome besought Judas to grant them friendship, promising to give him cattle, and to help ‡ his people in all other ways. ¹² So Judas, thinking that they would indeed be profitable in many things, agreed to live in peace with them; and receiving pledges of friendship they departed to their tents. ¹³ And he also fell upon a certain city § Gephyrun, strong and fenced about with walls, and inhabited by a mixed multitude of divers nations; and it was named Caspin. ¹⁴ But they that were within, trusting to the strength of the walls and to their store of provisions, behaved themselves rudely toward Judas and them that were with him, railing, and furthermore blaspheming and speaking impious words. ¹⁵ But Judas and his company, calling upon the great sovereign of the world, who without rams and cunning engines of war hurled down Jericho in the times of Joshua, rushed wildly against the wall; ¹⁶ and having taken the city by the will of God, they made unspeakable slaughter, insomuch that the adjoining lake, which was two furlongs broad, appeared to be filled with the deluge of blood.

¹⁷ And when they had drawn off seven hundred and fifty furlongs from thence, they made their way to Charax, unto the Jews that are called  Tubieni. ¹⁸ And Timotheus they found not in occupation of that district, for he had then departed from the district without accomplishing anything, but had left behind a garrison, and that a very strong one, in a certain post. ¹⁹ But Dositheus and Sosipater, who were of Maccabaeus's captains, sallied forth and destroyed those that had been left by Timotheus in the stronghold, above ten thousand men. ²⁰ And Maccabaeus, ranging his own army by bands, set †† these two over the bands, and marched in haste against Timotheus, who had with him a hundred and twenty thousand footmen and two thousand and five hundred horsemen. ²¹ But when Timotheus heard of the inroad of Judas, he at once sent away the women and the children and also the baggage into the fortress called †† Carnion; for the place was hard to besiege and difficult of access by reason of the narrowness of the approaches on all sides. ²² But when the band of Judas, who led the van, appeared in sight, and when terror came upon the enemy and fear, because the manifestation of him who beholdeth all things came upon them, they fled amain, carried this way and that, so that they were often hurt of their own men, and pierced with the points of their swords. ²³ And Judas continued the pursuit the more hotly, putting the wicked wretches to the sword, and he destroyed as many as thirty thousand men. ²⁴ But Timotheus himself, falling in with the company of Dositheus and Sosipater, besought them with much §§ crafty guile to let him go with his life, because he had in his power the parents of many of them and the brethren of some:  otherwise, said he, little regard will ††† be shewn to these. ²⁵ So when he had with many words confirmed the agreement to restore them without hurt, they let him go that they might save their brethren.

²⁶ And Judas, marching against ††† Carnion and the temple of Atergatis, slew five and twenty thousand persons. ²⁷ And after he had put these to flight and destroyed them, he marched against Ephron also, a strong city, §§§ wherein were multitudes of people of all nations; and stalwart young men placed * on the walls made a vigorous defence; and there were great stores of engines and darts there. ²⁸ But calling upon the Sovereign who with might breaketh in pieces the † strength of ‡ the enemy, they got the city into their hands, and slew as many as twenty and five thousand of them that were within. ²⁹ And setting out from thence they marched in haste against Scythopolis, which is distant from Jerusalem six hundred furlongs. ³⁰ But when the Jews that were settled there testified of the good will that the Scythopolitans had shewn toward them, and of their kindly bearing toward them in the times of their misfortune, ³¹ they gave thanks, and further exhorted them to remain well affected toward the race for the future; and they went up to Jerusalem, the feast of weeks being close to hand.

³² But after the feast called Pentecost they marched in haste against Gorgias the governor of Idumaea: ³³ and he came out with three thousand footmen and four hundred horsemen. ³⁴ And when they had set themselves in array, it came to pass that a few of the Jews fell. ³⁵ And a certain Dositheus, one § of Bacenor's company, who was on horseback and a strong man, pressed hard on Gorgias, and taking hold of his cloke drew him along by main force; and while he was minded to take the accursed man alive, one of the Thracian horsemen bore down upon him and disabled his shoulder, and so Gorgias escaped unto  Marisa. ³⁶ And when they that were with Esdris had been fighting long and were wearied out, Judas called upon the Lord to shew himself, fighting on their side and leading the van of the battle; ³⁷ and then in the language of his fathers he raised the battle-cry joined with hymns, and rushing unawares upon the troops of Gorgias put them to flight.

³⁸ And Judas gathering his army came unto the city of †† Adullam; and as the seventh day was coming on, they purified themselves according to the custom, and kept the sabbath there. ³⁹ And on the day following, †† at which time it had become necessary, Judas and his company came to take up the bodies of them that had fallen,

And the noble Judas exhorted the multitude to keep themselves from sin, forso much as they had seen before their eyes what things had come to pass because of the sin of them that had fallen. ⁴³ And when he had made a collection man by man to the sum of two thousand drachmas of silver, he sent unto Jerusalem to offer a sacrifice for sin, doing therein right well and honourably, in that he took thought for a resurrection. ⁴⁴ For if he were not expecting that they that had fallen would rise again, it were superfluous and idle to pray for the dead. ⁴⁵ (And if he did it looking unto an honourable memorial of gratitude laid up for them that ††† die ‡‡‡ in godliness, holy and godly was the thought.) Wherefore he made the propitiation for them that had died, that they might be released from their sin.

¹ In the hundred forty and ninth year tidings were brought to Judas and his company that Antiochus Eupator was coming with great multitudes against Judaea, ² and with him Lysias his guardian and chancellor, * each having a Greek force, a hundred and ten thousand footmen, and five thousand and three hundred horsemen, and two and twenty elephants, and three hundred chariots armed with scythes.

³ And Menelaus also joined himself with them, and with great dissimulation encouraged Antiochus, not for the saving of his country, but because he thought that he would be set over the government. ⁴ But the King of kings stirred up the † passion of Antiochus against the wicked wretch; and when Lysias informed him that this man was the cause of all the evils, the king commanded to bring him unto Beroea, and ‡ to put him to death after the manner of that place. ⁵ Now there is in that place a tower of fifty cubits high, full of ashes, and it had all round it a § gallery  descending sheer on every side into the ashes. ⁶ Here him that is guilty of sacrilege, or hath attained a preeminence in any other evil deeds, they †† all push forward into destruction. ⁷ By such a fate it befell the breaker of the law, Menelaus, to die, without obtaining so much as a grave in the earth, and that right justly; ⁸ for inasmuch as he had perpetrated many sins ‡‡ against the altar, whose fire and whose ashes were holy, in ashes did he receive his death.

⁹ Now the king, §§ infuriated in spirit, was coming with intent to inflict on the Jews the very worst of the sufferings that had befallen them in his father's time. ¹⁰ But when Judas heard of these things, he gave charge to the multitude to call upon the Lord day and night, beseeching him, if ever at any other time, so now to succour them that were at the point to be deprived of the law and their country and the holy temple, ¹¹ and not to suffer the people that had been but now a little while revived to fall into the hands of those profane heathen. ¹² So when they had all done the same thing together,  beseeching the merciful Lord with weeping and fastings and prostration for three days without ceasing, Judas exhorted them and commanded they should join him for service. ¹³ And having gone apart with the elders he resolved that, before the king's army should enter into Judaea and make themselves masters of the city, they should go forth and try the

This was the issue of the inroad and departure of the king.

¹ Now after a space of three years tidings were brought to Judas and his company that Demetrius the son of Seleucus, having sailed into the haven of Tripolis with a mighty host and a fleet, ² had gotten possession of the country, having made away with Antiochus and Lysias his guardian.

³ But one Alcimus, who had formerly been high priest, and had wilfully polluted himself in the times when there was no mingling with the Gentiles, considering that there was no deliverance for him in any way, nor any more access unto the holy altar, ⁴ came to king Demetrius in about the hundred and one and fiftieth year, presenting to him a chaplet of gold and a palm, and beside these some of the festal olive boughs of the temple. And for that day he held his peace; ⁵ but having gotten opportunity to further his own madness, being called by Demetrius into a meeting of his council, and asked how the Jews stood affected and what they purposed, he answered thereunto. ⁶ Those of the Jews that he called * Hasidaeans, whose leader is Judas Maccabaeus, keep up war, and are seditious, not suffering the kingdom to find tranquillity. ⁷ Wherefore, having laid aside mine ancestral glory, I mean the high priesthood, I am now come † hither; ⁸ first for the unfeigned care I have for the things that concern the king, and secondly because I have regard also to mine own fellow-citizens: for, through the unadvised dealing of those of whom I spake before, our whole race is in no small misfortune. ⁹ But do thou, O king, having informed thyself of these things severally, take thought both for our country and for our race, which † is surrounded by foes, according to the gracious kindness with which thou receivest all. ¹⁰ For as long as Judas remaineth alive, it is impossible that the state should find peace. ¹¹ And when he had spoken such words as these, at once § the rest of the king's  Friends, having ill will against Judas, inflamed Demetrius yet more. ¹² And forthwith appointing Nicanor, who had been master of the elephants, and making him governor of Judaea, he sent him forth, ¹³ giving him written instructions to make away with Judas himself and to scatter them that were with him, and to set up Alcimus as high priest of the †† great temple. ¹⁴ And †† those in Judaea that §§ had before driven Judas into exile thronged to Nicanor in flocks, supposing that the misfortunes and calamities of the Jews would be successes to themselves.

¹⁵ But when the Jews heard of Nicanor's inroad and the assault of the heathen, they sprinkled earth upon their heads and made solemn supplication to him who had established his own people for evermore, and who alway, making manifest his presence, upholdeth them that are his own portion. ¹⁶  And when the leader had given his commands, he straightway set-teth out from thence, and joineth battle with them at a village called Lessau. ¹⁷ But Simon, the brother of Judas, had encountered Nicanor, ††† yet not till late, having received a check by reason of the sudden consternation caused by his adversaries.

¹⁸ Nevertheless Nicanor, hearing of the manliness of them that were with Judas, and their courage in fighting for their country, shrank from bringing the matter to the decision of the sword. ¹⁹ Wherefore he sent Posidonius and Theodotus and Mattathias to give and receive pledges of friendship. ²⁰ So when these proposals had been long considered, and the leader had made the ††† troops acquainted therewith, and it appeared that they were all of like mind, they consented to the covenants. ²¹ And they appointed a day on which to meet together by themselves. And a litter was borne forward from each army; they set chairs of state; ²² Judas stationed armed men ready in convenient places, lest haply there should suddenly be treachery on the part of the enemy; they held such conference as was meet. ²³ Nicanor tarried in Jerusalem, and did nothing to cause disturbance, but dismissed the flocks of people that had gathered together. ²⁴ And he kept Judas always in his presence; he had gained a hearty affection for the man; ²⁵ he urged him to marry and beget children; he married, settled quietly, took part in common life.

²⁶ But Alcimus, perceiving the good will that was betwixt them, §§§ and having got possession of the covenants that had been made, came unto Demetrius and told him that Nicanor was ill affected toward the state, for he had appointed that conspirator against his kingdom, Judas, to be his successor. ²⁷ And the king, falling into a rage, and being exasperated by the calumnies of that most wicked man, wrote to Nicanor, signifying that he was displeased at the covenants, and commanding him to send Maccabaeus prisoner unto Antioch in all haste. ²⁸ And when this message came to Nicanor, he was confounded, and was sore troubled at the thought of annulling the articles that had been agreed upon, the man having done no wrong; ²⁹ but because there was no dealing against the king, he watched his time to execute this purpose by stratagem. ³⁰ But Maccabaeus, when he perceived that Nicanor was behaving more harshly in his dealings with him, and that he had become ruler in his customary bearing, understanding that this harshness came not of good, gathered together not a few of his men, and concealed himself from Nicanor.

that he had been bravely defeated by the stratagem of † Judas, came to the ‡ great and holy temple, while the priests were offering the usual sacrifices, and commanded them to deliver up the man. ³² And when they declared with oaths that they had no knowledge where the man was whom he sought, ³³ he stretched forth his right hand toward the sanctuary, and swore this oath: If ye will not deliver up to me Judas as a prisoner, I will lay this § temple of God even with the ground, and will break down the altar, and I will erect here a temple unto  Bacchus for all to see. ³⁴ And having said this, he departed. But the priests, stretching forth their hands toward heaven, called upon him that ever fighteth for our nation, in these words: ³⁵ Thou, †† O Lord of the universe, who in thyself hast need of nothing, wast well pleased that a sanctuary of thy ‡‡ habitation should be set among us; ³⁶ so now, O holy Lord of all hallowing, keep undefiled for ever this house that hath been lately cleansed.

³⁷ Now information was given to Nicanor against one Razis, an elder of Jerusalem, §§ as being a lover of his countrymen and a man of very good report, and one called Father of the Jews for his good will toward them. ³⁸ For in the former times when there was no mingling with the Gentiles he had been accused of cleaving to the Jews' religion, and had jeopardized body and life with all earnestness for the religion of the Jews. ³⁹ And Nicanor, wishing to make evident the ill will that he bare unto the Jews, sent above five hundred soldiers to take him; ⁴⁰ for he thought by taking him to inflict a calamity upon them. ⁴¹ But when the  troops were on the point of taking the tower, and were forcing the door of the court, and bade bring fire and burn the doors, he being surrounded on every side fell upon his sword, ⁴² choosing rather to die nobly than to fall into the hands of the wicked wretches, and suffer outrage unworthy of his own nobleness: ⁴³ but since he missed his stroke through the excitement of the struggle, and the crowds were now rushing within the door, he ran bravely up to the wall and cast himself down manfully among the crowds. ⁴⁴ But as they quickly gave back, a space was made, and he fell on the middle of ††† his side. ⁴⁵ And having yet breath within him, and being inflamed with passion, he rose up, and though his blood gushed out in streams and his wounds were grievous, he ran through the crowds, and standing upon a steep rock, ⁴⁶ when as his blood was now well nigh spent, he drew forth his bowels through the wound, and taking them in both his hands he shook them at the crowds; and calling upon him who is Lord of ‡‡‡ the life and the §§§ spirit to restore him * these again, he thus died.

¹ But Nicanor, hearing that Judas and his company were in the region of Samaria, resolved to set upon them with all security on the day of rest. ² And when the Jews that were compelled to follow him said, O destroy not so savagely and barbarously, but give due glory to the day which he that beholdeth all things hath * honoured and hallowed above other days; ³ then the thrice-accursed wretch asked if there were a Sovereign in heaven that had commanded to keep the sabbath day. ⁴ And when they declared, There is the Lord, living himself a Sovereign in heaven, who bade us observe the seventh day; ⁵ then saith the other, I also am a sovereign upon the earth, † who now command to take up arms and execute the king's business. Nevertheless he prevailed not to execute his ‡ cruel purpose.

⁶ And Nicanor, § bearing himself haughtily in all vaingloriousness, had determined to set up a monument of complete victory over Judas and all them that were with him: ⁷ but Maccabaeus still trusted unceasingly, with all hope that he should obtain help from the Lord. ⁸ And he exhorted his company not to be fearful at the ^{} inroad of the heathen, but, keeping in mind the help which of old they had oftentimes received from heaven, so now also to look for the victory which would come unto them from the Almighty; ⁹ and comforting them out of the law and the prophets, and withal putting them in mind of the conflicts that they had maintained, he made them more eager for the battle. ¹⁰ And when he had roused their †† spirit, he gave them his commands, at the same time pointing out the perfidiousness of the heathen and their breach of their oaths. ¹¹ And arming each one of them, not so much with the sure defence of shields and spears as with the encouragement that lieth in good words, and moreover relating to them a dream †‡ worthy to be believed, he made them all exceeding glad. ¹² And the vision of that dream was this: He saw Onias, him that was high priest, a noble and good man, reverend in bearing, yet gentle in manner and well-spoken, and exercised from a child in all points of virtue, with outstretched hands invoking blessings on the whole body of the Jews: ¹³ thereupon he saw a man appear, of venerable age and exceeding glory, and wonderful and most majestic was the dignity around him: ¹⁴ and Onias answered and said, This is the lover of the brethren, he who prayeth much for the people and the holy city, Jeremiah the prophet of God: ¹⁵ and Jeremiah stretching forth his right hand delivered to Judas a sword of gold, and in giving it addressed him thus, ¹⁶ Take the holy sword, a gift from God, wherewith thou shalt smite down the adversaries.

¹⁷ And being encouraged by the words of Judas, which were of a lofty strain, and able to incite unto virtue and to stir the souls of the young unto manly courage, they determined §§ not to carry on a campaign, but nobly to bear down upon the enemy, and fighting hand to hand with all courage bring the matter to an issue, because the city and the sanctuary and the temple were in danger. ¹⁸ For their fear for wives and children, and furthermore for brethren and kinsfolk, was in less account with them; but greatest and first was their fear for the consecrated sanctuary. ¹⁹ And they also that were shut up in the city were in no light distress, being troubled because of the encounter in the open ground.

²⁰ And when all were now waiting for the decision of the issue, and the enemy had already joined battle, and the army had been set in array, and the ^{} elephants ††† brought back to a convenient post, and the horsemen drawn up ††† on the flank, ²¹ Maccabaeus, perceiving the presence of the §§§ troops, and the various arms with which they were equipped, and the savageness of the * elephants, holding up his hands unto heaven called upon the Lord that worketh wonders, recognising that success cometh not by arms, but that, according as the Lord shall judge, he gaineth the victory for them that are worthy. ²² And calling upon God he said after this manner: Thou, O Sovereign Lord, didst send thine angel in the time of Hezekiah king of Judaea, and he slew of the † host of Sennacherib as many as a hundred fourscore and five thousand; ²³ so now also, O Sovereign of the heavens, send a good angel before us to bring terror and trembling: ²⁴ through the greatness of thine arm let them be stricken with dismay that with blasphemy are come hither against thy holy people. And as he ended with these words, ²⁵ Nicanor and his company advanced with trumpets and paeans; ²⁶ but Judas and his company joined battle with the enemy with invocation and prayers. ²⁷ And contending with their hands, and praying unto God with their hearts, they slew no less than thirty and five thousand men, being made exceeding glad by the manifestation of God.

they recognised Nicanor lying dead in full armour; ²⁹ and there arose a shout and ‡ tumult, and then they blessed the Sovereign Lord in the language of their fathers. ³⁰ And he that in all things was in body and soul the foremost champion of his fellow-citizens, he that kept through life the good will of his youth toward his countrymen, commanded to cut off Nicanor's head, and his hand with the shoulder, and bring them to Jerusalem. ³¹ And when he had arrived there, and had called his countrymen together and set the priests before the altar, he sent for them that were in the citadel; ³² and shewing the head of the vile Nicanor, and the hand of that profane man, which with proud brags he had stretched out against the holy house of the Almighty, ³³ and cutting out the tongue of the impious Nicanor, he said that he would give § it by pieces to the birds, and hang up the  rewards of his madness over against the sanctuary. ³⁴ And they all looking up unto heaven blessed †† the Lord who had manifested himself, saying, Blessed be he that hath preserved his own place undefiled. ³⁵ And he hanged Nicanor's head and shoulder from the citadel, a sign, evident unto all and manifest, of the help of the Lord. ³⁶ And they all ordained with a common decree in no wise to let this day pass undistinguished, but to mark with honour the thirteenth day of the twelfth month (it is called Adar in the Syrian tongue), the day before the day of Mordecai.

1 ESDRAS.

¹ AND ✨ Josias held the passover in Jerusalem unto his Lord, and offered the passover the fourteenth day of the first month; ² having set the priests according to their daily courses, being arrayed in their vestments, in the temple of the Lord. ³ And he spake unto the Levites, * the temple-servants of Israel, that they should hallow themselves unto the Lord, to set the holy ark of the Lord in the house that King Solomon the son of David had built: ⁴ and said, Ye shall no more have need to bear it upon your shoulders: now therefore serve the Lord your God, and minister unto his people Israel, and prepare you after your fathers' houses and kindreds, ⁵ according to the writing of David king of Israel, and according to the magnificence of Solomon his son: and standing in the holy place according to the several divisions of the families of you the Levites, who minister in the presence of your brethren the children of Israel, ⁶ offer the passover in order, and make ready the sacrifices for your brethren, and keep the passover according to the commandment of the Lord, which was given unto Moses. ⁷ And unto the people which were present Josias gave thirty thousand lambs and kids, and three thousand calves: these things were given of the king's substance, according as he promised, to the people, and to the priests and Levites. ⁸ And Helkias, and Zacharias, and † Eyselus, the rulers of the temple, gave to the priests for the passover two thousand and six hundred sheep, and three hundred calves. ⁹ And Jeconias, and Samaias and Nathanael his brother, and Sabias, and Ochielus, and Joram, captains over thousands, gave to the Levites for the passover five thousand sheep, and seven hundred calves. ¹⁰ And when these things were done, the priests and Levites, having the unleavened bread, stood in comely order according to the kindreds, ¹¹ and according to the several divisions by fathers' houses, before the people, to offer to the Lord, as it is written in the book of Moses: and thus did they in the morning. ¹² And they roasted the passover with fire, as appertaineth: and the sacrifices they sod in the brazen vessels and caldrons with a good savour, ¹³ and set them before all the people: and afterward they prepared for themselves, and for the priests their brethren, the sons of Aaron. ¹⁴ For the priests offered the fat until night: and the Levites prepared for themselves, and for the priests their brethren, the sons of Aaron. ¹⁵ The holy singers also, the sons of Asaph, were in their order, according to the appointment of David, to wit, Asaph, Zacharias, and Eddinus, who ‡ was of the king's retinue. ¹⁶ Moreover the porters were at every gate; none had need to depart from his daily course: for their brethren the Levites prepared for them. ¹⁷ Thus were the things that belonged to the sacrifices of the Lord accomplished in that day, in holding the passover, ¹⁸ and offering sacrifices upon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandment of King Josias. ¹⁹ So the children of Israel which were present at that time held the passover, and the feast of unleavened bread seven days. ²⁰ And such a passover was not held in Israel since the time of the prophet Samuel. ²¹ Yea, all the kings of Israel held not such a passover as Josias, and the priests, and the Levites, and the Jews, held with all Israel that were present in their dwelling place at Jerusalem. ²² In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josias was this passover held. ²³ And the works of Josias were upright before his Lord with a heart full of godliness. ²⁴ Moreover the things that came to pass in his days have been written in times past, concerning those that sinned, and did wickedly against the Lord above every people and kingdom, and how they grieved him § exceedingly, so that the words of the Lord were confirmed against Israel.

²⁵ ✨ Now after all these acts of Josias it came to pass, that Pharaoh the king of Egypt came to raise war at Carchemish upon Euphrates: and Josias went out against him. ²⁶ But the king of Egypt sent to him, saying, What have I to do with thee,

O king of Judaea? ²⁷I am not sent out from the Lord God against thee; for my war is upon Euphrates; and now the Lord is with me, yea, the Lord is with me hastening me forward: depart from me, and be not against the Lord. ²⁸Howbeit Josias did not turn back ^{} unto his chariot, but undertook to fight with him, not regarding the words of the prophet Jeremy spoken by the mouth of the Lord: ²⁹but joined battle with him in the plain of Megiddo, and the princes came down against King Josias. ³⁰Then said the king unto his servants, Carry me away out of the battle; for I am very weak. And immediately his servants carried him away out of the host. ³¹Then gat he up upon his second chariot; and being brought back to Jerusalem he died, and was buried in the sepulchre of his fathers. ³²And in all Jewry they mourned for Josias; and Jeremy the prophet lamented for Josias, and the chief men with the women made lamentation for him, unto this day: and this was given out for an ordinance to be done continually in all the nation of Israel. ³³These things are written in the book of the histories of the kings of Judaea, and every one of the acts that Josias did, and his glory, and his understanding in the law of the Lord, and the things that he had done before, and the things now recited, are reported in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah.

³⁴✧ And the people took †† Joachaz the son of Josias, and made him king instead of Josias his father, when he was twenty and three years old. ³⁵And he reigned in †† Judah and in Jerusalem three months: and then the king of Egypt deposed him from reigning in Jerusalem. ³⁶And he set a tax upon the people of a hundred talents of silver and one talent of gold. ³⁷The king of Egypt also made King Joakim his brother king of Judaea and Jerusalem. ³⁸And Joakim bound the nobles: but Zarakes his brother he apprehended, and brought him up out of Egypt. ³⁹Five and twenty years old was ✧ Joakim when he began to reign in Judaea and Jerusalem; and he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord. ⁴⁰And against him Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon came up, and bound him with a chain of brass, and carried him unto Babylon. ⁴¹Nabuchodonosor also took of the holy vessels of the Lord, and carried them away, and set them up in his own temple at Babylon. ⁴²But those things that are reported of him, and of his uncleanness and impiety, are written in the chronicles of the kings. ⁴³And Joakim his son reigned in his stead: for when he was made king he was §§ eighteen years old; ⁴⁴and he reigned three months and ten days in Jerusalem; and did that which was evil before the Lord.

⁴⁵So after a year Nabuchodonosor sent and caused him to be brought unto Babylon with the holy vessels of the Lord; ⁴⁶and made Sedekias king of Judaea and Jerusalem, when he was one and twenty years old; and he reigned eleven years: ⁴⁷and he also did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, and cared not for the words that were spoken by Jeremy the prophet from the mouth of the Lord. ⁴⁸And after that king Nabuchodonosor had made him to swear by the name of the Lord, he forsook himself, and rebelled; and hardening his neck, and his heart, he transgressed the laws of the Lord, the God of Israel. ⁴⁹Moreover the governors of the people and of the priests did many things wickedly, ^{} and passed all the pollutions of all nations, and defiled the temple of the Lord, which was sanctified in Jerusalem. ⁵⁰And the God of their fathers sent by his messenger to call them back, because he had compassion on them and on his dwelling place. ⁵¹But they mocked his messengers; and in the day when the Lord spake unto them, they scoffed at his prophets: ⁵²so far forth, that he, being wroth with his people for their great ungodliness, commanded to bring up the kings of the Chaldeans against them; ⁵³who slew their young men with the sword, round about their holy temple, and spared neither young man nor maid, old man nor child; but he delivered all into their hands. ⁵⁴And they took all the holy vessels of the Lord, both great and small, with ††† the vessels of the ark of the Lord, and the king's treasures, and carried them away unto Babylon. ⁵⁵ And they burnt the house of the Lord, and brake down the walls of Jerusalem, and burnt the towers thereof with fire: ⁵⁶ and as for her glorious things, they never ceased till they had brought them all to nought: and the people that were not slain with the sword he carried unto Babylon: ⁵⁷ and they were servants unto him and unto his children, till the Persians reigned, to fulfil the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremy: ⁵⁸ Until the land hath enjoyed her sabbaths, the whole time of her desolation shall she keep sabbath, to fulfil threescore and ten years.

¹ In the ✨ first year of Cyrus king of the Persians, that the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremy might be accomplished, ² the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of the Persians, and he made proclamation through all his kingdom, and also by writing, ³ saying, Thus saith Cyrus king of the Persians; The Lord of Israel, the Most High Lord, hath made me king of the whole world, ⁴ and commanded me to build him a house at Jerusalem that is in Judaea. ⁵ If therefore there be any of you that are of his people, * let the Lord, even his Lord, be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem that is in Judaea, and build the house of the Lord of Israel: he is the Lord that dwelleth in Jerusalem. ⁶ Of such therefore as dwell in divers places, let them that are in his own place help each one with gold, and with silver, ⁷ with gifts, with horses also and cattle, beside the other things which have been added by vow for the temple of the Lord which is in Jerusalem.

⁸ Then the chief of the families of Judah and of the tribe of Benjamin stood up; the priests also, and the Levites, and all they whose spirit the Lord had stirred to go up, to build the house for the Lord which is in Jerusalem. ⁹ And they that dwelt round about them helped them in all things with silver and gold, with horses and cattle, and with very many gifts that were vowed of a great number whose minds were stirred up thereto. ¹⁰ King Cyrus also brought forth the holy vessels of the Lord, which Nabuchodonosor had carried away from Jerusalem, and had set up in his temple of idols. ¹¹ Now when Cyrus king of the Persians had brought them forth, he delivered them to Mithradates his treasurer, ¹² and by him they were delivered to † Sanabassar the governor of Judaea. ¹³ And this was the number of them: A thousand golden cups, a thousand cups of silver, censers of silver twenty nine, vials of gold thirty, and of silver two thousand four hundred and ten, and other vessels a thousand. ¹⁴ So all the vessels of gold and of silver were brought up, even five thousand four hundred threescore and nine, ¹⁵ and were carried back by Sanabassar, together with them of the captivity, from Babylon to Jerusalem.

¹⁶ ✨ But in the time of Artaxerxes king of the Persians Belemus, and Mithradates, and Tabellius, and ‡ Rathumus, and Beeltethmus, and § Samellius the scribe, with the others that were in commission with them, dwelling in Samaria and other places, wrote unto him against them that dwelt in Judaea and Jerusalem the letter following: ¹⁷ To king Artaxerxes our Lord, Thy servants, Rathumus the  storywriter, and Samellius the scribe, and the rest of their council, and the judges that are in Coelesyria and Phoenicia. ¹⁸ Be it now known to our lord the king, that the Jews that are come up from you to us, being come unto Jerusalem, do build that rebellious and wicked city, and do repair the marketplaces and the walls of it, and do lay the foundation of a temple. ¹⁹ Now if this city be builded and the walls thereof be finished, they will not only refuse to give tribute, but will even stand up against kings. ²⁰ And forasmuch as the things pertaining to the temple are now in hand, we think it meet not to neglect such a matter, ²¹ but to speak unto our lord the king, to the intent that, if it be thy pleasure, search may be made in the books of thy fathers: ²² and thou shalt find in the chronicles what is written concerning these things, and shalt understand that that city was rebellious, troubling both kings and cities: ²³ and that the Jews were rebellious, and raised always wars therein of old time; for the which cause even this city was laid waste. ²⁴ Wherefore now we do declare unto thee, O lord the king, that if this city be builded again, and the walls thereof set up anew, thou shalt from henceforth have no passage into Coelesyria and Phoenicia. ²⁵ Then the king wrote back again to Rathumus the storywriter, and Beeltethmus, and Samellius the scribe, and to the rest that were in commission, and dwelt in Samaria and Syria and Phoenicia, after this manner: ²⁶ I have read the epistle which ye have sent unto me: therefore I commanded to make search, and it hath been found that that city of old time hath made insurrection against kings; ²⁷ and the men were given to rebellion and war therein: and that mighty kings and fierce were in Jerusalem, who reigned and exacted tribute in Coelesyria and Phoenicia. ²⁸ Now therefore I have commanded to hinder those men from building the city, and heed to be taken that there be nothing done contrary to this order; ²⁹ and that those wicked doings proceed no further to the annoyance of kings. ³⁰ Then king Artaxerxes his letters being read, Rathumus, and Samellius the scribe, and the rest that were in commission with them, removing in haste unto Jerusalem with horsemen and a multitude of people in battle array, began to hinder the builders; and the building of the temple in Jerusalem ceased until the second year of the reign of Darius king of the Persians.

¹ Now king Darius made a great feast unto all his subjects, and unto all that were born in his house, and unto all the princes of Media and of Persia, ² and to all the satraps and captains and governors that were under him, from India unto Ethiopia, in the hundred twenty and seven provinces. ³ And when they had eaten and drunken, and being satisfied were gone home, then Darius the king went into his bedchamber, and slept, and awaked out of his sleep.

⁴ Then the three young men of the body-guard, that kept the king's person, spake one to another: ⁵ Let every one of us say one thing which shall be strongest: and he whose sentence shall seem wiser than the others, unto him shall Darius the king give great gifts, and great honours in token of victory: ⁶ as, to be clothed in purple, to drink in gold, and to sleep upon gold, and a chariot with bridles of gold, and a headtire of fine linen, and a chain about his neck: ⁷ and he shall sit next to Darius because of his wisdom, and shall be called Darius his cousin. ⁸ And then they wrote every one his sentence, and set to their seals, and laid the writing under king Darius his pillow, ⁹ and said, When the king is risen, some shall give him the writing; and of whose side the king and the three princes of Persia shall judge that his sentence is the wisest, to him shall the victory be given, as it is written. ¹⁰ The first wrote, Wine is the strongest. ¹¹ The second wrote, The king is strongest. ¹² The third wrote, Women are strongest: but above all things Truth beareth away the victory.

¹³ Now when the king was risen up, they took the writing, and gave it unto him, and so he read it: ¹⁴ and sending forth he called all the princes of Persia and of Media, and the satraps, and the captains, and the governors, and the chief officers; ¹⁵ and sat him down in the royal seat of judgment; and the writing was read before them. ¹⁶ And he said, Call the young men, and they shall explain their own sentences. So they were called, and came in. ¹⁷ And they said unto them, Declare unto us your mind concerning the things ye have written.

Then began the first, who had spoken of the strength of wine, ¹⁸ and said thus, O sirs, how exceeding strong is wine! it causeth all men to err that drink it: ¹⁹ it maketh the mind of the king and of the fatherless child to be all one; of the bondman and of the freeman, of the poor man and of the rich: ²⁰ it turneth also every thought into jollity and mirth, so that a man remembereth neither sorrow nor debt: ²¹ and it maketh every heart rich, so that a man remembereth neither king nor satrap; and it maketh to speak all things by talents: ²² and when they are in their cups, they forget their love both to friends and brethren, and a little after draw their swords: ²³ but when they awake from their wine, they remember not what they have done. ²⁴ O sirs, is not wine the strongest, seeing that it enforceth to do thus? And when he had so spoken, he held his peace.

¹ Then the second, that had spoken of the strength of the king, began to say, ² O sirs, do not men excel in strength, that bear rule over the sea and land, and all things in them? ³ But yet is the king stronger: and he is their lord, and hath dominion over them; and in whatsoever he commandeth them they obey him. ⁴ If he bid them make war the one against the other, they do it: and if he send them out against the enemies, they go, and overcome mountains, walls, and towers. ⁵ They slay and are slain, and transgress not the king's commandment: if they get the victory, they bring all to the king, as well the spoil, as all things else. ⁶ Likewise for those that are no soldiers, and have not to do with wars, but use husbandry, when they have reaped again that which they had sown, they bring it to the king, and compel one another to pay tribute unto the king. ⁷ And he is * but one man: if he command to kill, they kill; if he command to spare, they spare; ⁸ if he command to smite, they smite; if he command to make desolate, they make desolate; if he command to build, they build; ⁹ if he command to cut down, they cut down; if he command to plant, they plant. ¹⁰ So all his people and his armies obey him: furthermore he lieth down, he eateth and drinketh, and taketh his rest: ¹¹ and these keep watch round about him, neither may any one depart, and do his own business, neither disobey they him in anything. ¹² O sirs, how should not the king be strongest, seeing that in such sort he is obeyed? And he held his peace.

¹³ Then the third, who had spoken of women, and of truth, (this was Zorobabel) began to speak. ¹⁴ O sirs, is not the king great, and men are many, and wine is strong? who is it then that ruleth them, or hath the lordship over them? are they not women? ¹⁵ Women have borne the king and all the people that bear rule by sea and land. ¹⁶ Even of them came they: and they nourished them up that planted the vineyards, from whence the wine cometh. ¹⁷ These also make garments for men; these bring glory unto men; and without women cannot men be. ¹⁸ Yea, and if men have gathered together gold and silver and any other goodly thing, † and see a woman which is comely in favour and beauty, ¹⁹ they let all those things go, and gape after her, and even with open mouth fix their eyes fast on her; and have all more desire unto her than unto gold or silver, or any goodly thing whatsoever. ²⁰ A man leaveth his own father that brought him up, and his own country, and cleaveth unto his wife. ²¹ And with his wife he endeth his days, and remembereth neither father, nor mother, nor country. ²² By this also ye must know that women have dominion over you: do ye not labor and toil, and give and bring all to women? ²³ Yea, a man taketh his sword, and goeth forth to make outroads, and to rob and to steal, and to sail upon the sea and upon rivers; ²⁴ and looketh upon a lion, and walketh in the darkness; and when he hath stolen, spoiled, and robbed, he bringeth it to his love. ²⁵ Wherefore a man loveth his wife better than father or mother. ²⁶ Yea, many there be that have run out of their wits for women, and become bondmen for their sakes. ²⁷ Many also have perished, have stumbled, and sinned, for women. ²⁸ And now do ye not believe me? is not the king great in his power? do not all regions fear to touch him? ²⁹ Yet did I see him and Apame the king's concubine, the daughter of the illustrious Barticus, sitting at the right hand of the king, ³⁰ and taking the crown from the king's head, and setting it upon her own head; yea, she struck the king with her left hand: ³¹ and therewithal the king gaped and gazed upon her with open mouth: if she laughed upon him, he laughed also: but if she took any displeasure at him, he was fain to flatter, that she might be reconciled to him again. ³² O sirs, how can it be but women should be strong, seeing they do thus?

³³ Then the king and the nobles looked one upon another: so he began to speak

* 4:7 Or, one and alone † 4:18 Another reading is, do they not love &c.

concerning truth. ³⁴ O sirs, are not women strong? great is the earth, high is the heaven, swift is the sun in his course, for he compasseth the heavens round about, and fetcheth his course again to his own place in one day. ³⁵ Is he not great that maketh these things? therefore great is truth, and stronger than all things. ³⁶ All the earth calleth upon truth, and the heaven blesseth her: all works shake and tremble, but with ‡ her is no unrighteous thing. ³⁷ Wine is unrighteous, the king is unrighteous, women are unrighteous, all the children of men are unrighteous, and unrighteous are all such their works; and there is no truth in them; in their unrighteousness also they shall perish. ³⁸ But truth abideth, and is strong forever; she liveth and conquereth forevermore. ³⁹ With her there is no accepting of persons or rewards; but she doeth the things that are just, and refraineth from all unrighteous and wicked things; and all men do well like of her works. ⁴⁰ Neither in her judgment is any unrighteousness; and she is the strength, and the kingdom, and the power, and the majesty, of all ages. Blessed be the God of truth. ⁴¹ And with that he held his tongue. And all the people then shouted, and said, Great is truth, and strong above all things.

⁴² Then said the king unto him, Ask what thou wilt more than is appointed in writing, and we will give it thee, inasmuch as thou art found wisest; and thou shalt sit next me, and shalt be called my cousin.

⁴³ Then said he unto the king, Remember thy vow, which thou didst vow to build Jerusalem, in the day when thou camest to thy kingdom, ⁴⁴ and to send away all the vessels that were taken out of Jerusalem, which Cyrus set apart, when he vowed to destroy Babylon, and vowed to send them again thither. ⁴⁵ Thou didst also vow to build up the temple, which the Edomites burned when Judaea was made desolate by the Chaldeans. ⁴⁶ And now, O lord the king, this is that which I require, and which I desire of thee, and this is the princely liberality that shall proceed from thee: I pray therefore that thou make good the vow, the performance whereof thou hast vowed to the King of heaven with thine own mouth.

⁴⁷ Then Darius the king stood up, and kissed him, and wrote letters for him unto all the treasurers and governors and captains and satraps, that they should safely bring on their way both him, and all those that should go up with him to build Jerusalem. ⁴⁸ He wrote letters also unto all the governors that were in Coelesyria and Phoenicia, and unto them in Libanus, that they should bring cedar wood from Libanus unto Jerusalem, and that they should build the city with him. ⁴⁹ Moreover he wrote for all the Jews that should go out of his realm up into Jewry, concerning their freedom, that no officer, no governor, no satrap, nor treasurer, should forcibly enter into their doors; ⁵⁰ and that all the country which they occupied should be free to them without tribute; and that the Edomites should give over the villages of the Jews which then they held: ⁵¹ and that there should be yearly given twenty talents to the building of the temple, until the time that it were built; ⁵² and other ten talents yearly, for burnt offerings to be presented upon the altar every day, as they had a commandment to offer seventeen: ⁵³ and that all they that should come from Babylonia to build the city should have their freedom, as well they as their posterity, and all the priests that came. ⁵⁴ He wrote also to give them their charges, and the priests' vestments wherein they minister; ⁵⁵ and for the Levites he wrote that their charges should be given them until the day that the house were finished, and Jerusalem builded up. ⁵⁶ And he commanded to give to all that kept the city lands and wages. ⁵⁷ He sent away also all the vessels from Babylon, that Cyrus had set apart; and all that Cyrus had given in commandment, the same charged he also to be done, and sent unto Jerusalem.

⁵⁸ Now when this young man was gone forth, he lifted up his face to heaven toward Jerusalem, and praised the King of heaven, ⁵⁹ and said, From thee cometh victory, from thee cometh wisdom, and thine is the glory, and I am thy servant. ⁶⁰ Blessed art thou, who hast given me wisdom: and to thee I give thanks, O Lord of our fathers.

⁶¹ And so he took the letters, and went out, and came unto Babylon, and told it all his brethren. ⁶² And they praised the God of their fathers, because he had given them freedom and liberty ⁶³ to go up, and to build Jerusalem, and the temple which is called by his name: and they feasted with instruments of music and gladness seven days.

⁴ And these are the names of the men which went up, according to their families amongst their tribes, after their several divisions. ⁵ The priests, the sons of Phinees, the sons of Aaron: Jesus the son of Josedek, the son of Saraias, and Joakim the son of Zorobabel, the son of Salathiel, of the house of David, of the lineage of Phares, of the tribe of Judah; ⁶ who spake wise sentences before Darius the king of Persia in the second year of his reign, in the month Nisan, which is the first month. ⁷ And these are they of Jewry that came up from the captivity, where they dwelt as strangers, whom Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon had carried away unto Babylon. ⁸ And they returned unto Jerusalem, and to the other parts of Jewry, every man to his own city, who came with Zorobabel, with Jesus, Nehemias, and [†] Zarahias, Resaias, [‡] Eneneus, Mardocheus, Beelsarus, [§] Aspharus, ^{} Reelias, Roimus, and Baana, their leaders. ⁹ The number of them of the nation, and their leaders: the sons of a high priest wearing † Urim and Thummim. ⁴¹ So all they of Israel, from twelve years old and upward, beside menservants and womenservants, were in number forty and two thousand three hundred and sixty. ⁴² Their menservants and handmaids were seven thousand three hundred thirty and seven: the minstrels and singers, two hundred forty and five: ⁴³ four hundred thirty and five camels, seven ‡ thousand thirty and six horses, two hundred forty and five mules, five thousand five hundred twenty and five beasts of burden. ⁴⁴ And certain of the chief men of their families, when they came to the temple of God that is in Jerusalem, vowed to set up the house again in its own place according to their ability, ⁴⁵ and to give into the holy treasury of the works a thousand pounds of gold, five thousand of silver, and a hundred priestly vestments. ⁴⁶ And the priests and the Levites and they that were of the people dwelt in Jerusalem and the country; the holy singers also and the porters and all Israel in their villages.

⁴⁷ But when the seventh month was at hand, and when the children of Israel were every man in his own place, they came all together with one consent into the broad place before the first porch which is toward the east. ⁴⁸ Then stood up Jesus the son of Josedek, and his brethren the priests, and Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and his brethren, and made ready the altar of the God of Israel, ⁴⁹ to offer burnt sacrifices upon it, according as it is expressly commanded in the book of Moses the man of God. ⁵⁰ And certain were gathered unto them out of the other nations of the land, and they erected the altar upon its own place, because all the nations of the land were at enmity with them, and oppressed them; and they offered sacrifices according to the time, and burnt offerings to the Lord both morning and evening. ⁵¹ Also they held the feast of tabernacles, as it is commanded in the law, and offered sacrifices daily, as was meet: ⁵² and after that, the continual oblations, and the sacrifices of the sabbaths, and of the new moons, and of all the consecrated feasts. ⁵³ And all they that had made any vow to God began to offer sacrifices to God from the new moon of the § seventh month, although the temple of God was not yet built. ⁵⁴ And they gave money unto the masons and carpenters; and meat and drink, ⁵⁵ and cars unto them of Sidon and Tyre, that they should bring cedar trees from Libanus, and convey them in floats to the haven of Joppa, according to the commandment which was written for them by Cyrus king of the Persians. ⁵⁶ And in the second year after his coming to the temple of God at Jerusalem, in the second month, began Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and Jesus the son of Josedek, and their brethren, and the priests the Levites, and all they that were come unto Jerusalem out of the captivity: ⁵⁷ and they laid the foundation of the temple of God on the new moon of the second month, in the second year after they were come to Jewry and Jerusalem. ⁵⁸ ☆ And they appointed the Levites from twenty years old over the works of the Lord. Then stood up Jesus, and his sons and brethren, and Kadmiel his brother, and the sons of Jesus, Emadabun, and the sons of Joda the son of Iliadun, and their sons and brethren, all the Levites, with one accord setters forward of the business, labouring to advance the works in the house of God. So the builders builded the temple of the Lord. ⁵⁹ And the priests stood arrayed in their vestments with musical instruments and trumpets, and the Levites the sons of Asaph with their cymbals, ⁶⁰ singing songs of thanksgiving, and praising the Lord, after the order of David king of Israel. ⁶¹ And they sang aloud, praising the Lord in songs of thanksgiving, because his goodness and his glory are forever in all Israel. ⁶² And all the people sounded trumpets, and shouted with a loud voice, singing songs of thanksgiving unto the Lord for the rearing up of the house of the Lord. ⁶³ ☆ Also of the priests the Levites, and of the heads of their families, the ancients who had seen the former house came to the building of this with lamentation and great weeping. ⁶⁴ But many with trumpets and joy shouted with loud voice, ⁶⁵ insomuch that the people heard not the trumpets for the weeping of the people: for the multitude sounded marvellously, so that it was heard afar off.

⁶⁶ ✠ Wherefore when the enemies of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin heard it, they came to know what that noise of trumpets should mean. ⁶⁷ And they perceived that they that were of the captivity did build the temple unto the Lord, the God of Israel. ⁶⁸ So they went to zorobabel and Jesus, and to the chief men of the families, and said unto them, we will build together with you. ⁶⁹ For we likewise, as ye, do obey your Lord, and do sacrifice unto him from the days of ^{} Asbasareth the king of the Assyrians, who brought us hither. ⁷⁰ Then Zorobabel and Jesus and the chief men of the families of Israel said unto them, It is not †† for you to build the house unto the Lord our God. ⁷¹ We ourselves alone will build unto the Lord of Israel, according as Cyrus the king of the Persians hath commanded us. ⁷² But the heathen of the land lying heavy upon the inhabitants of Judaea, and †† holding them strait, hindered their building; ⁷³ and §§ by their secret plots, and popular persuasions and commotions, they hindered the finishing of the building all the time that King Cyrus lived: so they were hindered from building for the space of two years, until the reign of Darius.

¹ Now ✠ in the second year of the reign of Darius, Aggaeus and Zacharius the son of * Addo, the prophets, prophesied unto the Jews in Jewry and Jerusalem; in the name of the Lord, the God of Israel, prophesied they unto them. ² Then stood up Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and Jesus the son of Josedek, and began to build the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, the prophets of the Lord being with them, and helping them. ³ ✠ At the same time came unto them † Sisinnes the governor of Syria and Phoenicia, with † Sathrabuzanes and his companions, and said unto them, ⁴ By whose appointment do ye build this house and this roof, and perform all the other things? and who are the builders that perform these things?

⁵ Nevertheless the elders of the Jews obtained favour, because the Lord had visited the captivity; ⁶ and they were not hindered from building, until such time as communication was made unto Darius concerning them, and his answer signified.

⁷ The copy of the letter which Sisinnes, governor of Syria and Phoenicia, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, the rulers in Syria and Phoenicia, wrote and sent unto Darius; ⁸ To king Darius, greeting: Let all things be known unto our lord the king, that being come into the country of Judaea, and entered into the city of Jerusalem, we found in the city of Jerusalem the elders of the Jews that were of the captivity ⁹ building a house unto the Lord, great and new, of hewn and costly stones, with timber laid in the walls. ¹⁰ And those works are done with great speed, and the work goeth on prosperously in their hands, and with all glory and diligence it is accomplished. ¹¹ Then asked we these elders, saying, By whose commandment build ye this house, and lay the foundations of these works? ¹² Therefore, to the intent that we might give knowledge unto thee by writing who were the chief doers, we questioned them, and we required of them the names in writing of their principal men.

¹³ So they gave us this answer, We are the servants of the Lord which made heaven and earth. ¹⁴ And as for this house, it was builded many years ago by a king of Israel great and strong, and was finished. ¹⁵ But when our fathers sinned against the Lord of Israel which is in heaven, and provoked him unto wrath, he gave them over into the hands of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, king of the Chaldeans; ¹⁶ and they pulled down the house, and burned it, and carried away the people captives unto Babylon. ¹⁷ But in the first year that Cyrus reigned over the country of Babylon, king Cyrus wrote to build up this house. ¹⁸ And the holy vessels of gold and of silver, that Nabuchodonosor had carried away out of the house at Jerusalem, and had set up in his own temple, those Cyrus the king brought forth again out of the temple in Babylonia, and they were delivered to Zorobabel and to [§] Sanabassarus the governor, ¹⁹ with commandment that he should carry away ^{} all these vessels, and put them in the temple at Jerusalem; and that the temple of the Lord should be built in its place. ²⁰ Then Sanabassarus, being come hither, laid the foundations of the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem; and from that time to this being still a building, it is not yet fully ended. ²¹ Now therefore, if it seem good, O king, let search be made among the royal archives of our lord the king that are in Babylon: ²² and if it be found that the building of the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem hath been done with the consent of king Cyrus, and it seem good unto our lord the king, let him signify unto us thereof.

²³ [☆] Then commanded King Darius to seek among the archives that were laid up at Babylon: and so at Ekbatana the palace, which is in the country of Media, there was found a ^{††} roll wherein these things were recorded. ²⁴ In the first year of the reign of Cyrus king Cyrus commanded to build up the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem, where they do sacrifice with continual fire: ²⁵ whose height shall be sixty cubits, and the breadth sixty cubits, with three rows of hewn stones, and one row of new wood of that country; and the expenses thereof to be given out of the house of king Cyrus: ²⁶ and that the holy vessels of the house of the Lord, both gold and silver, that Nabuchodonosor took out of the house at Jerusalem, and carried away to Babylon, should be restored to the house at Jerusalem, and be set in the place where they were before. ²⁷ And also he commanded that Sisinnus the governor of Syria and Phoenicia, and Sathrabuzanes, and their companions, and those which were appointed rulers in Syria and Phoenicia, should be careful not to meddle with the place, but suffer Zorobabel, the servant of the Lord, and governor of Judaea, and the elders of the Jews, to build that house of the Lord in its place. ²⁸ And I also do command to have it built up whole again; and that they look diligently to help those that be of the captivity of Judaea, till the house of the Lord be finished: ²⁹ and that out of the tribute of Coelesyria and Phoenicia a portion be carefully given these men for the sacrifices of the Lord, that is, to Zorobabel the governor, for bullocks, and rams, and lambs; ³⁰ and also corn, salt, wine and oil, and that continually every year without further question, according as the priests that be in Jerusalem shall signify to be daily spent: ³¹ that drink offerings may be made to the Most High God for the king and for his children, and that they may pray for their lives. ³² And that commandment be given that whosoever shall transgress, yea, or neglect anything ^{‡‡} herein written, out of his own house shall a tree be taken, and he thereon be hanged, and all his goods seized for the king. ³³ The Lord therefore, whose name is there called upon, utterly destroy every king and nation, that shall stretch out his hand to hinder or endamage that house of the Lord in Jerusalem. ³⁴ I Darius the king have ordained that according unto these things it be done with diligence.

¹ Then [☆] Sisinnus the governor of Coelesyria and Phoenicia, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, following the commandments of king Darius, ² did very carefully oversee the holy works, assisting the elders of the Jews and rulers of the temple. ³ And so the holy works prospered, while Aggaeus and Zacharias the prophets prophesied. ⁴ And they finished these things by the commandment of the Lord, the God of Israel, and with the consent of Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes, kings of the Persians. ⁵ And thus was ^{*} the house finished by the three and twentieth day of the month Adar, in the sixth year of king Darius. ⁶ And the children of Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and the other that were of the captivity, that were added unto them, did according to the things written in the book of Moses. ⁷ And to the dedication of the temple of the Lord they offered a hundred bullocks, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs; ⁸and twelve he-goats for the sin of all Israel, according to the number of the twelve [†]princes of the tribes of Israel. ⁹The priests also and the Levites stood arrayed in their vestments, according to their kindreds, for the services of the Lord, the God of Israel, according to the book of Moses: and the porters at every gate.

¹⁰And the children of Israel that came out of the captivity held the passover the fourteenth day of the first month, when the priests and the Levites were sanctified together, ¹¹‡ and all they that were of the captivity; for they were sanctified. For the Levites were all sanctified together, ¹²and they offered the passover for all them of the captivity, and for their brethren the priests, and for themselves. ¹³And the children of Israel that came out of the captivity did eat, even all they that had separated themselves from the abominations of the heathen of the land, and sought the Lord. ¹⁴And they kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days, making merry before the Lord, ¹⁵for that he had turned the counsel of the king of Assyria toward them, to strengthen their hands in the works of the Lord, the God of Israel.

¹☆ And after these things, when Artaxerxes the king of the Persians reigned, came Ezdras the son of Azaraias, the son of Zechrias, the son of Helkias, the son of Salem, ²the son of Sadduk, the son of Ahitob, the son of Amarias, the son of Ozias, ^{*} the son of Memeroth, the son of Zariaias, the son of Savias, the son of Boccas, the son of Abisne, the son of Phinees, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron, the chief priest. ³This Esdras went up from Babylon, as being a ready scribe in the law of Moses, that was given by the God of Israel. ⁴And the king did him honour: for he found grace in hid sight in all his requests. ⁵There went up with him also certain of the children of Israel, and of the priests, and Levites, and holy singers, and porters, and [†] temple servants, unto Jerusalem, ⁶in the seventh year of the reign of Artaxerxes, in the fifth month, this was the king's seventh year; for they went from Babylon on the new moon of the first month, and came to Jerusalem, according to the prosperous journey which the Lord gave them [‡] for his sake. ⁷For Esdras had very great skill, so that he omitted nothing of the law and commandments of the Lord, but taught all Israel the ordinances and judgments.

⁸Now the commission, which was written from Artaxerxes the king, came to Esdras the priest and reader of the law of the Lord, whereof this that followeth is a copy; ⁹King Artaxerxes unto Esdras the priest and reader of the law of the Lord, greeting: ¹⁰Having determined to deal graciously, I have given order, that such of the nation of the Jews, and of the priests and Levites, [§] and of those within our realm, as are willing and desirous, should go with thee unto Jerusalem. ¹¹As many therefore as have a mind thereunto, let them depart with thee, as it hath seemed good both to me and my seven friends the counsellors; ¹²that they may look unto the affairs of Judaea and Jerusalem, agreeably to that which is in the law of the Lord, ¹³and carry the gifts unto the Lord of Israel to Jerusalem, which I and my friends have vowed; and that all the gold and silver that can be found in the country of Babylonia for the Lord in Jerusalem, ¹⁴with that also which is given of the people for the temple of the Lord their God that is at Jerusalem, be collected: even the gold and silver for bullocks, rams, and lambs, and things thereunto appertaining; ¹⁵to the end that they may offer sacrifices unto the Lord upon the altar of the Lord their God, which is in Jerusalem. ¹⁶And whatsoever thou and thy brethren are minded to do with gold and silver, that perform, according to the will of thy God. ¹⁷And the holy vessels of the Lord, which are given thee for the use of the temple of thy God, which is in Jerusalem: ¹⁸and whatsoever thing else thou shalt remember for the use of the temple of thy God, thou shalt give it out of the king's treasury. ¹⁹And I king Artaxerxes have also commanded the keepers of the treasures in Syria and Phoenicia, that whatsoever Esdras the priest and reader of the law of the Most High God shall send for, they should give it him with all diligence, ²⁰to the sum of a hundred talents of silver, likewise also of wheat even to a hundred ^{}measures, and a hundred firkins of wine, and ^{††}salt in abundance. ²¹Let all things be performed after the law of God diligently unto the most high God, that wrath come not upon the kingdom of the king and his sons. ²²I command you also, that no tax, nor any other imposition, be laid upon any of the priests, or Levites, or holy singers, or porters, or temple servants, or any that have employment in this temple, and that no man have authority to impose anything upon them. ²³And thou, Esdras, according to the wisdom of God ordain judges and justices, that they may judge in all Syria and Phoenicia all those that know the law of thy God; and those that know it not thou shalt teach. ²⁴And whosoever shall transgress the law of thy God, and of the king, shall be punished diligently, whether it be by death, or other punishment, by penalty of money, or by ^{‡‡}imprisonment.

²⁵Then said Esdras the scribe, Blessed be the only Lord, the God of my fathers, who hath put these things into the heart of the king, to glorify his house that is in Jerusalem: ²⁶and hath honoured me in the sight of the king, and his counsellors, and all his friends and nobles. ²⁷Therefore was I encouraged by the help of the Lord my God, and gathered together out of Israel men to go up with me. ²⁸And these are the chief according to their families and the several divisions thereof, that went up with me from Babylon in the reign of king Artaxerxes: ²⁹of the sons of Phinees, Gerson: of the sons of Ithamar, Gamael: of the sons of David, ^{§§}Attus ^{}the son of Sechenias: ³⁰of the sons of Phoros, Zacharais; and with him were counted a hundred and fifty men: ³¹of the sons of Phaath Moab, Eliaonias the son of ^{†††}Zaraias, and with him two hundred men: ³²^{‡‡‡}of the sons of Zathoes, Sechenias the son of Jezelus, and with him ^{§§§}three hundred men: of the sons of Adin, Obeth the son of Jonathan, and with him two hundred and fifty men: ³³of the sons of Elam, Jesias son of Athaliah. Jezelus, and with him two hundred and twelve men: ³⁶^{*}of the sons of Banias, Salimoth son of Josaphias, and with him a hundred and threescore men: ³⁷of the sons of Babi, Zacharias son of Bebai, and with him twenty and eight men: ³⁸of the sons of Azgad. ⁴¹And I gathered them together to the river called Theras; and there we pitched our tents three days, and I surveyed them. ⁴²But when I had found there none of the priests and Levites, ⁴³then sent I unto Eleazar, and Ariel Iduel, and Maasmas, ⁴⁴and Elnathan, and Samaias, and Jarib Joribus, Nathan, Ennatan, Zacharias, and Mosollamus, principal men and men of understanding. ⁴⁵And I bade them that they should go unto Iddo Loddeus the captain, who was in the place of Casiphia, the treasury: ⁴⁶and commanded them that they should speak unto Loddeus, and to his brethren, and to the treasurers in that place, to send us such men as might execute the priests' office in the house of our Lord. ⁴⁷And by the mighty hand of our Lord they brought unto us [†]men of understanding of the sons of [‡]Mooli the son of Levi, the son of Israel, § Asebebias, and his sons, and his brethren, who were eighteen, ⁴⁸and ^{}Asebias, and Annuus, and Osaias his brother, of the sons of Chanuneus, and their sons were twenty men; ⁴⁹and of the temple-servants whom David and the principal men had appointed for the servants of the Levites, two hundred and twenty temple-servants, the catalogue of all their names was shewed. ⁵⁰And there I vowed a fast for the young men before our Lord, to desire of him a prosperous journey both for us and for our children and cattle that were with us: ⁵¹for I was ashamed to ask of the king footmen, and horsemen, and conduct for safeguard against our adversaries. ⁵²For we had said unto the king, that the power of our Lord would be with them that seek him, to support them in all ways. ⁵³And again we besought our lord as touching these things, and found him favourable unto us. ⁵⁴Then I separated twelve men of the chiefs of the priests, †† Eserebias, and Assamias, and ten men of their brethren with them: ⁵⁵and I weighed them the silver, and the gold, and the holy vessels of the house of our Lord, which the king, and his counsellors, and the nobles, and all Israel, had given. ⁵⁶And when I had weighed it, I delivered unto them six hundred and fifty talents of silver, and silver vessels of a hundred talents, and a hundred talents of gold, ⁵⁷and twenty golden vessels, and twelve vessels of brass, even of fine brass, glittering like gold. ⁵⁸And I said unto them, Both ye are holy unto the Lord, †† and the vessels are holy, and the gold and the silver are a vow unto the Lord, the Lord of our fathers. ⁵⁹Watch ye, and keep them till ye deliver them to the chiefs of the priests and Levites, and to the principal men of the families of Israel, in Jerusalem, in the chambers of the house of our Lord. ⁶⁰So the priests and the Levites, who received the silver and the gold and the vessels which were in Jerusalem, brought them into the temple of the Lord.

⁶¹And from the river Theras we departed the twelfth day of the first month, until we came to Jerusalem, by the mighty hand of our Lord which was upon us: and the Lord delivered us from assault by the way, from every enemy, and so we came to Jerusalem. ⁶²And when we had been there three days, the silver and gold was weighed and delivered in the house of our Lord on the fourth day unto §§ Marmoth the priest the son of ^{}Urias. ⁶³And with him was Eleazar the son of Phinees, and with them were Josabds the son of Jesus and ††† Moeth the son of Sabannus, the Levites: all was delivered them by number and weight. ⁶⁴And all the weight of them was written up the same hour. ⁶⁵Moreover they that were come out of the captivity offered sacrifices unto the Lord, the God of Israel, even twelve bullocks for all Israel, fourscore and sixteen rams, ⁶⁶threescore and twelve lambs, goats for a peace offering, twelve; all of them a sacrifice to the Lord. ⁶⁷And they delivered the king's commandments unto the king's stewards, and to the governors of Coelesyria and Phoenicia; and they honored the people and the temple of the Lord.

⁶⁸Now when these things were done, the principal men came unto me, and said, ⁶⁹The nation of Israel, and the princes, and the priests and the Levites, have not put away from them the strange people of the land, ††† nor the uncleannesses of the Gentiles, to wit, of the Canaanites, Hittites, Pherezites, Jebusites, and the Moabites, Egyptians, and Edomites. ⁷⁰For both they and their sons have married with their daughters, and the holy seed is mixed with the strange people of the land; and from the beginning of this matter the rulers and the nobles have been partakers of this iniquity. ⁷¹And as soon as I had heard these things, I rent my clothes, and my holy garment, and plucked the hair from off my head and beard, and sat me down sad and full of heaviness. ⁷²So all they that were moved at the word of the Lord, the God of Israel, assembled unto me, whilst I mourned for the iniquity: but I sat still full of heaviness until the evening sacrifice. ⁷³Then rising up from the fast with my clothes and my holy garment rent, and bowing my knees, and stretching forth my hands unto the Lord, ⁷⁴ I said, O Lord, I am ashamed and confounded before thy face; ⁷⁵ for our sins are multiplied above our heads, and our errors have reached up unto heaven, ⁷⁶ ever since the time of our fathers; and we are in great sin, even unto this day. ⁷⁷ And for our sins and our fathers' we with our brethren and our kings and our priests were given up to the kings of the earth, to the sword, and to captivity, and for a prey with shame, unto this day. ⁷⁸ And now in some measure hath mercy been shewed unto us from thee, O Lord, that there should be left us a root and a name in the place of thy sanctuary; ⁷⁹ and to discover unto us a light in the house of the Lord our God, and to give us food in the time of our servitude. ⁸⁰ Yea, when we were in bondage, we were not forsaken of our Lord; but he made us gracious before the kings of Persia, so that they gave us food, ⁸¹ and glorified the temple of our Lord, and raised up the desolate Sion, to give us a sure abiding in Jewry and Jerusalem. ⁸² And now, O Lord, what shall we say, having these things? For we have transgressed thy commandments, which thou gavest by the hand of thy servants the prophets, saying, ⁸³ That the land, which ye enter into to possess as a heritage, is a land polluted with the pollutions of the strangers of the land, and they have filled it with their uncleanness. ⁸⁴ Therefore now shall ye not join your daughters unto their sons, neither shall ye take their daughters unto your sons. ⁸⁵ Neither shall ye seek to have peace with them for ever, that ye may be strong, and eat the good things of the land, and that ye may leave it for an inheritance unto your children for evermore. ⁸⁶ And all that is befallen is done unto us for our wicked works and great sins: for thou, O Lord, didst make our sins light, ⁸⁷ and didst give unto us such a root: but we have turned back again to transgress thy law, in mingling ourselves with the uncleanness of the heathen of the land. ⁸⁸ ¶¶¶ Thou wast not angry with us to destroy us, till thou hadst left us neither root, seed, nor name. ⁸⁹ O Lord of Israel, thou art true: for we are left a root this day.

⁹⁰ Behold, now are we before thee in our iniquities, for we cannot stand any longer before thee by reason of these things.

⁹¹ ☆ And as Esdras in his prayer made his confession, weeping, and lying flat upon the ground before the temple, there gathered unto him from Jerusalem a very great throng of men and women and children: for there was great weeping among the multitude. ⁹² Then Jechonias the son of Jeelus, one of the sons of Israel, called out, and said, O Esdras, we have sinned against the Lord God, we have married strange women of the heathen of the land, and now is all Israel * aloft. ⁹³ Let us make an oath unto the Lord herein, that we will put away all our wives, which we have taken of the strangers, with their children, ⁹⁴ like as seemeth good unto thee, and to as many as do obey the Law of the Lord. ⁹⁵ Arise, and put in execution: for to thee doth this matter appertain, and we will be with thee to do valiantly. ⁹⁶ So Esdras arose, and took an oath of the chief of the priests and Levites of all Israel to do after these things; and so they sware.

¹ ☆ Then Esdras rising from the court of the temple went to the chamber of Jonas the son of Eliasib, ² and lodged there, and did eat no bread nor drink water, mourning for the great iniquities of the multitude. ³ And there was made proclamation in all Jewry and Jerusalem to all them that were of the captivity, that they should be gathered together at Jerusalem: ⁴ and that whosoever met not there within two or three days, according as the elders that bare rule appointed, their cattle should be seized to the use of the temple, and himself cast out from the multitude of them that were of the captivity.

⁵ And in three days were all they of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin gathered together at Jerusalem: this was the ninth month, on the twentieth day of the month. ⁶ And all the multitude sat together trembling in the broad place before the temple because of the present foul weather. ⁷ So Esdras arose up and said unto them, ye have transgressed the law and married strange toward the east: ³⁹and they said unto Esdras the priest and reader, Bring the law of Moses, that was given of the Lord, the God of Israel. ⁴⁰So Esdras the chief priest brought the law unto the whole multitude both of men and women, and to all the priests, to hear the law on the new moon of the seventh month. ⁴¹And he read in the broad place before the porch of the temple from morning unto mid-day, before both men and women; and [§] all the multitude gave heed unto the law. ⁴²And Esdras the priest and reader of the law stood up upon the pulpit of wood, which was made for that purpose. ⁴³And there stood up by him Mattathias, Sammus, Ananias, Azarias, Urias, ^{} Ezekias, Baalsamus, upon the right hand: ⁴⁴and upon his left hand, ^{††} Phaldeus, Misael, Melchias, ^{‡‡} Lothasubus, Nabarias, Zacharias. ⁴⁵Then took Esdras the book of the law before the multitude, and sat honourably in the first place before all. ⁴⁶And when he opened the law, they stood all straight up. So Esdras blessed the Lord God Most High, the God of hosts, Almighty. ⁴⁷And all the people answered, Amen; and lifting up their hands they fell to the ground, and worshipped the Lord. ⁴⁸Also Jesus, Ananus, Sarabias, Iadinus, Jacobus, Sabateus, ^{§§} Auteas, Maiannas, and Calitas, Azarias, and Jozabdus, and Ananias, Phalias, the Levites, taught the law of the Lord, ^{} and read to the multitude the law of the Lord, making them withal to understand it. ⁴⁹Then said Attharates unto Esdras the chief priest and reader, and to the Levites that taught the multitude, even to all, ⁵⁰This day is holy unto the Lord; (now they all wept when they heard the law:) ⁵¹go then, and eat the fat, and drink the sweet, and send portions to them that have nothing; ⁵²for the day is holy unto the Lord: and be not sorrowful; for the Lord will bring you to honour. ⁵³So the Levites published all things to the people, saying, This day is holy; be not sorrowful. ⁵⁴Then went they their way, every one to eat and drink, and make merry, and to give portions to them that had nothing, and to make great cheer; ⁵⁵because they ^{†††} understood the words wherein they were instructed, and for the which they had been assembled.

THE PRAYER OF MANASSES
KING OF JUDAH,
WHEN HE WAS HOLDEN CAPTIVE IN BABYLON.

¹ O LORD Almighty, that art in heaven, thou God of our fathers, of Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and of their righteous seed; ² who hast made heaven and earth, with all the * ornament thereof; ³ who hast bound the sea by the word of thy commandment; who hast shut up the deep, and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious name; ⁴ whom all things fear, yea, tremble before thy power; ⁵ for the majesty of thy glory cannot be borne, and the anger of thy threatening toward sinners is importable: ⁶ thy merciful promise is unmeasurable and unsearchable; ⁷ for thou art the Lord Most High, of great compassion, longsuffering and abundant in mercy, and repentest † of bringing evils upon men. ⁸ ‡Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodness hast promised repentance and forgiveness to them that have sinned against thee: and of thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance unto sinners, that they may be saved. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the just, hast not appointed repentance to the just, to Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, which have not sinned against thee; but thou hast appointed repentance unto me that am a sinner: ⁹ for I have sinned above the number of the sands of the sea. My transgressions are multiplied, § O Lord: my transgressions are multiplied, and I am not worthy to behold and see the height of heaven for the multitude of mine iniquities. ¹⁰ I am bowed down with many iron bands, that I cannot lift up mine head  by reason of my sins, neither have I any respite: for I have provoked thy wrath, and done that which is evil before thee: †† I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commandments: I have set up abominations, and have multiplied ‡‡ detestable things. ¹¹ Now therefore I bow the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace. ¹² I have sinned, O Lord, I have sinned, and I acknowledge mine iniquities: ¹³ but, I humbly beseech thee, forgive me, O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me not with mine iniquities. Be not angry with me for ever, by reserving evil for me; neither condemn me into the lower parts of the earth. For thou, §§ O Lord, art the God of them that repent; ¹⁴ and in me thou wilt shew all thy goodness: for thou wilt save me, that am unworthy, according to thy great mercy. ¹⁵ And I will praise thee for ever all the days of my life: for all the host of heaven doth sing thy praise, and thine is the glory for ever and ever. Amen.

2 ESDRAS.

¹THE second book of the prophet Esdras, the son of Saraias, the son of Azaraias, the son of Helkias, the son of Salemas, the son of Sadoc, the son of Ahitob, ²the son of Achias, the son of Phinees, the son of Heli, the son of Amarias, the son of Aziei, the son of Marimoth, the son of Arna, the son of Ozias, the son of Borith, the son of Abissei, the son of Phinees, the son of Eleazar, ³the son of Aaron, of the tribe of Levi; which was captive in the land of the Medes, in the reign of Artaxerxes king of the Persians.

⁴And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, ⁵Go thy way, and shew my people their sinful deeds, and their children their wickedness which they have done against me; that they may tell their children's children: ⁶because the sins of their fathers are increased in them: for they have forgotten me, and have done sacrifice unto strange gods. ⁷Did I not bring them out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage? but they have provoked me unto wrath, and have despised my counsels. ⁸Shake thou then the hair of thy head, and cast all evils upon them, for they have not been obedient unto my law, but it is a rebellious people. ⁹How long shall I forbear them, unto whom I have done so much good? ¹⁰Many kings have I overthrown for their sakes; Pharoah with his servants and all his host have I smitten down. ¹¹All the nations have I destroyed before them, and in the east I have scattered the people of two provinces, even of Tyre and Sidon, and have slain all their adversaries. ¹²Speak thou therefore unto them, saying,

¹³Thus saith the Lord, of a truth I brought you through the sea, and where there was no path I made for you highways; I gave you Moses for a leader, and Aaron for a priest. ¹⁴I gave you light in a pillar of fire, and great wonders have I done among you; yet have ye forgotten me, saith the Lord.

¹⁵Thus saith the Lord Almighty, The quails were for a token to you; I gave you a camp for your safeguard, nevertheless ye murmured there: ¹⁶and ye triumphed not in my name for the destruction of your enemies, but ever to this day do ye yet murmur.

¹⁷Where are the benefits that I have done for you? when ye were hungry and thirsty in the wilderness, did ye not cry unto me, ¹⁸saying, Why hast thou brought us into this wilderness to kill us? it had been better for us to have served the Egyptians, than to die in this wilderness. ¹⁹I had pity upon your mournings, and gave you manna for food; ye did eat angels' bread. ²⁰When ye were thirsty, did I not cleave the rock, and waters flowed out to your fill? for the heat I covered you with the leaves of the trees. ²¹I divided among you fruitful lands; I cast out the Canaanites, the Pherezites, and the Philistines, before you: what shall I yet do more for you? saith the Lord.
